CHAP. I.

The Proclamation of Cyrus for the building of the Temple. 5 The people provide for the return. 7 Cyrus refresheth the vessels of the Temple to Sheshbazzar.

NOw in the first yeer of Cyrus King of Persia, (that the word of the LORD * by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled) the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, that he † made a Proclamation throughout all his kingdome, and put it also in writing, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, The LORD God of heaven hath given me all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hath * charged me to build him an house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah.

3 Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD God of Israel (He is the God) which is in Jerusalem.

4 And whosoever remaineth in any place where he sojourneth, let the men of his place † help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, and with beasts, besides the free will offering for the house of God that is in Jerusalem.

5 ¶ Then rose up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the Priests, and the Levites, with all them whose spirit God had raised to go up, to build the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem.

6 And all they that were about them, ‖ strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with beasts, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered.

7 ¶ Also Cyrus the King brought forth the vessels of the house of the LORD, * which Nebuchad-nezzar had brought forth out of Jerusalem, and had put them in the house of his gods:

8 Even those did Cyrus King of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and numbred them unto * Sheshbazzar the Prince of Judah.

9 And this is the number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thousand chargers of silver, nine and twenty knives:

10 Thirty basins of gold: silver basins of a second sort, four hundred and ten: and other vessels, a thousand.

11 All the vessels of gold and of silver were five thousand and four hundred. All these did Sheshbazzar bring up with them of the captivity, that were brought up from Babylon unto Jerusalem.

CHAP. II.

The number that return of the people, 36 of the Priests, 40 of the Levites, 43 of the Nethinims, 55 of Solomons servants, 62 of the Priests which could not shew their pedigree. 64 The whole number of them, with their substance. 68 Their oblations.

NOw * these are the children of the province that went up out of the captivity, of those which had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the King of Babylon had carried away unto Babylon, and came again unto Jerusalem and Judah, every one unto his city;

2 Which came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, ‖ Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispar, Bigvai, Rehum, Baanah: the number of the men of the people of Israel.

3 The children of Parosh, two thousand an hundred seventy and two.

4 The children of Shephatiah, three hundred seventy and two.

13 The children of Azgad, a thousand two hundred twenty and two.
14 The children of Adonikam, six hundred sixty and six.
15 The children of Bigvai, two thousand fifty and six.
16 The children of Adin, four hundred fifty and four.
17 The children of Ater of Hezekiah, ninety and eight.
18 The children of Bezai, three hundred twenty and three.
19 The children of ‖ Jorah, an hundred and twelve.
20 The children of Hashum, two hundred twenty and three.
21 The children of ‖ Gibbar, ninety and five.
22 The children of Bethlehem, an hundred twenty and three.
23 The children of Netophah, fifty and six.
24 The men of Anathoth, an hundred twenty and eight.
25 The children of ‖ Azmaveth, fourty and two.
26 The children of Kirjath-arim, Chephirah, and Beeroth, seven hundred and fourty and three.
27 The children of Ramah and Geba, six hundred twenty and one.
28 The men of Michmas, an hundred twenty and two.
29 The men of Bethel and Ai, two hundred twenty and three.
30 The children of Nebo, fifty and two.
31 The children of Magbish, an hundred fifty and six.
32 The children of the other ‖ Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four.
33 The children of Harim, three hundred and twenty.
34 The children of Lod, ‖ Hadid, and Ono, seven hundred twenty and five.
35 The children of Jericho, three hundred fourty and five.
36 The children of Senaah, three thousand and six hundred and thirty.
36 ¶ The Priests. The children of * Jedaiah, of the house of Jeshua, nine hundred seventy and three.
37 The children of * Immer, a thousand fifty and two.
38 The children of * Pashur, a thousand two hundred fourty and seven.
39 The children of * Harim, a thousand and seventeen.
40 ¶ The Levites. The children of Jeshua and Kadmiel, of the children of ‖ Hodaviah, seventy and four.
41 ¶ The singers. The children of Asaph, an hundred twenty and eight.
44 The children of Keros, the children of Siaha, the children of Padon,
54 The children of Neziah, the children of Hatipha.
57 The children of Shephatiah, the children of Hattil, the children of Pochereth of Zebaim, the children of ‖ Ami.
58 All the * Nethinims, and the children of * Solomons servants, were three hundred ninety and two.
59 And these were they which went up from Telmelah, Tel-harsa, Cherub, Addan, and Immer: but they could not shew their fathers house, and their ‖ seed, whether they were of Israel.
60 The children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Nekoda: six hundred fifty and two.
61 ¶ And of the children of the Priests: the children of Habaiah, the children of Koz, the children of Barzillai, (which took a wife of the daughters of * Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name.)
62 These sought their register among those that were reckoned by genealogie, but they were not found: therefore were they † as polluted, put from the Priesthood.
63 And the ‖ Tirshatha said unto them, that they should not eat of the most holy things, till there stood up a Priest with * Urim, and with Thummim.
64 ¶ The whole Congregation together, was fourty and two thousand, three hundred and threescore:
65 Beside their servants, and their maids, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: and there were among them two hundred singing men and singing women.
66 Their horses were seven hundred thirty and six: their mules two hundred fourty and five:
67 Their camels four hundred thirty and five: their asses six thousand seven hundred and twenty.
68 ¶ And some of the chief of the fathers, when they came to the house of the LORD, which is at Jerusalem, offered freely for the house of God, to set it up in his place:
69 They gave after their ability unto the * treasure of the work, threescore and one thousand drams of gold, and five thousand pound of silver, and one hundred Priests garments.
70 So the Priests and the Levites, and some of the people, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims, dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

CHAP. III.

1 The Altar is set up. 4 Offerings frequented. 7 Workmen prepared. 8 The foundations of the Temple are laid in great joy and mourning.

AND when the seventh moneth was come, and the children of Israel were in the cities: the people gathered themselves together as one man to Jerusalem.

2 Then stood up ‖ Jeshua the sonne of Jozadak, and his brethren the Priests, and * Zerubbabel the son of * Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the Altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is * written in the Law of Moses the man of God.

3 And they set the Altar upon his bases, (for fear was upon them, because of the people of those countries) and they offered burnt offerings thereon unto the LORD, even burnt offerings morning and evening.

4 They kept also the feast of Tabernacles, * as it is written, and * offered the daily burnt offerings by number, according to the custome, † as the duty of every day required:

5 And afterward offered the continuall burnt offering, both of the new Moones, and of all the set feasts of the LORD that were consecrated, and of every one that willingly offered a free-will offering unto the LORD.

6 From the first day of the seventh moneth, began they to offer burnt offerings unto the LORD: but the † foundation of the Temple of the LORD was not yet laid.

7 They gave money also unto the Masons, and to the ‖ Carpenters, and meat, and drink, and oil, unto them of Zidon, and to them of Tyre, to bring Cedar trees from Lebanon to the sea of * Joppa: according to the grant that they had of Cyrus King of Persia.

8 ¶ Now in the second yeer of their coming unto the house of God at Jerusalem, in the second moneth, began Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the sonne of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren, the Priests and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captivity, unto Jerusalem: and appointed the Levites from twenty yeers old and upward, to set forward the work of the house of the LORD.

9 Then stood Jeshua, with his sonnes, and his brethren, Kadmiel and his sonnes, the sonnes of ‖ Judah † together, to set forward the workmen in the house of God: the sonnes of Henadad, with their sonnes and their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the Temple of the LORD, they set the Priests in their apparell with trumpets, and the Levites the sonnes of Asaph, with cymbals, to praise the LORD, after the * ordinance of David King of Israel.

11 And they sang together by course, in praising and giving thanks unto the LORD; Because he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever towards Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the LORD, because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid.

12 But many of the Priests and Levites, and chief of the fathers, who were ancient men, that had seen the first house; when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice, and many shouted aloud for joy:

13 So that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy, from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard afarre off.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The adversaries being not accepted to the building of the Temple with the Jews, make them cease. 6 Their letter to Ahasuerus. 7 Their letter to Artaxerxes. 17 The answere. 23 The building is hindered.

NOW when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that † the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the LORD God of Israel;

2 Then they came to Zerubbabel, & to the chiefe of the fathers, and said unto them, Let us build with you, for we seek your God, as ye do; and we do sacrifice unto him since the daies of Esarhaddon King of Assur, which brought us up hither.

3 But Zerubbabel, and Jeshua, and the rest of the chiefe of the fathers of Israel said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us, to build an house unto our God, but we our selves together will build unto the LORD God of Israel, as King Cyrus the King of Persia hath commanded us.

4 Then the people of the land weakned the hands of the people of Judah, and troubled them in building,

5 And hired counsellers against them to frustrate their purpose, all the daies of Cyrus King of Persia, even untill the reign of Darius King of Persia.

6 And in the reign of † Ahasuerus, in the beginning of his reign, wrote they unto him an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

7 ¶ And in the daies of Artaxerxes wrote Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, & the rest of their † companions, unto Artaxerxes King of Persia; and the writing of the letter was written in the Syrian tongue, and interpreted in the Syrian tongue.

8 Rehum the Chancellour, and Shimshai the ‖ Scribe, wrote a letter against Jerusalem to King Artaxerxes the King, in this sort:

9 Then wrote Rehum the Chancellour, and Shimshai the Scribe, and the rest of their † companions, the Dinaites, & the Apharsathchites, & Tarpelites, the Apharsites, the Archevites, the Babylonians, the Susanchites, the Dehavites, and the Elamites,

10 And the rest of the nations, whom the great and noble Asnapper brought over, and set in the cities of Samaria, and the rest that are on this side the river, † and at such a time.

11 ¶ This is the copy of the letter that they sent unto him, even unto Artaxerxes the King; Thy servants the men on this side the river, and at such a time, 12 Be it known unto the King, that the Jews which came up from thee to us, are come unto Jerusalem, building the rebellious and the bad city, and have ‖ set up the walls thereof, and ‖ joyned the foundations.

13 Be it known now unto the King, that if this city be builded, and the walls set up again, then will they not † pay toll, tribute, and custome, so thou shalt endamage the ‖ revenue of the Kings.

14 Now because we † have maintenance in the Kings palace, and it was not meet for us to see the Kings dishonour: therefore have we sent and certified the King, 15 That search may be made in the book of the records of thy fathers: so shalt thou find in the book of the records, and know, that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtfull unto Kings and Provinces, and that they have † moved sedition within the same of old time; for which cause was this city destroyed.

16 We certifie the King, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof set up by this means, thou shalt have no portion on this side the river.

... the Sitrai, and their companions, and Rehum ... and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and unto the rest beyond the river, Peace, ... and at a time.

8 The letter which ye sent unto us, hath been plainly read before me.

9 And † I commanded, and search hath been made, and it is found, that this city of old time hath made insurrection against Kings, and that rebellion and sedition have been made therein.

10 There have been mighty Kings also over Jerusalem, which have ruled over all countries beyond the river; and toll, tribute, and custome was paid unto them.

11 † Give ye now commandment to cause these men to cease, and that this city be not builded, until another commandment shall be given from me.

12 Take heed now that ye fail not to do this: why should damage grow to the hurt of the Kings?

13 ¶ Now when the copy of King Artaxerxes letter was read before Rehum and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went up in haste to Jerusalem unto the Jews, and made them to cease † by force and power.

24 Then ceased the work of the house of God, which is at Jerusalem. So it ceased unto the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

CHAP. V.

1 Haggai and Zechariah hastened by message and vision, go forward the building of the Temple. 3 Tatnai and Shethar-Boznai would not hinder the same. 6 Their letter to Darius against the Jews.

Then the Prophets, * Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, prophesied unto the Jews that were in Judah and Jerusalem, in the Name of the God of Israel, even unto them.

2 Then rose up Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the sonne of Jozadak, and began to build the house of God which is at Jerusalem: and with them were the Prophets of God helping them.

3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnai, governour on this side the River, and Shethar-Boznai, and their companions, and said thus unto them; Who hath commanded you to build this house, and to make up this wall?

4 Then said we unto them after this manner, What are the names of the men † that make this building?

5 But the eye of their God was upon the Elders of the Jews, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they returned answer by letter concerning this matter.

6 ¶ The copy of the letter that Tatnai governour on this side the river, & Shethar-Boznai, and his companions the Apharsachites, which were on this side the river, sent unto Darius the King:

7 They sent a letter unto him, † wherein was written thus: Unto Darius the King, all peace.

8 Be it known unto the King, that we went into the province of Judea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with † great stones, and timber is laid in the walls, and this work goeth fast on and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said unto them thus, Who commanded you to build this house, and to make up these walls?

10 We asked their names also, to certifie thee, that we might write the names of the men that were the chief of them.

11 And thus they returned us answer, saying, We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and build the house that was builded these many years ago, which a great King of Israel builded, * and set up.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven unto wrath, he gave them into the hand of * Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babylon, the Caldean, who destroyed this house, and carried the people away into Babylon.

13 But in the first year of * Cyrus the King of Babylon, the same King Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

14 And the vessels also of gold and silver of the house of God, which Nebuchad-nezzar took out of the Temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babylon, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Temple of Babylon, and they were delivered unto one, * whose name was Sheth-bazzar, whom he had made † governour;

15 And said unto him, Take these vessels, Go, carry them into the Temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheth-bazzar, and laid the foundations of the house of God, which is in Jerusalem. And since that time, even until now, hath it been in building, and yet it is not finished.

17 Now therefore if it seem good to the King, let there be search made in the Kings treasure-house which is there at Babylon, whether it be so that a decree was made of Cyrus the King, to build this house of God at Jerusalem: and let the King send his pleasure to us concerning this matter.

CHAP. VI.

1 Darius finding the decree of Cyrus, maketh a new decree for the advancement of the building. 13 By the help of the decree, and the directions of the Prophets, the Temple is finished. 16 The feast of the dedication is kept. 19 and the Passeover.

Then Darius the King made a decree, and search was made in the house of the † Records, where the treasures were † laid up in Babylon.

2 And, there was found at ‖ Achmetha, in the palace, that is in the province of the Medes, a roll, and therein was a record thus written:

3 In the first year of Cyrus the King, the same Cyrus the King made a decree concerning the house of God at Jerusalem: let that house be builded, the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the foundations thereof be strongly laid, the height thereof threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof threescore cubits;

4 With three rowes of great stones, and a row of new timber: and let the expences be given out of the Kings house.

5 And also let the golden, and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchad-nezzar took forth out of the Temple, which is at Jerusalem, and brought unto Babylon, be restored, and † brought again unto the Temple which is at Jerusalem, every one to his place, and place them in the house of God.

6 ¶ Now therefore Tatnai, governour beyond the river, Shethar-Boznai, and † your companions the Apharsachites, which are beyond the river, be ye far from thence:

7 Let the work of this house of God alone, let the governour of the Jews, and the Elders of the Jews build this house of God in his place.

8 Moreover, † I make a decree, what ye shall do to the Elders of these Jews for the building of this house of God: that of the Kings goods, even of the tribute beyond the river, forthwith expences expences be given unto these men, that they be not † hindered.

† Chald. made to cease.

9 And that which they have need of, both young bullocks, and rams, and lambs, for the burnt offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oyl, according to the appointment of the Priests which are at Jerusalem, let it be given them day by day without fail:

10 That they may offer sacrifices † of sweet savours unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the King, and of his sonnes.

† Chald. of rest.

11 Also I have made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this word, let timber be pulled down from his house, and being set up, let him be † hanged thereon, and his house be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name to dwell there, destroy all Kings and people that shall put to their hand, to alter, and to destroy this house of God which is at Jerusalem. I Darius have made a decree, let it be done with speed.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai governour on this side the river, Shethar-Bozenai, and their companions, according to that which Darius the King had sent, so they did speedily.

14 And the Elders of the Jews builded, and they prospered through the prophesying of Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, and they builded and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Israel, and according to the † commandment of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes King of Persia.

15 And this house was finished on the third day of the moneth Adar, which was in the sixth yeer of the reign of Darius the King.

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the Priests and the Levites, and the rest of † the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy;

† Chald. the sonnes of the captivity.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God, an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambes; and for a sinne offering for all Israel twelve hee-goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the Priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their courses, for the service of God, which is at Jerusalem, † * as it is written in the book of Moses.

† Chald. according to the writing. * Num. 3. 6. and 8. 9.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the Passeover, upon the fourteenth day of the first moneth:

20 For the Priests and the Levites were purified together, all of them were pure, and killed the Passeover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

21 And the children of Israel which were come again out of captivity, and all such as had separated themselves unto them, from the filthinesse of the heathen of the land, to seek the LORD God of Israel, did eat, 22 And kept the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes with joy: for the LORD had made them joyfull, and turned the heart of the King of Assyria unto them, to strengthen their hands in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ezra goeth up to Jerusalem. 11 The gracious commission of Artaxerxes to Ezra. 27 Ezra blesseth God for his favour.

NOw after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes King of Persia, Ezra the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah,

2 The sonne of Shallum, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Ahitub,

3 The sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Meraioth,

4 The sonne of Zerahiah, the sonne of Uzzi, the sonne of Bukki,

5 The sonne of Abishua, the sonne of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief Priest:

6 This Ezra went up from Babylon; and he was a ready Scribe in the law of Moses, which the LORD God of Israel had given: and the King granted him all his request, according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him.

7 And there went up some of the children of Israel, and of the Priests, and the Levites, and the Singers, and the Porters, and the Nethinims, unto Jerusalem, in the seventh yeer of Artaxerxes the King.

8 And he came to Jerusalem in the fifth moneth, which was in the seventh yeer of the king.

9 For upon the first day of the first moneth † began he to go up from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth moneth, came he to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.

† Chald. he began to go up.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the Law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Israel, Statutes and Judgements.

11 ¶ Now this is the copy of the letter that the King Artaxerxes gave unto Ezra the Priest, the Scribe, even a Scribe of the words of the Commandments of the LORD, and of his Statutes to Israel.

12 Artaxerxes King of kings, † unto Ezra the Priest, a Scribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at such a time.

† Chald. a Scribe.

13 I make a decree, that all they of the people of Israel, and of his Priests, and Levites in my realm, which are minded of their own free will to go to Jerusalem, go with thee.

14 Forasmuch as thou art sent † of the King, and of his * seven counsellers, to enquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the Law of thy God, which is in thine hand;

† Chald. from the face. * Esth. 1. 14.

15 And to carry the silver and gold, which the King and his counsellers have freely offered unto the God of Israel, whose habitation is in Jerusalem.

16 * And all the silver and gold that thou canst find in all the province of Babylon, with the freewill offering of the people, and of the Priests, offering willingly for the house of their God which is in Jerusalem:

17 That thou mayest buy speedily with this money, bullocks, rams, lambes, with their meat offerings, and their drink offerings, and offer them upon the Altar of the house of your God, which is in Jerusalem.

18 And whatsoever shall seem good to thee, and to thy brethren to do with the rest of the silver and gold, that do after the will of your God.

19 The vessels also that are given thee, for the service of the house of thy God, those deliver thou before the God of Jerusalem.

20 And whatsoever more shall be needful for the house of thy God, which thou shalt have occasion to bestow, bestow it out of the Kings store-house.

21 And I, even I Artaxerxes the King, do make a decree to all the treasurers which are beyond the river, that whatsoever Ezra the Priest, the Scribe of the Law of the God of heaven, shall require of you, it be done speedily, 22 Unto an hundred talents of silver, and to an hundred † measures of wheat, and to an hundred baths of wine, and to an hundred baths of oyl, and salt, without prescribing how much.

…for why should there be wrath
…the realm of the King and his sonnes?

23 Also we certifie you, that touching any of the Priests, and Levites, Singers, Porters, Nethinims, or Ministers of this house of God, it shall not be lawfull to impose toll, tribute, or custome upon them.

25 And thou Ezra, after the wisdome of thy God that is in thine hand, set Magistrates and Judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all such as know the Lawes of thy God, and teach ye them that know them not.

26 And whosoever will not do the Law of thy God, and the law of the King, let judgement be executed speedily upon him, whether it be unto death, or to † banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

27 ¶ Blessed be the LORD God of our fathers, which hath put such a thing as this in the Kings heart, to beautifie the house of the LORD, which is in Jerusalem:

28 And hath extended mercy unto me before the King and his Counsellers, and before all the Kings mighty Princes, and I was strengthened as the hand of the LORD my God was upon me, and I gathered together out of Israel, chief men to go up with me.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The companions of Ezra, who returned from Babylon. 15 He findeth no Idolo for Ministers for the Temple. 21 He keepeth a fast. 24 He committeth the treasures to the custody of the Priests. 31 From Ahava they came to Jerusalem. 33 The treasure is weighed in the Temple. 36 The commission is delivered.

THese are now the chief of their fathers, and this is the genealogie of them that went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the King.

2 Of the sonnes of Phinehas, Gershom: of the sonnes of Ithamar, Daniel: of the sonnes of David, Hattush.

3 Of the sonnes of Shechaniah, of the sonnes of Pharosh, Zechariah, and with him were reckoned by genealogie of the males, an hundred and fifty.

4 Of the sonnes of Pahath-Moab, Elihoenai the sonne of Zerahiah: and with him two hundred males.

5 Of the sonnes of Shechaniah, the sonne of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred males.

6 Of the sonnes also of Adin, Ebed the sonne of Jonathan, and with him fifty males.

7 And of the sonnes of Elam, Jeshaiah the sonne of Athaliah, and with him seventy males.

8 And of the sons of Shephatiah, Zebadiah the sonne of Michael, and with him fourscore males.

9 Of the sons of Joab, Obadiah the son of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males.

10 And of the sonnes of Shelomith, the sonne of Josiphiah, and with him an hundred and threescore males.

11 And of the sons of Bebai, Zechariah the sonne of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight males.

12 And of the sonnes of Azgad, Johanan ‖ the sonne of Hakkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the last sonnes of Adonikam, whose names are these: Eliphelet, Jeiiel, and Shemaiah, and with them threescore males.

14 Of the sonnes also of Bigvai, Uthai, and ‖ Zabbud, and with them seventy males.

15 And I gathered them together to the river that runneth to Ahava, and there abode we in tents three dayes: and I viewed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sonnes of Levi.

16 Then sent I for Eliezer, for Ariel, for Shemaiah, and for Elnathan, and for Jarib, and for Elnathan, and for Nathan, and for Zechariah, and for Meshullam, chief men; also for Jarib, and for Elnathan, men of understanding.

17 And I sent them with commandement unto Iddo the chief at the place Casiphia, and I † told them what they should say unto Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place Casiphia, that they should bring unto us Ministers for the house of our God.

18 And by the good hand of our God upon us, they brought us a man of understanding, of the sonnes of Mahli the sonne of Levi, the sonne of Israel, and Sherebiah, with his sonnes and his brethren, eighteen.

19 And Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiah of the sons of Merari, his brethren, and their sons, twenty.

20 * Also of the Nethinims, whom David and the Princes had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinims: all of them were expressed by name.

21 ¶ Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river Ahava, that we might afflict our selves before our God, to seek of him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the King a band of souldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy in the way: because we had spoken unto the King, saying, The hand of our God is upon all them for good, that seek him; but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this, and he was intreated of us.

24 ¶ Then I separated twelve of the chief of the Priests; Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed unto them the silver and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the King and his counsellers, and his lords, and all Israel there present had offered:

26 I even weighed unto their hand, six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents:

27 Also twenty basins of gold, of a thousand drams, and two vessels of † fine copper, † precious as gold.

28 And I said unto them, Ye are holy unto the LORD, the vessels are holy also, and the silver and the gold are a free-will offering unto the LORD God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keep them, until ye weigh them before the chief of the Priests and the Levites, and chief of the fathers of Israel at Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of the LORD.

30 So took the Priests, and the Levites the weight of the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem, unto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the river of Ahava, on the twelfth day of the first moneth, to go unto Jerusalem: and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemie, and of such as lay in wait by the way.

32 And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 ¶ Now on the fourth day was the silver, and gold, and the vessels weighed in the house of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the Shecaniah the son of Jehiel, one of the sons of Elam, and said unto Ezra, We have trespassed against our God, and have taken strange wives of the people of the land: yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this thing.

3 Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the counsel of my lord, and of those that tremble at the commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the Law.

4 Arise, for this matter belongeth unto thee: we also will be with thee: be of good courage, and do it.

5 Then arose Ezra, and made the chief priests, the Levites, and all Israel, to swear that they should do according to this word. So they sware.

6 ¶ Then Ezra rose up from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Johanan the son of Eliashib, and when he came thither he did eat no bread, nor drink water: for he mourned because of the transgression of them that had been carried away.

7 And they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem unto all the children of the captivity, that they should gather themselves together unto Jerusalem;

8 And that whosoever would not come within three days, according to the counsel of the princes and the elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and himself clean separated from the congregation of those that had been carried away.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered themselves together unto Jerusalem within three days: it was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month; and all the people sat in the street of the house of God, trembling because of this matter, and for the great rain.

10 And Ezra the priest stood up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed, and have taken strange wives, to increase the trespass of Israel.

11 Now therefore make confession unto the LORD God of your fathers, and do his pleasure: and separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives.

12 Then all the congregation answered, and said with a loud voice, As thou hast said, so must we do.

13 But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we cannot stand without, neither is this a work of one day or two: for we are many that have transgressed in this thing.

14 Let now our rulers of all the congregation stand, and let all them which have taken strange wives in our cities come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges thereof, until the fierce wrath of our God for this thing be turned from us.

15 Only Jonathan the son of Asahel and Jahaziah the son of Tikvah were employed about this matter: and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Levite helped them.

16 And the children of the captivity did so. And Ezra the priest, with certain chief of the fathers, after the house of their fathers, and all of them by their names, were separated, and sat down in the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

17 And they made an end with all the men that had taken strange wives by the first day of the first month.

18 And among the sons of the priests there were found that had taken strange wives: namely, of the sons of Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and his brethren; Maaseiah, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gave their promise that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, they offered a ram of the flock for their trespass.

20 And of the sons of Immer; Hanani, and Zebadiah.

21 And of the sons of Harim; Maaseiah, and Elijah, and Shemaiah, and Jehiel, and Uzziah.

22 And of the sons of Pashur; Elioenai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethaneel, Jozabad, and Elasah.

23 Also of the Levites; Jozabad, and Shimei, and Kelaiah, (the same is Kelita) Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer.

24 Of the singers also; Eliashib: and of the porters; Shallum, and Telem, and Uri.

25 Moreover of Israel: of the sons of Parosh; Ramiah, and Jeziah, and Malchiah, and Miamin, and Eleazar, and Malchijah, and Benaiah.

26 And of the sons of Elam; Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jerimoth, and Elijah.

27 And of the sons of Zattu; Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah, and Jerimoth, and Zabad, and Aziza.

28 Of the sons also of Bebai; Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, Athlai.

29 And of the sons of Bani; Meshullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jashub, Sheal, and Ramoth.

30 And of the sons of Pahath-moab; Adna, and Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezaleel, and Binnui, and Manasseh.

31 And of the sons of Harim; Eliezer, Ishijah, Malchijah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, 32 Benjamin, Malluch, Shemariah.

33 Of the sons of Hashum; Mattenai, Mattathah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, Shimei.

34 Of the sons of Bani; Maadai, Amram, and Uel,

35 Benaiah, Bedeiah, Chelluh,

36 Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib,

37 Mattaniah, Mattenai, and Jaasau,

38 And Bani, and Binnui, Shimei,

39 And Shelemiah, and Nathan, and Adaiah,

40 Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai,

41 Azareel, and Shelemiah, Shemariah, 42 Shallum, Amariah, Joseph.

43 Of the sons of Nebo; Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jadau, and Joel, Benaiah.

44 All these had taken strange wives: and some of them had wives by whom they had children.

THE BOOK OF NEHEMIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah mourneth for the misery of Jerusalem. 5 He prayeth unto God for his people.

THE words of Nehemiah the son of Hachaliah. And it came to pass in the month Chisleu, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shushan the palace,

2 That Hanani, one of my brethren, came, he and certain men out of Judah; and I asked them concerning the Jews that escaped, which were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

3 And they said unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Jerusalem also is broken down, and the gates thereof are burned with fire.

4 And it came to pass, when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned certain days, and fasted, and prayed before the God of heaven,

5 And said, I beseech thee, O LORD God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him and observe his commandments:

6 Let now thine ear be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayest hear the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee now, day and night, for the children of Israel thy servants, and confess the sins of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee: both I and my father's house have sinned.

7 We have dealt very corruptly against thee, and have not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the judgments, which thou commandedst thy servant Moses.

8 Remember, I beseech thee, the word that thou commandedst thy servant Moses, saying, If ye transgress, I will scatter you abroad among the nations:

9 But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them; though there were of you cast out unto the uttermost part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have chosen to set my name there.

10 Now these are thy servants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy strong hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let now thine ear be attentive to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy servants, who desire to fear thy name: and prosper, I pray thee, thy servant this day, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man. For I was the king's cupbearer.

CHAP. II.

1 Nehemiah, mourning, obtaineth leave of Artaxerxes to go to Jerusalem. 9 He cometh thither. 11 Viewing the walls by night, 17 he exhorteth the people to build. 19 He answereth Sanballat and his confederates.

AND it came to pass in the month Nisan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that wine was before him, and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king. Now I had not been before time sad in his presence.

2 Wherefore the king said unto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick? this is nothing else but sorrow of heart. Then I was very sore afraid,

3 And said unto the king, Let the king live for ever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers' sepulchres, lieth waste, and the gates thereof are consumed with fire?

4 Then the king said unto me, For what dost thou make request? So I prayed to the God of heaven.

5 And I said unto the king, If it please the king, and if thy servant have found favour in thy sight, that thou wouldest send me unto Judah, unto the city of my fathers' sepulchres, that I may build it.

6 And the king said unto me, (the queen also sitting by him) For how long shall thy journey be? and when wilt thou return? So it pleased the king to send me; and I set him a time.

7 Moreover I said unto the king, If it please the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the river, that they may convey me over till I come into Judah;

8 And a letter unto Asaph the keeper of the king's forest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace which appertained to the house, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king granted me, according to the good hand of my God upon me.

9 Then I came to the governors beyond the river, and gave them the king's letters. Now the king had sent captains of the army and horsemen with me.

10 When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three days.

12 And I arose in the night, I and some few men with me; neither told I any man what my God had put in my heart to do at Jerusalem: neither was there any beast with me, save the beast that I rode upon.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, even before the dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walls of Jerusalem, which were broken down, and the gates thereof were consumed with fire.

14 Then I went on to the gate of the fountain, and to the king's pool: but there was no place for the beast that was under me to pass.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back, and entered by the gate of the valley, and so returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did; neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that did the work.

17 Then said I unto them, Ye see the distress that we are in, how Jerusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burned with fire: come, and let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no more a reproach.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me; as also the king's words that he had spoken unto me. And they said, Let us rise up and build. So they strengthened their hands for this good work.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian, heard it, they laughed us to scorn, and despised us, and said, What is this thing that ye do? will ye rebel against the king?

20 Then answered I them, and said unto them, The God of heaven, he will prosper us; therefore we his servants will arise and build: but ye have no portion, nor right, nor memorial, in Jerusalem.

CHAP. III.

1 The building of the wall. 33 Sanballat and Tobiah mock the Jews.

THEN Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brethren the priests, and they built the sheep gate; they sanctified it, and set up the doors of it; even unto the tower of Meah they sanctified it, unto the tower of Hananeel.

2 And next unto him builded the men of Jericho. And next to them builded Zaccur the son of Imri.

3 But the fish gate did the sons of Hassenaah build, who also laid the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

4 And next unto them repaired Meremoth the son of Urijah, the son of Hakkoz. And next unto them repaired Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabeel. And next unto them repaired Zadok the son of Baana.

5 And next unto them the Tekoites repaired; but their nobles put not their necks to the work of their Lord.

6 Moreover the old gate repaired Jehoiada the son of Paseah, and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah; they laid the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, and the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

7 And next unto them repaired Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, unto the throne of the governor on this side the river.

8 Next unto him repaired Uzziel the son of Harhaiah, of the goldsmiths. Next unto him also repaired Hananiah the son of one of the apothecaries, and they fortified Jerusalem unto the broad wall.

9 And next unto them repaired Rephaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem.

10 And next unto them repaired Jedaiah the son of Harumaph, even over against his house. And next unto him repaired Hattush the son of Hashabneiah.

11 Malchijah the son of Harim, and Hashub the son of Pahath-moab, repaired the other piece, and the tower of the furnaces.

12 And next unto him repaired Shallum the son of Hallohesh, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley gate repaired Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah; they built it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and a thousand cubits on the wall unto the dung gate.

14 But the dung gate repaired Malchijah the son of Rechab, the ruler of part of Beth-haccerem; he built it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountain repaired Shallun the son of Colhozeh, the ruler of part of Mizpah; he built it, and covered it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and the wall of the pool of Siloah by the king's garden, and unto the stairs that go down from the city of David.

16 After him repaired Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, the ruler of the half part of Beth-zur, unto the place over against the sepulchres of David, and to the pool that was made, and unto the house of the mighty.

17 After him repaired the Levites, Rehum the son of Bani. Next unto him repaired Hashabiah, the ruler of the half part of Keilah, in his part.

18 After him repaired their brethren, Bavai the son of Henadad, the ruler of the half part of Keilah.

19 And next to him repaired Ezer the son of Jeshua, the ruler of Mizpah, another piece over against the going up to the armoury at the turning of the wall.

20 After him Baruch the son of Zabbai earnestly repaired the other piece, from the turning of the wall unto the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest.

21 After him repaired Meremoth the son of Urijah the son of Hakkoz another piece, from the door of the house of Eliashib even to the end of the house of Eliashib.

22 And after him repaired the priests, the men of the plain.

23 After him repaired Benjamin and Hashub over against their house. After him repaired Azariah the son of Maaseiah the son of Ananiah by his house.

24 After him repaired Binnui the son of Henadad another piece, from the house of Azariah unto the turning of the wall, even unto the corner.

25 Palal the son of Uzai, over against the turning of the wall, and the tower which lieth out from the king's high house, that was by the court of the prison. After him Pedaiah the son of Parosh.

26 Moreover the Nethinims dwelt in Ophel, unto the place over against the water gate toward the east, and the tower that lieth out.

27 After them the Tekoites repaired another piece, over against the great tower that lieth out even unto the wall of Ophel.

28 From above the horse gate repaired the priests, every one over against his house.

29 After them repaired Zadok the son of Immer over against his house. After him repaired also Shemaiah the son of Shechaniah, the keeper of the east gate.

30 After him repaired Hananiah the son of Shelemiah, and Hanun the sixth son of Zalaph, another piece. After him repaired Meshullam the son of Berechiah over against his chamber.

31 After him repaired Malchijah the goldsmith's son unto the place of the Nethinims, and of the merchants, over against the gate Miphkad, and to the going up of the corner.

32 And between the going up of the corner unto the sheep gate repaired the goldsmiths and the merchants.

CHAP. IV.

1 Sanballat and Tobiah mock the Jews. 4 Nehemiah prayeth. 7 The enemies conspire against Jerusalem. 10 The Jews are discouraged. 13 Nehemiah encourageth them. 15 He frustrateth the enemies' purpose. 16 He armeth the builders. 19 He encourageth them. 21 They labour. 23 They watch.

BUT it came to pass, that when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.

2 And he spake before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and said, What do these feeble Jews? will they fortify themselves? will they sacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the stones out of the heaps of the rubbish which are burned?

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he said, Even that which they build, if a fox go up, he shall even break down their stone wall.

4 Hear, O our God; for we are despised: and turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them for a prey in the land of their captivity:

5 And cover not their iniquity, and let not their sin be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders.

6 So built we the wall; and all the wall was joined together unto the half thereof: for the people had a mind to work.

7 But it came to pass, that when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites, heard that the walls of Jerusalem were made up, and that the breaches began to be stopped, then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all of them together to come and to fight against Jerusalem, and to hinder it.

9 Nevertheless we made our prayer unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them.

10 And Judah said, The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish; so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our adversaries said, They shall not know, neither see, till we come in the midst among them, and slay them, and cause the work to cease.

12 And it came to pass, that when the Jews which dwelt by them came, they said unto us ten times, From all places whence ye shall return unto us they will be upon you.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall, and on the higher places, I even set the people after their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows.

14 And I looked, and rose up, and said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not ye afraid of them: remember the Lord, which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sons, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

15 And it came to pass, when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought their counsel to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work.

16 And it came to pass from that time forth, that the half of my servants wrought in the work, and the other half of them held both the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the habergeons; and the rulers were behind all the house of Judah.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, with those that laded, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18 For the builders, every one had his sword girded by his side, and so builded: and he that sounded the trumpet was by me.

19 And I said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, one far from another.

20 In what place therefore ye hear the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither unto us: our God shall fight for us.

21 So we laboured in the work: and half of them held the spears from the rising of the morning till the stars appeared.

22 Likewise at the same time said I unto the people, Let every one with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and labour on the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of us put off our clothes, saving that every one put them off for washing.

CHAP. V.

1 The complaint of the poor. 6 Nehemiah reproveth the usurers. 14 His example. 15 His godly government. 19 His prayer.

AND there was a great cry of the people and their wives against their brethren the Jews.

2 For there were that said, We, our sons, and our daughters, are many: therefore we take up corn for them, that we may eat, and live.

3 Some also there were that said, We have mortgaged our lands, vineyards, and houses, that we might buy corn, because of the dearth.

4 There were also that said, We have borrowed money for the king's tribute, and that upon our lands and vineyards.

5 Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, our children as their children: and, lo, we bring into bondage our sons and our daughters to be servants, and some of our daughters are brought unto bondage already: neither is it in our power to redeem them; for other men have our lands and vineyards.

6 And I was very angry when I heard their cry and these words.

7 Then I consulted with myself, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and said unto them, Ye exact usury, every one of his brother. And I set a great assembly against them.

8 And I said unto them, We after our ability have redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were sold unto the heathen; and will ye even sell your brethren? or shall they be sold unto us? Then held they their peace, and found nothing to answer.

9 Also I said, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God because of the reproach of the heathen our enemies?

10 I likewise, my brethren, and my servants, might exact of them money and corn: I pray you, let us leave off this usury.

11 Restore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their oliveyards, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we do even as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they should do according to this promise.

13 Also I shook my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labour, that performeth not this promise, even thus be he shaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise.

14 Moreover from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year even unto the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the bread of the governor.

15 But the former governors that had been before me were chargeable unto the people, and took of them bread and wine, besides forty shekels of silver; yea, even their servants bare rule over the people: but so did not I, because of the fear of God.

16 Yea, also I continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land: and all my servants were gathered thither unto the work.

17 Moreover there were at my table of the Jews and the rulers, an hundred and fifty, besides those that came unto us from among the heathen that are about us.

18 Now that which was prepared for me daily was one ox and six choice sheep; also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days store of all sorts of wine: yet for all this required not I the bread of the governor, because the bondage was heavy upon this people.

19 Think upon me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

1 Sanballat and Tobiah lay wait for Nehemiah. 5 They slander him. 10 Shemaiah's false counsel. 15 The wall is finished. 17 Tobiah's letters.

NOW it came to pass, when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies, heard that I had builded the wall, and that there was no breach left therein; (though even at that time I had not set up the doors upon the gates;)

2 That Sanballat and Geshem sent unto me, saying, Come, let us meet together in some one of the villages in the plain of Ono. But they thought to do me mischief.

3 And I sent messengers unto them, saying, I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down: why should the work cease, whilst I leave it, and come down to you?

4 Yet they sent unto me four times after this sort; and I answered them after the same manner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his servant unto me in like manner the fifth time with an open letter in his hand;

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and Gashmu saith it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel: for which cause thou buildest the wall, that thou mayest be their king, according to these words.

7 And thou hast also appointed prophets to preach of thee at Jerusalem, saying, There is a king in Judah: and now shall it be reported to the king according to these words. Come now therefore, and let us take counsel together.

8 Then I sent unto him, saying, There are no such things done as thou sayest, but thou feignest them out of thine own heart.

9 For they all made us afraid, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the work, that it be not done. Now therefore, O God, strengthen my hands.

10 Afterward I came unto the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah the son of Mehetabeel, who was shut up; and he said, Let us meet together in the house of God, within the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple: for they will come to slay thee; yea, in the night will they come to slay thee.

11 And I said, Should such a man as I flee? and who is there, that, being as I am, would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in.

12 And, lo, I perceived that God had not sent him; but that he pronounced this prophecy against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I should be afraid, and do so, and sin, and that they might have matter for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

14 My God, think thou upon Tobiah and Sanballat according to these their works, and on the prophetess Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.

15 So the wall was finished in the twenty and fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty and two days.

16 And it came to pass, that when all our enemies heard thereof, and all the heathen that were about us saw these things, they were much cast down in their own eyes: for they perceived that this work was wrought of our God.

17 Moreover in those days the nobles of Judah sent many letters unto Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah came unto them.

18 For there were many in Judah sworn unto him, because he was the son in law of Shechaniah the son of Arah; and his son Jehohanan had taken the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berechiah.

19 Also they reported his good deeds before me, and uttered my words to him. And Tobiah sent letters to put me in fear.

CHAP. VII.

1 Hanani and Hananiah are set over Jerusalem. 4 The city is thinly inhabited. 5 The genealogy of those that came up with Zerubbabel. 66 The number of the whole congregation. 70 The gifts of the chief fathers. 73 The dwelling of the people.

NOW it came to pass, when the wall was built, and I had set up the doors, and the porters and the singers and the Levites were appointed,

2 That I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the ruler of the palace, charge over Jerusalem: for he was a faithful man, and feared God above many.

3 And I said unto them, Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened until the sun be hot; and while they stand by, let them shut the doors, and bar them: and appoint watches of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, every one in his watch, and every one to be over against his house.

4 Now the city was large and great: but the people were few therein, and the houses were not builded.

5 And my God put into mine heart to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogy. And I found a register of the genealogy of them which came up at the first, and found written therein,

6 These are the children of the province, that went up out of the captivity, of those which had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away, and came again to Jerusalem and to Judah, every one unto his city;

7 Which came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, Baanah. The number, I say, of the men of the people of Israel:

8 The children of Parosh, two thousand an hundred seventy and two.

9 The children of Shephatiah, three hundred seventy and two.

10 The children of Arah, six hundred fifty and two.

11 The children of Pahath-moab, of the children of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand and eight hundred and eighteen.

12 The children of Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four.

13 The children of Zattu, eight hundred forty and five.

14 The children of Zaccai, seven hundred and threescore.

15 The children of Binnui, six hundred forty and eight.

16 The children of Bebai, six hundred twenty and eight.

17 The children of Azgad, two thousand three hundred twenty and two.

18 The children of Adonikam, six hundred threescore and seven.

19 The children of Bigvai, two thousand threescore and seven.

20 The children of Adin, six hundred fifty and five.

21 The children of Ater of Hezekiah, ninety and eight.

22 The children of Hashum, three hundred twenty and eight.

23 The children of Bezai, three hundred twenty and four.

24 The children of Hariph, an hundred and twelve.

25 The children of Gibeon, ninety and five.

26 The men of Bethlehem and Netophah, an hundred fourscore and eight.

27 The men of Anathoth, an hundred twenty and eight.

28 The men of Beth-azmaveth, forty and two.

29 The men of Kirjath-jearim, Chephirah, and Beeroth, seven hundred forty and three.

30 The men of Ramah and Geba, six hundred twenty and one.

31 The men of Michmas, an hundred and twenty and two.

32 The men of Bethel and Ai, an hundred twenty and three.

33 The men of the other Nebo, fifty and two.

34 The children of the other Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four.

35 The children of Harim, three hundred and twenty.

36 The children of Jericho, three hundred forty and five.

37 The children of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, seven hundred twenty and one.

38 The children of Senaah, three thousand nine hundred and thirty.

39 The priests: the children of Jedaiah, of the house of Jeshua, nine hundred seventy and three.

40 The children of Immer, a thousand fifty and two.

41 The children of Pashur, a thousand two hundred forty and seven.

42 The children of Harim, a thousand and seventeen.

43 The Levites: the children of Jeshua, of Kadmiel, and of the children of Hodevah, seventy and four.

44 The singers: the children of Asaph, an hundred forty and eight.

56 The children of Neziah, the children of Hatipha.

60 All the Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's servants, were three hundred ninety and two.

61 And these were they which went up also from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer: but they could not shew their father's house, nor their seed, whether they were of Israel:

62 The children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Nekoda, six hundred forty and two.

63 And of the priests: the children of Habaiah, the children of Koz, the children of Barzillai, which took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name.

64 These sought their register among those that were reckoned by genealogy, but it was not found there: therefore were they, as polluted, put from the priesthood.

65 And the Tirshatha said unto them, that they should not eat of the most holy things, till there stood up a priest with Urim and with Thummim.

66 The whole congregation together was forty and two thousand three hundred and threescore, 67 Beside their servants and their maids, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: and they had two hundred forty and five singing men and singing women.

68 Their horses, seven hundred thirty and six: their mules, two hundred forty and five:

69 Their camels, four hundred thirty and five: six thousand seven hundred and twenty asses.

70 ¶ And some of the chief of the fathers gave unto the work. The Tirshatha gave to the treasure a thousand drams of gold, fifty basons, five hundred and thirty priests' garments.

71 And some of the chief of the fathers gave to the treasure of the work twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand two hundred pound of silver.

72 And that which the rest of the people gave was twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand pound of silver, and threescore and seven priests' garments.

73 So the priests, and the Levites, and the porters, and the singers, and some of the people, and the Nethinims, and all Israel, dwelt in their cities; and when the seventh month came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Ezra reading the Law, 5 the people worship God. 7 The Levites expound the Law. 9 Nehemiah comforteth the people. 13 The feast of tabernacles is kept.

AND all the people gathered themselves together as one man into the street that was before the water gate; and they spake unto Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the Law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the priest brought the Law before the congregation both of men and women, and all that could hear with understanding, upon the first day of the seventh month.

3 And he read therein before the street that was before the water gate from the morning until midday, before the men and the women, and those that could understand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the Law.

4 And Ezra the scribe stood upon a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose; and beside him stood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Uriah, Hilkiah, and Maaseiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Pedaiah, Mishael, Malchijah, Hashum, Hashbadana, Zechariah, Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people; (for he was above all the people;) and when he opened it, all the people stood up:

6 And Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God. And all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the LORD with their faces to the ground.

7 Also Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, caused the people to understand the Law: and the people stood in their place.

8 So they read in the book in the Law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading.

9 And Nehemiah, which is the Tirshatha, and Ezra the priest the scribe, and the Levites that taught the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto the LORD your God; mourn not, nor weep. For all the people wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 Then he said unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be ye sorry; for the joy of the LORD is your strength.

11 So the Levites stilled all the people, saying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy; neither be ye grieved.

12 And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, because they had understood the words that were declared unto them.

13 ¶ And on the second day were gathered together the chief of the fathers of all the people, the priests, and the Levites, unto Ezra the scribe, even to understand the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law which the LORD had commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in booths in the feast of the seventh month:

15 And that they should publish and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go forth unto the mount, and fetch olive branches, and pine branches, and myrtle branches, and palm branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themselves booths, every one upon the roof of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street of the water gate, and in the street of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity made booths, and sat under the booths: for since the days of Jeshua the son of Nun unto that day had not the children of Israel done so. And there was very great gladness.

18 Also day by day, from the first day unto the last day, he read in the book of the Law of God. And they kept the feast seven days; and on the eighth day was a solemn assembly, according unto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The Israelites assembling together, 6 Nehemiah's prayer. 38 The covenant.

NOW in the twenty and fourth day of this month the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth upon them.

2 And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all strangers, and stood and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood up in their place, and read in the book of the Law of the LORD their God one fourth part of the day; and another fourth part they confessed, and worshipped the LORD their God.

4 Then stood up upon the stairs, of the Levites, Jeshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the LORD their God.

5 Then the Levites, Jeshua, and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said, Stand up and bless the LORD your God for ever and ever: and blessed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.

6 Thou, even thou, art LORD alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art the LORD the God, who didst choose Abram, and brought him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gavest him the name of Abraham;

8 And foundest his heart faithful before thee, and madest a covenant with him to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Girgashites, to give it, I say, to his seed, and hast performed thy words; for thou art righteous:

9 And didst see the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heardest their cry by the Red sea,

10 And shewedst signs and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them. So didst thou get thee a name, as it is this day.

11 And thou didst divide the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on the dry land; and their pursuers thou threwest into the deeps, as a stone into the mighty waters.

12 Moreover thou leddest them in the day by a cloudy pillar; and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they should go.

13 Thou camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven, and gavest them right judgments, and true laws, good statutes and commandments,

14 And madest known unto them thy holy sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, statutes, and laws, by the hand of Moses thy servant:

15 And gavest them bread from heaven for their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst, and promisedst them that they should go in to possess the land which thou hadst sworn to give them.

16 But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their necks, and hearkened not to thy commandments, 17 And refused to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didst among them, but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and forsookest them not.

18 Yea, when they had made them a molten calf, and said, This is thy God that brought thee up out of Egypt, and had wrought great provocations;

19 Yet thou in thy manifold mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness: the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day, to lead them in the way; neither the pillar of fire by night, to shew them light, and the way wherein they should go.

20 Thou gavest also thy good spirit to instruct them, and withheldest not thy manna from their mouth, and gavest them water for their thirst.

21 Yea, forty years didst thou sustain them in the wilderness, so that they lacked nothing; their clothes waxed not old, and their feet swelled not.

22 Moreover thou gavest them kingdoms and nations, and didst divide them into corners: so they possessed the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

23 Their children also multipliedst thou as the stars of heaven, and broughtest them into the land, concerning which thou hadst promised to their fathers, that they should go in to possess it.

24 So the children went in and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gavest them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them as they would.

25 And they took strong cities, and a fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, wells digged, vineyards, and oliveyards, and fruit trees in abundance: so they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, and delighted themselves in thy great goodness.

26 Nevertheless they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behind their backs, and slew thy prophets which testified against them to turn them to thee, and they wrought great provocations.

27 Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But after they had rest, they did evil again before thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them: yet when they returned, and cried unto thee, thou heardest from heaven; and many times didst thou deliver them according to thy mercies;

29 And testifiedst against them, that thou mightest bring them again unto thy Law: yet they dealt proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but sinned against thy judgments, (which if a man do, he shall live in them;) and withdrew the shoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

30 Yet many years didst thou forbear them, and testifiedst against them by thy spirit in thy prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gavest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

THE BOOK OF NEHEMIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah understanding by Hanani the misery, mourneth, fasteth, and prayeth.

THE words of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah. And it came to passe in the moneth Chisleu, in the twentieth yeere, as I was in Shushan the 2 palace, that one of my brethren came, he with men of Judah: and I asked them concerning the Jewes that had escaped, which were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.
3 And they said unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province, are in great affliction and reproch: the wall of Jerusalem also lieth broken down, and the gates thereof are burned with fire.
4 And it came to passe when I heard these words, that I sate down and wept, and mourned certain dayes, and fasted, and prayed before the God of heaven,
5 And said, I beseech thee, O LORD God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth
6 covenant and mercy for them that love him and observe his commandements: Let now thine eare be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayest hear the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee now, day and night, for the children of Israel thy servants, and confesse the sinnes of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee: both I and my fathers house have sinned.
7 We have dealt very corruptly against thee, and have not kept the Commandements, nor the statutes, nor the judgements which thou commandedst thy servant Moses.
8 Remember, I beseech thee, the word that thou commandedst thy servant Moses, saying, If ye trespasse, I will scatter you abroad among the nations:
9 But if ye turn unto me, and keep my Commandements, and do them; though there were of you cast out unto the uttermost part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have chosen, to set my Name there.
10 Now these are thy servants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy strong hand.
11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let now thine eare be attentive to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy servants, who desire to fear thy Name: and prosper, I pray thee, thy servant this day, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man. For I was the King's cupbearer.

CHAP. II.

1 Artaxerxes understanding the cause of Nehemiahs sadnesse, sendeth him with letters and commission to Jerusalem. 9 Nehemiah, to the grief of the enemies, cometh to Jerusalem. 12 He vieweth secretly the ruins of the walls. 17 He inciteth the Jews to build in despite of the enemies.

AND it came to passe in the moneth Nisan, in the twentieth yeer of Artaxerxes the King, that wine was before him: and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the King: now I had not been beforetime sad in his presence.

2 Wherefore the King said unto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick? this is nothing else but sorrow of heart. Then I was very sore afraid,

3 And said unto the King, Let the King live for ever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers sepulchres, lieth waste, and the gates thereof are consumed with fire?

4 Then the King said unto me, For what doest thou make request? So I prayed to the God of heaven.

5 And I said unto the king, If it please the king, and if thy servant have found favour in thy sight, that thou wouldest send me unto Judah, unto the city of my fathers sepulchres, that I may build it.

6 And the King said unto me, (the † Queen also sitting by him) For how long shall thy journey be? and when wilt thou return? So it pleased the king to send me; and I set him a time.

† Heb. wife.

7 Moreover, I said unto the King, If it please the King, let letters be given me to the governours beyond the river, that they may convey me over, till I come into Judah;

8 And a letter unto Asaph the keeper of the Kings forrest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace which appertained to the house, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I shall enter into: and the King granted me, according to the good hand of my God upon me.

9 ¶ Then I came to the governours beyond the river, and gave them the Kings letters: (now the King had sent captains of the army, and horsmen with me)

10 When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly, that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 ¶ And I arose in the night, I, and some few men with me; neither told I any man what God had put in my heart to do at Jerusalem: neither was there any beast with me, save the beast that I rode upon.

13 And I went out by night, by the gate of the valley, even before the dragon-well, and to the dung-port, and viewed the walls of Jerusalem, which were broken down, and the gates thereof were consumed with fire.

14 Then I went on to the gate of the fountain, and to the Kings pool: but there was no place for the beast that was under me, to passe.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back, and entred by the gate of the valley, and so returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did, neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the Priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that did the work.

17 ¶ Then said I unto them, Ye see the distress that we are in, how Jerusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come, and let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no more a reproach.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me; as also the Kings words that he had spoken unto me. And they said, Let us rise up and build. So they strengthened their hands for this good work.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian heard of it, they laughed us to scorn, and despised us, and said, What is this thing that ye do? will ye rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and said unto them, The God of heaven, he will prosper us; therefore we his servants will arise and build: but ye have no portion, nor right, nor memorial in Jerusalem.

CHAP. III.

1 The names and order of them that built the wall.

THEN Eliashib the high Priest rose up with his brethren the Priests, and they built the sheep-gate; they sanctified it, and set up the doors of it, even unto the tower of Meah they sanctified it, unto the tower of * Hananeel.

2 And † next unto him built the men of Jericho: and next to them builded Zaccur the sonne of Imri.

3 But the fish-gate did the sonnes of Hassenaah build, who also laid the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

4 And next unto them repaired Meremoth the sonne of Uriah, the sonne of Koz. And next unto them repaired Meshullam the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Meshezabeel: and next unto them repaired Zadok the sonne of Baana.

5 And next unto them the Tekoites repaired; but their nobles put not their necks to the work of their Lord.

6 Moreover the old gate repaired Joiada the sonne of Paseah, and Meshullam the sonne of Besodeiah; they layed the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, and the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

7 And next unto them repaired Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, unto the throne of the governour on this side the river.

8 Next unto him repaired Uzziel the sonne of Harhaiah, of the goldsmiths. Next unto him also repaired Hananiah the sonne of one of the Apothecaries, and they fortified Jerusalem even unto the broad wall.

9 And next unto them repaired Rephaiah the sonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe part of Jerusalem.

10 And next unto them repaired Jedaiah the sonne of Harumaph, even over against his house. And next unto him repaired Hattush the sonne of Hashabneiah.

11 Malchijah the sonne of Harim, and Hashub the sonne of Pahath-moab repaired the other piece, and the tower of the furnaces.

12 And next unto him repaired Shallum the sonne of Hallohesh, the ruler of the halfe part of Jerusalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley-gate repaired Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah; they built it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and a thousand cubits on the wall unto the dung-gate.

14 But the dung-gate repaired Malchiah the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of part ...and hangs the doors thereof: and the locks,

...and the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountain repaired Shallun the sonne of Colhozeh, the ruler of part of Mizpah; he built it, and covered it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall of the pool of * Siloah by the Kings garden, and unto the staires that go down from the city of David.

16 After him repaired Nehemiah the sonne of Azbuk the ruler of the half part of Beth-zur, unto the place over against the sepulchres of David, and to the pool that was made, * and unto the house of the mighty.

17 After him repaired the Levites, Rehum the sonne of Bani: next unto him repaired Hashabiah the ruler of the half part of Keilah in his part.

18 After him repaired their brethren, Bavai, the sonne of Henadad, the ruler of the half part of Keilah.

19 And next to him repaired Ezer the sonne of Jeshua, the ruler of Mizpah, another piece over against the going up to the armory, at the turning of the wall.

20 After him Baruch the sonne of ¶ Zabbai, earnestly repaired the other piece, from the turning of the wall, unto the door of the house of Eliashib the high Priest.

21 After him repaired Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the sonne of Koz, another piece, from the door of the house of Eliashib, even to the end of the house of Eliashib.

22 And after him repaired the Priests, the men of the plain.

23 After him repaired Benjamin, and Hashub over against their house: after him repaired Azariah the sonne of Maaseiah, the sonne of Ananiah, by his house.

24 After him repaired Binnui the sonne of Henadad another piece, from the house of Azariah unto the turning of the wall, even unto the corner.

25 Palal the sonne of Uzai, over against the turning of the wall, and the tower which lieth out from the high house of the king, that was by the court of the prison. After him Pedaiah the sonne of Parosh.

26 Moreover, the Nethinims dwelt in * ¶ Ophel, unto the place over against the water-gate toward the east, and the tower that lieth out.

27 After him the Tekoites repaired another piece over against the great tower that lieth out, even unto the wall of Ophel.

28 From above the horsegate repaired the Priests, every one over against his house.

29 After them repaired Zadok the sonne of Immer over against his house: after him repaired also Shemaiah the sonne of Shechaniah, the keeper of the east gate.

30 After him repaired Hananiah the sonne of Shelemiah, and Hanun the sixth sonne of Zalaph, another piece: after him repaired Meshullam the sonne of Berechiah over against his chamber.

31 After him repaired Malchiah the goldsmiths sonne unto the place of the Nethinims, and of the merchants, over against the gate Miphkad, and to the going up of the corner.

32 And between the going up of the corner unto the sheepgate repaired the goldsmiths and the

CHAP. IIII.

...Sanballat, Nehemiah prayeth. 7 Their purpose discovered.

BUt it came to passe, that when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.

2 And he spake before his brethren, and the army of Samaria, and said, What do these feeble Jews? will they fortifie themselves? will they sacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the stones out of the heaps of the rubbish which are burnt?

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he said, Even that which they build, if a fox go up, he shall even break down their stone wall.

4 Heare O our God, for we are † despised: and turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them for a prey in the land of captivity.

5 And cover not their iniquity, & let not their sinne be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders.

6 So built we the wall, and all the wall was joyned together unto the half thereof: for the people had a minde to work.

7 ¶ But it came to passe that when Sanballat and Tobiah, and the Arabians, & the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites, heard that the walles of Jerusalem † were made up, and that the breaches began to be stopped, then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all of them together, to come and to fight against Jerusalem, and † to hinder it.

9 Nevertheless, we made our prayer unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them.

10 And Judah said, The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish: so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our adversaries said, They shall not know, neither see till we come in the midst among them, and slay them, and cause the work to cease.

12 And it came to passe, that when the Jews which dwelt by them, came, they said unto us ten times, ¶ From all places whence ye shall return unto us they will be upon you.

13 ¶ Therefore set I † in the lower places behinde the wall, and on the higher places, I even set the people after their families, with their swords, their speares, and their bowes.

14 And I looked, and rose up, and said unto the Nobles, and to the Rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not ye afraid of them: Remember the Lord which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

15 And it came to passe when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought their counsell to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his worke.

16 And it came to passe from that time forth, that the half of my servants wrought in the worke, and the other half of them held both the speares, the shields, and the bowes, and the habergeons, and the Rulers were behinde all the house of Judah.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, with those that laded others with one of his hands wrought in the worke, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18 For the builders every one had his sword girded by his side, and so builded: and he that sounded the trumpet was by me.

19 ¶ And I said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, one far from another.

20 In what place therefore ye heare the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither unto us: our God shall fight for us.

21 So we laboured in the work: and half of them held the spears from the rising of the morning till the stars appeared.

22 Likewise at the same time said I unto the people, Let every one with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and labour on the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of us put off our clothes, † saving that every one put them off for washing.

CHAP. V.

1 The Jews complain of their debt, poverty, and bondage. 6 Nehemiah rebuketh the usury, and constrains them to make a covenant of restitution. 14 He forbeareth his own allowance, and liveth bountifully.

AND there was a great cry of the people and of their wives against their brethren the Jews.

2 For there were that said, We, our sons and our daughters are many: therefore we take up corn for them, that we may eat, and live.

3 Some also there were that said, We have mortgaged our lands, vineyards, and houses, that we might buy corn, because of the dearth.

4 There were also that said, We have borrowed money for the king's tribute, and that upon our lands and vineyards.

5 Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, our children as their children: and lo, we bring into bondage our sons and our daughters, to be servants, and some of our daughters are brought unto bondage already, neither is it in our power to redeem them: for other men have our lands and vineyards.

6 ¶ And I was very angry, when I heard their cry, and these words.

7 Then † I consulted with my self, and I rebuked the Nobles, and the Rulers, and said unto them, You exact usury, every one of his brother. And I set a great assembly against them.

8 And I said unto them, We after our ability have redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were sold unto the heathen; and will you even sell your brethren? or shall they be sold unto us? Then held they their peace, & found nothing to answer.

9 Also I said, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God, because of the reproach of the heathen our enemies?

10 I likewise, and my brethren, and my servants, might exact of them money and corn: I pray you, let us leave off this usury.

11 Restore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their oliveyards, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we do, as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they should do according to this promise.

13 Also I shook my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his possession, from his labour that performeth not this promise, even thus be he shaken out, and † emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise.

14 ¶ Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year even unto the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the bread of the governor.

15 But the former governors that were before me, were chargeable unto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides forty shekels of silver; yea even their servants bare rule over the people: but so did not I, because of the fear of God.

16 Yea also I continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land: and all my servants were gathered thither unto the work.

17 Moreover there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Jews, and rulers, besides those that came unto us from among the heathen that are about us.

18 Now that which was prepared for me daily was one ox, and six choice sheep; also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days store of all sorts of wine: yet for all this required not I the bread of the governour, because the bondage was heavy upon this people.

19 ¶ Think upon me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

1 Sanballat & Tobiah by craft & subtilty seek to hinder the building. 5 Sanballat by open threatning. 10 Shemaiah by false prophecies, to terrify Nehemiah. 15 The wall is finished in 52 days. 17 Secret intelligence passed between the nobles of Judah and Tobiah.

NOW it came to pass when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had builded the wall, and that there was no breach left therein; (though at that time I had not set up the gates;)

2 That Sanballat, and Geshem sent unto me, saying, Come, let us meet together among the villages in the plain of Ono. But they thought to do me mischief.

3 And I sent messengers unto them, saying, I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down: why should the work cease, whilst I leave it, and come down to you?

4 Yet they sent unto me four times after this sort; and I answered them after the same manner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his servant unto me in like manner the fifth time with an open letter in his hand;

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and Gashmu saith it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel: for which cause thou buildest the wall, that thou mayest be their king, according to these words.

7 And thou hast also appointed prophets to preach of thee at Jerusalem, saying, There is a king in Judah: and now shall it be reported to the king according to these words. Come now therefore, and let us take counsel together.

8 Then I sent unto him, saying, There are no such things done as thou sayest, but thou feignest them out of thine own heart.

9 For they all made us afraid, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the work, that it be not done. Now therefore, O God, strengthen my hands.

10 Afterward I came unto the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah the son of Mehetabel, who was shut up; and he said, Let us meet together in the house of God, within the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple: for they will come to slay thee; yea in the night will they come to slay thee.

11 And I said, Should such a man as I flee? and who is there, that being as I am, would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in.

12 And lo, I perceived that

56 The children of Nexiah, the children of Hatipha.

60 All the Nethinims, and the children of Solomons servants, were three hundred ninety & two.

61 ᵖ And these were they which went up also from Tel-melah, Telharsha, Cherub, Addan, and Immer: but they could not shew their fathers house, nor their seed, whether they were of Israel.

62 The children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Nekoda, six hundred fourty and two.

63 ¶ And of the Priests: the children of Habaiah, the children of Koz, the children of Barzillai, which took one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was called after their name.

64 These sought their register among those that were reckoned by genealogie, but it was not found: therefore were they as polluted, put from the Priesthood.

65 And the Tirshatha said unto them, that they should not eat of the most holy things, till there stood up a Priest with Urim and Thummim.

66 ¶ The whole Congregation together was fourty and two thousand, three hundred and threescore:

67 Beside their men-servants, and their maid-servants, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: and they had two hundred fourty and five singing men and singing women.

68 Their horses seven hundred thirty and six: their mules two hundred fourty and five:

69 Their camels four hundred thirty and five: six thousand seven hundred and twenty asses.

70 ¶ And some of the chief of the fathers gave unto the work: The Tirshatha gave to the treasure, a thousand drams of gold, fifty basons, five hundred and thirty Priests garments.

71 And some of the chief of the fathers gave to the treasure of the work, twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand and two hundred pound of silver.

72 And that which the rest of the people gave, was twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand pound of silver, and threescore and seven Priests garments.

73 So the Priests and the Levites, and the porters, and the singers, and some of the people, and the Nethinims, and all Israel, dwelt in their cities: and when the seventh month came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The religious manner of reading the Law. 9 They comfort the people forward after sorrow for sin. 16 They keep the feast of Tabernacles.

AND all the people gathered themselves as one man into the street that was before the water-gate, ᵃ and they spake unto Ezra the Scribe, to bring the book of the Law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation, both of men and women, and all † that could hear with understanding, upon the first day of the seventh month.

3 And he read therein before the street that was before the watergate, † from the morning until mid-day, before the men and the women, and those that could understand: and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the Law.

4 And Ezra the Scribe, stood upon a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose: and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Anaiah, and Urijah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah, on his right hand: and on his left hand, Pedaiah, and Mishael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadanah, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people (for he was above all the people); and when he opened it, all the people stood up.

6 And Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the LORD with their faces to the ground.

7 Also Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, caused the people to understand the Law: and the people stood in their place.

8 So they read in the book, in the Law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading.

9 ¶ And Nehemiah, which is the Tirshatha, and Ezra the Priest the Scribe, and the Levites that taught the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto the LORD your God; mourn not, nor weep: for all the people wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 Then he said unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them, for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our LORD: neither be ye sorry, for the joy of the LORD is your strength.

11 So the Levites stilled all the people, saying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy; neither be ye grieved.

12 And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, because they had understood the words that were declared unto them.

13 ¶ And on the second day were gathered together the chief of the fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Levites, unto Ezra the Scribe, even ‖ to understand the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law, which the LORD had commanded by the hand of Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in booths in the feast of the seventh month:

15 And that they should publish and proclaim in all their cities, and

…forth unto the mount, and fetch … branches, and pine branches, and myrtle … and palm branches, and branches of … trees, to make booths as it is written.

16 ¶ So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themselves booths, every one upon the roof of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street of the water-gate, and in the street of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity, made booths, and sate under the booths: for since the dayes of Jeshua the sonne of Nun, unto that day, had not the children of Israel done so: and there was very great gladnesse.

18 Also day by day, from the first day unto the last day, he read in the book of the Law of God: and they kept the feast seven dayes, and on the eighth day was † a solemn assembly according unto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

1 A fast, and repentance of the people. 4 The Levites make a religious confession of Gods goodnesse, and their wickednesse.

NOw in the * twentie and fourth day of this moneth, the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackclothes, and earth upon them.

2 And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all † strangers, and stood and confessed their sinnes, and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood up in their place, and read in the book of the Law of the LORD their God, one fourth part of the day, and another fourth part they confessed, and worshipped the LORD their God.

4 ¶ Then stood up, upon the ‖ stairs of the Levites, Jeshua and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bani, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voyce unto the LORD their God.

5 Then the Levites, Jeshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said, Stand up, and blesse the LORD your God for ever and ever, and blessed be thy glorious Name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.

6 Thou even thou art LORD alone, * thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all, and the host of heaven worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art the LORD the God, who didst chuse * Abram, and broughtest him forth out of Ur of the Caldees, and gavest him the name of Abraham:

8 And foundest his heart * faithfull before thee, and madest * Covenant with him, to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Girgashites, to give it, I say, to his seed, and hast performed the words, for thou art righteous.

9 * And didst see the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heardest their cry by the red sea,

10 And shewedst signes * and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: so didst thou get thee a name, as it is this day.

11 And thou didst divide the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on the dry land; and their persecutors thou threwest into the deepes, as a stone into the mighty waters.

12 Moreover thou leddest them in the day by a cloudy pillar; and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they should go.

13 Thou * camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven, and gavest them right judgements, and † true Lawes, good Statutes and Commandements:

14 And madest known unto them thy holy Sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, Statutes, and Lawes, by the hand of Moses thy servant:

15 And * gavest them bread from heaven for their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rock, for their thirst, and promisedst them that they should * go in to possesse the land, † which thou hadst sworn to give them.

16 But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardned their necks, and hearkned not to thy Commandements:

17 And refused to obey, neither were mindfull of thy wonders that thou didst among them: but hardned their necks, and in their rebellion appointed * a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art † a God ready to pardon, gracious and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great kindnesse, and forsookest them not.

18 Yea, * when they had made them a molten calf, and said, This is thy God that brought thee up out of Egypt, and had wrought great provocations:

19 Yet thou, in thy manifold mercies, forsookest them not in the wildernesse: the * pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day, to lead them in the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shew them light, and the way wherein they should go.

20 Thou gavest also thy * good Spirit, to instruct them, and withheldest not thy * Manna from their mouth, & gavest them water for their thirst.

21 Yea fourty yeers didst thou sustain them in the wilderness, so that they lacked nothing; their * clothes waxed not old, & their feet swelled not.

22 Moreover, thou gavest them kingdomes and nations, and didst divide them into corners; so they possessed the land of * Sihon, and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

23 Their children also multipliedst thou as the stars of heaven, and broughtest them into the land, concerning which thou hadst promised to their fathers, that they should go in to possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gavest them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them, † as they would.

25 And they took strong cities, and a fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, wells digged, vineyards, and oliveyards, and † fruit trees in abundance: so they did eat and were filled, and became fat, and delighted themselves in thy great goodnesse.

26 Nevertheless, they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Law behinde their backs, and slew thy * Prophets, which testified against them to turn them to thee, and they wrought great provocations.

27 Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven, and according to thy manifold mercies, thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But * as soon as they had rest, they did evil again before thee: therefore leftest thou them

33 Howbeit, thou art just in all that is brought upon us, for thou hast done right, but we have done wickedly:

34 Neither have our Kings, our Princes, our Priests, nor our fathers kept thy Law, nor hearkned unto thy Commandments, and thy Testimonies, wherewith thou didst testifie against them.

35 For they have not served thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou gavest them, and in the large and fat land which thou gavest before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.

36 Behold, we are servants this day; and for the land that thou gavest unto our fathers, to eat the fruit thereof, and the good thereof, behold, we are servants in it.

37 And it yeeldeth much increase unto the kings, whom thou hast set over us, because of our sinnes: also they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattell, at their pleasure, and we are in great distresse.

† Heb. are at the feeling or feeling.

38 And because of all this, we make a sure covenant, and write it, and our Princes, Levites, and Priests, † seal unto it.

CHAP. X.

1 The names of them that sealed the Covenant.
29 The points of the Covenant.

NOw those † that sealed were Nehemiah ‖ the Tirshatha, the sonne of Hachaliah, and Zidkijah, † Heb. at the sealing. ‖ Or, the governour.

2 Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah,
3 Pashur, Amariah, Malchiah,
4 Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch,
5 Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah,
6 Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch,
7 Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin,
8 Maaziah, Bilgai, Shemaiah: these were the Priests.

9 And the Levites: both Jeshua the sonne of Azaniah, Binnui of the sonnes of Henadad, Kadmiel;
10 And their brethren, Shebaniah, Hodijah, Kelita, Pelaiah, Hanan, 11 Micha, Rehob, Hashabiah,
12 Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah,
13 Hodijah, Bani, Beninu.

14 The chief of the people; Parosh, Pahath-Moab, Elam, Zattu, Bani, 15 Bunni, Azgad, Bebai,
16 Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin,
17 Ater, Hizkijah, Azzur,

24 Hallohesh, Pilcha, Shobek,
25 Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah,
26 And Ahijah, Hanan, Anan,
27 Malluch, Harim, Baanah.

28 ¶ * And the rest of the people, the Priests, the Levites, the porters, the singers, the Nethinims, and all they that had separated themselves unto the people of the lands, unto the Law of God, their wives, their sonnes, and their daughters, every one having knowledge, and having understanding;

29 They clave to their brethren their nobles, and entred into a curse, and into an oath, to walk in Gods Law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the Commandments of the LORD our Lord, and his Judgements, and his Statutes;

30 And that we would not give our daughters unto the people of the land, nor take their daughters for our sonnes.

31 And if the people of the land bring ware or any victuals on the Sabbath day, to sell it, that we would not buy it of them on the Sabbath, or on the holy day, and that we would leave the seventh year, and the * exaction of † every debt.

32 Also we made ordinances for us, to charge our selves yearly, with the third part of a shekel, for the service of the house of our God;

33 For the shew-bread, and for the continuall meat offering, and for the continuall burnt offering, of the Sabbaths, of the new Moones, for the set feasts, and for the holy things, and for the sin offerings, to make an atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God.

34 And we cast the lots among the Priests, the Levites, and the people, for the wood offering, to bring it into the house of our God, after the houses of our fathers, at times appointed, year by year, to burn upon the Altar of the LORD our God, as it is written in the * Law:

35 And to bring the first fruits of our ground, and the first fruits of all fruit of all trees, year by year, unto the house of the LORD:

36 Also the first born of our sonnes, and of our cattell, (as it is written * in the Law) and the firstlings of our herds, and of our flocks, to bring to the house of our God, unto the Priests that minister in the house of our God:

37 And that we should bring the first fruits of our dough, and our offerings, and the fruit of all manner of trees, of wine, and of oyle, unto the Priests, to the chambers of the house of our God, and the tithes of our ground unto the Levites, that the same Levites might have the tithes in all the cities of our tillage.

38 And the Priest the sonne of Aaron shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes: and the Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithes unto the house of our God, to the chambers, into the treasure house.

39 For the children of Israel and the children of Levi shall bring the offering of the corn, of the new wine, and the oyle, unto the chambers, where are the vessels of the sanctuary, and the Priests that minister, and the porters, and the singers: and we will not forsake the house of our God.

CHAP. XI.

1 The number of men, and the princes that dwelt at Jerusalem. 3 A catalogue of their names. 20 The residue dwelt in other cities.

AND the rulers of the people dwelt at Jerusalem: the rest of the people also cast lots, to bring one of ten to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts to dwell in other cities.

2 And the people blessed all the men, that willingly offered themselves to dwell at Jerusalem.

3 Now these are the chief of the province that dwelt in Jerusalem: but in the cities of Judah dwelt every one in his possession in their cities, to wit, Israel, the Priests, and the Levites, and the Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's servants.

4 And at Jerusalem dwelt certain of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin. Of the children of Judah: Athaiah the sonne of Uzziah, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Shephatiah, the sonne of Mahalaleel, of the children of Perez.

5 And Maaseiah the sonne of Baruch, the sonne of Col-Hozeh, the sonne of Hazaiah, the sonne of Adaiah, the sonne of Joiarib, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Shiloni.

6 All the sonnes of Perez that dwelt at Jerusalem, were four hundred threescore and eight valiant men.

7 And these are the sonnes of Benjamin: Sallu the sonne of Meshullam, the sonne of Joed, the sonne of Pedaiah, the sonne of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah, the sonne of Ithiel, the sonne of Jesaiah.

8 And after him Gabai, Sallai, nine hundred twenty and eight.

9 And Joel the son of Zichri was their overseer: and Judah the sonne of Senuah was second over the city.

10 Of the Priests: Jedaiah the sonne of Joiarib, Jachin:

11 Seraiah the son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam the sonne of Zadok, the son of Meraioth the son of Ahitub, was the ruler of the house of God.

12 And their brethren that did the work of the house, were eight hundred twenty and two: and Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the sonne of Pelaliah the sonne of Amzi, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Pashur, the sonne of Malchiah,

13 And his brethren, chief of the fathers, two hundred forty and two: and Amashai the sonne of Azareel, the sonne of Ahasai, the sonne of Meshillemoth, the son of Immer, 14 And their brethren, mighty men of valour, an hundred twenty and eight: and their overseer was Zabdiel, the sonne of one of the great men.

15 Also of the Levites: Shemaiah the sonne of Hasshub, the sonne of Azrikam, the sonne of Hashabiah, of the sons of Merari.

16 And Shabbethai and Jozabad, of the chief of the Levites, had the oversight of the outward business of the house of God.

17 And Mattaniah the sonne of Micha, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Asaph, was the principall to begin the thanksgiving in prayer: and Bakbukiah the second among his brethren, and Abda the sonne of Shammua, the sonne of Galal, the sonne of Jeduthun.

18 All the Levites in the holy city, were two hundred fourscore and four.

19 Moreover the porters, Akkub, Talmon, and their brethren that kept the gates, were an hundred seventy and two.

20 And the residue of Israel, of the Priests, and the Levites, were in all the cities of Judah, every one in his inheritance.

21 But the Nethinims dwelt in Ophel: and Ziha, and Gispa were over the Nethinims.

22 The overseer also of the Levites at Jerusalem was Uzzi the sonne of Bani, the sonne of Hashabiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Micha. Of the sonnes of Asaph, the singers were over the business of the house of God.

23 For it was the Kings commandement concerning them, that a certain portion should be for the singers, due for every day.

24 And Pethahiah the son of Meshezabeel, of the children of Zerah the sonne of Judah, was at the Kings hand in all matters concerning the people.

25 And for the villages with their fields, some of the children of Judah dwelt at Kirjath-Arba, and in the villages thereof, and at Dibon, and in the villages thereof, and at Jekabzeel, and in the villages thereof:

26 And at Jeshua, and at Moladah, and at Beth-phelet, 27 And at Hazar-shual, and at Beer-sheba, and in the villages thereof;

28 And at Ziklag, and at Mekonah, and in the villages thereof:

29 And at En-Rimmon, and at Zareth, and at Jarmuth, 30 Zanoah, Adullam, and in their villages, at Lachish, and the fields thereof: at Azekah, and in the villages thereof. And they dwelt from Beer-sheba unto the valley of Hinnom.

31 The children also of Benjamin from Geba dwelt at Michmash, and Aija, and Bethel, and in their villages,

32 And at Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah,

33 Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim,

34 Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat,

35 Lod, and Ono, the valley of craftsmen.

36 And of the Levites, were divisions in Judah, and in Benjamin.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Priests, and the Levites which went up with Zerubbabel. 10 The succession of the high Priests. 22 certain chief Levites. 27 The solemnity of the dedication of the wall. 44 The offices of the Priests and Levites appointed in the Temple.

NOw these are the Priests and the Levites that went up with Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Jeshua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattush,

3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

4 Iddo, Ginnethoi, Abijah,

5 Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,

6 Shemaiah, and Joiarib, Jedaiah,

7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, Jedaiah. These were the chief of the Priests, and of their brethren, in the days of Jeshua.

8 Moreover the Levites: Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah, which was over the thanksgiving, he and his brethren.

9 Also Bakbukiah and Unni their brethren, were over against them in the watches.

10 And Jeshua begat Joiakim, Joiakim also begat Eliashib, and Eliashib begat Joiada, 11 And Joiada begat Jonathan, and Jonathan begat Jaddua.

12 And in the days of Joiakim were Priests, the chief of the fathers: of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah;

13 Of Ezra, Meshullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan;

14 Of Melicu, Jonathan; of Shebaniah, Joseph;

15 Of Harim, Adna; of Meraioth, Helkai;

16 Of Iddo, Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meshullam;

17 Of Abijah, Zichri; of Miniamin, of Moadiah, Piltai;

18 Of Bilgah, Shammua; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan;

19 And of Joiarib, Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi;

20 Of Sallai, Kallai; of Amok, Eber;

21 Of Hilkiah, Hashabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethaneel.

22 Of the Levites in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, were recorded chief of the fathers: also the Priests, to the reign of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Levi, the chief of the fathers, were written in the book of the Chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the sonne of Eliashib.

24 And the chief of the Levites: Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the sonne of Kadmiel, with their brethren over against them, to praise and to give thanks, according to the commandement of David the man of God, ward over against ward.

25 Mattaniah, Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward at the thresholds of the gates.

26 These were in the days of Joiakim the sonne of Jeshua, the sonne of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governour, and of Ezra the Priest, the scribe.

27 And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep the dedication with gladness, both with thanksgivings, and with singing, with cymbals, psalteries, and with harps.

28 And the sonnes of the singers gathered themselves together, both out of the plain country round about Jerusalem, and from the villages of Netophathi;

29 Also from the house of Gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba and Azmaveth: for the singers had builded them villages round about Jerusalem.

30 And the Priests and the Levites purified themselves, and purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 Then I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies of them that gave thanks, whereof one went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dung gate:

32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and the half of the princes of Judah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam,

34 Judah, and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,

35 And certain of the Priests sonnes with trumpets; to wit, Zechariah the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Micaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph:

36 And his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarael, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God, and Ezra the scribe before them.

37 And at the fountain gate, which was over against them, they went up by the stairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall, above the house of David, even unto the water gate eastward.

38 And the other company of them that gave thanks went over against them, and I after them, and the half of the people upon the wall, from beyond the tower of the furnaces even unto the broad wall,

39 And from above the gate of Ephraim, and by the old gate, and by the fish gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Meah, even unto the sheep gate: and they stood still in the prison gate.

40 So stood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the house of God, and I, and the half of the rulers with me:

41 And the Priests; Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets;

42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer. And the singers sang loud, with Jezrahiah their overseer.

43 Also that day they offered great sacrifices, and rejoiced: for God had made them rejoice with great joy: the wives also and the children rejoiced: so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard even afar off.

44 And at that time were some appointed over the chambers for the treasures, for the offerings, for the firstfruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions of the Law for the Priests and Levites: for Judah rejoiced for the Priests and for the Levites that waited.

45 And both the singers and the porters kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, according to the commandement of David, and of Solomon his son.

46 For in the days of David and Asaph of old there were chief of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God.

47 And all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers and the porters, every day his portion: and they sanctified holy things unto the Levites, and the Levites sanctified them unto the children of Aaron.

28 Of Iddo, Zechariah: Of Ginnethon, Meshullam:
29 Of Abijah, Zichri: of Miniamin, of Moadiah, Piltai:
30 Of Bilgah, Shammua: of Shemaiah, Jehonathan:
31 And of Joiarib, Mattenai of Jedaiah, Uzzi:
32 Of Sallai, Kallai: of Amok, Eber:
33 Of Hilkiah, Hashubiah: of Jedaiah, Nethaneel.
34 ¶ The Levites in the dayes of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, were recorded chief of the fathers: also the Priests, to the reign of Darius the Persian.
35 The sonnes of Levi, the chief of the fathers, were written in the book of the *Chronicles, even untill the dayes of Johanan the sonne of Eliashib.
36 And the chief of the Levites: Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the sonne of Kadmiel, with their brethren over against them, to praise, and to give thanks, according to the commandment of David the man of God, ward over against ward.
37 Mattaniah, and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward, at the ‖ thresholds of the gates.
38 These were in the dayes of Joiakim, the sonne of Jeshua, the sonne of Jozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the Governour, and of Ezra the Priest, the Scribe.
39 ¶ And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep the dedication with gladnesse, both with thanksgivings and with singings, with cymbals, psalteries, and with harps.
40 And the sonnes of the singers gathered themselves together, both out of the plain countrey round about Jerusalem, and from the villages of Netophathi.
41 Also from the house of Gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba and Azmaveth: for the singers had builded them villages round about Jerusalem.
42 And the Priests and the Levites purified themselves, and purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.
43 Then I brought up the Princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies of them that gave thanks, whereof one went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dongate:
44 And after them went Hoshaiah, and half of the Princes of Judah.
45 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam,
46 Judah and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,
47 And certain of the priests sons with trumpets, namely, Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the son of Asaph:
48 And his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarael, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaniel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musicall instruments of David the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe before them.
49 And at the fountain-gate, which was over against them, they went up by the staires of the city of David, at the going up of the wall, above the house of David, even unto ‖ water-gate, eastward.
50 And the other company of them that gave thanks, went over against them, and I after them, and the half of the people upon the wall, from beyond the tower of the furnaces, even unto the broad wall,
51 And from above the gate of Ephraim, and above the old gate, and above the fish-gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Meah, even unto the sheep-gate: and they stood still in the prison-gate.
52 So stood the two companies that gave thanks in the house of God, and I, and the half of the rulers with me.

54 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer. And the singers ‖ sang loud, with Jezrahiah their over-seer.
55 Also that day they offered great sacrifices, and rejoyced: for God had made them rejoyce with great joy: the wives also and the children rejoyced: so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard even afar off.
56 ¶ And at that time were some appointed over the chambers for the treasures, for the offerings, for the first-fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions of the ‖ Law for the Priests and Levites; † for Judah rejoyced for the Priests and for the Levites † that waited.
57 And both the singers and the porters kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, * according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his sonne.
58 For in the dayes of David and Asaph of old, there were chief of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God.
59 And all Israel in the dayes of Zerubbabel, and in the dayes of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers and the porters, every day in their order, and they ‖ sanctified holy things unto the Levites, * and the Levites sanctified them unto the children of Aaron.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Upon the reading of the Law separation is made from the mixed multitude. 4 Nehemiah returning, castsh the chamberin to Tobiah. He reformeth the offices in the house. 15 the violation of the Sabbath. 23 marriages with strange wives.

ON that day, † they read in the audience of Moses, in the † audience of the people; and therein was found written, that the Ammonite and the Moabite should not enter into the congregation of God for ever,
2 *Because they met not the children of Israel with bread, and with water, but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: howbeit our God turned the curse into a blessing.
3 Now it came to passe when they had heard the Law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitude.
4 ¶ And before this Eliashib the Priest having the over-sight of the chamber of the house of our God, was allied unto Tobiah:
5 And he had prepared for him a great chamber, where aforetime they laid the meat offering, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithes of the corn, the new wine, and the oyle, which was † commanded to be given to the Levites, and the singers, and the porters, and the offerings of the Priests.
6 But in all this time was not I at Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yeere of Artaxerxes king of Babylon came I unto the king, and after certain dayes ‖ obtained I leave of the king:
7 And I came to Jerusalem, and understood of the evill that Eliashib did for Tobiah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the house of God.
8 And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth …which out of the chambers…

…, and they cleansed the …chamber, 8 again the vessels
…with the meat-offering and

…perceived that the portions of the
…not been given them for the Levites
…that did the work, were fled every

…commanded I with the rulers, and said,
…house of God forsaken? And I gathe-
…together, and set them in their † place.
…brought all Judah the tithe of the
…the new wine, and the oil, unto the

…made treasurers over the treasuries,
…the Priest, and Zadok the Scribe, and …Levites, Pedaiah: and † next to them was
…Hanan the son of Zaccur, the sonne of Matta-
…for they were counted faithfull, and † their
…was to distribute unto their brethren.

…Remember me, O my God, concerning
…wipe not out my † good deeds, that I
…for the house of my God, and for the …thereof.

…In those dayes saw I in Judah, some tread-
…presses on the Sabbath, and bringing in …heaps, lading asses, as also wine, grapes, and …manner of burdens, which they brought …into Jerusalem on the Sabbath day: and I testified …against them in the day wherein they sold victuals.
…There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which …brought fish, and all manner of ware, and sold on …the Sabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Je…rusalem.

…Then I contended with the nobles of Judah,
…and said unto them, What evill thing is this that
…ye do, prophane the Sabbath day?
…Did not your fathers thus, and did not our …God bring all this evill upon us, and upon this …city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel, by …prophaning the Sabbath.
…And it came to passe that when the gates of …Jerusalem began to be dark before the Sabbath,
…I commanded that the gates should be shut, and …charged they should not be opened till after
…the Sabbath: and some of my servants set I at the …gates, that there should no burden be brought in
…on the Sabbath day.
…So the merchants, and sellers of all kinds of …ware lodged without Jerusalem once or twice.
…Then I testified against them, and said unto …them, Why lodge ye † about the wall? if ye do so …again, I will lay hands on you. From that time
…forth came they no more on the Sabbath.
…And I commanded the Levites, that they …should cleanse themselves, and that they should …come and keep the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath
…day: Remember me, O my God, concerning this …also, and spare me, according to the ‖ greatness
…of thy mercy.
…¶ In those dayes also saw I Jewes that † had …married wives of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab:
…And their children spake half in the speech
…of Ashdod, and † could not speak in the Jewes
…language, but according to the language † of each
…people.
…And I contended with them, and ‖ cursed
…them, and smote certain of them, and plucked off
…their hair, and made them sweare by God, saying, Ye …shall not give your daughters unto their …sonnes, nor take their daughters unto your sonnes,
…or for your selves.
…Did not Solomon King of Israel sinne by …these things? yet among many nations was there
…no King like him, who was beloved of his God,
…and God made him King over all Israel: * nevertheless …even him did outlandish women cause to
…sinne.
…Shall we then hearken unto you, to do all this …great evill, to transgresse against our God, in …marrying strange wives?
…And one of the sons of Joiada, the son of Eli-
…ashib the high Priest, was son in law to Sanballat
…the Horonite: therefore I chased him from me.
…Remember them, O my God, † because they …have defiled the Priesthood, and the Covenant of
…the Priesthood, and of the Levites.
…Thus cleansed I them from all strangers, and …appointed the wards of the Priests and the Le…vites, every one in his businesse;
…And for the wood offering, at times ap…pointed, and for the first fruits. Remember me,
…O my God, for good.

† Heb. good of countenance.

12 But the Queen Vashti refused to come at the Kings commandment † by his chamberlains: therefore was the King very wroth, and his anger burned in him.

† Heb. which was by the hand of his Eunuchs.

13 ¶ Then the King said to the wise men, which knew the times (for so was the Kings manner towards all that knew law and judgement:

14 And the next unto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven * Princes of Persia and Media, which saw the Kings face, and which sat the first in the kingdome.)

15 † What shall we do unto the Queen Vashti according to law, because she hath not performed the commandment of the King Ahasuerus, by the chamberlains?

16 And Memucan answered before the King, and the Princes; Vashti the queen hath not done wrong to the King only, but also to all the Princes, and to all the people that are in all the Provinces of the King Ahasuerus.

17 For this deed of the queen shall come abroad unto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their eyes, when it shall be reported, The King Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before him, but she came not.

† Heb. if it be pleasant to the King.

18 Likewise shall the ladies of Persia and Media say this day unto all the Kings Princes, which have heard of the deed of the queen. Thus shall there arise too much contempt and wrath.

† Heb. from before him.

19 ¶ If it please the King, let there go a royall commandment † from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians, and the Medes, † that it be not altered, that Vashti come no more before King Ahasuerus; and let the King give her royall estate unto another that is better then she.

21 And the saying pleased the King and the Princes, and the King did according to the word of Memucan:

22 For he sent letters into all the Kings Provinces, into every Province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man should bear rule in his own house, and † that it should be published according to the language of every people.

† Heb. that he should speak.

Chap. II.

1 That of the choice of virgins, queen in the room of Vashti.

5 That of Mordecai and Esther.

10 That Esther hid her people and kindred.

19 That Mordecai sate in the King's gate.

21 He discovereth treason against the King.

AFter these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerus was appeased, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 Then said the † King's servants that ministred unto him, Let there be fair young virgins sought for the King:

† Heb. young men.

3 And let the King appoint officers in all the Provinces of his kingdome, that they may gather together all the fair young virgins unto Shushan the palace, to the house of the women, unto the custody of † Hege the King's chamberlain, keeper of the women, and let their things be given them:

† Heb. Hegai.

4 And let the maiden which pleaseth the King be queen in stead of Vashti. And the thing pleased the King, and he did so.

5 ¶ Now in Shushan the palace there was a certain Jew, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite, 6 * Who had been carried away from Jerusalem, with the captivity which had been carried away with Jeconiah King of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar † king of Babylon had carried away.

† Heb. which was carried away.

7 And he † brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther his uncles daughter, for she had neither father nor mother, and the maid was † fair and beautiful; whom Mordecai (when her father and mother were dead) took for his own daughter.

† Heb. beautiful of form.

8 ¶ So it came to pass, when the commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shushan the palace, to the custody of Hegai, that Esther was brought also into the King's house, to the custodie of Hegai keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindnesse of him; and he speedily gave her her things for purification, with such things as belonged to her, and seven maidens, which were meet to be given her, out of the King's house: and he preferred her and her maids unto the best place of the house of the women.

10 Esther had not shewed her people nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her that she should not shew it.

11 And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the womens house, to know how Esther did, and what should become of her.

12 ¶ Now when every maid's turn was come to go in to King Ahasuerus, after that she had been twelve moneths, according to the manner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, to wit, six moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and six moneths with sweet odours, and with other things for the purifying of the women);

13 Then thus came every maiden unto the King; whatsoever she desired was given her to go with her out of the house of the women unto the house of the King.

14 In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women, to the custody of Shaashgaz the King's chamberlain, which kept the concubines: she came in unto the King no more, except the King delighted in her, and that she were called by name.

15 ¶ Now when the turn of Esther the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her for his daughter, was come to go in unto the King, she required nothing but what Hegai the King's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, appointed. And Esther obtained favour in the sight of all them that looked upon her.

16 So Esther was taken unto King Ahasuerus into his house royall in the tenth moneth, which is the moneth Tebeth, in the seventh yeare of his reign.

17 And the King loved Esther above all the women, and she obtained grace and favour in his sight more than all the virgins; so that he set the royall crown upon her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti.

18 Then the King made a great

10. Then spake the King's scribes called the thirteenth day of the first month, and according to all that Haman had commanded, unto the King's lieutenants, and the governors that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province, according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, in the name of King Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the King's ring.

13 And the letters were sent by posts into all the king's provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, (that is the month Adar) and to take the spoil of them for a prey.

14 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province was published unto all people, that they should be ready against that day.

15 The posts went out, being hastened by the king's commandment, and the decree was given in Shushan the palace, and the king and Haman sate down to drink, but the city Shushan was perplexed.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The grief and lamentation of Mordecai and the Jews.
4 Esther sendeth to know the cause of his mourning.
6 Hatach is sent unto him. 8 He declareth unto him the decree. 13 Mordecai exhorteth her to go in unto the King. 15 She appointeth a fast. 17 Mordecai doeth according to her commandment.

WHen Mordecai perceived all that was done,
Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and cried with a loud and a bitter cry; 2 And came even before the King's gate: for none might enter into the King's gate clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in every province whithersoever the King's commandment and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and wailing; and many lay in sackcloth and ashes.

4 So Esther's maids and her chamberlains came and told it her. Then was the Queen exceedingly grieved; and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him: but he received it not.

5 Then called Esther for Hatach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and gave him a commandment to Mordecai, to know what it was, and why he was thus.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai unto the street of the city, which was before the king's gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and of the sum of the money that Haman had promised to pay to the king's treasuries for the Jews, to destroy them.

8 Also he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree that was given at Shushan to destroy them, to shew it unto Esther, and to declare it unto her, and to charge her that she should go in unto the king, to make request before him, and to plead before him for her people.

9 And Hatach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai.

10 Then Esther spake unto Hatach, and gave him commandment unto Mordecai;

11 All the king's servants, and the people of the king's provinces do know, that whosoever, man or woman, shall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his one law of his to put him to death, save that to whom the king shall hold out the golden sceptre, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the King these thirty dayes.

12 And they told to Mordecai Hathachs words.

13 Then Mordecai commanded to answer Esther, Think not with thy self that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Jews.

14 For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall there † enlargement and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall be destroyed: And who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for such a time as this?

† Heb. respiration.

15 ¶ Then Esther bade them return Mordecai this answer:

16 Go, gather together all the Jews that are † present in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three dayes, night or day: I also and my maidens will fast likewise, and so will I go in unto the King, which is not according to the law, and if I perish, I perish.

† Heb. found.

17 So Mordecai † went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

† Heb. passed.

CHAP. V.

1 Esther adventuring on the Kings favour, obtaineth the grace of the golden sceptre, and inviteth the King and Haman to a banket. 6 She being encouraged by the King in her suit, inviteth them to another banquet the next day. 9 Haman proud of his advancement, repineth at the contempt of Mordecai. 14 By the counsel of Zeresh, he maketh for him a paire of gallows.

NOw it came to passe on the third day, that Esther put on her royall apparell, and stood in the inner court of the kings house, over against the Kings house, and the king sate upon his royall throne in the royall house, over against the gate of the house.

2 And it was so when the King saw Esther the queen standing in the court, that she obtained favour in his sight: and the king held out to Esther the golden sceptre that was in his hand: so Esther drew neer, and touched the top of the sceptre.

3 Then said the king unto her, What wilt thou queen Esther? and what is thy request? It shall be even given thee to the half of the kingdome.

4 And Esther answered, If it seem good unto the King, let the King and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him.

5 Then the King said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may do as Esther hath said: So the King and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 ¶ And the King said unto Esther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, and it shall be granted thee? and what is thy request? even to the half of the kingdome it shall be performed.

7 Then answered Esther, and said, My petition and my request is;

8 If I have found favour in the sight of the King, and if it please the King to grant my petition, and † to perform my request, let the King and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do to morrow as the King hath said.

† Heb. & do.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth that day, joyfull and with a glad heart: but when Haman saw Mordecai in the Kings gate, that he stood not up nor moved for him, he was full of indignation against Mordecai.

10 Nevertheless Haman refrained himself, and when he came home, he sent and † called for his friends and Zeresh his wife.

† Heb. stayed himself.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the King.

12 Haman said moreover, Yea, Esther the queen did let no man come in with the King unto the banquet that she had prepared but myself; and to morrow am I invited unto her also with the King.

13 Yet all this availeth me nothing, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the kings gate.

14 ¶ Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends unto him, Let a † gallows be made of fifty cubits high, and to morrow speak thou unto the king that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the King unto the banquet. And † the thing pleased Haman; and he caused the gallows to be made.

† Heb. tree.

CHAP. VI.

1 Ahasuerus reading in the Chronicles the service done by Mordecai, asketh what reward. 4 Haman coming to be hanged, mistaketh the matter, thinking he might do him honour. 13 His wife foretelleth his misfortune, his friends their destiny.

ON that night † could not the King sleep, and he commanded to bring the book of the records of the Chronicles, and they were read before the King.

† Heb. passed.

2 And it was found written, that Mordecai told of † Bigthana and Teresh, two of the kings chamberlains, the keepers of the door, who sought to lay hand on the King Ahasuerus.

3 And the king said, What honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai for this? Then said the kings servants that ministred unto him, There is nothing done for him.

4 ¶ And the king said, Who is in the court? Now Haman was come into the outward court of the kings house, to speak unto the King that he would hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.

5 And the Kings servants said unto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the King said, Let him come in.

6 So Haman came in, and the King said unto him, What shall be done unto the man whom the King delighteth to honour? Now Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the King delight to do honour more than to myself?

7 And Haman answered the King, For the man † whom the King delighteth to honour,

8 † Let the royall apparell be brought which the King useth to wear, and the horse that the King rideth upon, and the crown royall which is set upon his head:

9 And let this apparell and horse be delivered to the hand of one of the kings most noble Princes, that they may array the man withall whom the King delighteth to honour, and bring him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the King delighteth to honour.

10 Then the King said to Haman, Make haste, and take the apparell and the horse, as thou hast said, and do even so to Mordecai the Jew that sitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing fail of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then took Haman the apparell and the horse, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

12 ¶ And Mordecai came

…fled to his house mourning…
…covered.
…told Zeresh his wife and all his …every thing that had befallen him. Then …said unto Zeresh his wife unto him, If
…be of the seed of the Jews, before whom …begun to fall, thou shalt not prevail
…him, but shalt surely fall before him.
…And while they were yet talking with him,
…the kings chamberlains, and hasted to bring …unto the banquet that Esther had pre…pared.

CHAP. VII.

Esther maketh known the king and Haman, maketh suit for her own life, and her peoples. 5 She accuseth Haman. 7 The King in his anger, understanding of the gallows which Haman had made for Mordecai, causeth him to be hanged thereon.

So the King and Haman came † to banquet …with Esther the Queen.
2 And the King said again unto Esther on the …second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy
…petition Queen Esther, and it shall be granted
…thee? and what is thy request? and it shall be …performed, even to the half of the kingdome.
3 Then Esther the Queen answered, and said,
…If I have found favour in thy sight, O King, and …if it please the King, let my life be given me at …my petition, and my people at my request.
4 For we are sold, I, and my people, † to be …destroyed, to be slain, and to perish: but if we …had been sold for bond-men, and bond-women,
…I had held my tongue, although the enemy could …not countervail the Kings damage.
5 ¶ Then the King Ahasuerus answered, & said …unto Esther the Queen; Who is he? and where is
…he that durst presume in his heart to do so?
6 And Esther said, † The adversary and …enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was …afraid before the King and the Queen.
7 And the King arising from the banquet of …wine in his wrath, went into the palace garden:
…and Haman stood up to make request for his life
…unto the Queen: for he saw that there was …an evil determined against him by the King.
8 Then the King returned out of the palace …garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and …Haman was fallen upon the bed whereon Esther
…was. Then said the King, will he force the Queen
…also before me in the house? As the word went …out of the Kings mouth, they covered Hamans
…face.
9 And Harbonah one of the chamberlains, said
…before the King, Behold also the † gallows, fifty
…cubits high, which Haman had made for Morde-…cai, who had spoken good for the King, standeth
…in the house of Haman. Then the King said, Hang …him thereon.
10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that …he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the …wrath of the King pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

Mordecai is advanced. 3 Esther maketh suit against Hamans letters. 7 Ahasuerus granteth the Jews to defend themselves. 15 Mordecai honoured, and the Jews joy.

On that day did the King Ahasuerus give the …house of Haman the Jews enemy, unto Esther
…the Queen. And Mordecai came before the King;
…for Esther had told what he was unto her.
2 And the King took off his ring which he had …taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai.
…And Esther set Mordecai over § house of Haman.
3 And Esther spake yet again before the …King, and fell down at his feet, and besought
…him with tears to put away the mischief of Ha-
…man the Agagite, and his device that he had de…vised against the Jews.
4 Then the King held out the golden sceptre …toward Esther. So Esther arose, and stood before
…the King,
5 And said, If it please the King, and if I have …found favour in his sight, and the thing seem right
…before the King, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let …it be written to reverse † the letters devised by
…Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite,
…which he wrote to destroy the Jews, which are
…in all the Kings provinces.
6 For how can I † endure to see the evil that …shall come unto my people? or how can I endure
…to see the destruction of my kinred?
7 ¶ Then the King Ahasuerus said unto Esther
…the Queen, and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I …have given Esther the house of Haman, and him
…they have hanged upon the gallows, because he …laid his hand upon the Jews.
8 Write ye also for the Jews as it liketh you,
…in the Kings name, and seal it with the Kings
…ring: for the writing which is written in the …Kings name, and sealed with the Kings ring,
…* may no man reverse.
9 Then were the Kings Scribes called at that …time, in the third moneth, (that is the moneth Si…van) on the three and twentieth day thereof, and …it was written (according to all that Mordecai …commanded) unto the Jews, and to the lieutenants,
…and the deputies, & rulers of the provinces which …are from India unto Ethiopia, an hundred twenty
…and seven provinces, unto every province accord…ing to the writing thereof, and unto every people
…after their language, and to the Jews according …to their writing, and according to their language.
10 And he wrote in the King Ahasuerus name,
…and sealed it with the Kings ring, and sent letters
…by posts on horseback, and riders on mules, camels,
…and young dromedaries:
11 Wherein the King granted the Jews, which …were in every city, to gather themselves together,
…and to stand for their life, to destroy, to slay, and
…to cause to perish all the power of the people and …province that would assault them, both little …ones and women, and to take the spoil of them
…for a prey:
12 Upon one day, in all the provinces of King
…Ahasuerus, namely upon the thirteenth day of the …twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.
13 The copy of the writing for a commande…ment to be given in every province, was † pub…lished unto all people, and that the Jews should …be ready against that day to avenge themselves on …their enemies.
14 So the posts that rode upon mules and camels …went out, being hastened and pressed on by the …Kings commandment, and the decree was given at …Shushan the palace.
15 ¶ And Mordecai went out from the pre…sence of the King in royall apparell of blue …and white, and with a great crown of gold, and …with a garment of fine linnen, and purple: and the …city of Shushan rejoyced, and was glad.
16 The Jews had light and gladnesse, and joy …and honour.
17 And in every province, and in every city,
…whithersoever the Kings commandement and his …decree came, the Jews had joy and gladnesse, a …feast and a good day. And many of the people of …the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews
…fell upon them.

NOw in the twelfth moneth (that is the moneth Adar) on the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings commandement & his decree drew neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to have power over them (which it was turned to the contrary, that the Iewes had rule over them that hated them)

2 The Iewes gathered themselves together in their cities, throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt, and no man could withstand them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the lieutenants, and the deputies, and ‖ officers of the kings, helped the Iewes: because the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and his fame went out through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater & greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And in Shushan the palace, the Iewes slew and destroyed five hundred men.

7 And Parshandatha, & Dalphon, and Aspatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vaizatha.

10 The ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Iewes slew they, but on the spoil laid they not their hand.

11 On that day the number of those that were slaine in Shushan the palace, was brought before the King.

12 And the King said vnto Esther the Queene, The Iewes have slain and destroyed five hundred men in Shushan the palace, and the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? now what is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: or what is thy request further? and it shall be done.

13 Then said Esther, If it please the King, Let it be granted to the Iewes which are in Shushan, to do to morrow also according vnto this dayes decree: and let Hamans ten sonnes be ‖ hanged vpon the gallowes.

14 And the King commanded it so to be done: and the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 For the Iewes that were in Shushan, gathered themselues together on the fourteenth day also of the moneth Adar, and slew three hundred men at Shushan: but on ‖ prey they laid not their hand.

16 But the other Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces, gathered themselues together, & stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of their foes seuentie and fiue thousand: but they laid not their hands on the prey.

17 On the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the same, rested they, and made it a day of feasting and gladnesse.

18 But the Iewes that were at Shushan assembled together on the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth thereof; and on the fifteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladnesse.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages, that dwelt in the vnwalled townes, made the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar a ioyfull day and a good one, and of sending portions one to another.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were in all the prouinces of the King Ahasuerus, both nigh and far,

21 To establish this among them, that they should keep the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same yeere, 22 As the dayes wherein the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them, from sorrow to ioy, and from mourning into a good day: that they should make them dayes of feasting and ioy, and of sending portions one to another, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Iewes vndertooke to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of all the Iewes, had deuised against the Iewes to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is, the lot) to consume them, and to destroy them.

25 But when Esther came before the King, he commanded by letters, that his wicked deuice which he deuised against the Iewes, should return vpon his own head, and that he and his sonnes should be hanged on the gallowes.

26 Wherefore they called these dayes Purim after the name of ‖ Pur: therefore according to all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seene concerning this matter, and which had come vnto them,

27 The Iewes ordained, & tooke vpon them, and vpon their seed, and vpon all such as ioyned themselues vnto them, so as it should not faile, that they would keep these two dayes according to their writing, and according to their appointed time, euery yeere;

28 And that these dayes should be remembred and kept throughout euery generation, euery family, euery prouince, and euery citie: and that these dayes of Purim should not faile from among the Iewes, nor the memoriall of them ‖ perish from their seed.

29 Then Esther the Queene, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Iewe, wrote with all authoritie, to confirme this second letter of Purim.

30 And he sent the letters vnto all the Iewes, to the hundred twentie and seuen prouinces of the kingdome of Ahasuerus, with words of peace and truth, 31 To confirme these dayes of Purim in their appointed seasons, according as Mordecai the Iewe and Esther the Queene had enioyned them, and as they had decreed ‖ for themselues and for their seed, the matters of the fastings and their crie.

32 And the decree of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim, and it was written in the booke.

CHAP. X.

1 Ahasuerus his greatnesse.

AND the King Ahasuerus laid a tribute vpon the land, and vpon the ‖ yles of the sea.

2 And all the acts of his power and of his might, and the declaration of the greatnesse of Mordecai, whereunto the King aduanced him, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Media and Persia?

3 For Mordecai the Iewe was next vnto King Ahasuerus, and great among the Iewes, and accepted of the multitude of his brethren, seeking the wealth of his people, and speaking peace to all his seed.

¶ THE BOOK OF JOB.

CHAP. I.

1 The holiness, riches, & religious care of Job for his children. 6 Satan appearing before God by permission obtaineth leave to tempt Job. 13 Understanding of the loss of his goods and children, he in mourning be blesseth God.

THere was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job, and that man was * perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil.

2 And there were born unto him seven sons and three daughters.

3 His substance also was seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she-asses, and a very great household: so that this man was the greatest of all the † men of the East.

4 And his sons went and feasted in their houses, every man his day, and sent and called for their three sisters, to eat and to drink with them.

5 And it was so, when the dayes of their feasting were gone about, that Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all: for Job said, It may be that my sons have sinned, and * cursed God in their hearts: thus did Job † continually.

6 ¶ Now there was a day when the sonnes of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and † Satan came also † among them.

7 And the LORD said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the * earth, and from walking up and down in it.

8 And the LORD said unto Satan, † Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eschueth evil?

9 Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, Doth Job fear God for nought?

10 Hast not thou made an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath on every side? thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But put forth thine hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will curse thee to thy face.

12 And the LORD said unto Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy † power; only upon himself put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD.

13 ¶ And there was a day when his sonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house:

14 And there came a messenger unto Job, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them:

15 And the Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away; yea, they have slain the servants with the edge of the sword; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burnt up the sheep, and the servants, and consumed them; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The Chaldeans made out three companies, and fell upon the camels, and have carried them away, yea, and slain the servants with the edge of the sword; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, Thy sons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house:

19 And, behold, there came a great wind † from the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the young men, and they are dead; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Job arose, and rent his † mantle, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And said, * Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the LORD gave, and the LORD hath taken away; blessed be the Name of the LORD.

22 In all this Job sinned not, nor † charged God foolishly.

CHAP. II.

1 Satan appearing again before God, obtaineth further leave to tempt Job. 7 He smiteth him with sore boils. 9 Job reproveth his wife, mocking him to curse God. 11 His three friends comfort with him in silence.

AGain there was a day when the sonnes of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan came also among them to present himself before the LORD.

2 And the LORD said unto Satan, From whence comest thou? * And Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

3 * And the LORD said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eschueth evil? and still he holdeth fast his integrity, although thou movedst me against him, † to destroy him without cause.

4 And Satan answered the LORD, and said, Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life.

5 But put forth thine hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse thee to thy face.

6 And the LORD said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand; † but save his life.

7 ¶ So went Satan forth from the presence of the LORD, and smote Job with sore boils, from the sole of his foot unto his crown.

8 And he took him a potsherd to scrape himself withall; and he sat down among the ashes.

9 ¶ Then said his wife unto him, Dost thou still retain thine integrity? Curse God, and die.

10 But he said unto her, Thou speakest as one of the foolish women speaketh: what? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil? In all this did not Job sin with his lips.

11 ¶ Now when Job's three friends heard of all this evill that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place; † Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite; for they had made an appointment together to come to mourn with him, and to comfort him.

12 And when they lift up their eyes afarre off,

[illegible] they [illegible] and [illegible] and spirit went out of their mouth: and spirituall ones upon their heads toward heaven.

13 So they sate down with him upon the ground seven dayes, and seven nights, and none spake a word unto him: for they saw that his grief was very great.

CHAP. III.

1 Job curseth the day and wisheth of his birth. 3 The vain of death. 20 He complaineth of life, because of his anguish.

1 After this opened Job his mouth, and cursed his day.

2 And Job † spake, and said,

3 * Let the day perish wherein I was born, and the night in which it was said, There is a man childe conceived.

4 Let that day be darkenesse, let not God regard it from above, neither let the light shine upon it.

5 Let darkenesse and the shadow of death ‖ stain it; let a cloud dwell upon it; ‖ let the blackenesse of the day terrifie it.

6 As for that night, let darkenesse seize upon it, ‖ let it not be joyned unto the dayes of the yeer, let it not come into the number of the moneths.

7 Lo, let that night be solitary, let no joyfull voice come therein.

8 Let them curse it that curse the day, who are ready to raise up ‖ their mourning.

9 Let the Starres of the twilight thereof be dark; let it look for light, but have none; neither let it see the dawning of the day:

10 Because it shut not up the doors of my mothers wombe, nor hid sorrow from mine eyes.

11 Why died I not from the wombe? why did I not give up the ghost when I came out of the belly?

12 Why did the knees prevent me? or why the breasts, that I should suck?

13 For now should I have lien still, and been quiet, I should have slept; then had I been at rest, 14 With Kings and Counsellors of the earth, which built desolate places for themselves;

15 Or with Princes that had gold, who filled their houses with silver:

16 Or as an hidden untimely birth, I had not been; as infants which never saw light.

17 There the wicked cease from troubling; and there the † weary be at rest.

18 There the prisoners rest together; they hear not the voice of the oppressour.

19 The small and great are there; and the servant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is light given to him that is in misery, and life unto the bitter in soul?

21 Which † long for death, but it cometh not,
and dig for it more than for hid treasures;

22 Which rejoice exceedingly, and are glad when they can find the grave?

23 Why is light given to a man whose way is hid, † and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my sighing cometh † before I eat, and my roarings are poured out like the waters.

25 For † the thing which I greatly feared is come upon me, and that which I was afraid of is come unto me.

26 I was not in safety, neither had I rest, neither was I quiet; yet trouble came.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Eliphaz reproveth Job for want of religion. 7 He teacheth that no innocent man perished. 12 His vision, wherein the imperfection of man is set forth.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,

2 If we assay † to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but † who can withhold himself from speaking?

3 Behold, thou hast instructed many, and thou hast strengthened the weak hands.

4 Thy words have upholden him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened † the feeble knees.

5 But now it is come upon thee, and thou faintest; it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy fear, thy confidence, the uprightnesse of thy wayes, and thy hope?

7 Remember, I pray thee, whoever perished, being innocent? or where were the righteous cut off?

8 * Even as I have seen, they that plow iniquity, and sowe wickednesse, reap the same.

9 By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of his ‖ nostrils are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the Lion, and the voice of the fierce Lion, and the teeth of the stout Lions, are broken.

11 The old Lion perisheth for lack of prey, and the stout Lions whelps are scattered abroad.

12 Now a thing was † secretly brought to me, and mine eare received a little thereof.

13 In thoughts from the visions of the night, when deep sleep falleth on men,

14 Fear † came upon me, and trembling, which made † all my bones to shake.

15 Then a spirit passed before my face; the hair of my flesh stood up:

16 It stood still, but I could not discern the form thereof: an image was before mine eyes, there was silence, and I heard a voice, saying,

17 Shall mortall man be more just than God?
shall a man be more pure than his maker?

18 Behold, he * put no trust in his servants;
‖ and his Angels he charged with folly:

19 How much more they which dwell in houses
* of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which are crushed before the moth?

20 They are destroyed from morning to evening: they perish for ever without any regarding it.

21 Doth not their excellency which is in them go away? they die, even without wisdom.

CHAP. V.

1 The losse of sinners is more than their substance. 6 God is to be sought unto in affliction. 17 The happy estate of him whom God correcteth.

1 Call now, if there be any that will answer thee; and to which of the holy ones wilt thou ‖ turn?

2 For wrath killeth the foolish man, and envie slayeth the silly one.

3 I have seen the foolish taking root: but suddenly I cursed his habitation.

4 His children are farre from safety, and they are crushed in the gate, neither is there any ‖ deliverer among them.

5 Whose harvest the hungry eateth up, and taketh it even out of the thornes, and the robber swalloweth up their substance.

6 Although ‖ affliction doth not come forth of the dust, neither doth trouble spring out of the ground;

7 Yet man is born unto trouble, as the sparks fly upward.

8 I would seek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cause:

…disappointeth the devices of the craf-
…so that their hands ‖ cannot perform their en-
…taketh the wise in their own craftiness: and the counsell of the froward is carried headlong.
14 * They ‖ meet with darkenesse in the day time, and grope in the noon day as in the night.
15 But he saveth the poor from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the mighty.
16 * So the poor hath hope, and iniquity stoppeth her mouth.
17 * Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty.
18 * For he maketh sore, and bindeth up: he woundeth, and his hands make whole.
19 * He shall deliver thee in six troubles: yea, in seven there shall no evill touch thee.
20 In famine he shall redeem thee from death: and in warre from the † power of the sword.
21 Thou shalt be hid ‖ from the scourge of the tongue: neither shalt thou be afraid of destruction when it cometh.
22 At destruction and famine thou shalt laugh: neither shalt thou be afraid of the beasts of the …
23 * For thou shalt be in league with the stones of the field: and the beasts of the field shalbe at peace with thee.
24 And thou shalt know that thy ‖ tabernacle is in peace; and thou shalt visit thy habitation, and shalt not ‖ sinne.
25 Thou shalt know also that thy seed shalbe …, and thine off-spring as the grasse of the …
26 Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, … a shock of corn † cometh in his season.
27 Lo this, we have searched it: so it is: hear it, … thou it † for thy good.

… Heb. after these. † Heb. after her. Heb. for thy soule.

CHAP. VI.

Iob answereth that his complaints are not causeless. 8 He wisheth for death, wherein he is assured of comfort. 14 He reproveth his friends of unkindness.

1 Then Iob answered and said,
2 Oh, that my grief were throughly weighed, and my calamity † laid in the balances together!
3 For now it would be heavier then the sand of the sea: therefore my words are ‖ swallowed up.
4 For the arrowes of the Almighty are within me, the poison whereof drinketh up my spirit: the terrours of God do set themselves in array against me.
5 Doth the wilde asse bray † when he hath grasse? or loweth the ox over his fodder?
6 Can that which is unsavoury be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?
7 The things that my soul refuseth to touch, are as my sorrowfull meat.
8 Oh that I might have my request! and that God would grant me † the thing that I long for!
9 Even that it would please God to destroy me; that he would let loose his hand, and cut me off!
10 Then should I yet have comfort, yea, I would harden myself in sorrow: let him not spare; for I have not concealed the words of the Holy One.
11 What is my strength, that I should hope? and what is my end, that I should prolong my life?
12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?
13 Is not my help in me? and is wisdome driven quite from me?
14 † To him that is afflicted pity should be shewed from his friend; but he forsaketh the fear of the Almighty.
15 My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook, and as the streame of brooks they passe away, 16 Which are blackish by reason of the yce, and wherein the snow is hid:
17 What time they waxe warme, they vanish: † when it is hot, they are † consumed out of their place.
18 The paths of their way are turned aside; they go to nothing, and perish.
19 The troops of Tema looked, the companies of Sheba waited for them.
20 They were confounded because they had hoped: they came thither, and were ashamed.
21 ‖ For now ye are nothing; ye see my casting down, and are afraid.
22 Did I say, Bring unto me? or, Give a reward for me of your substance?
23 Or, Deliver me from the enemies hand? or, Redeem me from the hand of the mighty?
24 Teach me, and I will hold my tongue: and cause me to understand wherein I have erred.
25 How forcible are right words! but what doth your arguing reprove?
26 Do ye imagine to reprove words, and the speeches of one that is desperate, which are as winde?
27 Yea, † ye overwhelm the fatherlesse, and you dig a pit for your friend.
28 Now therefore be content, look upon me; for it is † evident unto you, if I lie.
29 Return, I pray you, let it not be iniquity; yea, return again: my righteousnesse is in it.
30 Is there iniquity in my tongue? cannot my taste discern perverse things?

CHAP. VII.

1 Iob sheweth his desire of death. 12 He complaineth of his own restlesse state. 17 And of Gods watchfulnesse.

1 Is there not ‖ an appointed time to man upon earth? are not his dayes also like the dayes of an hireling?
2 As a servant † earnestly desireth the shadow, and as an hireling looketh for the reward of his work:
3 So am I made to possesse months of vanity, and wearisome nights are appointed to me.
4 When I lie down, I say, When shall I arise, and the night be gone? and I am full of tossings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.
5 My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust; my skin is broken, and become loathsome.
6 My dayes are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and are spent without hope.
7 O remember that my life is † wind: mine eye shall no more ‖ see good.
8 The eye of him that hath seen me shall see me no more: † thine eyes are upon me, and I am not.
9 As the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away: so he that goeth down to the grave shall come up no more.
10 He shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.

13 When I say, My bed shall comfort me: my couch shall ease my complaint:

14 Then thou scarrest me with dreames, and terrifiest me through visions.

15 So that my soul chooseth strangling: and death rather † than my life.

16 I loath it, I would not live alway: let me alone, for my daies are vanity.

17 * What is man that thou shouldest magnifie him? and that thou shouldest set thine heart upon him?

18 And that thou shouldest visit him every morning, and try him every moment?

19 How long wilt thou not depart from me? nor let me alone till I swallow downe my spittle?

20 I have sinned, what shall I do unto thee, O thou preserver of men? why hast thou set me as a mark against thee, so that I am a burden to my self?

21 And why doest thou not pardon my transgression, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleep in the dust, and thou shalt seek me in the morning, but I shall not be.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth Gods justice in dealing with men according to their works. 8 He alledgeth antiquity to prove the certain destruction of the hypocrite. 20 He applieth Gods just dealing to Job.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 How long wilt thou speak these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be like a strong winde?

3 * Doth God pervert judgement? or doth the Almighty pervert justice?

4 If thy children have sinned against him, and he have cast them away † for their transgression:

5 * If thou wouldest seek unto God betimes, and make thy supplication to the Almighty:

6 If thou were pure and upright, surely now he would awake for thee, and make the habitation of thy righteousnesse prosperous.

7 Though thy beginning was small, yet thy latter end should greatly increase.

8 * For enquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy self to the search of their fathers:

9 (For * we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, because our dayes upon earth are a shadow:)

10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, and utter words out of their heart?

11 Can the flag grow up without mire? can the rush grow without water?

12 Whilest it is yet in his greennesse, and not cut downe, it withereth before any other herb.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the * hypocrites hope shall perish:

14 Whose hope shall be cut off, and whose trust shall be † a spiders web.

15 He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure.

16 He is green before the Sunne, and his branch shooteth forth in his garden.

17 His roots are wrapped about the heap, and seeth the place of stones.

18 If he destroy him from his place, then it shall deny him, saying, I have not seen thee.

19 Behold, this is the joy of his way, and out of the earth shall others grow.

20 Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will he † help the evill doers:

21 Till he fill thy mouth with laughing, and thy lips with † rejoycing.

22 They that hate thee shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling place of the wicked † shall come to nought.

CHAP. IX.

1 Job acknowledging Gods justice, sheweth it to be contrarie with him. 22 Man cannot be cleansed by affliction.

THen Job answered, and said,

2 I know it is so of a truth: but how should * man be just † with God?

3 If he will contend with him, he cannot answer him one of a thousand.

4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath hardned himself against him, and prospered?

5 Which removeth the mountains, and they know not: which overturneth them in his anger.

6 Which shaketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble:

7 Which commandeth the Sunne, and it riseth not: and sealeth up the Starres.

8 * Which alone spreadeth out the heavens, and treadeth upon the † waves of the Sea.

9 * Which maketh † Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south.

10 * Which doth great things past finding out, yea, and wonders without number.

11 Lo, he goeth by me, and I see him not: he passeth on also, but I perceive him not.

12 * Behold, he taketh away, † who can hinder him? who will say unto him, What doest thou?

13 If God will not withdraw his anger, the † proud helpers do stoop under him.

14 How much lesse shall I answer him, and chuse out my words to reason with him?

15 Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not answer, but I would make supplication to my Judge.

16 If I had called, and he had answered me, yet would I not believe that he had hearkened unto my voice:

17 For he breaketh me with a tempest, and multiplieth my wounds without cause.

18 He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse.

19 If I speak of strength, lo, he is strong: and if of judgement, who shall set me a time to plead?

20 If I justifie my self, mine own mouth shall condemne me: If I say, I am perfect, it shall also prove me perverse.

21 Though I were perfect, yet would I not know my soul: I would despise my life.

22 This is one thing, therefore I said it, he destroyeth the perfect and the wicked.

23 If the scourge slay suddenly, he will laugh at the triall of the innocent.

24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: he covereth the faces of the Judges thereof: if not, where, and who is he?

25 Now my daies are swifter than a post: they flee away, they see no good.

26 They are passed away as the † swift ships: as the Eagle that hasteth to the prey.

27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my heavinesse, and comfort my face:

28 I am afraid of all my sorrows, I know that thou wilt not hold me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why then labour I in vain?

30 If I wash my self with snow water, and make my hands never so clean;

31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the ditch, and mine own clothes shall abhorre me.

32 For he is not a man, as I am, that I should answer him, and we should come together in judgement.

...rehend him, and we should come together in judgement.

33 Neither is there † any ‖ dayes-man betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear terrifie me:

35 Then would I speak, and not fear him; † but it is not so with me.

CHAP. X.

1 Job taking liberty of complaint, expostulateth with God about his afflictions. 18 He complaineth of life, and craveth a little ease before death.

MY soul is ‖ weary of my life, I will leave my complaint upon my self, I will speak in the bitternesse of my soul.

2 I will say unto God, Do not condemn me, shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Is it good unto thee, that thou shouldest oppresse? that thou shouldest despise † the work of thine hands, and shine upon the counsell of the wicked?

4 Hast thou eyes of flesh? or seest thou as man seeth?

5 Are thy dayes as the dayes of man? are thy yeers as mans dayes,

6 That thou enquirest after mine iniquity, and searchest after my sinne?

7 † Thou knowest that I am not wicked, and there is none that can deliver out of thine hand.

8 Thine hands † have made me, and fashioned me together round about, yet thou dost destroy me.

9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast made me as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust again?

10 * Hast thou not powred me out as milk, and curdled me like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and hast † fenced me with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast granted me life, and favour, and thy visitation hath preserved my spirit.

13 And these things hast thou hid in thine heart; I know that this is with thee.

14 If I sinne, then thou markest me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.

15 If I be wicked, wo unto me; and if I be righteous, yet will I not lift up my head? † I am full of confusion, therefore see thou mine affliction;

16 For it increaseth: thou huntest me as a fierce lion: and again thou shewest thy self marvellous upon me:

17 Thou renewest thy ‖ witnesses against me, and increasest thine indignation upon me: changes and warre are against me.

18 * Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the wombe? Oh that I had given up the ghost, and no eye had seen me!

19 I should have been as though I had not been; I should have been carried from the wombe to the grave.

20 ‖ Are not my dayes few? cease then, and let me alone, that I may take comfort a little,

21 Before I go whence I shall not return, even to the land of darknesse and the shadow of death;

22 A land of darknesse, as darknesse it self; and of the shadow of death, without any order, and where the light is as darknesse.

CHAP. XI.

1 Zophar reproveth him for multiplying words. 5 He exhorteth him to repentance. 13 The assurance of which. 20 The miserable estate of the wicked.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? and should † a man full of talk be justified?

3 Should thy ‖ lies make men hold their peace? and when thou mockest, shall no man make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, My doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.

5 But, O that God would speak, and open his lips against thee,

6 And that he would shew thee the secrets of wisdome, that they are double to that which is! know therefore that God exacteth of thee less than thine iniquity deserveth.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?

8 It is † as high as heaven, what canst thou do? deeper than hell, what canst thou know?

9 The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea.

10 If he ‖ cut off, and shut up, or gather together, then † who can hinder him?

11 For he knoweth vain men: he seeth wickednesse also, will he not then consider it?

12 For † vain man would be wise, though man be born like a wilde asses colt.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickednesse dwell in thy tabernacles.

15 For then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot, yea, thou shalt be stedfast, and shalt not fear:

16 Because thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that passe away:

17 And thine age † shall be clearer than the noon day: thou shalt shine forth, thou shalt be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be secure, because there is hope, yea, thou shalt dig about thee, and thou shalt take thy rest in safety.

19 * Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid; yea, many shall ‖ make suit unto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, and † they shall not escape, and * their hope shall be as the ‖ giving up of the ghost.

CHAP. XII.

1 Job maintaineth himself against his friends that reprove him. 7 He acknowledgeth the general doctrine of Gods omnipotency.

ANd Job answered and said,

2 No doubt but ye are the people, and wisdome shall die with you.

3 But I have ‖ understanding as well as you, † I am not inferiour to you: yea, † who knoweth not such things as these?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth upon God, and he answereth him: the just upright man is laughed to scorn.

5 He that is ready to slip with his feet, is as a lamp despised in the thought of him that is at ease.

6 The tabernacles of robbers prosper, and they that provoke God are secure; into whose hand God bringeth abundantly.

7 But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee; and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee: and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.

9 Who knoweth not in all these that the hand of the LORD

10 In whose hand the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 * Doth not the ear try words? and the † mouth taste his meat?
12 With the ancient is wisdome, and in length of dayes understanding.
13 ‖ With him is wisdome and strength, he hath counsell and understanding.
14 * Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again: he * shutteth † up a man, and there can be no opening.
15 Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up: also he sendeth them out, and they overturn the earth.
16 With him is strength and wisdome, the deceived, and the deceiver are his.
17 He leadeth counsellers away spoiled, and maketh the Judges fools.
18 He looseth the bond of Kings, and girdeth their loyns with a girdle.
19 He leadeth Princes away spoiled, and overthroweth the mighty.
20 *He removeth away the † speech of the trusty, and taketh away the understanding of the aged.
21 He powreth contempt upon Princes, and weakneth the strength of the mighty.
22 He discovereth deep things out of darkenesse, and bringeth out to light the shadow of death.
23 He encreaseth the nations, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and † straiteth them again.
24 He taketh away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in a wildernesse where there is no way.
25 They grope in the dark without light, and he maketh them to † stagger like a drunken man.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job reproveth his friends of partiality. 14 He professeth his confidence in God: 20 and entreateth to know his own sinnes, and Gods purpose in afflicting him.

1 Lo, mine eye hath seen all this, mine ear hath heard and understood it.
2 What ye know, the same do I know also, I am not inferiour unto you.
3 Surely I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to reason with God.
4 But ye are forgers of lies, ye are all Physicians of no value.
5 O that you would altogether hold your peace, and it should be your wisdome.
6 Hear now my reasoning, and hearken to the pleadings of my lips.
7 Will you speak wickedly for God? and talk deceitfully for him?
8 Will ye accept his person? will ye contend for God?
9 Is it good that he should search you out? or as one man mocketh another, do ye so mock him?
10 He will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept persons.
11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his dread fall upon you?
12 Your remembrances are like unto ashes, your bodies to bodies of clay.
13 † Hold your peace, let me alone that I may speak, and let come on me what will.
14 Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in mine hand?
15 Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will maintain mine own wayes before him.
16 He also shall be my salvation: for an hypocrite shall not come before him.
17 Hear diligently my speech, and my declaration with your ears.
18 Behold now, I have ordered my cause, I know that I shall be justified.
19 Who is he that will plead with me? for now if I hold my tongue, I shall give up the ghost.
20 Only do not two things unto me: then will I not hide my self from thee.
21 Withdraw thine hand far from me: and let not thy dread make me afraid.
22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speak, and answer thou me.
23 How many are mine iniquities & sinnes? make me to know my transgression and my sinne.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemy?
25 Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?
26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and * makest me to possesse the iniquities of my youth.
27 Thou puttest my feet also in the stocks, and † lookest narrowly unto all my paths: thou settest a print upon the † heels of my feet.
28 And he as a rotten thing consumeth, as a garment that is moth-eaten.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Job entreateth God for favour by the shortnesse of life, and certainty of death. 7 That once left he irrecoverable, yet he waiteth for change. 16 By sinne the creature is full of corruption.

1 MAn that is born of a woman, is of few dayes, and full of trouble.
2 * He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not.
3 And dost thou open thine eyes upon such a one, and bringest me into judgement with thee?
4 † Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.
5 * Seeing his dayes are determined, the number of his moneths are with thee, thou hast appointed his bounds that he cannot passe.
6 Turn from him, that he may rest, till he shall accomplish, as an hireling, his day.
7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will sprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not cease.
8 Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the stock thereof die in the ground;
9 Yet through the smell of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.
10 But man dieth and † wasteth away: yea, man giveth up the ghost, and where is he?
11 As the waters fail from the sea, and the flood decayeth and drieth up:
12 So man lieth down, and riseth not: till the heavens be no more, they shall not awake, nor be raised out of their sleep.
13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in the grave, that thou wouldest keep me secret, until thy wrath be past, that thou wouldest appoint me a set time, and remember me!
14 If a man die, shall he live again? all the dayes of my appointed time will I wait, till my change come.
15 Thou shalt call, and I will answer thee: thou wilt have a desire to the work of thine hands.
16 * For now thou numberest my steps: dost thou not watch over my sinne?
17 My transgression is sealed up in a bag, and thou sewest up mine iniquity.
18 And surely the mountain falling cometh to nought, and the rock is removed out of his place.

…ear the flame thereof, and with …the blast which goeth out of the mouth of
…shall they go away.
30 Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity: for vanity shall be his recompence.
31 It shall be accomplished before his time, and his branch shall not be green.
32 He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine, and shall cast off his flower as the olive.
33 For the congregation of hypocrites shall be desolate, and fire shall consume the tabernacles of bribery.
34 They conceive mischief, and bring forth vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Job reproveth his friends of unmercifulness. 7 He sheweth the pitifulness of his case. 17 He maintaineth his innocency.

Then Job answered and said,
2 I have heard many such things: miserable comforters are ye all.
3 Shall vain words have an end? or what emboldneth thee, that thou answerest?
4 I also could speak as ye do: if your soul were in my soul's stead, I could heap up words against you, and shake mine head at you.
5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips should assuage your grief.
6 Though I speak, my grief is not assuaged: and though I forbear, what am I eased?
7 But now he hath made me weary: thou hast made desolate all my company.
8 And thou hast filled me with wrinkles, which is a witness against me: and my leanness rising up in me, beareth witness to my face.
9 He teareth me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnasheth upon me with his teeth; mine enemie sharpeth his eyes upon me.
10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth, they have smitten me upon the cheek reproachfully: they have gathered themselves together against me.
11 God hath delivered me up to the ungodly, and turned me over into the hands of the wicked.
12 I was at ease, but he hath broken me asunder: he hath also taken me by my neck, and shaken me to pieces, and set me up for his mark.
13 His archers compasse me round about, he cleaveth my reins asunder, and doth not spare; he poureth out my gall upon the ground.
14 He breaketh me with breach upon breach, he runneth upon me like a giant.
15 I have sowed sackcloth upon my skin, and defiled my horn in the dust.
16 My face is foul with weeping, and on my eye-lids is the shadow of death;
17 Not for any injustice in mine hands: also my prayer is pure.
18 O earth, cover not thou my blood, and let my cry have no place.
19 Also now behold, my witnesse is in heaven, and my record is on high.
20 My friends scorn me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.
21 O that one might plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his neighbour!
22 When a few years are come, then I shall go the way whence I shall not return.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Job appealeth from men to God. 6 The amazement of good dealing of men with the afflicted, that astonish, but not discourage the righteous. 11 His hope is not to life, but in death.

MY breath is corrupt, my daies are extinct, the graves are ready for me.

2 Are there not mockers with me? and doth not mine eye † continue in their provocation?

3 Lay down now, put me in a surety with thee: who is he that will strike hands with me?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from understanding: therefore shalt thou not exalt them.

5 He that speaketh flattery to his friends, even the eyes of his children shall fail.

6 He hath made me also a by-word of the people, and ‖ aforetime I was as a tabret.

7 Mine eye also is dim by reason of sorrow, and all ‖ my members are as a shadow.

8 Upright men shall be astonied at this, and the innocent shall stirre up himself against the hypocrite.

9 The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands † shall be stronger, and stronger.

10 But as for you all, do you return, and come now, for I cannot finde one wise man among you.

11 My dayes are past, my purposes are broken off, even † the thoughts of my heart:

12 They change the night into day: the light is † short, because of darkenesse.

13 If I wait, the grave is mine house: I have made my bed in the darkenesse.

14 I have † said to corruption, Thou art my father: to the worm, Thou art my mother, and my sister.

15 And where is now my hope? as for my hope, who shall see it?

16 They shall go down to the bars of the pit, when our rest together is in the dust.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Bildad reproveth Job of presumption and impatience. 5 The calamities of the wicked.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 How long will it be, ere you make an end of words? mark, and afterwards we will speak.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and reputed vile in your sight?

4 He teareth † himself in his anger: shall the earth be forsaken for thee? and shall the rock be removed out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out, and the spark of his fire shall not shine.

6 The light shall be dark in his tabernacle, and his ‖ candle shall be put out with him.

7 The steps of his strength shall be straitned, and his own counsell shall cast him down.

8 For he is cast into a net by his own feet, and he walketh upon a snare.

9 The gin shall take him by the heel, and the robber shall prevail against him.

10 The snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Terrours shall make him afraid on every side, and shall † drive him to his feet.

12 His strength shall be hunger-bitten, and destruction shall be ready at his side.

13 It shall devour the † strength of his skin, even the first born of death shall devour his strength.

14 * His confidence shall be rooted out of his tabernacle, and it shall bring him to the King of terrours.

15 It shall dwell in his tabernacle, because it is none of his: brimstone shall be scattered upon his habitation.

16 His roots shall be dried up beneath, and above shall his branch be cut off.

17 * His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street.

18 † He shall be driven from light into darkenesse, and chased out of the world.

19 He shal neither have son nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings.

20 They that come after him, shall be astonied at his day, as they that ‖ went before † were frighted.

21 Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Job complaining of his friends cruelty, knowing there is misery enough in him to provoke cruelty. 21. 28 He craveth pity. 23 He hopeth with the resurrection.

THen Job answered, and said,

2 How long will ye vex my soul, and break me in pieces with words?

3 These ten times have ye reproched me: ye are not ashamed that you ‖ make your selves strange to me.

4 And be it indeed that I have erred, mine errour remaineth with my self.

5 If indeed ye will magnifie your selves against me, and plead against me my reproach:

6 Know now that God hath overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Behold, I cry out of ‖ wrong, but I am not heard: I cry aloud, but there is no judgement.

8 He hath fenced up my way that I cannot passe: and he hath set darkenesse in my paths.

9 He hath stript me of my glory, and taken the crown from my head.

10 He hath destroyed me on every side, and I am gone: and mine hope hath he removed like a tree.

11 He hath also kindled his wrath against me, he counteth me unto him as one of his enemies.

12 His troups come together, and raise up their way against me, and encamp round about my tabernacle.

13 He hath put my brethren far from me, and mine acquaintance are verily estranged from me.

14 My kinsfolk have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me.

15 They that dwell in mine house, and my maidens count me for a stranger: I am an alien in their sight.

16 I called my servant, and he gave me no answer: I entreated him with my mouth.

17 My breath is strange to my wife, though I entreated for the childrens sake of † mine own body.

18 Yea, ‖ young children despised me; I arose, and they spake against me.

19 * All † my inward friends abhorred me: and they whom I loved, are turned against me.

20 My bone cleaveth to my skin, and to my flesh, and I am escaped with the skin of my teeth.

21 Have pity upon me, have pity upon me, ye my friends: for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why do ye persecute me as God, and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 † Oh that my words were now written! oh that they were printed in a book!

24 That they were graven with an iron pen and lead, in the rock for ever!

25 For I know that my redeemer liveth, shall stand at the latter day upon the 26 And though after my skin, worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God:

27 Whom I shall see for my selfe, and mine eyes shall behold, and not † another, though my reines be consumed † within me.

28 But ye should say, Why persecute we him, seeing the root of the matter is found in me?

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword, that ye may know there is a judgement.

† Or, to. † Heb. in my bosome. ‖ Or, and what reason is found in me?

CHAP. XX.

Zophar sheweth the state and portion of the wicked.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Therefore do my thoughts cause me to answer, and for this † I make haste.

3 I have heard the check of my reproch, and the spirit of my understanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest thou not this of old, since man was placed upon earth,

5 *That the triumphing of the wicked is short, and the joy of the hypocrite but for a moment?

6 Though his excellency mount up to the heavens, and his head reach unto the † clouds;

7 Yet he shall perish for ever, like his own dung: they which have seen him, shall say, Where is he?

8 He shall flee away as a dream, and shall not be found; yea, he shall be chased away as a vision of the night.

9 The eye also which saw him, shall see him no more; neither shall his place any more behold him.

10 ‖His children shall seek to please the poor, and his hands shall restore their goods.

11 His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, which shall lie down with him in the dust.

12 Though wickednes be sweet in his mouth, though he hide it under his tongue:

13 Though he spare it, and forsake it not, but keep it still † within him.

14 Yet his meat in his bowels is turned, it is the gall of asps within his mouth.

15 He hath swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again: God shall cast them out of his belly.

16 He shall suck the poison of asps; the vipers tongue shall slay him.

17 He shall not see the rivers, ‖ the floods, the brooks of honey and butter.

18 That which he laboured for, shall he restore, and shall not swallow it down: † according to his substance shall the restitution be, and he shall not rejoyce therein.

19 Because he hath † oppressed, and hath forsaken the poor; because he hath violently taken away an * house which he builded not;

20 Surely he shall not † feel quietnesse in his belly, he shall not save of that which he desired.

21 ‖There shall none of his meat be left, therefore shall no man look for his goods.

22 In the fulnesse of his sufficiency he shall be in straits: every hand of the ‖ wicked shall come upon him.

23 When he is about to fill his belly, God shall cast the fury of his wrath upon him, and shall rain it upon him while he is eating.

24 He shall flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of steel shall strike him through.

25 It is drawn, and cometh out of the body; yea, the glistering sword cometh out of his gall; terrours are upon him.

26 All darknesse shall be hid in his secret places: a fire not blown shall consume him; it shall go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle.

27 The heaven shall reveal his iniquity; and the earth shall rise up against him.

28 The increase of his house shall depart, and his goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is ‖portion of a wicked man from God, and the heritage † appointed unto him by God.

† Heb. of his decree.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Job shewith, that even in the judgement of man, he hath reason to be grieved. 7 Sometimes the wicked do so prosper, as they despise God: 16 Sometime their destruction is manifest. 22 The happy and unhappy are alike in death. 27 The judgement of the wicked is another world.

BUt Job answered, and said,

2 Hear diligently my speech, and let this be your consolations.

3 Suffer me that I may speak, and after that I have spoken, mock on.

4 As for me, is my complaint to man? and if it were so, why should not my spirit be troubled?

5 † Mark me, and be astonished, and lay your hand upon your mouth.

† Heb. look.

6 Even when I remember, I am afraid, and trembling taketh hold on my flesh.

7 * Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea are mighty in power?

8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their off-spring before their eyes.

9 Their houses are † safe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.

† Heb. peace from fear.

10 Their bull gendreth, and faileth not, their cow calveth, and casteth not her calf.

11 They send forth their little ones like a flock, and their children dance.

12 They take the timbrell and harp, and rejoyce at the sound of the organ.

13 They spend their dayes ‖ in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave.

‖ Or, in a moment.

14 * Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us, for we desire not the knowledge of thy waies.

† Chap. 22. 17.

15 What is the mighty that we should serve him? and what profit should we have, if we pray unto him?

16 Lo, their good is not in their hand, the counsell of the wicked is farre from me.

17 How oft is the ‖ candle of the wicked put out? and how oft cometh their destruction upon them? God distributeth † sorrows in his anger.

‖ Or, lamp. † Heb. pangs.

18 They are as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storm † carrieth away.

19 God layeth up his ‖ iniquity for his children: he rewardeth him, and he shall know it.

‖ That is, the punishment of his iniquity.

20 His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drink of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off in the middest?

22 Shall any teach God knowledge? seeing he judgeth those that are high?

23 One dieth † in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet.

† Heb. in the very bone of his strength.

24 His ‖ breasts are full of milk, and his bones are moistned with marrow.

‖ Heb. pails.

25 And another dieth in the bitternesse of his soul, and never eateth with pleasure.

26 They

26 They shall lie down alike in the dust, and the worms shall cover them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.

28 For ye say, Where is the house of the Prince? and where are † the dwelling places of the wicked?

29 Have ye not asked them that go by the way? and do ye not know their tokens?

30 * That the wicked is reserved to the day of destruction; they shall be brought forth to † the day of wrath.

31 Who shall declare his way to his face? and who shall repay him what he hath done?

32 Yet shall he be brought to the † grave, and shall † remain in the tomb.

33 The clods of the valley shall be sweet unto him, and every man shall draw after him, as there are innumerable before him.

34 How then comfort ye me in vain, seeing in your answers there remaineth † falshood.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Eliphaz sheweth that man's goodness profiteth not God. 5 He accuseth Job of diverse sins: 21 He exhorteth him to repentance, with promises of mercy.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered & said,

2 Can a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself?

3 Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him, that thou makest thy wayes perfect?

4 Will he reprove thee for fear of thee? will he enter with thee into judgement?

5 Is not thy wickednesse great? and thine iniquities infinite?

6 For thou hast taken a pledge from thy brother for nought, and † stripped the naked of their clothing.

7 Thou hast not given water to the weary to drink, and thou hast withholden bread from the hungry.

8 But as for the † mighty man, he had the earth, and † the honourable man dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast sent widows away empty, and the arms of the fatherlesse have been broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and sudden fear troubleth thee, 11 Or darknesse that thou canst not see, and abundance of waters cover thee.

12 Is not God in the height of heaven? and behold the † height of the stars how high they are!

13 And thou sayest, ‖ How doth God know? can he judge through the dark cloud?

14 Thick clouds are a covering to him that he seeth not, and he walketh in the circuit of heaven.

15 Hast thou marked the old way which wicked men have trodden?

16 Which were cut down out of time, † whose foundation was overflown with a flood.

17 * Which said unto God, Depart from us: and what can the Almighty do ‖ for them?

18 ‖ Yet he filled their houses with good things: but the counsell of the wicked is far from me.

19 * The righteous see it, and are glad: and the innocent laugh them to scorn.

20 Whereas our ‖ substance is not cut down, but the ‖ remnant of them the fire consumeth.

21 Acquaint now thy self with ‖ him, and be at peace: thereby good shall come unto thee.

22 Receive, I pray thee, the Law from his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Job longeth to appear before God, 4 to have audience of his mercy. 8 God who is known by his servet his wayes, 11 Job's innocency. 13 His decree is immutable.

THen Job answered, and said,

2 Even to day is my complaint † my stroke is heavier then my groning.

3 O that I knew where I might find that I might come even to his seat!

4 I would order my cause before him, and my mouth with arguments.

5 I would know the words which answer me, and understand what he unto me.

6 Will he plead against me with power? No, but he would put strength

7 There the righteous might him: so should I be delivered for ever Judge.

8 Behold, I go forward, but he is not backward, but I cannot perceive him:

9 On the left hand, where he doth I cannot behold him: he hideth right hand, that I cannot see him.

10 But he knoweth † the way that I he hath tried me, I shall come forth

7 They cause the naked to lodge without clothing, that they have no covering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the showers of the mountains, and embrace the rock for want of a shelter.

9 They pluck the fatherless from the breast, and take a pledge of the poor.

10 They cause him to go naked without clothing: and they take away the sheaf from the hungry;

11 Which make oil within their walls, and tread their wine-presses, and suffer thirst.

12 Men groan from out of the city, and the soul of the wounded crieth out: yet God layeth not folly to them.

13 They are of those that rebell against the light; they know not the ways thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof.

14 The murderer rising with the light, killeth the poor and needy, and in the night is as a thief.

15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, saying, No eye shall see me: and † disguiseth his face.

16 In the dark they dig thorow houses, which they had marked for themselves in the day time: they know not the light.

17 For the morning is to them even as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrours of the shadow of death.

21 He evill intreateth the barren, that beareth not: and doth not good to the widow.

22 He draweth also the mighty with his power: he riseth up, and no man is sure of life.

23 Though it be given him to be in safety, whereon he resteth; yet his eyes are upon their ways.

24 They are exalted for a little while, but are gone, and brought low, they are † taken out of the way, as all other, and cut off as the tops of the ears of corn.

25 And if it be not so now, who will make me a liar, and make my speech nothing worth?

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad setteth that man cannot be justified before God.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said:

2 Dominion and feat are with him, he maketh peace in his high places.

3 Is there any number of his armies? and upon whom doth not his light arise?

4 How then can man be justified with God? or how can he be clean that is born of a woman?

5 Behold even to the Moon, and it shineth not; yea the Stars are not pure in his sight:

6 How much lesse man, that is a worm: and the son of man, which is a * worm?

CHAP. XXVI.

Job reproving the unprofitable spirit of Bildad, setteth forth the power of God to be infinite and incomprehensible.

Moreover, Job answered, and said,

2 How hast thou helped him that is without power? how savest thou the arm that hath

3 How hast thou counselled him that hath no wisdome? and how hast thou plentifully declared the thing as it is?

4 To whom hast thou uttered words? and whose spirit came from thee?

5 Dead things are formed from under the waters, and the inhabitants thereof.

6 * Hell is naked before him, and destruction hath no covering.

7 He stretcheth out the North over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing.

8 He bindeth up the waters in his thick clouds; and the cloud is not rent under them.

9 He holdeth back the face of his throne, and spreadeth his cloud upon it.

10 He hath compassed the waters with bounds, † untill the day and night come to an end.

11 The pillars of heaven tremble, and are astonished at his reproof.

12 He divideth the sea with his power, and by his understanding he smiteth thorow † the proud.

13 By his Spirit he hath garnished the heavens: his hand hath formed the crooked serpent.

14 Lo, these are parts of his wayes; but how little a portion is heard of him? but the thunder of his power who can understand?

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Job protesteth his sincerity. 8 The hypocrite is without hope. 11 The blessings which the wicked have, are turned into curses.

Moreover, Job † continued his parable, and said,

2 As God liveth, who hath taken away my judgement, and the Almighty, who hath † vexed my soul;

3 All the while my breath is in me, and † the spirit of God is in my nostrils;

4 My lips shall not speak wickedness, nor my tongue utter deceit.

5 God forbid that I should justifie you: till I die, I will not remove my integrity from me.

6 My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go: my heart shall not reproach me † so long as I live.

7 Let mine enemy be as the wicked, and he that riseth up against me, as the unrighteous.

8 * For what is the hope of the hypocrite, though he hath gained, when God taketh away his soul?

9 * Will God hear his cry, when trouble cometh upon him?

10 Will he delight himself in the Almighty? will he always call upon God?

11 I will teach you [by the hand of God:] that which is with the Almighty, will I not conceal.

12 Behold, all ye your selves have seen it, why then are ye thus altogether vain?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of oppressours, which they shall receive of the Almighty.

14 If his children be multiplied, it is for the sword, and his off-spring shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 * Those that remain of him shall be buried in death: and his widows shall not weep.

16 Though he heap up silver as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay:

17 He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on, and the innocent shall divide the silver.

18 He buildeth his house as a moth, and as a booth that the keeper maketh.

19 The rich man shall lie down, but he shall not be gathered: he openeth his eyes, and he is not.

20 * Terrours take hold on him as waters, a tempest stealeth him away in the night.

21 The

21 The East winde carrieth him away, and he departeth: and as a storm hasteth him out of his place.

22 For God shall cast upon him and not spare: † he would fain flee out of his hand.

† Heb. in fleeing he would flee.

23 Men shall clap their hands at him, and shall hisse him out of his place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 There is a knowledge of naturall things. 12 But wisdome is an excellent gift of God.

SUrely there is ‖ a vein for the silver, and a place for gold where they fine it.

‖ Or, a mine, ‖ Or, dust.

2 Iron is taken out of the ‖ earth, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 He setteth an end to darknesse, and searcheth out all perfection: the stones of darknesse, and the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out from the inhabitant, even the waters forgotten of the foot: they are dried up, they are gone away from men.

5 As for the earth, out of it cometh bread: and under it is turned up as it were fire.

6 The stones of it are the place of Saphires: and it hath ‖ dust of gold.

Or, gold ore.

7 There is a path which no fowl knoweth, and which the vultures eye hath not seen.

8 The Lions whelps have not troden it, nor the fierce Lion passed by it.

9 He putteth forth his hand upon the ‖ rock: he overturneth the mountains by the roots.

‖ Or, flint.

10 He cutteth out rivers among the rocks, and his eye seeth every precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods † from overflowing, and the thing that is hid, bringeth he forth to light.

† Heb. from weeping.

12 But where shall wisdome be found? and where is the place of understanding?

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof, neither is it found in the land of the living.

14 * The depth saith, It is not in me: and the sea saith, It is not with me.

* Rom. 11. 33, 34.

15 † It * cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.

† Heb. fine gold shall not be given for it. * Prov. 3. 14, & 8. 11. 20. & 16. 16.

16 It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir, with the precious Onyx, or the Saphire.

17 The gold and the Crystall cannot equall it: and the exchange of it shall not be for ‖ jewels of fine gold.

‖ Or, vessel of fine gold.

18 No mention shall be made of ‖ Coral, or of Pearls: for the price of wisdome is above Rubies.

‖ Or, Resooth. * ver. 11.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not equall it, neither shall it be valued with pure gold.

20 * Whence then cometh wisdome? and where is the place of understanding?

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all living, and kept close from the fowls of the ‖ air.

‖ Or, heaven.

22 Destruction and death say, We have heard the fame thereof with our ears.

23 God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he looketh to the ends of the earth, and seeth under the whole heaven:

25 To make the weight for the winde, and he weigheth the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunder:

27 Then did he see it, ‖ and declare it; he prepared it, yea, and searched it out.

‖ Or, did number it

28 * And unto man he said, Behold, the feare † Psa. 111. 10. Prov. 1. 7. & 9. 10. of the Lord, that is wisdome, and to depart from evill, is understanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

Job bemoaneth himself of his former prosperity and honour.

MOreover, Job continued his parable, and said,

2 O that I were as in months past, as in the dayes when God preserved me:

3 When his ‖ candle shined upon my head, and when by his light I walked through darknesse;

‖ Or, lamp.

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth, when the secret of God was upon my tabernacle;

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, when my children were about me:

6 When I washed my steps with butter, and the rock powred † me out rivers of oyl;

† Heb. with me.

7 When I went out to the gate through the city, when I prepared my seat in the street!

8 The young men saw me, and hid themselves: and the aged arose, and stood up.

9 The Princes refrained talking, and laid their hand on their mouth.

10 † The nobles held their peace, and their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.

† The voice of the nobles was hushed.

11 When the eare heard me, then it blessed me; and when the eye saw me, it gave witnesse to me:

12 Because I delivered the poore that cried, the fatherlesse, & him that had none to help him.

13 The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon me: and I caused the widowes heart to sing for joy.

14 I put on righteousnesse, and it clothed me: my judgement was as a robe, and a diadem.

15 I was eyes to the blinde, and feet was I to the lame.

16 I was a father to the poore: and the cause which I knew not, I searched out.

17 And I brake † the jawes of the wicked, and † pluckt the spoile out of his teeth.

† Heb. the grinders. † Heb. made me to pluck.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my dayes as the sand.

19 My root was † spread out by the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch.

† Heb. open.

20 My glory was † fresh in me, and my bow was † renewed in my hand.

† Heb. renewed with me.

21 Unto me men gave eare, and waited, and kept silence at my counsell.

22 After my words they spake not again; and my speech dropped upon them.

23 And they waited for me as for the raine; and they opened their mouth wide as for the latter raine.

24 If I laughed on them, they believed it not; and the light of my countenance they cast not down.

25 I chose out their way, and sate chiefe, and dwelt as a King in the army, as one that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Job bemoaneth his present estate. 15 His prosperity turned into calamity.

BUt now they † that are younger than I have me in derision, whose fathers I disdained to have set with the dogs of my flock.

† Heb. that are younger than I in dayes.

2 Yea, whereto might the strength of their hands profit me, in whom old age was perished?

3 For want and famine they were solitary; flying into the wilderneſſe † in former time desolate and waste.

† Heb. yesterday and the day before.

4 Who cut up mallows by the bushes, and Juniper roots for their meat.

5 They were driven forth from among men, (they cried after them as after a theefe;)

6 To dwell in the clifts of the valleys, in † caves of the earth, and in the rocks.

† Heb. holes.

7 Among the bushes they brayed; under the nettles they were gathered together.

8 They were children of fools, yea, children of † base men: they were viler than the earth.

† Heb. men without a name.

9 * And now am I their song, yea, I am their by-word.

they flee farre from me to spit in my face.
hath loosed my cord and afflicted me, they let loose the bridle before me.
11 Upon my right hand rise the youth, they push away my feet, and they raise up against me the waies of their destruction.
12 They marre my path, they set forward my calamity, they have no helper.
13 They came upon me as a wide breaking in of waters: in the desolation they rolled themselves upon me.
14 Terrours are turned upon me: they pursue my soul as the winde: and my welfare passeth away as a cloud.
15 And now my soul is poured out upon me:
the dayes of affliction have taken hold upon me.
16 My bones are pierced in me in the night season: and my sinewes take no rest.
17 By the great force of my disease is my garment disguised: it bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.
18 He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like dust and ashes.
19 I cry unto thee, and thou doest not hear me:
I stand up, and thou regardest me not.
20 Thou art become cruell to me: with † thy strong hand thou opposest thy self against me.
21 Thou liftest me up to the winde: thou causest me to ride upon it, and dissolvest my ‖ substance.
22 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all living.
23 Howbeit he will not stretch out his hand to the † grave though they cry in his destruction.
24 Did not I weep † for him that was in trouble? was not my soul grieved for the poor?
25 When I looked for good, then evill came unto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkness.
26 My bowels boiled and rested not: the dayes of affliction prevented me.
27 I went mourning without the Sunne: I stood up, and cried in the Congregation.
28 I am a brother to Dragons, and a companion to Owles.
29 My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burned with heat.
30 My harp also is turned to mourning, and my organ into the voice of them that weep.

CHAP. XXXI.

Job doth at large protestation of his integrity in all duties.

1 I made a covenant with mine eies: why then should I think upon a maid?
2 For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?
3 Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity?
4 Doth not he see my waies, and count all my steps?
5 If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot hath hasted to deceit;
6 Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity.
7 If my step hath turned out of the way, and if my heart walked after mine eies, and if any blot hath cleaved to mine hands:
8 Then let me sow, and let another eat, yea, let my offspring be rooted out.
9 If mine heart have been deceived by a woman, or I have laid wait at my neighbours doore:
10 Then let my wife grinde unto another, and let others bow down upon her.
11 For this is an heinous crime: yea, it is an iniquity to be punished by the Judges.
12 For it is a fire that consumeth to destruction, and would root out all mine increase.
13 If I did despise the cause of my man-servant, or of my maid-servant, when they contended with me:
14 What then shall I do, when God riseth up?
and when he visiteth, what shall I answer him?
15 Did not he that made me in the womb, make him? and ‖ did not one fashion us in the womb?
16 If I have withheld the poor from their desire, or have caused the eies of the widow to fail:
17 Or have eaten my morsell my self alone, and the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof:
18 (For from my youth he was brought up with me as with a father, and I have guided ‖ her from my mothers womb:)
19 If I have seen any perish for want of clothing, or any poor without covering:
20 If his loins have not blessed me, and if he were not warmed with the fleece of my sheep:
21 If I have lift up mine hand against the fatherlesse, when I saw mine help in the gate:
22 Then let mine arm fall from my shoulder blade, and mine arm be broken from the ‖ bone.
23 For destruction from God was a terrour to me: and by reason of his highnesse I could not endure.
24 If I have made gold my hope, or have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence:
25 If I rejoyced because my wealth was great, and because mine hand had † gotten much:
26 If I beheld † the Sunne when it shined, or the Moon walking † in brightnesse:
27 And my heart hath been secretly entised, or † my mouth hath kissed my hand:
28 This also were an iniquity to be punished by the Judges: for I should have denied the God that is above.
29 If I rejoyced at the destruction of him that hated me, or lift up my self when evill found him:
30 † Neither have I suffered † my mouth to sin by wishing a curse to his soul.)
31 If the men of my tabernacle said not, O that we had of his flesh! we cannot be satisfied.
32 The stranger did not lodge in the street:
but I opened my doors ‖ to the traveller.
33 If I covered my transgressions ‖ as Adam,
by hiding mine iniquity in my bosome:
34 Did I fear a great multitude, or did the contempt of families terrifie me, that I kept silence, and went not out of the doore?
35 O that one would hear me! ‖ behold, my desire is, that the Almighty would answer me, and that mine adversary had written a booke.
36 Surely I would take it upon my shoulder, and bind it as a crowne to me.
37 I would declare unto him the number of my steps, as a Prince would I go near unto him.
38 If my land cry against me, or that the furrowes likewise thereof † complain:
39 If I have † eaten the fruits thereof without money, or have † caused the owners thereof to lose their life:
40 Let thistles grow instead of wheate, and ‖ cockle instead of barley. The words of Job are ended.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu angry with Job and his three friends.
6 Impatient of silence, he craves leave to speak.
11 He shews that he hath attended to their speeches.
15 He refuseth them for not answering of Job.
19 And for their

† Heb. from answering.

SO these three men ceased † to answer Job because he was righteous in his own eies.

2 Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu, the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the kinred of Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified † himself rather then God.

3 Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled: because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job.

4 Now Elihu had † waited till Job had spoken: because they were † elder then he.

5 When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, then his wrath was kindled.

6 And Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite answered and said, I am † young, and ye are very old, wherefore I was afraid, and † durst not shew you mine opinion.

7 I said, Dayes should speak, and multitude of yeers should teach wisdome.

8 * But there is a spirit in man: and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding.

9 Great men are not alwaies wise: neither do the aged understand judgement.

10 Therefore I said, Hearken to me; I also will shew mine opinion.

11 Behold, I waited for your words: I gave ear to your † reasons, whilest you searched out † what to say.

12 Yea, I attended unto you: and behold, there was none of you that convinced Job, or that answered his words:

13 Lest ye should say, We have found out wisdome: God thrusteth him down, not man.

14 Now he hath not ‖ directed his words against me: neither will I answer him with your speeches.

15 They were amazed, they answered no more, † they left off speaking.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still, and answered no more;)

17 I said, I will answer also my part, I also will shew mine opinion.

18 For I am full of † matter, the † spirit within me constraineth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as wine, which † hath no vent; it is ready to burst like new bottels.

20 I will speak, † that I may be refreshed: I will open my lips and answer.

21 Let me not, I pray you, accept any mans person, neither let me give flattering titles unto man.

22 For I know not to give flattering titles: In so doing my Maker would soon take me away.

1 Elihu offereth himself in stead of God, with sincerity and meekness to reason with Job. 8 He excuseth God from giving man an account of his works, by his greatness. 14 God calleth man to repentance by visions 19 by afflictions, 23 and by his Ministery. 31 He inviteth Job to attention.

WHerefore, Job, I pray thee, hear my speeches, and hearken to all my words.

2 Behold, now I have opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken † in my mouth.

3 My words shall be of the uprightnesse of my heart, and my lips shall utter knowledge clearly.

4 The Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life.

5 ‖ If thou canst, answer me, set thy words in order before me, stand up.

6 * Behold, I am † according to thy wish in Gods stead: I also am † formed out of the clay.

7 Behold, my terror shall not make thee afraid, neither shall my hand be heavy upon thee.

8 Surely thou hast spoken in mine hearing, and I have heard the voyce of thy words, saying,

9 I am clean without transgression, I am innocent, neither is there iniquity in me.

10 Behold, he findeth occasions against me, he counteth me for his enemy.

11 He putteth my feet in the stocks, he marketh all my paths.

12 Behold, in this thou art not just, I will answer thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why doest thou strive against him? for he giveth not account of any of his matters.

14 For God speaketh once, yea twice, yet man perceiveth it not.

15 In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deepe sleepe falleth upon men, in slumberings upon the bed;

16 Then he † openeth the eares of men, and sealeth their instruction, 17 That he may withdraw man from his purpose, and hide pride from man.

18 He keepeth back his soul from the pit, and his life † from perishing by the sword.

19 He is chastened also with paine upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with strong paine.

20 * So that his life abhorreth bread, and his soul † dainty meat.

21 His flesh is consumed away that it cannot be seen: and his bones that were not seen stick out.

22 His soul draweth neer unto the grave, and his life to the destroyers.

23 If there be a messenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thousand, to shew unto man his uprightnesse:

24 Then he is gracious unto him, and saith, Deliver him from going down to the pit, I have found a ransome.

25 His flesh shall be fresher † than a child: he shall return to the dayes of his youth:

26 He shall pray unto God, and he will be favourable unto him, and he shall see his face with joy: for he will render unto man his righteousnesse.

27 He looketh upon men, and if any say, I have sinned, and perverted that which was right, and it profited me not;

28 ‖ He will deliver his soul from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.

29 Lo, all these things worketh God often times with man, 30 To bring back his soul from the pit, to be enlightned with the light of the living.

31 Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I will speak.

32 If thou hast any thing to say, answer me, speak, for I desire to justifie thee.

33 If not, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I shall teach thee wisdome.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Elihu accuseth Job for charging God with injustice. 10 God cannot sin. 31 Man must humble himself unto God. 34 Elihu reproveth Job.

FUrthermore Elihu answered and said,

2 Hear my words, O ye wise men; and give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.

3 * For the ear trieth words, as the mouth tasteth meat.

should I be quit from my judge?

7 What man is like Job, who drinketh up scorning like water?

8 Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men.

9 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing, that he should delight himself with God.

10 Therefore hearken unto me, ye † men of understanding: * farre be it from God, that he should do wickedneſſe, and from the Almighty, that he ſhould commit iniquity.

11 * For the work of a man ſhall he render unto him, and cauſe every man to finde according to his wayes.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Compariſon is not to be made with God, becauſe our good or evill cannot extend unto him.

9 Many cry in their affliction, but are not heard for want of faith.

ELihu ſpake moreover, and ſaid,

5 Look unto the heavens, and ſee, and behold the clouds which are higher then thou.

6 If thou ſinneſt, what doeſt thou againſt him? or if thy tranſgreſſions be multiplied, what doeſt thou unto him?

7 * If thou be righteous, what giveſt thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand?

8 Thy wickedneſſe may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righteouſneſſe may profit the ſonne of man.

9 By reaſon of the multitude of oppreſſions they make the oppreſſed to cry: they cry out by reaſon of the arm of the mighty.

10 But none ſaith, Where is God my Maker, who giveth ſongs in the night?

11 Who teacheth us more then the beaſts of the earth, and maketh us wiſer then the fowls of heaven.

12 There they cry, (but none giveth anſwer) becauſe of the pride of evill men.

13 * Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.

14 Although thou ſayeſt thou ſhalt not ſee him, yet judgement is before him, therefore truſt thou in him.

15 But now becauſe it is not ſo, † he hath viſited in his angry: yet † he knoweth it not in great extremity:

16 Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vain: he multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu proveth how God is juſt in his ways.

16 How Job hinders himſelf by his ſinnes.

24 Gods works are to be magnified.

ELihu alſo proceeded, and ſaid,

2 Suffer me a little, and I will ſhew thee, † that I have yet to ſpeak on Gods behalf.

3 I will fetch my knowledge from afarre, and will aſcribe righteouſneſſe to my Maker.

4 For truely my words ſhall not be falſe: he that is perfect in knowledges is with thee.

5 Behold, God is mighty, and deſpiſeth not any: he is mighty in ſtrength and † wiſedome.

6 He preſerveth not the life of the wicked: but giveth right to the ‖ poor.

7 * He withdraweth not his eyes from † righteous: but with Kings are they on the throne, yea, he doth eſtabliſh them for ever, & they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction:

9 Then he ſheweth them their work, and their tranſgreſſions, that they have exceeded.

10 He openeth alſo their ear to diſcipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity.

11 If they obey and ſerve him, they ſhall ſpend their dayes in proſperity, and their years in pleaſures.

12 But if they obey not, † they ſhall periſh by the ſword, and they ſhall die without knowledge.

13 [illegible]

13 But the hypocrites in heart heap up wrath: they cry not when he bindeth them.

14 † They die in youth, and their life is among the ‖ unclean.

15 He delivereth the ‖ poor in his affliction, and openeth their ears in oppression:

16 Even so would he have removed thee out of the strait into a broad place, where there is no straitness; and that which should be set on thy table, should be full of fatness.

17 But thou hast fulfilled the judgement of the wicked: ‖ judgement & justice take hold on thee.

18 Because there is wrath, beware lest he take thee away with his stroke: then a great ransome cannot † deliver thee.

19 Will he esteem thy riches? no not gold, nor all the forces of strength.

20 Desire not the night, when people are cut off in their place.

21 Take heed, regard not iniquity: for this hast thou chosen rather then affliction.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: who teacheth like him?

23 Who hath enjoyned him his way? or who can say, Thou hast wrought iniquity?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his work, which men behold.

25 Every man may see it, man may behold it, afarre off.

26 Behold, God is great, and we know him not, neither can the number of his yeers be searched out.

27 For he maketh small the drops of water: they powre down rain according to the vapour thereof:

28 Which the clouds do drop, and distill upon man abundantly.

29 Also can any understand the spreadings of the clouds, or the noise of his Tabernacle?

30 Behold, he spreadeth his light upon it, and covereth † the bottome of the sea.

31 For by them judgeth he the people, he giveth meat in abundance.

32 With clouds he covereth the light, and commandeth it not to shine, ‖ by the cloud that cometh betwixt.

33 The noise thereof sheweth concerning it, the cattell also concerning † the vapour.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 God is to be feared because of his great works.
15 His wisdome is unsearchable in them.

AT this also my heart trembleth, and is moved out of his place.

2 † Heat attentively the noise of his voice, and the sound that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his † lightning unto the † ends of the earth.

4 After it a voice roareth: he thundreth with the voice of his excellency, and he will not stay them when his voice is heard.

5 God thundreth marvellously with his voice: great things doth he, which we cannot comprehend.

6 For * he saith to the snow, Be thou on the earth: † likewise to the small rain, and to the great rain of his strength.

7 He sealeth up the hand of every man; that all men may know his work.

8 Then the beasts go into dens: and remain in their places.

9 † Out of the South cometh the whirlwinde: and cold out of the † North.

10 By the breath of God, frost is given: and the breadth of the waters is straitned.

11 Also by watering, he wearieth the thick cloud: he scatereth † his bright

12 And it is turned round about by his counsells: that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the face of the world

13 He causeth it to come, whether for correction, or for his land, or for mercy.

14 Hearken unto this, O Job: stand still and consider the wonderous works of God.

15 Doest thou know when God disposed them, and caused the light of his cloud to shine?

16 Doest thou know the ballancings of the clouds, the wonderous works of him which is perfect in knowledge?

17 How thy garments are warm, when he quieteth the earth by the South wind?

18 Hast thou with him spread out the skie, which is strong, and as a molten looking glasse?

19 Teach us what we shall say unto him; for we cannot order our speech by reason of darkness.

20 Shall it be told him that I speak? if a man speak, surely he shall be swallowed up.

21 And now men see not the bright light that is in the clouds: but the winde passeth, and cleanseth them.

22 † Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majesty.

23 Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will not afflict.

24 Men do therefore fear him: he respecteth not any that are wise of heart.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 God challengeth Job to answer.
4 His workes unsearchable. Job is 21 and of impossibility.

THen the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwinde, and said,

2 Who is this that darkneth counsell by words without knowledge?

3 Gird up now thy loins like a man: for I will demand of thee, and † answer thou me.

4 * Where wast thou, when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare, † if thou hast understanding.

5 Who hath laid the measures thereof, if thou knowest? or who hath stretched the line upon it?

6 Wherupon are the † foundations thereof fastened? or who laid the corner stone thereof;

7 When the morning starres sang together, and all the sonnes of God shouted for joy?

8 * Or who shut up the sea with doores, when it brake forth, as if it had issued out of the wombe?

9 When I made the cloud the garment thereof, and thick darkenesse a swadling band for it,

10 And ‖ brake up for it my decreed place, and set barres and doores, 11 And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no farther: & here shall † thy proud waves be stayed?

12 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy dayes? and caused the day-spring to know his place;

13 That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, that the wicked might be shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to the seal; and they stand as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light is withholden, and the high arm shall be broken.

16 Hast thou entred into the † springs of the sea? or hast thou walked in the search of the depth?

17 Have the gates of death been opened unto thee? or hast thou seen the doores of the shadow of death?

18 Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth? declare if thou knowest it.

11 Cast abroad the rage of thy wrath: and behold every one that is proud, and abase him.
12 Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low; and tread down the wicked in their place.
13 Hide them in the dust together, and bind their faces in secret.
14 Then will I also confesse unto thee, that thine own right hand can save thee.
15 ¶ Behold now ‖ Behemoth, which I made with thee; he eateth grasse as an ox.
16 Lo now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the navell of his belly.
17 ‖ He moveth his tail like a Cedar: the sinewes of his stones are wrapt together.
18 His bones are as strong pieces of brasse: his bones are like barres of iron.
19 He is the chief of the wayes of God: he that made him, can make his sword to approach unto him.
20 Surely the mountains bring him forth food; where all the beasts of the field play.
21 He lieth under the shady trees, in the covert of the reed, and fens.
22 The shady trees cover him with their shadow; the willows of the brook compasse him about.
23 Behold, † he drinketh up a river, and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw up Jordan into his mouth.
24 ‖ He taketh it with his eyes: his nose pierceth through snares.

‖ Or, the Hippopotamus, or, Sea-horse.

† Heb. he oppresseth.

‖ Or, will any take them in his sight? or, bore his nose with a gin?

CHAP. XLI.

Of Gods great power in the Leviathan.

CAnst thou draw out ‖ Leviathan with an hook? or his tongue with a cord † which thou lettest down?
2 Canst thou put an hook into his nose? or bore his jaw through with a thorn?
3 Will he make many supplications unto thee? will he speak soft words unto thee?
4 Will he make a covenant with thee? wilt thou take him for a servant for ever?
5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?
6 Shall the companions make a banquet of him? shall they part him among the merchants?
7 Canst thou fill his skinne with barbed irons? or his head with fish spears?
8 Lay thine hand upon him, remember the battell: do no more.
9 Behold, the hope of him is in vain: shall not one be cast down even at the sight of him?
10 None is so fierce that dare stirre him up: who then is able to stand before me?
11 * Who hath prevented me, that I should repay him? whatsoever is under the whole heaven, is mine.
12 I will not conceal his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.
13 Who can discover the face of his garment? or who can come to him ‖ with his double bridle?
14 Who can open the doors of his face? his teeth are terrible round about.
15 His † scales are his pride, shut up together as with a close seal.
16 One is so neer to another, that no air can come between them.
17 They are joyned one to another, they stick together, that they cannot be sundred.
18 By his neesings a light doth shine, and his eyes are like the eye-lids of the morning.
19 Out of his mouth go burning lamps, and sparkles of fire leap out.
20 Out of his nostrils goeth smoke, as out of a seething pot or caldron.
21 His breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth out of his mouth.
22 In his neck remaineth strength, and sorrow is turned into joy before him.
23 † The flakes of his flesh are joyned together: they are firm in themselves; they cannot be moved.
24 His heart is as firm as a stone, yea, as firm as a piece of the nether mill-stone.
25 When he raiseth up himself, the mighty are afraid: by reason of breakings they purify themselves.
26 The sword of him that layeth at him cannot hold: the spear, the dart, nor the ‖ habergeon.
27 He esteemeth iron as straw, and brass as rotten wood.
28 The arrow cannot make him flee: slinge stones are turned with him into stubble.
29 Darts are counted as stubble: he laugheth at the shaking of a spear.
30 † Sharp stones are under him: he spreadeth sharp-pointed things upon the mire.
31 He maketh the deep to boil like a pot: he maketh the sea like a pot of ointment.
32 He maketh a path to shine after him; one would think the deep to be hoary.
33 Upon earth there is not his like, who is made without fear.
34 He beholdeth all high things: he is a king over all the children of pride.

‖ Or, habergeon.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Job submitteth himself unto God, confessing Jobs case, maketh his friends to themselves, and accepteth him. 10 Jobs estate and blessed him. 16 Jobs age.

THen Job answered the LORD, and said,
2 I know that thou canst do every thing, and that ‖ no thought can be withholden from thee.
3 * Who is he that hideth counsel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered that I understood not; things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.
4 Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
5 I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now mine eye seeth thee.
6 Wherefore I abhorre my self, and repent in dust and ashes.
7 ¶ And it was so, that after the LORD had spoken these words unto Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath.
8 Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks, and seven rammes, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for your selves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you: for him will I accept: lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job.
9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the LORD commanded them: the LORD also accepted † Job.
10 And the LORD turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the LORD † gave Job twice as much as he had before.
11 Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him: every man also 13 And the LORD blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.

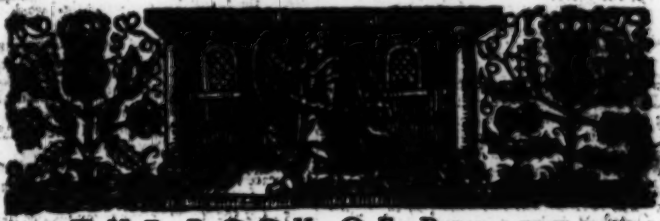
14 He had also seven sonnes and three daughters.

15 And he called the name of the first, Jemima, and the name of the second, Kezia, and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.

16 And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

17 After this lived Job an hundred and fourty years, and saw his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, even four generations.



¶ THE BOOK OF PSALMES.

PSALM I.

The happinesse of the godly. 4 The unhappinesse of the ungodly.

1 BLessed * is the man that walketh not in the counsell of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornfull.

2 But his delight is in the Law of the LORD; * and in his Law doth he meditate day and night.

3 And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season: his leaf also shall not † wither; and whatsoever he doth, shall prosper.

4 The ungodly are not so: but are * like the chaff which the winde driveth away.

5 Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgement, nor sinners in the Congregation of the righteous.

6 For the LORD knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

PSALM II.

The kingdome of Christ. 10 Kings are exhorted to serve him.

1 WHy * do the heathen ‖ rage, and the people ‖ imagine a vain thing?

2 The Kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsell together, against the LORD, and against his Anointed, saying,

3 Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

4 He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the LORD shall have them in derision.

5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet have I set † my King † upon my holy hill of Sion.

7 I will declare ‖ the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Sonne, this day have I begotten thee.

8 Aske of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron, thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potters vessell.

10 Be wise now therefore, O ye Kings: be instructed, ye Judges of the earth.

11 Serve the LORD with feare, and rejoyce

12 Kisse the Sonne, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little: * Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

PSALM III.

The security of Gods protection.

¶ * A Psalme of David when he fled from Absalom his sonne.

1 LORD, how are they increased that trouble me? many are they that rise up against me.

2 Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for him in God. Selah.

3 But thou, O LORD, art a shield ‖ for me; my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.

4 I cryed unto the LORD with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah.

5 * I laid me downe and slept: I awaked, for the LORD sustained me.

6 * I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people, that have set themselves against me round about.

7 Arise, O LORD, save me, O my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.

8 * Salvation belongeth unto the LORD: thy blessing is upon thy people. Selah.

PSALM IIII.

1 David prayeth for audience. 2 He reproveth and exhorteth his enemies. 6 Many desire what is in Gods favour.

¶ To the ‖ chief Musician on Neginoth. A Psalme of David.

1 HEar me when I call, O God of my righteousnesse: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distresse: ‖ have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.

2 O ye sons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame? how long will ye love vanity, and seek after leasing? Selah.

3 But know that the LORD hath set apart him that is godly for himself: the LORD will hear when I call unto him.

4 * Stand in awe, and sinne not: commune with your owne heart upon your bed, and be still. Selah.

5 Offer * the sacrifices of righteousnesse, and put your trust in the LORD.

6 There be many that say, Who will shew us any good? LORD, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.

7 Thou

tion in the time that their corn, and their wine increased.

9 Psa. 4.8. b 9 I will both lay me down in peace, & sleep, for thou LORD only maketh me dwell in safety.

PSAL. V.

1 David prayeth, and professeth his study in prayer. 4 God forsaketh not the wicked. 7 David professing his faith, prayeth unto God to guide him, 10 to destroy his enemies, 11 and to preserve the godly.

¶ To the chief musician upon Nehiloth, A Psalme of David.

GIve ear to my words, O LORD, consider my meditation.

2 Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King and my God: for unto thee will I pray.

3 a My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O LORD; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up.

4 For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness: † neither shall evil dwell with thee.

5 The foolish shall not stand † in thy sight: thou hatest all workers of iniquity.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speak leasing: the LORD will abhorre the † bloody and deceitfull man.

7 But as for me, I will come into thy house, in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy fear will I worship toward † thy holy Temple.

8 Lead me, O LORD, in thy righteousnesse, because of † mine enemies, make thy way straight before my face.

9 For there is no ‖ faithfulnesse † in their mouth: their inward part is † very wickednesse: † their throat is an open sepulchre, they flatter with their tongue.

10 ‖ Destroy thou them, O God, let them fall † by their own counsels: cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions, for they have rebelled against thee.

11 But let all those that put their trust in thee rejoyce: let them ever shout for joy, because thou † defendest them: let them also that love thy name be joyfull in thee.

12 For thou, LORD, wilt blesse the righteous, with favour wilt thou † compasse him as with a shield.

1 David complaining in his sickness, 8 by faith he triumpheth over his enemies.

¶ To the chief Musician on Neginoth ‖ upon Sheminith, A Psalme of David.

O LORD rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

2 Have mercy upon me, O LORD, for I am weak: O LORD heal me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My soul is also sore vexed: but thou, O LORD, how long?

4 Return, O LORD, deliver my soul: O save me for the mercies sake.

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall give thee thanks?

6 I am weary with my groaning, † all the night make I my bed to swim: I water my couch with my tears.

7 Mine eye is consumed because of grief: it waxeth old because of all mine enemies.

8 Depart from me all ye workers of iniquity: for the LORD hath heard the voice of my 9 The LORD hath heard my supplication: the LORD will receive my prayer.

10 Let all mine enemies be ashamed and sore vexed: let them return, and be ashamed suddenly.

PSAL. VII.

1 David prayeth against the malice of his persecutors, 6 by the justice of God, 10 by his defence, and the destruction of the wicked. 17 He giveth thanks.

¶ Shiggaion of David, which he sang unto the LORD, concerning the ‖ words of Cush the Benjamite.

O LORD my God, in thee do I put my trust: save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me.

2 Lest he tear my soul like a lion, rending it in pieces, while there is † none to deliver.

3 O LORD my God, if I have done this; if there be iniquity in my hands;

4 If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me: (yea, I have delivered him that without cause is mine enemy:)

5 Let the enemy persecute my soul, and take it; yea, let him tread down my life upon the earth, and lay mine honour in the dust. Selah.

6 Arise, O LORD, in thine anger, lift up thy selfe because of the rage of mine enemies: and awake for me to the judgement that thou hast commanded.

7 So shall the Congregation of the people compasse thee about: for their sakes therefore return thou on high.

8 The LORD shall judge the people: judge me, O LORD, * according to my righteousnesse, and according to mine integrity that is in me.

9 O let the wickednesse of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.

10 † My defence is of God, which saveth the upright in heart.

11 ‖ God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day.

12 If he turn not, he will whet his sword; he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

13 He hath also prepared for him the instruments of death: he ordaineth his arrows against the persecutors.

14 a Behold, he travelleth with iniquity, and hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood.

15 † He made a pit, and digged it, and is fallen into the ditch which he made.

16 His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing shall come down upon his own pate.

17 I will praise the LORD according to his righteousnesse: and will sing praise to the name of the LORD most High.

PSAL. VIII.

Gods glory is magnified by his works, and love to man.

¶ To the chief Musician upon Gittith, A Psalme of David.

O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory above the heavens.

2 a Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou † ordained strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained;

4 a What is man, that thou art mindfull of him? and the son of man, that thou

…crowned him with glory and
6 Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands: * thou hast put all things under his feet;
7 † All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field,
8 The fowls of the air, & the fish of the sea, and whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.
9 O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the earth!

PSALM IX.

David giveth God the praise for executing of judgment. 11 He exhorteth others to praise him. 13 He prayeth that he may have cause to praise him.

To the chief musician upon Muth-Labben.
A Psalme of David.

I Will praise thee, O LORD, with my whole heart:
I will shew forth all thy marvellous works.
2 I will be glad and rejoyce in thee: I will sing praise to thy Name, O thou most High.
3 When mine enemies are turned back, they shall fall and perish at thy presence.
4 For † thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou satest in the throne judging † right.
5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen, thou hast destroyed the wicked; thou hast put out their name for ever and ever.
6 O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetuall end: and thou hast destroyed cities, their memoriall is perished with them.
7 But the LORD shall endure for ever; he hath prepared his throne for judgement.
8 And he shall judge the world in righteous-nesse, he shall minister judgement to the people in uprightnesse.
9 * The LORD also will be † a refuge for the oppressed: a refuge in times of trouble.
10 And they that know thy Name, will put their trust in thee: for thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.
11 Sing praises to the LORD which dwelleth in Sion; declare among the people his doings.
12 * When he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembreth them; he forgetteth not the cry of the ‖ humble.
13 Have mercy upon me, O LORD; consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me up from the gates of death:
14 That I may shew forth all thy praise in the gates of the daughter of Sion: I will rejoyce in thy salvation.
15 * The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid, is their own foot taken.
16 The LORD is known by the judgement which he executeth: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion. Selah.
17 The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.
18 For the needy shall not alway be forgotten:
the expectation of the poor shall not perish for ever.
19 Arise, O LORD, let not man prevail: let the heathen be judged in thy sight.
20 Put them in fear, O LORD: that the nations may know themselves to be but men. Selah.

PSALM X.

He complaineth to God of the outrages of the wicked. 12 He prayeth for remedy. 16 He
…his assistance.

…stand afar off, O LORD? why
…hide thy self in times of trouble?
2 † The wicked in his pride doth persecute the poor: * let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined.
3 For the wicked boasteth of his † heart's desire, ‖ and blesseth the covetous, whom the LORD abhorreth.
4 The wicked through the pride of his countenance will not seek after God: † God is not in all his * thoughts.
5 His wayes are alwayes grievous; thy judgements are far above out of his sight: as for all his enemies, he puffeth at them.
6 He hath said in his heart, I shall not be moved, for I shall † never be in adversity.
7 * His mouth is full of cursing, and † deceit, and fraud: under his tongue is mischief and ‖ vanity.
8 He sitteth in the lurking places of the villages: in the secret places doth he murder the

IN the LORD put I my trust: how say ye to my soul, Flie as a bird to your mountain?
2 For lo, the wicked bend their bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they may † privily shoot at the upright in heart.
3 If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?
4 * The LORD is in his holy Temple, the LORDS throne is in heaven, his eyes behold, his eye-lids try the children of men.
5 The LORD tryeth the righteous: but the wicked, and him that loveth violence, his soul hateth.
6 Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and ‖ an horrible tempest: this shall be the portion of their cup.

PSALM XVIII.

David praiſeth God for his manifold and marvelous benefits.

1 To the chief Muſician, A Pſalme of David, the ſervant of the LORD, who ſpake unto the LORD the words of this Song, in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul; And he ſaid,

I Will love thee, O LORD, my ſtrength.

2 The LORD is my rock, and my fortreſſe, and my deliverer; my God, † my ſtrength in whom I will truſt, my buckler, and the horn of my ſalvation, and my high tower.

3 I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praiſed: ſo ſhall I be ſaved from mine enemies.

4 * The ſorrows of death compaſſed me, and the floods of † ungodly men made me afraid.

5 The ‖ ſorrowes of hell compaſſed me about: the ſnares of death prevented me.

6 In my diſtreſſe I called upon the LORD, and cried unto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.

7 Then the earth ſhook and trembled; the foundations alſo of the hilles moved and were ſhaken, becauſe he was wroth.

8 There went up a ſmoke † out of his noſtrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens alſo, and came down: and darkneſſe was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a Cherub, and did flie: yea he did flie upon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darkneſſe his ſecret place: his pavilion round about him were dark waters, and thick clouds of the ſkies.

12 At the brightneſſe that was before him, his thick clouds paſſed, hayle ſtones and coals of fire.

13 The LORD alſo thundred in the heavens, and the Higheſt gave his voice; hailſtones, and coals of fire.

14 Yea, he ſent out his arrowes, and ſcattered them; and he ſhot out lightnings, and diſcomfited them.

15 Then the channels of waters were ſeen, and the foundations of the world were diſcovered at thy rebuke, O LORD, at the blaſt of the breath of thy noſtrils.

16 He ſent from above, he took me, he drew me out of ‖ many waters.

17 He delivered me from my ſtrong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were too ſtrong for me.

18 They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the LORD was my ſtay.

19 He brought me forth alſo into a large place: he delivered me, becauſe he delighted in me.

20 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteouſneſſe, according to the cleanneſſe of my hands hath he recompenſed me.

21 For I have kept the wayes of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all his judgements were before me: and I did not put away his ſtatutes from me.

23 I was alſo upright † before him: and I kept my ſelf from mine iniquity.

24 Therefore hath the LORD recompenſed me according to my righteouſneſſe, according to the cleanneſſe of my hands † in his eye ſight.

25 With the mercifull thou wilt ſhew thy ſelf mercifull: with an upright man thou wilt ſhew thy ſelf upright.

26 With the pure thou wilt ſhew thy ſelf pure, and with the froward thou wilt ‖ ſhew thy ſelf froward.

27 For thou wilt ſave the afflicted people: but wilt bring down high looks.

28 For thou wilt light my ‖ candle, the LORD my God will enlighten my darkneſſe.

29 For by thee I have ‖ run thorow a troop: and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

30 As for God, his way is perfect: the * word of the LORD is ‖ tried: he is a buckler to all thoſe that truſt in him.

31 * For who is God ſave the LORD? or who is a rock ſave our God?

32 It is God that girdeth me with ſtrength, and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like Hindes feet: and ſetteth me upon my high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to warre, ſo that a bow of ſteel is broken by mine arms.

35 Thou haſt alſo given me the ſhield of thy ſalvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy ‖ gentleneſſe hath made me great.

36 Thou haſt enlarged my ſteps under me, that † my feet did not ſlip.

37 I have purſued mine enemies, and overtaken them: neither did I turn again till they were conſumed.

38 I have wounded them that they were not able to riſe: they are fallen under my feet.

39 For thou haſt girded me with ſtrength unto the battell: thou † haſt ſubdued under me thoſe that roſe up againſt me.

40 Thou haſt alſo given me the necks of mine enemies: that I might deſtroy them that hate me.

41 They cried, but there was none to ſave them: even unto the LORD, but he anſwered them not.

42 Then did I beat them ſmall as the duſt before the winde: I did caſt them out as the mire in the ſtreets.

43 Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people, and thou hast made me the head of the heathen: a people whom I have not known shall serve me.

44 † As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me: † the strangers shall ‖ submit themselves unto me.

45 The strangers shall fade away, and be afraid out of their close places.

46 The LORD liveth, and blessed be my rock: and let the God of my salvation be exalted.

47 It is God that † avengeth me, and ‖ subdueth the people under me.

48 He delivereth me from mine enemies: yea thou liftest me up above those that rise up against me: thou hast delivered me from the † violent man.

49 * Therefore will I ‖ give thanks unto thee (O LORD) among the heathen: and sing praises unto thy Name.

16 Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me: for I am desolate and afflicted.

17 The troubles of my heart are inlarged: O bring thou me out of my distresses.

18 Look upon mine affliction, and my pain: and forgive all my sinnes.

19 Consider mine enemies; for they are many, and they hate me with † cruell hatred.

20 O keep my soul, and deliver me: let me not be ashamed, for I put my trust in thee.

21 Let integrity and uprightnesse preserve me: for I wait on thee.

22 Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSAL. XXVI.

David resorteth unto God in confidence of his integrity.

¶ A Psalme of David.

JUdge me, O LORD, for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the LORD, therefore I shall not slide.

2 * Examine me, O LORD, and prove me; try my reins and my heart.

3 For thy loving kindnesse is before mine eyes: and I have walked in thy truth.

4 * I have not sate with vain persons, neither will I go in with dissemblers.

5 I have hated the congregation of evill doers: and will not sit with the wicked.

6 I will wash mine hands in innocency: so will I compasse thine Altar, O LORD:

7 That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wonderous works.

8 LORD, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place † where thine honor dwelleth.

9 ‖ Gather not my soul with sinners, nor my life with † bloody men, 10 In whose hands is mischief: and their right hand is † full of bribes.

11 But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: redeem me, and be mercifull unto me.

12 My foot standeth in an even place: in the Congregations will I blesse the LORD.

PSAL. XXVII.

David sustaineth his faith by the power of God, 4 by his love to the service of God, 9 by prayer.

¶ A Psalme of David.

THe LORD is my light & my salvation, whom shall I fear? the * LORD is the strength of my life: of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes † came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 * Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though warr should rise against me, in this will I be confident.

4 One thing have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after: that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the daies of my life, to behold ‖ the beauty of ¶ LORD, & to enquire in his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shal hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his Tabernacle shall he hide me, he shall set me up upon a rock.

6 And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices † of joy, I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the LORD.

7 Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice: have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

8 ‖ When thou saidst, Seek ye my face, my heart said unto thee, Thy face, LORD, will I seek.

9 Hide not thy face far from me, put not thy servant away in anger: thou hast been my help; leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.

10 When my father and my mother forsake me, then the LORD † will take me up.

11 * Teach me thy way, O LORD, and lead me in † a plain path, because of mine enemies.

12 Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies: for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty.

13 I had fainted, unlesse I had believed to see the goodnesse of the LORD in the land of the living.

14 * Wait on the LORD: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart: wait, I say, on the LORD.

PSAL. XXVIII.

1 David prayeth earnestly against his enemies. 6 He blesseth God. 9 He prayeth for his people.

¶ A Psalme of David.

UNto thee will I cry, O LORD, my rock; be not silent to me: * least if thou be silent to me, I become like them that go down into the pit.

2 Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto thee: when I lift up my hands toward thy holy Oracle.

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity: * which speak peace to their neighbours, but mischief is in their hearts.

4 Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickednesse of their endeavours: give them after the work of their hands, render to them their desert.

5 Because they regard not the works of the LORD, nor the operation of his hands, he shall destroy them, and not build them up.

6 Blessed be the LORD, because he hath heard the voice of my supplications.

7 The LORD is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoyceth, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The LORD is ‖ their strength, and he is the † saving strength of his Anointed.

9 Save thy people, and blesse thine inheritance: ‖ feed them also, and lift them up for ever.

PSAL. XXIX.

1 David exhorteth Princes to give glory to God, 3 by reason of his power, 11 and prayeth for his people.

¶ A Psalme of David.

GIve unto the LORD (O † ye mighty) give unto the LORD glory and strength.

2 Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his Name; worship ¶ LORD ‖ in ¶ beauty of holinesse.

3 The voice of the LORD is upon the waters: the God of glory thundreth, the LORD is ‖ upon many waters.

4 The voice of the LORD is † powerfull: the voice of the LORD is † full of majesty.

5 The voice of the LORD breaketh the Cedars: yea, the LORD breaketh the Cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to skip like a calf: Lebanon and * Syrion like a young unicorn.

7 The voice of the LORD ‖ divideth the flames of fire.

8 The voice of the LORD ‖ shaketh the wilderness: the LORD shaketh the wilderness of Kadesh.

9 The voice of the LORD maketh the hinds to calve, and discovereth the forests: and in his Temple doth ‖ every one speak of his glory.

…the LORD bleſs thee out of Zion; and thou ſhalt ſee the good of Jeruſalem all the days of thy life.

6 Yea, thou ſhalt ſee thy children's children, and peace upon Iſrael.

The LORD will give ſtrength unto his people; the LORD will bleſs his people with peace.

PSALM XXX.

A pſalm of praiſe to God for his deliverance. 4 He exhorteth others to praiſe him, by example of God dealing with him.

¶ A Pſalme and ſong at the dedication of the houſe of David.

1 I Will extoll thee, O LORD, for thou haſt lifted me up, and haſt not made my foes to rejoyce over me.

2 O LORD my God, I cried unto thee, and thou haſt healed me.

3 O LORD, thou haſt brought up my ſoul from the grave: thou haſt kept me alive, that I ſhould not go down to the pit.

4 Sing unto the LORD, O ye Saints of his; and give thanks at the remembrance of his holineſſe.

5 For his anger endureth but a moment, in his favour is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my proſperity I ſaid, I ſhall never be moved.

7 LORD, by thy favour thou haſt made my mountain to ſtand ſtrong: thou didſt hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 I cried to thee, O LORD: and unto the LORD I made ſupplication.

9 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? ſhall the duſt praiſe thee? ſhall it declare thy truth?

10 Hear, O LORD, and have mercy upon me: LORD, be thou my helper.

11 Thou haſt turned for me my mourning into dancing: thou haſt put off my ſackcloth, and girded me with gladneſſe;

12 To the end that my glory may ſing praiſe to thee, and not be ſilent: O LORD my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

PSALM XXXI.

1 David ſhewing his confidence in God, craveth his help. 7 He rejoyceth in his mercy. 9 He prayeth in his calamity. 19 He praiſeth God for his goodneſſe.

¶ To the chief Muſician, A Pſalme of David.

1 IN thee, O LORD, do I put my truſt, let me never be aſhamed: deliver me in thy righteouſneſſe.

2 Bow down thine ear to me, deliver me ſpeedily: be thou my ſtrong rock, for an houſe of defence to ſave me.

3 For thou art my rock and my fortreſſe: therefore for thy Names ſake lead me, and guide me.

4 Pull me out of the net that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my ſtrength.

5 Into thine hand I commit my ſpirit: thou haſt redeemed me, O LORD God of truth.

6 I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I truſt in the LORD.

7 I will be glad and rejoyce in thy mercy: for thou haſt conſidered my trouble, thou haſt known my ſoul in adverſities;

8 And haſt not ſhut me up into the hand of the enemy: thou haſt ſet my feet in a large room.

9 Have mercy upon me, O LORD, for I am in trouble: mine eye is conſumed with grief, yea, my ſoul and my belly.

10 For my life is ſpent with grief, and my years with ſighing: my ſtrength faileth, becauſe of mine iniquity, and my bones are conſumed.

11 I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but eſpecially among my neighbours, and a feare to mine acquaintance: they that did ſee me without, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken veſſell.

13 For I have heard the ſlander of many: fear was on every ſide: while they took counſell together againſt me, they deviſed to take away my life.

14 But I truſted in thee, O LORD: I ſaid, Thou art my God.

15 My times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that perſecute me.

16 Make thy face to ſhine upon thy ſervant: ſave me for thy mercies ſake.

17 Let me not be aſhamed, O LORD, for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be aſhamed, and let them be ſilent in the grave.

18 Let the lying lips be put to ſilence: which ſpeak grievous things proudly and contemptuously againſt the righteous.

19 O how great is thy goodneſſe, which thou haſt laid up for them that fear thee; which thou haſt wrought for them that truſt in thee, before the ſonnes of men!

20 Thou ſhalt hide them in the ſecret of thy preſence from the pride of man: thou ſhalt keep them ſecretly in a pavilion from the ſtrife of tongues.

21 Bleſſed be the LORD: for he hath ſhewed me his marvellous kindneſſe in a ſtrong city.

22 For I ſaid in my haſte, I am cut off from before thine eyes: Nevertheleſſe, thou heardeſt the voice of my ſupplications when I cried unto thee.

23 O love the LORD, all ye his Saints: for the LORD preſerveth the faithfull, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.

24 Be of good courage, and he ſhall ſtrengthen your heart: all ye that hope in the LORD.

PSALM XXXII.

1 Bleſſedneſſe conſiſteth in remiſſion of ſinnes. 3 Confeſſion of ſinnes giveth eaſe to the conſcience. 8 Gods promiſes bring joy.

A Pſalme of David, Maſchil.

1 BLeſſed is he whoſe tranſgreſſion is forgiven, whoſe ſinne is covered.

2 Bleſſed is the man unto whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity, and in whoſe ſpirit there is no guile.

3 When I kept ſilence, my bones waxed old, through my roaring all the day long.

4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me; my moiſture is turned into the drought of ſummer. Selah.

5 I acknowledged my ſinne unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid: I ſaid, I will confeſſe my tranſgreſſions unto the LORD, and thou forgaveſt the iniquity of my ſinne. Selah.

6 For this ſhall every one that is godly pray unto thee, in a time when thou mayeſt be found: ſurely in the floods of great waters they ſhall not come nigh unto him.

7 Thou art my hiding place, thou ſhalt preſerve me from trouble: thou ſhalt compaſſe me about with ſongs of deliverance. Selah.

8 I will inſtruct thee, and teach thee in the way which thou ſhalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be ye not as the horſe, or as the mule, which have no underſtanding: whoſe mouth muſt be held in with bit and bridle, leſt they come neer unto thee.

10 Many ſorrowes ſhall be to the wicked: but he that truſteth in the LORD, mercy ſhall compaſſe him about.

22 Be [illegible] and [illegible] ye righteous: and [illegible] all ye that are upright in heart.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 God is to be praised for his greatness, 6 for his power, 12 and for his providence. 20 Confidence is to be placed in God.

REjoyce in the LORD, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright.

2 Praise the LORD with harp: sing unto him with the Psaltery, and an instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing unto him a new song: play skilfully with a loud noise.

4 For the word of the LORD is right, and all his works are done in truth.

5 * He loveth righteousnesse and judgement: the earth is full of the goodnesse of the LORD.

6 * By the word of the LORD were the heavens made: and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together, as an heape: he layeth up the depth in store-houses.

8 Let all the earth feare the LORD: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.

9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stood fast.

10 * The LORD bringeth the counsell of the heathen to nought: he maketh the devices of the people of none effect.

11 * The counsell of the LORD standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations.

12 * Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD: and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.

13 The LORD looketh from heaven: he beholdeth all the sonnes of men.

14 From the place of his habitation he looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth.

15 He fashioneth their hearts alike: he considereth all their works.

16 There is no King saved by the multitude of an host: a mighty man is not delivered by much strength.

17 An horse is a vain thing for safety: neither shall he deliver any by his great strength.

18 * Behold, the eye of the LORD is upon them that feare him: upon them that hope in his mercy:

19 To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.

20 Our soul waiteth for the LORD: he is our help and our shield.

21 For our heart shall rejoyce in him: because we have trusted in his holy Name.

22 Let thy mercy (O LORD) be upon us: according as we hope in thee.

PSAL. XXXIIII.

1 David praiseth God, and exhorteth others thereunto by experience. 8 They are blessed that trust in God. 12 He exhorteth to the feare of God. 15 The privileges of the righteous.

A Psalme of David, when he changed his behaviour before ‖ Abimelech: who drove him away, and he departed.

I Will blesse the LORD at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth.

2 My soul shall make her boast in the LORD: the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad.

3 O magnifie the LORD with me, and let us exalt his Name together.

4 I sought the LORD, and he heard me: and delivered me from all my fears.

5 ‖ They looked unto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not ashamed.

6 This poore man cried, and the LORD heard him, and saved him out of all his 7 The Angel of the LORD encampeth about them that feare him, and delivereth them.

8 O taste and see that the LORD is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 O feare the LORD ye his Saints: for there is no want to them that feare him.

10 The young lions do lack and suffer hunger: but they that seek the LORD shall not want any good thing.

11 Come ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the feare of the LORD.

12 * What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many dayes, that he may see good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evill, and thy lips from speaking guile.

14 Depart from evill, and do good: seek peace, and pursue it.

15 * The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous: and his eares are open unto their cry.

16 The face of the LORD is against them that do evill, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and the LORD heareth: and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The LORD is nigh † unto them that are of a broken heart: and saveth such as be † of a contrite spirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the LORD delivereth him out of them all.

20 He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 Evill shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous, ‖ shall be desolate.

22 The LORD redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 David prayeth for his own safety, and his mens confusion. 11 He complaineth of wrongfull dealing. 22 Thereby he incenseth against them.

A Psalme of David.

PLead my cause (O LORD) with them that strive with me: fight against them that fight against me.

2 Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for mine help.

3 Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.

4 * Let them be confounded and put to shame that seek after my soul: let them be turned back and brought to confusion that devise my hurt.

5 * Let them be as chaffe before the wind: and let the Angel of the LORD chase them.

6 Let their way be † darke and slippery: and let the Angel of the LORD persecute them.

7 For without cause have they hid for me their net in a pit, which without cause they have digged for my soul.

8 Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let his net that he hath hid catch himself: into that very destruction let him fall.

9 And my soul shall be joyfull in the LORD: it shall rejoyce in his salvation.

10 All my bones shall say LORD, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poore from him that is too strong for him, yea the poore and needy from him that spoileth him?

11 † False witnesses did arise up: they laid to my charge things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me evill for good, to the † spoiling of my soul.

…ictions? I …
… my prayer returned into mine own …

13 I behaved my self, as though he had been my friend, or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

14 But in mine † adversity they rejoyced, and gathered themselves together: yea, the abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not, they did tear me, and ceased not.

15 With hypocriticall mockers in feasts: they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

16 Lord, how long wilt thou look on? rescue my soul from their destructions, † my darling from the lions.

17 * I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among † much people.

18 Let not them that are mine enemies †wrongfully, rejoyce over me: neither let them wink with the eie, that hate me without a cause.

19 For they speak not peace: but they devise deceitfull matters against them that are quiet in the land.

20 Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me, and said, Aha, aha, our eie hath seen it.

21 This thou hast seen (O LORD) keep not silence: O Lord, be not farre from me.

22 Stirre up thy self, and awake to my judgement, even unto my cause, my God and my Lord.

23 Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteousness, & let them not rejoyce over me.

24 Let them not say in their hearts, † Ah, so would we have it: Let them not say, We have swallowed him up.

25 Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion together that rejoyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed with shame and dishonour, that magnifie themselves against me.

26 Let them shout for joy, and be glad that favour † my righteous cause: yea, let them say continually, Let the LORD be magnified, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.

27 And my tongue shall speak of thy righteousness, and of thy praise all the day long.

PSAL. XXXVI.

1 The grievous estate of the wicked. 5 The excellency of Gods mercy. 10 David prayeth for favour to Gods children.

§ To the chief Musician, A Psalme of David the servant of the LORD.

1 The transgression of the wicked saith within my heart, that there is no feare of God before his eies.

2 For he flattereth himself in his own eies, † until his iniquity be found to be hatefull.

3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wise, and to do good.

4 He deviseth § mischief upon his bed, he setteth himself in a way that is not good: he abhorreth not evil.

5 * Thy mercy (O LORD) is in the heavens: and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds.

6 Thy righteousness is like † the great mountains, thy judgements are a great deep: O LORD, thou preservest man and beast.

7 How † excellent is thy loving kindnesse, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be † abundantly satisfied with the fatnesse of thy house, and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy …

… their that know thee; and …
… to the upright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.

12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are cast down, and shall not be able to rise.

PSAL. XXXVII.

David perswadeth to patience and confidence in God, by the different estate of the godly and the wicked.

§ A Psalme of David.

FRet * not thy self because of evill doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity.

2 For they shall soon be cut down like the grasse, and wither as the green herb.

3 Trust in the LORD, and do good, so shalt thou dwell in the land, and † verily thou shalt be fed.

4 Delight thy self also in the LORD, and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.

5 † * Commit thy way unto the LORD: trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgement as the noon day.

7 † Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him: fret not thy self because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.

8 Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: § fret not thy self in any wise to do evill.

9 For evill doers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the LORD, they shall inherit the earth.

10 For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and it shall not be.

11 * But the meek shall inherit the earth, and shall delight themselves in † abundance of peace.

12 The wicked † plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth.

13 * The Lord shall laugh at him: for he seeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay † such as be of upright conversation.

15 Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.

16 A little that a righteous man hath, † is better than the riches of many wicked.

17 For the armes of the wicked shall be broken: but the LORD upholdeth the righteous.

18 The LORD knoweth the dayes of the upright: and their inheritance shall be for ever.

19 They shall not be ashamed in the evill time, and in the dayes of famine they shall be satisfied.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD shall be as the fat of lambs: they shall consume, into smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous sheweth mercy, and giveth.

22 For such as be blessed of him, shall possesse the earth: and they that be cursed of him, shall be cut off.

23 The steps of a good man are † ordered by the LORD: and he delighteth in his way.

24 Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast downe: for § LORD upholdeth him with his hand.

25 I have been young, and now am old; yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread.

… and is lender …

…and do good: and dwell …

28 For the LORD loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

29 The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.

30 The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment.

31 The Law of his God is in his heart: none of his ‖ steps shall slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 The LORD will not leave him in his hand, nor condemne him when he is judged.

34 Wait on the LORD, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.

35 I have seen the wicked in great power: and spreading himself like ‖ a green bay-tree.

36 Yet he passed away, and lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.

37 Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressors shall be destroyed together: the end of the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the salvation of the righteous is of the LORD: he is their strength in ‖ time of trouble.

40 And the LORD shall help them, and deliver them: he shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them, because they trust in him.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

David wresteth God to take compassion of his pitiful case.

A Psalme of David, to bring to remembrance.

O LORD, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

2 For thine arrowes sticke fast in me, and thy hand presseth me sore.

3 There is no soundnesse in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there any † rest in my bones, because of my sinne.

4 For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

5 My wounds stink, and are corrupt: because of my foolishnesse.

6 I am † troubled, I am bowed down greatly: I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loins are filled with a loathsome disease: and there is no soundnesse in my flesh.

8 I am feeble and sore broken, I have roared by reason of the disquietnesse of my heart.

9 Lord, all my desire is before thee: and my groaning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart panteth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eies, it also † is gone from me.

11 My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my † sore: and ‖ my kinsmen stand afarre off.

12 They also, that seek after my life, lay snares for me: and they that seek my hurt, speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.

13 But I, as a deaf man, heard not; and I was as a dumbe man that openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofes.

15 For ‖ in thee, O LORD, do I hope: thou wilt heare, O Lord my God.

AS the Hart † panteth after the water brookes: so panteth my ſoul after thee, O God.
2 My ſoul thirſteth for God, for the living God: when ſhall I come and appear before God?
3 * My teares have been my meat day and night, while they continually ſay unto me, Where is thy God?
4 When I remember theſe things, I poure out my ſoul in me, for I had gone with the multitude, I went with them to the houſe of God, with the voice of joy and praiſe, with a multitude that kept holy day.
5 Why art thou † caſt downe, O my ſoule, and why art thou diſquieted in me? hope thou in God, for I ſhall yet ‖ praiſe him ‖ for the helpe of his countenance.
6 O my God, my ſoul is caſt downe within me: therefore will I remember thee from the land of Jordan, and of the Hermonites, from the ‖ hill Mizar.
7 Deep calleth unto deep at the noiſe of thy water-ſpouts: all thy waves and thy billowes are gone over me.
8 Yet the LORD will command his loving kindneſſe in the day time, and in the night his ſong ſhall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life.
9 I will ſay unto God, My rock, why haſt thou forgotten me? why go I mourning, becauſe of the oppreſſion of the enemy?
10 As with a ‖ ſword in my bones, mine adverſaries reproach me: while they ſay daily unto me, Where is thy God?

…God reigneth over the heathen: God sitteth

GReat is the LORD, and greatly to be praised …in the city of our God, in the mountain of …his holiness.
…Beautifull for situation, the joy of the whole
…earth is mount Sion, on the sides of the North,
…the city of the great King.
…God is known in her palaces for a refuge.
…For lo, the Kings were assembled: they …passed by together.
…They saw it, and so they marvelled, they …were troubled, and hasted away.
…Fear took hold upon them there: and pain,
…as of a woman in travell.
…Thou breakest the ships of Tarshish with an …East wind.
…As we have heard, so have we seen in the city
…of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God,
…God will establish it for ever. Selah.
…We have thought of thy loving kindnesse,
…O God, in the midst of thy Temple.
…According to thy Name, O God, so is thy …is full of righteousnesse.

…Let mount Sion rejoyce, let the daughters
…of Iudah be glad, because of thy judgements.
…Walk about Sion, and go round about

…For this God is our God for ever and ever:

*An earnest perswasion to build the faith of re-

…And that worldly prosperity is not to be admired.*

To the chief Musician, A Psalme for the sonnes of Korah.

…Hear this, all ye people, give ear all ye inha…bitants of the world:
…Both low and high, rich and poor together.
…My mouth shall speak of wisdome: and the …meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.
…I will incline mine ear to a parable: I …will open my dark saying upon the harp.
…Wherefore should I fear in the dayes of …evil, when the iniquity of my heels shall com-
…passe me about?
…They that trust in their wealth, and boast …themselves in the multitude of their riches:
…None of them can by any meanes redeem his …brother, nor give to God a ransome for him:
…(For the redemption of their soul is precious,
…and it ceaseth for ever:)
…That he should still live alway, and not …see corruption.
…For he seeth that wise men die, likewise the …fool and the brutish person perish, and leave
…their wealth to others.
…Their inward thought is, that their houses
…shall continue for ever, and their dwelling places
…to all generations: they call their lands after …their own names.
…Nevertheless, man being in honour abideth
…not: he is like the beasts that perish.
…This their way is their folly: yet their po…sterity approve their sayings. Selah.
…Like sheep they are laid in the grave, death
…shall feed on them: and the upright shall have …dominion over them in the morning, and their …beauty shall consume in the grave from their …dwelling.
…But God will redeem my soul from the …power of the grave: for he shall receive me. Selah.
…Be not thou afraid when one is made rich,
…when the glory of his house is increased.
…For when he dieth, he shall carry nothing
…away: his glory shall not descend after him.
…Though while he lived, he blessed his …soul: and men will praise thee when thou doest
…well to thy self.
…He shall go to the generation of his fa…thers: they shall never see light.
…Man that is in honour, and understandeth
…not, is like the beasts that perish.

1 The majesty of God in the Church. 5 His order to gather Saints. 7 The pleasure of God is not in ceremonies, 14 but in fayring of obedience.

A Psalme of Asaph.

THe mighty God, even the LORD hath spo-

…the Sunne, unto the going down thereof.
…Out of Zion the perfection of beauty, God
…hath shined.
…Our God shall come, and shall not keep si-

…be very tempestuous round about him.
…He shall call to the heavens from above, and …to the earth, that he may judge his people.
…Gather my Saints together unto me: those …that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.
…And the heavens shall declare his righteous-
…nesse: for God is judge himself. Selah.
…Hear, O my people, and I will speak, O Is…rael, and I will testifie against thee: I am God,
…even thy God.
…I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices or …thy burnt-offerings, to have been continually be…fore me.
…I will take no bullock out of thy house, nor
…he-goats out of thy folds.
…For every beast of the forrest is mine, and …the cattell upon a thousand hills.
…I know all the fowls of the mountains: and …the wilde beasts of the field are mine.
…If I were hungry, I would not tell thee:
…for the world is mine, and the fulnesse thereof.
…Will I eat the flesh of bullocks, or drink the …blood of goats?
…Offer unto God thanksgiving, and pay thy …vows unto the most High.
…And call upon me in the day of trouble: I …will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorifie me.

GIve eare to my prayer, O God: and hide not thy self from my supplication.

2 Attend unto me, and hear me: I mourn in my complaint, and make a noise.

3 Because of the voice of the enemy, because of the oppression of the wicked: for they cast iniquity upon me, and in wrath they hate me.

8 But thou, O LORD, shalt laugh at them, thou shalt have all the heathen in derision.
9 Because of his strength will I wait upon thee: for God is † my defence.
10 The God of my mercy shall prevent me: God shall let me see my desire upon † mine enemies.
11 Slay them not, lest my people forget: scatter them by thy power, and bring them down, O Lord our shield.
12 For the sin of their mouth and the words of their lips, let them even be taken in their pride: and for cursing and lying which they speak.
13 Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they may not be: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob unto the ends of the earth. Selah.
14 And at evening let them return; and let them make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.
15 Let them wander up and down † for meat, and grudge if they be not satisfied.
16 But I will sing of thy power; yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.
17 Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing: for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy.

PSALM LX.

1 David complaining to God of former judgments, 4 now upon better hope prayeth for deliverance, 6 Comforting himself in God, 9 prayeth that help whereon he relyeth.

To the chief Musician upon ‖ Shushan-eduth Michtam of David, to teach; when he strove with Aram Naharaim and with Aram Zobah, when Joab returned, and smote of Edom in the valley of salt twelve thousand.

1 O God, thou hast cast us off, thou hast scattered us, thou hast been displeased, O turn thyself to us again.
2 Thou hast made the earth to tremble; thou hast broken it: heal † the breaches thereof; for it shaketh.
3 Thou hast shewed thy people hard things: thou hast made us to drink the wine of astonishment.
4 Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee: that it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah.
5 That thy beloved may be delivered; save with thy right hand, and hear me.
6 God hath spoken in his holiness; I will rejoyce; I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.
7 Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine; Ephraim also is the strength of mine head; Judah is my lawgiver.
8 Moab is my washpot; over Edom will I cast out my shoe: Philistia, ‖ triumph thou because of me.
9 Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Edom?
10 Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst cast us off? and thou, O God, which didst not go out with our armies?
11 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the † help of man.
12 Through God we shall do valiantly: for it is he that shall tread down our enemies.

PSALM LXI.

1 David sueth to God upon his fainting, 4 A resolution of prayer, 5 of praise, 6 of thankfulness.

To the chief Musician upon Neginah, A Psalm of David.

HEar my cry, O God, attend unto my prayer. From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher than I.
2 For thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy.
3 I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever: I will trust in the covert

5 For thou, O God, hast heard my vows: thou hast given me the heritage of those that fear thy name.

6 † Thou wilt prolong the Kings life: and his years † as many generations.

7 He shall abide before God for ever: O prepare mercy and truth, which may preserve him.

8 So will I sing praise unto thy Name for ever: that I may daily perform my vows.

PSAL. LXII.

1 David professing his confidence in God, discourageth his enemies. 5 In the same confidence he encourageth the godly. 9 No trust is to be put in worldly things. 11 Power and mercy belong to God.

¶ To the chief Musician, to Jeduthun.
A Psalme of David.

1 TRuly my soul † waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation.

2 He only is my rock and my salvation: he is my † defence; I shall not be greatly moved.

3 How long will ye imagine mischief against a man? ye shall be slain all of you: as a bowing wall shall ye be, and as a tottering fence.

4 They only consult to cast him down from his excellency, they delight in lies: they blesse with their mouth, but they curse † inwardly. Selah.

5 My soul, wait thou onely upon God: for my expectation is from him.

6 He onely is my rock and my salvation: he is my defence; I shall not be moved.

7 In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge is in God.

8 Trust in him at all times, ye people, powre out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. Selah.

9 Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are † altogether lighter then vanity.

10 Trust not in oppression, become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.

11 God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that † power belongeth unto God.

12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou rendrest to every man according to his work.

PSAL. LXIII.

1 David thirsteth for God. 4 His manner of blessing God. 9 His confidence of his enemies destruction, and his own safety.

¶ A Psalme of David when he was in the wildernesse of Judah.

1 O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee, in a dry and † thirsty land, † where no water is:

2 To see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the Sanctuary.

3 Because thy loving kindnesse is better then life: my lips shall praise thee.

4 Thus will I blesse thee while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy Name.

5 My soul shall be satisfied as with † marrow and fatnesse; and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips:

6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night watches.

7 Because thou hast been my help; therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoyce.

8 My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.

9 But those that seek my soul to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.

10 They shall be given over to the power of the sword: they shall be a portion for foxes.

11 But the King shall rejoyce in God; every one that sweareth by him shall glory: but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

PSAL. LXIIII.

1 David prayeth for safety from the secret counsels of his enemies. 7 He prophesieth of their overthrow. 10 The righteous shall rejoyce in it.

¶ To the chief Musician. A Psalme of David.

1 HEar my voyce, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the † secret counsell of the wicked; from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity:

3 † Who whet their tongue like a sword, and bend their bowes to shoot their arrow, even bitter words:

4 That they may shoot in secret at the perfect: † suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.

5 They encourage themselves in an evill matter: they commune † of laying snares privily; they say, Who shall see them?

6 They search out iniquities; they accomplish † a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.

7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow, suddenly † shall they be wounded.

8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: all that see them shall flee away.

9 And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God: for they shall wisely consider of his doing.

10 The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him: and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSAL. LXV.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The happinesse of Gods chosen, & treasures of his hire.

¶ To the chief Musician. A Psalme and Song of David.

1 PRaise † waiteth for thee, O God, in Sion: and unto thee shall the vow be performed.

2 O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come.

3 † Iniquities prevail against me: as for our transgressions, thou shalt purge them away.

4 Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodnesse of thy house, even of thy holy Temple.

5 By terrible things in righteousnesse wilt thou answere us, O God of our salvation; who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afarre off upon the sea:

6 Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains, being girded with power:

7 Which stilleth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people.

8 They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens: thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoyce.

9 Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it: thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God, which is full of water: thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so provided for it.

10 Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly: thou settlest the furrows thereof: thou makest it soft with showers: thou blessest the springing thereof.

11 Thou crownest the yeare with thy goodnesse, and thy paths drop fatnesse.

12 They drop upon the pastures of the wildernesse, and the little hills rejoyce on every side.

13 The pastures are clothed with flocks; the valleys also are covered over with corn; they shout for joy, they also sing.

PSAL. LXVI.

1 Doubl exhortation to praise God, 5 to observe his great works. 8 to bless him for his gracious benefits. 12 He voweth for himself religious service to God. 16 He declareth Gods special goodnesse to himself.

¶ To the chief Musician, A song or Psalme.

MAke a joyfull noise unto God, all ye lands.
2 Sing forth the honour of his Name: make his praise glorious.
3 Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works? through the greatnesse of thy power shall thine enemies ‖ submit themselves unto thee.
4 All the earth shall worship thee, & shall sing unto thee; they shall sing to thy Name. Selah.
5 Come and see the works of God: he is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.
6 He turned † the sea into dry land: they went thorow † flood on foot: there did we rejoyce in him.
7 He ruleth by his power for ever; his eyes behold the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah.
8 O bless our God, ye people, and make the voyce of his praise to be heard.
9 Which † holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.
10 For thou, O God, hast proved us: thou hast tryed us, as silver is tryed.
11 Thou broughtest us into the net: thou laydst affliction upon our loyns.
12 Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads; we went thorow fire, and thorow water: but thou broughtest us out into a † wealthy place.
13 I will go into thy house with burnt offerings: I will pay thee my vowes, 14 Which my lips have † uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in trouble.
15 I will offer unto thee burnt sacrifices of † fatlings, with the incense of rams: I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah.
16 Come and hear all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.
17 I cryed unto him with my mouth: and he was extolled with my tongue.
18 If I regard iniquity in my heart: the Lord will not hear me.
19 But verily God hath heard me: he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.
20 Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

PSAL. LXVII.

1 A prayer for the inlargement of Gods kingdome. 3 to the joy of the people. 6 and the increase of Gods blessings.

¶ To the chief Musician on Neginoth, A Psalme or Song.

GOd be mercifull unto us, and bless us: and cause his face to shine † upon us. Selah.
2 That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations.
3 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.
4 O let the nations be glad, and sing for joy: for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and † govern the nations upon earth. Selah.
5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.
6 Then shall the earth yeeld her increase: and God, even our own God shall bless us.
7 God shall bless us; and all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

PSAL. LXVIII.

1 A prayer at the removing of the Ark. 4 An exhortation to praise God for his mercies, & for his great power. 19 for his great works.

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalme or Song of David.

LEt * God arise, let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him, flee before him.
2 As smoak is driven away, so drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.
3 But let the righteous be glad: let them rejoyce before God, yea, let them † exceedingly rejoyce.
4 Sing unto God, sing praises to his Name: extoll him that rideth upon the heavens, by his Name JAH, and rejoyce before him.
5 A father of the fatherlesse, and a judge of widows is God in his holy habitation.
6 God setteth the solitary † in families: he bringeth out those which are bound with chains: but the rebellious dwell in a dry land.
7 O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people: when thou diddest march through the wildernesse, Selah.
8 The earth shook, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God: even Sinai itself was moved at the presence of God, the God of Israel.
9 Thou, O God, didst † send a plentiful rain, whereby thou didst † confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.
10 Thy Congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, hast prepared of thy goodnesse for the poor.
11 The Lord gave the word: great was the † company of those that published it.
12 Kings of armies † did flee apace: and she that tarried at home divided the spoil.
13 Though ye have lien among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove, covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold.
14 When the Almighty scattered Kings in it, it was white as snow in Salmon.
15 The hill of God is as the hill of Bashan; a high hill, as the hill of Bashan.
16 Why leap ye, ye high hills? this is the hill which God desireth to dwell in, yea, the Lord will dwell in it for ever.
17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of Angels: the Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in the holy place.
18 * Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive, thou hast received gifts for men: yea, for the rebellious also, that the Lord God might dwell among them.
19 Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation. Selah.
20 He that is our God, is the God of salvation: and unto GOD the Lord belong the issues from death.
21 But God shall wound the head of his enemies: and the hairie scalpe of such a one as goeth on still in his trespasses.
22 The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring my people again from the depths of the sea:
23 That thy foot may be ‖ dipped in the blood of their enemies, and the tongue of thy dogs in the same.
24 They have seen thy goings, O God; even the goings of my God, my King, in the sanctuary.
25 The singers went before, the players on instruments followed after; among them were the damosels playing with timbrels.
26 Bless ye God in the Congregations, even the Lord ‖ from the fountain of Israel.
27 There is little Benjamin with their ruler, the Princes of Judah and

...d Zebulun, and the Princes of Naphtali.
...Thy God hath commanded thy ſtrength:
...ſtrengthen, O God, that which thou haſt wrought
...
29 Because of thy Temple at Jeruſalem ſhall
...bring preſents unto thee.
30 Rebuke the † company of ſpearmen, the mul...titude of the bulls, with the calves of the people,
...every one ſubmit himſelf with pieces of ſilver:
...ſcatter thou the people that delight in war.
31 Princes ſhall come out of Egypt, Ethiopia
...ſhall ſoon ſtretch out her hands unto God.
32 Sing unto God, ye kingdomes of the earth:
...O ſing praiſes unto the Lord. Selah.
33 To him that rideth upon the heavens of ...heavens, which were of old: lo, he doth † ſend out
...his voyce, and that a mighty voyce.
34 Aſcribe ye ſtrength unto God: his excellency ...is over Iſrael, and his ſtrength is in the ‖ clouds.
35 O God, thou art terrible out of thy holy pla...ces: the God of Iſrael is he that giveth ſtrength
...and power unto his people: Bleſſed be God.

PSAL. LXIX.

David complaineth of his affliction. 13 He prayeth for deliverance. 22 He devoteth his enemies to deſtruction. 30 He praiſeth God with thankſgiving.

¶ To the chief Muſician upon Shoſhannim,
A Pſalme of David.

1 Save me, O God: for the waters are come in ...unto my ſoul.
2 I ſink in † deep mire, where there is no
...ſtanding: I am come into † deep waters, where
...the floods overflow me.
3 I am weary of my crying, my throat is dri...ed: mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.
4 They that hate me without a cauſe, are more ...than the hairs of mine head: they that would de-
...ſtroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are ...mighty: then I reſtored † which I took not away.
5 O God, thou knoweſt my fooliſhneſſe, and ...my † ſinnes are not hid from thee.
6 Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord GOD
...of hoſts, be aſhamed for my ſake: let not thoſe
...that ſeek thee, be confounded for my ſake, O God
...of Iſrael.
7 Becauſe for thy ſake I have born reproach:
...ſhame hath covered my face.
8 I am become a ſtranger unto my brethren,
...and an alien unto my mothers children.
9 † For the zeal of thine houſe hath eaten me ...up: * and the reproaches of them that reproached
...thee, are fallen upon me.
10 When I wept, and chaſtned my ſoul with ...faſting, that was to my reproach.
11 I made ſackcloth alſo my garment: and I ...became a proverb to them.
12 They that ſit in the gate ſpeak againſt me:
...and I was the ſong of the † drunkards.
13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O LORD,
...in an acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of
...thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy ſalvation.
14 Deliver me out of the myre, and let me not ...ſink: let me be delivered from them that hate
...me, and out of the deep waters.
15 Let not the water flood overflow me, nei...ther the deep ſwallow me up, and let not the ...pit ſhut her mouth upon me.
16 Hear me, O LORD, for thy loving kind...neſſe: turn unto me according to the ...multitude of thy tender mercies.
17 And hide not thy face from thy ſervant, for
...I am in trouble: † hear me ſpeedily.
18 Draw nigh unto my ſoul, and redeem it: deliver me becauſe of mine enemies.
19 Thou haſt known my reproach, and my ſhame, and my diſhonour: mine adverſaries are all before thee.
20 Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heavineſſe: and I looked for ſome † to take pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.
21 They gave me alſo gall for my meat, * and in my thirſt they gave me vineger to drink.
22 * Let their table become a ſnare before them: and that which ſhould have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.
23 Let their eyes be darkned that they ſee not,
and make their loins continually to ſhake.
24 Powre out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathfull anger take hold of them.
25 Let their † habitation be deſolate, and † let none dwell in their tents.
26 For they perſecute him whom thou haſt ſmitten, and they talk to the grief of † thoſe whom thou haſt wounded.
27 Adde ‖ iniquity unto their iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteouſneſſe.
28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous.
29 But I am poor and ſorrowfull: let thy ſalvation, (O God) ſet me up on high.
30 I will praiſe the Name of God with a ſong, and will magnifie him with thankſgiving.
31 This alſo ſhall pleaſe the LORD better then an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs.
32 The ‖ humble ſhall ſee this, and be glad;
and your heart ſhall live that ſeek God.
33 For the LORD heareth the poor, and deſpiſeth not his priſoners.
34 Let the heaven and earth praiſe him, the Seas, and every thing that † moveth therein.
35 For God will ſave Sion, and will build the cities of Judah, that they may dwell there, and have it in poſſeſſion.
36 The ſeed alſo of his ſervants ſhal inherit it:
and they that love his Name ſhall dwell therein.

5 They are not † in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued † like other men.

6 Therefore pride compasseth them as a chain: violence covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out with fatnesse: they have more then heart could wish.

8 They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression: they speak loftily.

9 They set their mouth against the heavens, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his people return hither: and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Behold, these are the ungodly, who prosper in the world: they increase in riches.

13 Verily I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency.

14 For all the day long have I been plagued, and † chastened every morning.

15 If I say, I will speak thus; behold, I should offend against the generation thought to know this, it was too sanctuary of God,

I consider their end.
dost set them in slippery places:
them down into destruction.
how are they brought into desolation as in a moment! they are utterly consumed with terrors.
As a dream when one awaketh; so, O Lord, when thou awakest, thou shalt despise their image.
21 Thus my heart was grieved, and I was pricked in my reins.
22 So foolish was I, and ignorant: I was as a beast before thee.
23 Nevertheless, I am continually with thee:
thou hast holden me by my right hand.
24 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.
25 Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee.
26 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.
27 For, lo, they that are farre from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.
28 But it is good for me to draw neer to God: I have put my trust in the Lord GOD, that I may declare all thy works.

PSAL. LXXIIII.

The Prophet complaineth of the desolation of the Sanctuary. 12 He inforceth God to help, in consideration of his power, 18 of his reproachful enemies, of his children, and of his Covenant.

¶ Maschil of Asaph.

O God, why hast thou cast us off for ever? why doth thine anger smoak against the sheep of thy pasture?
2 Remember thy Congregation which thou hast purchased of old; the rod of thine inheritance which thou hast redeemed, this mount Sion wherein thou hast dwelt.
3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetuall desolations: even all that the enemy hath done wickedly in the Sanctuary.
4 Thine enemies roar in the midst of thy Congregations: they set up their ensignes for signes.
5 A man was famous according as he had lifted up axes upon the thick trees.
6 But now they break down the carved work thereof at once, with axes and hammers.
7 They have cast fire into thy Sanctuary, they have defiled by casting down the dwelling place of thy Name to the ground.
8 They said in their hearts, Let us destroy them together: they have burnt up all the Synagogues of God in the land.
9 We see not our signes, there is no more any prophet, neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.
10 O God, how long shall the adversary reproach? shall the enemy blaspheme thy Name for ever?
11 Why withdrawest thou thy hand, even thy right hand? pluck it out of thy bosome.
12 For God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.
13 Thou didst divide the Sea by thy strength: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.
14 Thou brakest the heads of Leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness.
15 Thou didst cleave the Fountain and the flood: thou driedst up mighty rivers.
16 The day is thine, the night also is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sun.
17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.
18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O LORD, and that the foolish people have blasphemed thy Name.
19 O deliver not the soul of thy turtle dove unto the multitude of the wicked: forget not the Congregation of thy poor for ever.
20 Have respect unto the Covenant: for the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of cruelty.
21 O let not the oppressed return ashamed: let the poor and needy praise thy Name.
22 Arise, O God, plead thine own cause: remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee daily.
23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: the tumult of those that rise up against thee increaseth continually.

1 The Prophet praiseth God. 2 He promiseth to judge uprightly. 4 He rebuketh the proud, by consideration of Gods providence. 9 He praiseth God, and promiseth to execute justice.

¶ To the chief Musician Al-taschith, A Psalme or Song of Asaph.

UNto thee, O God, do we give thanks, unto thee do we give thanks: for that thy Name is neer, thy wondrous works declare.
2 ¶ When I shall receive the Congregation, I will judge uprightly.
3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: I bear up the pillars of it. Selah.
4 I said unto the fools, Deal not foolishly: and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn.
5 Lift not up your horn on high: speak not with a stiffe neck.
6 For promotion cometh neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South.
7 But God is the Judge: he putteth down one, and setteth up another.
8 For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full of mixture, and he poureth out of the same: but the dregs thereof, all the wicked of the earth shall wring them out, and drink them.
9 But I will declare for ever: I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.
10 All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off, but the horns of the righteous shall be exalted.

1 A declaration of Gods manifold mercies in the Church. 11 An exhortation to serve him reverently.

¶ To the chief Musician on Neginoth, A Psalme or Song of Asaph.

IN Judah is God known: his name is great in Israel.
2 In Salem also is his Tabernacle, and his dwelling place in Sion.
3 There brake he the arrowes of the bow, the shield, and the sword, and the battell. Selah.
4 Thou art more glorious and excellent than the mountains of prey.
5 The stout hearted are spoiled, they have slept their sleep: and none of the men of might have found their hands.
6 At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both the chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep.
7 Thou, even thou art to be feared: and who may stand in thy sight when once thou art angry?
8 Thou didst cause judgement to be heard from heaven: the earth feared, and was still,
9 When God arose to judgement, to save all the meek of the earth. Selah.
10 Surely

20 Surely the smith of sin shall praise thee: the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain.

1 The Psalmist sheweth what fierce combat he had with diffidence. 10 The victory which he had by consideration of Gods great and gracious works.

¶ To the chief Musician, to Jeduthun. A Psalme ‖ of Asaph.

‖ Or, for Asaph.

I Cryed unto God with my voyce: even unto God with my voice, and he gave ear unto me.

2 In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord: † my sore ran in the night, and ceased not: my soul refused to be comforted.

† Heb. my hand.

3 I remembred God, and was troubled: I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed. Selah.

4 Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so troubled that I cannot speak.

5 I have considered the dayes of old, the yeers of ancient times.

6 I call to remembrance my song in the night: I commune with mine own heart, and my spirit made diligent search.

7 Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favourable no more?

8 Is his mercy clean gone for ever? doth his promise fail † for evermore?

† Hebr. to generation & generation.

9 Hath God forgotten to be gracious? hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies? Selah.

10 And I said, This is my infirmity: but I will remember the yeers of the right hand of the most High.

11 I will remember the works of the LORD: surely I will remember thy wonders of old.

12 I will meditate also of all thy work, and talk of thy doings.

13 Thy way, O God, is in the Sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God?

14 Thou art the God that doest wonders, thou hast declared thy strength among the people.

15 Thou hast with thine arm redeemed thy people, the sonnes of Jacob and Joseph. Selah.

16 The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee: they were afraid, the depths also were troubled.

† Heb. the clouds were poured forth with water.

17 † The clouds powred out water, the skies sent out a sound, thine arrows also went abroad.

18 The voyce of thy thunder was in the heaven: the lightnings lightned the world, the earth trembled and shook.

19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy path in the great waters, and thy footsteps are not known.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

1 An exhortation both to learn and to preach the Law of God. 9 The fury of Gods wrath against the incredulous and disobedient. 67 The Israelites being rejected, God chuseth Judah, Sion, and David.

¶ Maschil of Asaph.

‖ Or, A Psalme for Asaph to sing in derision. * Psa. 49.5. and 77.15.

GIve ear, O my people, to my Law: encline your eares to the words of my mouth.

2 * I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark sayings of old:

3 Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.

4 We will not hide them from their children, shewing to the generation to come the praises of the LORD, and his [illegible] wonderfull works that he hath done.

5 For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a Law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers: * that they should make them known to their children.

6 That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born: who should arise and declare them to their children:

7 That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments,

8 And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation † that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not stedfast with God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed, and † carying bows, turned back in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the Covenant of God, and refused to walk in his Law:

11 And forgat his works, and his wonders that he had shewed them.

12 Marvellous things did he in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13 * He divided the Sea, and caused them to pass thorow: and he made the waters to stand as an heap.

14 * In the day time also he led them with a cloud: and all the night with a light of fire.

15 * He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.

16 He brought streams also out of the rock, and caused waters to run down like rivers.

17 And they sinned yet more against him by provoking the most High in the wilderness.

18 And they tempted God in their heart, by asking meat for their lust.

19 * Yea, they spake against God: they said, Can God † furnish a table in the wilderness?

20 * Behold, he smote the rock, that the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed: can he give bread also? can he provide flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the LORD heard this, and was wroth: so a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also came up against Israel,

22 Because they beleeved not in God, and trusted not in his salvation:

23 Though he had commanded the clouds from above: and opened the doors of heaven, 24 * And had rained down Manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven.

25 * ‖ Man did eat Angels food: he sent them meat to the full.

26 He caused an East winde to † blow in the heaven: and by his power he brought in the South winde.

27 He rained flesh also upon them as dust, and † feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea:

28 And he let it fall in the midst of their host, round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own desire.

30 They were not estranged from their lust, but while their meat * was yet in their mouths, 31 The wrath of God came upon them, and slew the fattest of them: and † smote down the ‖ chosen men of Israel.

32 For all this they sinned still, and believed not for his wondrous works.

33 Therefore their dayes did he consume in vanity, and their yeers in trouble.

34 When he slew them, then they and inquired early after God:

remembred that God was their God, their Redeemer.
they did flatter him with their they lied unto him with their tongues.
their heart was not right with him:
were they stedfast in his Covenant.
But he being full of compassion, forgave and destroyed them not; yea, many times turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.
39 For he remembred that they were but flesh;
a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.
40 How oft did they ‖ provoke him in the wilderness: and grieve him in the desert?
41 Yea, they turned back, and tempted God:
and limited the holy One of Israel.
42 They remembred not his hand: nor the day when he delivered them ‖ from the enemy:
43 How he had † wrought his signes in Egypt:
and his wonders in the field of Zoan:
44 * And had turned their rivers into blood:
and their floods, that they could not drink.
45 * He sent divers sorts of flies among them, which devoured them: and frogs which destroied them.
46 He gave also their encrease unto the caterpiller: and their labour unto the locust.
47 * He † destroyed their vines with hail: and their sycomore trees with ‖ frost.
48 † He gave up their cattell also to the hail:
and their flocks to ‖ hot thunderbolts.
49 He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by sending evill angels among them.
50 † He made a way to his anger, he spared not their soul from death: but gave ‖ their life over to the pestilence:
51 * And smote all the first born in Egypt: the chief of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham:
52 But made his own people to go forth like sheep: and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
53 And he led them on safely, so that they feared not: but the sea * † overwhelmed their enemies.
54 And he brought them to the border of his sanctuary: even to this mountain which his right hand had purchased.
55 * He cast out the heathen also before them, and divided them an inheritance by line: and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
56 Yet they tempted and provoked the most high God: and kept not his Testimonies:
57 But turned back, and dealt unfaithfully like their fathers: they were turned aside like a de-ceitfull bow.
58 * For they provoked him to anger with their high places: and moved him to jealousie with their graven images.
59 When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel:
60 * So that he forsook the Tabernacle of Shiloh: the tent which he placed among men, 61 And delivered his strength into captivity:
and his glory into the enemies hand.
62 He gave his people over also unto the sword: and was wroth with his inheritance.
63 The fire consumed their young men: and their maidens were not † given to marriage; 64 Their Priests fell by the sword: and their widows made no lamentation.
65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep: and like a mighty man that shouteth

66 And he smote his enemies in the hinder parts: he put them to a perpetuall reproach.
67 Moreover, he refused the Tabernacle of Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim,
68 But chose the tribe of Judah: the mount
Sion which he loved.
69 And he built his sanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath established for ever.
70 * He chose David also his servant, and took him from the sheep-folds:
71 * † From following the ewes great with young, he brought him to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.
72 So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart: and guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

1 The Psalmist complaineth of the desolation of Jerusalem. 8 He prayeth for deliverance, 13 and promiseth thankfulness.

¶ A Psalme ‖ of Asaph.

O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance, thy holy Temple have they defiled: they have laid Jerusalem on heaps.
2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven: the flesh of thy Saints unto the beasts of the earth.
3 Their blood have they shed like water round about Jerusalem: and there was none to bury them.
4 * We are become a reproach to our neighbours: a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.
5 * How long, LORD, wilt thou be angry, for ever? shall thy jealousie burn like fire?
6 * Powre out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdomes that have not called upon thy Name.
7 For they have devoured Jacob: and laid waste his dwelling place.
8 * O remember not against us ‖ former iniquities, let thy tender mercies speedily prevent us: for we are brought very low.
9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy Name: and deliver us, and purge away our sinnes for thy Names sake.
10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let them be known among the heathen in our sight, by the † revenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed.
11 Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thee: according to the greatness of † thy power preserve thou those that are appointed to die.
12 And render unto our neighbours seven fold into their bosome, their reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

¶ To the chief Musician upon Shoshannim Eduth, A Psalme ‖ of Asaph.

Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock: thou that dwellest between the Cherubims, shine forth.
2 Before Ephraim, and Benjamin, and Manasseh, stir up thy strength, and † come and save us.
3 Turn us again, O God: and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of tears; and givest them tears to drink in great measure.
6 Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themselves.
7 Turn us again, O God of hosts, and cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved.
8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.
9 Thou preparedst room before it: and didst cause it to take deep root, and it filled the land.
10 The hills were covered with the shadow of it: and the boughs thereof were like † the goodly Cedars.

† Heb. the Cedars of God.

12 Why hast thou then broken down her hedges: so that all they which passe by the way do pluck her?
13 The Boar out of the wood doth waste it: and the wilde beast of the field doth devour it.
14 Return, we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down from heaven, and behold, and visit this vine:
15 And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted: and the branch that thou madest strong for thy self.
16 It is burnt with fire, it is cut down: they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.
17 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand: upon the sonne of man, whom thou madest strong for thy self.
18 So will not we go back from thee: quicken us, and we will call upon thy Name.
19 Turn us again, O LORD God of hosts: cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

13 O that my people had hearkened unto me, and Israel had walked in my wayes!
14 I should soon have subdued their enemies, and turned my hand against their adversaries.
15 The haters of the LORD should have ‖ submitted themselves unto him: but their time should have endured for ever.
16 He should have fed them also with the finest of the wheat: and with honey out of the rock should I have satisfied thee.

To the chief Musician upon Gittith. A Psalme ‖ for the sonnes of Korah.

HOW amiable are thy Tabernacles, O LORD of hostes!

2 My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the LORD: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God.

3 Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for her selfe, where she may lay her young, even thine Altars, O LORD of hosts, my King and my God.

4 Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. Selah.

To the chief Musician. A Psalme ‖ for the sonnes of Korah.

LORD, thou hast been ‖ favourable unto thy land: thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob.

2 * Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people: thou hast covered all their sinne. Selah.

3 ‖ Thou hast taken away all thy wrath: † thou hast turned thy selfe from the fiercenesse of thine anger.

4 Turn us, O God of our salvation: and cause thine anger towards us to cease.

5 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?

6 Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoyce in thee?

7 Shew us thy mercy, O LORD: and grant us thy salvation.

8 I will hear what God the LORD will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints: but let them not turn again to folly.

9 Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him: that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercy and truth are met together: righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

11 Truth shall spring out of the earth: and righteousness shall look down from heaven.

12 Yea, the LORD shall give that which is good: and our land shall yeeld her increase.

13 Righteousness shall go before him: and shall set us in the way of his steps.

10 For thou art great, and doest wonderous things: * thou art God alone.

11 * Teach me thy way, O LORD: I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to feare thy Name.

12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and I will glorifie thy Name for evermore.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me: and thou hast delivered my soule from the lowest ‖ hell.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me: and the assemblies of † violent men have sought after my soul: and have not set thee before them.

15 * But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious: long suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth.

16 O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me: give thy strength unto thy servant: and save the sonne of thine handmaid.

17 Shew me a token for good, that they which hate me may see it and be ashamed: because thou LORD hast holpen me, and comforted me.

1 The honor and glory of the Church. 4 The first & last, heaven & the spirit of the members thereof.

A Psalme or Song ‖ for the sonnes of Korah.

HIs foundation is in the holy mountains.

2 The LORD loveth the gates of Sion: more then all the dwellings of Jacob.

3 Glorious things are spoken of thee, O City of God. Selah.

4 I will make mention of Rahab and Babel to them that know me: behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia: this man was born there.

5 And of Zion it shall be said: This and that man was born in her: and the highest himself shall establish her.

6 The LORD shall count when he writeth up the people: that this man was born there. Selah.

7 As well the singers as the players on instruments shall be there: all my springs are in thee.

A prayer and complaint of one very sore troubled.

A Song or Psalme for the sonnes of Korah, to the chief Musician upon Mahalath Leannoth, ‖ Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite.

1 O LORD God of my salvation, I have cried day and night before thee.

2 Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine eare unto my cry.

3 For my soule is full of troubles: and my life draweth nigh unto the grave.

4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no strength.

5 Free among the dead, like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou remembrest no more: and they are cut off ‖ from thy hand.

6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit: in darkenesse, in the deepe.

7 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me: and thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance farre from me: thou hast made me an abomination unto them: ‖ I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 Mine eie mourneth by reason of affliction: LORD, I have called daily upon thee: I have stretched out my hands unto thee.

10 Wilt thou shew wonders to the dead? shall the dead arise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy loving kindnesse be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousnesse in the land of forgetfulnes?

13 But unto thee have I cried, O LORD, and in the morning shall my prayer prevent thee.

14 LORD, why castest thou off my soule? why hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up: while I suffer thy terrours I am distracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath goeth over me: thy terrours have cut me off.

17 They came round about me ‖ daily like water: they compassed me about together.

18 Lover and friend hast thou put farre from me: and mine acquaintance into darkenesse.

1 Moses setting forth Gods providence, 3 considereth of humane frailty, 7 divine displeasure, 10 and brevity of life. 12 He prayeth for the knowledge and sensible experience of Gods good providence.

¶ A prayer of Moses the man of God.

LORD, thou hast been our dwelling place † in all generations.
2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world: even from everlasting to everlasting thou art God.
3 Thou turnest man to destruction: and sayest, Return ye children of men.
4 * For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday, ‖ when it is past: and as a watch in the night.
5 Thou carriest them away as with a flood, they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grass which ‖ groweth up.
6 In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up: in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.
7 For we are consumed by thine anger: and by thy wrath are we troubled.
8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee: our secret sinnes in the light of thy countenance.
9 For all our dayes are † passed away in thy wrath: we spend our years ‖ as a tale that is told.
10 † The dayes of our years are threescore years and ten, and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labour and sorrow: for it is soon cut off, and we flie away.
11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath.
12 So teach us to number our dayes: that we may apply our hearts unto wisdome.
13 Return (O LORD) how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants.
14 O satisfie us early with thy mercy: that we may rejoyce and be glad all our dayes.
15 Make us glad according to the dayes wherein thou hast afflicted us: and the yeers wherein we have seen evill.
16 Let thy work appear unto thy servants: and thy glory unto their children.
17 And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us: and establish thou the work of our hands upon us: yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

…habitation…
…with the shadow of the Almighty.
2 I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortresse: my God, in him will I trust.
3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.
4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.
5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terrour by night: nor for the arrow that flieth by day;
6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness: nor for the destruction that wasteth at noon day.
7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee.
8 Onely with thine eyes shalt thou behold, and see the reward of the wicked.
9 Because thou hast made the LORD, which is my refuge, even the most High thy habitation;
10 There shall no evill befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.
11 * For he shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy wayes.
12 They shall bear thee up in their hands: lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.
13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and ‖ adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.
14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my Name.
15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him, and honour him.
16 With † long life will I satisfie him: and shew him my salvation.

PSAL. XCII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth to praise God, 4 for his great works, 6 for his judgements on the wicked; 10 and for his goodness to the godly.

¶ A Psalme or Song for the Sabboth day.

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD, and to sing praises unto thy Name, O most High:
2 To shew forth thy loving kindnesse in the morning: and thy faithfulnesse † every night:
3 Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the psaltery: upon the ‖ harp with a solemne sound.
4 For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.
5 O LORD, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.
6 A brutish man knoweth not: neither doth a fool understand this.
7 When the wicked spring as the grasse, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish; it is that they shall be destroyed for ever.
8 ¶ But thou, LORD, art most high for evermore.
9 For lo, thine enemies, O LORD, for lo, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.
10 But my horn shalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I shall be anointed with fresh oyl.

that do evil shall flourish; it is that they shall be destroyed for ever:
8 But thou, LORD, art most high for evermore.
9 For, lo, thine enemies, O LORD, for, lo, thine enemies shall perish; all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.
10 But my horn shalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I shall be anointed with fresh oil.
11 Mine eye also shall see my desire on mine enemies, and mine ears shall hear my desire of the wicked that rise up against me.
12 The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree: he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
13 Those that be planted in the house of the LORD shall flourish in the courts of our God.
14 They shall still bring forth fruit in old age; they shall be fat and flourishing;
15 To shew that the LORD is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

PSALM XCIII.

The majesty, power, and holiness of Christ's kingdom.

THE LORD reigneth, he is clothed with majesty: the LORD is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved.
2 Thy throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting.
3 The floods have lifted up, O LORD, the floods have lifted up their voice; the floods lift up their waves.
4 The LORD on high is mightier than the noise of many waters, yea than the mighty waves of the sea.
5 Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine house, O LORD, for ever.

PSALM XCIV.

The prophet calling for justice, complaineth of the cruelty and impiety of the wicked. 8 He reproveth their atheism. 12 He sheweth the blessedness of the afflicted. 16 God is the defender of the afflicted.

O LORD God, to whom vengeance belongeth; O God to whom vengeance belongeth, shew thyself.
2 Lift up thyself, thou Judge of the earth: render a reward to the proud.
3 LORD, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?
4 How long shall they utter, and speak hard things? and all the workers of iniquity boast themselves?
5 They break in pieces thy people, O LORD, and afflict thine heritage.
6 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless.
7 Yet they say, The LORD shall not see, neither shall the God of Jacob regard it.
8 Understand, O ye brutish among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wise?
9 He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? he that formed the eye, shall he not see?
10 He that chastiseth the heathen, shall not he correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, shall not he know?
11 The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.
12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O LORD, and teachest him out of thy law;
13 That thou mayest give him rest from the days of adversity, until the pit be digged for the wicked.
14 For the LORD will not cast off his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.
15 But judgment shall return unto righteousness: and all the upright in heart shall follow it.
16 Who will rise up for me against the evildoers? or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?
17 Unless the LORD had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.
18 When I said, My foot slippeth; thy mercy, O LORD, held me up.
19 In the multitude of my thoughts within me thy comforts delight my soul.
20 Shall the throne of iniquities have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law?
21 They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.
22 But the LORD is my defence; and my God is the rock of my refuge.
23 And he shall bring upon them their own iniquity, and shall cut them off in their own wickedness; yea, the LORD our God shall cut them off.

PSALM XCV.

An exhortation to praise God, 3 for his power, 6 and for his goodness, 7 to serve him.

O Come, let us sing unto the LORD: let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation.
2 Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with Psalms.
3 For the LORD is a great God, and a great King above all gods.
4 In his hand are the deep places of the earth: the strength of the hills is his also.
5 The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.
6 O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the LORD our maker.
7 For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. To-day if ye will hear his voice,
8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness:
9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my work.
10 Forty years long was I grieved with this generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their hearts: and they have not known my ways:
11 Unto whom I sware in my wrath that they should not enter into my rest.

PSALM XCVI.

An exhortation to praise God, 4 for his power, 8 for his kingdom, 11 for his judgments.

O Sing unto the LORD a new song: sing unto the LORD, all the earth.
2 Sing unto the LORD, bless his name; shew forth his salvation from day to day.
3 Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all people.
4 For the LORD is great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.
5 For all the gods of the nations are idols: but the LORD made the heavens.
6 Honour and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
7 Give unto the LORD, O ye kindreds of the people, give unto the LORD glory and strength.
8 Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.
9 O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness: fear before him, all the earth.

¶ A prayer of the afflicted when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

HEar my prayer, O LORD: and let my crying come unto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the day from the trouble, incline thine ear unto me: in the day when I call, answer me speedily.

3 For my dayes are consumed ‖ like smoke: and my bones are burnt as an hearth.

8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day: and they that are mad against me, are ſworn against me.

9 For I have eaten aſhes like bread: and mingled my drink with weeping.

10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou haſt lifted me up, and caſt me down.

11 *My dayes are like a ſhadow that declineth: and I am withered like graſſe.

1 An exhortation to bleſſe God for his mercy, 15 and for the conſtancy thereof.

¶ A Pſalme of David.

BLeſſe the LORD, O my ſoul: and all that is within me, bleſſe his holy Name.

2 Bleſſe the LORD, O my ſoul: and forget not all his benefits.

4 Who redeemeth thy life from deſtruction: who crowneth thee with loving kindneſſe and tender mercies.

5 Who ſatisfieth thy mouth with good things: ſo that thy youth is renewed like the Eagles.

6 The LORD executeth righteouſneſſe and judgement for all that are oppreſſed.

10 He hath not dealt with us after our ſins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

11 For † as the heaven is high above the earth, ſo great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

12 As farre as the Eaſt is from the Weſt, ſo farre hath he removed our tranſgreſſions from us.

13 Like as a father pitieth his children, ſo the LORD pitieth them that fear him.

14 For he knoweth our frame; he remembreth that we are duſt.

18 * To ſuch as keep his Covenant, and to thoſe that remember his Commandements to do them.

19 The LORD hath prepared his throne in the heavens: and his kingdome ruleth over all.

20 Bleſſe the LORD, ye his Angels that excell in ſtrength, that do his Commandements, hearkening unto the voice of his word.

21 Bleſſe ye the LORD, all ye his hoſts: ye miniſters of his that do his pleaſure.

22 Bleſſe the LORD, all his works in all places of his dominion: bleſſe the LORD, O my ſoul.

PSALM CIV.

1 A meditation upon the mighty and wonderfull providence of God, 31 his glory is eternall. 33 The Prophet vowes to praiſe God.

BLeſſe the LORD, O my ſoul. O LORD my God, thou art very great: thou art clothed with honour and majeſty.

2 Who coverеſt thy ſelf with light as with a garment: who ſtretcheſt out the heavens like a curtain.

3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters, who maketh the clouds his chariot, who walketh upon the wings of the wind.

4 * Who maketh his Angels ſpirits, his miniſters a flaming fire.

5 † Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it ſhould not be removed for ever.

6 Thou coveredſt it with the deep as with a garment: the waters ſtood above the mountains.

7 At thy rebuke they fled: at the voice of thy thunder they haſted away.

8 ‖ They go up by the mountains, they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou haſt founded for them.

9 Thou haſt ſet a bound that they may not paſſe over: that they turn not again to cover the earth.

10 † He ſendeth the ſprings into the valleys, which † run among the hills.

11 They give drink to every beaſt of the field: the wilde aſſes † quench their thirſt.

12 By them ſhall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which † ſing among the branches.

13 He watereth the hills from his chambers: the earth is ſatisfied with the fruit of thy works.

…servants of Israel: * that he …out of the earth:
… that maketh glad the heart of …to make his face to shine: and …strengtheneth mans heart.
16 The trees of the LORD are full of sap: the …Cedars of Lebanon which he hath planted;
17 Where the birds make their nests: as for the …fir trees are her houses.
18 The high hills are a refuge for the wilde …and the rocks for the conies.
19 He appointeth the Moon for seasons: the …knoweth his going down.
20 Thou makest darkness, and it is night: wherein …all the beasts of the forrest do creep forth.
21 The young lions roar after their prey, and …their meat from God.
22 The Sunne ariseth, they gather themselves …together: and lay them down in their dens.
23 Man goeth forth unto his work, and to his …labour, untill the evening.
24 O LORD, how manifold are thy works! in …wisdome hast thou made them all: the earth is …full of thy riches.
25 So is this great & wide Sea, wherein are things …creeping innumerable: both small & great beasts.
26 There go the ships, there is that Leviathan, …whom thou hast † made to play therein.
27 * These wait all upon thee: that thou mayst …give them their meat in due season.
28 That thou givest them, they gather: thou …openest thine hand, they are filled with good.
29 Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: …thou takest away their breath, they die, and return …to their dust.
30 Thou sendest forth thy Spirit, they are created: …and thou renewest the face of the earth.
31 The glory of the LORD † shall endure for …ever: the LORD shall rejoyce in his works.
32 He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth: …he toucheth the hills, and they smoak.
33 I will sing unto the LORD as long as I …live: I will sing praise to my God, while I have …my being.
34 My meditation of him shall be sweet: I will …be glad in the LORD.
35 Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth, …and let the wicked be no more: blesse thou …the LORD, O my soul. Praise ye the LORD.

PSAL. CV.

An exhortation to praise God, and to seek our …strength. 7 The fury of Gods providence …upon Joseph, 23 over Jacob in …over Moses deliverance …over the ungratefull …in the wilderness, …

1 * Oh give thanks unto the LORD, call upon his …name: make known his deeds among the …people.
2 Sing unto him, sing Psalmes unto him: talke …ye of all his wonderous works.
3 Rejoyce in his holy Name: † let the heart of …them rejoyce that seek the LORD.
4 Seek the LORD and his strength, seek his …face evermore.
5 Remember his marvellous works that he …hath done, his wonders, and the judgements of …his mouth;
6 O ye seed of Abraham his servant: ye chil…dren of Jacob his chosen.
7 He is the LORD our God: his judgements …are in all the earth.
8 He hath remembred his Covenant for ever, …the word which he commanded to a thousand …generations.
9 * Which Covenant he made with Abraham, …and his oath unto Isaac;
10 And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a …law: and to Israel for an everlasting Covenant;
11 * Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of …Canaan: † the lot of your inheritance:
12 When they were but a few men in number: …yea, very few, and strangers in it.
13 When they went from one nation to another: …from one kingdome to another people.
14 He suffered no man to do them wrong: yea, …he reproved Kings for their sakes:
15 Saying, Touch not mine Anointed: and do …my Prophets no harm.
16 Moreover, he called for a famine upon the …land: he brake the whole staffe of Bread.
17 He sent a man before them: * even Joseph, …who was sold for a servant.
18 * Whose feet they hurt with fetters: † he …was laid in Iron.
19 Untill the time that his word came: the …word of the LORD tried him.
20 * The King sent and loosed him: even the …ruler of the people, and let him go free.
21 * He made him lord of his house: and ruler …of all his † substance:
22 To binde his Princes at his pleasure: and …teach his Senators wisdome.
23 * Israel also came into Egypt, and Jacob …sojourned in the land of Ham.
24 And he increased his people greatly, and …made them stronger then their enemies.
25 * He turned their heart to hate his people: …to deal subtilly with his servants.
26 * He sent Moses his servant: and Aaron …whom he had chosen.
27 * They shewed his † tokens among them: …and wonders in the land of Ham.
28 * He sent darkenesse, and made it dark: and …they rebelled not against his word.
29 * He turned their waters into blood: and …slew their fish.
30 * The land brought forth frogs, yea even …in the chambers of their Kings.
31 * He spake, and there came divers sorts of …flies: and lice in all their coasts.
32 * † He gave them hail for rain: and flaming …fire in their land.
33 He smote their vines also and their figtrees: …and brake the trees of their coasts.
34 * He spake, and the locusts came, and caterpillers, and that without number, 35 And did eat up all the grasse in their land, …and devoured the fruit of their ground.
36 * He smote also all the first borne in their …land: the chief of all their strength.
37 * He brought them forth also with silver and …gold: and there was not one feeble person among …their tribes.
38 * Egypt was glad when they departed: for …the fear of them fell upon them.
39 * He spread a cloud for a covering, and fire …to give light in the night.
40 * The people asked, and he brought quailes, …and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.
41 * He opened the rock, and the waters gushed …out: they ran in the dry places like a river.
42 For he remembred his holy promise, and …Abraham his servant.
43 And he brought forth his people with joy, …and his chosen with gladnesse:

46 * And gave them to be pitied of all those that carried them away captives.

47 Save us, O LORD our God, and gather us from among the heathen, that we may give thanks unto thy holy Name, and triumph in thy praise.

48 Blessed be the LORD God of Israel for ever and ever: and let all the people say, Amen.

PSALM CVI.

1 The Psalmist exhorteth to praise God. 4 He prayeth for pardon of sins, as God did with the fathers. 7 The sins of the people rebellion, and Gods mercy. 47 He concludeth with prayer and praise.

† PRaise ye the LORD, O * give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 * Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD? who can shew forth all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that keep judgment, and he that doth righteousness at all times.

4 Remember me, O LORD, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people: O visit me with thy salvation;

5 That I may see the good of thy chosen, that I may rejoyce in the gladness of thy nation, that I may glory with thine inheritance.

6 * We have sinned with our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.

7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt, they remembred not the multitude of thy mercies; * but provoked him at the sea even at the Red sea.

8 Nevertheless he saved them for his Names sake: that he might make his mighty power to be known.

9 He rebuked the red sea also, and it was dried up: so he led them thorow the depths, as thorow the wilderness.

10 And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them: and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

11 * And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.

12 * Then believed they his words: they sang his praise.

13 * † They soon forgat his works: they waited not for his counsell:

14 * But † lusted exceedingly in the wilderness: and tempted God in the desert.

15 * And he gave them their request: but sent leanness into their soul.

16 * They envied Moses also in the campe: and Aaron the Saint of the LORD.

17 * The earth opened, and swallowed up Dathan: and covered the company of Abiram.

18 * And a fire was kindled in their company: the flame burnt up the wicked.

19 * They made a calf in Horeb: and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they changed their glory into the similitude of an ox that eateth grass.

21 They forgat God their Saviour: which had done great things in Egypt:

22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham: and terrible things by the Red sea.

23 * Therefore he saide that he would destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach: to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.

24 Yea, they despised † the pleasant land: they believed not his word:

25 * But murmured in their tents: and hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD.

26 Therefore he lifted up his hand against them: to overthrow them in the wilderness:

27 † To overthrow their seed also among the nations, and to scatter them in the lands.

28 * They joined themselves unto Baal-peor: and ate the sacrifices of the dead.

29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.

30 * Then stood up Phinees and prayed: and so the plague ceased.

31 And that was counted unto him for righteousness: unto all generations for evermore.

32 * They angred him also at the waters of strife: so that it went ill with Moses for their sakes:

33 Because they provoked his spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips.

34 * They did not destroy the nations concerning whom the LORD commanded them:

35 * But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.

36 And they served their idols: which were a snare unto them.

37 Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils, 38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with blood.

39 Thus were they defiled with their own works: and went a whoring with their own inventions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled against his people: insomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.

41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them were lords over them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were brought into subjection under their hands.

43 * Many times did he deliver them: but they provoked him with their own counsell, and were brought low for their wickedness.

44 Nevertheless he regarded their adversity: when he heard their cry.

45 * And he remembred for them his covenant: and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.

46 He made them also to be pitied of all those that carried them captives.

47 Save us, O LORD our God, and gather us from among the heathen, to give thanks unto thy holy Name: and to triumph in thy praise.

48 Blessed be the LORD God of Israel from everlasting to everlasting: and let all the people say, Amen. Praise ye the LORD.

PSALM CVII.

1 The Psalmist exhorteth the [illegible] to praise God, to observe his [illegible] 4 their wanderings, 10 their [illegible] 33 their fruitfulness, and unfruitfulness of life.

O * Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let the redeemed of the LORD say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy;

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west, from the north, and from the south.

4 They wandred in the wilderness in a solitary way: they found no city to dwell in.

5 Hungry and thirsty: their soul fainted in them.

6 Then they cryed unto the LORD in their trouble: and he delivered them out of their distresses.

7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

8 O that men would praise his wonderfull works to the the longing soul: and fil-with goodness.

in darkness, and in the shadow of rebelled against the words of contemned the counsell of the most High.

brought down with heavy fell down, and there was none to help.
Then they cryed unto the LORD in their
and he saved them out of their distresses.
He brought them out of darkness, and the shadow of death, and brake their bands in sunder.
O that men would praise the LORD for his goodnesse, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men.
For he hath broken the gates of brasse: and cut the barres of iron in sunder.
Fools, because of their transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted.
* Their soul abhorreth all manner of meate:
and they draw neer unto the gates of death.
Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble: he saveth them out of their distresses.
He sent his word, and healed them: and delivered them from their destructions.
O that men would praise the LORD for his goodnesse, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men.
And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving: and declare his works with † rejoycing.
They that go downe to the sea in ships: that occupie by great waters:
These see the works of the LORD: and his wonders in the deep.
For he commandeth, and † raiseth the stormy wind: which lifteth up the waves thereof.
They mount up to the heaven: they go down again to the depths: their soule is melted because of trouble.
They reele to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man: and † are at their wits end.
Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble: and he bringeth them out of their distresses.
He maketh the storm a calme: so that the waves thereof are still.
Then are they glad because they be quiet:
so he bringeth them unto their desired haven.
O that men would praise the LORD for his goodnesse, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men.
Let them exalt him also in the Congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the elders.
He turneth rivers into a wildernesse: and the watersprings into dry ground:
A fruitfull land into † barrennesse: for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein.
He turneth the wildernesse into a standing water: and dry ground into watersprings.
And there he maketh the hungry to dwell: a that they may prepare a city for habitation, And sow the fields, and plant vineyards: that may yield fruits of increase.
He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly: and suffereth not their cattell to decrease.
Againe, they are minished and brought low through oppression, affliction, and sorrow.
He powreth contempt upon princes: and causeth them to wander in the wilderness, where there is no way.
Yet setteth he the poore on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.
The righteous shall see it, and rejoyce:
and all iniquity shall stop her mouth.
Whoso is wise, and will observe these things: even they shall understand the loving kindnesse of the LORD.

1 David inciteth himself to praise God. 5 He prayeth for Gods assistance according to his promisse. 11 His confidence in Gods help.

¶ A Song or Psalme of David.

O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and give praise, even with my glory.
2 Awake psaltery and harp: I my self will awake early.
3 I will praise thee, O LORD, among the people: and I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.
4 For thy mercy is great above the heavens:
and thy truth reacheth unto the † clouds.
5 * Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth:

with thy right hand, and answer me.
7 God hath spoken in his holinesse: I will re-joyce: I will divide Shechem: and mete out the valley of Succoth.
8 Gilead is mine, Manasseh is mine, Ephraim also is the strength of mine head: Judah is my Law-giver.
9 Moab is my washpot, over Edom will I cast out my shoe: over Philistia will I triumph.
10 Who will bring me into the strong city?
who will lead me into Edom?
11 Wilt not thou, O God, who hast cast us off?
and wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our hosts?
12 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.
13 Through God we shall do valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our enemies.

15 Ye are bleſſed of the LORD: which made heaven and earth.
16 The heaven, even the heavens are the LORD: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.
17 The dead praiſe not the LORD: neither any that go down into ſilence.
18 But we will bleſſe the LORD, from this time forth and for evermore. Praiſe the LORD.

PSAL. CXVI.

1 The Pſalmiſt profeſſeth his love and duty to God for his delivery unto. 12 He ſtudieth to be thankfull.

I Love the LORD: becauſe he hath heard my voyce, and my ſupplications.
2 Becauſe he hath enclined his eare unto me:
therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.
3 * The ſorrowes of death compaſſed me, and the paines of hell † gate hold upon me: I found trouble and ſorrow.
4 Then called I upon the Name of the LORD:
O LORD, I beſeech thee, deliver my ſoul.
5 Gracious is the LORD, and righteous: yea
our God is mercifull.
6 The LORD preſerveth the ſimple: I was brought low, and he helped me.
7 Return unto thy reſt, O my ſoul: for the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee.
8 For thou haſt delivered my ſoul from death, mine eyes from teares, and my feet from falling.
9 I will walk before the LORD, in the land of the living.
10 * I believed, therefore have I ſpoken: I was greatly afflicted.
11 I ſaid in my haſte, * All men are liers.
12 What ſhall I render unto the LORD, for all his benefits towards me?
13 I will take the cup of ſalvation: and call upon the Name of the LORD.
14 I will pay my vowes unto the LORD: now in the preſence of all his people.
15 Precious in the ſight of the LORD is the death of his Saints.
16 O LORD, truely I am thy ſervant, I am thy ſervant, and the ſonne of thy hand maid: thou haſt looſed my bonds.
17 I will offer to thee the ſacrifice of thankſgiving: and will call upon the Name of the LORD.
18 I will pay my vowes unto the LORD now
in the preſence of all his people:
19 In the courts of the LORDS houſe, in the midſt of thee, O Jeruſalem. Praiſe ye the LORD.

PSAL. CXVII.

An exhortation to praiſe God for his mercy and truth.

O * Praiſe the LORD, all ye nations: praiſe him all ye people.
2 For his mercifull kindneſſe is great toward us: and the truth of the LORD endureth for ever. Praiſe ye the LORD.

PSAL. CXVIII.

1 An exhortation to praiſe God for his mercies. 5 The Pſalmiſt, by his experience, ſheweth how good it is to truſt in God. 19 Under the type of the Pſalmiſt, the coming of Chriſt in the fleſh is expreſſed.

O * Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: becauſe his mercy endureth for ever.
3 Let Iſrael now ſay: that his mercy endureth
for ever.
4 Let the houſe of Aaron now ſay: that his mercy endureth for ever.
5 Let them now that fear the LORD ſay: that his mercy endureth for ever.
6 I called upon the LORD † in diſtreſſe: the LORD anſwered me, and ſet me in a large place.
7 * The LORD is † on my ſide, I will not fear: what can man do unto me?
8 The LORD taketh my part with them that help me: therefore ſhall I ſee my deſire upon them that hate me.
9 It is better to truſt in the LORD: than put confidence in man.

9 * Is it meete to thank in the LORD, than to put confidence in Princes.

10 All nations compassed me about: but in the Name of the LORD will I † destroy them.

11 They compassed me about, yea, they compassed me about: but in the Name of the LORD I will † destroy them.

12 They compassed me about like bees, they are quenched as the fire of thorns: for in the Name of the LORD I will † destroy them.

13 Thou hast thrust sore at me that I might fall: but the LORD helped me.

14 * The LORD is my strength and song, and is become my Salvation.

15 The voice of rejoycing and salvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous: the right hand of the LORD doth valiantly.

16 The right hand of the LORD is exalted: the right hand of the LORD doth valiantly.

17 I shall not die, but live: and declare the works of the LORD.

18 The LORD hath chastened me sore: but he hath not given me over unto death.

19 Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will go into them, and I will praise the LORD:

20 This gate of the LORD: into which the righteous shall enter.

21 I will praise thee, for thou hast heard me: and art become my Salvation.

22 * The stone which the builders refused, is become the head stone of the corner.

23 † This is the LORD'S doing: it is marvellous in our eyes.

24 This is the day which the LORD hath made: we will rejoyce and be glad in it.

25 Save now, I beseech thee, O LORD: O LORD, I beseech thee, send now prosperity.

26 * Blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the LORD: we have blessed you out of the house of the LORD.

27 God is the LORD, which hath shewed us light, binde the sacrifice with cords: even unto the horns of the Altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee: thou art my God, I will exalt thee.

29 O give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

PSAL. CXIX.

This Psalme containeth many prayers, praises, and professions of obedience.

ALEPH.

1 BLessed are the † undefiled in the way: who walk in the law of the LORD.

2 Blessed are they that keep his Testimonies: and that seek him with the whole heart.

3 They also do no iniquity: they walk in his ways.

4 Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.

5 O that my ways were directed to keep thy Statutes!

6 Then shall I not be ashamed: when I have respect unto all thy Commandments.

7 I will praise thee with uprightness of heart: when I shall have learned † thy righteous judgements.

8 I will keep thy Statutes: O forsake me not utterly.

BETH.

9 Wherewithall shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy Word.

10 With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy 11 Thy Word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O LORD: teach me thy Statutes.

13 With my lips have I declared all the judgements of thy mouth.

14 I have rejoyced in the way of thy Testimonies: as much as in all riches.

15 I will meditate in thy Precepts: and have respect unto thy wayes.

16 I will delight my self in thy Statutes: I will not forget thy Word.

GIMEL.

17 Deal bountifully with thy servant: that I may live and keep thy Word.

18 † Open thou mine eyes: that I may behold wondrous things out of thy Law.

19 * I am a stranger in the earth: hide not thy Commandments from me.

20 My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgements at all times.

21 Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do erre from thy Commandments.

22 Remove from me reproach and contempt: for I have kept thy Testimonies.

23 Princes also did sit, and speak against me: but thy servant did meditate in thy Statutes.

24 Thy Testimonies also are my delight: and † my counsellers.

DALETH.

25 My soul cleaveth unto the dust: quicken thou me according to thy Word.

26 I have declared my wayes, and thou heardest me: * teach me thy Statutes.

27 Make me to understand the way of thy Precepts: so shall I talk of thy wonderous works.

28 My soul † melteth away for heaviness: strengthen thou me according unto thy Word.

29 Remove from me the way of lying: and grant me thy Law graciously.

30 I have chosen the way of truth: thy judgements have I laid before me.

31 I have stuck unto thy Testimonies: O LORD, put me not to shame.

32 I will run the way of thy Commandments: when thou shalt enlarge my heart.

HE.

33 Teach me O LORD, the way of thy Statutes: and I shall keep it unto the end.

34 Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy Law: yea, I shall observe it with my whole heart.

35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments: for therein do I delight.

36 Incline my heart unto thy Testimonies: and not to covetousness.

37 † Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity: and quicken thou me in thy way.

38 Stablish thy Word unto thy servant: who is devoted to thy fear.

39 Turn away my reproach which I fear: for thy judgements are good.

40 Behold, I have longed after thy precepts: quicken me in thy righteousness.

VAU.

41 Let thy mercies come also unto me, O LORD: even thy salvation, according to thy Word.

42 † So shall I have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me: for I trust

43 And take not the word of the truth utterly out of my mouth: for I have hoped [illegible] my Law continually: for [illegible]

45 And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy [illegible]
46 I will speak of thy Testimonies also before [illegible] and will not be ashamed.
47 And I will delight my self in thy Commandments which I have loved.
48 My hands also will I lift up unto thy Commandments which I have loved: and I will meditate in thy Statutes.

ZAIN.

49 Remember the word unto thy servant: upon which thou hast caused me to hope.
50 This is my comfort in my affliction: for thy Word hath quickned me.
51 The proud have had me greatly in derision: yet have I not declined from thy Law.
52 I remembred thy judgements of old, O LORD: and have comforted my self.
53 Horror hath taken hold upon me: because of the wicked that forsake thy Law.
54 Thy Statutes have been my songs, in the house of my pilgrimage.
55 I have remembred thy Name, O LORD, in the night, and have kept thy Law.
56 This I had: because I kept thy Precepts.

CHETH.

57 Thou art my portion, O LORD: I have said that I would keep thy words.
58 I intreated thy † favour with my whole heart: be merciful unto me according to thy Word.
59 I thought on my ways: and turned my feet unto thy Testimonies.
60 I made haste: and delayed not to keep thy Commandments.
61 The snares of the wicked have robbed me: but I have not forgotten thy Law.
62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks unto thee: because of thy righteous judgements.
63 I am a companion of all them that fear thee: and of them that keep thy Precepts.
64 The earth, O LORD, is full of thy mercy: teach me thy Statutes.

TETH.

65 Thou hast dealt well with thy servant, O LORD: according unto thy Word.
66 Teach me good judgement and knowledge: for I have believed thy Commandments.
67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray: but now have I kept thy Word.
68 Thou art good, and doest good: teach me thy Statutes.
69 The proud have forged a lie against me: but I will keep thy Precepts with my whole heart.
70 Their heart is as fat as grease: but I delight in thy Law.
71 It is good for me that I have been afflicted: that I might learn thy Statutes.
72 The Law of thy mouth is better unto me: than thousands of gold and silver.

JOD.

73 Thy hands have made me and fashioned me: O give me understanding, that I may learn thy Commandments.
74 They that fear thee will be glad when they see me: because I have hoped in thy Word.
75 I know, O LORD, that thy judgements are right: and that thou in the faithfulness of thy truth hast caused me to be afflicted.
76 Let, I pray thee, thy merciful kindness be for my comfort: according to thy word unto thy servant.
77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live: for thy Law is my delight.
78 Let the proud be ashamed: for they dealt perversely with me without a cause: but I will exercise my self in thy Precepts.
79 Let those that fear thee turn unto me: and those that have known thy Testimonies.
80 Let my heart be found in thy Statutes: that I be not ashamed.

CAPH.

81 My soul fainteth for thy salvation: but I hope in thy Word.
82 Mine eyes fail for thy Word: saying, When wilt thou comfort me?
83 For I am become like a bottle in the smoke: yet do I not forget thy Statutes.
84 How many are the days of thy servant? when wilt thou execute judgement on them that persecute me?
85 The proud have digged pits for me: which are not after thy Law.
86 All thy Commandments are faithfull: they † Heb. persecute me wrongfully, help thou me. strength.
87 They had almost consumed me upon earth: but I forsook not thy Precepts.
88 Quicken me after thy loving kindness: so shall I keep the Testimony of thy mouth.

LAMED.

89 For ever, O LORD, thy word is setled in heaven.
90 Thy faithfulness is † unto all generations: † Heb. and to all thou hast established the earth and it abideth. generations.
91 They continue this day according to thine ordinances: for all are thy servants.
92 Unless thy Law had been my delights: I should then have perished in my affliction.
93 I will never forget thy Precepts: for with † Heb. them thou hast quickned me. preserved.
94 I am thine, save me: for I have sought thy Precepts.
95 The wicked have waited for me to destroy me: but I will consider thy Testimonies.
96 I have seen an end of all perfection: but thy Commandment is exceeding broad.

MEM.

97 O how love I thy Law! it is my meditation all the day.
98 Thou through thy Commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for † they are ever with me. † Heb. he is ever mine.
99 I have more understanding than all my teachers: for thy Testimonies are my meditation.
100 I understand more than the ancients: because I keep thy Precepts.
101 I have refrained my feet from every evil way: that I may keep thy Word.
102 I have not departed from thy judgements: for thou hast taught me.
103 How sweet are thy words unto my † taste! † Heb. yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth. mouth.
104 Through thy Precepts I get understanding: † Heb. therefore I hate every false way. palate.

NUN.

105 Thy word is a † lamp unto my feet: and a † Or, light unto my path. candle.
106 I have sworn, and I will perform it: that I will keep thy righteous Judgements.
107 I am troubled very much: quicken me, O LORD, according unto thy Word.
108 Accept, I beseech thee, the free-will offerings of my mouth, O LORD: and teach me thy Judgements.
109 My soul is continually in my hand: yet do I not forget thy Law.

110 The

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me: yet I erred not from thy Precepts.

111 Thy Testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever: for they are the rejoycing of my heart.

112 I have enclined my heart † to perform thy Statutes alway, even unto the end. † Heb. to do.

SAMECH.

113 I hate vain thoughts: but thy Law do I love.

114 Thou art my hiding place, and my shield: I hope in thy Word.

115 * Depart from me, ye evill doers: for I will keep the Commandments of my God. * Matth. 7. 23.

116 Uphold me according unto thy Word, that I may live: and let me not be ashamed of my hope.

117 Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe: and I will have respect unto thy Statutes continually.

118 Thou hast troden down all them that erre from thy Statutes: for their deceit is falshood.

119 Thou † puttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross: therefore I love thy Testimonies. † Heb. makest to cease.

120 My flesh trembleth for fear of thee: and I am afraid of thy Judgements.

AIN.

121 I have done judgement and justice: leave me not to mine oppressours.

122 Be surety for thy servant for good: let not the proud oppresse me.

123 Mine eyes fail for thy salvation: and for the word of thy righteousnesse.

124 Deal with thy servant according unto thy mercy: and teach me thy Statutes.

125 I am thy servant, give me understanding: that I may know thy Testimonies.

126 It is time for thee, LORD, to work: for they have made void thy Law.

127 * Therefore I love thy Commandments above gold, yea, above fine gold. * Prov. 8. 10. Psal. 19. 10.

128 Therefore I esteeme all thy precepts concerning all things to be right: and I hate every false way.

PE.

129 Thy Testimonies are wonderfull: therefore doth my soul keep them.

130 The entrance of thy words giveth light: it giveth understanding unto the simple.

131 I opened my mouth, and panted: for I longed for thy Commandments.

132 Look thou upon me, and be mercifull unto me: † as thou usest to do unto those that love thy Name. † Heb. according to the manner to do unto those.

133 Order my steps in thy word: and let not any iniquity have dominion over me.

134 Deliver me from the oppression of man: so will I keep thy Precepts.

135 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant: and teach me thy Statutes.

136 Rivers of waters run down mine eyes: because they keep not thy Law.

TSADDI.

137 Righteous art thou, O LORD: and upright are thy judgements.

138 Thy Testimonies that thou hast commanded are † righteous, and very † faithfull. † Heb. righteousness. † Heb. truth.

139 * My zeal hath † consumed me: because mine enemies have forgotten thy words. * Psal. 69. 9. † Heb. cut me off.

140 Thy word is very † pure: therefore thy servant loveth it. † Heb. tryed, or, refined.

141 I am small and despised: yet do not I forget thy Precepts.

142 Thy righteousnesse is an everlasting righteousnesse: and thy Law is the truth.

143 Trouble and anguish have taken hold on me: yet thy Commandments are my delights.

144 The righteousnesse of thy Testimonies is everlasting: give me understanding, and I shall live.

KOPH.

145 I cryed with my whole heart; hear me, O LORD, I will keep thy Statutes.

146 I cryed unto thee, save me, and I shall keep thy Testimonies.

147 I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cryed: I hoped in thy Word.

148 Mine eyes prevent the night watches, that I might meditate in thy Word.

149 Hear my voyce, according unto thy loving kindnesse: O LORD, quicken me according to thy judgement.

150 They draw nigh that follow after mischief: they are far from thy Law.

151 Thou art neer, O LORD: and all thy Commandments are truth.

152 Concerning thy Testimonies, I have known of old: that thou hast founded them for ever.

RESH.

153 Consider mine affliction, and deliver me: for I do not forget thy Law.

154 Plead my cause, and deliver me: quicken me according to thy Word.

155 Salvation is farre from the wicked: for they seek not thy Statutes.

156 ‖ Great are thy tender mercies, O LORD: quicken me according to thy judgements. ‖ Or, Many.

157 Many are my persecutors, and mine enemies, yet do I not decline from thy Testimonies.

158 I beheld the transgressours, and was grieved: because they kept not thy Word.

159 Consider how I love thy Precepts: quicken me, O LORD, according to thy loving kindnesse.

160 † Thy Word is true from the beginning: and every one of thy righteous judgements endureth for ever. † Heb. The head of thy word.

SCHIN.

161 Princes have persecuted me without a cause: but my heart standeth in awe of thy Word.

162 I rejoyce at thy word: as one that findeth great spoil.

163 I hate and abhorre lying: but thy Law do I love.

164 Seven times a day do I praise thee, because of thy righteous judgements.

165 Great peace have they which love thy Law: and † nothing shall offend them. † Heb. there is not to them a stumbling block.

166 LORD, I have hoped for thy salvation: and done thy Commandments.

167 My soul hath kept thy Testimonies: and I love them exceedingly.

168 I have kept thy Precepts and thy Testimonies: for all my ways are before thee.

TAU.

169 Let my cry come neer before thee, O LORD: give me understanding according to thy Word.

170 Let my supplication come before thee: deliver me according to thy Word.

171 My lips shall utter praise, when thou hast taught me thy Statutes.

172 My tongue shall speak of thy Word: for all thy Commandments are righteousnesse.

173 Let thine hand help me: for I have chosen thy Precepts.

…for the faithfulness of the LORD?
…Lot is my delight.
77 Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee: and let thy judgements help me.
176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep, seek thy servant: for I do not forget thy Commandments.

PSAL. CXX.

1 David prayeth against Doeg, 3 reproveth his tongue, 5 complaineth of his necessary conversation with the wicked.

¶ A Song of degrees.

IN my distresse I cried unto the LORD: and he heard me.
2 Deliver my soul, O LORD, from lying lips: and from a deceitfull tongue.
3 What shall be given unto thee? or what shall be done unto thee, thou false tongue?
4 Sharp arrows of the mighty: with coals of Juniper.
5 Woe is me that I sojourn in Meshech: that I dwell in the tents of Kedar.
6 My soul hath long dwelt with him that hateth peace.
7 I am for peace: but when I speak, they are for warre.

3 It is the sharp arrows of the mighty man, with coals of Juniper. 7 Or, a man of peace.

PSAL. CXXI.

1 The great safety of the godly, who put their trust in Gods protection.

¶ A Song of degrees.

I Will lift up mine eyes unto the hills: from whence cometh my help.
2 My help cometh from the LORD: which made heaven and earth.
3 He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber.
4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel, shall neither slumber nor sleep.
5 The LORD is thy keeper: the LORD is thy shade upon thy right hand.
6 The Sunne shall not smite thee by day: nor the Moon by night.
7 The LORD shall preserve thee from all evill: he shall preserve thy soul.
8 The LORD shall preserve thy going out, and thy coming in: from this time forth, and even for evermore.

PSAL. CXXII.

1 David professeth his joy for the Church, 6 and prayeth for the peace thereof.

¶ A Song of degrees of David.

I Was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the LORD.
2 Our feet shall stand within thy gates O Jerusalem.
3 Jerusalem is builded as a city, that is compact together:
4 Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the LORD, unto the Testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the Name of the LORD.
5 For there are set thrones of judgement: the thrones of the house of David.
6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem; they shall prosper that love thee.
7 Peace be within thy walls: and prosperity within thy palaces.
8 For my brethren and companions sake, I will now say, Peace be within thee.
9 Because of the house of the LORD our God I will seek thy good.

PSAL. CXXIII.

1 The godly depend upon God, 3 and pray to be delivered from contempt.

¶ A Song of degrees.

UNto thee lift I up mine eyes: O thou that dwellest in the heavens.
2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistresse: so our eyes wait upon the LORD our God, until that he have mercy upon us.
3 Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us: for we are exceedingly filled with contempt.
4 Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scorning of those that are at ease: and with the contempt of the proud.

PSAL. CXXIIII.

The Church blesseth God for a marvellous deliverance.

¶ A Song of degrees of David.

IF it had not been the LORD who was on our side, now may Israel say:
2 If it had not been the LORD, who was on our side, when men rose up against us:
3 Then they had swallowed us up quick: when their wrath was kindled against us.
4 Then the waters had overwhelmed us: the streame had gone over our soul.
5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.
6 Blessed be the LORD: who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.
7 Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are escaped.
8 Our help is in the Name of the LORD: who made heaven and earth.

PSAL. CXXV.

1 The safety of such as trust in God. 4 A prayer for the godly, and against the wicked.

¶ A Song of degrees.

THey that trust in the LORD, shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever.
2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem: so the LORD is round about his people from henceforth even for ever.
3 For the rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous: lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.
4 Do good, O LORD, unto those that be good: and to them that are upright in their hearts.
5 As for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways: the LORD shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but peace shall be upon Israel.

PSAL. CXXVI.

1 The Church celebrating her marvellous return out of captivity, 4 prayeth for and prophesieth the good successe thereof.

¶ A Song of degrees.

WHen the LORD turned again the captivity of Zion: we were like them that dream.
2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter: and our tongue with singing: then said they among the heathen, The LORD hath done great things for them.
3 The LORD hath done great things for us: whereof we are glad.
4 Turn again our captivity, O LORD: as the streames in the South.
5 They that sow in teares shall reap in joy.

6 … that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, doubtless come again with rejoycings bringing his sheaves with him.

PSAL. CXXVII.

1 The vanity of Gods blessing. 3 Good children are his gift.

¶ A Song of degrees † for Solomon.

EXcept the LORD build the house, they labour in vain that † build it: except the LORD keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

2 It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of sorrows: for so he giveth his beloved sleep.

3 Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the wombe is his reward.

4 As arrowes are in the hand of a mighty man: so are children of the youth.

5 Happy is the man that † hath his quiver full of them: they shall not be ashamed † but they ‖ shall speak with the enemies in the gate.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

The manifold blessings which follow them that feare God.

¶ A Song of degrees.

BLessed is every one that feareth the LORD, that walketh in his wayes.

2 For thou shalt eat the labour of thine hands: happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as a fruitfull vine by the sides of thine house: thy children like olive plants, round about thy table.

4 Behold, that thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the LORD.

5 The LORD shall bless thee out of Zion: and thou shalt see the good of Jerusalem all the dayes of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children: and peace upon Israel.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 An exhortation to praise God for saving Israel in their great affliction. 5. The haters of the Church are cursed.

¶ A Song of degrees.

MAny a time have they afflicted me from my youth: may Israel now say.

2 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth: yet they have not prevailed against me.

3 The plowers plowed upon my back: they made long their furrows.

4 The LORD is righteous: he hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.

5 Let them all be confounded and turned backe that hate Zion.

6 Let them be as the grasse upon the house-tops: which withereth afore it groweth up:

7 Wherewith the mower filleth not his hand: nor he that bindeth sheaves, his bosome.

8 Neither do they which go by, say, The blessing of the LORD be upon you: we blesse you in the Name of the LORD.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The Psalmist professeth his hope in prayer, 5 and his patience in hope. 7 He exhorteth Israel to hope in God.

¶ A Song of degrees.

OUt of the depths have I cried unto thee, O LORD,

2 Lord, hear my voice: let thine eares be attentive to the voice of my supplications.

3 If thou, LORD, shouldest mark iniquities: O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But there is forgivenesse with thee: that thou mayest be feared.

5 I wait for the LORD, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.

6 My soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning: I say, I say, they that watch for the morning.

7 Let Israel hope in the LORD, for with the LORD there is mercy: and with him is plenteous redemption.

8 And he shall redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 David professing his humility, 3 exhorteth Israel to hope in God.

¶ A Song of degrees of David.

LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty: neither do I † exercise myself in great matters, or in things too † high for me.

2 Surely I have behaved and quieted † myself as a childe that is weaned of his mother: my soule is even as a weaned childe.

3 Let Israel hope in the LORD, † from henceforth and for ever.

PSAL. CXXXII.

1 David in his prayer commendeth unto God his religious care to build for the Ark. 8 He prayeth at the removing of the Ark, 11 with confirmation of Gods promise.

¶ A Song of degrees.

LORD, remember David, and all his afflictions:

2 How he sware unto the LORD, and vowed unto the mighty God of Jacob.

3 Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my house: nor go up into my bed.

4 I will not give sleep to mine eyes, or slumber to mine eye-lids.

5 Until I finde out a place for the LORD, † an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.

6 Lo, we heard of it at Ephratah: we found it in the fields of the wood.

7 We will go into his Tabernacles: we will worship at his foothold.

8 *Arise, O LORD into thy rest: thou, and the Ark of thy strength.

9 Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousnesse: and let thy Saints shout for joy.

10 For thy servant Davids sake turn not away the face of thine Anointed.

11 The LORD hath sworne in truth unto David, he will not turne from it: † Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.

12 If thy children will keep my covenant and my Testimonies that I shall teach them, their children also shall sit upon thy throne for ever.

13 For the LORD hath chosen Zion: he hath desired it for his habitation.

14 This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell, for I have desired it.

15 I will ‖ abundantly blesse her provision: I will satisfie her poore with bread.

16 I will also cloathe her Priests with salvation: and her Saints shall shout aloud for joy.

17 *There will I make the horn of David to bud: I have ordained a ‖ lamp for mine anointed.

18 His enemies will I cloath with shame: but upon himself shall his crowne flourish.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

An exhortation to blisse God.

¶ A song of degrees.

BEhold, blesse ye the LORD, all ye servants of the LORD: which by night stand in the house of the LORD.

2 Lift up your hands ‖ in the Sanctuary: and blesse the LORD.

3 The LORD that made heaven and earth

PSAL. CXXXV.

An exhortation to praise God for his mercy, 5 for his power, 8 for his judgements. 15 The vanity of idols. 19 An exhortation to blisse God.

PRaise ye the LORD, praise ye the Name of the LORD: praise him, O ye servants of the LORD.

2 Ye that stand in the house of the LORD, in the courts of the house of our God.

3 Praise the LORD, for the LORD is good:
sing praises unto his Name, for it is pleasant.

4 For the LORD hath chosen Jacob unto himself: and Israel for his peculiar treasure.

5 For I know that the LORD is great: and that our LORD is above all gods.

6 Whatsoever ‖ LORD pleased, that did he in heaven & in earth: in the seas, & all deep places.

7 * He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth, he maketh lightnings for the rain: he bringeth the winde out of his treasuries.

8 * Who smote the first born of Egypt:
both of men and beast.

9 Who sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt: upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

10 * Who smote great nations: and slew mighty kings:

11 Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og King of Bashan: and all the kingdoms of Canaan:

12 * And gave their land for an heritage: an heritage unto Israel his people.

13 Thy Name, O LORD, endureth for ever:
so thy memorial, O LORD, † throughout all generations.

14 For the LORD will judge his people: and he will repent himself concerning his servants.

15 * The idols of the heathen are silver and gold: the work of mens hands.

16 They have mouths, but they speak not:
eyes have they, but they see not:

17 They have ears, but they hear not: neither is there any breath in their mouths.

18 They that make them are like unto them:
so is every one that trusteth in them.

19 Blesse the LORD, O house of Israel: blesse the LORD, O house of Aaron.

20 Blesse the LORD, O house of Levi: ye that fear the LORD, blesse the LORD.

21 Blessed be the LORD out of Zion: which dwelleth at Jerusalem. Praise ye the LORD.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

An exhortation to give thanks to God for particular mercies.

1 O Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 O give thanks unto the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.

3 O give thanks unto the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.

4 To him alone that doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.

5 * To him that by wisdom made the heavens:
for his mercy endureth for ever. * Gen. 1.1.

6 * To him that stretched out the earth above the waters: for his mercy endureth for ever. * Gen. 1.6. Jere. 10.12.

7 * To him that made great lights: for his mercy endureth for ever. * Gen. 1.14.

8 The Sunne † to rule by day: for his mercy
endureth for ever. † Heb. for the rulings of the day.

9 The Moon and Starres to rule by night: for his mercy endureth for ever.

10 * To him that smote Egypt in their first born: for his mercy endureth for ever. * Exod. 12.29.

11 * And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercy endureth for ever. * Exod. 12.51.

12 With a strong hand, and with a stretched out arme: for his mercy endureth for ever.

13 * To him which divided the Red Sea into parts: for his mercy endureth for ever. * Exod. 14.21. Psal. 78.13.

14 And made Israel to passe thorow the midst of it: for his mercy endureth for ever.

15 * But † ouerthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea: for his mercy endureth for ever. * Exod. 14.27. † Heb. shaked off.

16 * To him which led his people thorow the wilderness: for his mercy endureth for ever. * Exod. 15.22.

17 To him which smote great Kings: for his mercy endureth for ever.

18 * And slew famous Kings: for his mercy endureth for ever.

19 * Sihon King of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for ever. * Num. 21.21.

20 * And Og the King of Bashan: for his mercy endureth for ever. * Num. 21.33.

21 * And gave their land for an heritage: for his mercy endureth for ever. *

22 Even an heritage unto Israel his servant: for his mercy endureth for ever.

23 Who remembred us in our low estate: for his mercy endureth for ever.

24 And hath redeemed us from our enemies:
for his mercy endureth for ever.

25 Who giveth food to all flesh: for his mercy endureth for ever.

26 O give thanks unto the God of heaven: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 David praiseth God for the truth of his word. 6 He prophesieth that the Kings of the earth shall praise God. 7 He professeth his confidence in God.

¶ A Psalme of David.

I will praise thee with my whole heart: before the gods will I sing praise unto thee.

2 I will worship towards thy holy Temple, and praise thy Name, for thy loving kindnesse and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy Name.

3 In the day when I cried, thou answeredst me: and strengthenedst me with strength in my soul.

4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O LORD: when they hear the words of thy mouth.

5 Yea they shall sing in the wales of the LORD: for great is the glory of the LORD.

6 Though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afarre off.

7 Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies: and thy right hand shall save me.

8 The LORD will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

2 David praiseth God for his all-seeing providence, 17 and for his infinite mercies. 19 He abhorreth the wicked. 23 He prayeth for sincerity.

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalme of David.

O LORD thou hast searched me, and known me.

2 Thou knowest my down-sitting, and mine up-rising: thou understandest my thought afar off.

3 Thou † compassest my path, and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my waies.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue: but lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.

5 Thou hast beset me behinde and before: and laid thine hand upon me.

6 Such knowledge is too wonderfull for me: it is high, I cannot attain unto it.

7 Whither shall I go from thy Spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.

9 If I take the wings of the morning: and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea:

10 Even there shall thy hand lead me: and thy right hand shall hold me.

11 If I say, Surely the darknesse shall cover me: even the night shall be light about me.

12 Yea, the darknesse † hideth not from thee, but the night shineth as the day: † the darknesse and the light are both alike to thee.

13 For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's wombe.

14 I will praise thee, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works: and that my soule knoweth † right well.

15 My † substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being unperfect: and in thy book † all my members were written, which † in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them.

17 How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God: how great is the sum of them?

18 If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee.

19 Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye bloody men.

20 For they speak against thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy Name in vain.

21 Do not I hate them, O LORD, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.

23 Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts:

6 Which made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever:

7 Which executeth judgement for the oppressed, which giveth food to the hungry: the LORD looseth the prisoners.

8 The LORD openeth the eyes of the blinde, the LORD raiseth them that are bowed down: the LORD loveth the righteous.

9 The LORD preserveth the strangers, he relieveth the fatherless and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upside down.

10 † The LORD shall reign for ever, even thy God, O Zion, unto all generations: Praise ye the LORD.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth to praise God for his care of the Church, 4 his power, 8 and his mercy. 7 To praise him for his providence: 12 To praise him for his blessings upon the kingdome, 15 for his power over the Elements, 19 and for his ordinances in the Church.

PRaise ye the LORD: for it is good to sing praises unto our God: for it is pleasant, and praise is comely.

2 The LORD doth build up Jerusalem: he gathereth together the out-casts of Israel.

3 He healeth the broken in heart: and bindeth up their ‖ wounds.

4 He telleth the number of the starres: he calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite.

6 The LORD lifteth up the meek: he casteth the wicked down to the ground.

7 Sing unto the LORD with thanksgiving: sing praise upon the harp unto our God:

8 Who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth: who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.

9 † He giveth to the beast his food: and to the young ravens which cry.

10 He delighteth not in the strength of the horse: he taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man.

11 The LORD taketh pleasure in them that fear him: in those that hope in his mercy.

12 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.

13 For he hath strengthened the bars of thy gates: he hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 † He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the † finest of the wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his Commandement upon earth: his word runneth very swiftly.

16 He giveth snow like wooll: he scattereth the hoar frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his ice like morsels: who can stand before his cold?

18 He sendeth out his word, and melteth them: he causeth his winde to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He sheweth † his word unto Jacob: his statutes and his judgements unto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgements, they have not known them. Praise ye the LORD.

PSALM CL.

1 An exhortation to praise God: without limit of place or matter.

PRaise ye the LORD. Praise God in his sanctuary: praise him in the firmament of his power.

2 Praise him for his mighty acts: praise him according to his excellent greatness.

3 Praise him with the sound of the trumpet: praise him with the psaltery and harp.

4 Praise him with the timbrel and dance: praise him with stringed instruments and organs.

5 Praise him upon the loud cymbals: praise him upon the high sounding cymbals.

6 Let every thing that hath breath, praise the LORD. Praise ye the LORD.

¶ THE PROVERBS.

CHAP. I.

1 Proofs of the Proverbs. 7 An exhortation to fear God, and observe his word. 10 To avoid the enticings of sinners. 20 Wisdome complaineth of her contemners. 24 She threateneth her contemners.

THE Proverbs of Solomon the sonne of David, King of Israel,

2 To know wisdome and instruction, to perceive the words of understanding,

3 To receive the instruction of wisdome, justice, and judgement, and [a] equity.

4 To give subtilty to the simple, to the young man knowledge and [b] discretion.

5 A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsells:

6 To understand a Proverb, and [c] the interpretation, the words of the wise, & their dark sayings.

7 ¶ The fear of the LORD is [c] the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdome and instruction.

8 My sonne, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother.

9 For they shall be [d] an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

10 ¶ My sonne, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause:

12 Let us swallow them up alive, as the grave, and whole, as those that go down into the pit:

13 We shall finde all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil:

14 Cast in thy lot among us, let us all have one purse:

15 My sonne, walk not thou in the way with them, refrain thy foot from their path:

16 For their feet run to evill, and make haste to shed blood.

17 Surely in vain the net is spread [e] in the sight of any bird.

18 And they lay wait for their own blood, they lurk privily for their own lives.

19 So are the paths of every one that is greedy of gain; which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.

20 Wisdome crieth without; she uttereth her voice

21 She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates: in the city she uttereth her words, saying,

22 How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scorners delight them in scorning, and fools hate knowledge?

23 Turn you at my reproof, behold, I will powre out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

24 ¶ Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, & no man regarded;

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsell, and would none of my reproof:

26 I also will laugh at your calamity, I will mock when your fear cometh,

27 When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwinde; when distresse and anguish cometh upon you:

28 Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answere; they seek me early, but they shall not finde me:

29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the fear of the LORD.

30 They would none of my counsell: they despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkeneth unto me, shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evill.

CHAP. II.

1 Wisdome promiseth guidance in the obedient, and safety from evill company, 20 and direction to good ways.

MY sonne, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my Commandements with thee;

2 So that thou incline thine eare unto wisdome, and apply thine heart to understanding;

3 Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and lift up thy voice for understanding;

4 If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures;

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and finde the knowledge of God.

6 For the LORD giveth wisdome: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.

7 He layeth up sound wisdome for the righteous: he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly.

the paths of judgement, and preserveth the way of his Saints.

9 Then shalt thou understand righteousness, and judgement, and equity; yea, every good path.

10 ¶ When wisdome entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul;

11 Discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee:

12 To deliver thee from the way of the evill man, from the man that speaketh froward things.

13 Who leave the paths of uprightnesse, to walk in the wayes of darknesse.

14 Who rejoyce to do evill, and delight in the frowardnesse of the wicked.

15 Whose wayes are crooked, and they froward in their paths:

16 To deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words:

17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.

18 For her house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead:

19 None that go unto her, returne again; neither take they hold of the paths of life.

20 That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous.

21 For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it.

22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressours shall be rooted out of it.

CHAP. III.

An exhortation to obedience, 5 to faith, 7 to mortification, 9 to devotion, 11 to patience. 13 The happy gain of wisdome. 19 The power, 21 and the benefits of wisdome. 27 An exhortation to charitablenesse, 30 peaceablenesse, 31 and contentednesse. 33 The cursed state of the wicked.

MY sonne, forget not my law: but let thine heart keep my commandments:

2 For length of dayes, and long life, and peace shall they adde to thee.

3 Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck, write them upon the table of thine heart.

4 So shalt thou finde favour, and good understanding in the sight of God, and man.

5 ¶ Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding.

6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.

7 ¶ Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the LORD, and depart from evill.

8 It shall be health to thy navill, and marrow to thy bones.

9 Honour the LORD with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase;

10 So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine.

11 ¶ My sonne, despise not the chastening of the LORD: neither be weary of his correction.

12 For whom the LORD loveth, he correcteth, even as a father the sonne, in whom he delighteth.

13 ¶ Happy is the man that findeth wisdome, and the man that getteth understanding.

14 For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold.

15 She is more precious than rubies: and all the things thou canst desire are not to be compared unto her.

16 Length of dayes is in her right hand; and in her left hand riches and honour.

17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her, and happy is every one that retaineth her.

19 The LORD by wisdome hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.

21 ¶ My sonne, let not them depart from thine eyes: keep sound wisdome and discretion:

22 So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck.

23 Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.

24 When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.

25 Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of desolation of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the LORD shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken.

27 ¶ Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.

28 Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to morrow I will give; when thou hast it by thee.

29 Devise not evill against thy neighbour, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.

30 ¶ Strive not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm.

31 ¶ Envie thou not the oppressour, and choose none of his ways.

32 For the froward is abomination to the LORD: but his secret is with the righteous.

33 ¶ The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the just.

34 Surely he scorneth the scorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.

35 The wise shall inherit glory: but shame shall be the promotion of fools.

CHAP. IIII.

Solomon, to perswade obedience, 5 by his own affection he had of his parents, 9 to get wisdome, 14 and to shun the path of the wicked, 18 which shineth to a perfect day, 23 and sanctification of the heart.

HEAR, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law.

3 For I was my father's sonne, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.

4 He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live.

5 Get wisdome, get understanding: forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.

7 Wisdome is the principal thing; therefore get wisdome: and with all thy getting get understanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee:

CHAP. V.

Solomon exhorteth to the ſtudy of wiſdome. 3 He ſhewes the miſchiefe of whoredome and vice. 15 He exhorts to contentednes, liberality, and chaſtitie. 22 The wicked are overtaken with their own

MY ſonne, attend unto my wiſdome, and bow
…thine ear to my underſtanding.
…That thou mayeſt regard diſcretion, and that
…lips may keep knowledge.
…For the lips of a ſtrange woman drop as …Leſt thou give thine honour unto others, and

…Let thy fountains be diſperſed abroad, and rivers of waters in the ſtreets.
…Let them be only thine own, and not ſtrangers with thee.
…Let thy fountain be bleſſed: and rejoyce with the wife of thy youth.
…Let her be as the loving Hinde and pleaſant Roe: let her breaſts ſatisfie thee at all times, and be thou ravyſhed always with her love.
…And why wilt thou, my ſonne, be ravyſhed with a ſtrange woman, and embrace the boſome of a ſtranger?
…For the wayes of man are before the eyes of the LORD: and he pondereth all his goings.
…His own iniquities ſhall take the wicked himſelfe, and he ſhall be holden with the cords of his ſinnes.
…He ſhall die without inſtruction, and in the greatneſſe of his folly he ſhall go aſtray.

CHAP. VI.

Againſt ſuretyſhip, 6 ſlouth, 12 and naughtineſſe. 16 Seven things hateful to God. 20 The bleſſings of obedience. 25 The miſchiefe of whoredome.

MY ſonne, if thou be ſurety for thy friend, if thou haſt ſtricken thy hand with a ſtranger,
…Thou art ſnared with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.
…Do this now, my ſonne, and deliver thy ſelfe, when thou art come into the hand of thy friend: go, humble thy ſelfe, and make ſure thy friend.
…Give not ſleep to thine eyes, nor ſlumber to thine eye-lids.
…Deliver thy ſelfe as a Roe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
…Go to the Ant, thou ſluggard, conſider her wayes, and be wiſe.
…Which having no guide, overſeer, or ruler,
…Provideth her meat in the ſummer, and gathereth her food in the harveſt.
…How long wilt thou ſleep, O ſluggard? when wilt thou ariſe out of thy ſleep?
…Yet a little ſlep, a little ſlumber, a little folding of the hands to ſleep.
…So ſhall thy poverty come as one that traveleth, and thy want as an armed man.
…A naughty perſon, a wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.
…He winketh with his eyes, he ſpeaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his fingers.
…Froward diſcrefie is in his heart, he deviſeth miſchief continually, he ſoweth diſcord.
…Therefore ſhall his calamity come ſuddenly; ſuddenly ſhall he be broken without remedy.
…These ſix things doth the LORD hate; yea ſeven are an abomination unto him:
…A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that ſhed innocent blood;
…An heart that deviſeth wicked imaginations, feet that be ſwift in running to miſchief;
…A falſe witneſſe that ſpeaketh lies, and him that ſoweth diſcord among brethren.
…My ſonne, keep thy father's commandment, and forſake not the law of thy mother:

22 When thou commeſt, it ſhall lead thee; when thou ſleepeſt, it ſhall keep thee; and when thou awakeſt, it ſhall talk with thee.

23 [a] For the Commandment is a [b] lampe, and the Law is light: and reproofs of inſtruction are the way of life:

24 [c] To keep thee from the evill woman, from the flattery [d] of the tongue of a ſtrange woman.

25 [e] Luſt not after her beauty in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her eye-lids.

26 For by meanes of a whorish woman, a man is [f] brought to a piece of bread: and the [f] adulteresſe will hunt for the precious life.

27 Can a man take fire in his boſome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife: whoſoever toucheth her, ſhall not be innocent.

30 Men do not deſpiſe a thief, if he ſteal to ſatisfie his ſoul, when he is hungry:

31 But if he be found, he ſhall reſtore ſeven fold, he ſhall give all the ſubſtance of his houſe.

32 But whoſo committeth adultery with a woman, lacketh [g] underſtanding: he that doth it, deſtroyeth his own ſoul.

33 A wound and diſhonour ſhall he get, and his reproach ſhall not be wiped away.

34 For jealouſie is the rage of a man: therefore he will not ſpare in the day of vengeance.

35 [h] He will not regard any ranſome; neither will he reſt content, though thou giveſt many gifts.

CHAP. VII.

1 Solomon perſwadeth to a ſtedfaſt and kinde familiarity with wiſdome. 6 In an example of his owne experience, he ſheweth 10 the cauſes of a whore, 22 and the deſperate ſimplicity of a young man. 24 He diſſwadeth from ſuch wickedneſſe.

MY ſonne, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee.

2 [i] Keep my commandments, and live: and my law as the apple of thine eye.

3 Binde them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart.

4 Say unto wiſdome, Thou art my ſiſter, and call underſtanding thy kinſwoman,

5 [k] That they may keep thee from the ſtrange woman, from the ſtranger which flattereth with her words.

6 ¶ For at the window of my houſe I looked thorow my caſement,

7 And beheld among the ſimple ones, I diſcerned among [l] the youths, a young man void of underſtanding,

8 Paſſing thorow the ſtreet neer her corner, and he went the way to her houſe,

9 In the twilight [m] in the evening, in the black and dark night:

10 And behold, there met him a woman, with the attire of an harlot, and ſubtill of heart.

11 ([n] She is loud and ſtubborn, her feet abide not in her houſe:

12 Now ſhe is without, now in the ſtreets, and lieth in wait at every corner)

13 So ſhe caught him, and kiſſed him, and [o] with an impudent face ſaid unto him, 14 I have [p] peace-offerings with me; this day have I payed my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to ſeek thy face, and I have found thee.

16 I have deckt my bed with coverings of tapeſtry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt.

17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrhe, aloes, and cynamon.

18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning, let us ſolace our ſelves with loves.

19 For the good man is not at home, he is gone a long journey.

20 He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the [q] day appointed.

21 With much fair ſpeech ſhe cauſed him to yeeld, with the flattering of her lips ſhe forced him.

22 He goeth after her [r] ſtraightway, as an ox goeth to the ſlaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the ſtocks, 23 Till a dart ſtrike thorow his liver, as a bird haſteth to the ſnare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.

24 ¶ Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not aſtray in her paths.

26 For ſhe hath caſt down many wounded: yea many ſtrong men have been ſlain by her.

27 [t] Her houſe is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The fame, 6 and evidence of wiſdome: 10 her counſell, 12 the nature, 15 the power, 18 the riches, 22 and the eternity of wiſdome. 32 It is to be deſired for the bleſſedneſſe it is knowne to bring.

DOth [u] not wiſdome cry? and underſtanding put forth her voice?

2 She ſtandeth in the top of high places, by the way in the places of the paths.

3 She cryeth at the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors.

4 Unto you, O men, I call, and my voice is to the ſonnes of man.

5 O ye ſimple, underſtand wiſdome: and ye fools, be ye of an underſtanding heart.

6 Hear, for I will ſpeak of excellent things, and the opening of my lips ſhall be right things.

7 For my mouth ſhall ſpeak truth, and wickedneſſe is [x] an abomination to my lips.

8 All the words of my mouth are in righteouſneſſe, there is nothing [y] froward or perverſe in them.

9 They are all plain to him that underſtandeth: and right to them that finde knowledge.

10 Receive my inſtruction, and not ſilver; and knowledge rather than choice gold.

11 [z] For wiſdome is better than rubies; and all the things that may be deſired, are not to be compared to it.

12 I wiſdome dwell with [a] prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions.

13 The fear of the LORD is to hate evil: pride and arrogancie, and the evill way, and the froward mouth do I hate.

14 Counſell is mine, and ſound wiſdome: I am underſtanding, I have ſtrength.

15 By me Kings reign, and Princes decree juſtice.

16 By me Princes rule, and Nobles, even all the Judges of the earth.

17 I love them that love me, and those that ſeek me early, ſhall finde me.

18 [b] Riches and honour are with me, yea durable riches and righteouſneſſe.

19 [c] My fruit is better than fine gold, yea than pure gold, and my revenue than chooſe ſilver.

20 I [d] lead in the way of righteouſneſſe, in the midſt of the paths of judgement:

[u] Heb. doth not wiſdome cry, and underſtanding put forth her voice?
[x] Heb. an abomination to my lips.
[y] Or, perverſe.
[z] Heb. better than rubies; and all the things that may be deſired, are not to be compared to it.
[a] Heb. with ſubtilty.
[b] Heb. Riches and honour are with me, yea durable riches and righteouſneſſe.
[c] My fruit is better than fine gold, yea than pure gold, and my revenue than chooſe ſilver.
[d] Heb. lead in the way of righteouſneſſe, in the midſt of the paths of judgement.

…may could thrust thine love me to in-
… and I will fill thine treasures.
23 The LORD possessed me in the beginning of … before his works of old.
24 I was set up from everlasting, from the be…ginning, or ever the earth was.
25 When there were no depths, I was brought …forth: when there were no fountains abounding
…with waters.
26 Before the mountains were settled: before
…the hills was I brought forth:
27 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor
…the fields, nor the b highest part of the dust of the …world.
28 When he prepared the heavens, I was there:
…when he set c a compass upon the face of the depth:
29 When he established the clouds above: when …he strengthened the fountains of the deep:
30 When he gave to the sea his decree, that
…the waters should not pass his commandment:
…when he appointed the foundations of the earth:
31 Then I was by him, as one brought up with …him: and I was daily his delight, rejoycing al…ways before him:
32 Rejoycing in the habitable part of his earth,
…and my delights were with the sons of men.
33 Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye chil…dren: for blessed d are they that keep my ways.
34 Hear instruction, & be wise, and refuse it not.
35 Blessed is the man that heareth me: watch…ing daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my …doors.
36 For whoso findeth me, findeth life, and shall …obtain favour of the LORD.
37 But he that sinneth against me, wrongeth his …own soul: all they that hate me, love death.

CHAP. IX.

The difference of wisdom and folly. 13 The odious, 16 and erroneous of folly.

1 WISDOM hath builded her house: she hath …hewed out her seven pillars.
2 She hath killed e her beasts; she hath mingled …her wine; she hath also furnished her table.
3 She hath sent forth her maidens: she crieth
…upon the highest places of the city, 4 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: as …for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to
…him,
5 Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the …wine which I have mingled.
6 Forsake the foolish, and live; and go in the …way of understanding.
7 He that reproveth a scorner, getteth to him…self shame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man,
…getteth himself a blot.
8 Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee: re…buke a wise man, and he will love thee.
9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be …yet wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in …learning.
10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of …wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is un…derstanding.
11 For by me thy days shall be multiplied:
…and the years of thy life shall be increased.
12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy …self: but if thou scornest, thou alone shalt
…bear it.
13 A foolish woman is clamorous: she is …simple, and knoweth nothing.
14 For she sitteth at the door of her house,
…on a seat in the high places of the city, 15 To call passengers who go right on their …ways:
16 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither:
…and as for him that wanteth understanding, she
…saith to him,
17 Stolen waters are sweet, and bread f eaten
…in secret is pleasant.
18 But he knoweth not that the dead are there,
…and that her guests are in the depths of hell.

CHAP. X.

From this chapter to the five and twentieth, are finely observations of manners, sayings, and sentences;

1 THE proverbs of Solomon. a A wise son
…maketh a glad father: but a foolish son is
…the heaviness of his mother.
2 b Treasures of wickedness profit nothing:
…but righteousness delivereth from death.
3 c The LORD will not suffer the soul of the …righteous to famish: but he casteth away d the …substance of the wicked.
4 e He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack
…hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.
5 He that gathereth in summer, is a wise son:
…but he that sleepeth in harvest, is a son that caus-
…eth shame.
6 Blessings are upon the head of the just: but …violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.
7 g The memory of the just is blessed: but the …name of the wicked shall rot.
8 The wise in heart will receive commandments:
…but a h prating fool i shall fall.
9 k He that walketh uprightly, walketh surely:
…but he that perverteth his ways, shall be known.
10 l He that winketh with the eye, causeth sor…row: but a prating fool i shall fall.
11 b The mouth of a righteous man is a well
…of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the …wicked.
12 c Hatred stirreth up strifes: but love cover-
…eth all sins.
13 In the lips of him that hath understanding,
…wisdom is found: a but a rod is for the back of
…him that is void of d understanding.
14 Wise men lay up knowledge: but the mouth …of the foolish is near destruction.
15 e The rich man's wealth is his strong city:
…the destruction of the poor is their poverty.
16 The f labour of the righteous tendeth to life:
…the fruit of the wicked to sin.
17 He is in the way of life that keepeth instruc…tion: but he that refuseth reproof, erreth.
18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and …he that uttereth a slander, is a fool.
19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not …sin: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise.
20 The tongue of the just is as choice silver: the …heart of the wicked is little worth.
21 The lips of the righteous feed many: but …fools die for want g of wisdom.
22 The blessing of the LORD it maketh rich,
…and he addeth no sorrow with it.
23 h It is as sport to a fool to do mischief:
…but a man of understanding hath wisdom.
24 The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon …him: but i the desire of the righteous shall be granted.
25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked
…no more: but the righteous is an everlasting
…foundation.
26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to …the eyes, so is the sluggard to them that send him.
27 k The fear of the LORD prolongeth days:
…but the years of the wicked shall be shortened.
28 l The hope of the righteous shall be gladness:
…but the expectation of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the LORD is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

30 [a] The righteous shall never be removed: but the wicked shall not inhabit the earth.

31 The mouth of the just bringeth forth wisdome: but the froward tongue shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh b frowardnesse.

CHAP. XI.

A Ed False balances are abomination to the LORD: but [c] a just weight is his delight.

2 [d] When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdome.

3 [e] The integrity of the upright shall guide them: but the perverseness of transgressours shall destroy them.

4 [h] Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but righteousnesse deliverеth from death.

5 The righteousnesse of the perfit shall i direct his way: but the wicked shall fall by his own wickednesse.

6 [k] The righteousnesse of the upright shall deliver them: but transgressours shall be taken in their own naughtinesse.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish: and the hope of unjust men perisheth.

8 [l] The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead.

9 [m] An hypocrite with his mouth destroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge shall the just be delivered.

10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoyceth: and when the wicked perish, there is shouting.

11 By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that is [n] void of wisdome, despiseth his neighbour: but a man of understanding holdeth his peace.

13 [o] A tale-bearer revealeth secrets: but he that is of a faithfull spirit, concealeth the matter.

14 [p] Where no counsell is, the people fall: but in the multitude of counsellers there is safety.

15 He that is surety for a stranger, shall smart for it: and he that hateth [r] suretiship, is sure.

16 A gracious woman retaineth honour: and strong men retain riches.

17 The mercifull man doth good to his own soul: but he that is cruell, troubleth his own flesh.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull work: but to him that soweth righteousnesse, shall be a sure reward.

19 As righteousnesse tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evill, pursueth it to his own death.

20 They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the LORD, but such as are upright in their way, are his delight.

21 Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.

22 As a jewell of gold in a swines snout, so is a fair woman which is without discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is only good: but the expectation of the wicked is wrath.

24 There is [s] that scattereth, and yet increaseth: and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty.

25 [t] The liberall soule shall be made fat: and he that watereth, shall be watered also himself.

26 He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him: but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.

27 [x] He that diligently seeketh good procureth favour: but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shall fall: but the [y] righteous shall flourish as a branch.

29 He that troubleth his own house, shall inherit the wind: and the fool shall be servant to the wise of heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that [z] winneth souls is wise.

31 [a] Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: much more the wicked and the sinner.

CHAP. XII.

WHoso loveth instruction loveth knowledge: but he that hateth reproof, is brutish.

2 A good man obtaineth favour of the LORD: but a man of wicked devices will he condemn.

3 A man shall not be established by wickednesse: but the [b] root of the righteous shall not be moved.

4 [c] A vertuous woman is a crowne to her husband: but she that maketh ashamed is as rottennesse in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceit.

6 [d] The words of the wicked are of lying in wait for blood: but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.

7 [e] The wicked are overthrown, and are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended according to his wisdome: but he that is [f] of a perverse heart shall be despised.

9 He that is despised and hath a servant, is better than he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the g tender mercies of the wicked are cruell.

11 [h] He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth after vaine persons is void of understanding.

12 The wicked desireth the net of evill men: but the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.

13 [i] The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips: but the just shall come out of trouble.

14 [m] A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth: and the recompence of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.

15 [n] The way of a fool is right in his own eyes: but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise.

16 A fools wrath is [o] presently known: but a prudent man coverеth shame.

17 [p] He that speaketh truth, sheweth forth righteousnesse: but a false witnesse deceit.

18 [q] There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword: but the tongue of the wise is health.

19 The lip of truth shall be established for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

20 Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evill: but to the counsellers of peace is joy.

21 There shall no evill happen to the just: but the wicked shall be filled with mischief.

22 Lying lips are abomination to the LORD: but they that deal truly, are his delight.

23 [r] A prudent man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishnesse.

24 [s] The hand of the diligent shall bear rule: but the [t] slothfull shall be under tribute.

14 The law of the wise is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death.

15 Good understanding giveth favour: but the way of transgressours is hard.

16 Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge: but a fool [m] layeth open his folly.

17 A wicked messenger falleth into mischief: but the faithfull ambassadour is health.

18 Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth reproof, shall be honoured.

19 The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul: but it is abomination to fools to depart from evil.

20 He that walketh with wise men, shall be wise: but a companion of fools [n] shall be destroyed.

21 Evill pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be rewarded.

22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children: and the [o] wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just.

25 The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Every wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish plucketh it down with her hands.

2 He that walketh in his uprightnesse, feareth the Lord: but he that is perverse in his wayes,

3 In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride: but the lips of the wise shall preserve them.

4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increase is by the strength of the ox.

5 [p] A faithfull witnesse will not lie: but a false witnes will utter lies.

6 A scorner seeketh wisdome, and findeth it not: but [q] knowledge is easie unto him that understandeth.

7 Go from the presence of a foolish man, when thou perceivest not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdome of the prudent is to understand his way: but the folly of fools is deceit.

9 Fools make a mock at [w] sinne: but among the righteous there is favour.

10 The heart knoweth [x] his own bitternesse; and a stranger doth not intermeddle with his joy.

11 The house of the wicked shall be overthrown: but the tabernacle of the upright shall flourish.

12 [y] There is a way which seemeth right unto a man: but the end thereof are the wayes of death.

13 Even in laughter the heart is sorrowfull; and the end of that mirth is heavinesse.

14 The backslider in heart shall be [z] filled with his owne wayes: and a good man shall be satisfied from himself.

15 The simple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going.

16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from evill: but the foole rageth, and is confident.

17 He that is soon angry, dealeth foolishly: and a man of wicked devices is hated.

18 The simple inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The evill bow before the good: and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

20 [a] The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: but [b] the rich hath many friends.

21 He that despiseth his neighbour, sinneth: [c] but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he.

22 Do they not erre that devise evill? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good.

23 In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.

24 The crowne of the wise is their riches: but the foolishnesse of fools is folly.

25 [d] A true witnesse delivereth soules: but a deceitfull witnesse speaketh lies.

26 In the feare of the LORD is strong confidence: and his children shall have a place of refuge.

27 [e] The feare of the LORD is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of people is the King's honour: but in the want of people is the destruction of the Prince.

29 He that is slow to wrath, is of great understanding: but he that is [f] hasty of spirit, exalteth folly.

30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but envy the rottennesse of the bones.

31 [g] He that oppresseth the poor, reproacheth his Maker: but he that honoureth him, hath mercy on the poor.

32 The wicked is driven away in his wickednesse: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdome resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding: but that which is in the midst of fools is made known.

34 Righteousnesse exalteth a nation: but sinne is a reproach [h] to any people.

35 The King's favour is toward a wise servant: but his wrath is against him that causeth shame.

CHAP. XV.

A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stirre up anger.

2 The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools [b] powreth out [c] foolishnesse.

3 [d] The eyes of the LORD are in every place, beholding the evill and the good.

4 [e] A wholsome tongue is a tree of life: but perverseness therein is a breach in the spirit.

5 [f] A fool despiseth his father's instruction: but he that regardeth reproof is prudent.

6 In the house of the righteous is much treasure: but in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.

7 The lips of the wise disperse knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doth not so.

8 [g] The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD: but the prayer of the upright is his delight.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the LORD: but he loveth him that followeth after righteousnesse.

10 [h] Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way: and he that hateth reproof, shall die.

11 [i] Hell and destruction are before the LORD: how much more then the hearts of the children of men?

12 A scorner loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wise.

13 [k] A merry heart maketh a cheerfull countenance: but by sorrow of the heart the spirit is broken.

14 The heart of him that hath understanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of fools feedeth on foolishnesse.

15 All the dayes of the afflicted are evill: but he that is of a merry heart, hath a continuall feast.

16 [l] Better is a little with the feare of the LORD, then great treasure, and trouble therewith.

17 [m] Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, then a stalled ox, and hatred therewith.

18 [n] A wrathfull man stirreth up strife: but he that is slow to anger, appeaseth strife.

19 The way of the slothfull man is as an hedge of thorns: but the way of the righteous is made plain.

20 [o] A wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 [p] Folly is joy to him that is [r] destitute of wisdome: but a man of understanding walketh uprightly.

22 [q] Without counsell purposes are disappointed: but in the multitude of counsellers they are established.

23 A man hath joy by the answer of his mouth: and a word spoken [t] in due season, how good is it?

24 [u] The way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath.

25 [x] The LORD will destroy the house of the proud: but he will establish the border of the widow.

26 [y] The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the LORD: but the words of the pure are [z] pleasant words.

27 He that is greedy of gain, troubleth his own house: but he that hateth gifts, shall live.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but the mouth of the wicked powreth out evill things.

29 [a] The LORD is farre from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes rejoyceth the heart: and a good report maketh the bones fat.

31 The ear that heareth the reproof of life, abideth among the wise.

32 He that refuseth [b] instruction, despiseth his own soul: but he that [c] heareth reproof getteth understanding.

33 The feare of the LORD is the instruction of wisdome, and [e] before honour is humility.

CHAP. XVI.

THe [f g] preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the LORD.

2 [h] All the wayes of a man are clean in his own eies: but the LORD weigheth the spirits.

3 [i k] Commit thy works unto the LORD, and thy thoughts shall be established.

4 The LORD hath made all things for himself: yea even the wicked for the day of evill.

5 [m] Every one that is proud in heart, is an abomination to the LORD: though hand to hand, he shall not be [n] unpunished.

6 By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the feare of the LORD men depart from evill.

7 When a mans wayes please the LORD, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.

8 [o] Better is a little with righteousnesse, than great revenues without right.

9 [p] A mans heart deviseth his way: but the LORD directeth his steps.

10 [q] A divine sentence is in the lips of the king: his mouth transgresseth not in judgement.

11 [r] A just weight and balance are the LORD's: all the weights of the bag are his work.

12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickednes: for the throne is established by righteousnesse.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings; and they love him that speaketh right.

14 The wrath of a King is as messengers of death: but a wise man will pacifie it.

15 In the light of the King's countenance is life: and [t] his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.

16 [u] How much better is it to get wisdome than gold? and to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver?

17 The high way of the upright is to depart from evill: he that keepeth his way preserveth his soul.

18 [x] Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall.

19 Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoile with the proud.

20 [y] He that handleth a matter wisely, shall finde good: and whoso [z] trusteth in the LORD, happy is he.

21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent: and the sweetnes of the lips increaseth learning.

22 [a] Understanding is a well of life unto him that hath it: but the instruction of fools is folly.

23 The heart of the wise [b] teacheth his mouth, and addeth learning to his lips.

24 Pleasant words are as an honey combe, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.

25 [c] There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the ends thereof are the wayes of death.

26 [d] He that labmoureth, laboureth for him: for his mouth [e] craveth it of him.

27 [f] An ungodly man diggeth up evill: and in his lips there is as a burning way of a man is right in his own eyes: but the LORD pondereth the hearts.

3 To do justice and judgement, is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.

4 An high look, and a proud heart, and the plowing of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plentifulnesse: but of every one that is hasty, only to want.

6 The getting of treasures by a lying tongue, is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shall destroy them, because they refuse to do judgement.

8 The way of man is froward and strange: but as for the pure, his work is right.

9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house top, then with a brawling woman in a wide house.

10 The soul of the wicked desireth evill: his neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes.

11 When the scorner is punished, the simple is made wise: and when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.

12 The righteous man wisely considereth the house of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked for their wickednesse.

13 Whoso stoppeth his eares at the cry of the poore, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard.

14 A gift in secret pacifieth anger, and a reward in the bosome, strong wrath.

15 It is joy to the just to do judgement: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

16 The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding, shall remain in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loveth pleasure, shall be a poore man: he that loveth wine and oil, shall not be rich.

18 The wicked shall be a ransome for the righteous, and the transgressour, for the upright.

19 It is better to dwell in the wildernesse, then with a contentious and an angry woman.

20 There is treasure to be desired, and oil in the dwelling of the wise: but a foolish man spendeth it up.

21 He that followeth after righteousnesse and mercy, findeth life, righteousnesse and honour.

22 A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof.

23 Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from troubles.

24 Proud and haughty scorner is his name, who worketh in proud wrath.

25 The desire of the slothfull killeth him: for his hands refuse to labour.

26 He coveteth greedily all the day long: but the righteous giveth and spareth not.

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination: how much more, when he bringeth it with a wicked minde?

28 A false witnesse shall perish: but the man that heareth, speaketh constantly.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but as for the upright, he directeth his way.

30 There is no wisdome nor understanding, nor counsell against the LORD.

31 The horse is prepared against the day of battell: but safety is of the LORD.

CHAP. XXII.

1 A good name is rather to be chosen then great riches, and loving favour rather then silver and gold.

2 The rich and poore meet together: the LORD is the maker of them all.

3 A prudent man foreseeth the evill, and hideth himself: but the simple passe on, and are punished.

4 By humility and the feare of the LORD, are riches, and honour, and life.

5 Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward: he that doth keep his soul, shall be farre from them.

6 Train up a childe in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

7 The rich ruleth over the poore, and the borrower is servant to the lender.

8 He that soweth iniquity shall reap vanity: and the rod of his anger shall fail.

9 He that hath a bountifull eye, shall be blessed: for he giveth of his bread to the poore.

10 Cast out the scorner, and contention shall go out; yea, strife and reproach shall cease.

11 He that loveth pureness of heart, for the grace of his lips, the King shall be his friend.

12 The eyes of the LORD preserve knowledge, and he overthroweth the words of the transgressour.

13 The slothfull man saith, There is a lion without, I shall be slain in the streets.

14 The mouth of strange women is a deep pit: he that is abhorred of the LORD, shall fall therein.

15 Foolishnesse is bound in the heart of a childe: but the rod of correction shall drive it farre from him.

16 He that oppresseth the poore to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, shall surely come to want.

17 Bow downe thine eare, and heare the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it is a pleasant thing, if thou keep them within thee, they shall withall be fitted in thy lips.

19 That thy trust may be in the LORD, I have made known to thee this day, even to thee.

20 Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsells and knowledge?

21 That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth: that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee?

22 Rob not the poore because he is poore: neither oppresse the afflicted in the gate.

23 For the LORD will plead their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoiled them.

24 Make no friendship with an angry man: and with a furious man thou shalt not go:

25 Lest thou learn his wayes, and get a snare to thy soul.

26 Be not thou one of them that strike hands, or of them that are sureties for debts.

27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why should he take away thy bed from under thee?

28 Remove not the ancient mark, which thy fathers have set.

29 Seest thou a man diligent in his businesse? he shall stand before Kings, he shall not stand before poore men.

CHAP. XXIII.

WHen thou ſitteſt to eat with a ruler, conſider diligently what is before thee:

2 And put a knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite.

3 Be not deſirous of his dainties: for they are deceitfull meat.

4 [a] Labour not to be rich: ceaſe from thine own wiſdome.

5 [b] Wilt thou ſet thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themſelves wings, they flie away as an Eagle toward heaven.

6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evill eye, neither deſire thou his dainty meats.

7 For as he thinketh in his heart, ſo is he. Eat and drink, ſaith he to thee, but his heart is not with thee.

8 The morſell which thou haſt eaten, ſhalt thou vomit up, and loſe thy fineſt words.

9 Speak not in the eares of a fool: for he will deſpiſe the wiſdome of thy words.

10 [c] Remove not the old [d] land-mark: and enter not into the fields of the fatherleſſe.

11 [e] For their Redeemer is mighty; he ſhall plead their cauſe with thee.

12 Apply thine heart unto inſtruction, and thine eares to the words of knowledge.

13 [f] Withhold not correction from the childe: for if thou beateſt him with the rod, he ſhall not die.

14 Thou ſhalt beat him with the rod, and ſhalt deliver his ſoul from hell.

15 My ſonne, if thine heart be wiſe, my heart ſhall rejoyce, E even mine.

16 Yea, my reins ſhall rejoyce, when thy lips ſpeak right things.

17 [h] Let not thine heart envie ſinners, but be thou in the feare of the LORD all the day long.

18 [i] For ſurely there is an [k] end, and thine expectation ſhall not be cut off.

19 Heare thou, my ſonne, and be wiſe, and guide thine heart in the way.

20 [l] Be not amongſt wine-bibbers, amongſt riotous eaters [m] of fleſh.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton ſhall come to poverty; and drowſineſſe ſhall clothe a man with rags.

22 [n] Hearken unto thy father that begat thee, and deſpiſe not thy mother when ſhe is old.

23 Buy the truth, and ſell it not; alſo wiſdome, and inſtruction, and underſtanding.

24 [o] The father of the righteous ſhall greatly rejoyce: and he that begetteth a wiſe childe, ſhall have joy of him.

25 Thy father and thy mother ſhall be glad, and ſhe that bare thee ſhall rejoyce.

26 My ſonne, give me thine heart; and let thine eyes obſerve my wayes.

27 [p] For a whore is a deep ditch, and a ſtrange woman is a narrow pit.

28 [q] She alſo lieth in wait as for a prey, and increaſeth the tranſgreſſours among men.

29 [r] Who hath woe? who hath ſorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cauſe? who hath redneſſe of eyes?

30 They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to ſeek mixt wine.

31 Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth it ſelf aright.

32 At the laſt it biteth like a ſerpent, and ſtinging like [s] an adder.

33 Thine eyes ſhall behold ſtrange women, and thine heart ſhall utter perverſe things.

34 Yea, thou ſhalt be as he that lieth in the midſt of the ſea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a maſt.

35 They have ſtricken me, ſhall ſay thou, and I was not ſick: they have beaten me, and I felt it not: when ſhall I awake? I will ſeek it yet again.

CHAP. XXIIII.

BE not thou [t] envious againſt evill men, neither deſire to be with them.

2 [u] For their heart ſtudieth deſtruction, and their lips talk of miſchief.

3 Through wiſdome is an houſe built, and by underſtanding it is eſtabliſhed.

4 And by knowledge ſhall the chambers be filled with all precious and pleaſant riches.

5 A wiſe man [a] is ſtrong, yea a man of knowledge [b] increaſeth ſtrength.

6 [c] For by wiſe counſell thou ſhalt make thy warre: and in multitude of counſellors there is ſafety.

7 Wiſdome is too high for a fool: he openeth not his mouth in the gate.

8 He that deviſeth to do evill ſhall be called a miſchievous perſon.

9 The thought of fooliſhneſſe is ſinne: and the ſcorner is an abomination to men.

10 If thou faint in the day of adverſity, thy ſtrength [d] is ſmall.

11 [e] If thou forbeare to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and thoſe that are ready to be ſlain:

12 If thou ſaieſt, Behold, we knew it not; doth not he that pondereth the heart, conſider it? and ſhall not he render to every man according to his works?

13 [f] My ſonne, eat thou hony, becauſe it is good, and the hony-comb, which is ſweet unto thy taſte:

14 So ſhall the knowledge of wiſdome be unto thy ſoul: when thou haſt found it, then there ſhall be a reward, and thy expectation ſhall not be cut off.

15 Lay not wait, (O wicked man) againſt the dwelling of the righteous: ſpoil not his reſting place.

16 [k] For a juſt man falleth ſeven times, and riſeth up again: but the wicked ſhall fall into miſchiefe.

17 [l] Rejoyce not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he is overthrowne:

18 Leſt the LORD ſee it, and [m] it diſpleaſe him, and he turne away his wrath from him.

19 [n] [o] Fret not thy ſelf becauſe of evill men, neither be thou envious at the wicked.

20 [p] For there ſhall be no reward to the evill man: the [q] candle of the wicked ſhall be put out.

21 My ſonne, feare thou the LORD and the King: and meddle not with [r] them that are given to change.

22 For their calamity ſhall riſe ſuddenly, and who knoweth the ruine of them both?

23 Theſe things alſo belong to the wiſe. It is not good to have reſpect of perſons in judgement.

24 [s] He that ſaith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous, him ſhall the people curſe, nations ſhall abhorre him:

25 But to them that rebuke him ſhall be delight, and [t] a good bleſſing ſhall come upon them.

26 Every man ſhall kiſſe his lips that giveth right anſwers.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Observations of self-love: 5 of true love: 11 of how to avoid offences, 23 and of the household care.

BOast [c] not thy self of [d] to morrow: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth, a stranger, and not thine own lips.

3 A stone [e] is heavy, and the sand weighty: but a fool's wrath is heavier then them both.

4 [f] Wrath is cruell, and anger is outragious: but who is able to stand before [g] envy?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret love.

6 [h] Faithfull are the wounds of a friend: but the kisses of an enemy are [i] deceitfull.

7 [k] The full soul [l] loatheth an honey combe: but to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.

8 As a bird that wandereth from her nest: so is a man that wandereth from his place.

9 Ointment and perfume rejoyce the heart: so doth the [m] sweetnesse of a mans friend by hearty counsell.

10 Thine own friend, and thy fathers friend forsake not; neither go into thy brothers house in the day of thy calamity; for [n] better is a neighbour that is neer, then a brother farre off.

11 [o] My son, be wise, and make my heart glad, that I may answer him that reproacheth me.

12 ¶ A prudent man foreseeth the evil, & hideth himself: but the simple passe on, and are punished.

13 ¶ Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, & take a pledge of him for a strange woman.

14 He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, [p] it shall be counted a curse to him.

15 [r] A continuall dropping in a very rainy day, and a contentious woman are alike.

16 Whosoever hideth her, hideth the winde, and the ointment of his right hand, which bewrayeth it self.

17 Iron sharpeneth iron: so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.

18 Whoso keepeth the fig-tree, shall eat the fruit thereof: so he that waiteth on his master, shall be honoured.

19 [s] As in water face answereth to face: so the heart of man to man.

20 [t] Hell and destruction are [v] never full: so the eyes of man are never satisfied.

21 [u] As the fining pot for silver, and the furnace for gold: so is a man to his praise.

22 Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a morter among wheat with a pestell, yet will not his foolishnesse depart from him.

23 Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and [x] look well to thy herds.

24 For [y] riches are not for ever: and doth the crown endure [z] to every generation?

25 The hay appeareth, and the tender grasse sheweth it self, and the herbs of the mountains are gathered.

26 The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of thy field.

27 And thou shalt have goats milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household, and for the [y] maintenance for thy maidens.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Generall observations of impiety and righteousnesse.

THe [a] wicked flee when no man pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.

2 For the transgression of a land many are the Princes thereof; [b] but by a man of understanding and knowledge, the state thereof shall be prolonged.

3 A poor man that oppresseth the poor is like a sweeping rain [c] which leaveth no food.

4 They that forsake the Law praise the wicked: but such as keep the Law contend with them.

5 Evill men understand not judgement: but they that seek the Lord understand all things.

6 [d] Better is the poore that walketh in his righteousnesse, then he that is perverse in his wayes, though he be rich.

7 [e] Whoso keepeth the Law is a wise son: but he that [f] is a companion of riotous men shameth his father.

8 [g] He that by usury and [h] unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor.

9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the Law, even his prayer shall be abomination.

10 [i] Whoso causeth the righteous to go astray in an evill way, he shall fall himself into his own pit; but the upright shall have good things in possession.

11 The rich man is wise [k] in his own conceit; but the poor that hath understanding, searcheth him out.

12 [l] When righteous men do rejoyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked rise, a man is [m] hidden.

13 [n] He that covereth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.

14 Happy is the man that feareth alwayes: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into mischief.

15 As a roaring Lion, and a ranging Bear, so is a wicked ruler over the poor people.

16 The Prince that wanteth understanding is also a great oppressour, but he that hateth covetousnesse, shall prolong his dayes.

17 ¶ A man that doth violence to the blood of any person, shall flee to the pit, let no man stay him.

18 ¶ Whoso walketh uprightly, shall be saved: but he that is perverse in his wayes, shall fall at once.

19 [r] He that tilleth his land, shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vaine persons shall have poverty enough.

20 A faithfull man shall abound with blessings: but he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be [s] innocent.

21 [u] To have respect of persons, is not good: for, for a piece of bread that man will transgresse.

22 [v] He that hasteth to be rich, hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him.

23 [w] He that rebuketh a man, shall afterward finde more favour, then he that flattereth with the tongue.

24 Whoso robbeth his father, or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression, the same is the companion of [x] a destroyer.

25 [y] He that is of a proud heart stirreth up strife: but he that putteth his trust in the Lord shall be made fat.

26 He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Reformation of foolish governments, 15 and of grown. 22 Of anger, pride, thievery, consolations.

HE that being often reproved, hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.

2 [a] When the righteous are [d] in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.

3 [e] Whoso loveth wisdome, rejoyceth his father: but he that keepeth company with harlots, spendeth his substance.

4 The King by judgement stablisheth the land: but he that receiveth gifts, overthroweth it.

5 [f] A man that flattereth his neighbour, spreadeth a net for his feet.

6 In the transgression of an evill man there [g] is a snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoyce.

7 [h] The righteous considereth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it.

8 Scornfull men [i] bring a city into a snare: but wise men turn away wrath.

9 If a wise man contendeth with a foolish man, whether he rage or laugh, there [k] is no rest.

10 [k] The blood-thirsty hate the upright: but the just seek his soul.

11 A fool uttereth all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwards.

12 If a ruler hearken to lies, all his servants are wicked.

13 [l] The poor and the [m] deceitfull man meet together: the LORD lighteneth both their eyes.

14 [n] The King that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever.

15 [o] The rod and reproof give wisdome: but a childe left to himself, bringeth his mother to shame.

16 When the wicked are multiplied, transgression increaseth: [q] but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 [r] Correct thy sonne, and he shall give thee rest, yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

18 Where there [s] is no vision, the people [t] perish: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

19 A servant will not be corrected by words: for though he understand, he will not answere.

20 Seest thou a man that is hasty [x] in his words? there is more hope of a fool then of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a childe, shall have him become his sonne at the length.

22 [u] An angry man stirreth up strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.

23 [w] A mans pride shall bring him low: but honour shall upholde the humble in spirit.

24 Whoso is partner with a thief, hateth his own soul: he heareth cursing, and bewrayeth it not.

25 The fear of man bringeth a snare: but whoso putteth his trust in the LORD, [x] shall be safe.

26 Many seek the [y] rulers favour: but every mans judgement cometh from the LORD.

27 An unjust man is an abomination to the just: and he that is upright in the way, is abomination to the wicked.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Agurs confession of his faith. 7 The two points of his prayer. 10 The unkinde are not to be provoked. 11 Four wicked generations. 15 Four things insatiable. 17 Parents are not to be despised. 18 Four things hard to be known. 21 Four things unsupportable. 24 Four things exceeding wise. 29 Four things stately. 32 Wrath is to be prevented.

THE words of Agur the sonne of Jakeh, even the prophecie: The man spake unto Ithiel, even unto Ithiel and Ucal.

2 Surely I am more brutish then any man, and have not the understanding of a man.

3 I neither learned wisdome, nor [a] have the knowledge of the holy.

4 [b] Who hath ascended up into heaven, or descended? who hath gathered the winde in his fists? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath established all the ends of the earth? What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

5 [c] Every word of God [d] is pure: He is a shield unto them that put their trust in him.

6 [e] Adde thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things have I required of thee, [f] deny me them not before I die.

8 Remove farre from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches, [g] feed me with food [h] convenient for me:

9 [i] Lest I be full, and [k] deny thee, and say, Who is the LORD? or lest I be poor and steal, and take the Name of my God in vain.

10 [l] Accuse not a servant unto his master; lest he curse thee, and thou be found guilty.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthinesse.

13 [m] There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! and their eye-lids are lifted up.

14 [n] There is a generation whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw teeth as knives to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.

15 The horseleach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give. There are three things that are never satisfied; yea, four things say not, [o] It is enough;

16 The grave, and the barren wombe, the earth that is not filled with water; and the fire that saith not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother; the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young Eagles shall eat it.

18 There be three things which are too wonderfull for me; yea four, which I know not:

19 The way of an Eagle in the ayr, the way of a serpent upon a rock, the way of a ship [p] in the [q] midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way of an adulterous woman: she eateth, and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickednesse.

21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four, which it cannot bear:

22 [r] For a servant when he reigneth, and a fool when he is filled with meat:

23 For an odious woman when she is married, and an handmaid that is heir to her mistresse.

24 There be four things which are little upon the earth; but they are [s] exceeding wise:

25 [a] The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer.

26 The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks.

27 The locusts have no king, yet go they forth all of them [b] by bands.

28 The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be three things which go well, yea, four are comely in going:

30 A lion which is strongest among beasts, and turneth not away for any:

31 [c] A greyhound, an he-goat also, and a king, against whom there is no rising up.

32 [d] If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thy self, or if thou hast thought evill, lay thine hand upon thy mouth.

33 Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood: so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Lemuels lesson of chastity and temperance. 6 The afflicted are to be comforted and defended. 10 The praise and properties of a good wife.

THe words of king Lemuel, the prophecie that his mother taught him.

2 What, my sonne! and what, the sonne of my wombe! and what, the sonne of my vows!

3 Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy wayes to that which destroyeth kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for princes strong drink:

5 Lest they drink and forget the law, and [e] pervert the judgement [f] of any of the afflicted.

6 [g] Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto those that be [h] of heavy hearts.

7 Let him drink and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the dumbe in the cause of all such as are [i] appointed to destruction.

9 Open thy mouth, judge righteously, [k] and plead the cause of the poor and needy.

10 ¶ [l] Who can finde a vertuous woman? for her price is farre above rubies.

11 The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoile.

12 She will do him good, and not evill all the dayes of her life.

13 She seeketh wooll and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.

14 She is like the merchants ships, she bringeth her food from afarre.

15 She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her houshold, &c a portion to her maidens.

16 She considereth a field, and [m] buyeth it: with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard.

17 She girdeth her loins with strength, and strengthened her armes.

18 [n] She perceiveth that her merchandise is good: her candle goeth not out by night.

19 She layeth her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaffe.

20 [o] She stretcheth out her hand to the poore; yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy.

21 She is not afraid of the snow for her houshold: for all her houshold are clothed with [p] skarlet.

22 She maketh her self coverings of tapestry: her clothing is silk and purple.

23 Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land.

24 She maketh fine linen, and selleth it, and delivereth girdles unto the merchant.

25 Strength and honour are her clothing, and she shall rejoyce in time to come.

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdome, and in her tongue is the law of kindnesse.

27 She looketh well to the wayes of her houshold, and eateth not the bread of idlenesse.

28 Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.

29 Many daughters [q] have done vertuously, but thou excellest them all.

30 Favour is deceitfull, and beauty is vaine: but a woman that feareth the LORD, she shall be praised.

31 Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates.

¶ ECCLESIASTES, OR, THE PREACHER.

CHAP. I.

1 The Preacher sheweth that all humane things are vain: 4 because the creatures are restlesse in their courses: 9 They bring forth nothing new, and all old things are forgotten: 12 And because he hath found it so in the studies of wisdome.

THe words of the Preacher, the sonne of David, King in Jerusalem.

2 [a] Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities, all is vanity.

3 [b] What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the Sunne?

4 One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh: [c] but the earth abideth for ever.

5 The Sunne also ariseth, and the Sunne goeth down, and [d] hasteth to the place where he arose.

6 The winde goeth toward the South, and turneth about unto the North: it whirleth about continually, and the winde returneth again according to his circuits.

7 [e] All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full: unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they [f] return again.

8 All things are full of labour, man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 [g] The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be: and that which is done, is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun.

10 Is there any thing whereof it may be said, See, this is new? It hath been already of old time, which was before us.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come, with those that shall come after.

12 ¶ I the Preacher was King over Israel in Jerusalem.

13 And I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdome concerning all things that are done under heaven: this sore travell hath God given to the sonnes of man, [h] to be exercised therewith.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the Sunne, and behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

15 [i] That which is crooked, cannot be made straight: and [k] that which is wanting cannot be numbered.

16 I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate,

…than all they that have been …salem: yea, my heart had …of wisdome and knowledge.
17 And I gave my heart to know wisdome, …madnesse and folly: I perceived that …is vexation of spirit.
18 For in much wisdome is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

CHAP. II.

1 The vanity of humane courses in the works of pleasure. 12 Though the wise be better then the fool, yet both have one event. 18 The vanity of humane labour, in having it they know not to whom. 24 Nothing better then joy in our labour, but that is Gods gift.

I Said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure: and behold, this also is vanity.
2 I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doeth it?
3 [a] I sought in mine heart [c] to give my self unto wine, (yet acquainting mine heart with wisdome) and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven [d] all the dayes of their life.
4 I made me great works, I builded me houses, planted me vineyards.
5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruits.
6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees:
7 I got me servants and maidens, and had [g] servants born in my house: also I had great possessions of great and small cattell, above all that were in Jerusalem before me.
8 [h] I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of Kings, and of the provinces: I got me men singers, and women singers, and [i] delights of the sonnes of men, [k] as musicall instruments, and that of all sorts.
9 So I was great, and increased more then all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdome remained with me.
10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy; for my heart rejoyced in all my labour, and this was my portion of all my labour.
11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and behold, all was [l] vanity, and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the Sunne.
12 ¶ And I turned my self to behold wisdome, and madnesse, and folly: for what can the man do that cometh after the King? [m] even that which hath been already done.
13 Then I saw [n] that wisdome excelleth folly, as much as light excelleth darknesse.
14 [o] The wise mans eyes are in his head, but the fool walketh in darknesse: and I my self perceived also that one event happeneth to them all.
15 Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so it [p] happeneth even to me: and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.
16 For there is no remembrance of the wise, more than of the fool for ever, seeing that which now is in the dayes to come shall be forgotten: and how dieth the wise man? as the fool.
17 Therefore I hated life, because the work that is wrought under the Sunne, is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of spirit.
18 Yea, I hated all my labour which I had taken under the Sun: because I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.
19 [r] And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed my self wise under the Sunne. This is also vanity.
20 Therefore I went about to cause my heart to despair of all the labour which I took under the Sunne.
21 For there is a man whose labour is in wisdome, and in knowledge, and in equity; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein, shall he [s] leave it for his portion. This also is vanity, and a great evill.
22 [t] For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart, wherein he hath laboured under the Sunne?
23 For all his dayes are [u] sorrowes, and his travell grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.
24 ¶ [x] There is nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he [y] should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.
25 For who can eat? or who else can hasten hereunto more then I?
26 For God giveth to a man that is good [z] in his sight, wisdome, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth travell, to gather, and to heap up, that [a] he may give to him that is good before God. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 By the necessary change of times, vanity is added to humane travell. 11 There is an excellency in Gods works. 16 But as for men, God shall judge his works there, and how he shall be like a beast.

TO every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven.
2 A time [b] to be born, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted.
3 A time to kill, and a time to heal: a time to break down, and a time to build up.
4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh: a time to mourn, and a time to dance.
5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together: a time to embrace, and a time [c] to refrain from embracing.
6 A time to [d] get, and a time to loose: a time to keep, and a time to cast away.
7 A time to rent, and a time to sowe: a time to keep silence, and a time to speak.
8 A time to love, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.
9 [e] What profit hath he that worketh, in that wherein he laboureth?
10 I have seen the travell which God hath given to the sonnes of men, to be exercised in it.
11 He hath made every thing beautifull in his time: also he hath set the world in their heart, so that no man can finde out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.
12 I know that there is no good in them: but for a man to rejoyce, and to do good in his life.
13 And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labour: it is the gift of God.
14 I know that whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him.
15 [f] That which hath been, is now; …

which is to be, hath already been, and God requireth [a] that which is paſt.

16 ¶ And moreover, I ſaw under the Sunne the place of judgement, that wickedneſſe was there; and the place of righteouſneſſe, that iniquity was there.

17 I ſaid in mine heart, God ſhall judge the righteous, and the wicked: for there is [b] a time there for every purpoſe, and for every work.

18 I ſaid in my heart concerning the eſtate of the ſonnes of men, [c] that God might manifeſt them, and that they might ſee that they themſelves are beaſts.

19 [d] For that which befalleth the ſonnes of men befalleth beaſts, even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, ſo dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath, ſo that a man hath no preeminence above a beaſt; for all is vanity.

20 All go unto one place, all are of the duſt, and all turn to duſt again.

21 Who knoweth the ſpirit [e] of man, that [f] goeth upward; and the ſpirit of the beaſt, that goeth downward to the earth?

22 [g] Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, then that a man ſhould rejoyce in his own works: for that is his portion: for who ſhall bring him to ſee what ſhall be after him?

CHAP. IIII.

1 Vanity is increaſed unto men by oppreſſion, 4 by envy, 5 by idleneſſe, 7 by covetouſneſſe, 9 by ſolitarineſſe, 13 by wilfulneſſe.

SO [h] I returned, and conſidered all the oppreſſions that are done under the Sunne; and behold the teares of ſuch as were oppreſſed, and they had no comforter: & on the [i] ſide of their oppreſſors there was power, but they had no comforter.

2 [k] Wherefore I praiſed the dead which are already dead, more then the living which are yet alive.

3 [l] Yea, better is he then both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not ſeen the evill work that is done under the Sunne.

4 ¶ Again, I conſidered all travell, and [m] every right work, that [n] for this a man is envied of his neighbor: this is alſo vanity & vexation of ſpirit.

5 [o] The fool ſolideth his hands together, and eateth his own fleſh.

6 [p] Better is an handfull with quietneſſe, then both the hands full with travell and vexation of ſpirit.

7 ¶ Then I returned, and I ſaw vanity under the Sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a ſecond; yea, he hath neither childe nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour, neither is his eye ſatisfied with riches, neither ſaith he; For whom do I labour, and bereave my ſoul of good? this is alſo vanity, yea, it is a ſore travell.

9 ¶ Two are better then one; becauſe they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone, when he falleth: for he hath not another to help him up.

11 Again, if two lie together, then they have heat, but how can one be warm alone?

12 And if one prevail againſt him, two ſhall withſtand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 ¶ Better is a poor and a wiſe childe, then an old and foolish King, [q] who will no more be admoniſhed.

14 For out of priſon he cometh to reign, whereas alſo he that is born in his kingdome, becometh poore.

15 I conſidered all the living which walk under the Sunne, with the ſecond childe that ſhall ſtand up in his ſtead.

16 There is no end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they alſo that come after, ſhall not rejoyce in him: ſurely this is alſo vanity, and vexation of ſpirit.

CHAP. V.

1 Vanities in divine ſervice, 8 in magiſtrates, againſt oppreſſion, 9 and in riches. 18 Joy in labours is the gift of God.

KEep thy foot when thou goeſt to the houſe of God, and be more ready to hear, [r] than to give the ſacrifice of fools: for they conſider not that they do evill.

2 Be not raſh with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be haſty to utter any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words [s] be few.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of buſineſſe, and a fools voice is known by multitude of words.

4 [u] When thou voweſt a vow unto God, defer not to pay it: for he hath no pleaſure in fools: [x] pay that which thou haſt vowed.

5 Better is it that thou ſhouldeſt not vow, than that thou ſhouldeſt vow, and not pay.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cauſe thy flеſh to ſin; neither ſay thou before the Angel, that it was an errour: wherefore ſhould God be angry at thy voyce, and deſtroy the work of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreames, and many words, there are alſo divers vanities: but fear thou God.

8 ¶ If thou ſeeſt the oppreſſion of the poore, and violent perverting of judgement and juſtice in a province, marvell not at the matter: for he that is higher than the higheſt, regardeth: and there be higher than they.

9 ¶ Moreover, the profit of the earth is for all: the King himſelf is ſerved by the field.

10 He that loveth ſilver ſhall not be ſatisfied with ſilver; nor he that loveth abundance with increaſe: this is alſo vanity.

11 When goods increaſe, they are increaſed that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, ſaving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 The ſleep of a labouring man is ſweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not ſuffer him to ſleep.

13 There is a ſore evill which I have ſeen under the Sunne, namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

14 But thoſe riches periſh by evill travell: and he begetteth a ſon, & there is nothing in his hand.

15 [z] As he came forth of his mothers womb, naked ſhall he return to go as he came, and ſhall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this alſo is a ſore evill, that in all points as he came, ſo ſhall he go: [a] and what profit hath he that hath laboured for the winde?

17 All his dayes alſo he eateth in darkneſſe, and he hath much ſorrow and wrath with his ſickneſſe.

18 ¶ [b] Behold that which I have ſeen: it is good and comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the Sunne, [d] all the dayes of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

19 Every man alſo to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoyce in his labour; this is the gift of God.

CHAP. VI.

1 The vanity of riches without use. 3 Of children, 6 and old age without riches. 9 The vanity of sights and wandring desires. 11 The conclusion of vanities.

THere is an evill which I have seen under the sunne, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth; yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it: This is vanity, and it is an evill disease.

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many yeers, so that the dayes of his yeers be many: and his soul be not filled with good, and also that he have no buriall, I say, that an untimely birth is better then he.

4 For he cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkenesse, and his name shall be covered with darkenesse.

5 Moreover he hath not seen the sun, nor known any thing: this hath more rest then the other.

6 ¶ Yea, though he live a thousand yeers twice told, yet hath he seen no good: Do not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the [b] appetite is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise more then the fool? what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?

9 ¶ Better is the sight of the eyes [c] then the wandring of the desire: this is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

10 That which hath been, is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is mightier then he.

11 ¶ Seeing there be many things that increase vanity, what is man the better?

12 For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, [d] all the dayes of his vain life, which he spendeth as a [e] shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sunne?

CHAP. VII.

1 Reasons against vanity, are a good name, 2 mourning, 7 patience, 11 wisdome. 23 The difficulty of wisdome.

A good name is better then precious ointment: and the day of death, then the day of one's birth.

2 ¶ It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men, and the living will lay it to his heart.

3 [f] Sorrow is better then laughter: for by the sadnesse of the countenance the heart is made better.

4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

5 [h] It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, then for a man to hear the song of fools.

6 For as the [i] crackling of thorns under a pot, so the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity.

7 ¶ Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad, and a gift destroyeth the heart.

8 Better is the end of a thing, then the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

9 Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of fools.

10 Say not, What is the cause that the former dayes were better then these? for thou dost not enquire wisely concerning this.

11 ¶ Wisdome [k] is good with an inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that see the sun.

12 For wisdome is a [l] defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is this, that wisdome giveth life to them that have it.

13 [m] Consider the work of God: for who can make that straight, which he hath made crooked?

14 In the day of prosperity be joyfull, but in the day of adversity consider: God also hath ¶ set the one over against the other, to the end that man should finde nothing after him.

15 All things have I seen in the dayes of my vanity: there is a just man that perisheth in his righteousnesse, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickednesse.

16 Be not righteous over much, neither make thy self over wise: why shouldest thou [r] destroy thy self?

17 Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldest thou die [s] before thy time?

18 It is good that thou shouldest take hold of this, yea, also from this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.

19 [t] Wisdome strengtheneth the wise, more then ten mighty men which are in the city.

20 [u] For there is not a just man upon earth, that doth good, and sinneth not.

21 Also [x] take no heed unto all words that are spoken; lest thou hear thy servant curse thee.

22 For oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth, that thou thy self likewise hast cursed others.

23 ¶ All this have I proved by wisdome: I said, I will be wise, but it was farre from me.

24 That which is far off, and exceeding deep, who can finde it out?

25 [y] I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdome, and the reason of things, and to know the wickednesse of folly, even of foolishnesse and madnesse.

26 [z] And I finde more bitter then death, the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: [a] whoso pleaseth God, shall escape from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

27 Behold, this have I found, (saith the Preacher) b counting one by one to finde out the account;

28 Which yet my soul seeketh, but I finde not: one man among a thousand have I found, but a woman among all those have I not found.

29 Lo, this only have I found, that [c] God hath made man upright: but they have sought out many inventions.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Kings are greatly to be respected. 6 The divine providence is to be observed. 12 It is better with the godly in adversity, than with the wicked in prosperity. 16 The work of God is wonderfull.

WHo is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? [d] a mans wisdome maketh his face to shine, and the [e] boldnesse of his face shall be changed.

2 I counsell thee to keep the Kings commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God.

3 Be not hasty to go out of his sight: stand not in an evill thing, for he doth whatsoever pleaseth him.

4 Where the word of a King is, there is power: and who may say unto him, What dost thou?

5 Whoso keepeth the commandment, [f] shall feel no evill thing: and a wise mans heart discerneth both time and judgement.

6 ¶ Because to every purpose there is time and judgement, therefore the misery of man is great upon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him a when it shall be?

a Isaiah 41. 22, 23. 44. 7. 45. 21. 46. 10.

8 There is no man that hath power b over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no c discharge in that warre, neither shall wickednesse deliver those that are given to it.

b Psal. 89. 48. c Or, casting of weapons.

9 All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the Sunne: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt.

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the Holy, and they were forgotten in the city, where they had so done: this is also vanity.

11 Because sentence against an evill work is not executed speedily; therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evill.

12 ¶ Though a sinner do evill an hundred times, and his dayes be prolonged; yet surely I know that d it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him.

d Psal. 37. 10, 11. 58. 13.

13 But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his dayes which are as a shadow, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth, that there be just men unto whom it e happeneth according to the work of the wicked: again, there be wicked men to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said, that this also is vanity.

e Psal. 73. 14.

15 f Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the Sunne, then to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour, the dayes of his life, which God giveth him under the Sunne.

f Chap. 8. 15.

16 ¶ When I applied my heart to know wisdome, and to see the businesse that is done upon the earth: (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes.)

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot finde out the work that is done under the Sunne: because though a man labour to seek it out, yea further, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to finde it.

CHAP. IX.

1 Like things happen to good and bad. 4 There is a necessity of death unto men. 7 Comfort in all their portion in this life. 11 Gods providence ruleth over all. 13 Wisdome is better then strength.

FOr all this g I considered in my heart, even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either love or hatred, by all that is before them.

g Heb. I gave, or set to my heart.

2 h All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous, and to the wicked; to the good and to the cleane, and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

h Mal. 3. 14. Psal. 73. 2. & 12. 13.

3 This is an evill among all things that are done under the Sunne, that there is one event unto all: yea, also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of evill, and madnesse is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

4 For to him that is joyned to all the living, there is hope: for a living dog is better then a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward, for the memory of them is forgotten.

6 Also their love, and their hatred, and their envie is now perished; neither have they a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the Sunne.

7 ¶ Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for now accepteth thy works.

8 Let thy garments be alwayes white, and thy head lack no ointment.

9 i Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest, all the dayes of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the Sunne, all the dayes of thy vanity: k for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takest under the Sunne.

i Psal. 128. 1, 2. Prov. 5. 18. 1 Tim. 6. 17.

k Chap. 2. 10. & 3. 22. & 5. 18.

10 Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might: for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdome in the grave, whither thou goest.

11 ¶ I returned and saw under the Sunne, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all.

12 l For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare; so are the sonnes of men snared in an evill time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

l Prov. 29. 6.

13 ¶ This wisdome have I seen also under the Sunne, and it seemed great unto me:

14 There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great King against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it.

15 Now there was found in it a poore wise man, and he by his wisdome delivered the city; yet no man remembred that same poore man.

16 m Then said I, Wisdome is better then strength: nevertheless, the poore mans wisdome is despised, and his words are not heard.

m Chap. 7. 19.

17 The words of wise men are heard in quiet more then the cry of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Wisdome is better then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 Observations of wisdome and folly. 16 The danger of slothfulnesse, 19 and money. 20 How evill of Kings ought to be reverenced.

n DEad flies cause the ointment of the apothecary to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wisdome and honour.

n Prov. 25. 1.

2 A wise mans heart is at his right hand; but a fooles heart at his left.

3 Yea also when he that is a fool walketh by the way, o his wisdome faileth him, and he saith to every one, that he is a fool.

o Prov. 13. 16.

4 If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for yeelding pacifieth great offences.

5 There is an evill which I have seen under the Sun, as an errour which proceedeth from the ruler:

6 Folly is set p in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place.

p Prov. 19. 10. & 30. 22.

7 I have seen servants q upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth.

q Prov. 19. 10. & 30. 22.

8 r He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

r Psal. 7. 15. & 9. 15. & 57. 6. Prov. 26. 27.

9 Whoso removeth stones shall be hurt therewith, and he that cleaveth wood shall be endangered thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength:

…& unprofitable to direct.
… the serpent will bite without inchantment; and a babler is no better.
11 ¶ The words of a wise mans mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself.
13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness, and the end of his talk is mischievous madness.
14 A fool also is full of words; a man cannot tell what shall be; and what shall be after him, who can tell him?
15 The labour of the foolish wearieth every one of them: because he knoweth not how to go to the city.
16 ¶ Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning.
17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkennesse.
18 ¶ By much slothfulnesse the building decayeth; and through idlenesse of the hands the house droppeth through.
19 ¶ A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry: but money answereth all things.
20 ¶ Curse not the king, no not in thy thought; and curse not the rich in thy bed chamber: for a bird of the air shall carry the voyce, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 Liberalitie for charity. 7 Death in life, 9 and the day of judgement in the dayes of youth, are to be thought on.

CAst thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt finde it after many dayes.
2 Give a portion to seven, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth.
3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be.
4 He that observeth the winde, shall not sowe: and he that regardeth the clouds, shall not reap.
5 As thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the wombe of her that is with childe: even so thou knowest not the works of God who maketh all.
6 In the morning sowe thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good.
7 ¶ Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sunne.
8 But if a man live many yeers, and rejoyce in them all; yet let him remember the dayes of darknesse, for they shall be many. All that commeth is vanity.
9 ¶ Rejoyce, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart cheer thee in the dayes of thy youth, and walk in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgement.
10 Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart, and put away evill from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanity.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Creator is to be remembred in due time. 8 The preachers care to edifie. 13 The fear of God is the chief antidote of vanity.

REmember now thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth, while the evill dayes come not, nor the yeers draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them:
2 While the sunne, or the light, or the moon, or the starres be not darkned, nor the clouds return after the raine:
3 In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease, because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkned;
4 And the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of musick shall be brought low.
5 Also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and feares shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, & the grashopper shal be a burden, & desire shall fail: because man goeth to his long home, & the mourners go about the streets:
6 Or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern.
7 Then shall the dust return to the earth, as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.
8 ¶ Vanity of vanities (saith the preacher) all is vanity.
9 And moreover, because the preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge, yea he gave good heed, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs.
10 The preacher sought to finde out acceptable words, and that which was written, even upright, even words of truth.
11 The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails fastened by the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd.
12 And further, by these, my sonne, be admonished; of making many books there is no end, and much study is a wearinesse of the flesh.
13 ¶ Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter, Fear God, and keep his commandements, for this is the whole duty of man.
14 For God shall bring every work into judgement, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evill.

¶ THE SONG OF SOLOMON.

CHAP. I.

1 The Churches love unto Christ. 5 She confesseth her deformity, 7 and prayeth to be directed to his flock. 8 Christ directeth her to the shepherds tents: 9 and shewing his love to her, 11 giveth her gracious promises. 12 The Church and Christ rejoyce one another.

1 The Song of songs, which is Solomons.
2 Let him kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.
3 Because of the savour of thy good ointments,

4 Draw me, we will run after thee: the King hath brought me into his chambers: we will be glad and rejoyce in thee, we will remember thy love more than wine: the upright love thee.
5 I am black, but comely (O ye daughters of Jerusalem) as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomon.
6 Look not upon me, because I am black, because the sunne hath looked upon me: my mothers children were angry with me, they made me the keeper of the vineyards, but mine own vineyard have I not kept.

7 Tell me (O thou whom my soul loveth) where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flocks to rest at noon: for why should I be [a] as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy companions?

8 ¶ If thou know not (O thou fairest among women) go thy way forth by the foot-steps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds tents.

9 I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horses in Pharaohs chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.

11 We will make thee borders of gold, with studs of silver.

12 ¶ While the King sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof.

13 A bundle of myrrhe is my welbeloved unto me; he shall lye all night betwixt my brests.

14 My beloved is unto me as a cluster of [b] camphire in the vineyards of Engedi.

15 Behold, thou art fair, [c] my love: behold, thou art fair, thou hast doves eyes.

16 [d] Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant: also our bed is green.

17 The beams of our house are cedar, and our [e] rafters of firre.

CHAP. II.

1 Themutuall love of Christ and his Church. 8 The hope, 10 and calling of the Church. 14 Christs care of the Church. 16 The profession of the Church, her faith and hope.

I Am the rose of Sharon, and the lilie of the valleys.

2 As the lilie among thorns, so is my love among the daughters.

3 As the apple-tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sonnes. [f] I sate down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste.

4 He brought me to the [h] banqueting house, and his banner over me was love.

5 Stay me with flagons, [i] comfort me with apples, for I am sick of love.

6 [k] His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 [l m] I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hindes of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

8 ¶ The voyce of my beloved! behold! he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.

9 [n] My beloved is like a roe, or a young hart: behold, he standeth behinde our wall, he looketh forth at the window, [o] shewing himself through the latteſſe.

10 My beloved spake, and said unto me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For lo, the winter is past, the raine is over, and gone.

12 The flowers appear on the earth, the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The fig-tree putteth forth her green figs, and the vines with the tender grape give a good smell. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.

14 ¶ O my dove! that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs: let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice, for sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes that spoil the vines; for our vines have tender grapes.

16 ¶ [p] My beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies.

17 ¶ Untill the day break, and the shadows flee away: turn my beloved, and be thou like to a roe or a young hart, upon the mountains of Bether.

CHAP. III.

1 The Church her fight and victory in Christ. The Church glorieth in Christ.

BY night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise now, and go about the city in the streets, & in the broad wayes I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that go about the city found me: to whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

4 It was but a little that I passed from them, but I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mothers house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 [r] I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hindes of the field, that ye stirre not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

6 ¶ [s] Who is this that commeth out of the wildernesse like pillars of smoak, perfumed with myrrhe and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold his bed, which is Solomons: threescore valiant men are about it, of the valiant of Israel.

8 They all hold swords, being expert in warre: every man hath his sword upon his thigh, because of fear in the night.

9 King Solomon made himself [x] a chariot of the wood of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottome thereof of gold, the covering of it of purple, the midst thereof being paved with love, for the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold King Solomon with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Christ setteth forth the graces of the Church, shewing his love to her. 16 The Church is made fit for his presence.

[y] BEhold, thou art fair, my love, behold thou art fair, thou hast doves eyes within thy locks: thy hair is as a [z] flock of goats, that appear from mount Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep even shorn, which came up from the washing, whereof every one bear twins, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thred of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy locks.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David builded for an armory, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men.

5 [b] Thy two brests are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies.

6 [c] Untill the day [d] break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrhe, and to the hill of frankincense.

7 [e] Thou art all fair, my love, there is no spot in thee.

8 ¶ Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, with me from Lebanon: look from the top of Amana, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the lions dens, from the mountains of the leopards.

CHAP. V.

1 Chriſt endeareth the Church with his calling. 2 The Church having a taſte of Chriſt's love, is ſick of love. 9 A deſcription of Chriſt by his graces.

I Am come into my garden, my ſiſter, my ſpouſe, I have gathered my myrrhe with my ſpice, I have eaten my honey-comb with my honey, I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, O friends, drink, e yea, drink abundantly, O beloved!

2 ¶ I ſleep, but my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, ſaying, Open to me, my ſiſter, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night.

3 I have put off my coat, how ſhall I put it on? I have waſhed my feet, how ſhall I defile them?

4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my bowels were moved f for him.

5 I roſe up to open to my beloved, and my hands dropped with myrrhe, and my fingers with g ſweet ſmelling myrrhe, upon the handles of the lock.

6 I opened to my beloved, but my beloved had withdrawn himſelf, and was gone: my ſoul failed when he ſpake: I ſought him, but I could not find him: I called him, but he gave me no anſwer.

7 The watchmen that went about the city, found me, they ſmote me, they wounded me, the keepers of the walls took away my vail from me.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Jeruſalem, if ye find my beloved, h that ye tell him that I am ſick of love.

9 ¶ What is thy beloved more than another beloved, O thou faireſt among women? what is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou doſt ſo charge us?

10 My beloved is white and ruddy, i the chiefeſt among ten thouſand.

11 His head is as the moſt fine gold, his locks are k buſhie, and black as a raven.

12 l His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the rivers of water, waſhed with milk, and m fitly ſet.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of ſpices, as n ſweet flowers: his lips like lilies, dropping ſweet ſmelling myrrhe.

14 His hands are as gold rings ſet with the beryl: his belly is as bright Ivory, overlaid with ſapphires.

15 His legs are as pillars of marble, ſet upon ſockets of fine gold: his countenance is as Lebanon, excellent as the Cedars.

16 His mouth is moſt ſweet, yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jeruſalem.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Church profeſſeth her faith in Chriſt. 4 Chriſt ſetteth forth the graces of the Church, 10 and his love towards her.

WHither is thy beloved gone? O thou faireſt among women, whither is thy beloved turned aſide? that we may ſeek him with thee.

2 My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of ſpices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

3 I P am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.

4 ¶ Thou art beautifull, O my love, as Tirzah, comely as Jeruſalem, terrible as an army with banners.

5 Turn away thine eyes from me, for they have q overcome me: thy hair is r as a flock of goats that appear from Gilead.

6 Thy teeth are as a flock of ſheep which go up from the waſhing, whereof every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.

7 As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.

8 There are threeſcore Queens, and fourſcore concubines, and virgins without number.

9 My dove, my undefiled is but one: ſhe is the only one of her mother, ſhe is the choice one of her that bare her: The daughters ſaw her, and bleſſed her; yea, the Queens and the concubines, and they praiſed her.

10 ¶ Who is ſhe that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the Moon, clear as the Sunne, and terrible as an army with banners?

11 I went down into the garden of nuts to ſee the fruits of the valley, and to ſee whether the vine flouriſhed, and the pomegranates budded.

12 ſ Or ever I was aware, my ſoul t made me like the chariots of Ammi-nadib.

13 Return, return, O Shulamite; return, return, that we may look upon thee: what will ye ſee in the Shulamite? as it were the company u of two armies.

CHAP. VII.

1 A further deſcription of the Church her graces. 10 The Church profeſſeth her faith and deſire.

HOw beautifull are thy feet with ſhoes, O Prince's daughter! the joynts of thy thighes are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navell is like a round goblet, which wanteth not v liquor: thy belly is like an heap of wheat, ſet about with lilies.

3 w Thy two breaſts are like two young Roes that are twins.

4 Thy neck is as a tower of Ivory: thine eyes like the fiſh pools in Heſhbon, by the gate of Bathrabbim: thy noſe is as the tower of Lebanon, which looketh toward Damaſcus.

5 Thine head upon thee is like y Carmel, and the hair of thine head like purple, the King is z held in the galleries.

6 How fair, and how pleaſant art thou, O love, for delights!

7 This thy ſtature is like to a palm-tree, and thy breſts to cluſters of grapes.

8 I ſaid, I will go up to the palm-tree, I will take hold of the boughes thereof: now alſo thy breſts ſhall be as cluſters of the vine, and the ſmell of thy noſe like apples.

9 and the roof of thy mouth like the best wine, for my beloved, that goeth down [a] sweetly, causing the lips [b] of those that are asleep, to speak.

10 ¶ [c] I am my beloved's, and his desire is towards me.

11 Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field: let us lodge in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vineyards, let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape [d] appear, and the pomegranates bud forth: there will I give thee my loves.

13 The [e] mandrakes give a smell, and at our gates are all manner of pleasant fruits, new and old, which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The love of the Church to Christ. 6 The vehemency of love. 8 The calling of the Gentiles. 14 The Church prayeth for Christs coming.

O That thou were as my brother, that sucked the breasts of my mother, when I should find thee without, I would kiss thee, yea [f] I should not be despised.

2 I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mothers house, who would instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of [g] spiced wine, of the juyce of my pomegranate.

3 [h] His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me.

4 [i] I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, [k] that ye stirre not up, nor awake my love, until he please.

5 ([l] Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? I raised thee up under the apple-tree: there thy mother brought thee forth, there she brought thee forth that bare thee.

6 ¶ Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death, jealousie is [m] cruell as the grave: the coales thereof are coales of fire, which hath a most vehement flame.

7 Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned.

8 ¶ We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister, in the day when she shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of silver: and if she be a door, we will inclose her with boards of Cedar.

10 I am a wall, and my breasts like towers: then was I in his eyes as one that found [n] favour.

11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon, he let out the vineyard unto keepers: every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thousand pieces of silver.

12 My vineyard which is mine, is before me: thou (O Solomon) must have a thousand, and those that keep the fruit thereof, two hundred.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken to thy voice: cause me to hear it.

14 ¶ [o] Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like to a Roe, or to a young Hart upon the mountains of spices.

¶ THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET ISAIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 Isaiah complaineth of Judah for her rebellion. 5 He lamenteth her judgements. 10 He upbraideth their whole service. 16 He exhorteth to repentance, with promises and threatnings. 21 Bewailing their wickedness, he denounceth Gods judgements. 25 He promiseth grace, 28 and threatneth destruction to the wicked.

THe vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah, and Jerusalem, in the dayes of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah kings of Judah.

2 Hear, O [a] heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the LORD hath spoken; I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me.

3 The [b] ox knoweth his owner, and the asse his masters crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider.

4 Ah sinfull nation, a people [c] laden with iniquity, a seed of evill doers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the holy One of Israel unto anger, they are [d] gone away backward.

5 ¶ Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will [e] revolt more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the sole of the foot, even unto the head, there is no soundnesse in it, but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with [f] ointment.

7 Your country is [g] desolate, your cities are burnt with fire: your land strangers devour it in your presence, and it is [h] desolate as overthrown by strangers.

8 And the daughter of Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.

9 Except the LORD of hosts had [i] left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as [k] Sodome, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 ¶ Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodome, Give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah.

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your [l] sacrifices unto me, saith the LORD? I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts, and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of [m] he-goats.

12 When ye come to [n] appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more vain oblations, incense is an abomination unto me; the new Moons and Sabbaths, the calling of assemblies I cannot away with, it is [o] iniquity, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your new Moons, and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a trouble unto me, I am weary to bear them.

15 And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you; yea, when ye [q] make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of [r] blood.

16 ¶ Wash ye, make you clean, put away the evill of your doings from before mine eyes, cease to do evill, 17 Learn to do well, seek judgement, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sinnes be as scarlet, white as ſnow: though they be red like crimſon, they ſhall be as wooll.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye ſhall eat the good of the land.

20 But if ye refuſe and rebell, ye ſhall be devoured with the ſword: for the mouth of the LORD hath ſpoken it.

21 ¶ How is the faithfull city become an harlot! it was full of judgement, righteouſneſſe lodged in it; but now murderers.

22 Thy ſilver is become droſſe, thy wine mixt with water.

23 Thy Princes are rebellious, and companions of theeves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they [n] judge not the fatherleſs neither doth the cauſe of the widow come unto them.

24 Therfore ſaith the Lord, the LORD of hoſts, the mighty One of Iſrael; Ah, I will eaſe me of mine adverſaries, & avenge me of mine enemies.

25 ¶ And I will turn my hand upon thee, and [o] purely purge away thy droſſe, and take away all thy tin.

26 And I will reſtore thy Judges as at the firſt, and thy Counſellers as at the beginning: afterward thou ſhalt be called, The City of righteouſneſſe, The faithfull City.

27 Zion ſhall be redeemed with judgement, and [p] her converts with righteouſneſſe.

28 ¶ And the [q] [r] deſtruction of the tranſgreſſours, and of the ſinners ſhall be together: and they that forſake the LORD, ſhall be conſumed.

29 For they ſhall be aſhamed of the oaks which ye have deſired, and ye ſhall be confounded for the gardens that ye have choſen.

30 For ye ſhall be as an oak whoſe leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the ſtrong ſhall be as towe, [s] and the maker of it as a ſpark, and they ſhall both burn together, and none ſhall quench them.

CHAP. II.

1 Iſaiah propheſieth the coming of Chriſts Kingdome. 6 Wherefore it is the cauſe of Gods forſaking. 10 He adviſeth to fear, becauſe of the powerfull effects of Gods Majeſty.

THe word that Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz ſaw, concerning Judah and Jeruſalem.

2 And it ſhall come to paſſe in the [t] laſt dayes, that the mountain of the LORDS houſe ſhall be [u] eſtabliſhed in the top of the mountaines, and ſhall be exalted above the hils; and all nations ſhall flow unto it.

3 And many people ſhall go and ſay, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the houſe of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his wayes, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion ſhall go forth the Law, and the word of the LORD from Jeruſalem.

4 And he ſhall judge among the nations, and ſhall rebuke many people: and they ſhall beat their ſwords into plow ſhares, and their ſpears into [x] pruning hooks: nation ſhall not lift up ſword againſt nation, neither ſhall they learn warre any more.

5 O houſe of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the LORD.

6 ¶ Therefore thou haſt forſaken thy people, the houſe of Jacob; becauſe they be repleniſhed with uſages from the Eaſt, and are ſoothſayers like the Philiſtines, and they [y] pleaſe themſelves in the children of ſtrangers.

7 Their land alſo is full of ſilver and gold, neither is there any end of their treaſures: their land is alſo full of horſes, neither is there any end of their chariots.

8 Their land alſo is full of [z] idols; they worſhip the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made.

9 And the mean man boweth down, and the great man humbleth himſelf; therefore forgive them not.

10 ¶ Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the duſt, for [a] fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his Majeſty.

11 The [b] lofty looks of man ſhall be humbled, and the haughtineſſe of men ſhall be bowed down: and the LORD alone ſhall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the LORD of hoſts ſhall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up, and he ſhall be brought low:

13 And upon all the Cedars of Lebanon, that are high, and lifted up, and upon all the okes of Baſhan,

14 And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hils that are lifted up,

15 And upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall,

16 And upon all the ſhips of Tarſhiſh, and upon all [c] pleaſant pictures.

17 And the loftines of man ſhalbe bowed down, and the haughtineſſe of men ſhall be made low: and the LORD alone ſhall be exalted in that day.

18 And [d] the idols he ſhall utterly abolliſh.

19 And they ſhall go into the [e] holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the [f] earth, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his Majeſty, when he ariſeth to ſhake terribly the earth.

20 In that day a man ſhall caſt [g] his idols of ſilver, and his idols of gold, [h] which they made each one for himſelf to worſhip, to the moles, and to the bats:

21 To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his Majeſty, when he ariſeth to ſhake terribly the earth.

22 Ceaſe ye from man whoſe breath is in his noſtrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

CHAP. III.

1 The great confuſion which cometh by ſinne. 9 The impudency of the people. 12 The oppreſſion and covetouſneſſe of the rulers. 16 The judgement which ſhall be for the pride of the women.

FOr behold, the Lord, the LORD of hoſts doth take away from Jeruſalem, and from Judah, the ſtay and the ſtaffe, the whole ſtay of bread, and the whole ſtay of water,

2 The mighty man, and the man of warre, the Judge, and the Prophet, and the prudent, and the ancient,

3 The captain of fifty, and the [i] honourable man, and the counſeller, and the cunning artificer, and the [k] eloquent orateur.

4 And I will give [l] children to be their princes, and babes ſhall rule over them.

5 And the people ſhall be oppreſſed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the childe ſhall behave himſelf proudly againſt the ancient, and the baſe againſt the honourable.

6 When a man ſhall take hold of his brother, of the houſe of his father, ſaying, Thou haſt clothing, be thou our ruler, and let this ruine be under thy hand:

7 In that day ſhall he ſweare, ſaying, I will not be an [m] healer: for in my houſe is neither bread nor clothing: make me not a ruler of the people.

8 For Jeruſalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen, becauſe their tongue and their doings are againſt the LORD, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

11 Wo unto the wicked, it ſhall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands ſhall be [b] given him.

12 ¶ As for my people, children are their oppreſſours, and women rule over them: O my people, [c] they which lead thee, cauſe thee to erre, and [d] deſtroy the way of thy paths.

13 The LORD ſtandeth up to plead, and ſtandeth to judge the people.

14 The LORD will enter into judgement with the ancients of his people, and the princes thereof: for ye have [e] eaten up the vineyard; the ſpoil of the poor is in your houſes.

15 What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grinde the faces of the poor, ſaith the Lord GOD of hoſts?

16 ¶ Moreover, the LORD ſaith, Becauſe the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with ſtretched forth necks, and [f] wanton eyes, walking, and [g] mincing as they goe, and making a tinckling with their feet:

17 Therefore the Lord will ſmite with a ſcab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will [h] diſcover their ſecret parts.

18 In that day the Lord will take away the bravery of their tinckling ornaments about their feet, and their [i] cauls, and their round tyres like the moon;

19 The [k] chains, and the bracelets, and the [l] mufflers,

20 The bonnets, & the ornaments of the legs, and the head-bands, & the [m] tablets, & the ear-rings,

21 The rings, and noſe-jewels,

22 The changeable ſuits of apparell, and the mantles, and the wimples, and the criſping pins, 23 The glaſſes, and the fine linnen, and the hoods, and the vailes.

24 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that in ſtead of ſweet ſmell there ſhall be ſtink; and in ſtead of a girdle, a rent; and in ſtead of well-ſet hair, baldneſſe; and in ſtead of a ſtomacher, a girding of ſackcloth; and burning in ſtead of beauty.

25 Thy men ſhall fall by the ſword, and thy [n] mighty in the warre.

26 And her gates ſhall lament and mourn, and ſhe being [o] deſolate, ſhall ſit upon the ground.

CHAP. IIII.

In the extremity of evils, Chriſts Kingdome ſhall be a ſanctuary.

AND in that day ſeven women ſhall take hold of one man, ſaying, We will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparell: onely [p] let us be called by thy name, [q] to take away our reproach.

2 In that day ſhall the Branch of the LORD be [r] beautifull and glorious, and the fruit of the earth ſhall be excellent and comely [s] for them that are eſcaped of Iſrael.

3 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jeruſalem, ſhall be called holy, even every one that is written [t] among the living in Jeruſalem.

4 When the Lord ſhall have waſhed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and ſhall have purged the blood of Jeruſalem from the midſt thereof, by the ſpirit of judgement, and by the ſpirit of burning.

5 And the LORD will create upon every dwelling place of mount Zion, and upon her aſſemblies a [u] cloud, and ſmoak by day, and the ſhining of a flaming fire by night, for upon all the glory ſhall be [x] a defence.

6 And there ſhall be a Tabernacle for a ſhadow in the day time from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from ſtorm, & from rain.

CHAP. V.

1 Under the parable of a vineyard, God declareth his ſevere judgement. 8 His judgements upon oppreſſours: 11 upon luſtfull perſons: 13 upon ſcorners: 20 and upon injuſtice. 26 The executioners of his judgements.

NOw will I ſing to my well-beloved, a ſong of my beloved touching his vineyard: my beloved hath a [y] vineyard in a [z] very fruitfull hill.

2 And he [a] fenced it, and gathered out the ſtones thereof, and planted it with the choiſeſt vine, and built a tower in the midſt of it, and alſo [b] made a wine-preſſe therein: and he looked that it ſhould bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wilde grapes.

3 And now, O inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and men of Judah, Judge, I pray you, betweene me and my vineyard.

4 What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore when I looked that it ſhould bring forth grapes, brought it forth wilde grapes?

5 And now goe to, I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard, I will take away the hedge thereof, and it ſhall be eaten up: and breake down the wall thereof, and it ſhall be [c] trodden down:

6 And I will lay it waſte, it ſhall not be pruned, nor digged, but there ſhall come up briers and thorns: I will alſo command the clouds that they raine no rain upon it.

7 For the vineyard of the LORD of hoſts is the houſe of Iſrael, and the men of Judah [d] his pleaſant plant: and he looked for judgement, but behold [e] oppreſſion; for righteouſneſſe, but behold a cry.

8 ¶ Wo unto them that joyne [f] houſe to houſe, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midſt of the earth!

9 ¶ In mine ears ſaid the LORD of hoſts, Of a truth many houſes ſhall be deſolate, even great and fair without inhabitant.

10 Yea, ten acres of vineyard ſhall yield one Bath, and the ſeed of an Homer ſhall yield an Ephah.

11 ¶ Wo unto them that [g] riſe up early in the morning, that they may follow ſtrong drink; that continue untill night, till wine [h] inflame them!

12 And the harp, and the viole, the tabret, and pipe, and wine are in their feaſts: but they regard not the work of the LORD, neither conſider the operation of his hands.

13 ¶ Therefore my people are gone into captivitie, becauſe they have no knowledge: and [i] their honourable men are famiſhed, and their multitude dryed up with thirſt.

14 Therefore hell hath enlarged herſelfe, and opened her mouth without meaſure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pompe, and he that rejoyceth, ſhall deſcend into it.

15 And [k] the mean man ſhall be brought down, and the mighty man ſhall be humbled, and the eyes of the lofty ſhall be humbled.

16 But the LORD of hoſts ſhall be exalted in judgement, and [l] God that is holy, ſhall be ſanctified in righteouſneſſe.

17 Then ſhall the lambes feed after their manner, and the waſte places of the fat ones ſtrangers eat.

CHAP. VI.

1 Iſaiah in a viſion of the Lord in his glory, 5 being terrified, is conforted for his meſſage. 9 He ſhewes the obſtinacie of the people unto their deſolation. 13 A remnant ſhall be ſaved.

In the yeer that King Uzziah died, I [k] ſaw alſo …
… the Lord ſitting upon a throne, high and lifted …
… up, and his [l] traine filled the Temple.

2 Above it ſtood the Seraphims, each one had ſix …
… wings: with twain he covered his face, and …
… with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he …
… did fly.

3 And [m] one cryed unto another, and ſaid, …
… Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hoſts, [n] the …
… whole earth is full of his glory.

4 And the poſts of the [p] door moved at the …
… voice of him that cryed, and the houſe was filled …

5 Then ſaid I, Woe is me; for I am [q] undone, …
… becauſe I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in …
… the midſt of a people of unclean lips: for mine …

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims unto me, …
… having a live coal in his hand, [r] which he had …
… taken with the tongs from off the Altar:

7 And he [s] laid it upon my mouth, and ſaid, …
… Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity …
… is taken away, and thy ſinne purged.

8 Alſo I heard the voice of the Lord, ſaying, …
… Whom ſhall I ſend, and who will go for [t] us? …
… Then I ſaid; [u] Here am I, ſend me.

9 And he ſaid, Go and tell this people; [x] Hear …

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make …
… their ears heavy, and ſhut their eyes, leſt they …
… ſee with their eyes, and hear with their ears, …
… and underſtand with their heart, and convert and …
… be healed.

11 Then ſaid I, Lord how long? And he anſwered, …
… Until the cities be waſted without inhabitant, …
… and the houſes without man, and the land …
… be [y] utterly deſolate.

12 And the LORD hath removed men farre away, …

CHAP. VII.

1 Ahaz being troubled with fear of Rezin and Pekah, is comforted by Iſaiah. 10 Ahaz having liberty to chuſe a ſigne, and refuſing it, hath for a ſigne, Chriſt promiſed. 17 His judgement is propheſied to come by Aſſyria.

And it came to paſſe in the dayes of [c] Ahaz …
… the ſonne of Jotham, the ſonne of Uzziah …
… King of Judah, that Rezin the King of Syria, and …
… Pekah the ſon of Remaliah King of Iſrael went …
… up towards Jeruſalem to war againſt it, but could …
… not prevail againſt it.

2 And it was told the houſe of David, ſaying, …
… Syria is [d] confederate with Ephraim: and his …
… heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as …
… the trees of the wood are moved with the wind.

3 Then ſaid the LORD unto Iſaiah, Go forth …
… now to meet Ahaz, thou, and [e] Shear-jaſhub thy …
… ſonne, at the end of the [f] conduit of the upper …
… pool in the high way of the Fullers field:

4 And ſay unto him; Take heed and be quiet; …
… fear not, [h] neither be faint-hearted, for the two …
… tailes of theſe ſmoaking fire-brands, for the fierce …
… anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the ſonne of …
… Remaliah.

5 Becauſe Syria, Ephraim, and the ſon of Remaliah have taken evill counſell againſt thee, ſaying, 6 Let us go up againſt Judah, and [i] vex it, and …

… let us make a breach therein for us, and ſet a King …
… in the midſt of it, even the ſonne of Tabeal.

7 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD; It ſhall not ſtand, …
… neither ſhall it come to paſſe.

8 For the head of Syria is Damaſcus, and the …
… head of Damaſcus is Rezin: and within threeſcore …
… and five yeers ſhall Ephraim be broken, [k] that it …
… be not a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the …
… head of Samaria is Remaliahs ſonne. [l] If ye will …
… not believe, ſurely ye ſhall not be eſtabliſhed.

10 [m] Moreover, the LORD ſpake again unto …
… Ahaz, ſaying,

11 Aſk thee a ſigne of the LORD thy God; …
… [n] aſk it either in the depth, or in the height above.

12 But Ahaz ſaid, I will not aſk, neither will …
… I tempt the LORD.

13 And

13 And he ſaid, Hear ye now, O houſe of David; Is it a ſmall thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God alſo?

14 Therefore the Lord himſelf ſhall give you a ſigne; [a] Behold, a virgin ſhall conceive and bear a ſonne, and [b] ſhall call his name Immanuel.

15 Butter and honey ſhall he eat, that he may know to refuſe the evill, and chuſe the good.

16 For before the childe ſhall know to refuſe the evill, and chuſe the good, the land that thou abhorreſt, ſhall be forſaken of both her Kings.

17 ¶ The Lord ſhall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy fathers houſe, dayes that have not come from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah, even the King of Aſſyria.

18 And it ſhall come to paſſe in that day, that the Lord ſhall hiſſe for the flie that is in the uttermoſt parrof the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Aſſyria.

19 And they ſhall come, and ſhall reſt all of them in the deſolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all [c] buſhes.

20 In the ſame day ſhall the Lord ſhave with a [d] raſor that is hired, namely, by them beyond the river, by the king of Aſſyria, the head and the hair of the feet: and it ſhall alſo conſume the beard.

21 And it ſhall come to paſſe in that day, that a man ſhall nourith a young cow, and two ſheep.

22 And it ſhall come to paſſe for the abundance of milk that they ſhall give, he ſhall eat butter: for butter and honey ſhall every one eat, that is left [e] in the land.

23 And it ſhall come to paſſe in that day, that every place ſhall be, where there were a thouſand vines at a thouſand ſilverlings, it ſhall even be for briers and thorns.

24 With arrows and with bowes ſhall men come thither; becauſe all the land ſhall become briers and thorns.

25 And on all hills that ſhall be digged with the mattock, there ſhall not come thither the fear of briers and thorns; but it ſhall be for the ſending forth of oxen, and for the treading of leſſer cattell.

CHAP. VIII.

2 In Maher-ſhalal-haſh-baz he propheſieth, that Syria and Iſrael ſhall be ſubdued by Aſſyria. 5 Judah likewiſe for their infidelity. 9 Gods judgements ſhall be unreſiſtable. 11 Comfort ſhall be to them that fear God. 19 Great affliction to idolaters.

MOreover, the Lord ſaid unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a mans pen, concerning [f] Maher-ſhalal-haſh-baz.

2 And I took unto me faithfull witneſſes to record, Uriah the Prieſt, and Zechariah the ſonne of Jeberechiah.

3 And I [g] went unto the Propheteſſe, and ſhe conceived and bare a ſonne: then ſaid the Lord to me, Call his name Maher-ſhalal-haſh-baz.

4 For before the childe ſhall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, the [h] riches of Damaſcus, and the ſpoil of Samaria ſhall be taken away before the King of Aſſyria.

5 ¶ The Lord ſpake alſo unto me again, ſaying,

6 Forſmuch as this people refuſeth the waters of Shiloah that go ſoftly, and rejoyce in Rezin, and Remaliahs ſonne;

7 Now therefore behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the river ſtrong and many, even the King of Aſſyria, and all his glory: and he ſhall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks.

8 And he ſhall paſſe through Judah; he ſhall overflow, and go over, he ſhall reach even to the neck; and [i] the ſtretching out of his wings ſhall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.

9 ¶ Aſſociate your ſelves, O ye people, and ye ſhall be broken in pieces, and give ear all ye of farre countries: gird your ſelves, and ye ſhall be broken in pieces, gird your ſelves, and ye ſhall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counſell together, and it ſhall come to nought: ſpeak the word, and it ſhall not ſtand: for God is with us.

11 ¶ For the Lord ſpake thus to me [k] with a ſtrong hand, and inſtructed me that I ſhould not walk in the way of this people, ſaying, 12 Say ye not, A confederacie to all them to whom this people ſhall ſay, A confederacie: neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.

13 Sanctifie the Lord of hoſts himſelf, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And he ſhall be for a ſanctuary: but for a ſtone of ſtumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houſes of Iſrael; for a gin, and for a ſnare to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

15 And many among them ſhall [l] ſtumble, and fall, and be broken, and be ſnared, and be taken.

16 Binde up the teſtimony, ſeal the law among my diſciples.

17 And I will wait upon the Lord that hideth his face from the houſe of Jacob, and I will look for him.

18 ○ Behold, I, and the children whom the Lord hath given me, are for ſigns, and for wonders in Iſrael: from the Lord of hoſts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 ¶ And when they ſhall ſay unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar ſpirits, and unto wizards, that peep, and that mutter: ſhould not a people ſeek unto their God? for the living to the dead?

20 ℘ To the law, and to the teſtimony: if they ſpeak not according to this word, it is becauſe there is [q] no light in them.

21 And they ſhall paſſe thorow it, hardly beſtead, and hungry: and it ſhall come to paſſe, that when they ſhall be hungry, they ſhall fret themſelves, and curſe their king, and their God, and look upward.

22 And they ſhall look unto the earth: and behold, trouble and darkneſſe, dimneſſe of anguiſh; and they ſhall be driven to darkneſſe.

CHAP. IX.

1 What joy ſhall be in the midſt of affliction by the Kingdome and birth of Chriſt. 8 The judgement upon Iſrael for their pride, 13 for their hypocriſie, 18 and for their impenitency.

NEverthelеſſe, the dimneſſe ſhall not be ſuch as was in her vexation; when at the firſt he lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, and afterward did more grievouſly afflict her by the way of the ſea, beyond Jordan, Galilee [r] of the nations.

2 The [s] people that walked in darkneſſe have ſeen a great light; they that dwell in the land of the ſhadow of death, upon them hath the light ſhined.

3 Thou haſt multiplied the nation, and not increaſed the joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harveſt, and as men rejoyce when they divide the ſpoil.

4 [u] For thou haſt broken the yoke of his burden, and the ſtaffe of his ſhoulder, the rod of his oppreſſour, as in the day of [x] Midian.

5 ℣ For every battell of the warriour …greatness rolled in blood; …with burning and a fuell of fire.

6 For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son …, and the government shall be upon his …der, and his Name shall be called Wonder…Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlast…Father, The Prince of Peace.
7 Of the increase of his government and peace, there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdome, to order it, and to establish it with judgement and with justice, from henceforth even for ever: the c zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this.
8 ¶ The Lord sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel.
9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and stoutnesse of heart;
10 The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewen stones: the Sycomores are cut down, but we will change them into Cedars.
11 Therefore the LORD shall set up the adversaries of Rezin against him, and d joyn his enemies together.
12 The Syrians before, and the Philistines behinde, and they shall devour Israel e with open mouth: h for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.
13 ¶ For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither do they seek the LORD of hosts.
14 Therefore the LORD will cut off from Israel head and taill, branch and rush in one day.
15 The ancient and honourable, he is the head: and the Prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taill.
16 For the f leaders of this people cause them to erre, and they k that are led of them, are l destroyed.
17 Therefore the LORD shall have no joy in their young men, neither shall have mercy on their fatherlesse and widows: for every one is an hypocrite and an evill doer, and every mouth speaketh m folly: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.
18 ¶ For wickednesse burneth as the fire: it shall devour the briers and thorns, and shall kindle in the thickets of the forrest, and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoak.
19 Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts is the land darkened, and the people shall be as the n fuell of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.
20 And he shall o snatch on the right hand, and be hungry, and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm.
21 Manasseh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manasseh, and they together shall be against Judah: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAP. X.

1 The woe of tyrants. 5 Assyria, the rod of hypocrites, for his pride shall be broken. 20 A remnant of Israel shall be saved. 24 Israel is comforted with promise of deliverance from Assyria.

WO unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and p that write grievousnesse, which they have prescribed:
2 To turn aside the needy from judgement, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherlesse.
3 And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory?
4 Without me they shall bow down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain. q For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.
5 ¶ O r Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, s and the staffe in their hand is mine indignation.
6 I will send him against an hypocriticall nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and t to tread them down like the mire of the streets.
7 Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doeth his heart think so, but it is in his heart to destroy, and cut off nations not a few.
8 u For he saith, Are not my Princes altogether Kings?
9 Is not Calno as Carchemish? Is not Hamath as Arpad? is not Samaria as Damascus?
10 As my hand hath found the kingdomes of the idols, and whose graven images did excell them of Jerusalem and of Samaria:
11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idoles?
12 Wherefore it shall come to passe, that when the Lord hath performed his whole work x upon mount Zion, and on Jerusalem, I will y punish the fruit a of the stout heart of the King of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.
13 For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdome, for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants b like a valiant man.
14 And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth, and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.
15 Shall the z axe boast it self against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw magnifie it self against him that shaketh it? c as if the rod should shake it self against them that lift it up, or as if the staffe should lift up d it self, as if it were no wood.
16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanesse, and under his glory he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of a fire.
17 And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thornes and his briers in one day:
18 And shall consume the glory of his forrest, and of his fruitfull field e both soul and body: and they shall be as when a standard-bearer fainteth.
19 And the rest of the trees of his forrest shall be f few, that a childe may write them.
20 ¶ And it shall come to passe in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them: but shall stay upon the LORD, the holy One of Israel in truth.
21 The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God.
22 g For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant h of them shall return: the consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousnesse.
23 k For the Lord GOD of hosts shall make a consumption, even determined in the midst of all the land.
24 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not

CHAP. XI.

1 The prayable kingdome of the branch out of the root of Jesse. 10 The victorious reflauration of Israel, and vocation of the Gentiles.

AND there shall come forth a rod out of the stemme of [g] Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots.

2 And the Spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdome and understanding, the spirit of counsell and might, the spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the LORD:

3 And shall make him of [h] quick understanding in the feare of the LORD, and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousnesse shall he judge the poor, and [i] reprove with equity, for the meek of the earth: and he shall [k] smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And righteousnesse shall be the girdle of his loynes, and faithfulnesse the girdle of his reines.

6 [l] The wolfe also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid: and the calf, and the young lion, and the fatling together, and a little childe shall lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear shall feed, their young ones shall lie down together: and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the sucking childe shall play on the hole of the aspe, and the weaned childe shall put his hand on the [m] cockatrice den.

9 They shall not hurt, nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

10 ¶ And in that day there shall be a [n] root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensigne of the people; to it shall the [o] Gentiles seek, and his rest shall be [p] glorious.

11 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time, to possesse the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the Islands of the Sea.

12 And he shall set up an ensigne for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four [q] corners of the earth.

13 The envie also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envie Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim.

14 But they shall flie upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the West, they shall spoile them of the East together: [r] they shall lay their hand upon Edom and Moab, [s] and the children of Ammon shall obey them.

15 And the LORD shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea, and with his mighty winde shall he shake his hand over the river, and shall smite it in the seven streames, and make men go over [t] dry shod.

16 And there shall be a high way for the remnant of his people, which shall be left from Assyria, like as it was to Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of [u] Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

A joyfull thanksgiving of the faithfull for the mercies of God.

AND in that day thou shalt say, O LORD, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortedst me.

2 Behold, God is my salvation: I will trust, and not be afraid; for the LORD JEHOVAH is my [v] strength and my song, he also is become my salvation.

3 Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation.

4 And in that day shall ye say, [w] Praise the LORD, [x] call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the LORD; for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth.

6 Cry out and shout, thou [y] inhabitant of Zion: for great is the holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

CHAP. XIII.

1 God mustereth the armies of his wrath to destroy Babylon by the Medes. 19 The destruction of Babylon.

THE burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amos did see.

2 Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountaine, exalt the voice unto them, shake the hand, that they may go into the gates of the Nobles.

3 I have commanded my sanctified ones, I have also called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them that rejoyce in my highnesse.

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountaines, like as of a great people: a tumultuous noise of the kingdomes of nations gathered together: the LORD of hosts mustereth the host of the battell.

5 They come from a countrey a farre, from the end of heaven, even the LORD, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.

6 ¶ Howl ye, for the day of the LORD is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every mans heart shall melt.

8 [z] And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorrowes shall take hold of them, they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth: they shall be amazed one at another; their faces shall be as flames.

CHAP. XIIII.

The restauration of Israel. 4 Their triumph over Babel. 24 Gods purpose. 28 Philistia is threatned.

1 For the LORD will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet chuse Israel, and set them in their own land: and the strangers shall be joyned with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob.

2 And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the LORD, for servants and handmaids: and they shall take them captives, whose captives they were, and they shall rule over their oppressours.

3 And it shall come to passe, in the day that the LORD shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou was made to serve,

4 That thou shalt take up this [p] proverb against the King of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressour ceased? the [q] golden city ceased?

… hath broken the staffe of the wicked, …

… 7 The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet: they break forth into singing.

8 Yea, the fir-trees rejoyce at thee, and the Cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us.

9 [r] Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming: it stirreth up the dead for thee, even all the [s] chief ones of the earth; it hath raised up from their thrones all the [t] Kings of the nations.

10 All they shall speak, and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us?

11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heaven, [u] O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!

13 For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the Stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the Congregation, in the sides of the North.

14 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds, I will be like the most High.

15 Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdomes?

17 That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof? [x] that opened not the house of his prisoners?

18 All the Kings of the nations, even all of them lie in glory, every one in his own house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy grave, like an abominable branch: and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust thorow with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit, as a carkeis trodden under feet.

20 Thou shalt not be joyned with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: [y] the seed of evill doers shall never be renowned.

21 Prepare slaughter for his children, [z] for the iniquity of their fathers, that they do not rise, nor possesse the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities.

22 For I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babel the name, and remnant, and son, and nephew, saith the LORD.

23 I will also make it a possession for the bittern, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besome of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts.

24 ¶ The LORD of hosts hath sworne, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass, and as I have purposed, it shall stand:

25 That I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulders.

26 This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations.

27 For the LORD of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

28 In the yeare that king Ahaz died was this burden.

29 ¶ Rejoyce not thou whole Palestina, because the rod of him that smote thee is broken: for out of the serpents root shall come forth a [a] cockatrice, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent.

30 And the first born of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, & he shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howl, O gate, cry, O city, thou whole Palestina art dissolved: for there shall come from the North a smoke, and [b] none shall be alone in his [c] appointed times.

32 What shall one then answer the messengers of the nation? [d] that the LORD hath founded Zion, and the poor of his people shall [e] trust in it.

CHAP. XV.

The lamentable state of Moab.

THE burden of Moab: because in the night Ar of Moab is laid waste, and [f] brought to silence; because in the night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to silence:

2 He is gone up to Bajith, and to Dibon, the high places, to weep: Moab shall howl over Nebo, and over Medeba, [g] on all their heads shall be bald, and every beard cut off.

3 In their streets they shall gird themselves with sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streets every one shall howl, [h] weeping abundantly.

4 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voice shall be heard even unto Jahaz: therefore the armed souldiers of Moab shall cry out, his life shall be grievous unto him.

5 My heart shall cry out for Moab; [i] his fugitives shall flee unto Zoar, an [k] heifer of three years old: for by the mounting up of Luhith, with weeping shall they go it up: for in the way of Horonaim, they shall raise up a cry of [l] destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be [m] desolate: for the hay is withered away, the grasse falleth, there is no green thing.

7 Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall they carry away to the [n] brook of the willowes.

8 For the cry is gone round about the borders of Moab: the howling thereof unto Eglaim, and the howling thereof unto Beer-Elim.

9 For the waters of Dimon shall be full of blood; for I will bring [o] more upon Dimon, lions upon him that escapeth of Moab, and upon the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

Moab is exhorted to yield obedience to Christs kingdome. 6 Moab is threatned for her pride. 9 The Prophet bewaileth her. 12 The judgement of Moab.

SEnd ye the lambe to the ruler of the land from [p] Sela to the wildernesse, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion.

2 For it shall be that as a wandring bird [q] cast out of the nest: so the daughters of Moab shall be at the fords of Arnon.

3 [r] Take counsel, execute judgement, make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noon day; hide the out-casts, bewray not him that wandereth.

4 Let mine out-casts dwell with thee, Moab, be thou a covert to them from [s] face of the spoiler: for the [t] extortioner is at an end, the spoiler ceaseth, [u] oppressors are consumed out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall the throne be [x] established, and he shall [y] sit upon it in truth, in the Tabernacle of David, judging, and seeking judgement, and hasting righteousnesse.

6 ¶ We have heard of [z] the pride of Moab (he is very proud) even of his haughtinesse, and his pride, and his wrath: but his lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Moab [illegible] every one shall howl: for the [illegible] hereth shall ye [a] mourn, surely [illegible]

8 For the fields of Heshbon [illegible] vine of Sibmah, the lords of [illegible] broken down the principall plan[illegible] are come even unto Jazer, they [illegible] the wildernesse, her branches are [illegible] they are gone over the sea.

9 ¶ Therefore I will bewail with [illegible] of Jazer, the vine of Sibmah; I will [illegible] with my tears, O Heshbon, and [illegible] [c] the shooting for thy summer fruits [illegible] harvest, is fallen.

10 And [d] gladnesse is taken away, and [illegible] the plentifull field, and in the vineyards [illegible] be no singing, neither shall there be [illegible] treaders shall tread out no wine in their [illegible] have made their vintage-shouting to cease.

11 Wherefore my bowels shall sound [illegible] harp for Moab, and mine inward parts [illegible] haresh.

12 ¶ And it shall come to passe, when [illegible] that Moab is weary on the high place, [illegible] shall come to his sanctuary to pray: but [illegible] not prevail.

13 This is the word that the LORD hath [illegible] concerning Moab since that time.

14 But now the LORD hath spoken, [illegible] Within three yeers, as the yeers of an [illegible] and the glory of Moab shall be contemned, [illegible] all that great multitude; and the remnant [illegible] very small and [e] feeble.

CHAP. XVII.

Syria and Israel are threatned. 6 A remnant forsake idolatry. 9 The rest shall be [illegible] their impiety. 12 The woe of Israels enemies.

THE burden of Damascus: Behold, [illegible] is taken away from being a city, and [illegible] be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of Aroer are forsaken: [illegible] be for flocks which shall lie down, and [illegible] make them afraid.

3 The fortresse also shall cease [illegible] and the Kingdome from Damascus, [illegible] nant of Syria: they shall be as [illegible] children of Israel, saith the LORD [illegible]

4 And in that day it shall [illegible] the glory of Jacob shall be [illegible] fatnesse of his flesh shall [illegible]

5 And it shall be as [illegible] thereth the corn, and reapeth [illegible] arm, and it shall be as he that [illegible] valley of Rephaim.

6 ¶ Yet gleaning grapes shall be [illegible] the shaking of an Olive tree, two or [illegible] in the top of the uppermost bough: [illegible] in the outmost fruitfull branches thereof, [illegible] LORD God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man look to [illegible] and his eyes shall have respect to the [illegible] Israel.

8 And he shall not look to the [illegible] work of his hands, neither shall [illegible] which his fingers have made, either [illegible] the [f] images)

9 ¶ In that day shall his strong [illegible] forsaken bough, and an uppermost [illegible] they left, because of the children [illegible] there shall be desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten [illegible] salvation, and hast not been mindful [illegible] of thy strength: therefore shalt [illegible] fast plants, and shalt set it with [illegible]

CHAP. XIX.

1 The confusion of Egypt. 11 The foolishness of their Princes. 18 The calling of Egypt to the knowledge of the covenant of Egypt, Assyria, and Israel.

THE burden of Egypt: Behold, the LORD rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt, and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it.
2 And I will [a] set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.
3 And the spirit of Egypt [m] shall fail in the midst thereof, and I will [b] destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards.
4 And the Egyptians will I [c] give over into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts.
5 And the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up.
6 And they shall turn the rivers far away; and the brooks of defence shall be emptied and dried up: the reed and flag shall wither.
7 The paper reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks, and every thing sown by the brooks shall wither, be driven away, and be no more.
8 The fishers also shall mourn, and all they that cast angle into the brooks shall lament, and they that spread nets upon the waters shall languish.
9 Moreover, they that work in fine flax, and they that weave [q] net-works, shall be confounded.
10 And they shall be broken in the purposes thereof, all that make sluices and ponds for fish.
11 ¶ Surely the Princes of Zoan are fools, the counsel of the wise counsellers of Pharaoh is become brutish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?
12 Where are they, where are they [r] thy wise men? and let them tell thee now, and let them know what the LORD of hosts hath purposed upon Egypt.
13 The Princes of Zoan are become fools, the Princes of Noph are deceived, they have also seduced Egypt, even [s] they that are the stay of the tribes thereof.
14 The LORD hath mingled [t] a perverse spirit in the midst thereof: and they have caused Egypt to err in every work thereof, [u] as a drunken man staggereth in his vomit.
15 Neither shall there be any work for Egypt, which the head or tail, branch or rush, may do.
16 In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: and it shall be afraid and fear [x] because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which he shaketh over it.
17 And the land of Judah shall be a terror unto Egypt, every one that maketh mention thereof, shall be afraid in himself, because of the counsel of the LORD of hosts which he hath determined against it.
18 ¶ In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speak the language of Canaan, and [y] swear to the LORD of hosts: one shall be called the city [z] of destruction.
19 In that day shall there be an Altar [a] to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the LORD.
20 And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry unto the LORD because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a Saviour, and a great one, and he shall deliver them.
21 And the LORD shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation, yea, they shall vow a vow unto the LORD, and perform it.
22 And the LORD shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heal it, and they shall return even to the LORD, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.
23 ¶ In that day shall there be a high way out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians shall serve with the Assyrians.
24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt, and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land:
25 Whom the LORD of hosts shall bless, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

CHAP. XX.

A type prefiguring the [b] bondage of Egypt and Ethiopia.

IN the year that Tartan came unto Ashdod (when Sargon the King of Assyria him) and thy shoe from off thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.

3 And the LORD said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years, for a sign and wonder upon Egypt, and upon Ethiopia;

4 So shall the King of Assyria lead away the [b] Egyptians prisoners, and the Ethiopians captives, young and old, naked and bare-foot, even with their buttocks uncovered, to the [c] shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory.

6 And the inhabitant of this [d] isle shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation whither we flee for help, to be delivered from the King of Assyria: and how shall we escape?

CHAP. XXI.

1 The Prophet bewailing the captivity of his people, seeth in a vision the fall of Babylon by the Medes and Persians. 11 Idam scorning the Prophet, is warned to repentance. 13 The sit time of Arabian calamity.

THE burden of the desert of the Sea. As whirlwinds in the South pass thorow; so it cometh from the desert, from a terrible land.

2 A [e] grievous vision is declared unto me; The treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth: Go up, O Elam: besiege, O Media: all the sighing thereof have I made to cease.

3 Therefore are my loins filled with pain; pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down at the hearing of it, I was dismayed at the seeing of it.

4 [f] My heart panted, fearfulness affrighted me: the night of my pleasure hath he [g] turned into fear unto me.

5 Prepare the table, watch in the watch-tower, eat, drink: arise ye Princes, and anoint the shield.

6 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.

7 And he saw a chariot with a couple of horsemen, a chariot of asses, and a chariot of camels; and he hearkened diligently with much heed.

8 And [h] he cryed, A lion: my lord, I stand continually upon the [i] watch-tower in the day time, and I am set in my ward [k] whole nights.

9 And behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen: and he answered and said, [l] Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground.

10 O my threshing, and the [m] corn of my floor: that which I have heard of the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, have I declared unto you.

11 ¶ The burden of Dumah. He calleth to me out of Seir, Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?

12 The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will enquire, enquire ye: return, come.

13 ¶ The burden upon Arabia. In the forrest in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedanim.

14 The inhabitants of the land of Tema [n] brought water to him that was thirsty, they prevented with their bread him that fled.

15 For they fled from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of warre.

16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Within a yeare, according to the yeares of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail:

17 And the residue of the number of archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be diminished: for the LORD God of Israel hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The Prophet lamenteth the invasion of the Persians. 8 He reproveth their security and worldly joy. 15 He prophesieth of Shebna, 20 and Eliakim possessing his office, 24 and Eliakim's substitution.

THE burden of the valley of vision. What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the house tops?

2 Thou that art full of stirrings, a tumultuous city, a joyous city: thy slain men are not slain with the sword, nor dead in battell.

3 All thy rulers are fled together, they are bound [o] by the archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from far.

4 Therefore said I, [p] Look away from me, I will weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me, because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity, by the Lord GOD of hosts in the valley of vision, breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountains.

6 And Elam bare the quiver with chariots of men and horsemen, and Kir [q] uncovered the shield.

7 And it shall come to passe that thy choice valleys shall be full of chariots, and the horsemen shall set themselves in array [r] at the gate.

8 ¶ And he discovered the covering of Judah, and thou didst look in that day to the armour of the house of the forrest.

9 Ye have seen also the breaches of the city of David, that they are many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye have numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses have ye broken down to fortifie the wall.

11 Ye made also a ditch between the two walls for the water of the old pool: but ye have not looked unto the maker thereof, neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago.

12 And in that day did the Lord GOD of hosts call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth:

13 And behold, joy and gladness, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine: let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we shall die.

14 And it was revealed in mine eares by the LORD of hosts; surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD of hosts, Go get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shebna, which is over the house, and say, 16 What hast thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast hewed thee out a sepulchre here, [s] as he that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, and that graveth an habitation for himself in a rock?

17 Behold, [t] the LORD will carry thee away with a [u] mighty captivity, and will surely cover thee.

18 He will surely violently turn and toss thee like a ball into a [x] large country: there shalt thou die, and there the chariots of thy glory shall be the shame of thy Lord's house.

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring, and the issue, all vessels of small quantity, from the vessels of cups, even to all the [b] vessels of flagons.

25 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall the nail that is fastened in the sure place, be removed, and be cut down, and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXIII.

The utter ruin and overthrow of Tyre. 17 Their unhappy recovery.

1 The burden of Tyre. Howl ye ships of Tarshish; for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in: from the land of Chittim it is revealed to them.

2 [c] Be still ye inhabitants of the isle; thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished.

3 And by great waters the seed of Sihor, the harvest of the river is her revenue; and she is a mart of nations.

4 Be thou ashamed, O Zidon, for the sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I travail not, nor bring forth children, neither do I bring up young men, nor bring up virgins.

5 As at the report concerning Egypt, so shall they be sorely pained at the report of Tyre.

6 Pass ye over to Tarshish, howl ye inhabitants of the isle.

7 Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days? her own feet shall carry her afar off to sojourn.

8 Who hath taken this counsel against Tyre, the crowning city, whose merchants are Princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth?

9 The LORD of hosts hath purposed it, [d] to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring into contempt the honourable of the earth.

10 Overflow thy land as a river, O daughter of Tarshish; there is no more [e] strength.

11 He stretched out his hand over the sea, he shook the kingdoms: the LORD hath given a commandment against the merchant city, to destroy the strong holds thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoyce, O thou oppressed virgin, daughter of Zidon: arise, pass over to Chittim, there also shalt thou have no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Chaldeans, this people was not, the Assyrian founded it for them that dwell in the wilderness: they set up the towers thereof, they raised up the palaces thereof, and he brought it to ruin.

14 Howl ye ships of Tarshish: for your strength is laid waste.

15 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one King: after the end of seventy years shall Tyre sing as an harlot.

16 Take a harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the LORD will visit Tyre, and she shall turn to her hire, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.

18 And her merchandise, and her hire shall be holiness to the LORD: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the LORD, to eat sufficiently, and for [f] durable clothing.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 The dreadful judgements of God upon the land. 13 A remnant shall joyfully praise him. 16 God to his judgements shall add unto his kingdom.

BEhold, the LORD maketh the earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And it shall be, as with the people, so with the [a] Priest, as with the servant, so with his master, as with the maid, so with her mistress, as with the buyer, so with the seller, as with the lender, so with the borrower, as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him.

3 The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the LORD hath spoken this word.

4 The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the [b] haughty people of the earth do languish.

5 The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof, because they have transgressed the Laws, changed the Ordinance, broken the everlasting Covenant.

6 Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left.

7 The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merry hearted do sigh.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoyce endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth.

9 They shall not drink wine with a song, strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it.

10 The city of confusion is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets, all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 ¶ When thus it shall be in the midst of the land among the people, there shall be as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the gleaning grapes when the vintage is done.

14 They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majesty of the LORD, they shall cry aloud from the sea.

15 Wherefore glorifie ye the LORD in the fires, even the Name of the LORD God of Israel in the Isles of the sea.

16 ¶ From the [c] uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, even glory to the righteous: but I said, [d] My leanness, my leanness, woe unto me! the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously: yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously.

17 Fear, and the pit, and the snare are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear, shall fall into the [e] pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit, shall be taken [illegible] fast the windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

[illegible]

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe, the earth is cleane dissolved, the earth is moued exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunkard, and shall be remoued like a cottage, and the transgression thereof shall be heauie vpon it, and it shall fall, and not rise again.

21 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the LORD shall [a] punish the hoste of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth vpon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together [b] as prisoners are gathered in the [c] pit, and shall be shut vp in the prison, and after many dayes shall they [d] be visited.

23 Then the [e] Moon shall be confounded, and the Sunne ashamed, when the LORD of hoste shall reigne in mount Zion, and in Ierusalem, and [f] before his ancients gloriously.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The prophet praiseth God for his iudgements, 6 for his saving benefits, 9 and for his victorious saluation.

O LORD, thou art my God, I will exalt thee: I will praise thy Name, for thou hast done wonderfull things; thy counsels of old are faithfulnesse and truth.

2 For thou hast made of a citie, an heap; of a defenced citie, a ruine: a palace of strangers, to be no citie, it shall neuer be built.

3 Therefore shall the strong people glorifie thee; the citie of the terrible nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast been a strength to the poore, a strength to the needy in his distresse, a refuge from the storme, a shadow from the heate, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noise of strangers, as the heate in a dry place, euen the heate with the shadow of a cloude: the branch of the terrible ones shall be brought low.

6 ¶ And in this mountain shall the LORD of hoste make vnto all people a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.

7 And he will [g] destroy in this mountain the face of the couering [h] cast ouer all people, and the vaile that is spread ouer all nations.

8 He will [i] swallow vp death in victory, and the Lord GOD will [k] wipe away teares from off all faces, and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 ¶ And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God, we haue waited for him, and he will saue vs: this is the LORD, we haue waited for him, we will be glad, and reioyce in his saluation.

10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the LORD rest, and Moab shall be [l] troden downe vnder him, euen as straw is [m] troden downe for the dunghill.

11 And he shall spread forth his hands in the midst of them, as he that [n] swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim: and he shall bring downe their pride together with the spoyles of their hands.

12 And the fortresse of the high fort of thy walls shall he bring downe, lay low, and bring to the ground, euen to the dust.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 A song inciting to confidence in God, 5 for his iudgements, 12 and for her fauour to his people. 20 An exhortation to wait on God.

IN that day shall this song be sung in the land of Iudah, We haue a strong citie, saluation will he appoint for walles and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates, that the [a] righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in.

3 Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is [b] stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.

4 Trust ye in the LORD for euer: for in the LORD IEHOVAH is euerlasting strength.

5 ¶ For he bringeth downe them that dwell on high, the lofty citie he layeth it low, he layeth it low euen to the ground, he bringeth it euen to the dust.

6 The foot shall tread it downe, euen the feete of the poore, and the steps of the needy.

7 The way of the iust is vprightnesse: thou most vpright dost weigh the path of the iust.

8 Yea, in the way of thy iudgements, O LORD, haue we waited for thee: the desire of our soule is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night: yea, with my spirit within me will I seeke thee early: for when thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learne righteousnesse.

10 Let fauour be shewed to the wicked, yet he will not learne righteousnesse: in the land of vprightnesse will he deale vniustly, and will not behold the maiesty of the LORD.

11 LORD, when thy hand is lifted vp, they will not see: but they shall see, and be ashamed for their enuie [c] at the people, yea, the fire deuour thine enemies shall deuour them.

12 ¶ LORD, thou wilt ordaine peace for vs: for thou also hast wrought all our works in vs.

13 O LORD our God, other lords beside thee haue had dominion ouer vs: but by thee only will we make mention of thy Name.

14 They are dead, they shall not liue: they are deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish.

15 Thou hast increased the nation, O LORD, thou hast increased the nation, thou art glorified: thou hadst removed it farre vnto all the ends of the earth.

16 LORD, in trouble haue they visited thee, they powred out a [d] prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with trauell draweth necre the time of her deliuery, and is in pangs in her trauell, so haue we been in thy sight, O LORD.

18 We haue been with trauell, we haue been in pain, we haue as it were brought forth wind; we haue not wrought any deliuerance in the earth, neither haue the inhabitants of the world fallen.

19 Thy dead men shall liue, euen with my dead body shall they arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbes, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 ¶ Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores about thee: hide thy selfe as it were for a little moment, vntill the indignation be ouerpast.

21 For behold, the LORD commeth out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her [e] blood, and shall no more couer her slaine.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The Prophet threatneth Ephraim for their pride and drunkennesse, 5 the residue shall be advanced in the Kingdome of Christ. 7 He revileth their Priests. 9 Their untowardnesse to learn. 14 and their security. 16 Christ the sure foundation is praysed. 18 Their security shall be tried. 23 They are exhorted to the consideration of Gods discreet dispensations.

WOE to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat valleys of them that are overcome with wine!
2 Behold, the LORD hath a mighty and strong one, which as a tempest of hail, and a destroying storm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, have cast down to the earth with the hand.
3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trodden under feet.
4 And the glorious beauty which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the hasty fruit before the summer: which when one that looketh upon it, seeth it, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.
5 In that day shall the LORD of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty unto the residue of his people,
6 And for a spirit of judgement to him that sitteth in judgement, and for strength to them that turn the battel to the gate.
7 ¶ But they also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way: the Priest and the Prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink, they erre in vision, they stumble in judgement.
8 For all tables are full of vomit and filthinesse, so that there is no place clean.
9 ¶ Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.
10 For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line, here a little, and there a little.
11 For with stammering lips and another tongue will he speak to this people.
12 To whom he said, This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest, and this is the refreshing, yet they would not hear.
13 But the word of the LORD was unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little, and there a little, that they might go and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.
14 ¶ Wherefore hear the word of the LORD, ye scornfull men that rule this people, which are in Jerusalem.
15 Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falshood have we hid our selves:
16 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation, a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth, shall not make hast.
17 Judgement also will I lay to the line, and righteousnesse to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place.
18 ¶ And your covenant with death shall be disanulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it.
19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you: for morning by morning shall it pass over, by day, and by night, and it shall be a vexation only to understand the report.
20 For the bed is shorter, than that a man can stretch himself on it: and the covering narrower, than that he can wrap himself in it.
21 For the LORD shall rise up as in mount Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.
22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong: for I have heard of the Lord GOD of hosts a consumption even determined upon the whole earth.
23 ¶ Give ye ear, and hear my voice, hearken and hear my speech.
24 Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? doth he open and break the clods of his ground?
25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cummin, and cast in the principall wheat and the appointed barley, and the rie in their place?

29 This also cometh forth from the LORD of hosts, which is wonderful in counsell, and excellent in working.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Gods heavy judgement upon Jerusalem. 7 The unsatisfiableness of her enemies. 9 The senselessness, 13 and deep hypocrisie of the Jews. 18 A promise of sanctification to the godly.

WO to Ariel, to Ariel, [a] the city where David dwelt: adde ye yeer to yeer, let them [b] kill sacrifices.

2 Yet I will distresse Ariel, & there shall be heavinesse & sorrow, & it shall be unto me as Ariel.

3 And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will raise forts against thee.

4 And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be as of one that hath a familiar spirit out of the ground, and thy speech shall [c] whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passeth away; yea, it shall be [d] at an instant, suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the LORD of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with storm and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire.

7 ¶ And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her munition, and that distresse her, shall be as a dream of a night vision.

8 It shall even be as when a hungry man dreameth, and behold, he eateth; but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirstie man dreameth, and behold, he drinketh; but he awaketh, and behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zion.

9 ¶ Stay your selves and wonder, [d] cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine, they stagger, but not with strong drink.

10 For the LORD hath powred out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets, and your [f] rulers, the seers hath he covered.

11 And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a [g] book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot, for it is sealed.

12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned.

13 ¶ Wherefore the Lord said, [h] Forasmuch as this people draw neer me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart farre from me, and their fear towards me is taught by the precept of men:

14 Therefore behold, [h] I will proceed to do a marvellous work amongst this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: [i] for the wisdome of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Wo unto them that seek deep to hide their counsell from the LORD, and their works are in the dark, and they say, [k] Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?

16 Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potters clay: for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?

17 Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitfull field, and the fruitfull field shall be esteemed as a forest?

18 ¶ And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness.

19 The meek also [m] shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the holy One of Israel.

20 For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scorner is consumed, and all that watch for iniquity are cut off:

21 That make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just for a thing of nought.

22 Therefore, thus saith the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob, Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale.

23 But when he seeth his children the work of mine hands in the midst of him, they shall sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.

24 They also that erred in spirit, [n] shall come to understanding, and they that murmured shall learn doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The prophet threatneth the people for their confidence in Egypt. 8 and commandeth it to be committed to writing. 18 Gods mercies towards his Church in the end of the world, and the peoples joy in the destruction of Assyria.

WO to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsell, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my Spirit, that they may adde sinne to sinne:

2 That walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadours came to Hanes.

5 They were all ashamed of a people that could not profit them, nor be an help, nor profit but a shame, and also a reproach.

6 The burden of the beasts of the South: into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that could not profit them.

7 For the Egyptians shall help in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I cried concerning this: Their strength is to sit still.

8 ¶ Now go write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for the time to come, for ever and ever:

9 That this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the LORD:

of the way: turn aside out of the path, cause the holy One of Israel to cease from before us.

12 Wherefore thus saith the holy One of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and stay thereon:

13 Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.

14 And he shall break it as the breaking of the potters b vessel, that is broken in pieces; he shall not spare: so that there shall not be found in the burning of it a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the pit.

15 For thus saith the Lord GOD, the holy One of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved, in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength, and ye would not:

16 But ye said, No, for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee: And we will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.

17 One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five shall ye flee, till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill.

18 ¶ And therefore will the LORD wait that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted that he may have mercy upon you: for the LORD is a God of judgement. d Blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee at the voyce of thy cry; when he shall hear it, he will answer thee.

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of e affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more: but thine eyes shall see thy teachers.

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behinde thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

22 Ye shall defile also the covering of f thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt g cast them away as a menstruous cloth, thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall he give the rain of thy seed that thou shalt sow the ground withall; and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattell feed in large pasture.

24 The oxen likewise, and the young asses that eare the ground, shall eat h clean provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovell, and with the fanne.

25 And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every i high hill, rivers, and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the Moon shall be as the light of the Sunne, and the light of the Sunne shall be seven fold, as the light of seven dayes, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

27 ¶ Behold, the Name of the LORD cometh from farre, burning with his anger, k and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire.

28 And his breath as an overflowing streame, shall reach to the middest of the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity: and there shall be a bridle in the jawes of the people, causing them to erre.

29 Ye shall have a song as in the night when a holy solemnity is kept, and gladnesse of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountaine of the LORD, to the l mighty One of Israel.

30 And the LORD shall cause m his glorious voyce to be heard, and shall shew the lighting down of his arme, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with scattering, and tempest, and hailstones.

31 For through the voyce of the LORD shall the Assyrian be beaten down, which smote with a rod.

32 And o in every place where the grounded staffe shall passe, which the LORD shall p lay upon him, it shall be with tabrets and harps: and in battels of shaking will he fight q with it.

33 For Tophet is ordained r of old; yea, for the King it is prepared, he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the LORD like a streame of brimstone doth kindle it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The Prophet sheweth the cursed folly in trusting to Egypt, and forsaking of God. 6 He exhorteth to conversion. 8 He sheweth the fall of Assyria.

WO to them that go downe to Egypt for help, and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong: but they look not unto the holy One of Israel, neither seek the LORD.

2 Yet he also is wise, and will bring evill, and will not s call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evill doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirit: when the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall downe, and they all shall fail together.

4 For thus hath the LORD spoken unto me, Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of shepherds is called forth against him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abase himself for the t noise of them: so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts defend Jerusalem, defending also; he will deliver it, and passing over, he will preserve it.

6 ¶ Turn ye unto him, from whom the children of Israel have deeply revolted.

7 For in that day every man shall u cast away his idoles of silver, and x his idoles of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sinne.

8 ¶ Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of a mighty man: and the sword, not of a mean man, shall devour him: but he shall flee y from the sword, and his young men shall be z discomfited.

9 And he shall passe over to a his strong hold for feare, and his Princes shall be afraid of the ensigne, saith the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

5 The vile person shall be no more called liberall, nor the churl said to be bountifull.

6 For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisie, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

7 The instruments also of the churl are evill: he deviseth wicked devices, to destroy the poor with lying words, even [c] when the needy speaketh right.

8 But the liberall deviseth liberall things, and by liberall things shall he [d] stand.

9 ¶ Rise up ye women that are at ease: hear my voyce ye careless daughters, give ear unto my speech.

14 Because the palaces shall be forsaken, the multitude of the city shall be left, the [h] forts and towers shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wilde asses, a pasture of flocks;

15 Until the spirit be powred upon us from on high, and the wilderneſſe be a fruitfull field, and the fruitfull field be counted for a forrest.

16 Then [i] judgment shall dwell in the wildernes, and righteousneſſe remain in the fruitfull field.

17 And the work of righteousneſſe shall be peace, and the effect of righteousneſſe, quietneſſe, and assurance for ever.

18 And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places:

19 When it shall hail, coming down on the forrest, [k] and the city shall be low in a low place.

WO to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they deale not treacherously with thee: when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled, and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee.

2 O LORD, be gracious unto us, we have waited for thee; be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult the people fled: at the lifting up of thy self the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoil shall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpillar: as the running to and fro of locusts shall he run upon them.

5 The LORD is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgement and righteousneſſe.

6 And wisdome and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of [l] salvation: the fear of the LORD is his treasure.

7 Behold, their [m] valiant ones shall cry without: the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.

8 The high wayes lie waste, the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth no man.

9 The earth mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is confounded, and [n] hewn down: Sharon is like a wilderneſſe, and Bashan and Carmel shake off their fruits.

10 Now will I rise, saith the LORD, now will I be exalted, now will I lift up my self.

11 Ye shall conceive chaffe, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath as fire shall devour you.

12 And the people shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut up shall they be burnt in the fire.

13 ¶ Heare ye that are far off, what I have done; and ye that are neer, acknowledge my might.

14 The sinners in Zion are afraid, fearfulness hath surprized the hypocrites: who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?

15 He that [o] walketh [p] righteously, and speaketh [q] uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of [r] oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of [s] blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evill:

16 He shall dwell on [t] high, his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks, bread shall be given him, his waters shall be sure.

17 Thine eyes shall see the King in his beauty: they shall behold [u] the land that is very far off.

18 Thine heart shall meditate terrour: where is the [x] Scribe? where is the [y] Receiver? where is he that counted the towers?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a deeper speech than thou canst perceive; of a [z] stammering tongue, that thou canst not understand.

20 Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a Tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.

21 But there the glorious LORD will be unto us a place of [a] broad rivers, and streams: wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship passe thereby.

22 For the LORD is our Judge, the LORD is our [b] Law-giver, the LORD is our King, he will save us.

23 [c] Thy tacklings are loosed: they could not well strengthen their mast, they could not spread the sail: then is the prey of a great spoil divided, the lame take the prey.

24 And the Inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

1 The judgements wherewith God will visit his Church. 11 The desolation of his enemies. 16 The certainty of the prophesy.

COme neer ye nations to hear, and hearken ye people: let the earth hear, and all that is therein, the world, and all things that come forth of it.

2 For the indignation of the LORD is upon all nations, and his fury upon all their armies: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their carkasses, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.

heaven shall be [a] rolled together as a scroll: all their host shall fall down as the leaf fadeth off from the vine, and as a [b] falling fig from the fig-tree.

5 For my sword shall be bathed in heaven: behold, it shall come down upon Idumea, and upon the people of my curse to judgement.

6 The sword of the LORD is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatnesse, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the LORD hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.

7 And the [c] Unicorns shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls, and their land shall be [d] soaked with blood, and their dust made fat with fatnesse.

8 For it is the day of the LORDS [e] vengeance, and the yeer of recompences for the controversie of Zion.

9 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day, [f] the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste, none shall passe through it for ever and ever.

11 ¶ The [b] Cormorant and the Bittern shall possesse it, the Owl also and the Raven shall dwell in it, and he shall stretch out upon it the line of confusion, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdome, but none shall be there, and all her princes shall be nothing.

13 And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of dragons, and a court for [g] Owls.

14 The wilde [h] beasts of the desert shall also meet with the [i] wilde beasts of the Iland, and the satyre shall cry to his fellow, the [m] Shrich-owle also shall rest there, and finde for her self a place of rest.

15 There shall the great Owl make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: there shall the Vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate.

16 ¶ Seek ye out of the book of the Lord, and read: no one of these shall fail, none shall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit, it hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possesse it for ever; from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

CHAP. XXXV.

The joyful flourishing of Christs Kingdome. 3 The weak are comforted by the certain and privileges of the elected.

1 The wildernesse and the solitary place shall be glad for them: and the desert shall rejoyce and blossome as the Rose.

2 It shall blossome abundantly, and rejoyce even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon: they shall see the glory of the LORD, and the excellency of our God.

3 Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees.

4 Say to them that are of [o] a fearfull heart, Fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompence, he will come and save you.

5 Then the eyes of the blinde shall be opened, and the eares of the deaf shall be unstopped.

6 Then shall the [p] lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumbe singeth: for in the wilderness shall [q] waters break out, and streames in the desert.

7 And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be [r] grasse, with reeds and rushes.

8 ¶ And an high way shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holinesse, the uncleane shall not passe over it, [s] but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fooles, shall not erre therein.

9 No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there: but the redeemed shall walk there.

10 And the [t] ransomed of the LORD shall returne, and come to Zion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladnesse, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Sennacherib invadeth Judah. 4 Rabshakeh sent by Sennacherib, by blasphemous perswasions seeketh the people to revolt. 22 His words are told to Hezekiah.

1 NOw [u] it came to passe in the fourteenth yeer of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the defenced cities of Judah, and took them.

2 And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh, from Lachish to Jerusalem, unto king Hezekiah, with a great army: and he stood by the conduit of the upper pool, in the high way of the Fullers field.

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim, Hilkiahs sonne, which was over the house, and Shebna the [x] Scribe, and Joah Asaphs sonne, the recorder.

4 ¶ And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say (sayest thou) (but they are but [y] vain words) I have counsell and strength for warre: Now on whom dorst thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in the [z] staff of this broken reed, on Egypt; whereon if a man leane, it will go into his hand and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt, to all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the LORD our God: Is it not he, whose high places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore give [b] pledges, I pray thee, to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my masters servants, and put thy trust on Egypt, for charets and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come up without the LORD against this land, to destroy it? The LORD said unto me, Go up against this land and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim, and Shebna, and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language, for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jewes language in the eares of the people that are on the wall.

12 ¶ But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own pisse with you?

13 Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

14 Thus saith the king; Let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us: this citie shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, [a] Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me: and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his figtree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cisterne:

a Or, seek my favour by a present. Heb. make with me a blessing

17 Untill I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Beware lest Hezekiah perswade you, saying, The LORD will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arphad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they amongst all the gods of these lands, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

21 But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the kings commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

22 ¶ Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, that was over the houshold, and Shebna the Scribe, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 Hezekiah mourning, sendeth to Isaiah to pray for them. 6 Isaiah comforteth them. 8 Sennacherib going to warre against Tirhakah, sendeth a blasphemous letter to Hezekiah. 14 Hezekiahs prayer. 21 Isaiah his prophesy of the pride and destruction of Sennacherib, and the good of Zion. 36 An Angel slayeth the Assyrians. 37 Sennacherib is slain at Nineveh by his own sonnes.

b 2. Kings 19. 1, &c.

AND it [b] came to passe when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD.

2 And he sent Eliakim who was over the houshold, and Shebna the Scribe, and the elders of the priests covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of [c] blasphemy; for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

c Or, provocation.

4 It may be the LORD thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the Lord thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is [d] left.

d Heb. found.

5 So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 ¶ And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say unto your master, Thus saith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will [e] send a blast upon him, and he shall heare a rumour, and return to his own land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

e Or, put a spirit in him.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the King of Assyria warring against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come forth to make warre with thee: and when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying;

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the King of Assyria.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly; and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Telassar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the king of Arphad, and the King of the city of Sepharvaim, Henah, and Ivah?

14 ¶ And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it, and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD.

15 And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying,

16 O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the Cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth.

17 Incline thine eare, O LORD, and heare; Open thine eyes, O LORD, and see, and heare all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God.

18 Of a truth, LORD, the Kings of Assyria have laid waste all the [f] nations and their countries, f Or, countries.

19 And have [g] cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of mens hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them.

g Or, given.

20 Now therefore, O LORD our God, I beseech thee, save thou us from his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth may know that thou art the LORD, even thou onely.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib King of Assyria:

22 This is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him: The virgin the daughter of Zion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the holy One of Israel.

24 [h] By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut down the tall Cedars thereof, and the choice Fir-trees thereof: and I will enter into the lodgings of his border, and the [k] forest of his fruitfull field.

…this not heard long ago, how I have
…of ancient times that I have formed it?
…I brought it to passe, that thou shouldest
…make defenced cities into ruinous heaps.
…Therefore their inhabitants were [b] of small
…they were dismayed and confounded: they
…as the grasse of the field, and as the green
…as the grasse on the house tops, and as corn
…before it be grown up.

…But I know thy [c] abode, and thy going out,
…and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.
…Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult is …into mine eares: therefore will I put mine
…my nose, & my bridle in thy lips, & I will …back by the way by which thou camest.
…And this shall be a signe unto thee, Ye shall

…year that which springeth of the same:
…the third year sowe ye, and reap, and …vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.
…And the [d] remnant that is escaped of the …Judah, shall again take root downward,
…fruit upward.
…For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a rem-
…and [e] they that escape out of mount Zion:
…zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.
…Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning …the King of Assyria, He shall not come into this
…nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it
…with shields, nor cast a bank against it.
…By the way that he came, by the same shall …return, and shall not come into this city, saith
…the LORD.
…For I will [f] defend this city to save it, for …mine own sake, and for my servant Davids sake.
…Then the [h] Angel of the LORD went forth,
…and smote in the campe of the Assyrians, an hun…dred and fourscore and five thousand: and when …they arose early in the morning, behold, they were
…all dead corpses.
…So Sennacherib King of Assyria departed,
…went, and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.
…And it came to passe as he was worshipping
…in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech
…and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword,
…and they escaped into the land of [i] Armenia: and
…Esarhaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

…And said, Remember now, O LORD, I beseech …thee, how I have walked before thee in truth, and …with a perfect heart, and have done that which is

…Then came the word of the LORD to
…Isaiah, saying,
…Go and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the

…The writing of Hezekiah King of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickneſſe:
…I said in the cutting off of my dayes, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my yeeres.
…I said, I shall not see the LORD, even the LORD in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.
…Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a shepherds tent: I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off [o] with pining sickneſſe: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.
…I reckoned till morning, that as a lion, so will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.
…Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O LORD, I am oppreſſed, [p] undertake for me.
…What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it: I shall go softly all my yeers in the bitternesse of my soul.
…O Lord, by these things men live: and in all these things is the life of my spirit, so wilt thou recover me, and make me to live.
…Behold, [q] for peace I had great bitternesse, but [r] thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sinnes behinde thy back.
…For the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.
…The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth.
…The LORD was ready to save me: therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments all the dayes of our life in the house of the LORD.
…For Isaiah had said, Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover.

1 Merodach Baladan sending to visit Hezekiah be-

3 Isaiah understanding thereof, foretelleth the Babylonish captivity.

…At that time Merodach-Baladan the sonne of Baladan King of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.
…And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his [s] precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his [t] armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion that Hezekiah shewed them not.
…Then came Isaiah the Prophet unto King Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a farre country unto me, even from Babylon.
…Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them.

7 And of thy ſonnes that ſhall iſſue from thee, which thou ſhalt beget, ſhall they take away: and they ſhall be Eunuchs in the palace of the King of Babylon.

27 The first shall say to Zion, Behold, behold them, and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good tidings.
28 For I beheld, and there was no man, even amongst them, and there was no counseller, that when I asked of them, could answer a word.
29 Behold, they are all vanity, their works are nothing: their molten images are winde and confusion.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The office of Christ ordained with meekness, and confidence. 5 Gods promise unto him. 10 An exhortation to praise God for his Gospel. 17 He reproveth the people of unrighteousness.

BEhold my servant whom I uphold, mine elect in whom my soul delighteth: I have put my Spirit upon him, he shall bring forth judgement to the Gentiles.
2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.
3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgement unto truth.
4 He shall not fail, nor be discouraged, till he have set judgement in the earth, and the Iles shall wait for his Law.
5 Thus saith God the LORD, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out, he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it, he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein:
6 I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles:
7 To open the blinde eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house.
8 I am the LORD, that is my Name, and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.
9 Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth, I tell you of them.
10 Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein, the Iles, and the inhabitants thereof.
11 Let the wilderness, and the Cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains.
12 Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise in the Iles.
13 The LORD shall go forth as a mighty man, he shall stirre up jealousie like a man of warre: he shall cry, yea, roar, he shall prevail against his enemies.
14 I have long time holden my peace; I have been still, and refrained my self: now will I cry like a travailing woman, I will destroy and devour at once.
15 I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs, and I will make the rivers Iles, and I will dry up the pools.
16 And I will bring the blinde by a way that they knew not, I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things streight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.
17 They shall be turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed that trust in graven images, that me, cry to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Hear ye deaf, and look ye blinde, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I sent? who is blinde as he that is perfect, and blinde as the LORDS servant?

20 Seeing many things, [a] but thou observest not: opening the ears, but he heareth not.

21 The LORD is well pleased for his righteousnesse sake, he will magnifie the Law, and make [b] it honourable.

22 But this is a people robbed and spoiled, [c] they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison-houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; [d] for a spoil, and none saith, Restore.

23 Who among you will give ear to this? who will hearken and hear [e] for the time to come?

24 Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the LORD, he against whom we have sinned? For they would not walk in his wayes, neither were they obedient unto his Law.

25 Therefore he hath powred upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battell: and it hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not, and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth the Church with his promises. 8 He appealeth to the people for witnesse of his omnipotencie. 14 He foretelleth them the destruction of Babylon, 18 and his wonderfull deliverance of his people. 22 He reproveth the people as ingratefull.

BUt now thus saith the LORD that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

2 When thou passest thorow the waters, I will be with thee, and thorow the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest thorow the fire, thou shalt not be burnt; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

3 For I am the LORD thy God, the holy One of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

4 Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life.

5 Fear not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Give up, and to the South, Keep not back: bring my sons from farre, and my daughters from the ends of the earth;

7 Even every one that is called by my Name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him, yea, I have made him.

8 ¶ Bring forth the blinde people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: [h] who among them can declare this, and shew us former things? let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear, and say, It is truth.

10 Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: [i] before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, even I am the LORD, and beside me there is no Saviour.

12 I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesse, saith the LORD, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was I am he: and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will worke, and who shall [m] let it?

14 ¶ Thus saith the LORD your redeemer, the holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and have brought down all their nobles, and the Caldeans, whose cry is in the ships.

15 I am the LORD your holy one, the creator of Israel, your King.

16 Thus saith the LORD which maketh a way in the sea, and a [q] path in the mighty waters;

17 Which bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the power: they shall lie down together, they shall not rise: they are extinct, they are quenched as towe.

18 ¶ Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old.

19 Behold, I will do a [r] new thing, now it shall spring forth, shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert.

20 The beast of the field shall honour me, the dragons and the [s] owls, because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen.

21 [t] This people have I formed for myself; they shall shew forth my praise.

22 ¶ But thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob; but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel.

23 Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou [u] filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thy sinnes, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I am he that [v] blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sinnes.

26 Put me in remembrance: let us plead together: declare thou, that thou mayest be justified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I have profaned the princes of the Sanctuary, and have given Jacob to the curse, and Israel to reproaches.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 God comforteth the Church with his promises. 9 and folly of idols. 9 He exhorteth to praise God for his omnipotency.

YEt now hear, [b] O Jacob my servant, and Israel whom I have chosen.

2 Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed thee from the wombe, which will help thee: Feare not, O Jacob my servant, and thou Jesurun, whom I have chosen.

3 For I will [c] powre water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will powre my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine off-spring:

4 And they shall spring up as among the grasse, as willows by the water-courses.

5 One shall say, I am the LORDS; and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the LORD, and surname himself by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the LORD the King

27 That saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers:
28 That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure, even saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

CHAP. XLV.

1 God calleth Cyrus for his Churches sake. 5 By his omnipotency he challengeth obedience. 20 He convinceth the idols of vanity, by his strong power.

Thus saith the LORD to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him; and I will loose the loins of kings; to open before him the two-leaved gates, and the gates shall not be shut;
2 I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight, I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron:
3 And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I the LORD, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel.
4 For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me.
5 ¶ I am the LORD, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me:
6 That they may know from the rising of the Sun, and from the West, that there is none beside me. I am the LORD, and there is none else.
7 I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the LORD do all these things.
8 Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together: I the LORD have created it.
9 Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker: Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands?
10 Woe unto him that saith unto his father, What begettest thou? or to the woman, What hast thou brought forth?
11 Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.
12 I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.
13 I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let go my captives, not for price nor reward, saith the LORD of hosts.
14 Thus saith the LORD, The labour of Egypt, and merchandise of Ethiopia and of the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they …ther: there is none beside me, I am the LORD, and there is none else.

19 I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

20 ¶ Assemble yourselves and come; draw near together, ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save.

21 Tell ye, and bring them near, yea, let them take counsel together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the LORD? and there is no God else beside me, a just God, and a Saviour; there is none beside me.

22 Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else.

23 I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, that unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear.

24 Surely, shall one say, In the LORD have I righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come; and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.

25 In the LORD shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The idols of Babylon could not save themselves. 3 God saveth his people to the end. 5 Idols are not comparable to God for power, 12 or perfect salvation.

BEL boweth down, Nebo stoopeth, their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: your carriages were heavy loaden, they are a burden to the weary beast.

2 They stoop, they bow down together, they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.

3 ¶ Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which are borne by me from the belly, which are carried from the womb.

4 And even to your old age I am he, and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear, even I will carry, and will deliver you.

5 ¶ To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like?

6 They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea they worship.

7 They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto it, yet can it not answer, nor save

…ing to remembrance, ye transgressors, and consider it.

9 Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me,

10 Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure:

11 Calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man that executeth my counsel from a far country: yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed it, I will also do it.

12 ¶ Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness:

13 I bring near my righteousness; it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry: and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

CHAP. XLVII.

1 God pronounceth upon Babylon and Chaldea their misery, 5 pride, 10 and security, 11 and the unsatisfiable.

COME down and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate.

2 Take the millstones, and grind meal: uncover thy locks, make bare the leg, uncover the thigh, pass over the rivers.

3 Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man.

4 As for our Redeemer, the LORD of hosts is his Name, the Holy One of Israel.

5 Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called the Lady of kingdoms.

6 ¶ I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy; upon the ancient hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke.

7 ¶ And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

8 Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart, I am, and none else besides me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children:

9 But these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: they shall come upon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine enchantments.

10 ¶ For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else besides me.

11 Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know from whence it riseth: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

12 Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

CHAP. XLIX.

GRAD. XLIX.

1 Christ's love, sum is the first, accomplishment of them.
5 His dignity to the Gentiles, under various prerogatives.
13 Gods love is perpetuall to his Church. 18 The speedy restauration of the Church. 24 The passage of the captives out of captivity.

1 Hearken, O Iles, unto me, and harken ye people, from farre. The Lord hath called me from the wombe, from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me;

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified.

4 Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain: yet surely my judgement is with the Lord, and my work with my God.

5 ¶ And now, saith the Lord that formed me from the wombe to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him: Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God shall be my strength.

6 And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant, to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

7 Thus saith the Lord the Redeemer of Israel, and his holy One, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers: Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the Lord that is faithfull, and the holy One of Israel, and he shall chuse thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, In a time accepted have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to stablish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9 That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves: they shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places.

12 Behold, these shall come from far: and lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim.

13 ¶ Sing, O heavens, and be joyful, O earth, and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the LORD hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The LORD hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her sucking child, [a] that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me.

17 Thy children shall make haste; thy destroyers, and they that made thee waste, shall go forth of thee.

18 ¶ [b] Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee: as I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee as a bride doth.

19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction shalt even now be too narrow, by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up, shall be far away.

20 The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these where had they been?

22 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the Gentiles, and set up my standard to the people: and they shall bring thy sons in their [c] arms: and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

23 And kings shall be thy [d] nursing fathers, and their [e] queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their face toward the earth, and [f] lick up the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD: for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

24 ¶ Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or [g] the lawful captive delivered?

25 But thus saith the LORD, Even the [h] captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children.

26 And I will feed them that oppress thee, with their own flesh, and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with [k] sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.

1 Christ foreseeth that the desolation of the Jews is not to be imputed to him, 4 by his ability to serve, 5 by his obedience in that work, 7 and by his confidence in God's assistance. 10 An exhortation to trust in God, and not in ourselves.

THUS saith the LORD, Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, whom I have put away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities have ye sold yourselves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away.

2 Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the [l] rivers desert: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.

4 The Lord GOD hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is [a] weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned.

5 ¶ The Lord GOD hath opened mine ear, and I was not [p] rebellious, neither turned away back.

6 ¶ I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 ¶ For the Lord GOD will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 [r] He is near that justifieth me, who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.

9 Behold, the Lord GOD will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? Lo, they all shall wax old as a garment: the moth shall eat them up.

10 ¶ Who is among you that feareth the LORD, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the Name of the LORD, and stay upon his God.

11 Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. [t] This shall ye have of mine hand, ye shall lie down in sorrow.

1 An exhortation after the pattern of Abraham to trust in Christ, 3 by reason of his infallible promises, 6 of his righteousness and mans mortality. 9 Christ's arm defended by him from the fear of man, bewaileth the afflictions of Jerusalem, promiseth deliverance.

HEARKEN to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the LORD: look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 For the LORD shall comfort Zion: he will comfort all her waste places, and he will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the LORD: joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

4 ¶ Hearken unto me, my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgment to rest for a light of the people.

5 My righteousness is near; my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the people; the isles shall wait upon me, and on mine arm shall they trust.

6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 ¶ Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose

...the overcast of snow, neither boyes ...new things.

...mouth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wooll: ...my righteousness shall be for ever, and my ...from generation to generation.

9 Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the LORD, awake as in the ancient dayes, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the b dragon?

10 Art thou not it which hath c dried the sea, the waters of the great deep, that hath made the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to passe over?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the LORD shall ...return, and come with singing unto Zion, and everlasting joy shall be upon their c head: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, even I am he that comforteth you, who art thou that thou shouldest be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the sonne of man which shall be made as grasse?

13 And forgettest the LORD thy Maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually every day, because of the fury of the oppressor, as if he were ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressour?

14 The captive exile hasteneth that he may be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor ...bread should fail.

15 But I am the LORD thy God, that d divided the sea, whose waves roared: the LORD of hosts is his Name.

16 And I have put my words e in thy mouth, and have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 ¶ Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the LORD the cup of his fury; thou hast drunk the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sonnes whom she hath brought forth: neither is there any that taketh her by the hands of all the sonnes that she hath brought up.

19 These two things f are come unto thee; who shall be sorry for thee? desolation, and g destruction, and the famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as a wilde bull in a net; they are full of the fury of the LORD, the rebuke of thy God.

21 ¶ Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord the LORD, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again.

23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee: which have said to thy soul, Bow downe that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street to them that went over.

CHAP. LVI.

1 The prophet exhorteth to godliness. 3 He proveth the generall, without respect of person. 9 He reproveth spiritual blinde watchmen.

THus saith the LORD, Keep ye judgement, and do justice: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doth this; and the sonne of man that layeth hold on it: that keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evill.

3 Neither let the sonne of the stranger that hath joyned himself to the LORD, speak, saying, The LORD hath utterly separated me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the LORD unto the Eunuchs that keep my Sabbaths, and chuse the things that please me, and take hold of my Covenant:

5 Even unto them will I give in mine house, and within my walls, a place and a name better than of sonnes and of daughters: I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

6 Also the sonnes of the stranger that joyn themselves to the LORD, to serve him, and to love the Name of the LORD, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my Covenant:

7 Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyfull in my house of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine Altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people.

8 The Lord GOD which gathereth the outcasts of Israel, saith, Yet will I gather others to him, besides those that are gathered unto him.

9 All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, all ye beasts in the forrest.

10 His watchmen are blinde: they are all ignorant, they are all dumbe dogs, they cannot bark: sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber.

11 Yea, they are greedy dogs, which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter.

12 Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill our selves with strong drink: and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

CHAP. LVII.

1 The death of the righteous. 3 Their reproofe for their wickednesse. 14 The way to the true comfort.

THE righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart: and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evill to come.

2 He shall enter into peace: they shall rest in their beds, each one walking in his uprightness.

3 But draw neare hither, ye sonnes of the witch, the seed of the adulterer and the whore.

4 Against whom make you a sport? against whom make you a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are not ye children of transgression, a seed of falsehood,

5 Inflaming your selves with idols under every greene tree, slaying the children in the valleys under the clifts of the rocks?

6 Among the smooth stones of the stream is thy portion: they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou powred a drinke offering, thou hast offered a meat offering. Should I receive comfort in these?

7 Upon a high and lofty mountaine hast thou set thy bed: even thither wentest thou up to offer sacrifice.

8 Behind the doores also and the posts hast thou set up thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thy self to another than me, and art gone up; thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made a covenant for them; thou lovedst their bed where thou sawest it.

9 And thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thy messengers farre off, and didst debase thy self even unto hell.

10 Thou art wearied in the greatnesse of thy way, yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou hast found the life of thine hand, therefore thou wast not grieved.

11 And of whom hast thou been afraid or feared, that thou hast lied, and hast not remembred me, nor laid it to thy heart? have not I held my peace even of old, and that before all me, and thou fearest me not?

12 I will declare thy righteousnesse, and thy workes; for they shall not profit thee.

13 When thou cryest, let them that are with thee deliver them: but the winde shall carry them all away, vanity shall take them: but he that putteth his trust in me, shall possesse the land, and shall inherit my holy mountaine;

14 And shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumbling block out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose Name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

16 For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should fail before me, and the soules which I have made.

17 For the iniquity of his covetousnesse was I wroth, and smote him: I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart.

18 I have seen his wayes, and will heale him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners.

19 I create the fruit of the lips; Peace, peace to him that is farre off, and to him that is neare, saith the LORD, and I will heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The Prophet is sent to reprove the hypocrisie of the people. 6 He teacheth true fasting. 13 The sanctifying of the Sabbath.

not hear my voice to day, to whom you cry, I will be found of you.

4 Is it such a fast that I have chosen? a to afflict his soul? is it to bow down his head as a bul-rush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the LORD?

5 Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the c oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

6 Is it not to d deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are e cast out, to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him, and that thou hide not thy self from thine own flesh?

8 ¶ Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee, the glory of the LORD h shall be thy rereward.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the LORD shall answer, thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from f midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking vanity:

10 And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfie the afflicted soul: then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon day.

11 And the LORD shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soul in i drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters k fail not.

12 And they that shall be of thee, l shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, the restorer of paths to dwell in.

13 ¶ If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the LORD, honourable; and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words:

14 Then shalt thou delight thy self in the LORD, and I will cause thee to m ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The dreadful nature of sins. 3 Yet guest of the Jews. 9 Calamity is for sins. 16 Salvation is only of God. 20 The Covenant of the Redeemer.

BEhold, the LORD's hand is not n shortened that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear:

2 But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins o have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

3 For p your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseness.

4 None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; q they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

5 They hatch r cockatrice eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and s that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper.

6 t Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.

7 u Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not; and there is no x judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths; whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace.

9 ¶ Therefore is judgment far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscurity; for brightness, but we walk in darkness.

10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as if we had no eyes: we stumble at noon day as in the night; we are in desolate places as dead men.

11 We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgment, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us.

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testifie against us: for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities we know them;

13 In transgressing and lying against the LORD, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.

14 And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afarre off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth, and he that departeth from evil y maketh himself a prey: and the LORD saw it, and z it displeased him that there was no judgment.

16 ¶ And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his arm brought salvation unto him; and his righteousness, it sustained him.

17 For he put on b righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head: and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloke.

18 According to c their d deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies, to the islands he will make recompence.

19 So shall they fear the Name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sunne: when the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD shall lift up a standard against him.

20 ¶ And the e Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the LORD.

21 As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the LORD; My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come bending unto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall [g] bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet, and they shall call thee the city of the LORD, the Zion of the holy One of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went thorow thee; I will make thee an eternall excellency, a joy of many generations.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of Kings, and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.

17 For brasse I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brasse, and for stone iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousnesse.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls salvation, and thy gates praise.

19 [h] The Sunne shall be no more thy light by day, neither for brightnesse shall the Moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20 Thy Sunne shall no more go down, neither shall thy Moon withdraw it self: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the dayes of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the LORD will hasten it in his time.

2 To proclaim the acceptable yeer of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourn;

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oyl of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heavinesse; that they might be called trees of righteousnesse, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.

4 ¶ And they shall [k] build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repaire the waste cities, the desolations of many generations.

5 And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sonnes of the alien shall be your plow-men, and your vine-dressers.

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the LORD: men shall call you the Ministers of our God: [l] ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall you boast your selves.

7 ¶ For your shame you shall have double; and for confusion they shall rejoyce in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possesse the double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8 For I the LORD love judgement, I hate robbery for burnt offering, and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their off-spring among the people: All that see them, shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the LORD hath blessed.

10 I will greatly rejoyce in the LORD, my soul shall be joyfull in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousnesse, as a bridegroom [m] decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth her self with her jewels.

11 Then he remembred the dayes of old, Moſes and his people, ſaying, Where is he that o brought them vp out of the ſea, with the p ſhepherds of his flock? Where is he that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 That led them by the right hand of Moſes with his glorious arm, q dividing the water before them, to make himſelf an everlaſting Name?

13 That led them thorow the deep, as an horſe in the wilderneſſe, that they ſhould not ſtumble?

14 As a beaſt goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the LORD cauſed him to reſt: ſo didſt thou lead thy people, to make thy glorious Name.

15 ¶ r Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holineſſe, and of thy glory: where is thy zeal, and thy ſtrength, the ſounding of thy bowels, and of thy mercies toward me? are they reſtrained?

16 Doubtleſſe thou art our Father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Iſrael acknowledge us not: thou, O LORD, art our Father, our Redeemer, Thy Name is from everlaſting.

17 ¶ O LORD, why haſt thou made us to err from thy wayes? and hardned our heart from thy fear? Return for thy ſervants ſake, the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thy holineſſe have poſſeſſed but a little while: our adverſaries have trodden down thy Sanctuary.

19 We are thine, thou never barreſt rule over them, as they were not called by thy Name.

CHAP. LXV.

The calling of the Gentiles. 11 The shame for idolatry, idolatry, and hypocrisy, are reproved. 13 Servants shall be feed. 21 Inhabitants in the world, and kingdom in the world to come. 25 The lifted peace of the new Jerusalem.

I Am sought of them that asked not for me: I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my Name.

2 I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own thoughts;

3 A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face, that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense upon altars of brick;

4 Which remain among the graves, and lodge in the monuments, which eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things is in their vessels;

5 Which say, Stand by thy self, come not near to me; for I am holier than thou: these are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, even recompense into their bosome,

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together (saith the LORD) which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosome.

8 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants sakes, that I may not destroy them all.

9 And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritour of my mountains: and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there.

10 And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me.

11 But ye are they that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink offering unto that number.

12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter: because when I called, ye did not answer; when I spake, ye did not hear; but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed:

14 Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit.

15 And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen: for the Lord GOD shall slay thee, and call his servants by another name:

16 So that he who blesseth himself in the earth, shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth, shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes.

17 ¶ For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

18 But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people: and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall die an hundred years old; but the sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble: for they are the seed of the blessed of the LORD, and their offspring with them.

24 And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking I will hear.

25 The wolf and the lambe shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and dust shall be the serpents meat. They shall not hurt, nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the LORD.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 The glorious God will be served in humble fearing. 5 He comforteth the humble with the marvellous generation. 10 and with the gracious benefits of the Church. 15 Gods fiery judgements against the wicked. 19 The Gentiles shall have an holy Church. 24 and for the damnation of the wicked.

THus saith the LORD, The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest?

2 For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the LORD: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.

3 He that killeth an ox, is as if he slew a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood; he that remembereth incense, as if he blessed an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations.

4 I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not.

5 ¶ Hear the word of the LORD, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my Names sake, said, Let the LORD be glorified: but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.

6 A voice of noise from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the LORD that rendereth recompence to his enemies.

7 Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man child.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day? or shall a nation be born at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children.

11 That ye may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the [a] abundance of her glory.
12 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye suck, ye shall be [b] born upon her sides, and be dandled upon her knees.
13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.
14 And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoyce, and your bones shall flourish like an herb: and the hand of the LORD shall be known towards his servants, and his indignation towards his enemies.
15 For behold, the LORD will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlewinde, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.
16 For by fire and by his sword, will the LORD plead with all flesh: and the slain of the LORD shall be many.
17 They that sanctifie themselves, and purifie themselves in the gardens [c] behinde one tree in the midst, eating swines flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the LORD.
18 For I know their works, and their thoughts: it shall come that I will gather all nations, and tongues, and they shall come and 19 And I will set a signe among them, and I will send those that escape of them unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, that draw the bowe, to Tubal and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory, and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the LORD, out of all nations upon horses, and in chariots, and in [d] litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, saith the LORD, as the children of Israel bring an offering in a clean vessel into the house of the LORD.
21 And I will also take of them for [e] priests and for Levites, saith the LORD.
22 For as [f] the new heavens, and the new earth which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain.
23 And it shall come to passe, that from one new moone to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD.
24 And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcases of the men that have transgressed against me: for their [h] worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

¶ THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 The time, 3 and the calling of Jeremiah. 11 His Prophetical visions of an Almond rod, and a seething pot. 15 His heavy message against Judah. 17 God encourageth him with his promise of assistance.

1 The words of Jeremiah the sonne of Hilkiah, of the Priests that were in Anathoth, in the land of Benjamin:
2 To whom the word of the LORD came in the dales of Josiah the sonne of Amon king of Judah, in the thirteenth yeer of his reign.
3 It came also in the dayes of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh yeer of Zedekiah the sonne of Josiah King of Judah, unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth moneth.
4 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
5 Before I [a] formed thee in the belly, I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb, I [b] sanctified thee, and I [c] ordained thee a Prophet unto the nations.
6 Then said I, Ah [d] Lord GOD, behold, I cannot speak, for I am a childe.
7 ¶ But the LORD said unto me, Say not I am a childe: for thou shalt go to all [e] I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.
8 [f] Be not afraid of their faces: for [g] I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD.
9 Then the LORD [h] put forth his hand, and touched my mouth, and the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have [i] put my words in thy mouth.
10 See, I have this day set thee over the nations, and over the kingdomes, [k] to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw downe, to build, and to plant.
11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an Almond tree.
12 Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will hasten my word to perform it.
13 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething pot, and the face thereof is [k] towards the North.
14 Then the LORD said unto me, Out of the [l] North an evill [m] shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.
15 For lo, I will [n] call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the LORD, and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entring of the gate of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah.
16 And I will utter my judgements against them, touching all their wickednesse, who have forsaken me, and have burnt incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.
17 ¶ Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I confound thee before them.
18 For behold, I have made thee this day a defenced city, and an iron pillar, and brasen walls against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the Princes thereof, against the Priests thereof, and against the people of the land.
19 And they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

Moreover, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD, I remember [a] thee, the kindness of thy [b] youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown.
3 Israel was holiness unto the LORD, and the first fruits of his increase: all that devour him shall offend; evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.
4 Hear ye the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.
5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?
6 Neither said they, Where is the LORD, that brought us up out of the land of Egypt? that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, through a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?
7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodness thereof; but when ye entered, ye [d] defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.
8 The Priests said not, Where is the LORD? and they that handle the [e] Law, knew me not: the Pastours also transgressed against me, and the Prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.
9 ¶ Wherefore, I will yet plead with you, saith the LORD, and with your children's children will I plead.
10 For pass [f] over the Isles of Chittim, and see; and send unto Kedar and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing.
11 Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.
12 Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, & be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD.
13 For my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns that can hold no water.
14 ¶ Is Israel a servant? is he a home-born slave? why is he [g] spoiled?
15 The young lions roared upon him, and yelled, and they made his land waste: his cities are burnt without inhabitant.
16 Also the children of Noph and Tahapanes have broken the crown of thy head.
17 Hast thou not procured this unto thy self, in that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, when he led thee by the way?
18 And now, what hast thou to do in the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Sihor? Or what hast thou to do in the way of Assyria, to drink the waters of the river?
19 Thine own [h] wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see, that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.
20 For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands, and thou saidst, I will not transgress; when upon every high hill and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot.
21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?
22 For though thou [i] wash thee with nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord GOD.
23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Baalim? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done: thou art a swift dromedary traversing her ways.
24 A wilde asse [k] used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the winde at [l] her pleasure; in her occasion who can [m] turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves; in her moneth they shall finde her.
25 Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, [n] There is no hope, No, for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.
26 As the thief is ashamed, when he is found; so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their Kings, their Princes, and their Priests, & their Prophets, 27 Saying to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast [o] brought me forth: for they have turned [p] their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their [q] trouble they will say, Arise and save us.
28 But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise if they [r] can save thee in the time of thy [s] trouble: for [t] according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah.
29 Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the LORD.
30 In vain have I [u] smitten your children, they received no correction: your own sword hath [x] devoured your Prophets, like a destroying lion.
31 ¶ O generation, see ye the word of the LORD. Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, [y] We are lords, we will come no more unto thee?
32 Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number.
33 Why trimmest thou thy way to seek love? therefore hast thou also taught the wicked ones thy ways.
34 Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by [z] secret search, but upon all these.
35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me: behold, I will plead with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned.
36 Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou also shalt be ashamed of Egypt, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria.
37 Yea thou shalt go forth from him, and thine hands upon thine head: for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

and dost not cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?

5 Will he reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldest.

6 ¶ The LORD said also unto me in the days of Josiah the King, Hast thou seen that which backsliding Israel hath done? she is [b] gone up upon every high mountain, and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

7 And I said after she had done all these things, Turn thou unto me: but she returned not, and her treacherous sister Judah saw it.

8 And I saw, when for all the causes whereby backsliding Israel committed adultery, I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce; yet her treacherous sister Judah feared not, but went and played the harlot also.

9 And it came to pass through the [c] lightness of her whoredome, that she defiled the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks.

10 And yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah hath not turned unto me with her whole heart, but [d] feignedly, saith the LORD.

11 And the LORD said unto me, The backsliding Israel hath justified her self more than treacherous Judah.

12 ¶ Go and proclaim these words toward the North, and say, Return thou backsliding Israel, saith the LORD, and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am [e] merciful, saith the LORD, and I will not keep anger for ever.

13 Only acknowledge thine iniquity that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD.

14 Turn, O backsliding children, saith the LORD, for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion.

15 And I will give you [f] pastours according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.

16 And it shall come to pass when ye be multiplied and increased in the land in those days, saith the LORD, they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the LORD: neither shall it come to mind: neither shall they remember it; neither shall they visit it; neither shall that be done any more.

17 At that time they shall call Jerusalem the Throne of the LORD; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart.

18 In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 But I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleasant land, a goodly heritage of the hosts of nations? and I said, Thou shalt call me, My father, and shalt not turn away from me.

20 Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the LORD.

21 A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they have perverted their way, they have forgotten the LORD their God.

22 Return, ye backsliding children, and I will heal your backslidings. Behold, we come unto thee; for thou art the LORD our God.

23 Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel.

24 For shame hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us: for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth, even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 God calleth Israel by his promise. 3 Judah to repentance by fearful judgements. 19 Grievous lamentation for the misery of

IF thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the LORD, return unto me: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove.

2 And thou shalt swear, The LORD liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.

3 ¶ For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns.

4 Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem: lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

5 Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem, and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, Gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities.

6 Set up the standard toward Zion: retire, stay not: for I will bring evil from the north, and a great [g] destruction.

7 The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate; and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.

8 For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us.

9 And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the LORD, that the heart of the king, and the heart of the princes, shall fail, and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse, 12 Even a full wind from those places shall come unto me: now also will I give sentence against them.

13 Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as a whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are spoiled.

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah.

17 As keepers of a field are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD.

18 Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at my very heart; my heart maketh a noise in me; I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and lo, it was without form, and void; and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and by his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the LORD said, The whole land shall be desolate; yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole city shall flee from the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thee with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair; thy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, that bewaileth herself, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now! for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

CHAP. V.

1 The judgments of God upon the Jews, for their unrighteousness, 7 for their adultery, 10 for their impiety, 18 for their contempt of God, 25 and for their corruption in the civil state, 30 and ecclesiastical.

… to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth; and I will pardon it.

… though they say, The LORD liveth; surely they swear falsely.

… O LORD, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return.

… Therefore I said, Surely these are poor; they are foolish: for they know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgment of their God.

… I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they have known the way of the LORD, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

… Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, and a wolf of the evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased.

… How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots houses.

… They were as fed horses in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife.

… Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

… Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her battlements; for they are not the LORD's.

… For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the LORD.

… They have belied the LORD, and said, It is not he; neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine:

… And the Prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them.

… Wherefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.

… Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

… Their quiver is as an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.

… And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and their herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall impoverish thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustedst, with the sword.

… Nevertheless in those days, saith the LORD, I will not make a full end with you.

… And it shall come to pass when ye shall say, Wherefore doeth the LORD our God all these things unto us? then shalt thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land; so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

… Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying;

… Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding; which have eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not:

… Fear ye not me, saith the LORD? will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it: and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it?

until despair, that is cannot guess by, and their end they are not ashamed to take themselves, yet can they not prevail, though they roar, yet can they not pass over it?

22 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; they are revolted and gone.

23 Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God, that giveth rain, both the [a] former and the latter in his season: he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

24 ¶ Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good things from you.

25 For among my people are found wicked men: [b] they lay wait, as he that setteth snares, they set a trap, they catch men.

26 As a [c] cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.

27 They are waxen [d] fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the [e] cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge.

28 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the LORD? shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

29 ¶ A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land;

30 The prophets prophesie [f] falsly, and the priests bear rule by their means, and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The enemies first against Judah, 4 encourage themselves. 6 God stirreth them on work; 8 because of their sinne. 9 The Prophet lamenteth the judgements of God, because of their sinne. 18 He giveth warning Gods words. 26 He calleth the people to mourning, for the judgements on their sinne.

O Ye children of Benjamin, gather your selves [a] to flee out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa: and set up a signe of fire in Beth-haccerem: for evill appeareth out of the North, and great destruction.

2 I have [b] likened the daughter of Sion to a [c] faire and delicate woman.

3 The [d] shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her; they shall pitch their tents against her round about; they shall feed every one in his place.

4 Prepare ye warre against her, arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us, for the day goeth away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let us go up by night, and let us destroy her palaces.

6 ¶ For thus hath the LORD of hosts said, Hew ye down trees, and [e] cast a mount against Jerusalem: this is the city, she is wholly to be visited, in the midst of her.

7 As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her wickednesse: violence and spoil is heard in her, before me continually is grief and wounds.

8 Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soul depart from thee; lest I make thee desolate, a land not inhabited.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall throughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: turn back thine hand as a grape-gatherer into the baskets.

10 To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? behold, their [f] ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the LORD is unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD, I am weary with holding in: I will pour it out upon the children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD.

13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them, every one is given to covetousnesse; and from the Prophet even unto the Priest, every one dealeth falsly.

14 They have [g] healed also the [h] hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they [i] ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them, they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

16 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the [k] waies, and see, and ask for the [l] old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find [m] rest for your soules: but they said, We will not walk therein.

17 Also I set watchmen over you, saying, Hearken to the sound of the trumpet: but they said, We will not hearken.

18 ¶ Therefore hear ye nations, and know, O Congregation, what is among them.

19 Hear, O earth, behold, I will bring evill upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my Law, but rejected it.

20 [n] To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Sheba? and the sweet cane from a farre country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will lay stumbling blocks before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together upon them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the LORD, Behold a people cometh from the [o] north country, and a great nation shall be raised from the sides of the earth.

23 They shall lay hold on bow and [p] speare, they are cruell, and have no mercy; their voice shall roare like the sea, and they ride upon horses, set in order as men for warre against thee, O daughter of Zion.

24 We have heard the fame thereof, our hands waxed feeble, anguish hath taken hold of us, and pangs as of a woman in travell.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way: for the sword of the enemy, and feare on every side.

26 ¶ O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thy self in the ashes: make thee mourning as for an only sonne, most bitter lamentation: for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us.

27 I have set thee for a tower, and a fortresse among my people, that thou mayest know and try their way.

28 They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders: they are [q] brasse and iron, they are all corrupters.

CHAP. VII.

Jeremiah is sent to call for true repentance, to …assure the Jews captivity. 8. He reproveth their vain confidence; 22. by the example of Shiloh. 27. He threateneth them for their idolatry. 21. He rejecteth the sacrifices of the disobedient. 29. He exhorteth to mourn for their abominations in Tophet, 32. and the judgements of the same.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Stand in the gate of the LORD'S house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah, that enter in at these gates to worship the LORD.

3 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways, and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

4 Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the LORD, the Temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, are these.

5 For if ye throughly amend your ways, and your doings; if ye throughly execute judgement between a man and his neighbour;

6 If ye oppresse not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt:

7 Then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8 Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burne incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not;

10 And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my Name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations?

11 Is this house which is called by my Name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD.

12 But go ye now unto my place, which was in Shiloh, where I set my Name at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel.

13 And now because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and I spake unto you rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not; and I called you, but ye answered not;

14 Therefore will I do unto this house, which is called by my Name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you, and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore k pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me, for I will not hear thee.

17 Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle fire, and the women knead their dough, to make cakes to the l Queen of heaven, and to powre out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.

19 Do they provoke me to anger, saith the LORD? do they not provoke themselves to the confusion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be powred out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burne, and shall not be quenched.

21 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; m Put your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat flesh.

22 For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.

24 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their eare, but walked in the counsels and in the imagination of their evil heart, and went backward, and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day, I have even n sent unto you all my servants the Prophets, daily rising up early and sending them:

26 Yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but o hardened their neck: they did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore thou shalt speak all these words unto them; but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them, but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say unto them; This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the LORD their God, nor receiveth correction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

29 ¶ Cut off thine hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on high places; for the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Judah have done evil in my sight, saith the LORD: they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my Name, to pollute it.

31 And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burne their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind.

32 ¶ Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Tophet, till there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shall be meat for the fowles of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall fray them away.

34 Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

1 The calamity of the Jews. 4 His reproofs of their impenitency. 12 An example of Shiloh. 16 The prophet is forbidden to pray for them. 18 The idolatry of the children, women, and men. 21 God rejecteth their sacrifices. 22 He commandeth obedience. 24 Their disobedience. 29 Jerusalem is commanded to lament.

AT that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves:

2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and and the whole ... of heaven, ... and ... they have ... and ... they have ... they have ... they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth.

23 Even all this evil ... this ... even this ... of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, ... the LORD of hosts.

24 Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus ... the LORD, Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return?

25 Why then is this people of Jerusalem ... by a perpetual back-riding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

26 I hearkened and heard, but they ... not aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, ... What have I done? every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle.

27 Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the LORD.

28 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it; the pen of the scribes is in vain.

29 The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD; and what wisdom is in them?

30 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall inherit them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, from the prophet even unto the priest, every one dealeth falsely.

31 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

32 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

33 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein.

34 Also I set watchmen over you, saying, Hearken to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken.

35 Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them.

36 Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

37 To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me.

38 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will lay stumbling blocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

39 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, a people cometh from the north country, and a great nation shall be raised from the coasts of the earth.

40 They shall hold the bow and the lance: they are cruel, and will not show mercy, their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, every one put in array, like a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Zion.

41 We have heard the fame thereof: our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken us, and pangs as of a woman in travail.

42 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.

43 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes: make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation: for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us.

44 I have set thee for a tower and a fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their way.

45 They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders: they are brass and iron; they are all corrupters.

46 The bellows are burned, the lead is consumed of the fire, the founder melteth in vain: for the wicked are not plucked away.

47 Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.

CHAP. IX.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the sins of his people, 9 and for their punishment. 12 The wisest cannot show the reason of God's judgments. 23 God's mercies are to be known and acknowledged. 25 The uncircumcised in heart punished as the uncircumcised in flesh.

O that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I may weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!

2 O that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the LORD.

4 Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will walk with slanders.

5 And they will deceive every one his friend, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity.

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD.

7 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how shall I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out; it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait.

9 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burned up, so that none can pass through them; neither can men hear the voice of the cattle; both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled; they are gone.

11 And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and a den of dragons; and I will make the cities of Judah desolate, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is the wise man, that may understand this, and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burned up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

13 And the LORD saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein;

14 But have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after Baalim, which their fathers taught them:

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.

16 I will scatter them also among the Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, a Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God.

b Deut. 7.12. 6 That I may perform the b oath which I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day: then answered I, and said, So be it, O LORD.

c Hebr. Amen. 7 Then the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this Covenant, and do them.

8 For I earnestly protested unto your fathers, in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.

d Or, Imagination. 9 Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the d imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this Covenant, which I commanded them to do; but they did them not.

10 And the LORD said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

11 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; and they went after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel, and the house of Judah have broken my Covenant which I made with their fathers.

e Hebr. to evil. 12 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able f to escape: and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them.

13 Then shall the cities of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense: but they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble.

14 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble.

15 g What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing he hath wrought lewdness with many? and the holy flesh is passed from thee: when thou doest evil, then thou rejoycest.

16 The LORD called thy name, A green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the LORD of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger, in offering incense unto Baal.

18 h And the LORD hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it: then thou shewedst me their doings.

19 But I was like a lamb, or an ox that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy i the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

20 But, O LORD of hosts, that judgest righteously, that k triest the reins, and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause.

21 Therefore thus saith the LORD, of the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Prophesy not in the Name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand:

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will l punish them: the young men shall die by the sword, their sons and their daughters shall die by famine:

23 And there shall be no remnant of them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jeremiah complaining of the wicked prosperity, 5 God answereth, 7 that his heritage hath forsaken him, 14 and threatneth his neighbours, 15 but promiseth to them return from captivity.

RIghteous art thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgements: wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously?

2 Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root: a they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit: thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins.

3 But thou, O LORD, knowest me: thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall not see our last end.

5 ¶ If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of Jordan?

6 For even a their brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee; yea, b they have called a multitude after thee: believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.

7 ¶ I have forsaken mine house, I have left mine heritage: I have given c the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the forest: it d crieth out against me, therefore have I hated it.

9 Mine heritage is unto me as a speckled bird, the birds round about are against her; come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to devour.

10 Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my e pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

11 They have made it desolate, and being desolate it mourneth unto me; the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart.

12 The spoilers are come upon all high places through the wilderness: for the sword of the LORD shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.

13 They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns: they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit: and they shall be ashamed of your fruits because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

14 ¶ Thus saith the LORD against all mine evil neighbours that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit; Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.

15 And it shall come to pass, after that I have will return, and have compassion them; and will bring all Israel again to his habitation, and every man to his lande.

11 For I shall come to passe if they will not hearken unto the voyce of my people, to chastise them, saith the LORD: (The LORD speaketh, and they ought to feare him by this) then shall they be built to be a people unto me, and to my name, and to my praise, and to my glory, but they will not obey.

12 Therefore will not I chaste them, I will utterly cast them away, saith the LORD.

CHAP. XIII.

1 In the type of a linen girdle, hidden at Euphrates, God reproueth the dull estate of Iudah people. 12 Under the parable of the bottles filled with wine, he foreshewth their drunkennesse in misery. 19 He exhorteth to repent their future iudgements. 23 Mr. Seconde their wickednesse are the cause thereof.

THus saith the LORD unto me, Go, and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loines, and put it not in water.

2 So I got a girdle, according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my loines.

3 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loynes, and arise, Go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rocke.

5 So I went and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me.

6 And it came to passe after many dayes, that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then I went to Euphrates, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I marre the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This evill people which refuse to heare my words, which walk in the b imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, saith the LORD, that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not certainly know, that every bottle shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the Kings that sit upon Dauids throne, and the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, with drunkennesse.

14 And I will dash them c one against another, even the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the LORD: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy that I should not destroy them.

15 Heare ye, and give eare, be not proud: for the LORD hath spoken.

16 Give glory to the LORD your God, before he cause darkenesse, and before your feete stumble upon the d mountaines, and, while ye look for light, he turne the shadow of death, and 17 But if ye will not heare it, my soule shall weepe in secret places for your pride, and e mine eye shall weepe sore, and run downe with teares, because the LORDS flocke is caried away captive.

18 Say unto the King and to the Queene, Humble your selves, sit downe: for your principalities shall come downe, even the crowne of your glory.

19 The cities of the south shalbe shut up, and none shall open them: Iudah shall be caried away captive all of it, it shall be wholly caried away captive.

20 Lift up your eies, and behold them that come from the north, where is the flocke that was given thee, thy beautifull flocke?

21 What wilt thou say when he shall f visite thee? for thou hast taught them to be captaines, and as the chiefe over thee: shall not sorowfull paines take thee, as a woman in travell?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? for the greatnesse of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heele made bare.

23 Can the Ethiopian change his skinne, or the Leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are taught to do evill.

24 Therefore will I scatter them as the stubble that passeth away by the wind of the wilderness.

25 This is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, saith the LORD, because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood.

26 Therefore will I discover thy skirts upon thy face, that thy shame may appeare.

27 I have seen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdnesse of thy whoredome, and thine abominations on the hils in the field. Woe unto thee, O Ierusalem, wilt thou not be made clean? when shall it once be?

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The grievous famine. 7 The confession of the people. 10 The Lord will not be intreated for them. 13 The lying prophets are reproved. 19 The people bewaile their sinnes, and pray for mercy.

THe word of the LORD that came to Ieremiah concerning the dearth.

2 Iudah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they are black unto the ground, and the cry of Ierusalem is gone up.

3 And their nobles have sent their lesser unto the waters, they came to the pits, and found no water, they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and couered their heads.

4 Because the ground is chapt, for there was no raine in the earth, the husbandmen were ashamed, they couered their heads.

5 Yea, the Hinde also calved in the field, and forsooke it, because there was no grasse.

6 And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the winde like dragons: their eies did fayle, because there was no grasse.

7 O LORD, though our iniquities testifie against us, do thou it for thy Names sake: for our backslidings are many, we have sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israel, the Sauiour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a way faring man that turneth aside to tarry but a night?

9 Why shouldest thou be as a g man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot saue? yet thou, O LORD, art in the middest of us, and we are called by thy Name, leave us not.

CHAP. XVI.

The Prophet under the type of forbearing marriage, and of not entering into the house of mourning and feasting, foreshoweth the utter ruine of the Jews, 10 because they provoked God more than their fathers. 14 They shall return from captivity first before the destruction of Babylon. 19 God will finally reduce the Gentiles to his service.

1 The word of the LORD came also unto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take a wife, neither shalt thou have sons or daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the LORD concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in this land;

4 They shall die of grievous deaths; they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried; but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carcasses shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the LORD, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament nor bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the LORD, even loving kindness and mercies.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lamentate for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 Neither shall men break themselves for them in mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father, or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting to sit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your days, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.

10 And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law;

12 And ye have done worse than your fathers; for, behold, ye walk every one after the imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me:

13 Therefore will I cast you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods day and night; where I will not shew you favour.

14 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said, The LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

15 But, The LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double; because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carcasses of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O LORD, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?

21 Therefore, behold, I will this once cause them to know, I will cause them to know mine hand, and my might; and they shall know that my Name is the LORD.

CHAP. XVII.

The transgression of Judah, for which 5 Trust in man is cursed, 7 in God is blessed. 9 The deceitfulness of the heart. 12 The felicity of God. 13 The Prophet complaineth of the cruelty of his people. 19 He is sent to sanctify the Sabbath.

1 The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond, it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars;

2 Whilst their children remember their altars and their groves by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance, and all thy treasures, to the spoil, and thy high places for sin, throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou, even thyself shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for thou hast kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever.

5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh; but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited.

7 Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is.

8 For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 ¶ The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?

10 I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

11 As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary.

13 O the hope of Israel, the LORD, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the LORD? let it come now.

16 As for me, I have not hastened from being a pastor to follow thee: neither have I desired the woeful day; thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was right before thy face.

17 Be not a terror unto me: thou art my hope in the day of evil.

18 Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 ¶ Thus said the LORD unto me; Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem;

20 And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates:

21 Thus saith the LORD; Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem;

22 Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction.

24 And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein;

25 Then shall there enter in by the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and this city shall remain for ever.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the south, bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and bringing sacrifices of praise, unto the house of the LORD.

27 But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day; then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth.

3 And death shall be chosen rather than life, by all the residue of them that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 ¶ Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return?

5 Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle.

7 Yea, the [a] stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the LORD.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the Law of the LORD is with us? Lo, [b] certainly in vain made he it; the pen of the scribes is in vain.

9 The [c] wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD, and [d] what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall inherit them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, from the Prophet even unto the Priest, every one dealeth falsely.

11 For they have [e] healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, [f] Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

12 Were they [g] ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

13 [h] I will surely consume them, saith the LORD: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the [i] fig-tree, and the leaf shall fade; and the things that I have given them shall pass away from them.

14 Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us be silent there: for the LORD our God hath put us to silence, and given us [k] waters of [l] gall to drink, because we have sinned against the LORD.

15 We [m] look for peace, but no good came; and for a time of health, and behold trouble.

16 The [n] snorting of his horses was heard from Dan: the whole land trembled at the sound of the neighing of his [o] strong ones; for they are come and have devoured the land, and [p] all that is in it, the city, and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will send [q] serpents, cockatrices among you, which will not be [r] charmed, and they shall bite you, saith the LORD.

18 ¶ When I would comfort my self against sorrow, my heart is faint [s] in me.

19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people [t] because of them that dwell in a far country: Is not the LORD in Zion? is not her King in her? why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.

21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt; I am [u] black; astonishment hath taken hold on me.

22 Is there no [w] balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

CHAP. IX.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the sins of the people, 9 and the judgments, 12 which never a one regardeth of their own accord, 23 exhorteth to seek for their deliverance in God alone, 25 and threateneth both Jews and Gentiles.

O [a] that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people.

2 O that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of [b] treacherous men.

3 And they bend their tongues their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the LORD.

4 [b] Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will walk with slanders.

5 And they will [d] deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity.

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD.

7 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how shall I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their [e] tongue is as an arrow shot out; it speaketh [f] deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait.

9 ¶ Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the [g] habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burned up, so that none can pass through them; neither can men hear the voice of the cattle; both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled; they are gone.

11 And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and a den of dragons; and I will make the cities of Judah [h] desolate, without an inhabitant.

12 ¶ Who is the wise man, that may understand this, and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burned up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

13 And the LORD saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein;

14 But have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after Baalim, which their fathers taught them:

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people [i] with wormwood, and give them water of [k] gall to drink.

16 I will [l] scatter them also among the Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, [a] Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God.

[a] Levit. 26.3,12.

[b] Deut. 7.12.

[c] Heb. Amen.

6 Then the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this Covenant, and do them.

7 For I earnestly protested unto your fathers, in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.

8 Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the [d] imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this Covenant, which I commanded them to do; but they did them not.

[d] Or, stubbornness.

9 And the LORD said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

[e] Heb. to escape.

10 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; and they went after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel, and the house of Judah have broken my Covenant which I made with their fathers.

11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able [e] to escape; and [f] though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them.

[f] Heb. in crying.

12 Then shall the cities of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense: but they shall not save them at all in the time of their [g] trouble.

[g] Heb. evil.

13 For according to the number of thy [h] cities, are thy gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem, have ye set up altars to that shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Baal.

[h] Chap. 2.28.

14 Therefore [i] pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their [k] trouble.

[i] Heb. make not intercession.

[k] Heb. evil.

[l] Chap. 11.15. & 32.34.

[m] Heb. in thy evil.

16 The LORD called thy name, A green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

[n] Heb. what is to my beloved in my house?

[o] Or, when the evil is upon thee.

17 For the LORD of hosts that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger, in offering incense unto Baal.

18 ¶ And the LORD hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it: then thou shewedst me their doings.

[p] Heb. the fruit upon his bread.

19 But I was like a lamb, or an ox that is brought to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

21 Therefore thus saith the LORD, of the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Prophesy not in the Name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand:

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will [s] punish them: the young men shall die by the sword, their sons and their daughters shall die by famine:

[s] Heb. visit upon them.

23 And there shall be no remnant of them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jeremiah complaining of the wicked prosperity, saith she is their ruine. 5 God admonisheth him of greater troubles against him. 7 and threatneth his heritage. 14 his promise to the faithful returned from captivity.

RIghteous art thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgements: Wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously?

2 Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root: [a] they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit: thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins.

[a] Heb. they go.

3 But thou, O LORD, [b] knowest me: thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart [c] toward thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

[b] Heb. knowing knowest me.

[c] Heb. with thee.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, [d] for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds, because they said, He shall not see our last end.

[d] Heb. from the evil.

5 ¶ If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of Jordan?

6 For even [e] thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee, yea, [f] they have called a multitude after thee: believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.

[e] Heb. they of thy brethren.

[f] Heb. they have filled.

7 ¶ I have forsaken mine house, I have left mine heritage: I have given [g] the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.

[g] Heb. the love of my soul.

8 Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the forest: it [h] crieth out against me, therefore have I hated it.

[h] Heb. giveth her voice.

9 Mine heritage is unto me as a speckled bird, the birds round about are against her; come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to devour.

10 Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my [i] pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

[i] Heb. portion of desire.

11 They have made it desolate, and being desolate it mourneth unto me; the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart.

12 The spoilers are come upon all high places through the wilderness: for the sword of the LORD shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.

13 They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns: they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit: and they shall be ashamed of your fruits because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

14 ¶ Thus saith the LORD against all mine evil neighbours that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit; Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.

15 And it shall come to pass, after that I have

...out, I will return, and have compassion
...them, and will bring all the every man to ...heritage, and every man to his land.
...shall indeed come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, (The LORD liveth, as they taught my people to swear by Baal) then shall they be built in the midst of my people.
17 But if they will not a obey, I will utterly pluck up, and destroy that nation, saith the LORD.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 In the type of a linen girdle, hidden at Euphrates, God ...proveth the dull willingness of his people. 12 Under the parable of the bottles filled with wine, he foreshoweth their drunkenness in misery. 19 He interpreteth to proud they future judgements. 22 He foreshoweth that for their sins are the same thereof.

THus saith the LORD unto me, Go, and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loines, and put it not in water.
2 So I got a girdle, according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my loines.
3 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying,
4 Take the girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loyns, and arise, Go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.
5 So I went and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me.
6 And it came to passe after many dayes, that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.
7 Then I went to Euphrates, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.
8 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
9 Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I marre the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.
10 This evill people which refuse to heare my words, which walk in the b imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which profiteth for nothing.
11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Judah, saith the LORD, that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not heare.
12 Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not certainly know, that every bottle shall be filled with wine?
13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the Kings that sit upon David's throne, and the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with drunkennesse.
14 And I will dash them c one against another, even the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the LORD: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy that I should not destroy them.
15 Heare, and give eare, be not proud: for the LORD hath spoken.
16 Give glory to the LORD your God, before he cause darkenesse, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountaines, and while ye look for light, he turne it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkenesse.
17 But if ye will not heare it, my soule shall weep in secret places for your pride, and mine eye shall mourne sore, and run downe with teares, because the LORDS flocke is caried away captive.
18 Say unto the King and to the Queene, Humble your selves, sit downe, for your principalities shall even come downe, even the crowne of your glory.
19 The cities of the South shall be shut up, and none shall open them: Judah shall be caried away captive all of it, it shall be wholly caried away captive.
20 Lift up your eies, and behold them that come from the north, where is the flocke that was given thee, thy beautifull flock?
21 What wilt thou say, when he shall d punish thee? for thou hast taught them a to be captaines, and as chief over thee: shall not sorowes take thee, as a woman in travell?
22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? for the greatnesse of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heele made bare.
23 Can the Ethiopian change his skinne? or the Leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are e accustomed to doe evill.
24 Therefore will I scatter them as the stubble that passeth away by the wind of the wildernesse.
25 This is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, saith the LORD, because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood.
26 Therefore will I discover thy skirts upon thy face, that thy shame may appeare.
27 I have seen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdnesse of thy whoredome, and thine abominations on the hills in the field: woe unto thee, O Jerusalem, wilt thou not be made clean? when shall it once be?

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The grievous famine. 7 Confession of sinne. 10 The Lord will not be intreated. 13 The false prophets. 17 Lying prophets are a curse. 19 Jerusalem is bewailed in captivity for sinne.

THe word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning a the dearth.
2 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they are black unto the ground, and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up.
3 And their nobles have sent their b little ones to the waters, they came to the pits, and found no water, they returned with their vessels empty; they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.
4 Because the ground is chapt, for there was no raine in the earth, the plowmen were ashamed, they covered their heads.
5 Yea, the Hinde also calved in the field, and forsooke it, because there was no grasse.
6 And the wild asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the wind like dragons: their eies did fail, because there was no grasse.
7 O LORD, though our iniquities testifie against us, worke thou for thy Names sake: for our backslidings are many, we have sinned against thee.
8 O the hope of Israel, the Saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry but a night?
9 Why shouldest thou be as a c man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy Name, leave us not.

c 2 Chap. 7.16. and 11.14. ex. 2.10.

11 Then said the LORD unto me, Pray not for this people for their good.

12 When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 ¶ Then said I, Ah Lord GOD! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place.

d Chap. 23.31. & 27.15. and 29. 8,9.

14 Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision, and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land; By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them.

e Lament. 1.16. and 2.18. chap. 13.17.

17 ¶ Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them; Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine! yea, both the Prophet and the Priest go about into a land that they know not.

f Or, make me to abhor them. Heb. make them to abhor me. Lam. 3. 66. Ezek. 20. 43. & 36. 31.

19 Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? we looked for peace, and no good came; and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhor us, for thy Name's sake, do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

g Chap. 8. 15. h Psal. 106 6. dan. 9 8.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

1 Then said the LORD unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth.

2 And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the LORD; Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.

3 And I will ¶ appoint over them four kinds, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy.

4 And I will cause them to be removed into all kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem.

n Deut. 28. 37. 1 Kings 9. 7. or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall go aside to ask how thou dost?

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee; I am weary with repenting.

7 And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land: I will bereave them of children, I will destroy my people, since they return not from their ways.

8 Their widows are increased unto me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noon day: I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city.

9 She that hath born seven is waxed feeble: she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it was yet day: she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the LORD.

10 ¶ Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast born me a man of strife, and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have neither lent on usury, nor men have lent to me on usury; yet every one of them doth curse me.

11 The LORD said, Verily it shall be well with thy remnant; verily I will cause the enemy to entreat thee well in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

12 Shall iron break the Northern iron and the Steel?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.

15 ¶ O LORD, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and revenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy longsuffering: know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts.

17 I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced, I sat alone because of thy hand: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar, and as waters that fail?

19 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD, If thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: let them return unto thee; but return not thou unto them.

20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brazen wall: and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the LORD.

And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

CHAP. XVI.

The Prophet under the typicall deſcription of marriage, forbearing to marry, and forbidding mourning and feaſting, foreſheweth the utter ruine of his Nation, 10 Inſomuch that they ſhall worſe then their fathers. 14 They ſhall return from captivity: 16 Which ſhall be greater then their deliverance out of Egypt. 20 God will ſtrictly remember their idolatry.

1 The word of the LORD came alſo unto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſhalt not take thee a wife, neither ſhalt thou have ſonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus ſaith the LORD concerning the ſonnes, and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begate them in this land:

4 They ſhall die of grievous [a] deaths, they ſhall not be lamented, neither ſhall they be buried: but they ſhall be as dung upon the face of the earth, and they ſhall be conſumed by the ſword, and by famine, and their [c] carcaſes ſhall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beaſts of the earth.

5 For thus ſaith the LORD, Enter not into the houſe of [d] mourning, neither go to lament nor bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, ſaith the LORD, even loving kindneſſe and mercies.

6 Both the great and the ſmall ſhall die in this land: they ſhall not be buried, neither ſhall men lament for them, nor cut themſelves, nor make themſelves bald for them.

7 Neither ſhall men [e] tear themſelves for them in mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither ſhall men give them the cup of conſolation to drink for their father, or for their mother.

8 Thou ſhalt not alſo go into the houſe of feaſting to ſit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Behold, I will cauſe to ceaſe out of this place in your eyes, and in your dayes, the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladneſſe, the voyce of the bridegroom, and the voyce of the bride.

10 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſſe when thou ſhalt ſhew this people all theſe words, and they ſhall ſay unto thee; Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evill againſt us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our ſinne, that we have committed againſt the LORD our God?

11 Then ſhalt thou ſay unto them; Becauſe your fathers have forſaken me, ſaith the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have ſerved them, and have worſhipped them, and have forſaken me, and have not kept my Law;

12 And ye have done worſe then your fathers; for behold, ye walk every one after the [f] imagination of his evill heart, that they may not hearken unto me:

13 Therefore will I caſt you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither ye, nor your fathers; and there ſhall ye ſerve other gods day and night, where I will not ſhew you favour.

14 Therefore behold, the dayes come, ſaith the LORD, that it ſhall no more be ſaid; The LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Iſrael out of the land of Egypt;

15 But, The LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Iſrael from the land of the North, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land, that I gave unto their fathers.

16 ¶ Behold, I will ſend for many fiſhers, ſaith the LORD, and they ſhall fiſh them; and after will I ſend for many hunters, and they ſhall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are upon all their wayes: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And firſt I will recompence their iniquity and their ſin double, becauſe they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carkaſes of their deteſtable and abominable things.

19 O LORD, my ſtrength and my fortreſſe, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles ſhall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and ſhall ſay; Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods unto himſelfe, and they are no gods?

21 Therefore behold, I will this once cauſe them to know: I will cauſe them to know mine hand, and my might, and they ſhall know that my Name is the LORD.

4 And thou, [t] even thy ſelf ſhalt diſcontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee, and I will cauſe thee to ſerve thine enemies in the land which thou knoweſt not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which ſhall burn for ever.

5 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, Curſed be the man that truſteth in man, and maketh fleſh his arm, and whoſe heart departeth from the LORD.

6 For he ſhall be like the heath in the deſert, and ſhall not ſee when good cometh, but ſhall inhabite the parched places in the wilderneſſe, in a ſalt land and not inhabited.

7 ¶ Bleſſed is the man that truſteth in the LORD, and whoſe hope the LORD is.

8 For he ſhall be [u] as a tree planted by the waters, and that ſpreadeth out her roots by the river, and ſhall not ſee when heat cometh, but her leaf ſhall be green, and ſhall not be carefull in the yeare of [w] drought, neither ſhall ceaſe from yeelding fruite.

9 ¶ The heart is deceitfull above all things, and deſperately wicked, who can know it?

27 But if you will not hearken unto me to hallow the Sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, even entring in at the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day: then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

4 Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burnt incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the blood of innocents;

5 They have built also the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Baal, [c] which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind.

9 And I will cause them to eat the [e] flesh of their sons, and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.

10 Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee, 11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel that cannot [f] be made whole again, and they shall [b] bury them in Tophet, till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this city as Tophet.

13 And the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah shall be defiled as the place of Tophet, because of all the houses upon whose roofs they have burnt incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Tophet, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy, and he stood in the court of the LORD'S house, and said to all the people, 15 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city, and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they have hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

CHAP. XX.

1 Pashur smiting Jeremiah, receiveth a new name, and a fearful doom. 7 Jeremiah complaineth of contempt, 10 of treachery, 14 and of his birth.

NOW Pashur the son of [h] Immer the priest, who was also chief governour in the house of the LORD, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things.

2 Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the prison that was in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the LORD.

3 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The LORD hath not called thy name Pashur, but [i] Magor-Missabib.

4 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive into Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover, [m] I will deliver all the strength of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall go into captivity: and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou, and all thy friends to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 ¶ O LORD, thou hast deceived me, and I was [n] deceived, thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision daily, every one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out, I cried violence and spoil, because the word of the LORD was made a reproach unto me, and a derision daily.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his Name. But his word was in mine heart, as a [o] burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and [p] I could not stay.

10 ¶ For I heard the defaming of many, fear on every side. Report, say they, and we will report it: ¶ all my familiars watched for my halting, saying, Peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.

11 But the LORD is with me, as a mighty terrible one: [r] therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail, they shall be greatly ashamed, for they shall not prosper, their [s] everlasting confusion shall never be forgotten.

12 But, O LORD of hosts, that [t] triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

13 Sing unto the LORD, praise ye the LORD: for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evil doers.

14 ¶ Cursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blessed.

15 [u] Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying; A man child is born unto thee, making him very glad.

16 And let that man be as the cities which the LORD [x] overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noon-tide;

17 Because he slew me not from the womb; or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb to be always great with me.

18 ¶ Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

31 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that King Zedekiah had sent unto him Pashur the son of Melchiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, saying,

2 Enquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us; (for Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon maketh war against us;) if so be that the LORD will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.

3 ¶ Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war, that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the King of Babylon, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city.

a Exod. 6.6. 5 And I myself will fight against you with an out-stretched hand, and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And afterward, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah King of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, & from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

8 ¶ And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

b Chap. 38.2. b He that abideth in this city, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey.

CHAP. XXII.

1. He exhorteth to repentance with promises and threats. 10. The lamentation of Shallum. 13. Of Jehoiakim, and of Coniah.

THUS saith the LORD; Go down to the house of the King of Judah, and speak there this word,

2 And say, Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus saith the LORD; Execute ye judgement and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressour: and do no wrong, no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house, riding and sitting upon the throne of David, he, and his servants, and his people.

5 But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by myself, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.

6 For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Judah, Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons, and they shall cut down thy choice Cedars, & cast them into the fire.

8 And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city?

9 Then they shall answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

10 ¶ Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him: but weep sore for him that goeth away: for he shall return no more, nor see the native country.

11 For thus saith the LORD touching Shallum, the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, which reigned in stead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place, He shall not return thither any more.

12 But he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong; that useth his neighbours service without wages, and giveth him not for his work;

14 That saith, I will build me a wide house and i large chambers, and cutteth him out k windows; and it is ceiled with Cedar, and painted with Vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reign, because thou closest thyself in Cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgement and justice, and then it was well with him?

16 He judged the cause of the poore and needy, then it was well with him: was not this to know me, saith the LORD?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for ¶ violence, to do it.

18 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Judah; They shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother, or, Ah sister: they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah Lord, or, Ah his glory.

19 He shall be buried with the burial of an asse, drawn & cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

20 ¶ Go up to Lebanon, and cry; and lift up thy voyce in Bashan, and cry from the passages: for all thy lovers are destroyed.

21 I spake unto thee in thy prosperity, but thou saidst, I will not hear: this hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice.

22 The winde shall eat up all thy pastors, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness.

23 O inhabitant of Lebanon, making thy nest in the Cedars, how gracious shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travell?

yet and I will fetch you from thence, saith the LORD, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee hence:

25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them whose face thou fearest, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land whereunto they [a] desire to return, thither shall they not return.

28 Is this man Coniah a despised broken idol? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they know not?

29 O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD.

30 Thus saith the LORD, Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 He prophesieth a reformation of the scattered flock. 5 Christ shall spread and save them. 9 Against false prophets, 23 and mockers of the true Prophets.

WO[b] be unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture, saith the LORD.

2 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Israel against the pastors that feed my people, Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and increase.

4 And I will set up [c] shepherds over them, which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the LORD.

5 Behold, [d] the days come, saith the LORD, that I will raise unto David a righteous branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth.

6 In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his Name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.

7 Therefore behold, [d] the days come, saith the LORD, that they shall no more say, The LORD liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt:

8 But the LORD liveth, which brought up, and which led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all countries whither I had driven them, and they shall dwell in their own land.

9 [e] Mine heart within me is broken because of the Prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome, because of the LORD, and because of the words of his holiness.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, for because of [f] swearing the land mourneth: the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their [g] course is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For both Prophet and Priest are profane, yea, in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the LORD.

12 Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness: they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

13 And I have seen [h] folly in the prophets of Samaria: they prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to err.

14 I have seen also [i] in the prophets of Jerusalem an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of evil doers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the Prophets, Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the Prophets of Jerusalem is [k] prophaneness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the Prophets that prophesy unto you; they make you vain: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17 They [l] say still unto them that despise me, The LORD hath said, Ye shall have peace: and they say unto every one that walketh after the [m] imagination of his own heart, No evil shall come upon you.

18 For who hath stood in the [n] counsel of the LORD, and hath perceived and heard his word? who hath marked his word, and heard it?

19 Behold, a [o] whirlwind of the LORD is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwind: it shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked.

20 The [p] anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it perfectly.

21 [q] I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran: I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsel, and had caused my people to hear my words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

23 [r] Am I a God at hand, saith the LORD, and not a God afar off?

24 Can any [s] hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him, saith the LORD? do not I fill heaven and earth, saith the LORD?

25 I have heard what the Prophets said, that prophesie lies in my Name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26 How long shall this be in the heart of the Prophets that prophesie lies? yea, they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart:

27 Which think to cause my people to forget my Name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers have forgotten my Name for Baal.

28 The Prophet [t] that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully: What is the chaff to the wheat, saith the LORD?

29 [u] Is not my word like as a fire, saith the LORD? and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

30 Therefore behold, [x] I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that steal my words every one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I am against the Prophets, saith the LORD, that [y] use their tongues, and say, He saith.

32 Behold, I am against them that prophesie false dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by

CHAP. XXV.

1 Jeremiah reproving the Jews diſobedience to the Prophets, 8 foretelleth the ſeventy years captivity, 12 and after that the deſtruction of Babylon. 15 He drinketh the type of a cup of wine, to ſignifie unto the deſtruction of all nations. 34 The howling of the ſhepherds.

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah King of Judah, that was the firſt year of Nebuchad-rezzar King of Babylon:

2 The which Jeremiah the Prophet ſpake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, ſaying;

3 From the thirteenth yeer of Joſiah the ſon of Amon king of Judah, even unto this day (that is the three & twentieth yeer) the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have ſpoken unto you, riſing early & ſpeaking, but ye have not hearkened.

4 And the LORD hath ſent unto you all his ſervants the Prophets, I riſing early and ſending them, but ye have not hearkned, nor inclined your eare to hear.

5 They ſaid, [a] Turn ye again now every one from his evill way, and from the evill of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD hath given unto you, and to your fathers for ever & ever.

6 And go not after other gods to ſerve them, and to worſhip them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will do you no hurt.

7 Yet ye have not hearkned unto me, ſaith the LORD, that ye might provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, to your own hurt.

8 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Becauſe ye have not heard my words;

9 Behold, I will ſend and take all the families of the North, ſaith the LORD, and Nebuchad-rezzar the king of Babylon my ſervant, & will bring them againſt this land, & againſt the inhabitants thereof, and againſt all theſe nations round about, and will utterly deſtroy them, and make them an aſtoniſhment, and an hiſſing, and perpetuall deſolations.

10 Moreover, [b] I will take from them the voice of mirth, and the voyce of gladneſſe, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voyce of the bride, the ſound of the millſtones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land ſhall be a deſolation, and an aſtoniſhment, and theſe nations ſhall ſerve the King of Babylon ſeventy yeers.

12 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſſe, [c] when ſeventy yeers are accompliſhed, that I will [d] puniſh the King of Babylon and that nation, ſaith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Caldeans, and will make it perpetuall deſolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced againſt it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophecied againſt all the nations.

14 For many nations and great Kings ſhall [e] ſerve themſelves of them alſo: and I will recompenſe them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.

15 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael unto me, Take the wine [f] cup of this fury at my hand, and cauſe all the nations, to whom I ſend thee, to drink it.

23 [f] Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all [h] that are in the utmost corners:

24 And all the Kings of Arabia, & all the Kings of the [i] mingled people that dwell in the desert:

25 And all the Kings of Zimri, and all the Kings of [k] Elam, and all the Kings of the Medes:

26 And all the Kings of the North, farre and neer, one with another, and all the kingdomes of the world, which are upon the face of the earth, and the King of Sheshach shall drink after them.

27 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Drink ye, and be drunken, and spue, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you.

28 And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Ye shall certainly drink.

29 For lo, I begin to bring evill on the [l] city [m] which is called by my Name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the LORD of hosts.

30 Therefore prophesie thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall [n] roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation, he shall mightily roar upon his habitation, he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 A noise shall come even to the ends of the earth, for the LORD hath a controversie with the nations: he will plead with all flesh, he will give them that are wicked to the sword, saith the LORD.

32 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evill shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwinde shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

33 And the slain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be [o] lamented, neither gathered, nor buried, they shall be dung upon the ground.

34 ¶ Howle ye shepherds, and cry, and wallow your selves in the ashes ye principalls of the flock: for the dales of your slaughter, and of your dispersions are accomplished, and ye shall fall like a pleasant vessell.

35 And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the principall of the flock to escape.

36 A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and an howling of the principall of the flock shall be heard, for the LORD hath spoiled their pasture.

37 And the peaceable habitations are cut down, because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

38 He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is [p] desolate, because of the fierceness of the oppressour, and because of his fierce anger.

CHAP. XXVI.

Jeremiah by promises and threatnings, exhorteth to repentance. 8 He is therefore apprehended, and arraigned: 12 His apologie: 16 He is quit in judgement, by the example of Micah, 20 and of Urijah. 24 and by the care of Ahikam.

IN the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Judah came this word from the LORD, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD, Stand in the court of the LORDS house, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORDS house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them: [q] diminish not a word:

3 If so be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evill way, that I may [r] repent me of the evill which I purpose to do unto them, because of the evill of their doings.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD: If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my Law which I have set before you,

5 To hearken to the words of my servants the Prophets, whom I sent unto you; both rising up early, & sending them (but ye have not hearkened)

6 Then will I make this house like [w] Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD.

8 ¶ Now it came to passe, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the Priests and the Prophets, and all the people took him, saying, Thou shalt surely die.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

10 ¶ When the Princes of Judah heard these things, then they came up from the Kings house, unto the house of the LORD, and sate down [x] in the entry of the new gate of the LORDS house.

11 Then spake the Priests and the Prophets unto the Princes, and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die, for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your eares.

12 ¶ Then spake Jeremiah unto all the Princes, and to all the people, saying, The LORD sent me to prophesie against this house, and against this city, all the words that ye have heard.

13 Therefore now [y] amend your wayes, and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God, and the LORD will [z] repent him of the evill that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hand: [b] do with me as seemeth good and meet unto you.

15 But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon your selves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you, to speak all these words in your eares.

16 ¶ Then said the Princes, and all the people unto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.

17 Then

[i] Or, confused.
[l] Or, Behold.
[m] Or, upon the house.
[n] Or, roar.
[o] Or, defiled.
[p] Or, desolation.
[q] Or, keep back.
[r] Or, repent me of the evill.
[w] Or, as Shiloh.
[x] Or, in the chamber.
[y] Or, make your wayes good.
[z] Or, repent him of the evill.
[b] Or, as is good and right in your eyes.

27 Then rose up certain of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying, a Mic.1.1 and 3.12. 18 a Micah the Morasthite prophesied in the dayes of Hezekiah King of Judah, and spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house, the high places of a forrest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Judah, and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the LORD, and besought b the LORD, and the LORD repented him of the evill which he had pronounced against them? thus might we procure great evill against our soules.

b Hebr. the face of the LORD.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the LORD, Urijah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kirjath-jearim, who prophesied against this city, and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 And when Jehoiakim the King, with all his mighty men, and all the Princes heard his words, the King sought to put him to death; but when Urijah heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 And Jehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, namely Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certain men with him, into Egypt.

23 And they fet forth Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the King, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the c common people.

c Hebr. sonnes of the people.

24 Nevertheless, the hand of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people, to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Under the type of bonds and yoke he propheſieth the ſubduing of the neighbour Kings unto Nebuchad-nezzar. 8 He exhorteth them to yeeld, and not to believe the falſe prophets. 12 The like he doth to Zedekiah. 19 He foretelleth the remnant of the veſſels ſhall be carried to Babylon, and there continue until the day of viſitation.

IN the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the ſonne of Josiah King of Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD to me, Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them upon thy neck.

3 And send them to the King of Edom, and to the King of Moab, and to the King of the Ammonites, and to the King of Tyrus, and to the King of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah King of Judah.

4 And command them to say unto their maſters, Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say d unto your maſters, d Or, tell your maſters. Hebr. say.

5 I have made the earth, the man, and the beast that are upon the ground, by my great power, and by my out-ſtretched arm, and e have given it unto whom it ſeemed meet unto me.

e Dan.4. 14,21.

6 And now have I given all theſe lands into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babylon f my ſervant, and the beasts of the field have I given him also to serve him.

f Chap. 25.9. and 43.10.

7 And all nations shall serve him, and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne, untill the very time of his land come: and then many nations and great Kings shall serve themſelves of him.

8 And it shall come to paſſe, that the nation and kingdome, which will not serve the same Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the LORD, with the sword, & with the famine, & with the peſtilence, untill I have conſumed them by his hand.

9 Therefore hearken not ye to your Prophets, nor to your divinerS, nor to your dreamers, nor to your ſoothſayers, nor to your ſorcerers, which ſpeak unto you, saying; Ye shall not ſerve the King of Babylon:

10 For they propheſie a lie unto you, to remove you farre from your land, and that I ſhould drive you out, and ye ſhould perish.

11 But the nations that bring their neck under the yoke of the King of Babylon, and ſerve him, thoſe will I let remain ſtill in their own land, ſaith the LORD, and they ſhall till it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I ſpake alſo to Zedekiah King of Judah according to all theſe words, saying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the King of Babylon, and ſerve him and his people, and live.

13 Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, as the LORD hath ſpoken againſt the nation that will not ſerve the King of Babylon?

14 Therefore hearken not unto the words of the prophets, that ſpeak unto you, saying, Ye ſhall not ſerve the King of Babylon: for they propheſie g a lie unto you.

g Hebr. a lie.

15 For I have not ſent them, saith the LORD, yet they propheſie h a lie in my Name, that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets that propheſie unto you.

h Hebr. falſly.

16 Alſo I ſpake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Hearken not to the words of your prophets, that propheſie unto you, saying, Behold, the veſſels of the LORDS house ſhall now ſhortly be brought again from Babylon; for they propheſie a lie unto you.

17 Hearken not unto them; ſerve the King of Babylon, and live: wherefore ſhould this city be laid waſte?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercceſſion to the LORD of hosts, that the veſſels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jeruſalem go not to Babylon.

19 ¶ For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the ſea, and concerning the baſes, and concerning the reſidue of the veſſels that remain in this city, 20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babylon took not, when he carried away i captive Jechoniah the ſonne of Jehoiakim King of Judah from Jeruſalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jeruſalem:

i Or, transported. Hebr. caſt.

21 Yea, thus ſaith the LORD of hosts the God of Iſrael, concerning the veſſels that remain in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the King of Judah and of Jeruſalem, 22 They ſhall be k carried to Babylon, and there ſhall they be untill the day that I viſit them, saith the LORD: then will I bring them up, and reſtore them to this place.

k Hebr. brought.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Hananiah propheſieth falſely the reſtoring of the veſſels, and of Jeconiah. 5 Jeremiah anſwereth him, ſhewing that the true come not ſuddenly. 10 Hananiah breaketh the yoke. 12 Jeremiah hath anſwer from the LORD. 15 Jeremiah telleth Hananiah death.

AND it came to paſſe the ſame [illegible] beginning of the reign of Zedekiah King of Judah, in the fourth yeare, and in the fifth moneth, that Hananiah the ſonne of Azur the Prophet, which was of Gibeon, ſpake unto me of the LORD in the presence of the

of all the people, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of saying, I have broken the yoke of the king

3 Within a two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORDS house, Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon.

4 And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah that went into Babylon, saith the LORD, for I will break the yoke of the King of Babylon.

5 ¶ Then the Prophet Jeremiah said unto the Prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD,

6 Even the Prophet Jeremiah said, Amen: the LORD do so, the LORD performe thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORDS house, and all that is carried away captive from Babylon unto this place.

7 Nevertheless, hear thou now this word that I speak in thine eare, and in the eare of all the people;

8 The Prophets that have been before me, and before thee of old, prophesied both against many countries, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of evill, and of pestilence.

9 The Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to pass, then shall the Prophet be known that the LORD hath truely sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet took the yoke from off the Prophet Jeremiahs neck, and 11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon from the neck of all nations, within the space of two full years: and the Prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the Prophet, after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the Prophet Jeremiah, saying,

13 Go and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, and they shall serve him, and I have given him the beasts of the field also.

15 ¶ Then said the Prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the Prophet, Hear now, Hananiah: The LORD hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth: this yeer thou shalt die, because thou hast taught rebellion against the LORD.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet died the same yeer, in the seventh moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Jeremiah sendeth a letter to the captives in Babylon to build, plant, marry, and pray for the peace of their prophets, 10 and that they shall return with their prayers. 24 He threateneth the Shemaiah who sent letters in his name to Jerusalem.

NOw these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the Prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the Elders which were carried away captives, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon,

2 (After that [p] Jeconiah the King, and the [p] 2 Kings Queen, and the [q] Eunuches, the Princes of Judah 24.12, &c. and Jerusalem, and the carpenters, and the smiths, [q] Or, were departed from Jerusalem)

3 By the hand of Elasah the sonne of Shaphan, [r] Or, and Gemariah the sonne of Hilkiah, whom Zedekkiah King of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, saying,

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have caused to be carried away from Jerusalem unto Babylon;

5 Build ye houses, and dwell in them, and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them;

6 Take ye wives, and beget sonnes and daughters; and take wives for your sonnes, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Let not your Prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neit-ther hearken to your dreames which ye cause to be dreamed.

9 For they prophesie [s] falsly unto you in my [s] Heb. in a lie.
Name: I have not sent them, saith the LORD.

10 ¶ For thus saith the LORD, That after seventy yeeres be accomplished at Babylon, I will visit you, and performe my good word toward you, in causing you to returne to this place. [t] Ps. 90.
15. [t] Chap.
25.12.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evill, to give you an [u] expected end. [u] Or, to 12 Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go give you

14 And I will be found of you, saith the LORD, and I will turne away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the LORD; and I will bring you againe into the place whence
I caused you to be carried away captive.

15 ¶ Because ye have said, The LORD hath raised us up Prophets in Babylon;

16 Know that thus saith the LORD of the King that sitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwelleth in this city, and of your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity;

17 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so evill.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be removed to all the kingdomes of the earth, [x] to be a curse, and an astonish- [x] Heb. for ment, and a hissing, and a reproach, among all the a curse.
nations whither I have driven them.

19 Because

19 Because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the LORD, which I sent unto them by my servants the Prophets, rising up early, and sending them, but ye would not hear, saith the LORD.

20 ¶ Hear ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon.

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, of Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesie a lie unto you in my Name, Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchad-rezzar King of Babylon, and he shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Judah which are in Babylon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the King of Babylon roasted in the fire.

23 Because they have committed villany in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours wives, and have spoken lying words in my Name, which I have not commanded them, even I know, and am a witness, saith the LORD.

24 ¶ Thus shalt thou also speak to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy own name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The LORD hath made thee Priest in the stead of Jehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man that is mad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldest put him in prison, and in the stocks:

27 Now therefore, why hast thou not reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himself a prophet to you?

28 For therefore he sent unto us in Babylon, saying, This captivity is long, build ye houses, and dwell in them, and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the Prophet.

30 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the LORD concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite, because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie;

32 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good that I will do for my people, saith the LORD, because he hath taught rebellion against the LORD.

CHAP. XXX.

1 God foreseeth Jeremiah the return of the Jews. 4 Of the distress which they shall have in their exile. 10 He comforteth Jacob. 18 Their return shall be gracious. 21 Their Prince shall be of themselves. 23 The wrath shall fall on the wicked.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee, in a book.

3 For lo, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the LORD, and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

4 ¶ And these are the words that the LORD spake concerning Israel, and concerning Judah.

5 For thus saith the LORD, We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace.

6 Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child? wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness?

7 Alas, for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble, but he shall be saved out of it.

8 For it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him.

9 But they shall serve the LORD their God, and David their King whom I will raise up unto them.

10 ¶ Therefore fear not, O my servant Jacob, saith the LORD, neither be dismayed, O Israel: for lo, I will save thee from afar off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to save thee: though I make a full end of all nations whither I have scattered thee, yet will I not make a full end of thee: but I will correct thee in measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished.

12 For thus saith the LORD, Thy bruise is incurable, and thy wound is grievous.

13 There is none to plead thy cause, that thou mayest be bound up: thou hast no healing medicines.

14 All thy lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not, for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the multitude of thine iniquity; because thy sins were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the greatness of thine iniquity: because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

16 Therefore all they that devour thee, shall be devoured, and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; and they that spoil thee, shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee, will I give for a prey.

17 For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the LORD, because they called thee an outcast, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

18 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have mercy on his dwelling places; and the city shall be builded upon her own heap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceed thanksgiving, and the voice of them that make merry: and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few: I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small.

20 Their children also shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall be established before me, and I will punish all that oppress them.

21 And their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governour shall proceed from the midst of them, and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me: for who is this that engaged his heart to approach unto me, saith the LORD.

22 And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, a whirlwind of the LORD goeth forth with fury, a grievous whirlwind:

shall fall with grief upon the head of the wicked.
the fierce anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have done it, and until he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The reformation of Israel. 10 The publication thereof. 18 Ephraim mourning, is brought home again. 22 Christ is promised: 27 His care over the Church: 31 His new Covenant.

AT the same time, saith the LORD, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.
2 Thus saith the LORD, The people which were left of the sword, found grace in the wilderness, even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest.
3 The LORD hath appeared [b] of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore [c] with loving kindness have I drawn thee.
4 Again, I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel: thou shalt again be adorned with thy [d] tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.
5 Thou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of Samaria, the planters shall plant, and shall eat them as common things.
6 For there shall be a day, that the watchmen upon the mount Ephraim shall cry, Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the LORD our God.
7 For thus saith the LORD, Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout among the chief of the nations:
publish ye, praise ye, and say, O LORD, save thy people, the remnant of Israel.
8 Behold, I will bring them from the North country, and gather them from the coasts of the earth, and with them the blinde and the lame, the woman with childe, and her that travaileth with childe together, a great company shall return thither.
9 They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters, in a straight way wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my [e] first-born.
10 Hear the word of the LORD, O ye nations, and declare it in the Iles afarre off, and say,
He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.
11 For the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he.
12 Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodnesse of the LORD, for wheat, and for wine, and for oile, and for the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a [f] watered garden, and they shall not sorrow any more at all.
13 Then shall the virgin rejoyce in the dance, both young men and old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoyce from their sorrow.
14 And I will fatisfie the soul of the Priests with fatnesse, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodnesse, saith the LORD.
15 Thus saith the LORD, A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation, and bitter weeping: Rachel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.
16 Thus saith the LORD, Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the LORD, and they shall come again from the land of the enemy.
17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the LORD, that thy children shall come again to their own border.
18 ¶ I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed: turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art
the LORD my God.
19 Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.
20 Is Ephraim my dear [g] sonne? is he a pleasant childe? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my bowels are troubled for him; I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the LORD.
21 Set thee up waymarks, make thee high heaps: set thine heart toward the high way, even the way which thou wentest: turn again, O virgin of Israel, turn again to these thy cities.
22 ¶ How long wilt thou go about, O thou backsliding daughter? for the LORD hath created a new thing in the earth: a woman shall compasse
a man.
23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, As yet they shall use this speech in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity: The LORD blesse thee, O habitation of justice, and mountain of holinesse.
24 And there shall dwell in Judah it self, and in all the cities thereof together, husbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks.
25 For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.
26 Upon this I awaked, and beheld, and my sleep was sweet unto me.
27 ¶ Behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.
28 And it shall come to passe, that like as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them, to build, and to plant, saith the LORD.
29 In those dayes they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sowre grape, and the childs teeth are set on edge.
30 But every one shall die for his own iniquity:
every man that eateth the sowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.
31 Behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new Covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah:
32 Not according to the Covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand, to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my Covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the LORD:
33 But this shall be the Covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those dayes, saith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.
34 And they shall teach no more every man his

Lord, saying, Thus saith the Lord, which maketh the earth, the Lord that formeth it, to establish it; the Lord is his name;

3 Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are thrown down by the mounts, and by the sword;

5 They come to fight with the Chaldeans, but it is to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury, and for all their wickedness I have hid my face from this city.

6 Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.

7 And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me.

9 And it shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them: and they shall fear and tremble for all the goodness and for all the prosperity that I procure unto it.

10 Thus saith the Lord; Again there shall be heard in this place, which ye say shall be desolate without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast, 11 The voice of joy, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that shall say, Praise the Lord of hosts: for the Lord is good; for his mercy endureth for ever: and of them that shall bring the sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord. For I will cause to return the captivity of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; Again in this place which is desolate without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, shall be an habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down.

13 In the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the vale, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks pass again under the hands of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will perform that good thing which I have promised unto the house of Israel and to the house of Judah.

15 In those days, and at that time, will I cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.

16 In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name wherewith she shall be called, The Lord our righteousness.

17 For thus saith the Lord; David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel;

18 Neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to kindle meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19 And the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord; If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, and that there should not be day and night in their season;

21 Then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers.

22 As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.

23 Moreover the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying,

24 Consider thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the Lord hath chosen, he hath even cast them off? thus they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord; If my covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth;

26 Then will I cast away the seed of Jacob, and David my servant, so that I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and have mercy on them.

Jeremiah brings imprisoned by Zedekiah for prophesying the destruction of Jerusalem, buys a field in token of the restoration of the people, and receives a gracious return.

The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, in the tenth year of Zedekiah King of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar.

2 For then the host of the king of Babylon besieged Jerusalem: and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the prison, which was in the house of the king of Judah.

3 For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it;

4 And Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with his mouth to his mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes;

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the Lord: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 And Jeremiah said, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanameel the son of Shallum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth: for the right of redemption is thine to buy it.

8 So Hanameel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the prison according to the word of the Lord, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the country of Benjamin: for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine; buy it for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of the 9 And bought the field that was in Anathoth of Hanameel mine uncle's son, and weighed him the money, even seventeen shillings and ten pieces of silver.

10 And I subscribed the evidence, and sealed it, and took witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances.

11 So I took the evidence of the purchase, both that which was sealed according to the law and custome, and that which was open:

12 And I gave the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses, that subscribed the book of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.

13 ¶ And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Take these evidences, this evidence of the purchase, both which is sealed, and this evidence which is open; and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue many days.

15 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Houses and fields, and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the Lord, saying, 17 Ah Lord God! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee.

18 Thou shewest loving kindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosome of their children after them: the great, the mighty God, the Lord of hosts, is his Name,

19 Great in counsel, and mighty in work: for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men: to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings:

20 Which hast set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, and in Israel, and among other men, and hast made thee a name, as at this day;

21 And hast brought forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt, with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terror;

22 And hast given them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey;

23 And they came in, and possessed it; but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them:

24 Behold the mounts, they are come unto the city to take it, and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken is come to pass; and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord God, Buy thee the field for money, and take witnesses; for the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it:

29 And the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have only done evil before me from their youth: for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 For this city hath been to me as a provocation of mine anger and of my fury from the day that they built it even unto this day; that I should remove it from before my face,

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33 And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction.

34 But they set their abominations in the house, which is called by my name, to pollute it.

35 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin.

36 And now therefore thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence;

37 Behold, I will gather them out of all countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely:

38 And they shall be my people, and I will be their God:

39 And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them:

40 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul.

42 For thus saith the Lord; Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them.

43 And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

44 Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe evidences, and seal them, and take witnesses in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the vale, and in the cities of the south: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Jeremiah prophesieth the captivity of Zedekiah and the city. 8 The Princes and the people having dismissed their bond-servants, contrary to the covenant of God, reclaiming them. 12 Jeremiah for their disobedience foretelleth them and Zedekiah into the hands of their enemies.

c 2 King 25.1 &c. Jer. 39.1. &c. 52.4. d Not the dominion of the world.
THe word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, (c when Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdomes of the earth of his d dominion, and all the people fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,
2 Thus saith the LORD the God of Israel, Go, and speak to Zedekiah King of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the King of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.
e Chap. 32.4. Heb. his mouth shall speak to thy mouth.
3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be e taken and delivered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the King of Babylon, and f he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon.
4 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah King of Judah: Thus saith the LORD of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword:
5 But thou shalt die in peace, and with the burnings of thy fathers the former Kings which were before thee, so shall they burn odours for thee, and they will lament thee, saying, Ah Lord; for I have pronounced the word, saith the LORD.
6 Then Jeremiah the Prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah King of Judah in Jerusalem;
7 When the King of Babylons army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish, and against Azekah; for these defenced cities remained of the cities of Judah.
g Exod. 21.2.
8 ¶ This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem, to proclaim a liberty unto them;
9 That every man should let his man-servant, and every man his maid-servant, being an Hebrew, or an Hebrewesse, go free; that none should make bondmen of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.
10 Now when all the Princes, and all the people which had entred into the covenant, heard that every one should let his man-servant go, and every one his maid-servant go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more; then they obeyed and let them go.
11 But afterwards they turned, and caused the servants, and the hand-maids whom they had set at liberty, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for hand-maids.
12 ¶ Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,
13 Thus saith the LORD the God of Israel, I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bond-men, saying,
14 At the end of h seven years, let every man his brother an Hebrew which is sold unto thee: and when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear.
15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before me in the house, which is called by my Name.
16 But ye turned and polluted my Name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his hand-maid, whom ye had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return; & brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants & for hand-maids.
17 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Ye have not hearkened unto me, in proclaiming liberty every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim a liberty for you, saith the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be removed into all the kingdomes of the earth.
18 And I will give the men that have transgressed my Covenant, which have not performed the words of the Covenant which they had made before me, when they cut the calf in twain, and passed between the parts thereof,
19 The Princes of Judah, and the Princes of Jerusalem, the Eunuches, and the Priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf, 20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and their i dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.
21 And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the King of Babylons army, which are gone up from you.
22 Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire, and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 By the direction of the Lord Jeremiah writeth all the words which he had spoken against Israel, Judah, and all the nations, in a book. 9 The fast being proclaimed, Baruch reades the book in the house of the Lord. 20 The book is brought to the King, who burneth it. 27 Jeremiah writeth it again, and addeth many words unto it.

THe word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, in the fourth

...ers into one of the chambers, and give ...nto drink.

5 Then I took Jaazaniah the ſonne of Jeremiah the ſonne of Habaziniah, and his brethren, and all his ſonnes, and the whole houſe of the Rechabites.

6 And I brought them into the houſe of the LORD, into the chamber of the ſonnes of Hanan, the ſonne of Igdaliah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaſeiah the ſonne of Shallum, the keeper of the [a] door.

7 And I ſet before the ſonnes of the houſe of the Rechabites, pots full of wine, and cups, and I ſaid unto them, Drink ye wine.

8 But they ſaid, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab our father, commanded us, ſaying, Ye ſhall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your ſonnes for ever.

9 Neither ſhall ye build houſe, nor ſow ſeed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your dayes ye ſhall dwell in tents, that ye may live many dayes in the land where ye be ſtrangers.

10 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our dayes, we, our wives, our ſonnes, nor our daughters:

11 Nor to build houſes for us to dwell in, neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor ſeed.

12 But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

13 But it came to paſſe when Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we ſaid, Come, and let us go to Jeruſalem for feare of the army of the Caldeans, and for feare of the army of the Syrians: ſo we d well at Jeruſalem.

14 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, ſaying, 15 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Go, and tell the men of Judah, and inhabitants of Jeruſalem, Will ye not receive inſtruction to hear my words, ſaith the LORD?

16 The words of Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab, that he commanded his ſonnes, not to drink wine, are performed: for unto this day they drink none, and obey their fathers commandment: notwithſtanding I have ſpoken unto you, riſing early, and ſpeaking; but ye hearkned not unto me.

17 I ſent alſo unto you all my ſervants the Prophets, riſing up early, and ſending them, ſaying, Return ye now every man from his evill way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to ſerve them, and ye ſhall dwell in the land that I have given to you, and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your eare, nor hearkened unto me.

18 Becauſe the ſonnes of Jonadab, the ſonne of Rechab, have performed the commandment of their father, which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me:

19 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will bring upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, all the evill that I have pronounced againſt them: becauſe I have ſpoken unto them, but they have not heard; and I have called unto them, but they have not anſwered.

20 And Jeremiah ſaid unto the houſe of the Rechabites, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Becauſe ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you;

21 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab ſhall not [c] want a man to ſtand before me for ever.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Jeremiah cauſeth Baruch to write his prophecie, and publickly to read it. 11 The Princes hearing intelligence thereof by Michaiah, ſend Jehudi to fetch the roul and read it. 19 They will Baruch to hide himſelf and Jeremiah. 20 The King Jehoiakim being certified thereof, burneth part of it, and for-bids the reſt. 27 Jeremiah denounceth his judgement. 32 Baruch writeth a new copy.

AND it came to paſſe in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah King of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,

2 Take thee a roul of a book, and write therein all the words that I have ſpoken unto thee againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, and againſt all the nations, from the day I ſpake unto thee, from the dayes of d Joſiah, even unto this day.

3 It may be that the houſe of Judah will hear all the evill which I purpoſe to do unto them, that they may return every man from his evill way, that I may forgive their iniquity, and their ſinne.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had ſpoken unto him, upon a roul of a book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, ſaying, I am ſhut up, I cannot go into the houſe of the LORD.

6 Therefore go thou and read in the roul, which thou haſt written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the eares of the people, in the LORD'S houſe upon the faſting day: and alſo thou ſhalt read them in the eares of all Judah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be [e] they will preſent their ſupplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evill way: for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced againſt this people.

8 And Baruch the ſonne of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD'S houſe.

9 And it came to paſſe in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah King of Judah, in the ninth moneth, that they proclaimed a faſt before the LORD to all the people in Jeruſalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jeruſalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the book, the words of Jeremiah in the houſe of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah the ſonne of Shaphan the Scribe, in the higher court, at the [f] entring in of the new gate of the LORD'S houſe, in the eares of all the people.

11 ¶ When Michaiah the ſonne of Gemariah the ſonne of Shaphan had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD;

12 Then he went down into the King's houſe, into the Scribes chamber, and lo, all the Princes ſate there, even Elliſhama the Scribe, and Delaiah the ſonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the ſonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the ſonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the ſonne of Hananiah, and all the Princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the eares of the people.

14 Therefore all the Princes ſent Jehudi the ſonne of Nethaniah, the ſonne of Shelemiah, the ſonne of Cuſhi, unto Baruch, ſaying, Take in thine hand the roul roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, out of Jehoiakim the King of Judah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they said unto him, Sit down now and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears.

16 Now it came to pass when they had heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the King of all these words.

17 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

19 Then said the Princes unto Baruch, Go hide thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the King into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the Scribe, and told all the words in the ears of the King.

21 So the King sent Jehudi to fetch the roll, and he took it out of Elishama the scribes chamber, and Jehudi read it in the ears of the King, and in the ears of all the Princes which stood beside the King.

22 Now the king sate in the winter house, in the ninth moneth, and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.

23 And it came to passe, that when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.

25 Nevertheless Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had made intercession to the King, that he would not burn the roll, but he would not hear them.

a Or of the king. 26 But the King commanded Jerahmeel the son of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Jeremiah the Prophet: but the LORD hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah (after that the King had burnt the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) saying, 28 Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words, that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the King of Judah hath burnt.

29 And thou shalt say to Jehoiakim King of Judah, Thus saith the LORD, Thou hast burnt this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The King of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the LORD of Jehoiakim King of Judah, He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David, and his dead body shall be b cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will c punish him and his seed, and his servants for their iniquity, and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evill that I have pronounced against them: but they hearkened not.

12 Then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to separate himself thence in the midst of the people.

13 And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he took Jeremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Jeremiah, It is false; I fall not away to the Caldeans: but he hearkened not unto him: so Irijah took Jeremiah, and brought him to the Princes.

15 Wherefore the Princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 ¶ When Jeremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the cabins, and Jeremiah had remained there many dayes;

Jeremiah said unto King Zedekiah,

Then Zedekiah the King sware secretly unto Jeremiah,
Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah,

So Jeremiah abode in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken.

10 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old rotten clouts and old rotten rags under thine arm-holes, under the cords. And Jeremiah did so.

11 So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon; and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

12 ¶ Then Zedekiah the King sent, and took Jeremiah the Prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the King said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

13 Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

14 So the King sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the LORD liveth that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

15 Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

16 So the King sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the LORD liveth that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

17 Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, If thou wilt assuredly go forth unto the King of Babylons Princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burnt with fire, and thou shalt live, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the King of Babylons Princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wives, and thy children to the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the King of Babylon: and thou shalt cause this city to be burnt with fire.

24 ¶ Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the Princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou said unto the King; hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; also what the King said unto thee:

26 Then thou shalt say unto them, I presented my supplication before the King, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house to die there.

27 Then came all the Princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him: and he told them according to all these words that the King had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken: and he was there when Jerusalem was taken.

a 2. King. 25. 1. chap. 52. 4. IN the a ninth yeer of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babylon, and all his army against Jerusalem, and they beseged it.

2 And in the eleventh yeer of Zedekiah, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the city was broken up.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sate in the middle gate, even Nergal-Sharezer, Samgar-Nebo, Sarsechim, Rabsaris, Nergal-Sharezer, Rabmag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babylon.

4 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Zedekiah the king of Judah saw them and all the men of warre, then they fled and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the kings garden, by the gate betwixt the two wals, and he went out the way of the plain.

5 But the Caldeans army pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: & when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he b gave judgement upon him.

b Hebr. spake with him judgements,

14 Even they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him unto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 ¶ Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying;

16 Go and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliver thee in that day, (saith the LORD,) and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid.

18 For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.

CHAP. XL.

1 Jeremiah being set free by Nebuzaradan, is committed to Gedaliah. 7. The dispersed Jewes resort to him. 13 Johanan revealing Ishmaels plot, is not believed.

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon.

2 And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, The LORD thy God hath pronounced this evill upon this place.

3 Now the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chaines which were upon thine hand. If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee: but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he said, Go back also to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whom the King of Babylon hath made governour over all the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or wheresoever it seemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals, and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 ¶ Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam governour in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon;

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of a Maachathite, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, sware unto them, and to their men, saying, Fear not h to serve the Caldeans: dwell in the land and serve the King of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

h Hebr. to serve the Caldeans.

10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to serve the Caldeans, which will come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine, and summer fruits, and oyl, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.

11 Likewise when all the Jewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countreys, heard that the King of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan;

12 Even all the Jewes returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

13 ¶ Moreover Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah,

And said unto him, Dost thou certainly that Baalis the King of the Ammonites sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam believed them not.

15 Then Johanan the sonne of Kareah said to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he slay thee, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Judah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam said unto Johanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing, for thou speakest falsly of Ishmael.

CHAP. XLI.

Ishmael treacherously killing Gedaliah and others, the people with the residue of the men unto the Ammonites. 11 Johanan recovereth the captives, and purposeth to flie into Egypt.

NOw it came to passe in the seventh moneth, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elishamah of the seed royall, and the Princes of the King, even ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah, the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah; and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and those men that were with him, and smote Geda-liah the son of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the King of Babylon had made governour over the land.

3 Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Cal-deans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 And it came to passe the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 That there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men, having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to passe as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And it was so when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyle, and of honey: so he forbare, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast all the dead bodies of the men, (whom he had slain because of Gedaliah) was it, which Asa the King had made for feare of Baasha King of Israel, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain.

10 Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people, that were in Mizpah, even the Kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evill that Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had done;

12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight against Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now it came to passe, that when all the people which were with Ishmael saw Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces with him, then they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then took Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, even mighty men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the eunuches whom he had brought again from Gibeon:

17 And they departed and dwelt in the habitation of Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt,

18 Because of the Caldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the King of Babylon made governour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Johanan desireth Jeremiah to inquire of God, promising obedience to his will. 7 Jeremiah offereth him of Gods in Judea; 13 and dissuadeth to Egypt. 19 He reproveth their hypocrisie in requiring of the Lord that which they intend not.

THen all the captains of the forces, and Jo-hanan the sonne of Kareah, and Jezaniah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest came near,

2 And said unto Jeremiah the Prophet, Let, we beseech thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us)

3 That the LORD thy God may shew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may do.

4 Then Jeremiah the Prophet said unto them,
I have heard you: behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God, according to your words, and it shall come to passe, that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you: I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they said to Jeremiah, The LORD be a true and faithfull witnesse between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the LORD thy God shall send thee to us.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evill, we will obey the voyce of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee, that it may be well with us, when we obey the voyce of the LORD our God.

7 ¶ And it came to passe after ten dayes, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest,

9 And said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him;

10 If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I repent me of the evill that I have done unto you.

and whereto thou hast read in the ears of the people out of the roll, that words like unto these of Jehoiakim the King of Judah hath burnt in the fire: and there shall be written in it all the words that were in the first roll that Jehoiakim the King of Judah hath burnt.

33 Then Jehudi took another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah, who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim the King of Judah had burnt in the fire: and there were added besides unto them many like words.

Then Zedekiah the King commanded that Jeremiah should be put into the court of the and that they should give him daily a piece out of the bakers street, until all the bread in the city were spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

a He is cast into the dungeon. 7 Ebed-melech by his counsel hath compassion on him. 14 Upon secret conference, he encourageth the King by yielding to save his life. 24 By counsel how he concealeth the conference.

Then Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashur the son of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken unto all the people,

2 Saying, Thus saith the LORD, b He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live: for he shall have his life for a prey, and shall live.

3 Thus saith the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the King of Babylon's army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes said unto the King,
We beseech thee, let this man be put to death:
for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the King said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the King is not he that can do any thing against you.

6 Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the son of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: so Jeremiah sunk in the mire.

7 Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs, which was in the King's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon;
the King sitting in the gate of Benjamin;) Ebed-melech went forth out of the King's house, and spake unto the King, saying,

8 My lord the King, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the Prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

9 Then the King commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men under thine hand, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die.

10 So Ebed-melech took the men under his hand, and went into the house of the King under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

11 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under the hollers of thine arms under the cords.
And Jeremiah did so.

12 So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

13 ¶ Then Zedekiah the King sent, and called for Jeremiah the Prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the King said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me.

14 Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

15 So the King sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the LORD liveth that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

16 Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD the God of hosts, the God of Israel, If thou wilt assuredly go forth unto the King of Babylon's Princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burnt with fire, and thou shalt live, and thine house:

17 But if thou wilt not go forth to the King of Babylon's Princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand.

18 And Zedekiah the King said unto Jeremiah,
I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me.

19 But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.

20 But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath shewed me:

21 And behold, all the women that are left in the King of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the King of Babylon's Princes, and those women shall say, c Thy friends have set thee on, and have prevailed against thee: thy feet are sunk in the mire, and they are turned away back.

22 So they shall bring out all the wives, and thy children to the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt receive the hand of the King of Babylon: and thou shalt cause this city to be burnt with fire.

23 ¶ Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

24 But if the Princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the King; hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; also what the King said unto thee:

25 Then thou shalt say unto them, I presented my supplication before the King, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house to die there.

26 Then came all the Princes unto me, and asked me, and I told them according to all these words that the King had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not perceived.

27 So all the Princes came unto Jeremiah, and asked him, and he told them according to all these words that the King had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken: and he was there when Jerusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Jerusalem is taken. 4 Zedekiah is made blind, and sent to Babylon. 8 The city rifled, 9 The people captivated. 11 Nebuchad-rezzar charges for the good usage of Jeremiah. 15 Gods promise to Ebed-melech.

2 Kings 25. 1. cha. 52. 4. IN the [a] ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babylon, and all his army against Jerusalem, and they befieged it.

2 And in the eleventh yeer of Zedekiah, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the city was broken up.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sate in the middle gate, even Nergal-Sharezer, Samgar-Nebo, Sarsechim, Rabsaris, Nergal, Sharezer, Rabmag, withall the residue of the princes of the king of Babylon.

4 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Zedekiah the king of Judah saw them and all the men of warre, then they fled and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the kings garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls, and he went out the way of the plain.

5 But the Caldeans army pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: & when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he [b] gave judgement upon him.

6 Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah.

7 Moreover he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him [c] with chains, to carry him to Babylon.

8 ¶ And the Caldeans burnt the kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.

9 Then Nebuzaradan the [d] captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields [e] at the same time.

11 ¶ Now Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah [f] to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying, 12 Take him, and [g] look well to him, and do him no harm, but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.

13 So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushasban, Rabsaris, and Nergal-Sharezer, Rabmag, and all the king of Babylons princes:

14 Even they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him unto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 ¶ Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying;

16 Go and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evill, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the LORD, and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid.

18 For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee: because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.

b Hebr. spake with him judgements, c Hebr. with two brazen chains, or fetters. d Or, chiefe Marshall: hab chiefe of the executioners, & slaughtermen. And so verse 10, 11, &c. e Hebr. in that day. f Hebr. by the hand of. g Hebr. set thine eyes upon him.

CHAP. XL.

1 Jeremiah being set free by Nebuzaradan, is committed to Gedaliah. 7 The dispersed Jews resort to him. 13 Johanan revealing Ishmaels intent, is not believed.

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon.

2 And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, The LORD thy God hath pronounced this evill upon this place.

3 Now the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chaines which were upon thine hand. If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee: but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he said, Go back also to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governour over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or whereforever it seemeth convenient for thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals, and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 ¶ Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam governour in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive into Babylon;

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the sonne of a Maachathite, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, sware unto them, and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Caldeans: dwell in the land and serve the King of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah to serve the Caldeans, which will come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine, and summer fruits, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.

11 Likewise when all the Jewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countreys, heard that the King of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan;

12 Even all the Jewes returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

13 ¶ Moreover Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah,

[illegible] unto him, Doest thou certainly [illegible] that the King of the Ammonites hath sent [illegible] the seed of Jerusalem to [illegible] Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to [illegible] me, and I will slay Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he slay thee, that all the Jewes which are gathered unto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Judah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam said unto Johanan the sonne of Kareah: Thou shalt not do this thing, for thou speakest falsly of Ishmael.

CHAP. XLI.

Ishmael treacherously killing Gedaliah and others, carrieth with him captive the residue of the Ammonites. 11 Johanan recovereth the captives, and intendeth to flie into Egypt.

NOw it came to passe in the seventh moneth, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elishamah of the seed royall, and the Princes of the King, even ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah, the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah; and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the King of Babylon had made governour over the land.

3 Ishmael also slew all the Jewes that were with him, even with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 And it came to passe the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 That there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourescore men, having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forthfrom Mizpah to meet them, b weeping all along as he went: and it came to passe as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And it was so when they came into the midst of the citie, that Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyle, and of honey: so he forbare, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast all the dead bodies of the men, (whom he had slain c because of Gedaliah) was it, which Asa the king had made for feare of Baasha King of Israel, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain.

10 Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people, that were in Mizpah, even the Kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evill that Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had done;

12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now it came to passe, that when all the people which were with Ishmael, saw Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah, cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then took Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, e after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, even mighty men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the eunuches whom he had brought again from Gibeon:

17 And they departed and dwelt in the habitation of Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt, 18 Because of the Caldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the King of Babylon made governour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Johanan desireth Jeremiah to inquire of God, promising whatsoever he bid. 7 Jeremiah offereth him of setting in Judea, 13 and dissuadeth to Egypt. 19 He reproveth their hypocrisie in requiring the Lord that which they mind not.

THen all the captaines of the forces, and Jezaniah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest came near,

2 And said unto Jeremiah the Prophet, d I pr. we beseech thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us)

3 That the LORD thy God may shew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may do.

4 Then Jeremiah the Prophet said unto them, I have heard you: behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God, according to your words, and it shall come to passe, that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you: I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they said to Jeremiah, The LORD be a true and faithfull witnesse between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the LORD thy God shall send thee to us.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evill, we will obey the voyce of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee, that it may be well unto us, when we obey the voyce of the LORD our God.

7 ¶ And it came to passe after ten dayes, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest,

9 And said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him;

10 If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I repent me of the evill that I have done unto you.

21 Be not afraid of the King of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith the LORD: for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand.

22 And I will shew mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land.

23 ¶ But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the LORD your God;

24 Saying, No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread, and there will we dwell:

25 And now therefore hear the word of the LORD, all ye remnant of Judah; Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there;

26 That it shall come to pass, that the sword which ye feared, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine whereof ye were afraid, shall follow close after you in Egypt; and there ye shall die.

a Heb. shall cleave after you. b Heb. so shall all the men be 27 b So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there; they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

28 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem; so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt: and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more.

29 ¶ The LORD hath said concerning you, O ye remnant of Judah, Go ye not into Egypt: know certainly that I have c admonished you this day.

a Heb. ye dissembled in your hearts. c Heb. testified against you.

30 For ye dissembled in your hearts, when ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God; and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it.

31 And now I have this day declared it to you, but ye have not hearkened unto the voice of the LORD your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me unto you.

32 Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go and to sojourn.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 Johanan disobeying Jeremiah's counsel, carrieth into Egypt Jeremiah and Baruch. 8 Jeremiah prophesieth by a type the coming of Nebuchadnezzar.

NOW it came to pass, that when Jeremiah had made an end of declaring unto all the people, all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words,

2 Then spake Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to sojourn there:

3 But Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Babylon.

4 So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Judah.

5 But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had been driven, to sojourn in the land of Judah;

6 Men, and women, and children, and the King's daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: thus came they even to Tahpanhes.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brick kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah;

10 And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the King of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid, and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them.

11 And when he cometh, he shall smite the land of Egypt, and deliver e such as are for death to death; and such as are for captivity to captivity; and such as are for the sword to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burn them, and carry them away captive: and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace.

13 He shall break also the f images of Beth-shemesh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burn with fire.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 Jeremiah expostulateth the obstinacy of the Jews in idolatry. 11 He denounceth destruction unto remnant idolatry of the Jews. 20 Jeremiah reproveth them for the same. 24 He prophesieth the calamity of Zedekiah.

THE word that came to Jeremiah for all the Jews which dwell in the land of Egypt, which dwell at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and, behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods, that they knew not, neither they, ye, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising early and sending them, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they hearkened not, neither inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn incense unto other gods.

6 Wherefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as at this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling, out of Judah, to leave you none to remain;

8 In that ye provoke me unto [illegible] hands, burning incense unto [illegible] in the land of Egypt, wherein ye be [illegible], that ye might cut your selves off, and that ye might be a curse and a reproach [illegible] the nations of the earth?

18 Have ye forgotten the [a] wickedness of your [illegible] the wickedness of your wives, [illegible] of their wives, and your own [illegible], and the wickedness of your wives, [illegible] committed in the land of Judah, [illegible] streets of Jerusalem?

19 They are not [b] humbled even unto this day, [illegible] have they feared, nor walked in my [illegible] in my statutes that I set before you, and before your fathers.

20 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.

21 And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed, and fall in the land of Egypt: they shall even be consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shall die from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword, and by the famine: and they shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach.

22 For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence:

23 So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape, or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah, to the which they [c] lift up their soul to return to dwell there: for none shall return but such as shall escape.

24 ¶ Then all the men which knew that their wives had burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying,

25 As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the Name of the LORD, we will not hearken unto thee.

26 But we will certainly do whatsoever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth, to burn incense unto the [d] Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, we, and our fathers, our kings, and our Princes in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of victuals, and were well, and saw no evil.

27 But since we left off to burn incense to the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.

28 And when we burn incense to the Queen of heaven, and pour out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink offerings unto her without our men?

29 Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, unto the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,

30 The Jeremiah, that ye burn in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your Kings, and your Princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his mind?

31 So that the LORD could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land [illegible] waste, and [illegible] this day.

32 Wherefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.

33 Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women: Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt.

34 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her: ye will surely accomplish your vows, and surely perform your vows.

35 Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt; Behold, I have sworn by my great Name, saith the LORD, that my Name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah, in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord GOD liveth.

36 Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good: and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them.

37 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah: and all the remnant of Judah that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

38 ¶ And this shall be a sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil.

39 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give Pharaoh-Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah King of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon his enemy, and that sought his life.

C. 45. A. M. 3416. A. V. [illegible].

1 Baruch being discouraged, 2 Jeremiah admonished and comforteth him.

THE word that Jeremiah the Prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah King of Judah, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, unto thee, O Baruch;

3 Thou didst say, Woe is me now, for the LORD hath added grief to my sorrow; I fainted in my [illegible], and I find no rest.

4 Thus shalt thou say unto him, The LORD saith thus, Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even this whole land.

5 And seekest thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD: but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

C. 46. A. M. 3416. A. V. [illegible].

1 Jeremiah prophesieth against Egypt. 11 The destruction of Egypt by Nebuchadrezzar. 27 The restoration of Israel.

THE word of the LORD which came to Jeremiah the Prophet against the Gentiles;

2 Against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh-Necho King of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, and which Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah King of Judah.

3 Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle.

4 Harness the horses; and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets; furbish the spears, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore have I seen them dismayed and turned away back? and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: fear was round about, saith the LORD.

6 Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; they shall stumble, and fall toward the north by the river Euphrates.

7 Who is this that cometh up as a flood, whose waters are moved as the rivers?

8 Egypt riseth up like a flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers; and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth; I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof.

9 Come up, ye horses; and rage, ye chariots; and let the mighty men come forth; the Ethiopians and the Libyans, that handle the shield; and the Lydians, that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is the day of the Lord GOD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord GOD of hosts hath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates.

11 Go up into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vain shalt thou use many medicines; for thou shalt not be cured.

12 The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the LORD spake to Jeremiah the Prophet, how Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph and in Tahpanhes: say ye, Stand fast, and prepare thee; for the sword shall devour round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did drive them.

16 He made many to fall, yea, one fell upon another: and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword.

17 They did cry there, Pharaoh King of Egypt is but a noise; he hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I live, saith the King, whose Name is the LORD of hosts, Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel by the sea, so shall he come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, furnish thyself to go into captivity: for Noph shall be waste and desolate without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a very fair heifer, but destruction cometh; it cometh out of the north.

21 Also her hired men are in the midst of her like fatted bullocks; for they also are turned back, and are fled away together: they did not stand, because the day of their calamity was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go like a serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come with axes unto her, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched; because they are more than the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saith, Behold, I will punish the multitude of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods, and their kings; even Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him:

26 And I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their life, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterward it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the LORD.

27 ¶ But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not dismayed, O Israel: for behold, I will save thee from afar off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the LORD: for I am with thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee: but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished.

C. 47. A. M. 3416. A. V. [illegible].

1 The destruction of the Philistines. 6 The sword of the LORD.

THE word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the Prophet against the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2 Thus saith the LORD; Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall become an overflowing flood, and shall overflow the land, and all that is therein; the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.

3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the rushing of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers shall not look back to their children for feebleness of hands;

4 Because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, and to cut off from Tyrus and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of the country of Caphtor.

5 Baldness is come upon Gaza; Ashkelon is cut off with the remnant of their valley: how long wilt thou cut thyself?

6 O thou sword of the LORD, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? put up thyself into thy scabbard, rest and be still.

7 How can it be quiet, seeing the LORD hath given it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea shore? there hath he appointed it.

against Egypt, concerning the army of Pharaoh-necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah.

3 Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle.

4 Harness the horses; and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets; furbish the spears, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore have I seen them dismayed, and turned away back? and their mighties are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: for fear was round about, saith the LORD.

6 Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; they shall stumble and fall toward the north, by the river Euphrates.

7 Who is this that cometh up as a flood, whose waters are moved as the rivers?

8 Egypt riseth up like a flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers; and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth; I will destroy the city, and the inhabitants thereof.

9 Come up, ye horses, and rage, ye chariots, and let the mighty men come forth; the Ethiopians and the Libyans, that handle the shield, and the Lydians, that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is the day of the Lord GOD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord GOD of hosts hath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates.

11 Go up into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vain shalt thou use many medicines; for thou shalt not be cured.

12 The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the LORD spake to Jeremiah the prophet, how Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph and in Tahpanhes: say ye, Stand fast, and prepare thee; for the sword shall devour round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did drive them.

16 He made many to fall, yea, one fell upon another: and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword.

17 They did cry there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I live, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel by the sea, so shall he come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, furnish thyself to go into captivity: for Noph shall be waste and desolate without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a very fair heifer, but destruction cometh; it cometh out of the north.

21 Also her hired men are in the midst of her like fatted bullocks; for they also are turned back, and are fled away together: they did not stand, because the day of their calamity was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go like a serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched; because they are more than the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will punish the multitude of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods, and their kings; even Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him:

26 And I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterward it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the LORD.

27 ¶ But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not dismayed, O Israel: for, behold, I will save thee from afar off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and be in rest, and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD, for I am with thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in measure, yet will I not leave thee wholly unpunished.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The judgment of Moab, 7 for their pride, 11 for their security, 14 for their overthrow at God and his ordinance, 26 for their contempt of God and his religion, 42 for their destruction of Moab.

AGainst Moab, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Woe unto Nebo, for it is spoiled: Kirjathaim is confounded and taken: Misgab is confounded and dismayed.

2 There shall be no more praise of Moab: in Heshbon they have devised evil against it; come and let us cut it off from being a nation. Also thou shall be cut down, O Madmen; the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shall be from Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

5 For in the going up of Luhith continual weeping shall go up; for in the the sounder have heard a cry of de-[illegible] your lives, and be like the [illegible] heath [illegible] because thou hast trusted in thy works, and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken: and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity with his priests and his princes together.

8 And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed, as the LORD hath spoken.

9 Give wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remained in him, and his scent is not changed.

12 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him wanderers, that shall cause him to wander, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel their confidence.

14 How say ye, We are mighty and strong men for the war?

15 Moab is spoiled, and gone up out of her cities, and his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the King, whose Name is the LORD of hosts.

16 The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, bemoan him; and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staff broken, and the beautiful rod!

18 Thou daughter that dost inhabit Dibon, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the spoiler of Moab shall come upon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.

19 O inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way, and espy; ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded, for it is broken down: howl and cry, tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is spoiled,

21 And judgment is come upon the plain country; upon Holon, and upon Jahazah, and upon Mephaath,

22 And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim,

23 And upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon, 24 And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, afar or near.

25 The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD.

26 Make ye him drunken: for he magnified himself against the LORD: Moab also shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For was not Israel a derision unto thee? was he found among thieves? for since thou spakest of him, thou skippedst for joy.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole's mouth.

29 We have heard the pride of Moab, (he is very proud) his haughtiness, and his arrogancy, and the pride of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the LORD; but it shall not be so; his lies shall not so effect it.

31 Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab; mine heart shall mourn for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee with the weeping of Jazer: thy plants are gone over the sea, they reach even to the sea of Jazer: the spoiler is fallen upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage.

33 And joy and gladness is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Moab; and I have caused wine to fail from the wine-presses: none shall tread with shouting; their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon even unto Elealeh, and even unto Jahaz have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even unto Horonaim as an heifer of three years old: for the waters also of Nimrim shall be desolate.

35 Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the LORD, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like pipes, and mine heart shall sound like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 For every head shall be bald, and every beard clipped: upon all the hands shall be cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth.

38 There shall be lamentation generally upon all the house tops of Moab, and in the streets thereof: for I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein no pleasure is, saith the LORD.

39 They shall howl, saying, How is it broken down! how hath Moab turned the back with shame! so shall Moab become a derision and a dismaying to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the LORD; Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Moab.

41 Kerioth is taken, and the strongholds surprised, and the mighty men's hearts of Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against the LORD.

43 Fear, and the pit, and the snare, shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the LORD.

44 He that fleeth from the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon it, even upon Moab, the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

45 They that fled stood under the shadow of Heshbon because of the force: but a fire shall come forth out of Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and shall devour the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones.

46 Woe be unto thee, O Moab, the people of Chemosh perisheth: for thy sons are taken captives, and thy daughters captives.

47 Yet will I bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

CHAPTER xlix.

1 The judgment of Ammon, Edom, Damascus, Kedar, Hazor, Elam, 34 and Babylon. 7 Edom shall be desolate. 11 God will preserve the fatherless. 23 Damascus shall faint. 28 Kedar and Hazor shall be spoiled. 34 Elam shall be scattered. 39 But shall be restored.

A Concerning Edom, thus saith the LORD of hosts; Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan: for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I will visit him.

9 If grapegatherers come to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? if thieves by night, they will destroy till they have enough.

10 But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and he is not.

11 Leave thy fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith the LORD; Behold, they whose judgment was not to drink of the cup have undoubtedly drunken; and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink of it.

13 For I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that Bozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.

14 I have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather ye together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle.

15 For, lo, I will make thee small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

17 Also Edom shall be a desolation: every one that goeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD: no man shall abide there, neither shall a son of man dwell in it.

19 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan against the habitation of the strong: but I will suddenly make him run away from her: and who is a chosen man, that I may appoint over her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?

20 Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Edom; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: Surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

21 The earth is moved at the noise of their fall, at the cry, the noise thereof was heard in the Red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread his wings over Bozrah: and at that day shall the heart of the mighty men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

23 ¶ Concerning Damascus, Hamath is confounded, and Arpad; for they have heard evil tidings: they are fainthearted; there is sorrow on the sea, it cannot be quiet.

24 Damascus is waxed feeble, and turneth herself to flee, and fear hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken her, as a woman that travaileth.

25 How is the city of praise not left, the city of my joy!

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall consume the palaces of Benhadad.

28 ¶ Concerning Kedar, and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon shall smite, thus saith the LORD; Arise ye, get you up unto Kedar, and spoil the men of the east.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: they shall take to themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels; and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.

30 ¶ Flee, get you far off, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.

31 Arise, get you up unto the wealthy nation that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD, which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall become a spoil, and the multitude of their cattle a prey: and I will scatter into all winds them that are in the utmost corners; and I will bring their calamity from all sides thereof, saith the LORD.

33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and a desolation for ever: there shall no man abide there, nor any sons of man dwell in it.

34 ¶ The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the Prophet against Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, 35 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might.

36 And upon Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them toward all those winds; and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Elam shall not come.

37 For I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the LORD; and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them:

38 And I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from thence the king and the princes, saith the LORD.

39 ¶ But it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Elam, saith the LORD.

CHAP. L.

the Lord spake against Babylon, & against the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet.

2 Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and set up a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken in pieces; her idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces.

3 For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall remove, they shall depart, both man and beast.

4 In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together, going and weeping: they shall go and seek the Lord their God.

5 They shall ask the way to Zion with their faces thitherward, saying, Come and let us join ourselves to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting place.

7 All that found them have devoured them: and their adversaries said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the Lord, the habitation of justice, even the Lord, the hope of their fathers.

8 Remove out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he goats before the flocks.

9 For, lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north country, and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a mighty expert man; none shall return in vain.

10 And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Because ye were glad, because ye rejoiced, O ye destroyers of mine heritage, because ye are grown fat as the heifer at grass, and bellow as bulls;

12 Your mother shall be sore confounded; she that bare you shall be ashamed: behold, the hindermost of the nations shall be a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.

14 Put yourselves in array against Babylon round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Shout against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance upon her; as she hath done unto her.

16 Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.

17 Israel is a scattered sheep; the lions have driven him away: first the king of Assyria hath devoured him, and last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have punished the king of Assyria.

19 And I will bring Israel again to his habitation, and he shall feed upon Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reserve.

21 Go up against the land of Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants of Pekod: waste and utterly destroy after them, saith the Lord, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.

22 A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! how is Babylon become a desolation among the nations!

24 I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for this is the work of the Lord God of hosts, in the land of the Chaldeans.

26 Come against her from the utmost border, open her storehouses: cast her up as heaps, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Slay all her bullocks; let them go down to the slaughter: woe unto them, for their day is come, the time of their visitation.

28 The voice of them that flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, the vengeance of his temple.

29 Call together the archers against Babylon: all ye that bend the bow, camp against it round about; let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the Lord, against the Holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Behold, I am against thee, O thou most proud, saith the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee.

32 And the most proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; The children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives held them fast; they refused to let them go.

34 Their redeemer is strong; the Lord of hosts is his name: he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.

35 A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the Lord, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.

...
...

46 That the commotion of the earth shall be at the noise of the taking of Babylon, and her cry shall be heard among the nations.

47 Therefore behold, the days come, that I will do judgment upon the graven images of Babylon: and her whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48 Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for Babylon: for the spoilers shall come unto her from the North, saith the LORD.

49 As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the earth.

50 Ye that have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the LORD afar off, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.

51 We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the LORD's house.

52 Wherefore behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will do judgment upon her graven images: and through all her land the wounded shall groan.

53 Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the LORD.

54 A sound of a cry cometh from Babylon, and great destruction from the land of the Caldeans:

55 Because the LORD hath spoiled Babylon, and destroyed out of her the great voice; when her waves do roar like great waters, a noise of their voice is uttered:

56 Because the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, every one of their bows is broken: for the LORD God of recompences shall surely requite.

57 And I will make drunk her Princes, and her wise men, her captains, and her rulers, and her mighty men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

58 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly broken, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and the people shall labour in vain, and the folk in the fire, and they shall be weary.

59 ¶ The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the King of Judah into Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. And this Seraiah was a quiet Prince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written against Babylon.

61 And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, and shalt see, and shalt read all these words;

62 Then shalt thou say, O LORD, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever.

63 And it shall be when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Euphrates:

64 And thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

1 The miserable estate of Jerusalem by reason of her sins. 12 She complaineth of her grief. 18 and acknowledgeth Gods judgments to be righteous.

HOw doth the city sit solitary that was full of people! how is she become as a widow! she that was great among the nations, & princess among the provinces, how is she become tributary!

2 She [a] weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her, all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies.

3 Judah is gone into captivity, because of affliction, and [c] because of great servitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest: all her persecutors overtook her between the straits.

4 The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn feasts: all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh: her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.

5 Her adversaries [d] are the chief, her enemies prosper: for the LORD hath afflicted her; for the multitude of her transgressions, her [e] children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her Princes are become like Harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Jerusalem remembered in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her [f] pleasant things that she had in the days of old, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her, the adversaries saw her, and did mock at her Sabbaths.

8 Jerusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is removed: all that honoured her, despise her, because they have seen her nakedness: yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthiness is in her skirts; she remembereth not her last end; therefore she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter: O LORD, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himself.

10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her [h] pleasant things: for she hath seen that the heathen entered into her sanctuary, whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people sigh, they seek bread; they have given their pleasant things for meat to relieve the soul: see, O LORD, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Is it nothing to you, all ye that [m] pass by? behold and see, if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me, in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From above hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth against them: he hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me desolate, and faint all the day.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fall, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to rise up.

15 The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me to crush my young men: the Lord hath trodden [n] the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in a wine-press.

16 For these things I weep, [o] mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, because the comforter that should [p] relieve my soul is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevailed.

17 Zion spreadeth forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the LORD hath commanded concerning Jacob, that his adversaries should be round about him: Jerusalem is as a menstruous woman among them.

18 ¶ The LORD is [q] righteous, for I have rebelled against his [r] commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my Priests and mine Elders gave up the ghost in the city, while they sought their meat to relieve their souls.

20 Behold, O LORD: for I am in distress: my [s] bowels are troubled: mine heart is turned within me, for I have grievously rebelled: abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I sigh, but there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble, they are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou hast [t] called, and they shall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickedness come before thee; and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

CHAP. II.

1 Jerusalem lamenteth the misery of Jerusalem. 11 He complaineth through his Griefs.

HOw hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger, and cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his anger!

2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied: he hath [x] thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah; he hath [y] brought them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdom and the Princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the horn of Israel: he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, and he burned against Jacob like a flaming fire which devoureth round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy: he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and slew all that were [z] pleasant to the eye: in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his fury like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath swallowed up Israel, he hath swallowed up all her palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently [a] taken away his tabernacle, as if it were of a garden, he hath destroyed his places of the assembly: the LORD hath caused the solemn feasts and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

7 The

the midst of the enemies: they have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemne feast.

8 The LORD hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: he hath stretched out a line: he hath not withdrawn his hand from b destroying: therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lament: they languished together.

9 Her gates are sunk into the ground: he hath destroyed and broken her barres: her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles: the Law is no more, her c Prophets also finde no vision from the LORD.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground and keep silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads: they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with teares: my bowels are troubled: my liver is powred upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people: because the children and the sucklings d swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul was powred out into their mothers bosome.

13 What thing shall I take to witnesse for thee? what thing shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I equall to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?

14 Thy c Prophets have seen vain and foolish things for thee, and they have not discovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity: but have seen for thee false burdens, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe e by, clap their hands at thee: they hisse and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call, The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash the teeth: they say, We have swallowed her up: certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it.

17 The LORD hath done that which he had f devised: he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the dayes of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused thine enemy to rejoyce over thee, he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord, g O wall of the daughter of Zion, let teares run down like a river, day and night, give thy self no rest, let not the apple of thine eyes cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches powre out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord; lift up thy hands toward him, for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the top of every street.

20 ¶ Behold, O LORD, and consider to whom thou hast done this: shall the women eat their fruit, and children of a h span long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slain in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slain them in the day of thy anger: thou hast killed, and not pitied.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemne day my terrours round about, so that in the day of the LORDS anger none escaped nor remained: those that I have swaddled and brought up, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

1 The faithfull bewail their calamities, 21 but in the mercies of God they finde their hope. 37 They acknowledge Gods Justice. 55 They pray for deliverance, 64 and vengeance on their enemies.

I Am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me and brought me into darknesse, but not into light.

3 Surely against me is he turned, he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skinne hath he made old, he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and travell.

6 He hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead of old.

7 He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chain heavie.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath inclosed my wayes with hewen stone, he hath made my paths crooked.

10 He was unto me as a Beare lying in wait, and as a Lion in secret places.

11 He hath turned aside my wayes, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bowe, and set me as a marke for the arrow.

13 He hath caused the i arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a k derision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with l bitternesse, he hath made me drunken with wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with gravell stones, he hath m covered me with ashes.

17 And thou hast removed my soule far off from peace: I forgot prosperity.

18 And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the LORD:

19 ¶ Remembring my affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall.

20 My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is n humbled in me.

21 This I o recall to my minde, therefore have I hope.

22 ¶ It is of the LORDS mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

23 They are new every morning: great is thy faithfulnesse.

24 The LORD is my p portion, saith my soule, therefore will I hope in him.

25 The LORD is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.

26 It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD.

27 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.

28 He sitteth alone and keepeth silence, because he hath born it upon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust, if so be there may be hope.

30 He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him, he is filled full with reproach.

31 For the Lord will not cast off for ever:

32 But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

for he doth not willingly afflict nor grieve the children of men.

33 To crush under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,

34 To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the moſt High, 35 To subvert a man in his cauſe, the Lord approveth not.

36 ¶ Who is he that ſaith, and it cometh to paſs, when the Lord commandeth it not?

37 Out of the mouth of the moſt high proceedeth not evil and good?

38 Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the puniſhment of his ſins?

39 Let us ſearch and try our waies, and turn again to the Lord.

40 Let us lift up our hart with our hands unto God in the heavens.

41 We have tranſgreſſed, and have rebelled, thou haſt not pardoned.

42 Thou haſt covered with anger, and perſecuted us: thou haſt ſlain, thou haſt not pitied.

43 Thou haſt covered thy ſelf with a cloud, that our prayer ſhould not paſſe thorow.

44 Thou haſt made us as the off-ſcouring and refuſe in the midſt of the people.

45 All our enemies have opened their mouthes upon us.

46 Fear and a ſnare is come upon us, deſolation and deſtruction.

47 Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water, for the deſtruction of the daughter of my people.

48 Mine eye trickleth down and ceaſeth not, without any intermiſſion;

49 Till the Lord look down, and behold from heaven.

50 Mine eye affecteth mine heart, becauſe of all the daughters of my city.

51 Mine enemies chaſed me ſore like a bird, without cauſe.

52 They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and caſt a ſtone upon me.

53 Waters flowed over mine head, then I ſaid, I am cut off.

54 I called upon thy Name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.

55 Thou haſt heard my voice, hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.

56 Thou drewſt neer in the day that I called upon thee: thou ſaideſt, Fear not.

57 O Lord, thou haſt pleaded the cauſes of my life, thou haſt redeemed my life.

58 O Lord, thou haſt ſeen my wrong, judge thou my cauſe.

59 Thou haſt ſeen all their vengeance, and all their imaginations againſt me.

60 Thou haſt heard their reproach, O Lord, and all their imaginations againſt me;

61 The lips of thoſe that roſe up againſt me, and their deviſe againſt me all the day.

62 Behold their ſitting down, and their riſing up, I am their muſicke.

63 Render unto them a recompence, O Lord, according to the work of their hands.

64 Give them ſorrow of heart, thy curſe unto them.

65 Perſecute and deſtroy them in anger, from under the heavens of the Lord.

1 How is the gold become dim! how is the moſt fine gold changed! the ſtones of the ſanctuary are poured out in the top of every ſtreet.

2 The precious ſons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they eſteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!

3 Even the ſea-monſters draw out the breaſt, they give ſuck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruell, like the ſtruthiones in the wilderneſſe.

4 The tongue of the ſucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirſt: the young children aſk bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.

5 They that did feed delicately, are deſolate in the ſtreets: they that were brought up in ſcarlet, embrace dunghils.

6 For the puniſhment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the puniſhment of the ſin of Sodom, that was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands ſtayed on her.

7 Her Nazarites were purer than ſnow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polliſhing was of Sapphir.

8 Their viſage is blacker than a coal, they are not known in the ſtreets: their ſkinne cleaveth to their bones, it is withered, it is become like unto a ſtick.

9 They that be ſlain with the ſword, are better than they that be ſlain with hunger: for theſe pine away, ſtricken thorow for want of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the pitifull women have ſodden their own children, they were their meat in the deſtruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accompliſhed his fury, he hath powred out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The Kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not have believed, that the adverſary and the enemy ſhould have entred into the gates of Jeruſalem.

13 ¶ For the ſinnes of her prophets, and the iniquities of her Prieſts, that have ſhed the blood of the juſt in the midſt of her?

14 They have wandered as blind men in the ſtreets, they have polluted themſelves with blood, ſo that men could not touch their garments.

15 They cryed unto them: Depart, ye unclean, depart, depart, touch not, when they fled away and wandered: they ſaid among the heathen, They ſhall no more ſojourn there.

16 The anger of the Lord hath divided them, he will no more regard them: they reſpected not the perſons of the Prieſts, they favoured not the Elders.

17 As for us, our eies as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not ſave us.

18 They hunt our ſteps that we cannot go in our ſtreets: our end is neer, our dayes are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our perſecutors are ſwifter than the Eagles of the heaven: they purſued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderneſſe.

20 The breath of our noſtrils, the anointed of the Lord was taken in their pits, of whom we ſaid, Under his ſhadow we ſhall live among the heathen.

21 ¶ Rejoyce and be glad, O daughter of Edom, that dwelleſt in the land of Uz, the cup alſo ſhall paſſe thorow unto thee: thou ſhalt be drunken, and ſhalt make thy ſelf naked.

A pitiful complaint of Zion to prayer unto God.

REmember, O LORD, what is come upon us: consider and behold our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

3 We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows.

4 We have drunken our water for money, our wood is sold unto us.

5 Our necks are under persecution: we labour and have no rest.

6 We have given the hand to the Egyptians, and to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers have sinned and are not, and we have born their iniquities.

8 Servants have ruled over us: there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.

9 We gate our bread with the peril of our lives, because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our skinne was black like an oven, because of the terrible famine.

11 They ravished the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.

12 Princes are hanged up by their hand: the faces of Elders were not honoured.

13 They took the young men to grind, and the children fell under the wood.

14 The Elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their musicke.

15 The joy of our heart is ceased, our dance is turned into mourning.

16 The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us that we have sinned.

17 For this our heart is faint, for these things our eies are dimme.

18 Because of the mountain of Zion, which is desolate, the foxes walk upon it.

19 Thou, O LORD, remainest for ever, thy throne from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, and forsake us so long time?

21 Turn thou us unto thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned: renew our dales as of old.

22 But thou hast utterly rejected us: thou art very wroth against us.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET EZEKIEL.

CHAP. I.

1 The time of Ezekiels prophesie at Chebar. 4 His vision of four Cherubims, 15 of the four wheels, 26 and of the glory of God.

NOw it came to passe in the thirtieth yeer, in the fourth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, (as I was among the captives by the river of Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

2 In the fifth day of the moneth, (which was the fifth yeer of King Jehoiachins captivity)

3 The word of the LORD came expresly unto b Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the river Chebar, and the hand of the LORD was there upon him.

4 ¶ And I looked, and behold, a whirlwinde came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire c infolding it selfe, and a brightnesse was about it, and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

5 Also out of the midst thereof came the likenesse of foure living creatures. And this was their appearance: they had the likenesse of a man.

6 And every one had foure faces, and every one had foure wings.

7 And their feet were d straight feet, and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calves foot, and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brasse.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their foure sides, and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were joyned one to another, they turned not when they went: they went every one straight forward.

10 As for the likenesse of their faces, they four had the face of a man, and the face of a lion on the right side, and they four had the face of an ox on the left side, they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were e stretched upward, two wings of every one were joyned one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit was to go, they went: they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likenesse of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coales of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures, and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold, one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures with his four faces.

16 The appearance of the wheels and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl stone: and they four had one likenesse, and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their foure sides: and they returned not when they went.

18 As for their rings, they were so high that they were dreadfull, and their rings were full of eyes round about them four.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lift up from the earth, the wheels were lift up.

20 Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go, and the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

21 When those went, these went: and when those stood, these stood: and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

22 And the likenesse of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature was as the colour of the terrible christall, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other, every …thereupon on that side thy bodies.

13 And when they were, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voyce of speech, as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings.

14 So the spirit took me up, and took me away, and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, but the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.

15 Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river of Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and remained there astonished among them seven dayes.

16 And it came to passe at the end of seven dayes, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 17 Sonne of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickednesse, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soule.

20 Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteousnesse, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sinne, and his righteousnesse which he hath done shall not be remembred; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheleſſe, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and he doth not sinne; he shall surely live, because he is warned: also thou hast delivered thy soule.

22 ¶ And the hand of the LORD was there upon me, and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

23 Then

23 Then I arose and went forth into the plain, and behold, the glory of the LORD stood there as a Chap. 1 the glory which I ª saw by the river of Chebar, and I fell on my face.
24 Then the spirit entred into me, and set me upon my feet, and spake with me, and said unto me, Go shut thy self within thine house.
25 But thou, O sonne of man, behold, they shall put bands upon thee, and shall binde thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them.
26 And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roofe of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them ᵇ a reprover: for they are a rebellious house.
b A man reproving.
27 But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, He that heareth, let him hear, and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Under the type of a siege, it shewed the time from the defection of Jerusalem to the captivity 9 By the provision of the siege, it shewed the hard diet of the famine.

THou also sonne of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it the city, even Jerusalem, 2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it: set the camp also against it, and set ᶜ battering rams against it, round about.
c Or, chief leaders.
3 Moreover take thou unto thee ᵈ an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city, and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a signe to the house of Israel.
d Or, a fenced place or slice.
4 Lie thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the dayes that thou shalt lie upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity.
5 For I have laid upon thee the yeers of their iniquity, according to the number of the dayes, three hundred and ninety dayes. ᵉ So shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.
e Numb. 14. 34.
6 And when thou hast accomplished them, lie again on thy right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah fourty dayes: I have appointed thee ᶠ each day for a yeer.
f Hebr. a day for a yeer, a day for a yeer.
7 Therefore thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and thine arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesie against it.
8 And behold, I will lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee ᵍ from one side to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy siege.
g Hebr. from thy side to thy side.
9 ¶ Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beanes, and lentils, and millet, and ʰ fitches, and put them in one vessell, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the dayes that thou shalt lie upon thy side: three hundred and ninety dayes shalt thou eat thereof.
h Or, spelt.
10 And thy meat which thou shalt eat, shall be by weight twenty shekels a day; from time to time shalt thou eat it.
11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the sixth part of an Hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.
12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it with dung that cometh out of man in their sight.
13 And the LORD said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.
14 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD, Behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now, have I not eaten of that which dyed of it self, or is torne in pieces, neither came abominable flesh into my mouth.
15 Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee cowes dung for mans dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.
16 Moreover, he said unto me, Sonne of man, behold, I will break the ⁱ staffe of bread in Jerusalem, and they shall eat bread by weight, and with care, and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment:
i Hebr. staffe.
17 That they may want bread and water, and be astonied one with another, and consume away for their iniquity.

CHAP. V.

1 Under the type of haire, 5 it shewed the judgements of Jerusalem for their rebellion, 12 by fire, sword, and dispersion.

AND thou Sonne of man, take thee a sharp knife, take thee a barbers rasor, and cause it to passe upon thine head and upon thy beard: then take the balances to weigh, and divide the haire.
2 Thou shalt burn with fire a third part in the midst of the city, when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take a third part and smite about it with a knife, and a third part thou shalt scatter in the winde, and I will draw out a sword after them.
3 Thou shalt also take thereof a ʲ few in number, and binde them in thy ᵏ skirts.
j Or, small.
k Or, wings.
4 Then take of them again, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire: for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.
5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; This is Jerusalem: I have set it in the midst of the nations and countreys that are round about her.
6 And she hath changed my judgements into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreys that are round about her: for they have refused my judgements, and my Statutes, they have not walked in them.
7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye multiplied more then the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgements, neither have done according to the judgements of the nations that are round about you:
8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I, even I am against thee, and will execute judgements in the midst of thee, in the sight of the nations.
9 And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations.
10 Therefore the fathers shall ˡ eat the sonnes in the midst of thee, and the sonnes shall eat their fathers, and I will execute judgements in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the winds.
l Hebr. eat.
11 Wherefore as I live, saith the Lord GOD; Surely because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee, neither shall mine ᵐ eye spare, neither will I have any pity.
m Hebr. eye.
12 ¶ A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee, and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter a third part into all the windes, and I will draw out a sword after them.
13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will cause my fury to rest upon them,

…ected: and they shall know that I the …have spoken it in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury in them.

9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, because I am broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes which go a whoring after their idols: and they shall loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the LORD, and that I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, Smite with thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the evill abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is far off shall die of the pestilence, and he that is neer shall fall by the sword, and he that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

13 Then shall ye know that I am the LORD, when their slain shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.

14 So will I stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate, yea, more desolate than the wilderness toward Diblath, in all their habitations: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. VII.

1 The final desolation of Israel. 16 The unprofitable repentance of them that escape. 20 The enemies despite the Sanctuary, because of the Israelites abominations. 23 Under the type of a chain, is shewed their miserable captivity.

MOreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Also thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord GOD unto the land of Israel, An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy wayes, and will recompense upon thee all thine abominations.

4 And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pitie: but I will recompense thy wayes upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD, An evill, an only evill, behold, is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it watcheth for thee behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come unto thee, O thou that dwellest in the land; the time is come, the day of trouble is neer, and not the sounding again of the mountains.

8 Now will I shortly powre out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger upon thee: and I will judge thee according to thy wayes, and will recompense thee for all thine abominations.

9 And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pitie: I will recompense thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations that are in the middest of thee, and ye shall know that I am the LORD that smiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold, it is come, the morning is gone forth, the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded.

11 Violence is risen up into a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there be wailing for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth neer, let not the buyer rejoyce, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

13 For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, which shall not return; neither shall any strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life.

14 They have blowne the trumpet, even to make all ready, but none goeth to the battell: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword, and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

16 ¶ But they that escape of them, shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one for his iniquity.

17 All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water.

18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them, and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldnesse upon all their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be [a] removed: their [b] silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD: they shall not satisfie their souls, neither fill their bowels: [c] because it is the stumbling block of their iniquitie.

20 ¶ As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: but they made the images of their abominations, and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I [d] set it farre from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the [e] robbers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 ¶ Make a chain: for the land is full of bloudy crimes, the city is full of violence.

24 Wherefore I will bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possesse their houses: I will also make the pomp of the strong to cease, and [f] their holy places shall be defiled.

25 § Destruction cometh, and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none.

26 Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour, then shall they seek a vision of the Prophet; but the Law shall perish from the Priest, and counsell from the ancients.

27 The King shall mourn, and the Prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and [h] according to their deserts will I judge them, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Ezekiel in a vision of God at Jerusalem, 5 is shewed the image of jealousie, 7 the chambers of imagery, 13 the mourners for Tammuz, 15 the worshippers toward the sunne. 18 Gods wrath for their idolatry.

AND it came to passe in the sixth yeare, in the sixth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, as I sate in mine house, and the Elders of Judah sate before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD fell there upon me.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, a likenesse as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins even downward, fire: and from his loins even upward, as the appearance of brightnesse, as the colour of amber.

3 And he [i] put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head, and the spirit lift me up betweene the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate, that looketh toward the north, where was the seat of the image of jealousie, which provoketh to jealousie.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I [k] saw in the plain.

5 ¶ Then said he unto me, Sonne of man, lift up thine eyes now the way towards the north: so I lift up mine eyes the way towards the north, and behold, northward at the gate of the altar, this image of jealousie in the entry.

6 He said furthermore unto me, Sonne of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here, that I should go farre off from my Sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the [l] court, and when I looked, behold a [l] the wall.

8 Then said he unto me, Sonne of [m] in the wall; and when I had digged in [m] behold, a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and [n] wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and saw, and behold, [o] form of creeping things, and abominable and all the idols of the house of Israel, upon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seventy of the ancients of the house of Israel, and [p] midst of them stood Jaazaniah the sonne of phan, with every man his censer in his hand thick cloud of incense went up.

12 Then said he unto me, Sonne of man, seen what the ancients of the house of Is in the dark, every man in the chambers imagery? for they say, The LORD seeth the LORD hath forsaken the earth.

13 ¶ He said also unto me, Turn again, and thou shalt see greater abomi that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the door gate of the LORDS house, which was the north, and behold, there sate women for Tammuz.

15 ¶ Then said he unto me, Hast thou this, O sonne of man? Turn thee yet again, thou shalt see greater abominations than 18 Therefore will I also deal in fury: [r] eye shall not spare, neither will I pity and though they [s] cry in mine ears with voice, yet will I not hear them.

1 The vision of the coals of fire to be scattered over the city. 8 The vision of the Cherubims.

Then I looked, and behold, in the [h] firmament that was above the head of the Cherubims, there appeared over them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

2 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the Cherub, and [i] fill thine hand with coals of fire from between the Cherubims, and scatter them over the city. And he went in my sight.

3 Now the Cherubims stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the LORD [k] went up from the Cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory.

5 And the [l] sound of the Cherubims wings was heard, even to the utter court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the Cherubims; Then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one Cherub [m] stretched forth his hand from between the Cherubims unto the fire that was between the Cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen, who took it, and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked, behold the four wheels by the Cherubims, one wheel by one Cherub, and another wheel by another Cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a beryl stone.

10 And as for their appearances, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked, they followed it, they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole [o] body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As for the wheels, [p] it was cryed unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

14 And every one had four faces; the first face was the face of a Cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the Cherubims lift up their wings, to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When they stood, these stood, and when they were lifted up, these lift up themselves also: for the spirit of the [q] living creature was in them.

18 Then the glory of the LORD departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lift up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them, and every one stood at the door of the east-gate of the LORD's house, and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

20 This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel, by the river of Chebar, and I know that they were the Cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings, and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

CHAP. XI.

1 The presumption of the Princes. 4 Their sins and judgement. 13 Ezekiel complaining, God foreseeth to his purpose in saving a remnant, 21 and punishing the wicked. 22 The glory of God leaveth the city. 24 Ezekiel is returned to the captivity.

Moreover the Spirit lift me up, and brought me unto the East gate of the LORD's house, which looketh East-ward: and behold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men: among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah, Princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that devise mischief, and give wicked counsell in this city:

3 Which say, [r] It is not near, let us build houses: this city is the caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 ¶ Therefore prophesie against them, prophesie, O Sonne of man.

5 And the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak, Thus saith the LORD; Thus have ye said, O house of Israel: for I know the things that come into your minde, every one of them.

6 Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are are the flesh, and this city is the cauldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midst of it.

8 Ye have feared the sword, and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgements among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, I will judge you in the border of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

11 This city shall not be your cauldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof, but I will judge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall know that I am the LORD: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgements, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

13 ¶ And it came to passe when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah died: then fell I down upon my face, and cryed with a loud voyce, and said, Ah Lord GOD, wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?

14 Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

15 Sonne of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kinred, and all the house of Israel wholly are they, unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get ye farre from the LORD: unto us is this land given in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Although I have cast them farre off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countreys, yet will I be to them as a little Sanctuary in the countreys where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countreys, where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

b Jer. 31. 33. chap. 36. 26.

19 And b I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you: and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh, 20 That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things, and their abominations, I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord GOD.

22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels beside them, and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

23 And the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain, which is on the East side of the city.

24 ¶ Afterwards the Spirit took me up, and brought me in vision by the Spirit of God into Caldea to them of the captivity: so the vision that I had seen, went up from me.

25 Then I spake unto them of the captivity, all the things that the LORD had shewed me.

CHAP. XII.

1 The type of Ezekiels removing. 8 It shewed the captivity of Zedekiah. 17 Ezekiel trembling sheweth the Jews desolation. 21 The Jews presumptuous proverb is reproved. 26 The speedinesse of the vision.

THe word of the LORD also came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not: they have eares to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou Sonne of man, prepare thee stuffe for removing, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuffe by day in their sight, as stuffe for removing: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, as they that go forth into captivity.

5 c Dig thou thorow the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: for I have set thee for a signe unto the house of Israel.

7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuffe by day, as stuffe for captivity, and in the even I d digged through the wall with mine hand, I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my shoulder in their sight.

8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou?

10 Say thou unto them; Thus saith the Lord GOD, This burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: e they shall remove, and go into captivity.

12 And the Prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig thorow the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My f net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Caldeans; yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

16 But I will leave g a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

17 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulnesse, 19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord GOD, of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the land of Israel; They shall eat their bread with carefulnesse, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from h all that is therein, because of the violence of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

21 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

…me of man, what is that proverb that ye …the land of Israel, saying, The dayes are …prolonged, and every vision faileth?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall use it no more as a proverb in Israel: but say unto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For there shall be no more any vain vision, nor flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the LORD: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak, shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD.

26 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying;

27 Sonne of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth [a] is for many dayes to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are farre off.

28 Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, There shall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The reproof of lying prophets, 10 and their untempered morter. 17 Of prophetesses and their pillows.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

2 Sonne of man, prophesie against the prophets of Israel that prophesie, and say thou unto them that [b] prophesie out of their own [c] hearts, Hear ye the word of the LORD.

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Wo unto the foolish prophets, that [d] follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing.

4 O Israel, thy prophets are like the foxes in the deserts.

5 Ye have not gone up into the [e] gaps neither made up the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the LORD.

6 They have seen vanity, and lying divination, saying, The LORD saith, and the LORD hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope, that they would confirm the word.

7 Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The LORD saith it, albeit I have not spoken?

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the [f] assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

10 ¶ Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, [g] Peace, and there was no peace: and one built up [h] a wall, and lo, others daubed it with untempered morter.

11 Say unto them which daube it with untempered morter, that it shall fall, there shall be an overflowing showre, and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall, and a stormie winde shall rent it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you; Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; I will even rent it with a stormie winde in my fury: and there shall be an overflowing showre in mine anger, & great hailstones in my fury, to consume it.

14 So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered morter, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered morter, and will say unto you; The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it:

16 To wit, the Prophets of Israel, which prophesie concerning Jerusalem, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ Likewise thou sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesie out of their own heart, and prophesie thou against them;

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Wo to the women that sow pillows to all [i] armholes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every stature to hunt soules: Will ye hunt the soules of my people, and will ye save the soules alive that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley, and for pieces of bread, to slay the soules that should not die, and to save the soules alive that should not live, by your lying to my people, that hear your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against your pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the soules, to make them flee, and I will rent them from your arms, and will let the soules go, even the soules that ye hunt to make them flee.

21 Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

22 Because with lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, [k] by promising him life:

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations; for I will deliver my people out of your hand, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 God answereth idolaters according to their own hearts. 6 They are exhorted to repent for fear of judgement, by means of reduced prophets. 12 God irrevocable sentence of famine, 15 of noisome beasts. 17 of the sword, 19 and of pestilence. 22 A remnant shall be reserved for example of others.

THen came certain of the Elders of Israel unto me, and sate before me.

2 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

3 Sonne of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put the stumbling block of their iniquity before their face: should I be enquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the Prophet, I the LORD will answer him that cometh according to the multitude of his idols,

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.

6 ¶ Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus

Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Repent, and turn your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the houſe of Iſrael, or of the ſtranger that ſojourneth in Iſrael, which ſeparateth himſelf from me, and ſetteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the ſtumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a Prophet to enquire of him concerning me; I the LORD will anſwer him by my ſelf.

8 And I will ſet my face againſt that man, and will make him a [b] ſigne and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midſt of my people; and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

[b] Deut. 28.37. chap.5.15

9 And if the Prophet be deceived when he hath ſpoken a thing, I the LORD [c] have deceived that Prophet, and I will ſtretch out my hand upon him, and will deſtroy him from the midſt of my people Iſrael.

[c] 1.Kings 22.23.

10 And they ſhall bear the puniſhment of their iniquity: the puniſhment of the Prophet ſhall be even as the puniſhment of him that ſeeketh unto him:

11 That the houſe of Iſrael may go no more aſtray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their tranſgreſſions; but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, ſaith the Lord GOD.

12 ¶ The word of the LORD came again to me, ſaying,

13 Sonne of man, when the land ſinneth againſt me by treſpaſſing grievouſly; then will I ſtretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the [d] ſtaffe of the bread thereof, and will ſend famine upon it, and will cut off man and beaſt from it.

14 [e] Though theſe three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, they ſhould deliver but their own ſoules by their righteouſneſſe, ſaith the Lord GOD.

e Jer.15.1

15 ¶ If I [f] cauſe noiſome beaſts to paſſe thorow the land, and they [g] ſpoil it, ſo that it be deſolate, that no man may paſſe thorow becauſe of the beaſts:

f Or, let paſſe. g Or, ſpoiled, or bereaved it.

16 Though theſe three men were in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, they ſhall deliver neither ſonnes nor daughters: they only ſhall be delivered, but the land ſhall be deſolate.

17 ¶ Or if I bring a ſword upon that land, and ſay, Sword, go thorow the land, ſo that I cut off man and beaſt from it:

18 Though theſe three men were in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, they ſhall deliver neither ſonnes nor daughters, but they only ſhall be delivered themſelves.

19 ¶ Or if I ſend a peſtilence into that land, and powre out my fury upon it in bloud, to cut off from it man and beaſt:

20 Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, they ſhall deliver neither ſonne nor daughter: they ſhall but deliver their own ſoules by their righteouſneſſe.

21 For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, [h] How much more when I ſend my four ſore judgements upon Jeruſalem; the ſword, and the famine, and the noiſome beaſt, and the peſtilence, to cut off from it man and beaſt?

h Or, alſo when.

22 ¶ Yet behold, therein ſhall be left a remnant that ſhall be brought forth, both ſonnes and daughters: behold, they ſhall come forth unto you, and ye ſhall ſee their way, and their doings: and ye ſhall be comforted concerning the evill that I have brought upon Jeruſalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they ſhall comfort you, when ye ſee their ways and their doings: and ye ſhall know that I have not done without cauſe all that I have done in it, ſaith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XV.

1 By the unfruitfull of the vine branch for fire, 6 is ſhewed the deſtruction of Jeruſalem.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, what is the vine tree more than any tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forreſt?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or, will men take a pin of it to hang any veſſell thereon?

4 Behold, it is caſt into the fire for fewell: the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midſt of it is burnt, is it meet for any work?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was [i] meet for no work: how much leſſe ſhall it be meet yet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?

i Or, fit.

6 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD; As the vine-tree among the trees of the forreſt, which I have given to the fire for fewell, ſo will I give the inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

7 And I will ſet my face againſt them; they ſhall go out from one fire, and another fire ſhall devour them, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD, when I ſet my face againſt them.

8 And I will make the land deſolate, becauſe they have [k] committed a treſpaſſe, ſaith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Under the ſimilitude of a wretched birth ſhewed the naturall ſtate of Jeruſalem. 8 Her extraordinary love towards her. 15 Her ſtrous whoredome. 35 Her grievous judgements. 60 Mercy is promiſed her in

AGain the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying;

2 Sonne of man cauſe Jeruſalem to know her abominations,

3 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD unto Jeruſalem; Thy [m] birth and thy nativity is of the land of Canaan; thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

m Ezek. 21.30.

4 And as for thy nativity in the day thou waſt born, thy navell was not cut, neither waſt thou waſhed in water [n] to ſupple thee; thou waſt not ſalted at all, nor ſwadled at all.

n Or, to ſupple thee: thou waſt not ſalted at all, nor ſwadled at all.

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of theſe unto thee, to have compaſſion upon thee, but thou waſt caſt out in the open field, to the loathing of thy perſon in the day that thou waſt born.

6 ¶ And when I paſſed by thee, and ſaw thee [o] polluted in thine own bloud, I ſaid unto thee when thou waſt in thy bloud, Live: yea I ſaid unto thee, when thou waſt in thy bloud, Live.

o Or, in.

7 I have [p] cauſed thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou haſt increaſed and waxen great, and thou art come to ¶ excellent ornaments: thy breſts are faſhioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou waſt naked and bare.

p Or, made thee.

8 Now when I paſſed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; and I ſpread my ſkirt over thee, and covered thy nakedneſſe: yea, I ſware unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, ſaith the Lord GOD, and thou becameſt mine.

9 Then waſhed I thee with water; yea I throughly waſhed away thy [q] bloud from thee, and I anointed thee with oyl.

q Or, ſtains.

…with broidered work, …with fine linen, and I covered thee …

…I clothed thee also with ornaments, and I …bracelets upon thine hands, and a chain on …

… And I put a jewel on thy forehead, and ear-…rings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon …thy head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver, …and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and …broidered work; thou didst eat fine flour and …honey, and oil: and thou wast exceeding beautiful, …and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through …my comeliness which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ But thou didst trust in thine own beauty, …and playedst the harlot, because of thy renown, and …poured out thy fornications on every one that …passed by; his it was.

16 And of thy garments thou didst take, and …deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and …playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall …not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my …gold, and of my silver, which I had given thee, and …madest to thyself images of men, and didst …commit whoredome with them,

18 And tookest thy broidered garments, and …coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and …mine incense before them.

19 My meat also which I gave thee, fine flour, …and oil, and honey wherewith I fed thee, thou hast …even set it before them for a sweet savour: and …thus it was, saith the Lord GOD.

20 Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy …daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these …hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Is …this of thy whoredoms a small matter, 21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered …them to cause them to pass through the fire for …them?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms …thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, …when thou wast naked and bare, and wast …polluted in thy blood.

23 ¶ And it came to pass after all thy wickedness, (woe, woe unto thee, saith the Lord GOD;)

24 That thou hast also built unto thee an …eminent place, and hast made thee an high place in …every street.

25 Thou hast built thy high place at every head …of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, …and hast opened thy feet to every one that …passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with …the Egyptians thy neighbours great of flesh, and …hast increased thy whoredoms, to provoke me to …anger.

27 Behold therefore, I have stretched out my …hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary …food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that …hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which …are ashamed of thy lewd way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the …Assyrians, because thou wast unsatiable: yea, thou …hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest …not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication …in the land of Canaan unto Chaldea; and yet …thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord …GOD, seeing all these things are done, the work …of an imperious whorish woman;

31 In that thou buildest thine eminent place …in the head of every way, and makest thine high …place in every street; and hast not been as an …harlot, in that thou scornedst hire;

32 But as a wife that committeth adultery, which …taketh strangers instead of her husband.

33 They give gifts to all whores: but thou givest …thy gifts to all thy lovers, and hirest them, that …they may come unto thee on every side for thy …whoredome.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women …in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee …to commit whoredoms: and in that thou givest …a reward, and no reward is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 ¶ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the …LORD.

36 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thy …filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, …and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by …the blood of thy children, which thou didst give …unto them, 37 Behold therefore, I will gather all thy lovers, …with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them …that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast …hated; I will even gather them round about …against thee, and will discover thy nakedness unto …them, that they may see all thy nakedness.

38 And I will judge thee, as women that break …wedlock, and shed blood are judged; and I will …give thee blood in fury and jealousy.

39 And I will also give thee into their hand, …and they shall throw down thine eminent place, …and shall break down thy high places: they shall …strip thee also of thy clothes, and shall take away …thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring up a company upon …me, and they shall stone them with stones, and …thrust them through with their swords.

41 And they shall burn thine houses with fire, …and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of …many women: and I will cause thee to cease from …playing the harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire …any more.

42 So will I make my fury toward thee to rest, …and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will …be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the days …of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these …things; behold therefore, I also will recompense …thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord GOD: …and thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all …thine abominations.

44 ¶ Behold, every one that useth proverbs, …shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is …the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mother's daughter that loatheth …her husband and her children; and thou art the …sister of thy sisters which loathed their husbands …and their children: your mother was an Hittite, …and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, she and her …daughters that dwell at thy left hand: and thy …younger sister that dwelleth at thy right hand, is …Sodome and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways, nor …done after their abominations: but as if that were a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more …than they in all thy ways.

48 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, Sodome thy …

hath not done after their abominations, in very little space, thou art corrupted more than they in all thy ways.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodome; Pride, fulness of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her, and in her daughters, neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I saw good.

a Gen. 19. 24.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sinnes; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Thou also, which hast judged thy sisters, bear thine own shame for thy sinnes that thou hast committed more abominable than they: they are more righteous than thou: yea be thou confounded also, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.

53 When I shall bring again their captivity, the captivity of Sodome and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them;

54 That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto them.

55 When thy sisters, Sodome and her daughters shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, then thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate.

b Deut. 28. 48.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not b mentioned by your mouth in the day of thy pride;

57 Before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of thy reproach of the daughters of Syria, and all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistims which despise thee round about.

58 Thou hast born thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the LORD.

59 For thus saith the Lord GOD, I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the Covenant.

60 Nevertheless I will remember my Covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting Covenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder and thy younger, and I will give them unto thee for c daughters, but not by thy covenant.

c Gal. 4. 26.

62 And I will establish my Covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD:

63 That thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame, when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XVII.

2. Under the parable of two Eagles and a vine, 11. he shewed Gods judgement upon Jerusalem for revolting from Babylon to Egypt. 22 God promiseth to plant the Calue of the Gospel.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

2 Sonne of man put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel;

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, A great Eagle with great wings, long winged, full of feathers, which had a divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the Cedar.

4 He cropt off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffick; he set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field; he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

7 There was also another great Eagle with great wings and many feathers, and behold, this vine did bend her roots toward him, and shoot forth her branches toward him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soil by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

12 Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, behold, the King of Babylon is come to Jerusalem, and hath taken the King thereof, and the Princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon;

13 And hath taken of the Kings seed, and made a covenant with him, and hath taken an oath of him: he hath also taken the mighty of the land:

14 That the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift up itself, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.

15 But he rebelled against him in sending his Ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he break the Covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely in the place where the King dwelleth that made him King, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, by casting up mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons.

18 Seeing he despised the oath, by breaking the Covenant, (when lo, he had given his hand) and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my Covenant that he hath broken, will I recompense upon his own head.

20 And I will d spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me.

d Ezek. 12. 13.

21 And all his fugitives, with all his bands, shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered towards all winds: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.

22 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will also take of the highest branch of the high Cedar,

…ove off from the hip of this …, and will glance it upon …, and consume …

… mountain of the height of Israel will …, and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly Cedar: and under it …ll dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow …of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and made the dry tree to flourish: I the LORD have spoken, and have done it.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God reproveth the unjust proverb of sower grapes. 5 He describeth the righteous man by a just father: 10 and a wicked son of a just father: 14 with the sons of a wicked father: 19 with a wicked man returning: 24 with a just man revolting. 25 He justifieth, 31 and exhorteth to repentance.

1 And the word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

2 What mean ye that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The [a] fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man be just, and do that which is lawful and right:

6 And hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath [b] defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a menstruous …

7 And hath not oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment;

8 He that hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgment between man and man,

9 Hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgments, to deal truly: he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord GOD.

10 If he beget a son that is a [c] robber, a shedder of blood, and that doth the like to one of these things,

11 And that doth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife,

12 Hath oppressed the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination,

13 Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon him.

14 Now, lo, if he beget a son, that seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doth not such like,

15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, [d] hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my statutes, he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

18 As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even he shall die in his iniquity.

19 ¶ Yet say ye, [e] Why? doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live.

20 The soul that sinneth, it shall die: the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

21 But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him: in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall live.

23 [f] Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die, saith the Lord GOD? and not that he should return from his ways, and live?

24 ¶ But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sins that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 ¶ Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel; Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?

26 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die.

27 Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

29 Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?

30 Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord GOD. Repent, and turn [g] yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin.

31 ¶ Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed, and make you a [h] new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

32 For [i] I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord GOD: wherefore turn [k] yourselves, and live ye.

CHAP. XIX.

1 A lamentation for the Princes of Israel under the parable of lions whelps taken in a pit. 9 and for Jerusalem, under the parable of a spoiled vine.

Moreover, take thou up a lamentation for the Princes of Israel,

4 And thy mother? A lioness: she lay down among lions, she nourished her whelps among young lions.

3 And she brought up one of her whelps: it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey, it devoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him, he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of [a] Egypt.

a 2 King. 23.33. Jer. 22.11.

5 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

6 And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

7 And he knew their [b] desolate palaces, and he laid waste their cities, and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof by the noise of his roaring.

b Or, their widdows.

8 Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him: he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in ward [c] in chains, and brought him to the king of Babylon, they brought him into holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

c Or, in hooks.

10 ¶ Thy mother is like a vine [d] in thy blood, planted by the waters, she was fruitfull and full of branches by reason of many waters.

d Or, in thy likenesse, or, in thy bloud.

11 And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and her stature was exalted among the thick branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked up in fury: she was cast down to the ground, and the [e] East winde dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken and withered, the fire consumed them.

e Or. Isa. 27.8.

13 And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule: this is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAP. XX.

1 God refuseth to be consulted by the Elders of Israel. 5 He shewesth the story of their rebellions in Egypt, 10 in the wilderness, 27 and in the land. 33 He promiseth to gather them by the Gospel. 45 Under the name of a forrest he threatneth the destruction of Jerusalem.

AND it came to passe, in the seventh yeer, in the fifth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, that certain of the Elders of Israel came to enquire of the LORD, and sate before me.

2 Then came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, speak unto the Elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Are ye come to enquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be enquired of by you.

4 Wilt thou [f] judge them, Sonne of man, wilt thou judge them? cause them to know the abominations of their fathers:

f Heb. plead for them. & Chap. 22.2. and 23.36. h Or, frowy, and Deut. 32. ver. 20. i Exod. 32.8. and 6.8.

5 ¶ And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, In the day when I chose Israel, and [h] lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made my self known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the LORD your God,

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands:

7 Then said I unto them, Cast ye away the abominations of the eyes, and defile not your selves with the idols of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said, I will powre out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I wrought for my Names sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made my self known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

10 ¶ Wherefore I [k] caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

k Or, caused them to go forth.

11 And I gave them my Statutes, and shewed them my judgements, [m] which if a man do, he shall even live in them.

m Or, which a man shall do, he shall even live in them.

12 Moreover also, I gave them my Sabbaths, to be a signe between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they despised my judgements, which if a man do, he shall even live in them, and my Sabbaths they greatly [o] polluted: then I said I would powre out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them:

o Or, in the wilderness.

14 But I wrought for my Names sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet also I lifted up mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands:

16 Because they despised my judgements, and walked not in my statutes, but polluted my Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Nevertheless, mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderness.

18 But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgements, nor defile your selves with their idols.

19 I am the LORD your God; walk in my statutes, and keep my judgements, and do them:

20 And hallow my Sabbaths, and they shall be a signe between me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgements to do them, which if a man do, he shall even live in them; they polluted my Sabbaths: then I said, I would powre out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness.

22 Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my Names sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted up mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries;

24 Because they had not executed my judgements, but had despised my statutes, and polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idols.

25 Wherefore I gave them also upon my people, it shall be upon all the Princes of Israel: a terrours by reason of the sword shall be upon my people: b smite therefore upon thy thigh:

13 c because it is a trial, and what if the sword contemn even the rod? it shall be no more, saith the Lord GOD.

14 Thou therefore, sonne of man, prophesie and smite thine d hands together, and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain, it is the sword of the great men that are slain, which entreth into their private chambers.

15 I have set the e point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may faint, and their ruines be multiplied. Ah, it is made bright, it is f wrapt up for the slaughter.

16 Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, g or on the left; whithersoever thy face is set.

17 I will also smite mine hands together, and I will cause my fury to rest: I the LORD have said it.

18 ¶ The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

19 Also thou sonne of man, appoint thee two wayes, that the sword of the King of Babylon may come: both twain shall come forth out of one land: and choose thou a place, choose it at the head of the way to the city.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbath of the Ammonites, and to Judah in Jerusalem the defenced.

21 For the King of Babylon stood at the h parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, to use divination: he made his i arrows bright, he consulted with k images, he looked in the liver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem to appoint l captains, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to appoint battering rams against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fort.

23 And it shall be unto them as a false divination in their sight, to m them that have sworn oaths: but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembred, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sinnes do appear, because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 ¶ And thou profane wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end, 26 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high.

27 n I will overturn, overturn, overturn it, and it shall be no more, until he come, whose right it is; and I will give it him.

28 ¶ And thou sonne of man, prophesie and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the Ammonites and concerning their reproach: Even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn, for the slaughter it is fourbished, to consume because of the glittering:

29 Whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles they divine a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.

30 o Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy nativity.

31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of brutish men, and skilfull to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be for fuell to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land, thou shalt be no more remembred: for I the LORD have spoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 A catalogue of sinnes in Jerusalem. 23 She is shewn them as drosse in his furnace. 25 The corruption of Prophets, Priests, Princes and people.

MOreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

2 Now thou sonne of man, p wilt thou, wilt thou judge the q bloody city? yea, thou shalt shew her all her abominations.

3 Then say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD, The city sheddeth blood in the midst of it, that her time may come, and maketh idols against itself to defile her self.

4 Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou hast r shed, and hast defiled thy self in thine idols which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy dayes to draw neer, and art come even unto thy yeers; therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.

5 Those that be neer, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, which art s infamous and much vexed.

6 Behold the Princes of Israel, every one, are in thee to their t power to shed blood.

7 In thee have they set light by father and mother: in the midst of thee have they dealt by u oppression with the stranger: in thee have they vexed the fatherlesse and the widow.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and profaned my Sabbaths.

9 In thee are x men that carry tales to shed blood: and in thee they eat upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they commit lewdness.

10 In thee have they y discovered their fathers nakednesse: in thee have they humbled her that was z set apart for pollution.

11 And one hath committed abomination with his neighbours a wife, and another hath lewdly defiled his b daughter in law, and another in thee hath humbled his sister, his fathers daughter.

12 In thee have they taken gifts to shed blood; thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord GOD.

13 ¶ Behold therefore, I have smitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong in the dayes that I shall deal with thee? I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it.

15 And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and will consume thy filthinesse out of thee.

16 And thou c shalt take thine inheritance in thy self, in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

17 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

18 Sonne of man, the house of Israel is to me become drosse: all they are brasse, and tinne, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are even the d dross of silver.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because ye are all become drosse, behold

21 Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out my fury upon you.

23 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 There is a conspiracy of her Prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion, ravening the prey: they b have devoured souls; they have taken the treasure and precious things: they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

26 Her Priests have c violated my Law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and profane, neither have they known difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eies from my Sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her Princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, to get dishonest gain.

28 And her Prophets have daubed them with untempered mortar, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord GOD, when the LORD hath not spoken.

29 The people of the land have used d oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have e oppressed the stranger wrongfully.

30 And I sought for a man among them that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

31 Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXIII.

The history of Aholah and Aholibah. 22 Aholibah is threatened by her lovers. 36 The Prophet reproves the idolatries of them both. 45 and denounces judgements.

1 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother:

3 And they committed whoredoms in Egypt; they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 The names of them were Aholah the elder, and her sister Aholibah: and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters. Thus were their names; Samaria is Aholah, and Jerusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when she was mine, and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbours, 6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were the chosen men of Assyria, and with all on whom she doted: with all their idols she defiled herself.

8 Neither left she her whoredoms brought from Egypt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.

9 Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the children of Assyria, upon whom she doted.

10 These discovered her nakedness: they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became famous among women; for they had executed judgement upon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she was more corrupt in her inordinate love than she, and in her whoredoms more than her sister in her whoredoms.

12 She doted upon the Assyrians her neighbours, captains and rulers, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way,

14 And that she increased her whoredoms: for when she saw men portrayed upon the wall, the images of the Caldeans portrayed with vermilion,

15 Girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them Princes to look to, after the manner of the Babylonians of Chaldea, the land of their nativity:

16 And as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea.

17 And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her mind went from them.

18 So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness: then my mind departed from her, like as my mind had departed from her sister.

19 Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in bruising thy teats by the Egyptians for the paps of thy youth.

22 ¶ Therefore, O Aholibah, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy mind is departed, and I will bring them against thee on every side;

23 The Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, Pekod, and Shoa, and Koa, all the Assyrians with them: all of them desirable young men, captains and rulers, great lords, and renowned, all of them riding upon horses.

24 And they shall come against thee with chariots, wheels, and with assemblies of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield and helmet round about: and I will set judgement before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgements.

25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall take away thy nose and thine ears; and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters; and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels.

27 Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredome brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy mind is alienated.

29 And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister, therefore will I give her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision; it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

36 ¶ The LORD said moreover unto me; Son of man, wilt thou judge Aholah and Aholibah? yea, declare unto them their abominations;

37 That they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons, whom they bare unto me, to pass for them through the fire to devour them.

38 Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

40 And furthermore that ye have sent for men to come from far, unto whom a messenger was sent; and, lo, they came, for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments,

41 And satest upon a stately bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with the men of the common sort were brought Sabeans from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then said I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit whoredoms with her, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto Aholah and unto Aholibah the lewd women.

45 And the righteous men, they shall judge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46 For thus saith the Lord GOD; I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them to be removed and spoiled.

47 And the company shall stone them with stones, and dispatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness.

49 And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 Under the parable of a boiling pot, 6 is shewed the irrevocable destruction of Jerusalem. 15 The sign of Ezekiel not mourning for the death of his wife. 19 It foreshewed the calamities of the Jews beyond all sorrow.

AGain in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, write thee the name of this day, even of this same day: the king of Babylon set himself against Jerusalem this same day.

3 And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Set on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it:

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and burn also the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let the bones of it be therein.

6 ¶ Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose scum is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece; let no lot fall upon it.

7 For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the top of a rock; she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust;

8 That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance; I have set her blood upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe to the bloody city, I will even make the pile for fire great.

10 Heap on wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh well, and spice it well, and let the bones be burned.

11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the scum of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great scum went not forth out of her: her scum shall be in the fire.

13 In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.

14 I the LORD have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ Also the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn, neither shall thy tears run down, to sigh, make no lamentation for the dead, bind the tire of thine head upon thee, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not the lips, and eat not the bread of men.

18 So I spake unto the people in the morning, and at even my wife died, and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19 ¶ And the people said unto me; Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou dost so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

21 Speak unto the house of Israel; Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and [c] that which your soul pitieth; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left, shall fall by the sword.

22 And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men.

23 And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep, but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one towards another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done, shall ye do: and when this cometh, ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Also thou, son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and [d] that whereupon they set their minds, their sons and their daughters;

26 That he that escapeth in that day, shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears?

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb: and thou shalt be a sign unto them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XXV.

This vengeance, for their insolence against the Jews, upon the Ammonites, 8 upon Moab and Seir, 12 upon Edom, 15 and upon the Philistines.

1 The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a] set thy face against the Ammonites, and prophesie against them;

3 And say unto the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord GOD: Thus saith the Lord GOD, because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned, and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate, and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity;

4 Behold therefore, I will deliver thee to the men of the East for a possession, and they shall set their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk.

5 And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the Ammonites a couching place for flocks: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

6 For thus saith the Lord GOD, because thou hast clapped thine hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoyced in [1] heart with all thy despite against the land of Israel;

7 Behold therefore, I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the heathen; and I will cut thee off from the people, and cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

8 Thus saith the Lord GOD, [1] Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the heathen;

9 Therefore, behold, I will open the flank of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Bethjesimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim,

10 Unto the men of the East with the Ammonites, and will give them in possession, that the Ammonites may not be remembered among the nations.

11 And I will execute judgments upon Moab, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

12 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because that Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah [e] by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himself upon them;

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, I will also stretch out mine hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beast from it, and I will make it desolate from Teman, and [f] they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger, and according to my fury, and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord GOD.

15 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with a despiteful heart, [g] to destroy it for the old hatred;

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast.

17 And I will execute great [h] vengeance upon them with furious rebukes, and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Tyrus for insulting against Jerusalem, is threatned, 7 The power of Nebuchadnezzar against her. 15 The mourning and astonishment of the isles at her fall.

1 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, Because that Tyrus hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken that was the gates of the people: she is turned unto me, I shall be replenished, now she is laid waste:

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against thee, O Tyrus, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up.

4 And they shall destroy the walls of Tyrus, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

5 It shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD, and it shall become a spoil to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain by the sword; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

7 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will bring upon Tyrus, Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, a King of kings, from the North, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a fort against thee, and [i] cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

9 He shall set engines of warre against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers.

21 With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay thy people by the sword, and thy strong garrisons shall go down to the ground.

12 And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise, and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses, and they shall lay thy stones, and thy timber, and thy dust in the midst of the water.

13 And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease, and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.

14 And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou shalt be a place to spread nets upon: thou shalt be built no more, for I the LORD have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

15 Thus saith the Lord GOD to Tyrus, Shall not the Isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?

16 Then all the Princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments; they shall clothe themselves with trembling, they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble at every moment, and be astonished at thee.

17 And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed that wast inhabited of sea-faring men, the renowned city, which was strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants which cause their terror to be on all that haunt it!

18 Now shall the Isles tremble in the day of thy fall, yea, the Isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord GOD: when I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited, when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee;

20 When I shall bring thee down, with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited, and I shall set glory in the land of the living:

21 I will make thee a terrour, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The rich supply of Tyrus: 26 The great and unexpected fall thereof.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Now thou, O son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyrus;

3 And say unto Tyrus, O thou that art situate at the entry of the sea, which art a merchant of the people for many Isles, Thus saith the Lord GOD; O Tyrus, thou hast said, I am perfect in beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They have made all thy ship boards of fir-trees of Senir: they have taken Cedars from Lebanon, to make masts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars; the company of the Ashurites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of the Isles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with broidered work from Egypt, was that which thou spreadest forth to be thy sail; blue and purple from the Isles of Elishah was that which covered thee.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy mariners: thy wise men, O Tyrus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal and the wise men thereof were in thee thy calkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise.

10 They of Persia, and of Lud, and of Phut were in thy army, thy men of warre: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee; they set forth thy comeliness.

11 The men of Arvad with thy army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadims were in thy towers: they hanged their shields on thy walls round about; they have made thy beauty perfect.

12 Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kind of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded in thy fairs.

13 Javan, Tubal and Meshech, they were thy merchants: they traded the persons of men and vessels of brasse in thy market.

14 They of the house of Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horses, and horsemen and mules.

15 The men of Dedan were thy merchants; many Isles were the merchandise of thine hand: they brought thee for a present, horns of ivory and Ebony.

16 Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of the wares of thy making: they occupied in thy fairs with Emeralds, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and Coral, and Agate.

17 Judah and the land of Israel they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market corn of Minnith, and Pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm.

18 Damascus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches; in the wine of Helbon, and white wool.

19 Dan also and Javan going to and fro occupied in thy fairs: bright iron, Cassia, and calamus were in thy market.

20 Dedan was thy merchant in precious clothes for chariots.

21 Arabia and all the Princes of Kedar, they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats: in these were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy merchants: they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones and gold.

23 Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Ashur, and Chilmad were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in all things, in blue clothes, and broidered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of Cedar among thy merchandise.

25 The ships of Tarshish did sing of thee in thy market, and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the midst of the seas.

26 Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the East winde hath broken thee in the midst of the seas.

27 Thy riches, and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of warre that are in thee, and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the midst of the seas in the day of thy ruine.

28 The suburbs shall shake at the noise of the cry of thy pilots.

31 And they shall make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart, and bitter wailing.

32 And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, What city is like Tyrus, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea?

33 When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people, thou didst enrich the kings of the earth, with the multitude of thy riches, and of thy merchandise.

34 In the time when thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the Isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be sore afraid, they shall be troubled in their countenance.

36 The merchants among the people shall hiss at thee, thou shalt be [a] a terrour, and [b] never shalt be any more.

CHAP. XXVIII.

God's judgment upon the Prince of Tyrus for his vain-glorious pride. 11 A lamentation of his great destruction by sinne. 20 The judgments of Zidon. 24 The restauration of Israel.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, say unto the Prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a God, I sit in the seat of God in the [c] midst of the Seas: yet thou art a man and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God.

3 Behold, thou art wiser than Daniel: there is no secret that they can hide from thee.

4 With thy wisdome and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures.

5 By thy great wisdome, and by thy traffique hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God;

7 Behold therefore, I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdome, and they shall defile thy brightnesse.

8 They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the Seas.

9 Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him that [d] slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

12 Sonne of man, take up a lamentation upon the King of Tyrus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Thou sealest up the summe, full of wisdome, and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the [e] Sardius, Topaz, and the Diamond, the [h] Beril, the Onyx, and the Jasper, the Sapphir, the [i] Emerauld, and the Carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee, in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art the anointed Cherub that covereth: and I have set thee so: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast perfect in thy wayes from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering Cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdome by reason of thy brightnesse: I will cast thee to the ground: I will lay thee before Kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy Sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffique: therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee: and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people, shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be a [k] terrour, and never shalt thou be any more.

20 ¶ Again, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

21 Sonne of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesie against it,

22 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold I am against thee, O Zidon, and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgements in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

23 For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets, and the wounded shall be judged in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

24 ¶ And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them that despised them, and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Thus saith the Lord GOD, When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land, that I have given to my servant Jacob.

26 And they shall dwell [l] safely therein, and shall build houses, and plant vineyards; yea, they shall dwell with confidence, when I have executed judgements upon all those that [m] despise them round about them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their GOD.

CHAP. XXIX.

The judgement of Pharaoh, for his treachery to Israel. 8 The desolation of Egypt. 13 The restauration thereof after fourty years. 17 Egypt the reward of Nebuchad-rezzar. 21 Israel shall be restored.

IN the tenth yeare, in the tenth moneth, in the twelfth day of the moneth, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and prophesie against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speak and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh King of Egypt, the the great a dragon that lieth in the middest of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for my self.

4 But I will put hooks in thy chaps, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

5 And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the b open fields, thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field, and to the fowls of the heaven.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a c staff of reed to the house of Israel.

7 When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rent all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loins to be at a stand.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and cut off man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD: because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it.

10 Behold therefore, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt d utterly waste and desolate from the tower of e Syene, even unto the border of Ethiopia.

11 No foot of man shall pass thorow it, nor foot of beast shall pass thorow it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste, shall be desolate forty years: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them thorough the countries.

13 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD, At the f end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the people whither they were scattered.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their g habitation, and they shall be there a h base kingdom.

15 It shall be the basest of the kingdoms, neither shall it exalt it self any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.

16 And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, which bringeth their iniquity to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyrus: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army for Tyrus, for the service that he had served against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take her multitude, and i take her spoil, and take her prey, and it shall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt, k for his labour wherewith he served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord GOD.

21 ¶ In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I will give the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The desolations of Egypt, and her helpers. 20 The arms of Babylon shall be strengthened, & the arms of Egypt.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesie and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Howl ye, wo worth the day!

3 For the day is near, even the day of the LORD is near, a cloudy day; it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and great pain shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down.

5 Ethiopia, and l Libya, and Lydia, and all the mingled people, and Chub, and the m men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the LORD, They also that uphold Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down; from the tower of Syene shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.

7 And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be n destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers go forth from me in ships, to make the careless Ethiopians afraid, and great pain shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchad-rezzar King of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And I will make the rivers o dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked: and I will make the land waste, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the LORD have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will also destroy the idoles, and I will cause their images to cease out of Noph; and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set a fire in p Zoan, and will execute judgements in No.

15 And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the strength of Egypt, and I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt, Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be rent asunder, and Noph shall have distresses daily.

17 The young men of q Aven and of r Pibeseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.

18 At Tehaphnehes also the day shall s withdraw, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt: and the pomp of her strength shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgements in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Ariolation unto Pharaoh, 3 of the glory of Assyria, 10 and the fall thereof for pride. 18 The like destruction of Egypt.

AND it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, speak unto Pharaoh King of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whom art thou like in thy greatness?
3 Behold the Assyrian was a Cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of an high stature, and his top was among the thick boughs.
4 The waters made him great, the deep set him up on high, with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her little rivers unto all the trees of the field.
5 Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the multitude of waters, when he shot forth.
6 All the fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.
7 Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.
8 The Cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir-trees were not like his boughs, and the chesnut-trees were not like his branches; nor any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.
9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.
10 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because thou hast lifted up thy self in height, and he hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height;
11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the heathen; he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness.
12 And strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon his mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the streams of the land; and all the people of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.
13 Upon his ruin shall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches:
14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves for their height, neither shoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees stand up in their height, all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.
15 Thus saith the Lord GOD, In the day when he went down to the grave, I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.
16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell, with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.
17 They also went down into hell with him, unto them that be slain with the sword, and they that were his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.
18 ¶ To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that be slain by the sword: this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 A lamentation for the fearful fall of Egypt. 17 The sword of Babylon shall destroy it. 19 It shall be brought down to hell among all the uncircumcised nations.

AND it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, and bemoan him, Thou art like a young lion of the nations, and thou art as a whale in the seas: and thou camest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers.
3 Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will therefore spread out my net over thee, with a company of many people; and they shall bring thee up in my net.
4 Then will I leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.
5 And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.
6 I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains; and the rivers shall be full of thee.
7 And when I shall put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark: I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the Moon shall not give her light.
8 All the bright lights of heaven will I make dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord GOD.
9 I will also vex the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries, which thou hast not known.

10 Yea,

1 Or, stand upon their sword for their height.
2 Heb. caused to clothe.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their Kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them, and they shall tremble at every moment; every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD, The sword of the King of Babylon shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, the terrible of the nations all of them: and they shall spoil the pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside the great waters, neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oyl, saith the Lord GOD.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the country shall be [a] destitute of that whereof it was full: when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the LORD.

a Heb. desolate from the fulness thereof.

16 This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for her, even for Egypt and for all her multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ It came to passe also in the twelfth yeare in the fifteenth day of the moneth, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 Whom doest thou passe in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: she is delivered [b] to the sword; draw her and all her multitudes.

b Or, the sword is laid.

21 The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

22 Assur is there, and all her company: his graves are about him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword:

23 Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused [c] terrour in the land of the living.

c Or, affrighting.

24 There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their terror in the land of the living, yet have they born their shame with them that go down to the pit.

25 They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain, with all her multitude: her graves are round about him, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword: though their terrour was caused in the land of the living, yet have they born their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain.

26 There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terrour in the land of the living.

27 And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell [d] with their weapons of war: and they have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquities shall be upon their bones, though they were the terrour of the mighty in the land of the living.

d Heb. with weapons of their war.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.

29 There is Edom, her Kings [illegible] ces, which with their might are [illegible] that were slain by the sword: they [illegible] the uncircumcised, and with them [illegible] to the pit.

30 There be the Princes of the North, [illegible] and all the Zidonians: which are gone [illegible] the slain, with their terrour they are [illegible] their might, and they lie uncircumcised [illegible] that be slain by the sword, and bear [illegible] with them that go down to the pit.

31 Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be [illegible] over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his armie slain by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.

32 For I have caused my terrour in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of uncircumcised, with them that are slain with the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 According to the duty of a watchman, he warns the people, 7 Ezekiel is admonished of his duty. 20 God foreseeth the justice of his ways against the perverse, and towards revolters. 23 He admonisheth his fellows. 21 Upon the news of the taking of Jerusalem, he propheseth the desolation of the land. 30 Gods judgements upon the mockers of the Prophets.

AGain the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, [e] When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him for their watchman:

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people;

4 Then [f] whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head.

5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning, his blood shall be upon him: but he that taketh warning, shall deliver his soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, & the people be not warned: if the sword come and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 ¶ [h] So thou, O sonne of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; therefore thou shalt hear the word at my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it: if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity: but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, speak unto the house of Israel, Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sinnes be upon us, and we pine away in them, how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, [i] As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for [k] why will ye die, O house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou sonne of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression: as for the wickedness ...shall not fall thereby in the day that ...turneth from his wickedneſſe, neither ſhall the ...righteous be able to live for his righteouſneſſe in the ...day that he ſinneth.

24 But when I ſhall ſay to the righteous, that he ſhall ſurely live: if he truſt to his own righteouſneſſe, and commit iniquity, all his righteouſneſſes ſhall not be remembred: but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he ſhall die for it.

25 Again, when I ſay unto the wicked, Thou ſhalt ſurely die; if he turn from his ſinne, and do that which is [a] lawfull and right:

26 If the wicked reſtore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the Statutes of life without committing iniquity; he ſhall ſurely live, he ſhall not die.

27 None of his ſinnes that he hath committed, ſhall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawfull and right; he ſhall ſurely live.

28 ¶ Yet the children of thy people ſay, The way of the Lord is not equall: but as for them, their way is not equall.

29 When the righteous turneth from his righteouſneſſe, and committeth iniquity, he ſhall even die thereby.

30 But if the wicked turn from his wickedneſſe, and do that which is lawfull and right, he ſhall live thereby.

31 ¶ Yet ye ſay, [b] The way of the Lord is not equall. O ye houſe of Iſrael; I will judge you every one after his wayes.

32 ¶ And it came to paſſe in the twelfth yeare of our captivity, in the tenth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, that one that had eſcaped out of Jeruſalem, came unto me, ſaying, [c] The city is ſmitten.

33 Now the hand of the Lord was upon me in the evening, afore he that was eſcaped came, and had opened my mouth untill he came to me in the morning, and my mouth was opened, and I was no more [d] dumbe.

34 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

35 Sonne of man, they that inhabit thoſe waſtes of the land of Iſrael, ſpeak, ſaying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many, the land is given us for inheritance.

36 Wherefore ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God. Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and ſhed blood; and ſhall ye poſſeſſe the land?

37 Ye ſtand upon your ſword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbours wife, and ſhall ye poſſeſſe the land?

38 Say thou thus unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, As I live, ſurely they that are in the waſtes, ſhall fall by the ſword, and him that is in the open field will I give unto the beaſts [e] to be devoured: and they that be in the forts and in the caves, ſhall die of the peſtilence.

39 For I will lay the land [f] moſt deſolate, and the [g] pomp of her ſtrength ſhall ceaſe; and the mountains of Iſrael ſhall be deſolate, that none ſhall paſſe thorow.

40 Then ſhall they know that I am the Lord, when I have laid the land moſt deſolate becauſe of all their abominations which they have committed.

41 Alſo thou ſonne of man, the children of thy people ſtill are talking againſt thee by the walls, and in the doors of the houſes, and ſpeak one to another, every one to his brother, ſaying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that commeth forth from the Lord.

42 And they come unto thee [h] as the people cometh, and they [i] ſit before thee as my people, and they hear my words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth [k] they ſhew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetouſneſſe.

43 And lo, thou art unto them as [l] a very lovely ſong of one that hath a pleaſant voice, and can play well on an inſtrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.

44 And when this cometh to paſſe, (lo, it will come) then ſhall they know that a Prophet hath been among them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 A reproof of the ſhepherds. 7 Gods judgement againſt them. 11 His providence for his flock. 20 The kingdome of Chriſt.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying;

2 Sonne of man, propheſie againſt the [m] ſhepherds of Iſrael, propheſie and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God unto the ſhepherds, Woe be to the ſhepherds of Iſrael that do feed themſelves: ſhould not the ſhepherds feed the flocks?

3 Ye eat the fat, and ye cloathe you with the woole, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

4 The diſeaſed have ye not ſtrengthened, neither have ye healed that which was ſick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye ſought that which was loſt; but with [n] force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

5 And they were ſcattered [o] becauſe there is no ſhepherd: and they became meat to all the beaſts of the field, when they were ſcattered.

6 My ſheep wandered thorow all the mountains, and upon every high hill; yea, my flock was ſcattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did ſearch or ſeek after them.

7 ¶ Therefore, ye ſhepherds, hear the word of the Lord.

8 As I live, ſaith the Lord God, ſurely becauſe my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beaſt of the field, becauſe there was no ſhepherd, neither did my ſhepherds ſearch for my flock, but the ſhepherds fed themſelves, and fed not my flock:

9 Therefore, O ye ſhepherds, hear the word of the Lord:

10 Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I am againſt the ſhepherds, and I will require my flock at their hand, & cauſe them to ceaſe from feeding the flock, neither ſhall the ſhepherds feed themſelves any more: for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them.

11 ¶ For thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I, even I will both ſearch my ſheep, and ſeek them out.

12 [p] As a ſhepherd ſeeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his ſheep that are ſcattered, ſo will I ſeek out my ſheep, and will deliver them out of all places, where they have been ſcattered in the cloudy and dark day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countreys, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Iſrael by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 I will feed them in a good paſture, and upon the high mountains of Iſrael ſhall their fold be: there ſhall they lie in a good fold, and on fat paſture ſhall they feed upon the mountains of Iſrael.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cauſe them to lie down, ſaith the Lord God.

16 I will ſeek that which was loſt, and

CHAP. XXXV.

The judgement of mount Seir for their hatred of Israel.

MOreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

2 Son of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesie against it, h Heb. desolation & desolation. i Or, hatred of old. k Heb. poured out the children. Heb. hands.

3 And say unto it, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, O mount Seir, I am against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee h most desolate.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

5 Because thou hast had a i perpetuall hatred, and hast k shed the blood of the children of Israel by the force of the sword in the time of their calamity, in the time that their iniquity had an end:

6 Therefore as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: sith thou hast not hated blood, blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir most desolate, and cut off from it him that passeth out and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountains with his slain men: in thy hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy rivers shall they fall that are slain with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetuall desolations, and thy cities shall not return, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countreys shall be mine, and we will possesse it, l whereas the LORD was there:

l Heb. and we will possesse it, o whereas the LORD was there.

11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will even do according to thine anger, and according to thine envie, which thou hast used out of thy hatred against them; and I will make myself known among st them, when I have judged thee.

12 And thou shalt know that I am the LORD, and that I have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying; They are laid desolate, they are given us to consume.

13 Thus with your mouth ye have m boasted against me, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard them.

m Heb. magnified.

14 Thus saith the Lord GOD; When the whole earth rejoyceth, I will make thee desolate.

15 As thou didst rejoyce at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea, even all of it, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 The land of Israel is encouraged unto by reason of the heathen, who spitefully used it, 8 and to the blessings of God promised unto it. 16 That was rejected for their sinne, 21 and shall be saved without their desert. 25 The blessings of Christs kingdome.

ALso thou sonne of man, prophesie unto the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD.

2 Thus saith the Lord GOD, n Because the enemie had said against you, Aha, even the ancient high places are ours in possession:

n Heb. Because the enemie hath said against you, Aha, &c.

3 Therefore prophesie and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, n Because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy of the people:

n Heb. Because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy of the people:

4 Therefore ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD, Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which became a prey and derision to the residue of the heathen that are round about:

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Surely in the fire of my jealousie have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea, which have appointed my land into their possession, with the joy of all their heart, with despiteful minds to cast it out for a prey.

6 Prophesie therefore concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys; Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I have spoken in my

...ore sorry, because ye have born the shame of ... saith the Lord GOD, I have ... hand, surely the heathen that are
... they shall bear their shame.

6 But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall ... forth your branches, and yield your fruit
... my people of Israel; for they are at hand to
...

7 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown.

10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it, and the cities shall be inhabited, and the wastes shall be builded.

11 And I will multiply upon you man and beast, and they shall increase and bring fruit, and I will settle you after your old estates, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel, and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Because they say unto you, Thou dost devour up men, and hast bereaved thy nations.

14 Therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither bereave thy nations any more, saith the Lord GOD.

15 Neither will I cause men to hear in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt thou cause the nations to fall any more, saith the Lord GOD.

16 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own way, and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanness of a removed woman.

18 Wherefore I poured my fury upon them for the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it.

19 And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countries: according to their way and according to their doings I judged them.

20 And when they entered unto the heathen whither they went, they profaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of his land.

21 But I had pity for mine holy Name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the heathen whither they went.

22 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD, I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine holy Name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctify my great Name, which is profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them, and the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

25 Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols will I cleanse you.

26 A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my [m] spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also save you from all your uncleannesses, and I will call for the corn, and will increase it, and lay no famine upon you.

30 And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye shall receive no more reproach of famine among the heathen.

31 Then shall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall loath your selves in your own sight for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your own ways, O house of Israel.

33 Thus saith the Lord GOD, In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will also cause you to dwell in the cities, and the wastes shall be builded.

34 And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay desolate in the sight of all that passed by.

35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate, [n] become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities, are fenced, and are inhabited.

36 Then the heathen that are left round about you, shall know that I the LORD build the ruined places, and plant that that was desolate: I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will yet for this be enquired of by the house of Israel to do it for them: I will increase them with men like a flock.

38 As the [p] holy flock, as the flock of Jerusalem in her solemn feasts, so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

1 By the resurrection of dry bones, 11 the dead hope of Israel is revived. 15 By the uniting of two sticks, 18 is shewed the reunion of Israel into Christ. 20 The promise of Christ's kingdom.

THE hand of the LORD was upon me, and carried me out in the Spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley which was full of bones,

2 And caused me to pass by them round about, and, behold, there were very many in the open valley, and, lo, they were very dry.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord GOD, thou knowest.

4 Again he said unto me, Prophesy upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live.

6 And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and, behold, a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And

[p] Heb. flock of holy things.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skinne covered them above, but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he unto me, Prophesie unto the a winde, prophesie sonne of man, and say to the winde, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Come from the four windes, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.

10 So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 ¶ Then he said unto me, Sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost, we are cut off for our parts.

12 Therefore prophesie, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel.

13 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves, 14 And shall put my Spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then shall ye know that I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

15 ¶ The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

16 Moreover thou sonne of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah and for the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions.

17 And joyn them one to another into one stick, and they shall become one in thine hand.

18 ¶ And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these?

19 Say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand.

20 ¶ And the sticks whereon thou writest, shall be in thine hand before their eies.

21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen whether they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land.

22 And I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Israel, and b one King shall be King to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdomes any more at all.

23 Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idoles, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will save them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, & will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.

24 And c David my servant shall be King over them, and they all shall have one Shepherd: they shall also walk in my Judgements, and observe my Statutes, and do them.

25 And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt, and they shall dwell therein, even they, and their children, and their childrens children for ever, and my servant David shall be their Prince for ever.

26 Moreover, I will make a [illegible] peace with them, it shall be an everlasting covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my [illegible] in the midst of them for evermore.

27 My Tabernacle also shall be with them: I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

28 And the heathen shall know that I the LORD do sanctifie Israel, when my Sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 The army, 3 and malice of Gog, 14 God threatneth against him.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against Gog, the land of Magog the h chief Prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesie against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief Prince of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy chaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed with all sorts of armour, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords.

5 Persia, Ethiopia, and k Libya with them, all of them with shield and helmet:

6 Gomer and all his bands, the house of Togarmah of the north quarters, and all his bands, and many people with thee.

7 Be thou prepared, and prepare for thyself, thou and all thy company that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

8 ¶ After many dayes thou shalt be visited: in the latter yeers thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, and is gathered out of many people against the mountains of Israel, which have been alwaies waste: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall dwell safely all of them.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come like a tempest, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD, It shall also come to passe, that at the same time shall things come into thy minde, and thou shalt think an evil thought:

11 And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages, I will go to them that are at rest, that dwell m safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither barres nor gates, 12 n To take a spoil, and to take a prey; to turn thine hand upon the desolate places, that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the o midst of the land.

13 Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the yong lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take a spoil? hast thou gathered thy company to take a prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take a great spoil?

14 ¶ Therefore sonne of man, prophesie and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord GOD, In that day when my people of Israel dwelleth safely, shalt not thou know it?

15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the north parts, thou and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company, and a mighty army.

16 And thou shalt come up against my people

17 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Speak thou to every feathered fowl, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves and come, gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

18 Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the Princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you.

20 Thus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of warre, saith the Lord GOD.

10 So that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forrests: for they shall burn the weapons with fire, and they shall spoile those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord GOD.

11 ¶ And it shall come to passe at that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Israel, the valley of the passengers on the East of the sea: and it shall stop the [m] noses of the passengers, and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude, and they shall call it the valley of [n] Hamon-Gog.

12 And seven moneths shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them, and it shall be to them a renown, the day that I shall be glorified, saith the Lord GOD.

14 And they shall sever out [o] men of continuall imployment, passing thorow the land, to bury with the passengers those that remain upon the face of the earth to cleanse it: after the end of seven moneths shall they search.

15 And the passengers that passe thorow the land, when any seeth a mans bone, then shall he [p] set up a signe by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-Gog.

16 And also the name of the city shall be [q] Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

CHAP. XL.

2 The time, manner, and end of the vision. 6 The description of the East gate, 20 of the North gate, 24 of the South gate, 32 of the East gate, 35 and of the North gate. 39 Eight tables. 44 The chambers. 48 The porch of the house.

IN the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the self same day, the hand of the LORD was upon me, and brought me thither.

2 In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me upon a very high mountain, b by which was as the frame of a city on the South.

b Or, upon which.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed: and he stood in the gate.

4 And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee: for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel.

5 And behold a wall on the outside of the house round about: and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long, by the cubit, and an hand breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building, one reed, and the height one reed.

c Heb. whose face was the way toward the East.

6 ¶ Then came he unto the gate c which looketh toward the East, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad; and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad; and between the little chambers were five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate within, was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits, and the posts thereof two cubits, and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the little chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side, and on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate, ten cubits, and the length of the gate thirteen cubits.

d Heb. limit, or, bound.

12 The d space also before the little chambers was one cubit on this side, and the space was one cubit on that side, and the little chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the roof of the one little chamber, to the roof of another: the breadth was five and twenty cubits, door against door.

14 He made also posts of threescore cubits, even unto the post of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance, unto the face of the porch of the inner gate, were fifty cubits.

e Heb. closed.

16 And there were e narrow windows to the little chambers, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and windows were round about inward: and upon each post were palm trees.

17 Then brought he me into the outward court, and lo, there were chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about: thirty chambers were upon the pavement.

18 And the pavement by the side of the gates over against the length of the gates was the lower pavement.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the fore-front of the lower gate, unto the fore-front of the inner court without, an hundred cubits Eastward and Northward.

20 ¶ And the gate of the outward court that looked toward the North, he measured the length thereof, and the breadth of the same.

21 And the little chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side; and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East, and they went up unto it by seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the North, and toward the East, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 ¶ After that he brought me toward the South, and behold, a gate toward the South: and he measured the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and he measured from gate to gate toward the South an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the South gate, and he measured the South gate according to these measures,

29 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures, and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court, and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, and the going up to it had eight steps.

32 ¶ And he brought me into the inner court toward the East: and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, were according to these measures, and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court, and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ And he brought me to the North little chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the windows thereof round about: and the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth twenty and five cubits.

20 And the posts thereof were toward the inner house, and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side, unto the height of the wall.

21 So the chambers, and the entries thereof, and their posts, had a measure after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the east; and they went up unto it by seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the north, and toward the east; and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 After that he led me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south: and he measured the posts thereof and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had palm trees, one upon this post, and another upon that post.

27 And the gate of the inner court was toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits according to these measures.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these measures;

29 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and the going up to it had eight steps.

32 And he brought me into the inner court toward the east: and he measured the gate according to these measures;

33 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

35 And he brought me to the north gate, and measured according to these measures;

36 The little chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, and the windows were in it round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the posts thereof were toward the utter court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And the chambers, and the entries thereof were by the posts of the gates, where they washed the burnt offering.

39 ¶ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering.

40 And at the side without, as one goeth up to the entry of the north gate, were two tables; and on the other side which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew their sacrifices.

42 And the four tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were [b] hooks an hand broad, fastened round about, and upon the tables was the flesh of the offering.

44 ¶ And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south, one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north.

45 And he said unto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the south, is for the Priests, the keepers of the [c] charge of the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north, is for the Priests the keepers of the charge of the Altar: these are the sons of Zadok among the sons of Levi, which come near to the Lord to minister unto him.

47 So he measured the court an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, four square, and the altar that was before the house.

48 ¶ And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, and he brought me up by steps whereby they went up to it, and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAP. XLI.

The measures, parts, chambers, and ornaments of the Temple.

1 Afterward he brought me to the Temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the door was ten cubits; and the sides of the door were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits.

3 Then went he inward, and measured the post of the door, two cubits; and the door, six cubits; and the breadth of the door seven cubits.

4 So he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits, before the Temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After he measured the wall of the house, six cubits, and the breadth of every side chamber, four cubits round about the house on every side.

6 And the side chambers were three, one over another, and thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which was of the house for the side chambers round about, that they might have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the house.

7 And it did turn and go broader and broader about still upward to the side chambers: for the winding about of the house went still upward round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house was still upward, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middest.

8 I saw also the height of the house round about: the foundations of the side chambers were a full reed of six great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side chamber without, was five cubits, and that which was left, was the place of the side chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

11 And the doors of the side chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the North, and another door toward the South, and the breadth of the place that was left, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place, at the end toward the West, was seventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house an hundred cubits long, and the separate place, and the building with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long.

14 Also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the East, an hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building over against the separate place, which was behind it, and the [l] galleries thereof on the one side, and on the other side an hundred cubits, with the inner Temple, and the porches of the court:

16 The door posts, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the door [k] ceiled with wood round about, [l] and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered.

17 To that above the door, even unto the inner house and without, and by all the wall round about within and without by [m] measure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims and palm trees, so that a palm tree was between a Cherub and a Cherub, and every Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side: it was made thorow all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were Cherubims and palm trees made, and on the wall of the Temple.

21 The [n] posts of the Temple were square, and the face of the Sanctuary, the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits, and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the Lord.

thereof: how of which? and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the Lord.

22 And the posts of the Temple, and the sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves, two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the Temple, Cherubims, and palm-trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windows and palm-trees on this one side, and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and upon the side chambers of the house, and thick planks.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The chambers for the Priests. 13 The use thereof. 15 The measures of the outward court.

THen he brought me forth into the utter court, the way toward the North, and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits was the North door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the utter court, was gallery against gallery in three stories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit, and their doors toward the North.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries [a] were higher then these, [b] then the lower, and then the middlemost of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the building was straitned more then the lowest, and the middlemost from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers towards the utter court, on the forepart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court, was fifty cubits: and lo, before the Temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And [c] from under these chambers [d] was the entry on the East side, [e] as one goeth into them from the utter court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the East, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers, which were toward the North, as long as they, and as broad as they, and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the South, was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the East, as one entreth into them.

13 ¶ Then said he unto me, The North chambers, and the South chambers, which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, where the Priests that approach unto the Lord, shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering, for the place is holy.

14 When the Priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy, and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate, whose prospect is toward the East, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the East [f] side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

17 He measured the North side five hundred reeds, with a measuring reed round about.

18 He measured the South side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.

19 ¶ He turned about to the West side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad, to make a separation between the Sanctuary and the profane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The returning of the glory of God into the Temple. 7 The sins of Israel hindred Gods presence. 10 The Prophet exhorteth them to repentance, and description of the law of the house. 13 The measures, and the ordinances of the Altar.

AFterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the East.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the East: and his voice was like a noise of many waters, and the earth shined with his glory.

3 And it was [h] according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw, [i] when I came to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face.

4 And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the East.

5 So the Spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house.

6 And I heard him speaking unto me out of the house, and the man stood by me.

7 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever, and my holy name shall the house of Israel no more defile, neither they, nor their Kings, by their whoredom, nor by the carcases of their Kings in their high places.

8 In their setting of their threshold by my thresholds, and their post by my posts, and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy Name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger.

9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcases of their Kings from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou Son of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities, and let them measure the pattern.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, shew them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof, and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the house, Upon the top of the mountain, the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy: behold, this is the law of the house.

13 ¶ And these are the measures of the Altar after the cubits; the cubit is a cubit and an hand breadth, even the [a] bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the [b] edge thereof round about shall be a span, and this shall be the higher place of the Altar.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground, even to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit, and from the lesser settle, even to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So the [c] Altar shall be four cubits, and from the [d] Altar and upward shall be four horns.

16 And the Altar shall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, square in the four squares thereof.

17 And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long, and fourteen broad in the four squares thereof, and the border about it shall be half a cubit, and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about, and his stairs shall look toward the east.

18 ¶ And he said unto me, Sonne of man, thus saith the Lord GOD, These are the ordinances of the Altar, in the day when they shall make it to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt give to the Priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which approach unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord GOD, a young bullock for a sinne offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse and purge it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sinne offering, and he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, without the Sanctuary.

22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sinne offering, and they shall cleanse the Altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ramme out of the flock without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the LORD, and the Priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto the LORD.

25 Seven daies shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sinne offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ramme out of the flock without blemish.

26 Seven dales shall they purge the Altar, and purifie it, and they shall [e] consecrate themselves.

27 And when these daies are expired, it shall be upon the eighth day, and so forward, the Priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the Altar, and your [f] peace offerings, and I will accept you, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XLIIII.

The gate appointed only to the Prince. 4 The glory returned for polluting of the Sanctuary. 9 Strangers uncircumcised by the Priests office. 15 The sons of Zadok are accepted therein. 17 Ordinances for the Priests.

1 Then he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward Sanctuary, which looketh toward the east, and it was shut.

2 Then said the LORD unto me, This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it, because the LORD the God of Israel hath entred in by it, therefore it shall be shut.

3 It is for the Prince; the Prince, he shall sit in it to eat bread before the LORD: he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he me the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD: and I fell upon my face.

5 And the LORD said unto me, Sonne of man, mark well, and behold with thine eies, and hear with thine eares, all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the lawes thereof, and mark well the entring in of the house, with every going forth of the Sanctuary.

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD, O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations;

7 In that ye have brought into my Sanctuary [h] strangers uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my Sanctuary to pollute it, even my house, when ye offer my bread, the fat, and the blood, and they have broken my Covenant, because of all your abominations.

8 And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my [i] charge in my [k] Sanctuary for your selves.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, No stranger uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my Sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel.

10 And the Levites that are gone away far from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray away from me after their idols, they shall even bear their iniquity.

11 Yet they shall be ministers in my Sanctuary, having charge at the gates of the house, and ministring to the house: they shall slay the burnt offering, and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them:

12 Because they ministred unto them before their idols, and [l] caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity; therefore have I lift up mine hand against them, saith the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their iniquity.

13 And they shall not come neer unto me, to do the office of a Priest unto me, nor to come neer to any of my holy things in the most holy place: but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them keepers of the charge of the house for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 ¶ But the Priests the Levites, the sonnes of Zadok, that kept the charge of my Sanctuary, when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come neer to me to minister unto me, and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat, and the blood, saith the Lord GOD.

16 They shall enter into my Sanctuary, and they shall come neer to my Table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge.

17 ¶ And it shall come to passe, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments, and no woollen shall come upon them, whilest they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They shall have linen bonets upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their

1 The portion of land for the Sanctuary. 6 for the city. 7 and for the Prince. 9 Ordinances for the Prince.

MOreover, [l] when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the Lord, [m] an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand: this shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

l Heb. when ye cause the land to fall. m Heb. holinesse.

2 Of this there shall be for the Sanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, square round about, and fifty cubits round about, for the [n] suburbs thereof.

n Or, void places.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the Sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be for the Priests the ministers of the Sanctuary, which come near to minister unto the LORD: and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the Sanctuary.

5 And the five and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth shall the Levites the ministers of the house have themselves, for a possession for twenty chambers.

6 ¶ And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long over against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 ¶ And a portion shall be for the Prince on one side, and on the other side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city from the west side westward, and from the east side eastward, and the length shall be over against one of the portions from the west border unto the east border.

8 In the land shall be his possession in Israel: and my Princes shall no more oppress my people; and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; Let it suffice you, O Princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute judgement and justice, take away your [o] exactions from my people, saith the Lord GOD.

o Or, exactions.

10 Ye shall have just [p] balances, and a just Ephah, and a just Bath.

p Or, weights.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shall be of one measure, that the Bath may contain the tenth part of an Homer, and the Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the measure thereof shall be after the Homer.

12 And the [q] shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels shall be your Maneh.

q Or, weight.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer; the sixth part of an Ephah of an Homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an Ephah of an Homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of oyl, ye shall offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor, which is an Homer of ten Baths; for ten Baths are an Homer.

15 And one [r] lambe out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat pastures of Israel; for a meat offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord GOD.

r Or, sheep.

16 All the people of the land [s] shall give this oblation [t] for the Prince in Israel.

s Heb. shall be with him. t Heb. upon.

17 And it shall be the Princes part to give burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the Sabbaths, in all solemnities of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sinne offering, and the meat offering, and the burnt offering, and the [u] peace offerings, to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

u Or, thank.

18 Thus saith the Lord GOD, In the first moneth, in the first day of the moneth, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish, and cleanse the Sanctuary.

19 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the ledge of the Altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so thou shalt do the seventh day of the moneth, for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye reconcile the house.

21 In the first moneth, in the fourteenth day of the moneth, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven dayes; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 And upon that day shall the Prince prepare for himself, and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sinne offering.

23 And seven dayes of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, without blemish daily the first of the goats daily for a sin offering.

shall he prepare a meat offering of an ephah a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and of oil for an ephah.

25 In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, shall he do the like in the feast of the seven days, according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meat offering, and according to the oyl.

CHAP. XLVI.

A gate for the Prince to his worship, 9 and for the people. 16 An order for the Princes inheritance.

19 The courts for boiling and baking.

THus saith the Lord GOD, The gate of the inner court, that looketh toward the East, shall be shut the six working dayes: but on the Sabbath it shall be opened, and in the day of the new Moon it shall be opened.

2 And the Prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the Priests shall prepare his burnt offering, and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate: then he shall go forth, but the gate shall not be shut until the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the door of this gate before the LORD, in the Sabbaths and in the new Moons.

4 And the burnt offering that the Prince shall offer unto the LORD in the Sabbath day, shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 And the meat offering shall be an Ephah for a ram, and the meat offering for the lambs b as he shall be able to give, &c an Hin of oyl to an Ephah.

6 And in the day of the new Moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meat offering, an Ephah to a bullock, and an Ephah for a ram, and to the lambs, according as his hand shall attain unto, and an Hin of oyl to an Ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land shall come before the LORD in the solemn feasts, he that entereth in by the way of the North gate to worship shall go out by the way of the South gate: and he that entereth by the way of the South gate shall go forth by the way of the North gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth over against it.

10 And the Prince in the midst of them when they go in, shall go in, and when they go forth, shall go forth.

11 And in the feasts, and in the solemnities, the meat offering shall be an Ephah to a bullock, and an Ephah to a ram, and to the lambs, as he is able to give, and an Hin of oyl to an Ephah.

12 Now when the Prince shall prepare a voluntary burnt offering or peace offerings, voluntarily unto the LORD, one shall then open him the gate that looketh toward the East, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the Sabbath day, then he shall go forth, and one shall go forth after his going forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt daily prepare a burnt offering unto the LORD of a c the first year, without blemish: thou shalt prepare it d every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meat offering for him every morning, the sixth part of an Ephah, and the third part of an Hin of oyl, to temper with the fine flour, a meat offering continually, by a perpetual ordinance unto the LORD.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat offering, and the oyl, every morning for a continuall burnt offering.

16 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, If the Prince give a gift unto any of his sonnes, the inheritance thereof shall be his sonnes, it shall be their possession by inheritance:

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to the yeer of liberty: after, it shall return to the Prince, but his inheritance shall be his sonnes for them.

18 Moreover, the Prince shall not take of the peoples inheritance by oppression, to thrust them out of their possession: but he shall give his sonnes inheritance out of his own possession, that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 ¶ After, he brought me thorow the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the Priests, which looked toward the North: and behold, there was a place on the two sides Westward.

20 Then said he unto me, This is the place where the Priests shall boil the trespasse offering, and the sinne offering, where they shall bake the meat offering: that they bear them not out into the utter court, to sanctifie the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the utter court, and caused me to passe by the four corners of the court, and behold, e in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts f joyned of fourty cubits long, and thirty broad: these g four corners were of one measure.

23 And there was a new building round about in them, round about them four; and it was made with boiling places under the rowes round about.

24 Then said he unto me; These are the places of them that boil, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

CHAP. XLVII.

1 The vision of the holy waters: 6 The use of them. 13 The borders of the land: 22 The division of it by lot.

AFterward he brought me again unto the door of the house, and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house Eastward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the East, and the waters came down from under from the right side of the house, at the South side of the Altar.

2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate Northward, and led me about the way without unto the utter gate, by the way that looketh Eastward, and behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me thorow the waters: h the waters were to the ancles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me thorow the waters, the waters were to the knees: again he measured a thousand, and brought me thorow; the waters were to the loines.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, and it was a river that I could not passe over: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.

6 ¶ And he said unto me, Sonne of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the East country, and go down into the [c] desert, and go into the sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the waters shall be healed.

9 And it shall come to passe, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the [d] rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither; for they shall be healed, and every thing shall live whither the river cometh.

10 And it shall come to passe that the fishers shall stand upon it, from En-gedi even unto En-eglaim: they shall be a place to spread forth nets, their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many.

11 But the miry places thereof, and the marishes thereof, [e] shall not be healed, they shall be given to salt.

12 And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side, and on that side, [f] shall grow all trees for meat, whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof be consumed: it shall bring forth [g] new fruit according to his moneths, because their waters they issued out of the Sanctuary, and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof [h] for [i] medicine.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, This shall be the border whereby ye shall inherit the land, according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning the which I [k] lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers, and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land, toward the North side, from the great sea, the way of Hethlon, as men go to Zedad:

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus, & the border of Hamath: [m] Hazar Hatticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea shall be Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus, and the North Northward, and the border of Hamath: and this is the Northside.

18 And the East side ye shall measure from Hauran, and [n] from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Jordan, from the border unto the East sea: and this is the East side.

19 And the South side Southward from Tamar, even to the waters of [o] strife in Kadesh the [p] river, to the great sea, and this is the South side [q] Southward.

20 The West side also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come over against Hamath: this is the West side.

21 So shall ye divide this land unto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 ¶ And it shall come to passe, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you, and they shall be unto you as born in the country among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel.

23 And it shall come to passe, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1.29 The portions of the twelve tribes, 8 Of the Sanctuary, 15 Of the city and suburbs, 21 and of the Prince. 30 The dimensions and gates of the city.

NOw these are the names of the tribes. From the North end to the coast of Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus Northward, to the coast of Hamath (for these are his sides East and West) a portion for Dan.

1 And by the border of Dan, from the East side unto the West, a portion for Aser.

3 And by the border of Aser, from the East side even unto the West side, a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the East side unto the West side, a portion for Manasseh.

5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the East side unto the West side, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the East side even unto the West side, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the East side unto the West side, a portion for Judah.

8 ¶ And by the border of Judah, from the East side unto the West side, shall be the offering which they shall offer of five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length, as one of the other portions, from the East side unto the West side: and the Sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

9 The oblation that ye shall offer unto the LORD, shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth.

10 And for them, even for the Priests, shall be this holy oblation, toward the North five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the West ten thousand in breadth, and toward the East ten thousand in breadth, and toward the South five and twenty thousand in length, and the Sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst thereof.

11 It shall be [r] for the Priests that are sanctified of the sonnes of Zadok, which have kept my charge, which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered shall be unto them a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And over against the border of the Priests the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange nor alienate the first fruits of the land, for it is holy unto the LORD.

15 ¶ And the five thousand that are left in the breadth, over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be a profane place for the city, for dwelling, and for suburbs, and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof: the North side four thousand and five hundred, and the South side four thousand and five hundred, and on the East side four thousand and five hundred, and the West side four thousand and five hundred.

17 And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the North two hundred and fifty, and toward the South two hundred and fifty, and toward the East two hundred and fifty, and toward the West two hundred and fifty.

18 And the residue in length over against the oblation of the holy portion, shall be ten thousand Eastward, and ten thousand Westward, and it shall be over against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that serve the city.

shall be, The Lord is there.

¶ THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

CHAP. I.

Nebuchadnezzar captivateth the children of Israel, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. 8 They refusing the King's portion, do prosper with pulse and water. 17 They excel in wisdom.

IN the third year of the reign of a Jehoiakim King of Judah, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim King of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he carried into the land of Shinar, to the house of his god; and he brought the vessels into the treasure-house of his god.

3 ¶ And the King spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his Eunuchs, that he should bring certain of the children of Israel, and of the King's seed, and of the Princes;

4 Children in whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the King's palace, and whom they might teach the learning, and the tongue of the Caldeans.

5 And the King appointed them a daily provision of the King's meat, and of the wine which he drank: so nourishing them three years, that at the end thereof they might stand before the King.

6 Now among these were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:

7 Unto whom the prince of the Eunuchs gave names: for he gave unto Daniel the name of Belte-shazzar, and to Hananiah of Shadrach, and to Mishael of Meshach, and to Azariah of Abednego.

8 But Daniel purposed in his heart, that he would not defile himself with the portion of the King's meat, nor with the wine which he drank:
therefore he requested of the prince of the Eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

9 Now God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the Prince of the Eunuchs.

10 And the Prince of the Eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the King, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse liking than the children which are of your sort? then shall ye make me endanger my head to the King.

11 Then said Daniel to b Melzar, whom the Prince of the Eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananaiah, Mishael, and Azariah,

12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days, and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of the King's meat: and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days, their countenances appeared fairer, and fatter in flesh, than all the children which did eat the portion of the King's meat.

16 Thus Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them pulse.

17 ¶ As for these four children, God gave them knowledge, and skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

18 Now at the end of the days that the King had said he should bring them in, then brought the Prince of the Eunuchs them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the King communed with them; and among them all was found none like unto Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the King.

reign of king Cyrus.

CHAP. II.

A And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, wherewith his spirit was troubled, and his sleep brake from him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the Magicians, and the Astrologers, and the Sorcerers, and the Caldeans, for to shew the King his dreams: so they came and stood before the King.

3 And the King said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then spake the Caldeans to the King in Syriack, b O King, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.

5 The King answered, and said to the Caldeans, The thing is gone from me; if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill.

6 But if ye shew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts, and rewards, and great honour: therefore shew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered again, and said, Let the King tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation of it.

8 The King answered, and said, I know of certainty that ye would gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof.

10 The Caldeans answered before the King, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the King's matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that asked such things at any Magician, or Astrologer, or Caldean.

11 And it is a rare thing that the King requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the King, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the King was angry, and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

13 And the decree went forth, that the wise men should be slain, and they sought Daniel and his fellows to be slain.

14 Then Daniel c answered with counsel and wisdom to Arioch the d Captain of the King's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon:

15 He answered, and said to Arioch the King's captain, Why is the decree so hasty from the King? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

16 Then Daniel went in, and desired of the King that he would give him time, and that he would shew the King the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions:

18 That they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

19 Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a night vision. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the Name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his:

21 And he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding:

22 He revealeth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast made known unto me now what we desired of thee: for thou hast now made known unto us the King's matter.

24 Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the King had ordained to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him, Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the King, and I will shew unto the King the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the King in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the e Captives of Judah, that will make known unto the King the interpretation.

26 The King answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered before the King, and said, The secret which the King hath demanded, cannot the wise men, the Astrologers, the Magicians, the Soothsayers, shew unto the King;

28 But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and maketh known to the King Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these;

29 As for thee, O King, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets maketh known to thee what shall come to pass.

30 But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but for their sakes that shall make known the interpretation to the King, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart.

31 Thou, O King, sawest, and behold a great image. This great image, whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the form thereof was terrible.

32 This image's head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass, 33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

[illegible] this is the dream, and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the King.

37 Thou, O King, art a King of Kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdome, power, and strength, and glory.

38 And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art this head of gold.

39 And after thee shall arise another kingdome inferiour to thee, and another third kingdome of brasse, which shall beare rule over all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdome shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in pieces and bruise.

41 And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters clay, and part of iron: the kingdome shall be divided; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay; so the kingdome shall be partly strong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men: but they shall not cleave b one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

44 And in c the dayes of these Kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdome, d which shall never be destroyed: and the e kingdome shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdomes, and it shall stand for ever.

45 Forasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brasse, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the King what shall come to passe hereafter: and the dreame is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.

46 ¶ Then the King Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation, and sweet odours unto him.

47 The King answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of Kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret.

48 Then the King made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governours over all the wise men of Babylon.

49 Daniel also requested of the King, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the affaires of the province of Babylon: but Daniel sate in the gate of the King.

CHAP. III.

1 Nebuchadnezzar maketh an image of gold. 4 The decree for the worshipping the image. 8 They being accused to the King, 13 are brought before him. 16 Their answer. 19 They being cast into the fiery furnace, 24 are delivered by the Son of God.

1 NEbuchadnezzar the King made an image of gold, whose height was three score cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plaine of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the King sent to gather together the Princes, the Governours, and Captaines, the Iudges, the Treasurers, the Counsellers, the Sheriffes, and all the Rulers of the Provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the King had set up.

3 Then the Princes, the Governours, and Captaines, the Iudges, the Treasurers, the Counsellers, the Sheriffes, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the King had set up, and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then he that cryed a-loud, To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That at what time ye heare the sound of the Cornet, Flute, Harp, Sackbut, Psaltery, and Dulcimer, and all kinds of Musick, ye fall down, and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the King hath set up:

6 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, shall the same houre be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the Cornet, Flute, Harp, Sackbut, Psaltery, and all kinds of Musick, all the people, the nations, and the languages, fell downe and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the King had set up.

8 ¶ Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and accused the Jews.

9 They spake, and said to the King Nebuchadnezzar, O King, live for ever.

10 Thou, O King, hast made a decree, that every man that shall heare the sound of the Cornet, Flute, Harp, Sackbut, Psaltery, and Dulcimer, and all kinds of Musick, shall fall downe and worship the golden image:

11 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12 There are certain Jewes, whom thou hast set over the affaires of the Province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego; these men, O King, have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury, commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: then they brought these men before the King.

14 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said unto them, Is it true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, do not ye serve my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15 Now if ye be ready at what time ye heare the sound of the Cornet, Flute, Harp, Sackbut, Psaltery, and Dulcimer, and all kinds of Musick, ye fall downe, and worship the image which I have made; well: but if ye worship not, ye shall the same houre be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and who is that God that shall deliver you out of my hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered and said to the King, O Nebuchadnezzar, we are not carefull to answer thee in this matter.

17 If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O King.

18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O King, that ye will not serve my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15 ¶ Then was Nebuchad-nezzar [a] full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace one seven times more, than it was wont to be heat.

20 And he commanded the most [b] mighty men that were in his army, to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then these men were bound in their [c] coats, their hosen, and their [d] hats, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore because the King's [e] commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the [f] flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchad-nezzar the King was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his [g] Counsellers, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered, and said unto the King, True, O King.

25 He answered, and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and [h] they have no hurt; and the form of the fourth is like the Sonne of God.

26 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzar came near to the [i] mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spake, and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 And the Princes, Governours, and Captains, and the Kings Counsellers, being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power; nor was an hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Nebuchad-nezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who hath sent his Angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the King's word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve, nor worship any god, except their own God.

29 Therefore I make a Decree, That every people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amisse against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be [m] [n] cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill, because there is no other god that can deliver after this sort.

30 Then the King [o] promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar confesseth Gods kingdome. 4 maketh relation of his dreame, which the Magicians could not interpret. 8 Daniel heareth the dreame. 19 He interpreteth it. 28 The fury of it come.

NEbuchad-nezzar the King, unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied unto you.

2 [p] I thought it good to shew the signes & wonders that the high God hath wrought toward me.

3 How great are his signes? and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdome is [q] an everlasting kingdome, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 ¶ I Nebuchad-nezzar was [r] at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace.

5 I saw a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed, and the visions of my head troubled me.

6 Therefore made I a decree, that all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

7 Then came in the Magicians, the Astrologers, the Caldeans, and the Soothsayers: and I told the dream before them, but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.

8 ¶ But at the last Daniel came in before me, (whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my God, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods) and before him I told the dream, saying,

9 O Belteshazzar, [s] master of the Magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the visions of mine head in my bed: [t] I saw, and behold, a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

11 The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth.

12 The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh was fed of it.

13 I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and behold, a watcher, and an holy one, came down from heaven.

14 He cried [u] aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, & scatter his fruit: let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

15 Nevertheless, leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grasse of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grasse of the earth.

16 Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beasts heart be given unto him, and let seven times passe over him.

17 This matter is by the decree of the Watchers, and the demand by the word of the Holy Ones: to the intent that the living may know that the most High ruleth in the kingdome of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.

18 This dream I King Nebuchadnezzar have seen: Now thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdome are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 ¶ Then Daniel (whose name was Belteshazzar) was astonied for one houre, and his thoughts troubled him: The King spake, and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered, and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 The tree that thou sawest, which grew and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth;

21 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under of the field doubt, and their habitation of the heaven had their habitation; is thou, O King, that art grown, and strong: for thy greatneſſe is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

21 And whereas the King ſaw a watcher, and an holy One coming down from heaven, and ſaying, Hew the tree down, and deſtroy it; yet leave the ſtump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and braſſe in the tender graſſe of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beaſts of the field, till ſeven times paſſe over him:

22 This is the interpretation, O King, and this is the decree of the moſt High, which is come upon my lord the King:

23 That they ſhall [g] drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field, and they ſhall make thee to eat graſſe as oxen, and they ſhall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and ſeven times ſhall paſſe over thee, till thou know that the moſt High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

24 And whereas they commanded to leave the ſtump of the tree-roots; thy kingdome ſhall be ſure unto thee, after that thou ſhalt have known that the heavens do rule.

25 Wherefore, O King, let my counſell be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy ſinnes by righteouſneſſe, and thine iniquities by ſhewing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

26 ¶ All this came upon the King Nebuchadnezzar.

27 At the end of twelve moneths he walked in the palace of the kingdome of Babylon.

28 The King ſpake and ſaid, Is not this great Babylon, that I have built for the houſe of the kingdome, by the might of my power, and for the honour of my maieſtie?

29 While the word was in the Kings mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, ſaying, O King Nebuchad-nezzar, to thee it is ſpoken, The kingdome is departed from thee.

30 And they ſhall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field: they ſhall make thee to eat graſſe as oxen, and ſeven times ſhall paſſe over thee, untill thou know that the moſt High ruleth in the kingdome of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

31 The ſame hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchad-nezzar, & he was driven from men, and did eat graſſe as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his haires were grown like Eagles feathers, and his nails like birds clawes.

32 And at the end of the dayes, I Nebuchadnezzar lift up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine underſtanding returned unto me, and I bleſſed the moſt High, and I praiſed and honoured him that liveth for ever, whoſe dominion [h] d an everlaſting dominion, and his kingdome is from generation to generation.

33 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doth according to his will in the armie of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can ſtay his hand, or ſay unto him, What doeſt thou?

34 At the ſame time my reaſon returned unto me, and for the glory of my kingdome, mine honour and brightneſſe returned unto me, and my counſellers and my lords ſought unto me, and I was eſtabliſhed in my kingdome, and excellent majeſtie was added unto me.

35 Now I Nebuchad-nezzar praiſe, and extol and honour the King of heaven, all whoſe works are truth, and his wayes judgement: and thoſe that walk in pride he is able to abaſe.

CHAP. V.

1 Belſhazzar in ſcornfull ſort, 5 A hand writing unknown to the Magitians, troubleth the King. 10 At the commendation of the Queen Daniel is brought.
17 He reproving the King of pride and idolatry, 25 readeth and interpreteth the writing. 30 The Monarchie is tranſlated to the Medes.

BElſhazzar the King made a great feaſt to a thouſand of his lords, and drank wine before the thouſand.

2 Belſhazzar, whiles he taſted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and ſilver veſſels, which his father Nebuchad-nezzar had taken out of the [i] temple which was in Jeruſalem, that the King and his Princes, his wives and his con-cubines might drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden veſſels that were taken out of the Temple of the houſe of God, which was at Jeruſalem, and the King and his Princes, his wives and his concubines drank in them.

4 They drank wine, and praiſed the gods of gold, and of ſilver, of braſſe, of iron, of wood, and of ſtone.

5 ¶ In the ſame hour came forth fingers of a mans hand, and wrote over againſt the candleſtick upon the plaiſter of the wall of the Kings palace, and the King ſaw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the Kings [k] countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, ſo that the [l] joynts of his loines were looſed, and his knees ſmote one againſt another.

7 The king cried [k] aloud to bring in the aſtro-logers, the Caldeans, and the Southſayers: and the King ſpake, and ſaid to the wiſe men of Babylon, Whoſoever ſhall read this writing, and ſhew me the interpretation thereof, ſhall be clothed with [l] ſcarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and ſhall be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Then came in all the Kings wiſe men, but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the King the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was King Belſhazzar greatly troubled, and his [m] countenance was changed in him, and his lords were aſtonied.

10 ¶ Now the Queen, by reaſon of the words of the King and his lords, came into the banquet-houſe, and the Queen ſpake, and ſaid, O King, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 [n] There is a man in thy kingdome, in whom is the Spirit of the holy gods; and in the dayes of thy [o] father light and underſtanding and wiſdome like the wiſdome of the gods, was found in him, whom the king Nebuchad-nezzar thy father, the King, I ſay, thy father, made [q] maſter of the magicians, Aſtrologers, Caldeans, and Southſayers;

12 Foraſmuch as an excellent ſpirit, and knowledge, & underſtanding, [r] interpreting of dreames, and ſhewing of hard ſentences, and [s] diſſolving of doubts were found in the ſame Daniel, whom the King named Belteſhazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will ſhew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the King, and the King ſpake and ſaid unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Jewry?

14 I have even heard of thee, that the ſpirit of the gods is in thee, and light, and underſtanding, and excellent wiſdome is found in thee.

15 Now

16. And I have heard of thee, that thou canst make interpretations, & dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, & make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 ¶ Then Daniel answered, and said before the King, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another, yet I will read the writing unto the King, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou King, the most high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdome, and majesty, and glory, and honour.

19 And for the majesty that he gave him, all people, nations, and languages trembled, and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive, and whom he would he set up, and whom he would he put down.

20 But when his heart was lifted up, & his mind hardened in pride: he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him:

21 And he was driven from the sonnes of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wilde asses: they fed him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdome of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he will.

22 And thou his sonne, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this:

23 But thou hast lifted up thy self against the Lord of heaven, and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines have drunk wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brasse, iron, wood and stone, which see not, nor heare, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy wayes, hast thou not glorified.

24 Then was the part of the hand sent from him, and this writing was written.

25 ¶ And this is the writing that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL UPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing, MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and finished it.

27 TEKEL, thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.

28 PERES, thy kingdome is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then commanded Belshazzar & they clothed Daniel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, & made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 That night was Belshazzar the King of the Caldeans slain.

31 And Darius the Median took the kingdome, being about threescore and two yeers old.

CHAP. VI.

1 Daniel is made chief of the Presidents. 4 They conspire against him, and intend to entrap him. 10 Daniel notwithstanding of the interdict of, praieth into his house. 18 Daniel is found. 24 His adversaries devoured, 25 and God magnified by a decree.

IT pleased Darius to set over the kingdome an hundred and twenty Princes, which should be over the whole kingdome.

2 And over them three Presidents (of whom Daniel was first) that the Princes might give accounts unto them, and the King should have no damage.

3 Then this Daniel was preferred above the Presidents and Princes, because an excellent spirit was in him, and the King thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 ¶ Then the Presidents and Princes sought to find occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdome, but they could finde none occasion nor fault: forasmuch as he was faithfull, neither was there any errour or fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.

6 Then these Presidents and Princes assembled together to the King, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever.

7 All the Presidents of the kingdome, the governours, and the Princes, the Counsellers, and the Captains have consulted together to establish a royall Statute, and to make a firm decree, that whosoever shall aske a petition of any god or man for thirty dayes, save of thee, O King, he shall be cast into the den of Lions.

8 Now O King, establish the decree, and subscribe the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore King Darius signed the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house, and his windowes being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did afore time.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying and making supplication before his God.

12 Then they came neer, and spake before the King concerning the Kings decree, Hast not thou signed a decree, that every man that shall aske a petition of any god or man, within thirty dayes save of thee, O King, shall be cast into the den of Lions? The King answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and said before the King, That Daniel which is of the captive children of Judah, regardeth not thee, O King, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the King, when he heard these things, was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the Sunne to rid him.

15 Then these men assembled unto the King, and said unto the King, Know, O King, that the lawe of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the King establisheth, may be changed.

16 Then the King commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of Lions. The King spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.

17 And a stone was brought and laid upon the mouth of the den, and the King sealed it with his own signet, & with the signet of his lords, that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.

18 ¶ Then the King went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither were instruments of musick brought before him, and his sleep went from him.

19 Then the King arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the 17 Then said Daniel unto the King, O King, live ...

...ever.

18 My God hath sent his Angel, and hath shut ...
...the lions mouths, that they have not hurt me: for ...
...as much as before him innocency was found in me: ...
...and also before thee, O King, have I done no hurt.

19 Then was the King exceeding glad for him, ...
...and commanded that they should take Daniel up ...
...out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the ...
...den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, ...
...because he believed in his God.

20 ¶ And the king commanded, and they brought ...
...those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast ...
...them into the den of Lions, them, their children, ...
...and their wives: and the Lions had the mastery of ...
...them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever ...

21 ¶ Then King Darius wrote unto all people, ...

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Da...

CHAP. VII.

1 Daniel writeth of four beasts. 9 Of Gods kingdome.
15 The interpretation thereof.

IN the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, ...
...Daniel [d] had a dream, and visions of his head ...
...upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told ...
...the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake, and said, I saw in my vision by ...
...night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven ...
...strove upon the great sea.

3 And four great beasts came up from the sea, ...
...diverse from another.

4 The first was like a Lion, and had Eagles ...
...wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were ...
...plucked, [e] and it was lifted up from the earth, and ...
...made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's ...
...heart was given to it.

5 And behold, another beast, a second like to a ...
...Bear, and [f] it raised up it self on one side, and it ...
...had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth ...
...of it, and they said thus unto it; Arise, devour ...
...much flesh.

6 After this I beheld, and lo, another like a ...
...Leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings ...
...of a fowl; the beast had also four heads, and dom...
...inion was given to it.

7 After this I saw in the night visions, and be...
...hold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and ...
...strong exceedingly, and it had great iron teeth: it ...
...devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the re...
...sidue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all ...
...the beasts that were before it, and it had ten horns.

8 I considered the horns, and behold, there ...
...came up among them another little horn, before ...
...whom there were three of the first horns plucked up ...
...by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes ...
...like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great ...
...things.

9 ¶ I beheld till the thrones were cast down, ...
...and the ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was ...
...white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure ...
...wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his ...
...wheels as burning fire.

10 A fiery stream issued and came forth from ...
...before him: [h] thousand thousands ministred unto ...
...him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood be...
...fore him: the judgment was set, and the [i] books ...
...were opened.

11 I beheld then, because of the voice of the ...
...great words which the horn spake: I beheld, even ...
...till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and ...
...given to the burning flame.

12 As concerning the rest of the beasts, they had ...
...their dominion taken away: yet [k] their lives were ...
...prolonged for a season and time.

13 I saw in the night visions, and behold, one like ...
...the Sonne of man, came with the clouds of heaven, ...
...and came to the ancient of dayes, and they brought ...
...him near before him.

14 And there was given him dominion, and glo...
...ry, and a kingdome, that all people, nations, and ...
...languages should serve him: his dominion is [l] an ...
...everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, ...
...and his kingdom that, which shall not be destroyed.

15 ¶ I Daniel was grieved in my spirit, in the ...
...midst of [m] my body, and the visions of my head ...
...troubled me.

16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, ...
...and asked him the truth of all this: so he told me, ...
...& made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 These great beasts which are four, are four ...
...Kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But the Saints of the [n] most High shall take ...
...the kingdome, and possesse the kingdome for ever, ...
...even for ever and ever.

19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth ...
...beast, which was divers [o] from all the others, ex...
...ceeding dreadfull, whose teeth were of Iron, and ...
...his nailes of brasse; which devoured, brake in pieces, ...
...and stamped the residue with his feet;

20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, ...
...and of the other which came up, and before whom ...
...three fell, even of that horn that had eyes, and a ...
...mouth that spake very great things, whose look ...
...was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same horn made warre with ...
...the Saints, and prevailed against them;

22 Until the ancient of dayes came, and judge...
...ment was given to the Saints of the most High: ...
...and the time came that the Saints possessed the ...
...kingdome.

23 Thus he said; The fourth beast shall be the ...
...fourth kingdome upon earth, which shall be diver...
...ers from all kingdomes, and shall devour the ...
...whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it ...
...in pieces.

24 And the ten horns out of this kingdome are ...
...ten Kings that shall arise: and another shall rise ...
...after them, and he shall be diverse from the first, and ...
...he shall subdue three Kings.

25 And he shall speak great words against the ...
...most High, and shall wear out the Saints of the ...
...most High, and think to change times and laws: ...
...and they shall be given into his hand, until a time ...
...and times, and the dividing of time.

26 But the judgement shall sit, and they shall ...
...take away his dominion, to consume, and to de...
...stroy it unto the end.

27 And the [p] kingdome, and dominion, and the ...
...greatness of the kingdom under the whole shall be given to the people of the ſaints of the moſt High, whoſe kingdome is an everlaſting kingdome, and all [a] dominions ſhall ſerve and obey him.

28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

a Or, powers.

CHAP. VIII.

Daniels viſion of the Ram and he-Goat. 13 The two thouſand and three hundred dales of ſacrifice. 15 Gabriel conſoleth Daniel, and interpreteth the viſion.

IN the third yeer of the reigne of King Belſhazzar, a viſion appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the firſt.

2 And I ſaw in a viſion (and it came to paſſe, when I ſaw, that I was at Shuſhan in the palace, which is in the province of Elam) and I ſaw in a viſion, and I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I lifted up mine eies, and ſaw, and behold, there ſtood before the river a ram which had two horns, and the two horns were high: but one was higher then [b] the other, and the higher came up laſt.

b Heb. the ſtrong.

4 I ſaw the ram puſhing weſtward, and northward, and ſouthward: ſo that no beaſts might ſtand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand, but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was conſidering, behold an he-goat came from the weſt on the face of the whole earth, and [c] touched not the ground: and the goat had [d] a notable horn between his eies.

c Or, was not touched in the earth. d Heb. glory.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had ſeen ſtanding before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I ſaw him come cloſe unto the ram, and he was moved with choler againſt him, and ſmote the ram, and brake his two horns, and there was no power in the ram to ſtand before him, but he caſt him down to the ground, and ſtamped upon him, and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8 Therefore the hee goat waxed very great, and when he was ſtrong, the great horn was broken: and for it came up four notable ones, [e] toward the four winds of heaven.

e Or, the four winds of the heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the South, and toward the eaſt, and toward the [f] pleaſant land.

f Or, glorious.

10 And it waxed great, even [g] to the hoſt of heaven, and it caſt down ſome of the hoſt, and of the ſtars to the ground, and ſtamped upon them.

g Or, againſt.

11 Yea he magnified himſelf even [h] to the Prince of the hoſt, and [i] by him the daily ſacrifice was taken away, and the place of his ſanctuary was caſt down.

h Or, againſt. i Or, from him.

12 And [k] an hoſte was given him againſt the daily ſacrifice, by reaſon of tranſgreſſion, and it caſt down the truth to the ground, and it practiſed, and proſpered.

k Or, the hoſt ſhall be given with the daily ſacrifice by reaſon of tranſgreſſion.

13 ¶ Then I heard one Saint ſpeaking, and another Saint ſaid unto [l] that certain Saint which ſpake, How long ſhall be the viſion concerning the daily ſacrifice, and the tranſgreſſion [m] of deſolation, to give both the Sanctuary and the hoſte to be trodden under foot?

l Heb. to N. m Or, making deſolate.

14 And he ſaid unto me, Unto two thouſand and three hundred [n] dales: then ſhall the Sanctuary be [o] cleanſed.

n Heb. evenings, mornings. o Heb. juſtified.

15 ¶ And it came to paſſe when I, even I Daniel, had ſeen the viſion, and ſought for the meaning, then behold, there ſtood before me as the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voice between the [p] of Ulai, which called and ſaid, Gabriel, make this man to underſtand the viſion.

p Or, waters

17 So he came neer where I ſtood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he ſaid unto me, Underſtand, O Sonne of man: for the time of the end ſhall be the viſion.

18 Now as he was ſpeaking with me, I was in a deep ſleep on my face toward the ground, but he touched me, and [q] ſet me upright.

q Heb. made me ſtand.

19 And he ſaid, Behold, I will make thee know what ſhall be in the laſt end of the indignation: for at the time appointed the end ſhall be.

20 The ramme which thou ſaweſt having two horns, are the Kings of Media and Perſia.

21 And the rough goat is the King of Grecia: and the great horn that is between his eies, is the firſt King.

22 Now that being broken, whereas four ſtood up for it, four kingdomes ſhall ſtand up out of the nation, but not in his power.

23 And in the latter time of their kingdome, when the tranſgreſſors [r] are come to the full, a King of fierce countenance, and underſtanding dark ſentences, ſhall ſtand up.

r Or, have finiſhed.

24 And his power ſhall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he ſhall deſtroy wonderfully, and ſhall proſper and practiſe, and ſhall deſtroy the mighty and the [s] holy people.

s Heb. people of holy ones.

25 And through his policy alſo he ſhall cauſe craft to proſper in his hand, and he ſhall magnify himſelf in his heart, and by [t] peace ſhall deſtroy many: he ſhall alſo ſtand up againſt the Prince of Princes, but he ſhall be [u] broken without hand.

t Heb. quietneſs. u Or, ſhall be broken.

26 And the viſion of the evening and the morning, which was told, is true: wherefore ſhut thou up the viſion, for it ſhall be for many dales.

27 And I Daniel fainted, and was ſick certain dales: afterward I roſe up, and did the Kings buſineſſe, and I was aſtonished at the viſion, but none underſtood it.

CHAP. IX.

1 Daniel conſidering the time of the captivity, 3 maketh confeſſion of ſinne, 16 and prayeth for the reſtauration of Jeruſalem. 20 Gabriel informeth him of the ſeventy weeks.

IN the firſt yeer of Darius the ſonne of Aſhaſuerus, of the ſeed of the Medes, [x] which was made King over the realm of the Caldeans, x Heb. who was made.

2 In the firſt yeer of his reign, I Daniel underſtood by books the number of the yeers, whereof the word of the LORD came to [y] Jeremiah the Prophet, that he would accompliſh ſeventy yeers in the deſolations of Jeruſalem.

y Or, by the hand of Jeremiah.

3 ¶ And I ſet my face unto the Lord God, to ſeek by prayer and ſupplications, with faſting, and ſackcloth, and aſhes.

4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made my confeſſion, and ſaid, O [z] Lord, the great and dreadfull God, keeping the Covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his Commandements:

z Heb. Adonai.

5 [a] We have ſinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy Precepts, and from thy Judgements.

a Or, We have ſinned, we have committed iniquity.

6 Neither have we hearkened unto thy Servants the Prophets, which ſpake in thy Name to our Kings, our Princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteouſneſſe [b] belongeth b Heb. is.

confusion of faces, as at this day: to [illegible] and to the inhabitants of Jeru-[illegible] and all Israel that are near, and that [illegible] are dispersed all the countreys, whither [illegible] hast driven them, because of their trespass, that they have trespassed against thee.

8 O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our Kings, to our Princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 To the Lord our God belong mercies and for-givenesses, though we have rebelled against him.

10 Neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his Laws, which he set before us, by his servants the Prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy Law, even by departing, that they might not obey thy voice; therefore the curse is powred upon us, and the oath that is written in the [b] Law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words which he spake against us, and against our Judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evill: for under the whole heaven hath not been done, as hath been done upon Jerusalem.

13 As [c] it is written in the Law of Moses, all this evill is come upon us: yet [d] made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord watched upon the evill, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works, which he doth:
for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now O Lord our God, that hast [e] brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast [f] gotten thee renown, as at this day, we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 ¶ O Lord, according to all thy righteous-nesse, I beseech thee, let thine anger, and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sinnes, and for the ini-quities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy Sanctuary that is desolate for the Lords sake.

18 O my God, encline thine ear, and hear: open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy Name: for we do not [g] present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord hear; O Lord forgive, O Lord hearken and do; deferre not for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city, and thy people are called by thy Name.

20 ¶ And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sinne, and the sinne of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the Lord my God, for the holy mountain of my God;

21 Yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to flie [h] swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth [i] to give thee skill and understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandement came forth, and I am come to shew it thee, for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter, and consider the vision.

24 Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to [k] make an end of sinnes, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousnesse, and to seal up the vision and [l] prophecy, and to anoint the most Holy.

25 Know therefore and understand, that from the going forth of the commandement to enforce and to build Jerusalem, unto the Messiah the Prince, shall be seven weeks; and threescore and two weeks the street [m] shall be built again, and the [n] wall, even in [o] troublous times.

26 And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, [p] but not for himself; and the people of the Prince that shall come, shall destroy the city, and the Sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the warre [q] desolations are determined.

27 And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice & the oblation to cease, & [r] for shall be the overspreading of [s] abominations he shall make it desolate, even untill the consummation, and that determined, shall be powred upon the desolate.

CHAP. X.

1 Daniel hearing humbled himself, seeth a vision.
10 Being troubled with fear, he is comforted by the Angel.

IN the third yeer of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was revealed unto Daniel (whose name was called Belteshazzar) and the thing was true, but the time appointed was [a] long, and he understood the thing, & had understanding of the vision.

2 In those dayes, I Daniel was mourning three [b] full weeks.

3 I ate no [c] pleasant bread, neither came flesh, nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint my self at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first moneth, as I was by the side of the great river, which is [d] Hiddekel:

5 Then I lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, [e] a certain man clothed in linen, whose loins were [f] girded with fine gold of Uphaz.

6 His body also was like the [g] beryll, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his armes and his feet like in colour to polished braſſe, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision for the men that were with me, saw not the vision: but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my [h] comlinesse was turned in me into coruption, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

10 ¶ And behold, an hand [illegible] which I set me upon my knees, and upon the palmes of my hands.

11 And he said unto me, O [illegible], [k] a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent: and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst [illegible] understand, and to chasten thy self before thy God, thy words were heard: & I am come for thy 19 He the Prince of the Kingdome of Persia withstood me one and twenty dayes: but lo, Michael one of the chief Princes came to help me; and I remained there with the King of Persia.

20 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter dayes: for yet the vision is for many dayes.

21 And when he had spoken such words unto me, I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumbe.

22 And behold, one like the similitude of the sonnes of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my Lord, by the vision my sorrowes are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

23 For how can the servant of this my Lord, talk with this my Lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

24 Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me;

25 And said: O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong; and when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my Lord speak, for thou hast strengthened me.

26 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? And now will I return to fight with the Prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the Prince of Grecia shall come.

27 But I will shew thee that which is noted in the Scripture of truth; and there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your Prince.

CHAP. XI.

1 The overthrow of Persia by the King of Grecia. 5 Dangers and conflicts between the Kings of the South, and of the North. 30 The persecution and tyranny of his Romans.

ALso I, in the first yeer of Darius the Mede, even I stood to confirm & to strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three Kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be farre richer then they all: and by his strength through his riches he shall stirre up all against the realm of Grecia.

3 And a mighty King shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.

4 And when he shall stand up, his Kingdome shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four windes of heaven, and not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdome shall be plucked up, even for others beside those.

5 ¶ And the King of the South shall be strong, and one of his Princes, and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of yeers they shall joyne themselves together; for the King's daughter of the South shall come to the King of the North to make an agreement, but she shall not retain the power of the arme, neither shall he stand, nor his arme: but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in those times.

7 But out of a branch of her roots shall one stand up in his estate, which shall come with an armie, and shall enter into the fortresse of the King of the North, and shall deal against them, and shall

8 And shall also carry captive into Egypt their gods with their princes, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold; and he shall continue more yeers than the King of the North.

9 So the King of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shall return into his own land.

10 But his sonnes shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and one shall certainly come, and overflow, and pass through: then shall he return, and be stirred up even to his fortresse.

11 And the King of the South shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the King of the North: and he shall set forth a great multitude; but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up; and he shall cast down many ten thousands: but he shall not be strengthened by it.

13 For the King of the North shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come after certain yeers with a great army, and with much riches.

14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the King of the South: also the robbers of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision; but they shall fall.

15 So the King of the North shall come, and cast up a mount, and take the most fenced cities: and the arms of the South shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that cometh against him, shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the glorious land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 He shall also set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdome, and upright ones with him: thus shall he do: and he shall give him the daughter of women to corrupt her: but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the Iles, and shall take many: but a Prince for his own behalf shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease; without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon him.

19 Then he shall turn his face toward the fortresse of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.

20 Then shall stand up in his estate a raiser of taxes in the glory of the kingdome: but within few dayes he shall be destroyed, neither openly nor in battell.

21 And in his estate shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdome: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdome by flatteries.

22 And with the armes of a flood shall they be overflowen from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the Prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully, for he shall come up, and become strong with a small people.

24 He shall enter peaceably even upon the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his forefathers; he shall scatter among them the prey, and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.

25 And he shall stirre up his power and his courage against the King of 43 He shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.

44 But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him: he shall go forth with great fury to destroy, and utterly to make away many.

45 And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace between the seas in the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

CHAP. XII.

1 Michael shall defend God's people. 2 Daniel is informed of the time. 5 Of what time the end shall be. 9, 10 The words are closed up and sealed, till the time appointed. 11, 12 Blessed is he that waiteth.

AND at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

2 And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.

3 And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever.

4 But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the bank of the river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river.

6 And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and an half; and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

10 Many shall be purified, and made white, and tried; but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days.

¶ HOSEA.

CHAP. I.

1 Hosea, to shew Gods judgement for spiritual whoredome, taketh Gomer; 4 and hath by her Jezreel, 6 Lo-ruhamah, 8 and Lo-ammi. 10 The restauration of Judah and Israel.

THe word of the LORD that came unto Hosea, the sonne of Beeri, in the dayes of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Kings of Judah, and in the dayes of Jeroboam the sonne of Joash King of Israel.

2 The beginning of the word of the LORD by Hosea: and the LORD said to Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredomes, and children of whoredomes: for the land hath committed great whoredome, departing from the LORD.

3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived and bare him a sonne.

4 And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will [q] avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdome of the house of Israel.

5 And it shall come to passe at that day, that I will break the bowe of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

6 ¶ And she conceived again and bare a daughter; and God said unto him, Call her name [b] Lo-ruhamah: for [c] I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel; [d] but I will utterly take them away.

7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bowe, nor by sword, nor by battell, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 ¶ Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived and bare a sonne.

9 Then said God, Call his name [e] Lo-ammi: for [f] ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

10 ¶ Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured, nor numbred; [g] and it shall come to passe, that [g] in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sonnes of the living God.

11 Then shall the children of Judah, and the children of Israel be [h] gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land; for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

CHAP. II.

1 The idolatry of the people. 6 Gods judgements against them. 14 The promises of reconciliation with them.

SAy ye unto your brethren, [i] Ammi, and to your sisters, [k] Ruhamah:

2 Plead with your mother, plead: for [l] she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredomes out of her sight, and her adulteries from betweene [m] her breasts;

3 Lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was [n] borne, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, & slay her with thirst.

4 And I will not have mercy upon her children, for they be the children of whoredomes.

5 For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my woll and my flax, mine oil and my drink.

6 ¶ Therefore behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and [p] make a wall, that she shall not finde her paths.

7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them, and she shall seek them, but shall not finde them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband, for then was it better with me then now.

8 For she did not know that I gave her corne, and [q] wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, [r] which they prepared for Baal.

9 Therefore will I return, and take away my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will [s] recover my wooll and my flax given to cover her nakednesse.

10 And now will I discover her [t] lewdnesse in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast dayes, her new Moons, and her Sabbaths, and all her solemne feasts.

12 And I will [u] destroy her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forrest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

13 And I will visit upon her the dayes of Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to them, and she decked her self with her ear-rings, and her jewels, and she went after her lovers, and forgate me, saith the LORD.

14 ¶ Therefore behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wildernesse, and speak comfortably unto her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for a dore of hope, and she shall sing there, as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16 And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me [w] Ishi, and shalt call me no more [x] Baali.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembred by their name.

18 And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow and the sword, and the battell out of the earth, and will make them to lie down safely.

19 And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousnesse, and in judgement, and in loving kindnesse, and in mercies.

20 I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulnesse, and thou shalt know the LORD.

21 And it shall come to passe in that day, I will heare, saith the LORD, I will heare the heavens, and they shall heare the earth.

22 And the earth shall heare the corne, and the wine, and the oile, and they shall heare Jezreel.

23 And I will sow her unto me in the earth, and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy, and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

CHAP. III.

The similitude of an adulteress. 4 It shewed the state of Israel before their reformation.

1 Then said the LORD unto me, Go yet, love a woman (beloved of her friend, yet an adulteress) according to the love of the LORD toward the children of Israel, who look to other gods, and love [a] flagons of wine.

2 So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and for an homer of barley, and an [b] half homer of barley.

3 And I said unto her, Thou shalt [c] abide for me many days, thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be for another man, so will I also be for thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall abide many days without a King, and without a Prince, and without a sacrifice, and without [d] an image, and without an Ephod, and without Teraphim.

5 Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, [e] and David their King, and shall fear the LORD, and his goodness in the [f] latter days.

CHAP. IIII.

Gods judgments against the sinners of the people, 6 and the Priests, 12 and against their idolatry. 15 Judah is exhorted to take warning by Israels apostasy.

1 Hear the word of the LORD, ye children of Israel: for the LORD hath a [g] controversie with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and blood toucheth [h] blood.

3 Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away.

4 Yet let no man strive, nor reprove another: for thy people are as they that strive with the priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day, and the prophet also shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy mother.

6 My people are [h] destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will reject thee, that thou shalt be no Priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me: therefore will I change their glory into shame.

8 They eat up the sins of my people, and they set their heart on their iniquity.

9 And there shall be like people, like [m] Priest: and I will punish them for their ways, and reward them their doings.

10 For they shall eat, and not have enough: they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase, because they have left off to take heed to the LORD.

11 Whoredom, and wine, and new wine take away the heart.

12 My people ask counsel at their stocks, and their staff declareth unto them: for the spirit of whoredoms hath caused them to err, and they have played the whore from under their God.

13 They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills under oaks, and elms, and [i] turpentine trees, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall commit whoredom, and your spouses shall commit adultery.

14 I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your spouses when they commit adultery: for themselves are separated with whores, and they sacrifice with [k] harlots: therefore the people that doth not understand, [l] shall fall.

15 ¶ Though thou Israel play the harlot, yet let not Judah offend, and come not ye unto Gilgal, neither go ye up to [m] Beth-aven, nor swear, The LORD liveth?

16 For Israel slideth back, as a back-sliding heifer: now the LORD will feed them as a lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim is [n] joyned to idols: let him alone.

18 Their drink [o] is sowre: they have committed whoredome continually: her [p] rulers with shame do love, Give ye.

19 The wind hath bound her up in her wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

CHAP. V.

1 Gods judgements against the Priests, the people, and the Princes of Israel, for their manifold sinnes, 13 until they repent.

1 Hear ye this, O Priests, and hearken, ye house of Israel, and give ye ear, O house of the king: for judgement is toward you, because ye have been a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.

2 And the revolters are profound to make slaughter, [q] though I have been [r] a rebuker of them all.

3 I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou committest whoredome, and Israel is defiled.

4 [s] They will not frame [t] their doings to turn unto their God: for the spirit of whoredoms is in the midst of them, and they have not known the LORD.

5 And the pride of Israel doth testifie to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity: Judah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD: but they shall not find him, he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have dealt treacherously against the LORD: for they have begotten strange children, now shall a moneth devour them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: cry aloud at Beth-aven: after thee, O Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be.

10 The Princes of Judah were like them that remove the bound: therefore I will powre out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in judgement: because he willingly walked after the commandment.

12 Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Judah as rottenness.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, [u] and Judah saw his wound: then went Ephraim to the Assyrian, and sent to king Jareb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah: I, even I, will tear and go away: I will take away, and none shall rescue him.

15 ¶ I will go and return to my place, [x] till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me early.

2 After two dayes will he revive us, in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.

3 Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain; as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

4 ¶ O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your b goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I hewed them by the Prophets: I have slain them by the words of my mouth, c and thy judgements are as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired d mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

7 But they e like men have transgressed the Covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity, and is f polluted with blood.

9 And as troupes of robbers wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way g by consent: for they commit h lewdness.

10 I have seen an horrible thing in the house of Israel: there is the whoredome of Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11 Also, O Judah, he hath set an harvest for thee, when I returned the captivity of my people.

CHAP. VII.

1 A reproof of manifold sinnes. 11 God's wrath against them for their hypocrisie.

WHen I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was discovered, and the i wickedness of Samaria: for they commit falshood; and the thief cometh in, and the troup of robbers k spoileth without.

2 And they l consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickedness: now their own doings have beset them about, they are before my face.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the Princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, as an oven heated by the baker; I who ceaseth m from raising, after he hath made the dough, until it be leavened.

5 In the day of our King, the Princes have made him sick n with bottles of wine, he stretched out his hand with scorners.

6 For they have o made ready their heart like an oven, while they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night, in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and have devoured their judges; all their kings are fallen, there is none among them that calleth unto me.

8 Ephraim, he hath mixed himself among the people, Ephraim is a cake not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray haires are p here and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.

10 And the q pride of Israel testifieth to his face, and they do not return to the LORD their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 ¶ Ephraim also is like a silly dove, without heart: they call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.

12 When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them, I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven; I will chastise them as their congregation hath heard.

13 Woe unto them, for they have fled from me: destruction unto them, because they have transgressed against me: though I have redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 And they have not cried unto me with their heart, when they howled upon their beds: they assemble themselves for corn and wine, they rebell against me.

15 Though I have bound, and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me.

16 They return, but not to the most High: they are like a deceitfull bowe: their Princes shall fall by the sword, for the r rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

CHAP. VIII.

1, 12 Destruction is threatned for their hypocrisie and idolatry.

SET the trumpet to s thy mouth: he shall come as an Eagle against the house of the LORD, because they have transgressed my Covenant, and trespassed against my Law.

2 Israel shall cry unto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemie shall persue him.

4 They have set up Kings, but not by me: they have made Princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off.

5 ¶ Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast thee off; mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocency?

6 For from Israel was it also: the workman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they have sown the winde, and they shall reap the whirl-winde: it hath no stalk: the bud shall yield no meal: if so be it yield, the strangers shall swallow it up.

8 Israel is swallowed up, now shall they be among the Gentiles, as a vessell wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone up to Assyria, like a wilde asse alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired lovers.

10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall sorrow a little for the burden of the King of Princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sinne, altars shall be unto him to sinne.

12 I have written to him the great things of my Law, but they were counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; but the LORD accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sinnes: they shall return to Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and hath builded Temples; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

CHAP. IX.

The sinfulness and ugliness of Israel, for idolatry.

REJOYCE not, O Israel, for joy as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved a reward upon every corn floor.

2 The floor and the wine-presse shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in the LORD's land; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean things in Assyria.

4 They shall not offer wine offerings to the LORD: neither shall they please him with their sacrifices: their bread shall be unto them as the bread of mourners: all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread for their soul shall not come into the house of the LORD.

...they are gone because of [a] destruction: Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: [b] the pleasant places for their silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come, Israel shall know it: the prophet is a fool, [c] the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The watchman of Ephraim was with my God: but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred [d] in the house of his God.

9 They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of [e] Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the figtree at her first time: but they went to [f] Baal-Peor, and separated themselves unto that shame, and their abominations were according as they loved.

11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird: from the birth, and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, that [g] not a man left: yea, woe also to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I saw Tyrus, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them a miscarrying womb, and dry breasts.

15 All their wickedness [h] is in Gilgal: for there I hated them; for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: all their Princes are revolters.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even the beloved fruit of their womb.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

CHAP. X.

Israel's ungratefulness and threatened for their impiety and idolatry.

1 Israel [a] is an empty vine, he bringeth forth fruit unto himself: according to the multitude of his fruit, he hath increased the altars, according to the goodness of his land, they have made goodly images.

2 [b] Their heart is divided: now shall they be found faulty: he shall [c] break down their altars: he shall spoil their images.

3 For (now they shall say) we have no King, because we feared not the LORD, what then should a King do to us?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsly in making a covenant: thus judgment springeth up as hemlock in the furrowes of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall fear, because of the calves of Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the [d] priests thereof that rejoyced on it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also carried unto Assyria for a present to King Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7 As for Samaria, her King is cut off as the foam upon the water.

8 The high places also of Aven, the sinne of Israel, shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars: [e] and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us: and to the hills, Fall on us.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the dayes of Gibeah: there they stood: the battell in Gibeah against the children of iniquity did not overtake them.

10 It is in my desire that I should chastise them, and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall bind themselves in their two furrowes.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer that is taught, and loveth to tread out the corn, but I passed over upon her fair neck: I will make Ephraim to ride: Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall break his clods.

12 Sowe to your selves in righteousness, reap in mercy: [f] break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.

13 Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity, ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 Therefore shall a [g] tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled [h] Beth-arbel in the day of battell: the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

15 So shall Bethel do unto you, because of your great wickedness: in a morning shall the King of Israel be utterly cut off.

CHAP. XI.

The love-kindnesse of Israel unto God for his deliverance. 5 His judgement. 8 Gods yearning mercies shewn.

1 When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and [a] called my Sonne out of Egypt.

2 As they called them, so they went from them: they sacrificed unto Baalim, and burnt incense to graven images.

3 I taught Ephraim also to go, taking them by their arms: but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love, and I was to them as they that [a] take off the yoke on their jawes, & I laid meat unto them.

5 [b] He shall not return into the land of Egypt; but the Assyrian shall be his King, because they refused to return.

6 And the sword shall abide on his cities, and shall consume his branches, and devour them, because of their own counsels.

7 And my people are bent to back-sliding from me: though they called them to the most High, [a] none at all would exalt him.

8 [b] How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as [c] Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy One in the midst of thee, and I will not enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the LORD: he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall tremble from the West.

11 They shall tremble as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will place them in their houses, saith the LORD.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the Saints.

1 A reproof of Ephraim, Judah, and Jacob. 3 By former favours he exhorteth to repentance. 7 Their sins against God.

EPhraim feedeth on winde, and followeth after the Eastwinde: he daily increaseth lies and desolation, and they do make a covenant with the Assyrians, and oil is carried into Egypt.

2 The LORD hath also a controversie with Judah, and will [a] punish Jacob according to his ways, according to his doings will he recompense him.

3 ¶ He took his brother [b] by the heel in the wombe, and by his strength he [c d] had power with God.

4 Yea, he had power over the Angel and prevailed, he wept and made supplication unto him: he found him in [e] Bethel, and there he spake with us.

5 Even the LORD God of hosts, the LORD is his [f] memorial.

6 Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgement, and wait on thy God continually.

7 ¶ He is a merchant, the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to [h] oppresse.

8 And Ephraim said, Yet I am become rich, I have found me out substance: [i] in all my labours they shall find none iniquity in me, [k] that were sinne.

9 And I that am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt, will yet make thee to dwell in Tabernacles, as in the dayes of the solemne feast.

10 I have also spoken by the Prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, [l] by the ministery of the Prophets.

11 Is there iniquity in Gilead? surely they are vanity, they sacrifice bullocks in [m] Gilgal; yea their altars are as heapes in the furrowes of the fields.

12 And Jacob [n] fled into the country of Syria, and Israel served for [o] a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.

13 And [p] by a prophet the LORD brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a Prophet was he preserved.

14 Ephraim provoked him to anger [q] most bitterly: therefore shall he leave his [r] blood upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

1 Ephraims glory, by reason of idolatry, vanisheth. 5 Gods anger for their unkindnesse. 9 A promise of Gods mercy. 15 A judgement for rebellion.

WHen Ephraim spake, trembling, he exalted himself in Israel; but when he offended in Baal, he died.

2 And now [f] they sinne more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, and idols according to their own understanding, all of it the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let the [t] men that sacrifice, kisse the calves.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the early dew that passeth away, as the chaffe that is driven with a whirlewinde out of the floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the LORD thy God [u] from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me, for there is no Saviour beside me.

5 ¶ I did know thee in the land of [x] great drought.

6 According to their pasture so were they filled: they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me.

7 Therefore I will be unto them as a Lyon: as a Leopard by the way will I observe them:

8 I will meet them as a Bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rent the caule of their heart, and there will I devour them like a lyon: the wilde beast shall teare them.

9 ¶ O Israel, thou hast destroyed thy self, but in me is thine help.

10 I will be thy King: where is any other, that may save thee in all thy cities? and thy Judges of whom thou saidst, Give me a King and Princes?

11 I gave thee a [a] King in mine anger, and took him away in my wrath.

12 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up, his sinne is hid.

13 The sorrowes of a travelling woman shall come upon him, he is an unwise sonne, for he should not stay [b] long in the place of the breaking forth of children.

14 I will ransome them from [c] the power of the grave: I will redeem them from death. O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction: repentance shall be hid from mine eyes.

15 ¶ Though he be fruitfull among his brethren, an Eastwinde shall come, a wind of the LORD shall come up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountaine shall be dried up: he shall spoil the treasure of all pleasant vessels.

16 Samaria shall become desolate, for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword: their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their women with childe shall be ripped up.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 A promise of Gods blessing.

O Israel, return unto the LORD thy God, for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.

2 Take with you words, and turn to the LORD, say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciously: so will we render the [h] calves of our lips.

3 Asshur shall not save us, we will not ride upon horses, neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherlesse findeth mercy.

4 ¶ I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

5 I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall i grow as the lilie, and [k] cast forth his roots as Lebanon.

6 His branches shall [l] spread, and his beauty shall be as the Olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon.

7 They that dwell under his shadow shall return: they shall revive as the corn, and grow as the vine, the [m] fame thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

8 Ephraim shall say, What have I to do any more with idols? I have heard him, and observed him: I am like a green fir tree. From me is thy fruit found.

9 Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the wayes of the LORD are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall fall therein.

CHAP. I.

Foretelleth sundry judgements of God, exhorteth to repentance, 5 and to mourn. 14 He prescribeth a Fast for amendment.

1 The word of the LORD that came to Joel the sonne of Pethuel.

2 Hear this, ye old men, and give eare, all ye inhabitants of the land: Hath this been in your dayes, or even in the dayes of your fathers?

3 Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.

4 That which the palmer-worm hath left, hath the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left, hath the canker-worm eaten; and that which the canker-worm hath left, hath the caterpiller eaten.

5 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep, and howl all drinkers of wine, because of the new wine, for it is cut off from your mouth.

6 For a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number, whose teeth are the teeth of a Lion, and he hath the cheek-teeth of a great Lion.

7 He hath laid my vine waste, and [b] barked my fig-tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away; the branches thereof are made white.

8 ¶ Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth.

9 The meat offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the LORD; the Priests, the LORDS ministers mourn.

10 The field is wasted, the land mourneth: for the corn is wasted, the new wine is [c] dried up, the oil languisheth.

11 Be ye ashamed, O ye husbandmen: howl, O ye vine-dressers, for the wheat, and for the barley; because the harvest of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried up, and the fig-tree languisheth, the pomegranate-tree, the palme-tree also, and the apple-tree, even all the trees of the field are withered; because joy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 Gird your selves, and lament, ye Priests: howl, ye ministers of the Altar: come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meat offering, and the drink offering is withholden from the house of your God.

14 ¶ [d] Sanctifie ye a fast: call [e] a solemn assembly: gather the Elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD:

15 Alas for the day, for [f] the day of the LORD is at hand, and as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladnesse from the house of our God?

17 The [g] seed is rotten under their clods: the garners are laid desolate: the barnes are broken down; for the corn is withered.

18 How do the beasts groan? the herds of cattell are perplexed, because they have no pasture, yea the flocks of sheep are made desolate.

19 O LORD, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath devoured the [h] pastures of the wildernesse, and a flame hath burnt all the trees of the field.

20 The beasts of the field cry also unto thee: for the rivers of waters are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wildernesse.

CHAP. II.

1 He sheweth unto Zion the terrible hoast of Gods judgements. 12 He exhorteth to repentance, 15 prescribeth a fast, 18 promiseth a blessing thereon. 21 He comforteth Zion with promise, 28 and setteth blessings.

1 BLow ye the [i] trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand;

2 A day of darknesse and of gloominesse, a day of clouds and of thick darknesse, as the morning spread upon the mountains: a great people and a strong, there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after it, even to the yeares [k] of many generations.

3 A fire devoureth before them, and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wildernesse, yea and nothing shall escape them.

4 The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as horsemen, so shall they run.

5 Like the noise of chariots on the tops of mountains shall they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people, set in battell array.

6 Before their face the people shall be much pained: all faces shall gather [l] blackenesse.

7 They shall run like mighty men, they shall climbe the wall like men of warre, and they shall march every one on his wayes, and they shall not break their ranks.

8 Neither shall one thrust another, they shall walk every one in his path: and when they fall upon the [m] sword, they shall not be wounded.

9 They shall run to and fro in the city: they shall runne upon the wall: they shall climbe up upon the houses: they shall enter in at the windowes, like a thief.

10 The [n] earth shall quake before them, the heavens shall tremble, the Sonne and the Moone shall be dark, and the Starrs shall withdraw their shining.

11 And the LORD shall utter his voice before his army, for his camp is very great: for he is strong that executeth his word: for the [o] day of the LORD is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

12 ¶ Therefore also now saith the LORD, [p] Turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning.

13 And rent your heart and not your garments: and turn unto the LORD your God: for he is ¶ gracious and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great kindnesse, and repenteth him of the evill.

14 [r] Who knoweth if he will return and repent, and leave a blessing behind him, even a meat offering and a drink offering unto the LORD your God?

15 ¶ Blow the trumpet in Zion, [s] sanctifie a fast, call a solemn assembly.

16 Gather the people: [t] sanctifie the congregation: [u] assemble the Elders: [x] gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom

18 ¶ Then will the LORD be jealous for his land, and pity his people.

19 Yea, the LORD will anſwer and ſay unto his people; Behold, I will ſend you corn and wine, and oyl, and ye ſhall be ſatisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen.

20 But I will remove farre off from you the Northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and deſolate, with his face toward the Eaſt-Sea, and his hinder part toward the utmoſt Sea, and his ſtink ſhall come up, and his ill ſavour ſhall come up, becauſe [c] he hath done great things.

21 ¶ Feare not, O land, be glad and rejoyce: for the LORD will do great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beaſts of the field: for the paſtures of the wilderneſſe do ſpring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig-tree and the vine do yeeld their ſtrength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoyce in the LORD your God: for he hath given you the [d] former raine [e] moderately, and he [f] will cauſe to come down for you the raine, the former raine, and the latter raine in the firſt moneth.

24 And the floors ſhall be full of wheat, and the fatts ſhall overflow with wine and oyl.

25 And I will reſtore to you the yeares that the locuſt hath eaten, the canker-worm, and the caterpiller, and the palmer-worm, my great army which I ſent among you.

26 And ye ſhall eat in plenty, and be ſatisfied, and praiſe the Name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people ſhall never be aſhamed.

27 And ye ſhall know that I am in the midſt of Iſrael, and that I am the LORD your God, and none elſe: and my people ſhall never be aſhamed.

28 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſſe afterward, that I will [g] poure out my Spirit upon all fleſh; and your ſonnes and your daughters ſhall prophecie, your old men ſhall dream dreams, your young men ſhall ſee viſions.

29 And alſo upon the ſervants, and upon the handmaids in thoſe dayes will I poure out my Spirit.

30 And I will ſhew wonders in the heavens, and in the earth, bloud, and fire, and pillars of ſmoke.

31 [h] The Sonne ſhall be turned into darkneſſe, and the Moon into bloud, before the great and the terrible day of the LORD come.

32 And it ſhall come to paſſe that [i] whoſoever ſhall call on the Name of the LORD, ſhall be delivered: for in mount Zion, and in Jeruſalem ſhall be deliverance, as the LORD hath ſaid, and in the remnant, whom the LORD ſhall call.

CHAP. III.

1 Gods judgements againſt the enemies of his people. 9 God will be known in his judgements. 18 His bleſſing upon the Church.

FOr behold, in thoſe dayes, and in that time, when I ſhall bring againe the captivity of Judah and Jeruſalem,

2 I will alſo gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoſhaphat, and will plead with them there for my people, and for my heritage Iſrael, whom they have ſcattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they have caſt lots for my people, and have given a boy for an harlot, and ſold a girle for wine, that they might drink.

4 Yea and what have ye to do with me, O Tyre and Zidon, and all the coaſts of Paleſtina? will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompenſe me, ſwiftly and ſpeedily will I return your recompence upon your own head.

5 Becauſe ye have taken my ſilver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly [k] pleaſant things.

6 The children alſo of Judah, and the children of Jeruſalem have ye ſold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them farre from their border.

7 Behold, I will raiſe them out of the place whither ye have ſold them, and will return your recompenſe upon your own head.

8 And I will ſell your ſonnes and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they ſhall ſell them to the Sabeans, to a people farre off, for the LORD hath ſpoken it.

9 ¶ Proclaime ye this among the Gentiles, prepare warre, wake up the mighty men, let all the men of warre draw neer, let them come up:

10 [l] Beat your plow-ſhares into ſwords, and your [o] pruning hooks into ſpears: let the weake ſay, I am ſtrong.

11 Aſſemble your ſelves, and come all ye heathen, and gather your ſelves together round about: cauſe thy mighty ones to come down thither, O LORD.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come up to the valley of Jehoſhaphat: for there will I ſit to judge all the heathen round about.

13 ¶ Put ye in the ſickle, for the harveſt is ripe: come, get you down, for the preſſe is full, the fats overflow, for the wickedneſſe is great.

14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of deciſion: for the day of the LORD is neer in the valley of deciſion.

15 The [p] Sunne and the Moon ſhall be darkened, and the Starres ſhall withdraw their ſhining.

16 The LORD alſo ſhall [q] roare out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jeruſalem, and the heavens and the earth ſhall ſhake, but the LORD will be the [r] hope of his people, and the ſtrength of the children of Iſrael.

17 So ſhall ye know that I am the LORD your God, dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain: then ſhall Jeruſalem be [s] holy, and there ſhall no [t] ſtrangers paſſe thorow her any more.

18 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſſe in that day, that the mountains ſhall [u] drop downe new wine, and the hils ſhall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah ſhall [x] flow with waters, and a fountaine ſhall come forth of the houſe of the LORD, and ſhall water the valley of Shittim.

19 Egypt ſhall be a deſolation, and Edom ſhall be a deſolate wilderneſſe, for the violence againſt the children of Judah, becauſe they have ſhed innocent bloud in their land.

20 But Judah ſhall [y] dwell for ever, and Jeruſalem from generation to generation.

21 For I will cleanſe their bloud that I have not cleanſed, [z] for the LORD dwelleth in Zion.

¶ AMOS.

CHAP. I.

Amos through Gods instinct upon Syria. 6 upon the Philistines, 9 upon Tyrus, 11 upon Edom, 13 with Ammon.

THE words of Amos, who was among the herdmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel, in the dayes of Uzziah King of Judah, and in the dayes of Jeroboam the sonne of Joash King of Israel, two yeeres before the [a] earthquake.

2 And he said, The LORD will [b] roar from Zion, and utter his voyce from Jerusalem: and the habitations of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Damascus, and [c] for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof, because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron.

4 But I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, which shall devour the palaces of Benhadad.

5 I will break also the barre of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the [d] plain of Aven: and him that holdeth the scepter from the [e] house of Eden, and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the LORD.

6 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of [f] Gaza, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they carried away captive the whole captivity, to deliver up to Edom:

7 But I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, which shall devour the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ashkelon, and I will turn mine hand against Ekron: and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord GOD.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they delivered up the whole captivity to Edom, and remembred not [g] the brotherly covenant.

10 But I will send a fire on the wall of Tyrus, which shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof, because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did [h] cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever.

12 But I will send a fire upon Teman, which shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

13 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have [i] ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battell, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwinde:

15 And their King shall go into captivity, he and his Princes together, saith the LORD.

CHAP. II.

Moab, 4 upon Judah, 6 and upon Israel. 9 God remembreth of their unthankfulness.

THus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Moab, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because he [a] burnt the bones of the King of Edom into lime. 1 Sam. 3.27.

2 But I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet:

3 And I will cut off the Judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the Princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.

4 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because they have despised the Law of the LORD, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies caused them to erre, after the which their fathers have walked.

5 But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof: because [a] they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a paire of shoes: 1 Chap. 5.12.

7 That pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek, and a man and his father will go in unto [b] the same [c] maide, to prophane my holy Name. b Or, young woman. c Or, female servant.

8 And they lay themselves down upon [d] clothes laid to pledge, by every Altar, and they drink the wine of [e] the condemned in the house of their God. d Exod. 22.26. Deut. 24.12. e Or, fined or amerced.

9 ¶ Yet destroyed I the [f] Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the Cedars, and he was strong as the Oakes; yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. f Numb. 21.24. Deut. 2.31. Josh. 24.8.

10 Also I brought you up from the land of [g] Egypt, and led you forty yeers through the wilderness, to possesse the land of the Amorite. g Exod. 12.51.

11 And I raised up of your sonnes for Prophets, and of your young men for [h] Nazarites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel, saith the LORD. h Chap. 7.12.

12 But ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink, and commanded the Prophets, [i] saying, Prophesie not. i Or, Prophesy not.

13 Behold, [k] I am pressed under you, as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaves. k As a cart pincheth, &c.

14 Therefore the flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty deliver [l] himself: l Or, his life.

15 Neither shall he stand that handleth the bow, and he that is swift of foot, shall not deliver himself, neither shall he that rideth the horse, deliver himself.

16 And he that is [m] couragious among the mighty, shall flee away naked in that day, saith the LORD. m Or, strong of heart.

CHAP. III.

1 The singular love of God bestowed upon the Jews, 9 The punishment of it, and the cause thereof.

HEar this word that the LORD hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will [a] punish you for all your iniquities. a Or, visit upon you.

3 Can two walk together, except they be agreed? 4 Will

4 Will a Lion roar in the forreſt, when he hath no prey? will a young Lion [a] cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing?

5 Can a bird fall in a ſnare upon the earth, where no gin is for him? ſhall one take up a ſnare from the earth, and have taken nothing at all?

6 Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people [b] not be afraid? ſhall there be evill in a city, [c] and the LORD hath not done it?

7 Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, but he revealeth his ſecret unto his ſervants the Prophets.

8 The Lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord GOD hath ſpoken, who can but propheſie?

9 ¶ Publiſh in the palaces at Aſhdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and ſay, Aſſemble your ſelves upon the mountains of Samaria: and behold the great tumults in the midſt thereof, and the [d] oppreſſed in the midſt thereof.

10 For they know not to do right, ſaith the LORD: who ſtore up violence and [e] robbery in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, An adverſary there ſhall be even round about the land: and he ſhall bring down thy ſtrength from thee, and thy palaces ſhall be ſpoiled.

12 Thus ſaith the LORD, As the ſhepherd [f] taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs or a piece of an ear: ſo ſhall the children of Iſrael be taken out that dwell in Samaria, in the corner of a bed, and in Damaſcus [g] in a couch.

13 Hear ye, and teſtifie in the houſe of Jacob, ſaith the Lord GOD, the God of hoſts, 14 That in the day that I ſhall [h] viſit the tranſgreſſions of Iſrael upon him, I will alſo viſit the altars of Bethel, and the horns of the Altar ſhall be cut off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will ſmite the winter houſe with the ſummer houſe; and the houſes of Ivory ſhall periſh, and the great houſes ſhall have an end, ſaith the LORD.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He reproveth Iſrael for oppreſſion, 4 for idolatry, 6 and for their unrighteouſneſs.

HEar this word ye kine of Baſhan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppreſſe the poor, which cruſh the needy, which ſay to their maſters, Bring, and let us drink.

2 The Lord GOD hath ſworn by his Holineſſe, that lo, the dayes ſhall come upon you, that he will take you away with hooks, and your poſteritie with fiſhhooks.

3 And ye ſhall go out at the breaches, every cow at that which is before her, and [i] ye ſhall caſt them into the palace, ſaith the LORD.

4 ¶ Come to Bethel and tranſgreſſe, at Gilgal multiply tranſgreſſion; and bring your ſacrifices every morning, & your tithes after [k] three yeers.

5 And [l] offer a ſacrifice of thankſgiving with leaven, and proclaim and publiſh the free offerings; for [m] this liketh you, O ye children of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord GOD.

6 ¶ And I alſo have given you cleanneſſe of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

7 And alſo I have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three moneths to the harveſt, and I cauſed it to rain upon one citie, and cauſed it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two & three cities wandred unto one citie to drink water; but they were not ſatisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

9 I have ſmitten you with blaſting and mildew; [n] when your gardens and your vineyards, and your fig-trees, and your olive-trees increaſed, the palmer-worm devoured them: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

10 I have ſent among you the peſtilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I ſlain with the ſword, and [o] have taken away your horſes, and I have made the ſtinke of your camps to come up unto your noſtrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

11 I have overthrown ſome of you, as God overthrew [q] Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a firebrand pluckt out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Iſrael: and becauſe I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Iſrael.

13 For lo, he that [r] formeth the mountains, and createth the [s] wind, and declareth unto man what [t] is his thought, that maketh the morning darkneſs, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth: the LORD, the God of hoſts, is his Name.

CHAP. V.

1 A Lamentation for Iſrael. 4 An exhortation to repentance. 21 God reſuſeth their hypocriticall ſervice.

HEar ye this word which I take up against you, even a lamentation, O houſe of Iſrael.

2 The virgin of Iſrael is fallen, ſhe ſhall no more riſe: ſhe is forſaken upon her land, [a] there is none to raiſe her up.

3 For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, The city that went out by a thouſand, ſhall leave an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, ſhall leave ten to the houſe of Iſrael.

4 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD unto the houſe of Iſrael, Seek ye me, and ye ſhall live.

5 But ſeek not [f] Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and paſſe not to [u] Beer-ſheba: for Gilgal ſhall ſurely go into captivity, and Bethel ſhall come to nought.

6 Seek the LORD, and ye ſhall live, leſt he break out like fire in the houſe of Joſeph, and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel,

7 Ye who turn judgement to wormwood, and leave off righteouſneſſe in the earth:

8 Seek him that maketh the [x] ſeven ſtarres and Orion, and turneth the ſhadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night: that [y] calleth for the waters of the ſea, and powreth them out upon the face of the earth: the LORD is his Name.

9 That ſtrengtheneth the [w] ſpoiled againſt the ſtrong: ſo that the ſpoiled ſhall come againſt the fortreſſe.

10 They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and they abhorre him that ſpeaketh uprightly.

11 Foraſmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens of wheat, [z] ye have built houſes of hewn ſtone, but ye ſhall not dwell in them: ye have planted pleaſant vineyards, but ye ſhall not drink wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold tranſgreſſions, and your mighty ſinnes: they afflict the juſt, they take [a] a bribe, and they turn aſide the poor in the gate from their right.

13 Therefore the prudent ſhall keep ſilence in that time, for it is an evill time.

a Heb. giveth his voice.

b Or, not trumpet together.

c Or, and ſhall not the Lord do ſomewhat?

f Heb. deliverith.

good, and not evill, that ye may live: so the LORD the God of hosts shall be with you, as ye have spoken.

15 [a] Hate the evill and love the good, and establish judgement in the gate: it may be that the LORD God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord saith thus, Wailing shall be in all streets, and they shall say in all the high-wayes, Alas, alas! and they shall call the husband-man to mourning, and such as are skilfull of lamentation, to wailing.

17 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will passe thorow thee, saith the LORD.

18 [b] Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD: to what end is it for you? the day of the LORD is darknesse and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a Lion, and a Beare met him, or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a Serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the LORD be darknesse, and not light? even very dark, and no brightnesse in it?

21 ¶ [c] I hate, I despise your feast dayes, and I will not [d] smell in your solemne assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt offerings and your meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the [e] peace offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.

24 But let judgement [f] run down as waters, and righteousnesse as a mighty streame.

25 ¶ Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wildernesse fourty years, O house of Israel?

26 But ye have born the [h] tabernacle of your Moloch, and Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to your selves.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.

CHAP. VI.

1 The wretchednesse of Israel 7 shall be plagued with desolation. 12 and their unrighteousnesse.

WO to i them that [k] are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, which are named [l] [m] chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel came.

2 Passe ye unto Calneh, and see, and from thence go ye to Hemath the great: then go down to Gath of the Philistines: be they better then these kingdomes? or their border greater then your border?

3 Ye that [n] put farre away the [o] evill day, and cause the [p] seat of violence to come neer:

4 That lie upon beds of Ivory, and [q] stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambes out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall:

5 That [r] chaunt to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of musick, like David;

6 That drink [s] wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: but they are not grieved for the [t] affliction of Joseph.

7 Therefore now shall they go captive, with the first that go captive, and the banquet of them that stretched themselves, shall be removed.

8 The Lord GOD hath sworne by himself, saith the LORD the God of hosts, I abhorre the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city, with [u] all that is therein.

9 And it shall come to passe, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.

10 And a mans uncle shall take him up, and he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No. Then shall he say, [x] Hold thy tongue: for [y] we may not make mention of the name of the LORD.

11 For behold, the LORD commandeth, and he will smite the great house with [z] breaches, and the little house with clefts.

12 ¶ Shall [a] horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? for ye have turned judgement into [b] gall, and the fruit of righteousnesse into hemlock.

13 Ye which [c] rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength?

14 But behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the entring in of Hemath, unto the [d] river of the wildernesse.

CHAP. VII.

1 The judgements of the grashoppers, 4 and of the fire, are diverted by the prayer of Amos. 7 By the wall of a plumb line, is signified the rejection of Israel. 10 Amaziah complaineth of Amos. 14 Amos sheweth his calling, 16 and Amaziahs judgement.

THus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me, and behold, he formed [e] grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth: and lo, it was the latter growth after the Kings mowings.

2 And it came to passe that when they had made an end of eating the grasse of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee: by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

3 The LORD repented for this. It shall not be, saith the LORD.

4 ¶ Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed me, and behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.

5 Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee, by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

6 The LORD repented for this. This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.

7 ¶ Thus he shewed me, and behold, The Lord stood upon a wall made by a plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand.

8 And the LORD said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumb-line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel, I will not again passe by them any more.

9 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the Sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste: and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 ¶ Then Amaziah the Priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam King of Israel, saying; Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall dye by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of their own land.

12 Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

22 ...ses thou sung into the land of Judah, and there ...ied, and prophesied there.

13 But prophesie not again any more at Bethel: for it is the Kings [a] chappell, and it is the [b] kings court.

14 ¶ Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no Prophet, neither was I a prophets sonne, but I was an herdman, and a gatherer of [c] Sycomore fruit.

15 And the LORD took me [d] as I followed the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesie unto [e] my people Israel.

16 ¶ Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD, Thou sayest, Prophesie not against Israel, and [f] drop not thy word against the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By a basket of summer fruit, is shewed the propinquity of Israels end. 4 Oppression is reproved. 11 A famine of the word threatned.

THus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me, and behold, a basket of summer fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, The end is come upon my people of Israel; I will not again passe by them any more.

3 And the songs of the Temple [g] shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD; there shall be many dead bodies in every place, they shall cast them forth [h] with silence.

4 ¶ Heare this, O ye that swallow up the needy, even to make the poore of the land to fail,

5 Saying, When will the [i] new Moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the Sabbath, that we may [k] set forth wheat, making the Ephah small, and the shekel great, and [l] falsifying the balances by deceit?

6 That we may buy the poor for [m] silver, and the needy for a paire of shoes; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?

7 The LORD hath sworn by the excellencie of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a flood; and it shall be cast out and drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the Lord GOD, that I will cause the Sunne to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

10 And I will turne your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation, and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loines, and baldnesse upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 ¶ Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord GOD, that I will send a famine in the land; not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North even to the East: they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, and shall not finde it.

13 In that day shall the faire virgins and young men faint for thirst.

14 They that sweare by the sinne of Samaria, and say, Thy God, O Dan, liveth, and the manner of Beer-sheba liveth, even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

CHAP. IX.

1 The certainty of the destruction. 11 The restauration of the Tabernacle of David.

I Saw the Lord standing upon the Altar, and he said, Smite the [n] lintell of the doore, that the posts may shake: and [o] cut them in the head, all of them, and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shall not be delivered.

2 [p] Though they digge into hell, thence shall mine hand take them: though they climbe up to heaven, thence will I bring them downe.

3 And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottome of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them.

4 And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for evill, and not for good.

5 And the Lord GOD of hosts is he that toucheth the land, and it shall melt, and all they that dwell therein shall mourne, and it shall rise up wholly like a flood, and shall be drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

6 It is he that buildeth his [q] stories in the heaven, and hath founded his [r] troupe in the earth: he that [s] calleth for the waters of the sea, and powreth them out upon the face of the earth: the LORD is his Name.

7 Are ye not as children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel, saith the LORD? have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the [t] Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinfull kingdome, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD.

9 For lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corne is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least [u] grain fall upon the earth.

10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say: The evill shall not overtake nor prevent us.

11 [x] In that day will I raise up the [y] tabernacle of David that is fallen, and [z] close up the breaches thereof, and I will raise up his ruines, and I will build it as in the dayes of old;

12 That they may possesse the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen; [a] which are called by my Name, saith the LORD that doeth this.

13 Behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that [b] soweth seed; and the mountaines shall drop [c] sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel: and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabite them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith thy God.

¶ OBADIAH.

1 The destruction of Edom, 3 for their pride, 10 and for their wrong unto Jacob. 17 The salvation and holiness of Israel.

THE vision of Obadiah: Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning Edom; [a] We have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an Ambassadour is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battell.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 ¶ The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high, that saith in his heart; Who shall bring me down to the ground?

4 [b] Though thou exalt thy self as the Eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the starres, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD.

5 If [c] thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leave some grapes?

6 How are the things of Esau searched out! how are his hid things sought up!

7 All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee even to the border: [d] the men that were at peace with thee, have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee: [e] they that eat thy bread, have laid a wound under thee: there is none understanding in him.

8 Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, even destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau?

9 And thy mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one of the mount of Esau may be cut off by slaughter.

10 For thy [f] violence against thy brother Jacob, shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever.

11 In the day that thou stoodest on the other side, in the day that the strangers [k] carried away captive his forces, and forreigners entred into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them.

12 But [l] thou shouldest not have looked on the day of thy brother in the day that he became a stranger; neither shouldest thou have rejoyced over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction: neither shouldest thou have [m] spoken proudly in the day of distresse.

13 Thou shouldest not have entred into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity; yea, thou shouldest not have looked on their affliction in the day of their calamity, nor have laid hands on their [n] substance in the day of their calamity.

14 Neither shouldest thou have stood in the cross way to cut off them of his that did escape; neither shouldest thou have [o] delivered up those of his that did remain in the day of distresse.

15 For the day of the LORD [p] is near upon all the heathen: [q] as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee, thy reward shall return upon thine own head.

16 For as ye have drunk upon my holy mountain, [r] so shall all the heathen drink continually, yea, they shall drink, and they shall [s] swallow down, and they shall be as though they had not been.

17 ¶ But upon mount Zion shall be [t] deliverance, and there [u] shall be holinesse, and the house of Jacob shall possesse their possessions.

18 And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble, and they shall kindle in them, and devour them, and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau, for the LORD hath spoken it.

19 And they of the South shall possesse the mount of Esau, and they of the plain the Philistims: and they shall possesse the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria: and Benjamin shall possesse Gilead.

20 And the captivity of this host of the children of Israel shall possesse that of the Canaanites even unto Zarephath, and the captivity of Jerusalem, [w] which is in Sepharad, shall possesse the cities of the South.

21 And [x] Saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau, and the [y] kingdome shall be the LORDS.

¶ JONAH.

CHAP. 1.

1 Jonah sent to Nineveh, flieth to Tarshish. 4 He is discovered by a tempest. 11 Throwne into the sea, 17 and swallowed by a fish.

NOw the word of the LORD came unto [a] Jonah the sonne of Amittai saying,

2 Arise, go to Nineveh that [b] great city, and cry against it: for their wickedness is come up before me.

3 But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD, and went down to Joppa; and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD.

4 But the LORD [c] sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it from them. But Jonah was gone down into the sides of the ship, and he lay and was fast asleep.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.

8 Then they said unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

25 ... thou hast sworn unto the God of Jacob, and ... ...

13 But prophesie not again any more at Bethel: for it is the King's [a] chappell, and it is the [b] kings court.

14 ¶ Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no Prophet, neither was I a prophets sonne, but I was an herdman, and a gatherer of [c] Sycamore fruit.

15 And the LORD took me [d] as I followed the flocke, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesie unto my people Israel.

16 ¶ Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD, Thou sayest, Prophesie not against Israel, and [e] drop not thy word against the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By a basket of summer fruit, it shewed the propinquity of Israels end. 4 Oppression is reproved. 11 A famine of the word threatned.

THus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me, and behold, a basket of summer fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, The end is come upon my people of Israel; I will not again passe by them any more.

3 And the songs of the Temple [f] shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD; there shall be many dead bodies in every place, they shall cast them forth [g] with silence.

4 ¶ Heare this, O ye that swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail,

5 Saying, When will the [h] new Moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the Sabbath, that we may [i] set forth wheat, making the Ephah small, and the shekel great, and [k] falsifying the balances by deceit?

6 That we may buy the poor for [l] silver, and the needy for a paire of shoes; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?

7 The LORD hath sworn by the excellencie of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourne that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a flood; and it shall be cast out and drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the Lord GOD, that I will cause the Sunne to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

10 And I will turne your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loines, and baldnesse upon every head: and I will make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 ¶ Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord GOD, that I will send a famine in the land; not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North even to the East; they shall runne to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, and shall not finde it.

13 In that day shall the faire virgins and young men faint for thirst.

14 They that sweare by the sinne of Samaria, and say, Thy God, O Dan, liveth, and, The manner of Beer-sheba liveth, even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

CHAP. IX.

1 The certainty of the destruction. 11 The restauration of the Tabernacle of David.

I Saw the Lord standing upon the Altar: and he said, Smite the [m] lintell of the doore, that the posts may shake: and [n] cut them in the head all of them, and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shall not be delivered.

2 [o] Though they digge into hell, thence shall mine hand take them: though they climbe up to heaven, thence will I bring them down.

3 And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence: and though they be hid from my sight in the bottome of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them.

4 And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and [p] I will set mine eyes upon them for evill, and not for good.

5 And the Lord GOD of hosts is he that toucheth the land, and it shall melt, and all that dwelleth therein shall mourne, and it shall rise up wholly like a flood, and shall be drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

6 It is he that buildeth his [q] stories in the heaven, and hath founded his [r] troup in the earth: he that [s] calleth for the waters of the sea, and powreth them out upon the face of the earth: the LORD is his Name.

7 Are ye not as children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel, saith the LORD? have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the [u] Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinfull kingdome, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD.

9 For lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corne is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth.

10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say: The evill shall not overtake nor prevent us.

11 ¶ In that day will I raise up the [x] tabernacle of David that is fallen, and [y] close up the breaches thereof, and I will raise up his ruines, and I will build it as in the dayes of old;

12 That they may possesse the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen [z] which are called by my Name, saith the LORD that doeth this.

13 Behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that the ploweman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that [a] soweth seed; and the mountaines shall drop [c] sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabite them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drinke the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eate the fruit of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God.

¶ OBADIAH.

...rebellion of Edom, 3 for their pride, 10 and for their wrongs unto Jacob. 17 The salvation and ...of Jacob.

1 The vision of Obadiah: Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning Edom; We have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an Ambassadour is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high, that saith in his heart; Who shall bring me down to the ground?

4 Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD.

5 If thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leave some grapes?

6 How are the things of Esau searched out! how are his hid things sought up!

7 All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee to the border: the men that were at peace with thee, have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee: they that eat thy bread, have laid a wound under thee: there is none understanding in him.

8 Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, even destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau?

9 And thy mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one of the mount of Esau may be cut off by slaughter.

10 For thy violence against thy brother Jacob shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever.

11 In the day that thou stoodest on the other side, in the day that the strangers carried away captive his forces, and forreigners entered into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them.

12 But thou shouldest not have looked on the day of thy brother in the day that he became a stranger; neither should'st thou have rejoiced over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction; neither should'st thou have spoken proudly in the day of distress.

13 Thou should'st not have entered into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity; yea, thou should'st not have looked on their affliction in the day of their calamity, nor have laid hands on their substance in the day of their calamity.

14 Neither should'st thou have stood in the crossway to cut off those of his that did escape; neither should'st thou have delivered up those of his that did remain in the day of distress.

15 For the day of the LORD is near upon all the heathen: as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee, thy reward shall return upon thine own head.

16 For as ye have drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the heathen drink continually, yea, they shall drink, and they shall swallow down, and they shall be as though they had not been.

17 But upon mount Zion shall be deliverance, and there shall be holiness, and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions.

18 And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble, and they shall kindle in them, and devour them, and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau, for the LORD hath spoken it.

19 And they of the South shall possess the mount of Esau, and they of the plain the Philistines: and they shall possess the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria: and Benjamin shall possess Gilead.

20 And the captivity of this host of the children of Israel shall possess that of the Canaanites, even unto Zarephath, and the captivity of Jerusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the South.

21 And saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau; and the kingdom shall be the LORD'S.

¶ JONAH.

CHAP. 1.

Jonah sent to Nineveh, flieth to Tarshish. 4 He is found out by a tempest. 11 Showeth how the sea is pacified by a fish.

1 Now the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the son of Amittai, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness is come up before me.

3 But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD, and went down to Joppa; and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD.

4 But the LORD sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jonah was gone down into the sides of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.

8 Then they said unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he ſaid unto them, I am an Hebrew, and I feare the LORD the God of heaven, which hath made the ſea, and the dry land.

10 Then were the men [a] exceedingly afraid, and ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled from the preſence of the LORD, becauſe he had told them.)

11 Then ſaid they unto him, What ſhall we do unto thee, that the ſea [b] may be calme unto us? (for the ſea [c] wrought, and was tempeſtuous.)

12 And he ſaid unto them, Take me up, and caſt me forth into the ſea; ſo ſhall the ſea be calme unto you: for I know that for my ſake this great tempeſt is upon you.

13 Nevertheleſſe, the men [d] rowed hard to bring it to the land, but they could not: for the ſea wrought, and was tempeſtuous againſt them.

14 Wherefore they cryed unto the LORD, and ſaid, We beſeech thee, O LORD, we beſeech thee, let us not periſh for this mans life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O LORD, haſt done as it pleaſed thee.

15 So they took up Jonah, and caſt him forth into the ſea, and the ſea [e] ceaſed from her raging.

16 Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly, and [f] offered a ſacrifice unto the LORD, and made vowes.

17 ¶ Now the LORD had prepared a great fiſh to ſwallow up [g] Jonah, and Jonah was in the belly of the fiſh three dayes, and three nights.

CHAP. II.

1 The prayer of Jonah. 10 He is delivered from the fiſh.

THen Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God, out of the fiſhes belly,

2 And ſaid, I [a] cried [b] by reaſon of mine affliction unto the LORD, and he heard me; out of the belly of [c] hell cried I, and thou heardeſt my voice.

3 For thou hadſt caſt me into the deep, in the [d] midſt of the ſeas, and the floods compaſſed me about: all thy billowes and thy waves paſſed over me.

4 Then I ſaid, I am caſt out of thy ſight; yet I will look again toward thy holy Temple.

5 The [a] waters compaſſed me about even to the ſoul; the depth cloſed me round about; the weeds were wrapt about my head.

6 I went down to the [b] bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars was about me for ever: yet haſt thou brought up my life from [c] corruption, O LORD my God.

7 When my ſoul fainted within me, I remembred the LORD, and my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy Temple.

8 They that obſerve lying vanities, forſake their own mercy.

9 But I will ſacrifice unto thee with the voice of [a] thankſgiving, I will pay that that I have vowed: [b] ſalvation is of the LORD.

10 ¶ And the LORD ſpake unto the fiſh, and it caſt out Jonah upon the dry land.

CHAP. III.

1 Jonah ſent again, preacheth in the Kingdom. 5 The Ninevites repent. 10 God repenteth.

AND the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the ſecond time, ſaying,

2 Ariſe, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jonah aroſe, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was an [a] exceeding great city, of three dayes journey.

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a dayes journey, and he cried, and ſaid, Yet forty dayes, and Nineveh ſhall be overthrowen.

5 ¶ So the people of Nineveh [a] believed God, and proclaimed a faſt, and put on ſackcloth, from the greateſt of them even to the leaſt of them.

6 For word came unto the King of Nineveh, and he aroſe from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with ſackcloth, and ſate in aſhes.

7 And he cauſed it to be proclaimed and publiſhed thorow Nineveh, (by the decree of the King and his [a] Nobles) ſaying; Let neither man nor beaſt, herd nor flock taſte any thing; let them not feed, nor drink water.

8 But let man and beaſt be covered with ſackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evill way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

9 ¶ Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we periſh not?

10 ¶ And God ſaw their works, that they turned from their evill way, and God repented of the evill that he had ſaid that he would do unto them, and he did it not.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Jonah repining at Gods mercy, 4 is reproved by the type of a gourd.

BUt it diſpleaſed Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and ſaid, I pray thee, [a] O LORD, was not this my ſaying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I fled before unto Tarſhiſh: for I knew that thou art a [b] gracious God, and mercifull, ſlow to anger, and of great kindneſſe, and repenteſt thee of the evill.

3 Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beſeech thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live.

4 ¶ Then ſaid the LORD, [b] Doeſt thou well to be angry?

5 So Jonah went out of the city, and ſate on the eaſt ſide of the city, and there made him a booth, and ſate under it in the ſhadow, till he might ſee what would become of the city.

6 And the LORD God prepared a [a] gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a ſhadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was [b] exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worm when the morning roſe the next day, and it ſmote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And it came to paſſe when the Sunne did ariſe, that God prepared a [a] vehement eaſt wind, and the Sunne beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and wiſhed in himſelfe to die, and ſaid, It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God ſaid to Jonah, Doeſt thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he ſaid, I do well to be angry, even unto death.

10 Then ſaid the LORD, Thou haſt had pity on the gourd, for the which thou haſt not laboured, neither madeſt it grow, which came up in a night, and periſhed in a night.

11 And ſhould not I ſpare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than ſixe ſcore thouſand perſons that cannot diſcerne between their right hand and their left hand, and alſo ¶ MICAH.

CHAP. I.

Micah foreseeth the wrath of God against Jacob for sin. 10 He exhorteth to mourning.

THE word of the LORD that came to Micah the Morasthite, in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 Hear, [b] all ye people, hearken O earth, and all that therein is, and let the Lord GOD be witness against you, the Lord from his holy Temple.

3 For behold, [d] the LORD cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the [e] high places of the earth.

4 And [f] the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft: as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured down a steep place.

5 For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sinnes of the house of Israel: What is the transgression of Jacob? Is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of the field, and as plantings of a vineyard: and I will powre down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof.

7 And all the graven images thereof shall be beaten to pieces, and all the hires thereof shall be burned with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I lay desolate: for she gathered it of the hire of a harlot, and they shall return to the hire of an harlot.

8 Therefore I will wail and howl, I will go stripped and naked: I will make a wailing like the dragons, and mourning as the [g] owls.

9 For her wound is incurable, for it is come unto Judah: he is come unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.

10 Declare ye it not at Gath, weep ye not at all: in the house of [m] Aphrah [n] roll thy self in the dust.

11 Passe ye away thou [o] inhabitant of [p] Saphir, having thy [q] shame naked: the inhabitant of Zaanan came not forth in the mourning of Bethezel, he shall receive of you his standing.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth [r] waited carefully for good, but evil came down from the LORD unto the gate of Jerusalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachish, binde the chariot to the swift beast: she is the beginning of the sinne to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou give presents [s] to Moreshethgath: the houses of [t] Achzib shall be a lie to the Kings of Israel.

15 Yet will I bring an heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareshah: he shall come unto Adullam, the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee [u] bald, and poll thee for thy delicate children, enlarge thy baldness as the Eagle, for they are gone into captivity from thee.

CHAP. II.

1 Micah shewes the sinnes of the people. 6 They will not hear the Prophets. 8 The sinnes of the rich. 12 The restoring of Israel.

WOE to them that devise iniquity, and work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand.

2 And they covet [a] fields, and take them by violence: and houses, and take them away: so they [b] oppresse a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, against this family do I devise an evill, from which ye shall not remove your necks, neither shall ye go haughtily: for this time is evill.

4 ¶ In that day shall one take up a parable against you, and lament with a [c] doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me? [d] turning away he hath divided our fields.

5 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall [e] cast a cord by lot in the Congregation of the LORD.

6 ¶ [h] Prophesie ye not, say they to them that prophesie: they shall not prophesie to them, that they shall not take shame.

7 ¶ O thou that art named the house of Jacob, is the Spirit of the LORD [i] straitned? are these his doings? do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly?

8 [k] Even of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye pull off the robe [l] with the garment from them that passe by securely, as men averse from warre.

9 The [m] women of my people have ye cast out from their pleasant houses, from their children have ye taken away my glory for ever.

10 Arise ye, and depart, for this is not your rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you, even with a sore destruction.

11 If a man [q] walking in the spirit and falsehood, do lie, saying, I will prophesie unto thee of wine and of strong drink, he shall even be the Prophet of this people.

12 ¶ I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee: I will surely gather the remnant of Israel, I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah, as the flock in the midst of their fold: they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.

13 The breaker up is come up before them: they have broken up, and have passed through the gate, and are gone out by it, and their King shall passe before them, and the LORD on the head of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The cruelty of the Princes. 5 The punishment of the false Prophets. 8 The boldness of Micah. 9 The sinnes of the Princes, Priests, and Prophets. 12 The destruction of Jerusalem.

AND I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel; Is it not for you to know judgement?

2 Who hate the good, and love the evill; who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones;

3 Who also eat the flesh of my people, and flay their skin from off them; and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.

Prophets that make my people erre, that a bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace: and he that putteth not into their mouthes, they even prepare warre against him:

6 Therefore night shall be unto you, b that ye shall not have a vision, and it shall be dark unto you, c that ye shall not divine: and the Sunne shall go downe over the Prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the Seers be ashamed, and the Diviners confounded: yea, they shall all cover their lips, for there is no answer of God.

8 ¶ But truely I am full of power by the Spirit of the LORD, and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and Princes of the house of Israel, that abhorre judgement, and pervert all equity.

10 They build up Zion with d blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

11 The heads thereof judge for reward, and the Priests thereof teach for hire, and the Prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they leane upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evill can come upon us.

12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be ploughed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heapes, and the mountain of the house, as the high places of the forrest.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The glory, 3 peace, 6 kingdome, 11 and victory of the Church.

BUT a in the last dayes it shall come to passe, that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be stablished in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills, and people shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall come and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his waies, and we will walk in his paths: for the Law shall go out of Zion, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afarre off, and they shall beate their swords into e plow-shares, and their speares into pruning hookes: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn warre any more.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine, and under his fig-tree, and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the Name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have f afflicted.

7 And I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD shall reigne over them in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever.

8 ¶ And thou, O tower of the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion, the kingdome shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem.

9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? is there no King in thee? is thy counseller perished? for sorrowes have taken thee, as a woman in travell.

10 Be in paine, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travell: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt come even to Babylon: there shalt thou be delivered, there the LORD shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 ¶ Now also many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and our eye look upon Zion.

12 But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsell: for he shall gather them as the sheaves into the floore.

13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brasse, and thou shalt beate in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their gaine unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAP. V.

1 The birth of Christ: 4 his kingdome: 8 and conquest.

NOw gather thy self in troupes, O daughter of troupes: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the Judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

2 But thou g Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me, that is to be ruler in Israel: whose goings forth have been of old, h from everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.

4 ¶ And he shall stand and feed in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God, and they shall abide: for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

5 And this man shall be the peace, when the Assyrian shall come into our land: and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principall men.

6 And they shall i waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof: thus shall he deliver us from the Assyrian, when he commeth into our land, and when he treadeth within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people, as a dew from the LORD, as the showers upon the grasse, that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sonnes of men.

8 ¶ And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles in the midst of many people, as a Lion among the beasts of the forrest, as the young Lion among the flocks of sheep: who if he goe through, both treadeth down, and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

9 Thine hand shall be lifted up upon thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

10 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the LORD, that I will cut off thine horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots:

11 And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy strong holds:

12 And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand, and thou shalt have no more soothsayers:

13 Thy graven images also will I cut off, and thy k standing images out of the midst of thee, and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands.

14 And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee: so will I destroy thy cities.

15 And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.

1 Hear ye now what the LORD saith; Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 Hear ye, O mountains, the LORD's controversy, and ye strong foundations of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel.

3 O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me.

4 For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from Shittim unto Gilgal, that ye may know the righteousness of the LORD.

6 Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old?

7 Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?

9 The LORD's voice crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom shall see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10 Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure that is abominable?

11 Shall I count them pure with the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?

12 For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13 Therefore also will I make thee sick in smiting thee, in making thee desolate, because of thy sins.

14 Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied, and thy humiliation shall be in the midst of thee; and thou shalt take hold, but shalt not deliver; and that which thou deliverest will I give up to the sword.

15 Thou shalt sow, but thou shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil; and sweet wine, but shall not drink wine.

16 For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels, that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing: therefore ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

CHAP. VII.

The church complaining of her sinful estate, 2 the general corruption, 5 putteth her confidence in none, but in God. 8 She triumpheth over enemies. 14 God comforteth her by promises, 16 by confusion of the enemies, 18 and by mercy.

1 Woe is me, for I am as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grapegleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat: my soul desired the firstripe fruit.

2 The good man is perished out of the earth, and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net.

3 That they may do evil with both hands earnestly, the prince asketh, and the judge asketh for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth his mischievous desire: so they wrap it up.

4 The best of them is as a brier: the most upright is sharper than a thorn hedge: the day of thy watchmen and thy visitation cometh; now shall be their perplexity.

5 Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.

6 For the son dishonoureth the father: the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 Therefore I will look unto the LORD: I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me.

8 Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me.

9 I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness.

10 Then she that is mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her which said unto me, Where is the LORD thy God? mine eyes shall behold her: now shall she be trodden down, as the mire of the streets.

11 In the day that thy walls are to be built, in that day shall the decree be far removed.

12 In that day also he shall come even to thee from Assyria, and from the fortified cities, and from the fortress, even to the river, and from sea to sea, and mountain to mountain.

13 Notwithstanding the land shall be desolate, because of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings.

14 Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwell solitarily in the wood, in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old.

15 According to the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt will I shew unto him marvellous things.

16 The nations shall see, and be confounded at all their might: they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf.

17 They shall lick the dust like a serpent, they shall move out of their holes like worms of the earth: they shall be afraid of the LORD our God, and shall fear because of thee.

18 Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy.

19 He will turn again, he will have compassion upon us; he will subdue our iniquities; and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.

20 Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old.

¶ NAHUM.

CHAP. I.

The majesty of God in goodnesse to his people, and severity against his enemies.

THE burden of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2 [a] God [b] jealous, and the LORD revengeth: the LORD revengeth, and [c] furious, the LORD will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.

3 The LORD [d] is slow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked: the LORD hath his way in the whirlewinde, and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

4 He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Bashan languisheth, and Carmel, and the flower of Lebanon languisheth.

5 The mountains quake at him, and the hills melt, and the earth is burnt at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can stand before his indignation? and who can [e] abide in the fiercenesse of his anger? his fury is powred out like fire, and the rocks are throwen down by him.

7 The LORD is good, a [f] strong hold in the day of trouble, and he knoweth them that trust in him.

8 But with an over-running flood he will make an utter end of the place thereof, and darkenesse shall pursue his enemies.

9 What do ye imagine against the LORD? he will make an utter end: affliction shall not rise up the second time.

10 For while they be folden together as thorns, and while they are drunken as drunkards, they shall be devoured as stubble fully dry.

11 There is one come out of thee, that imagineth evill against the LORD, [g] a wicked counsellour.

12 Thus saith the LORD, [h] Though they be quiet, and likewise many, yet thus shall they be [i] cut down, when he shall pass thorow: though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13 For now will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.

14 And the LORD hath given a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sowen: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image, and the molten image, I will make thy grave, for thou art vile.

15 Behold upon the [k] mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace. O Judah, [l] keep thy solemne feasts, perform thy vows: for the [m] wicked shall no more passe thorow thee, he is utterly cut off.

CHAP. II.

The fearfull and victorious armies of God against Nineveh.

HE [n] that dasheth in pieces, is come up before thy face: keep the munition: watch the way: make thy loins strong: fortifie thy power mightily.

2 [o] For the LORD hath turned away the Pexcellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine branches.

3 The shield of his mighty men is made red: the valiant men are [q] in scarlet: the chariots shall be with [r] flaming torches in the day of his preparation, and the fir-tree-trees shall be terribly shaken.

4 The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall justle one against another in the broad ways: they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightnings.

5 He shall recount his [s] worthies: they shall stumble in their walk: they shall make haste to the wall thereof, and the [t] defence shall be prepared.

6 The gates of the rivers shall be opened, and the palace shall be [u] dissolved.

7 And [y] Huzzab shall be [z] led away captive, she shall be brought up, and her maids shall lead her as with the voice of doves, tabring upon their breasts.

8 But Nineveh is [a] of old like a pool of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry: but none shall [b] look back.

9 Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: [c] for there is none end of the store, and glory out of all the [d] pleasant furniture.

10 She is empty, and void, and waste, and the [e] heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and much pain is in all loins, and the faces of them all gather blackenesse.

11 Where is the dwelling of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions? where the lion walked, the old lion, and the lions whelp, and none made them afraid.

12 The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with ravin.

13 Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions, and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAP. III.

The miserable ruine of Nineveh.

WO to the [f] bloody city, it is all full of lies and robbery, the prey departeth not;

2 The noise of a whip, and the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the prancing horses, and of the jumping chariots.

3 The horseman lifteth up both the bright sword, and the glittering spear, and there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carkeises, and there is none end of their corpses: they stumble upon their corpses,

4 Because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well-favoured harlot, the mistresse of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredomes, and families through her witchcrafts.

5 Behold, [g] I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will discover thy skirts upon thy face, and I will shew the nations thy nakednesse, and the kingdomes thy shame.

6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee as a gazing stock.

7 And it shall come to passe, that all they that look upon thee, shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is laid waste, who will bemone her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee?

8 Art thou better than [k] populous No, that was situate among the rivers, that had the waters round about it, whose rampart was the sea, and waters was her wall?

¶ HABAKKUK.

CHAP. I.

1 Unto Habakkuk complaining of the iniquity of the land, 5 is ſhewed the fearfull vengeance by the Caldeans. 12 His complaint that vengeance ſhould be executed by them who are farre worſe.

THe burden which Habakkuk the Prophet did ſee.

2 O LORD, how long ſhall I cry, and thou wilt not hear! even cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not ſave?

3 Why doeſt thou ſhew me iniquity, and cauſe me to behold grievance? for ſpoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raiſe up ſtrife and contention.

4 Therefore the Law is ſlacked, and judgement doth never go forth: for the [a] wicked doth incompaſſe about the righteous: therefore [b] wrong judgment proceedeth.

5 ¶ Behold ye [c] among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellouſly: for I will work a work in your daies, which ye will not beleeve, though it be told you.

6 For lo, I raiſe up the Caldeans, that bitter and haſty nation, which ſhall march thorow the breadth of the land, to poſſeſſe the dwelling places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and dreadfull: [d] their judgment and their dignity ſhall proceed of themſelves.

8 Their horſes alſo are ſwifter then the leopards, and are more [e] fierce then the [f] evening wolves: and their horſemen ſhall ſpread themſelves, and their horſemen ſhall come from farre, they ſhall flee as the Eagle that haſteth to eat.

9 They ſhall come all for violence: [h] their faces ſhall ſup up as the Eaſt winde, and they ſhall gather the captivity as the ſand.

10 And they ſhall ſcoffe at the Kings, and the Princes ſhall be a ſcorn unto them: they ſhall deride every ſtrong hold, for they ſhall heap duſt and take it.

11 Then ſhall his minde change, and he ſhall paſſe over and offend, imputing this his power unto his god.

12 ¶ Art thou not from everlaſting, O LORD my God, mine holy One? we ſhall not die: O LORD thou haſt ordained them for judgement, and O mighty God, thou haſt [k] eſtabliſhed them for correction.

13 Thou art of purer eies then to behold evill, and canſt not look on [l] iniquity: wherfore lookeſt thou upon them that deal treacherouſly, and holdeſt thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous then he?

14 And makeſt men as the fiſhes of the ſea, as the [m] creeping things that have no ruler over them.

15 They take up all of them with the angle: they catch them in their net, and gather them in their [n] drag: therefore they rejoyce and are glad.

16 Therefore they ſacrifice unto their net, and burn incenſe unto their drag: becauſe by them their portion is fat, and their meat [o] plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore empty their net, and not ſpare continually to ſlay the nations.

CHAP. II.

1 Unto Habakkuk waiting for an anſwer, is ſhewed that he muſt wait by faith. 5 The judgement upon the Caldean for inſatiableneſſe, 9 for covetouſneſſe, 12 for cruelty, 15 for drunkenneſſe, 18 and for idolatry.

I Will [p] ſtand upon my watch, and ſet me upon the [q] tower, and will watch to ſee what he will ſay [r] unto me, and what I ſhall anſwer [ſ] when I am reproved.

2 And the LORD anſwered me, and ſaid, Write the viſion, and make it plain upon tables, that he may runne that readeth it.

3 For the viſion is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it ſhall ſpeak, and not lie; though it tarry, wait for it, becauſe it will [t] ſurely come, it will not tarry.

4 Behold, his ſoul which is lifted up, is not upright in him; but the [u] juſt ſhall live by his faith.

5 ¶ [x] Yea alſo becauſe he tranſgreſſeth by wine, he is a proud man, neither keepeth at home, who enlargeth his deſire as hell, and is as death, and cannot be ſatisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all people:

6 Shall not all theſe take up a parable againſt him, and a taunting proverb againſt him, and ſay, [y] Wo to him that increaſeth that which is not his: how long? and to him that ladeth himſelf with thick clay.

7 Shall they not riſe up ſuddenly that ſhall bite thee? and awake, that ſhall vex thee? and thou ſhalt be for booties unto them?

1 Habakkuk in his prayer, trembleth at Gods Majesty.
17 The confidence of his faith.

A Prayer of Habakkuk the Prophet [s] upon Sigionoth.

2 O LORD, I have heard [t] thy speech, and was afraid: O LORD, [u] revive thy work in the midst of the yeeres, in the midst of the yeeres make known; in wrath remember mercy.

3 God came from [x] Teman, and the holy One from mount Paran. Selah. His glory [illegible] heavens, and the earth was full of his [illegible]

4 And his brightnesse was as the light; [illegible] horns came out of his hand, and there was [illegible] hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and [illegible] coals went forth at his feet.

6 He stood, and measured the earth: he [illegible] and drove asunder the nations, and the everlasting mountains were scattered, the perpetuall hills did bow: his waies are everlasting.

7 I saw the tents of [a] Cushan [b] in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was the LORD displeased against the rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride upon thine horses and [c] thy chariots of salvation?

9 Thy bowe was made quite naked, according to the oathes of the tribes, even thy word. Selah. Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10 The mountaines saw thee, and they trembled: the overflowing of the water passed by: the deep uttered his voice, and lift up his hands on high.

11 The Sunne and Moon [d] stood still in their habitation: [e] at the light of thine [f] arrowes they went, and at the shining of thy glittering speare.

12 Thou didst march thorow the land [illegible] nation, thou didst thresh the heathen in anger.

13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people: even for salvation with thine anointed; thou woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked, [h] by discovering the foundation unto the neck. Selah.

14 Thou didst strike thorow with his staves the head of his villages: they [i] came out as a whirlwinde to scatter me: their rejoycing was as to devour the poor secretly.

15 Thou didst walk thorow the sea with thine horses, thorow the [k] heap of great waters.

16 When I heard, my belly trembled, my lips quivered at the voice: rottennesse entred into my bones, and I trembled in my self, that I might rest in the day of trouble: when he commeth up unto the people, he will [l] invade them with his troupe.

17 ¶ Although the fig-tree shall not blossome, neither shall fruit be in the vines; the labour of the Olive shall [m] fail, and the fields shall yeeld no meat, the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalles:

18 Yet I will rejoyce in the LORD, I will joy in the God of my salvation.

¶ ZEPHANIAH.

CHAP. I.

Gods severe judgement against Judah for divers sins.

1 The word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the sonne of Cushi, the sonne of Gedaliah, the sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Hizkiah, in the dayes of Iosiah, the sonne of Amon king of Iudah.

2 I will utterly consume all things from off the land, saith the LORD.

3 I will consume man and beast: I will consume the fowles of the heaven, & the fishes of the sea, and the [a] stumbling blocks with the wicked, and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the LORD.

4 I will also stretch out mine hand upon Iudah, and upon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarims with the priests;

5 And them that worship the host of heaven upon the house tops, and them that worship and that swear [b] by the LORD, and swear by Malcham;

6 And them that are turned back from the LORD, and those that have not sought the LORD, nor enquired for him.

7 Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord GOD: for the day of the LORD is at hand: for the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath bid his guests.

[a] Hebr. ruines. [b] Or, to the LORD. [c] Or, Idoles.

the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice: he hath bid his guests.

8 And it shall come to passe in the day of the LORDS sacrifice, that I will b punish the Princes and the Kings children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparrel.

9 In the same day also will I punish all those that leap on the threshold, which fill their masters houses with violence and deceit.

10 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the LORD, that there shall be the noise of a cry from the fish-gate, and an howling from the second, and a great crashing from the hils.

11 Howl ye inhabitants of Makteth, for all the merchant people are cut down: all they that bear silver are cut off.

12 And it shall come to passe at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with candles, and punish the men that are c setled on their lees, that say in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evill.

13 Therefore their goods shall become a booty, and their houses a desolation: they shall also build houses, but d not inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof.

14 The great day of the LORD is neer, it is neer, and hasteth greatly, even the voyce of the day of the LORD: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.

15 That day is a day of e wrath, a day of trouble and distresse, a day of wastenesse and desolation, a day of darknesse and gloominesse, a day of clouds and thick darknesse;

16 A day of the trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high towers.

17 And I will bring distresse upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD, and their blood shall be powred out as dust, and their flesh as the dung.

18 Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the LORDS wrath; but the whole land shall be f devoured by the fire of his jealousie: for he shall make even a speedie riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

CHAP. II.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 The judgement of the Philistines. 8 Of Moab and Ammon. 12 Of Aethiopia and Assyria.

1 Gather your selves together, yea gather together, O nation b not desired.

2 Before the decree bring forth, before the day pass as the chaffe, before the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORDS anger come upon you.

3 Seek ye the LORD all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgement, seek righteousnesse, seek meeknesse: it may be, ye shall be hid in the day of the LORDS anger.

4 ¶ For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation; they shall drive out Ashdod at the noon day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

5 Woe unto the inhabitants of the sea coast: the nation of the Cherethites, the word of the LORD is against you: O Canaan, the land of the Philistines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6 And the sea coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds, and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah, they shall feed thereupon, in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening: for the LORD their God shall visit them, and turn away their captivitie.

8 ¶ I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, whereby they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border.

9 Therefore, as I live, saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, even the breeding of nettles, and salt pits, and a perpetuall desolation, the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possesse them.

10 This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts.

11 The LORD will be terrible unto them: for he will h famish all the gods of the earth, and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the Iles of the heathen.

12 ¶ Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword.

13 And he will stretch out his hand against the North, and destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like a wilderness.

14 And flocks shall lie down in the midst of her all the beasts of the nations: both the i Cormorant, and the Bittern shall k lodge in the l upper lintels of it: their voyce shall sing in the windowes, desolation shall be in the thresholds: m for he shall uncover the Cedar work.

15 This is the rejoycing city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her, shall hisse and wag his hand.

CHAP. III.

1 A sharp reproofe of Jerusalem for divers sinnes. 8 An exhortation to wait for the resurrection of Israel: 14 and to rejoyce for their salvation by God.

1 WO to her that is n filthy and polluted, to the oppressing city.

2 She obeyed not the voyce: she received not o correction: she trusted not in the LORD: she drew not neer to her God.

3 Her princes within her are roaring p lions; her judges are evening wolves, they gnaw not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her q prophets are light and treacherous persons: her Priests have polluted the Sanctuarie, they have done r violence to the Law.

5 The just LORD is in the midst thereof: he will not do iniquity: s every morning doth he bring his judgement to light, he faileth not: but the unjust knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their t towers are desolate, I made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is any inhabitant.

7 I said, Surely thou wilt feare me: thou wilt receive instruction: so their dwelling should not be cut off, howsoever I punished them: but they rose early, and corrupted all their doings.

8 ¶ Therefore wait ye upon me, saith the LORD, untill the day that I arise up to the prey: for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdomes, to powre upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my u jealousie.

9 For then will I turn to the people a pure w language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one x consent.

10 From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my worshippers, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering.

¶ HAGGAI.

CHAP. I.

1 Haggai reproveth the people for neglecting the building of the houſe. 7 He inciteth them to the building. 12 He promiſeth Gods aſſiſtance to them herein forward.

IN the ſecond yeer of Darius the king in the ſixth moneth, in the firſt day of the moneth, came the word of the LORD [a] by Haggai the Prophet unto Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel [b] Governour of Judah, and to Joſuah the ſonne of Joſedech the high Prieſt, ſaying;

a Heb. by the hand of Haggai. b Or, captain.

2 Thus ſpeaketh the LORD of hoſts, ſaying, This people ſay, The time is not come, the time that the LORDS houſe ſhould be built.

3 Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the Prophet, ſaying,

4 Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houſes, and this houſe lie waſte?

5 Now therefore thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts; [c] Conſider your wayes.

c Heb. ſet your hearts on your wayes.

6 Ye have [d] ſowen much, and bring in little: ye eat, but ye have not enough: ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink: ye clothe you, but there is none warm: and he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put it into a bag [e] with holes.

d Deut. 28.38. mich. 6. 14, 15. e Heb. pierced through.

7 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts; Conſider your wayes.

8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the houſe; and I will take pleaſure in it, and I will be glorified, ſaith the LORD.

9 Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little: and when ye brought it home, I did [f] blow upon it: Why, ſaith the LORD of hoſts? becauſe of mine houſe that is waſte, and ye runne every man unto his own houſe.

f Or, blow it away.

10 Therefore the heaven over you is ſtayed from dew, and the earth [g] is ſtayed from her fruit.

g Deut. 28.23.

11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, & upon the corn, & upon the new wine, and upon the oyl & upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattell, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 ¶ Then Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel, and Joſuah the ſonne of Joſedech the high Prieſt, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the Prophet, (as the LORD their God had ſent him) and the people did fear before the LORD.

13 Then ſpake Haggai the LORDS meſſenger in the LORDS meſſage unto the people, ſaying; I am with you, ſaith the LORD.

14 And the LORD ſtirred up the ſpirit of Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel governour of Judah, and the ſpirit of Joſuah the ſonne of Joſedech the high Prieſt, and the ſpirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came and did work in the houſe of the LORD of hoſts their God:

15 In the four and twentieth day of the ſixth moneth, in the ſecond yeer of Darius the King.

CHAP. II.

1 He encouraged the people to the work, by proofe of greater glory to the ſecond Temple, than was in the firſt. 10 In the type of holy things, and unclean, he ſhoweth their ſinnes hindred the work. 20 Gods promiſe to Zerubbabel.

IN the ſeventh moneth, in the one and twentieth day of the moneth, came the word of the LORD [h] by the Prophet Haggai, ſaying;

h By the Prophet Haggai, ſaying;

2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel, governour of Judah, and to Joſuah the ſonne of Joſedech the high Prieſt, and to the reſidue of the people, ſaying,

3 Who is left among you that ſaw this houſe in her firſt glory? and how do ye ſee it now? is it not in your eyes in compariſon of it, as nothing?

4 Yet now be ſtrong, O Zerubbabel, ſaith the LORD, and be ſtrong, O Joſuah, ſonne of Joſedech the high Prieſt, and be ſtrong all ye people of the land, ſaith the LORD, and work: (for I am with you, ſaith the LORD of hoſts)

5 According to the word that I covenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt, ſo my ſpirit remaineth among you; fear ye not.

6 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Yet [i] it is a little while, and I will ſhake the heavens, and the earth, and the ſea, and the dry land;

i It is a little while, and I will ſhake the heavens, and the earth, and the ſea, and the dry land.

7 And I will ſhake all nations, and the deſire of all nations ſhall come, and I will fill this houſe with glory ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

8 The ſilver is mine, and the gold is mine, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

9 The glory of this latter houſe ſhall be greater then of the former, ſaith the LORD of hoſts: and in this place will I give peace, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

10 ¶ In the four and twentieth day in the ſecond year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the Prophet, ſaying, 2 Thus ſpeaketh the LORD of hoſts, Ask now the Prieſts touching the Law, ſaying,

3 If one bear holy fleſh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread or pottage, or wine, or oyl, or any meat, ſhall it be holy? And the Prieſts anſwered and ſaid, No.
4 Then ſaid Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body, touch any of theſe, ſhall it be unclean? And the Prieſts anſwered and ſaid, It ſhall be unclean.
5 Then anſwered Haggai, and ſaid, So is this people, and ſo is this nation before me, ſaith the LORD, and ſo is every work of their hands, and that which they offer there, is unclean.
6 And now I pray you conſider from this day and upward, from before a ſtone was laid upon a ſtone in the Temple of the LORD.
7 Since thoſe dayes were, when one came to an heap of twenty meaſures, there were but ten: when one came to the preſſe-fat for to draw out fifty veſſels out of the preſſe, there were but twenty.
8 I ſmote you [a] with blaſting, and with mildew, and with hail in all the labours of your hand; yet ye turned not to me, ſaith the LORD.
9 Conſider now from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the LORDS Temple was laid, conſider it.
10 Is the ſeed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I bleſſe you.
20 ¶ And again the word of the LORD came unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, ſaying, 21 Speak to Zerubbabel governour of Judah, ſaying, I will ſhake the heavens and the earth;
22 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdomes, and I will deſtroy the ſtrength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I will overthrow the chariots, and thoſe that ride in them, and the horſes and their riders ſhall come down, every one by the ſword of his brother.
23 In that day, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my ſervant, the ſonne of Shealtiel, ſaith the LORD, and will make thee as a ſignet: for I have choſen thee, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

¶ ZECHARIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 Zechariah exhorteth to repentance. 7 The viſion of the horſes. 12 At the prayer of the Angel comfortable promiſes are made to Jeruſalem. 18 The viſion of the four horns, and the four Carpenters.

IN the eighth moneth, in the ſecond year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the ſonne of Barachiah, the ſonne of Iddo the Prophet, ſaying;
2 The LORD hath been [a] ſore diſpleaſed with your fathers.
3 Therefore ſay thou unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts; [b] Turn ye unto me, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and I will turn unto you, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.
4 [c] Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former Prophets have cried, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Turn ye now from your evill wayes, and from your evill doings; but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, ſaith the LORD.
5 Your fathers, where are they? and the Prophets, do they live for ever?
6 But my words and my Statutes which I commanded my ſervants the Prophets, did they not take hold of your fathers? and they returned, and ſaid, [c] Like as the LORD of hoſts thought to deale unto us, according to our wayes, and according to our doings, ſo hath he dealt with us.
7 ¶ Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh moneth, which is the moneth Sebat, in the ſecond year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the ſonne of Barachiah, the ſonne of Iddo the Prophet, ſaying;
8 I ſaw by night, and behold, a man riding upon a red horſe, and he ſtood among the myrtle-trees that were in the bottome, and behinde him were there red horſes, [d] ſpeckled and white.
9 Then ſaid I, O my lord, what are theſe? And the Angel that talked with me, ſaid unto me, I will ſhew thee what theſe be.
10 And the man that ſtood among the myrtle-trees anſwered, and ſaid, Theſe are they, whom the LORD hath ſent to walk to and fro thorow the earth.
11 And they anſwered the Angel of the LORD, that ſtood among the myrtle-trees, and ſaid, We have walked to and fro thorow the earth: and behold, all the earth ſitteth ſtill, and is at reſt.
12 ¶ Then the Angel of the LORD anſwered, and ſaid, O LORD of hoſts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jeruſalem, and on the cities of Judah, againſt which thou haſt had indignation theſe threeſcore and ten years?
13 And the LORD anſwered the Angel that talked with me, with good words, and comfortable words.
14 So the Angel that communed with me, ſaid unto me, Cry thou, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, I am [e] jealous for Jeruſalem, and for Zion with a great jealouſie. e Chap. 8. 2.
15 And I am very ſore diſpleaſed with the heathen that are at eaſe: for I was but a little diſpleaſed, and they helped forward the affliction.
16 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, I am returned to Jeruſalem with mercies: my houſe ſhall be built in it, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and a line ſhall be ſtretched forth upon Jeruſalem.
17 Cry yet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, My cities through [h] proſperity ſhall yet be ſpread abroad, and the LORD ſhall yet comfort Zion, and ſhall yet chuſe Jeruſalem. h Heb. good.
18 ¶ Then lift I up mine eyes, and ſaw, and behold four horns.
19 And I ſaid unto the Angel that talked with me, What be theſe? And he anſwered me, Theſe are the horns which have ſcattered Judah, Iſrael, and Jeruſalem.
20 And the LORD ſhewed me four Carpenters.
21 Then ſaid I, What come theſe to do? And he ſpake, ſaying, Theſe are the horns which have ſcattered Judah, ſo that no man did lift up his head: but theſe are come to fray them, to caſt out the horns of the Gentiles, which lift up their horn over the land of Judah to ſcatter it.

CHAP. II.

1 God in the care of Jerusalem sendeth to measure it. 6 The redemption of Zion. 10 The promise of Gods presence.

I Lift up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold, a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, to see the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the Angel that talked with me went forth, and another Angel went out to meet him,

4 And said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited as towns without walls, for the multitude of men and cattell therein.

5 For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 ¶ Ho, ho, come forth, and flee from the land of the North, saith the LORD: for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the LORD.

7 Deliver thy self, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon.

8 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, After the glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that [a] toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye.

[a] Deut. 32.10. psal. 17.8.

9 For behold, I will shake mine hand upon them, and they shall be a spoil to their servants: and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me.

10 ¶ [b] Sing and rejoyce, O daughter of Zion: for lo, I come, and I [c] will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD.

[b] Isa. 12.6 and 54.1. [c] Levit. 26.12. Ezek. 37. 27. 2. cor. 6.18.

11 And many nations shall be joyned to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12 And the LORD shall inherit Judah his portion in the holy land, and shall chuse Jerusalem again.

13 Be silent, O all flesh, before the LORD: for he is raised up out of [d] his holy habitation.

CHAP. III.

1 Under the type of Joshua, the restauration of the Church. 8 Christ the Branch is promised.

AND he shewed me Joshua the high priest, standing before the Angel of the LORD, and [e] Satan standing at his right hand [f] to resist him.

[e] That is, an adversary. [f] Heb. to be his adversary.

2 And the LORD said unto Satan, ¶ The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan, even the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem, rebuke thee. Is not this a brand pluckt out of the fire?

3 Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them set a fair mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the Angel of the LORD stood by.

6 And the Angel of the LORD protested unto Joshua, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my [h] charge, then thou shalt also judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee places to walk among these that stand by.

[h] Or, ordinance.

8 Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are men wondred at: for behold, I will bring forth my servant the [i] BRANCH.

[i] Isa. 4.2. Jer. 23.5. and 33.15.

9 For behold the stone that I have laid before Joshua: upon one stone shall be seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

10 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour under the vine, and under the fig-tree.

CHAP. IIII.

1 By the golden Candlestick is foreshewed by the successe of Zerubbabels foundation. 11 By the two Olive-trees, the two anointed ones.

AND the Angel that talked with me, came again and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep:

2 And said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have looked, and behold a candlestick [k] all of gold, [l] with a bowl upon the top of it, and his seven lamps thereon, and [m] seven pipes to the seven lamps, which were upon the top thereof.

[k] Exod. 25.31. [l] Or, cup. [m] Heb. seven.

3 And two Olive-trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the Angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord?

5 Then the Angel that talked with me answered, and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? and I said, No, my lord.

6 Then he answered, and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by [n] might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the LORD of hosts.

[n] Or, army.

7 Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the head stone thereof with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.

8 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it, and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of small things? [p] for they shall rejoyce, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those seven: [q] they are the eyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

[p] Or, for they despised. [q] Or, they are the eyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

11 ¶ Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these two olive-trees upon the right side of the candlestick, and upon the left side thereof?

12 And I answered again, and said unto him, What be these two olive-branches which through the two golden pipes empty the golden oil out of themselves?

13 And he answered me, and said, Knowest thou not what these be? and I said, No, my lord.

14 Then said he, These are the two anointed ones that stand by the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAP. V.

1 By the flying roule shewed the curse of swearers. 5 By the woman and the ephah description of Babylon.

THEN I turned, and lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a flying roule.

2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roule; the length of it is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

…said he unto me, This is the curse … forth over the face of the whole … every one that stealeth shall be cut … this side, according to it; and every … that sweareth shall be cut off, as on that side … according to it.

… will bring it forth, saith the LORD of … and it shall enter into the house of the … and into the house of him that sweareth … falsely by my Name: and it shall remain in the … of his house, and shall consume it, with the … thereof, and the stones thereof.

5 ¶ Then the Angel that talked with me, went … and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and … what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is … Ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, … This is their resemblance thorow all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lift up a b talent of … and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst … the Ephah.

8 And he said, This is wickedness, and he cast … into the midst of the Ephah, and he cast the … of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I up mine eyes, and looked, and … behold, there came out two women, and the wind … was in their wings, (for they had wings like the … wings of a stork) and they lift up the Ephah … between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the Angel that talked with … me, Whither do these bear the Ephah?

11 And he said unto me, To build it an house … in the land of Shinar, and it shall be established, … and be there upon her own base.

CHAP. VI.

1 The vision of the four chariots. 9 By the crowns of … is figured the Temple and kingdome of Christ … Jewes.

1 And I turned, and lift up mine eyes, and look… … and, and behold, there came four chariots … forth from between two mountains, and the moun… … were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were red horses, and in the … second black horses.

3 And in the third chariot white horses, and in … the fourth chariot grisled and c bay horses.

4 Then I answered, and said unto the Angel … that talked with me, What are these, my LORD?

5 And the Angel answered, and said unto me, … These are the four d spirits of the heavens, … which go forth from standing before the Lord of … all the earth.

6 The black horses which are therein go forth … into the North country, and the white go forth … after them, and the grisled go forth toward the … South country.

7 And the bay went forth, and sought to go … that they might walk to and fro thorow the … earth: and he said, Get you hence, walk to and … fro thorow the earth. So they walked to and fro … thorow the earth.

8 Then called he unto me, and spake unto me, … saying, Behold, these that go toward the north … country, have quieted my spirit in the north … country.

9 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, … saying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Hel… … dai, and of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, which are come … from Babel, and come thou the same day, and … go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, …

11 Then take silver and gold, and make crowns, … and set them upon the head of Joshua the son of …

12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh … the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold the man … whose Name is e THE BRANCH, and he shall … grow up out of his place, and he shall build the … Temple of the LORD:

13 Even he shall build the Temple of the LORD, … and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule … upon his throne, and he shall be a Priest upon his … throne, and the counsell of peace shall be between … them both.

14 And the crowns shall be to Helem, and to … Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the sonne of … Zephaniah, for a f memoriall in the Temple of the … LORD.

15 And they that are farre off, shall come and … build in the Temple of the LORD, and ye shall … know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto … you. And this shall come to passe, if ye will dili… …gently obey the voyce of the LORD your God.

CHAP. VII.

1 The captives enquire of fasting. 4 Zechariah reproveth their fasting. 8 Sheweth the cause of their captivity.

1 And it came to passe in the fourth yeer of … King Darius, that the word of the LORD … came unto Zechariah, in the fourth day of the … ninth moneth, even in Chisleu.

2 When they had sent unto the house of God … Sherezer, and Regem-melech, and their men, a to … pray before the LORD,

3 And to speak unto the Priests, which were … in the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the … Prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth mo… …neth, separating my self, as I have done these so … many yeers?

4 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD of … hosts unto me, saying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land and to … the Priests, saying, When ye b fasted and mourned … in the fifth and seventh month, even those seventy … yeers, did ye at all fast unto me, even to me?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did … drink, c did not ye eat for your selves, and drink … for your selves?

7 k Should ye not hear the words which the … LORD hath cried l by the former Prophets, when … Jerusalem was inhabited, and in prosperity, and … the cities thereof round about her, when men … inhabited the South of the plain?

8 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto … Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, … m Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and … compassions every man to his brother:

10 And oppresse not the n widow, nor the fa… …therless, the stranger, nor the poore, and let none … of you imagine evill against his brother in your … heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and o pulled … away the shoulder, and p stopped their eares, that … they should not hear.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant … stone, lest they should hear the law, and the … words which the LORD of hosts hath sent in his … Spirit q by the former Prophets: therefore came … a great wrath from the LORD of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to passe, that as he … cried, and they would not hear, so they cried, … and I would not hear, saith the LORD of hosts:

14 But I scattered them with a whirlwind … among all the nations whom they knew not. Thus … the land was desolate after them, that no man … passed thorow, nor returned: for they laid the … pleasant land desolate.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The restoration of Jerusalem. 9 They are encouraged to the building by Gods favour to them. 16 Good works are required of them. 18 Joy and inlargement are promised.

AGain the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, I was jealous for Zion with great jealousie: and I was [a] jealous for her with great fury.

[a] Chap. 1.14.

3 Thus saith the LORD, I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth, and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, the holy mountain.

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; There shall yet old men, and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man with his staffe in his hand [b] for very age.

[b] Heb. for multitude of dayes.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boyes and girles playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these dayes, should it also be [c] marvellous in my eyes, saith the LORD of hosts?

[c] Or, hard, or difficult.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, behold, I will save my people from the East countrey, and from the [d] West countrey.

[d] Heb. the going of the sun.

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousnesse.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these dayes these words by the mouth of the Prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the Temple might be built.

10 For before these dayes there was no [e] hire for man, nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out, or came in, because of the affliction; for I set all men, every one against his neighbour.

[e] Heb. a hire of man and hire of beast.

11 But now I will not be unto the residue of this people as in the former dayes, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 For the seed shall be [f] prosperous; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew, and I will cause the remnant of this people to possesse all these things.

[f] Heb. of peace.

13 And it shall come to passe that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: feare not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, as I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not:

15 So again have I thought in these dayes to do well unto Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah: feare ye not.

16 ¶ These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; [g] execute the judgement of truth and peace in your gates.

[g] Heb. Judge.

17 And let none of you imagine evill in your hearts against his neighbour, and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

18 ¶ And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth moneth, to the house of Judah joy and gladnesse, and cheerfull [h] feasts; therefore love the truth and peace.

[h] Heb. solemnities.

20 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, It shall yet come to passe, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities.

21 And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, [i] Let us go speedily to pray before the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also.

[i] Heb. going, we will go.

22 Yea, many people, and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the LORD.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; In those dayes it shall come to passe, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you.

CHAP. IX.

1 God defendeth his Church. 9 The kingdom of Christ, and the glorious effects thereof. 12 Gods promises of mercy and defence.

THE burden of the word of the LORD in the land of Hadrach, and Damascus shall be the rest thereof: when the eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel, shall be toward the LORD.

2 And Hamath also shall border thereby; Tyrus and Zidon, though it be very [a] wise.

[a] Heb. wise exceedingly.

3 And Tyrus did build her self a strong hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, the Lord will cast her out, and he will smite her power in the sea; and she shall be devoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also shall see it, and be very sorrowfull, and Ekron; for her expectation shall be ashamed; and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will take away his [b] blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: but he that remaineth, even he shall be for our God, and he shall be as a governour in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite.

[b] Heb. bloods.

8 And I will encamp about mine house because of the army, because of him that passeth by, and because of him that returneth: and no oppressour shall passe through them any more: for now have I seen with mine eyes.

9 ¶ ¶ Rejoyce greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation, lowly, and riding upon an asse, and upon a colt, the foal of an asse.

10 And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle bowe shall be cut off, and he shall speak peace unto the heathen, and his dominion shall be from sea even to sea, and from the river, even to the ends of the earth.

11 As for thee also, by the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit, wherein is no water.

12 ¶ Turn ye to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope, even to day do I declare that I will render double unto thee;

13 When I have bent Judah for me, filled the bow with Ephraim, and raised up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Grecia, and made thee as the sword of a mighty man.

14 And the LORD shall be seen

…ſtroy all the nations that come against Jeruſalem.

…ſhall ſay in their heart, The inhabitants of Jeruſalem ſhall be my ſtrength in the LORD of hoſts their God.

6 In that day will I make the governors of Judah like a hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a ſheaf; and they ſhall devour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jeruſalem ſhall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jeruſalem.

7 The LORD alſo ſhall ſave the tents of Judah firſt, that the glory of the houſe of David, and the glory of the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, do not magnify themſelves againſt Judah.

8 In that day ſhall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jeruſalem; and he that is feeble among them at that day ſhall be as David; and the houſe of David ſhall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them.

9 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that I will ſeek to deſtroy all the nations that come againſt Jeruſalem.

10 And I will pour upon the houſe of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, the ſpirit of grace and of ſupplications: and they ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they ſhall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only ſon, and ſhall be in bitterneſs for him, as one that is in bitterneſs for his firſtborn.

11 In that day ſhall there be a great mourning in Jeruſalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the land ſhall mourn, every family apart; the family of the houſe of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the houſe of Nathan apart, and their wives apart;

13 The family of the houſe of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of Shimei apart, and their wives apart;

14 All the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

CHAP. XIII.

A fountain opened for ſin and uncleanneſs. 2 The deſtruction of idols, falſe prophets, and unclean ſpirits. 7 Chriſt ſmitten. 8 The deſtruction of two parts of the land. 9 The third part refined.

IN that day there ſhall be a fountain opened to the houſe of David and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem for ſin and for uncleanneſs.

2 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they ſhall no more be remembered: and alſo I will cauſe the prophets and the unclean ſpirit to paſs out of the land.

3 And it ſhall come to paſs, that when any ſhall yet prophecy, then his father and his mother that begat him ſhall ſay unto him, Thou ſhalt not live; for thou ſpeakeſt lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him ſhall thruſt him through when he prophecieth.

4 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the prophets ſhall be aſhamed every one of his viſion, when he hath prophecied; neither ſhall they wear a rough garment to deceive:

5 But he ſhall ſay, I am no prophet, I am an huſbandman; for man taught me to keep cattle from my youth.

6 And one ſhall ſay unto him, What are theſe wounds in thine hands? Then he ſhall anſwer, Thoſe with which I was wounded in the houſe of my friends.

7 ¶ Awake, O ſword, againſt my ſhepherd, and againſt the man that is my fellow, ſaith the LORD of hoſts: ſmite the ſhepherd, and the ſheep ſhall be ſcattered: and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones.

8 And it ſhall come to paſs, that in all the land, ſaith the LORD, two parts therein ſhall be cut off and die; but the third ſhall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as ſilver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they ſhall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will ſay, It is my people: and they ſhall ſay, The LORD is my God.

CHAP. XIV.

1 The deſtruction of Jeruſalem. 3 The LORD ſhall fight againſt the nations. 6 The glorious kingdom of Chriſt. 12 The plague of the enemies of Jeruſalem.

BEHOLD, the day of the LORD cometh, and thy ſpoil ſhall be divided in the midſt of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations againſt Jeruſalem to battle; and the city ſhall be taken, and the houſes rifled, and the women raviſhed; and half of the city ſhall go forth into captivity, and the reſidue of the people ſhall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then ſhall the LORD go forth, and fight againſt thoſe nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

4 And his feet ſhall ſtand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jeruſalem on the eaſt, and the mount of Olives ſhall cleave in the midſt thereof toward the eaſt and toward the weſt, and there ſhall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain ſhall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the ſouth.

5 And ye ſhall flee to the valley of the mountains; for the valley of the mountains ſhall reach unto Azal: yea, ye ſhall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD my God ſhall come, and all the ſaints with thee.

6 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the light ſhall not be clear, nor dark:

7 But it ſhall be one day which ſhall be known to the LORD, not day, nor night: but it ſhall come to paſs, that at evening time it ſhall be light.

8 And it ſhall be in that day, that living waters ſhall go out from Jeruſalem; half of them toward the former ſea, and half of them toward the hinder ſea: in ſummer and in winter ſhall it be.

9 And the LORD ſhall be king over all the earth: in that day ſhall there be one LORD, and his name one.

10 All the land ſhall be turned as a plain from Geba to Rimmon ſouth of Jeruſalem: and it ſhall be lifted up, and inhabited in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the firſt gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananeel unto the king's winepreſſes.

11 And men ſhall dwell in it, and there ſhall be no more utter deſtruction; but Jeruſalem ſhall be ſafely inhabited.

12 And this ſhall be the plague wherewith the LORD will ſmite all the people that have fought againſt Jeruſalem; Their fleſh ſhall conſume away while they ſtand upon their feet, and their eyes ſhall conſume away in their holes, and their tongue ſhall conſume away in their mouth.

13 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, a great tumult from the LORD ſhall be among them; and they ſhall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand ſhall riſe up againſt the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Judah alſo ſhall fight at Jeruſalem; and the wealth of all the heathen round about ſhall be gathered together, gold, and ſilver, and apparel, in great abundance.

15 And ſo ſhall be the plague of the horſe, of the mule, of the camel, and of the aſs, and of all the beaſts that ſhall be in thoſe tents, as this plague.

16 And it ſhall come to paſs, that every one that is left of all the nations which came againſt Jeruſalem ſhall even go up from year to year to worſhip the King, the LORD of hoſts, and to keep the feaſt of tabernacles.

17 And it ſhall be, that whoſo will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jeruſalem to worſhip the King, the LORD of hoſts, even upon them ſhall be no rain.

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, that have no rain; there ſhall be the plague wherewith the LORD will ſmite the heathen that come not up to keep the feaſt of tabernacles.

19 This ſhall be the ſin of Egypt, and the ſin of all nations that come not up to keep the feaſt of tabernacles.

20 In that day ſhall there be upon the bells of the horſes, HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the LORD's houſe ſhall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yea, every pot in Jeruſalem and in Judah ſhall be holineſs unto the LORD of hoſts: and all they that ſacrifice ſhall come and take of them, and ſeethe therein: and in that day there ſhall be no more the Canaanite in the houſe of the LORD of hoſts.

2 ¶ And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the LORD, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness, and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the governours of Judah shall say in their heart, a The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.

6 ¶ In that day will I make the governours of Judah like a hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf, and they shall devour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David, and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem do not magnifie themselves against Judah.

8 In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that is b feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the Angel of the LORD before them.

9 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will powre upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the spirit of grace and of supplications, and they shall c look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first born.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the d mourning of e Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the land shall mourn, f every family apart, the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart:

13 The family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of Shimei apart, and their wives apart:

14 All the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The fountain of purgation for Jerusalem, 2 from idolatry and false prophecie. 7 the death of Christ, and the ruin of a third part.

1 IN that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sinne, and for b uncleanesse.

2 ¶ And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will b cut off the names of the idols out of the land: and they shall no more be remembred: and also I will cause the prophets, and the unclean spirit to passe out of the land.

3 And it shall come to passe that when any shall yet prophesie, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live:
for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD:
and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

4 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the Prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied; neither shall they wear a a rough garment to deceive.

5 But he shall say, I am no husbandman: for man taught me from my youth.

6 And one shall say unto him, wounds in thine hands? Then he Those with which I was wounded in my friends.

7 ¶ Awake, O sword, against my against the man that is my fellow, of hosts; I smite the shepherd, and the be scattered, and I will turn mine hand little ones.

8 And it shall come to passe, that land, saith the LORD, two parts there cut off, and die, but the third shall be 9 And I will bring the third part th fire, and will refine them as silver is and will try them as gold is tried:
call on my name, and I will hear them:
It is my people: and they shall say, The my God.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The destruction of Jerusalem discovered. 4 The coming of Christ, and the graces of his kingdom. 16 The plague of Jerusalems enemies. 16 They shall turn to the Lord, 20 and their whole holy.

BEhold, the day of the LORD cometh, spoil shall be divided in the midst 2 For I will gather all nations against to battell, and the city shall be taken, and rifled, and the women ravished; and city shall go forth into captivity, and of the people shall not be cut off from 3 Then shall the LORD go forth against those nations, as when he fought in of battell.

4 ¶ And his feet shall stand in that day mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem East, and the mount of Olives shall cleave midst thereof toward the East, and toward West, and there shall be a very great valley; half of the mountain shall remove toward
North, and half of it toward the South.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of my tains: for the valley of the mountains the light shall not be clear, nor dark.

7 But it shall be one day which shall be known to the LORD, not day nor night: but it shall come to passe, that at evening time it shall be light.

8 And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And the LORD shall be King over all the earth: in that day shall there be one LORD, and his name one.

¶ MALACHI.

CHAP. I.

...complaineth of Israels unkindnesse, 6 of ...ingratitude, 12 and of prophanesse.

...The burden of the word of the LORD to ... Israel by [a] Malachi.

...I have loved you, saith the LORD: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? ... was not Jacob brother, saith the LORD? yet ... Jacob,

...And I hated Esau, and laid his mountains and ... heritage waste, for the dragons of the wil...

...Whereas Edom saith, We are impoverished, ... will return and build the desolate places; ... saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, ... I will throw down; and they shall call them, ... The border of wickednesse, and the people against ... the LORD hath indignation for ever.

...And your eies shall see, and ye shall say; ... The LORD will be magnified [b] from the border ...

...A sonne honoureth his father, and a servant ... his master. If then I be a father, where is mine ... honour? and if I be a master, where is my feare, ... saith the LORD of hosts, unto you, O Priests, that ... despise my Name? and ye say, Wherein have we ... despised thy Name?

...Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; ... and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ... ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible.

...And if ye offer the blinde [c] for sacrifice, is it ... not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not ... evil? offer it now unto thy governour; will he ... be pleased with thee, or accept thy person, saith ... the LORD of hosts?

...And now I pray you, beseech [d] God, that he ... will be gracious unto us: this hath been by your ... means: will he regard your persons, saith the ... LORD of hosts?

...Who is there even among you that would ... shut the doores for nought? neither do ye kindle ... fire on mine Altar for nought. I have no pleasure ... in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I ... accept a offering at your hand.

...For from the rising of the Sunne, even unto ... the going down of the same my Name shall be ... great among the Gentiles, and in every place ... incense shall be offered unto my Name, and a pure ... offering: for my Name shall be great among the heathen, saith the LORD of hosts.

...But ye have prophaned it, in that ye say, The ... table of the LORD is polluted, and the fruit thereof, ... even his meate, is contemptible.

...Ye said also, Behold, what a wearinesse is it! ... and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; ... and ye brought that which was torne, and the lame, ... and the sick; thus ye brought an offering: should ... I accept this of your hand, saith the LORD?

...But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in ... his flock a male, and vowe, and sacrificeth unto ... the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, ... saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is dreadfull ... among the heathen.

CHAP. II.

...sharply reproveth the Priests, for violating their ... covenant, 11 and the people for idolatry, 13 for ... adultery, 17 and blasphemy.

...And now, O ye Priests, this commandement is ... for you.

...If ye will not heare, and if ye will not lay it ... to heart, to give glory unto my Name, saith the ... LORD of hosts, I will even send a [a] curse upon ... you, & I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed ... them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

...Behold, I will corrupt your seed, and spread ... dung upon your faces, even the dung of your ... solemn feasts, and one shall take you away with it.

...The law of truth was in his mouth, and ... iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with ... me in peace and equity, and did turn many away ... from iniquity.

...For the Priests lips should keep knowledge, ... and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is ... the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

...But ye are departed out of the way; ye have ... caused many to stumble at the law: ye have corrupted ... the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

...Therefore have I also made you contemptible ... and base before all the people, according as ye have ye have not kept my wayes, but [a] have been partiall in the Law.

10 [b] Have we not all one Father? hath not one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the Covenant of our fathers?

11 ¶ Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: for Judah hath profaned the holinesse of the LORD which [c] he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The LORD will cut off the man that doth this: the [d] master and the scholer out of the Tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, covering the Altar of the LORD with teares, with weeping and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 ¶ Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witnesse between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously; yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had he the [e] residue of the spirit: and wherefore one? That he might seek [f] a godly seed: therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deale [g] treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16 For the LORD the God of Israel saith, that [h] he hateth [i] putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts; therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

17 ¶ Ye have wearied the LORD with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? when ye say, Every one that doeth evill [k] good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them, or where is the God of judgement?

CHAP. III.

1 Of the Messenger, Majestie, and grace of Christ. 7 Of the rebellion, 8 sacrilege, 13 and infidelity of the people. 16 The promise of blessing to them that fear God.

BEhold, I [k] will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the LORD, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his Temple: even the messenger of the Covenant, whom ye delight in: Behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.

2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiners fire, and like fullers sope.

3 And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purifie the sonnes of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousnesse.

4 Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the daies of old, and as in [l] former yeers.

5 And I will come neere to you to judgement, and I will be a [m] swift witnesse against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that [n] oppresse the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherlesse, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and feare not me, saith the LORD of hosts.

6 For I am the LORD, I change not: therefore ye sonnes of Jacob are not consumed.

7 ¶ Even from the daies of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them: [a] return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. Wherein shall we return?

8 ¶ Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse; for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the [o] windows of heaven, and powre you out a blessing, that there shall not be roome enough to receive it.

11 And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes: and he shall not [q] destroy the fruits of your ground, neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the LORD of hosts.

13 ¶ Your words have been [r] stout against me, saith the LORD: yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?

14 Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it, that we have kept [s] his ordinance, and that we have walked [t] mourafully before the LORD of hosts?

15 And now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickednesse [u] are set up; yea, they [x] tempt God are even delivered.

16 ¶ Then they that feared the LORD spake often one to another, and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a booke of remembrance was written before him, for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his Name.

17 And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

18 Then shall ye return, and discerne between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God, and him that serveth him not.

CHAP. IIII.

1 God's judgement on the wicked: 2 and his mercy to the good. 4 He exhorteth to the study of the Law, and teacheth of Elijahs coming and office.

FOr behold, the day cometh that shall burne as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly shall be stubble: and the day that cometh, shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 ¶ But unto you that feare my Name shall the [y] Sunne of righteousnesse arise with healing in his wings, and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 ¶ Remember ye the [z] Law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the Statutes and Judgements.

5 ¶ Behold, I will send you [a] Elijah the Prophet, before the coming of the great and terrible day of the LORD.

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

CHAP. I.

Iosias his charge to the Priests and Levites. 7 A great Passover is kept. 32 His death is greatly lamented. 34 His successours. 53 The Temple, city, and people are destroyed. 56 The rest are carried into Babylon.

AND Iosias held the [a] feast of the Passeover in Ierusalem unto his Lord, and offered the Passeover the fourteenth day of the first moneth:

2 Having set the Priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in long garments, in the Temple of the Lord.

3 And he spake unto the Levites, the holy Ministers of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy Ark of the Lord in the house that King Solomon the sonne of David had built:

4 And said, Ye shall no more bear the Ark upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your families and kindreds:

5 According as David the King of Israel prescribed, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his sonne: and standing in the Temple according to the severall dignity of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel.

6 Offer the Passeover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the Passeover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses.

7 And unto the people that was found there, Iosias gave thirty thousand lambes, and kids, and three thousand calves: these things were given of the Kings allowance, according as he promised to the people, to the Priests, and to the Levites.

8 And Helkias, Zacharias, and [b] Sielus the governours of the Temple, gave to the Priests for the Passeover, two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves.

9 And Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Asabias, and Ochiel, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the Passeover five thousand sheep, and [c] seven hundred calves.

10 And when these things were done, the Priests and Levites, having the unleavened bread, stood in very comely order according to the kinreds, 11 And according to the severall dignities of the fathers, before the people, to offer to the Lord, as is written in the book of Moses: [d] And thus they in the morning.

12 And they rosted the Passeover with fire, as appertaineth: as for the sacrifices, they sod them in brasse pots and pans [e] with a good savour.

13 And set them before all the people, and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the Priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

15 The holy singers also, the sonnes of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of [f] David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Jedithun, who was [g] of the Kings retinue.

16 Moreover, the porters were at every gate: it was not lawfull for any to go from his ordinary service: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

17 Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, that they might hold the Passeover, 18 And offer sacrifices upon the Altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of King Iosias.

19 So the children of Israel which were present, held the Passeover at that time, and the feast of sweet bread seven dayes.

20 And such a Passeover was not kept in Israel since the time of the Prophet Samuel:

21 Yea all the Kings of Israel held not such a Passeover as Iosias, and the Priests, and the Levites, and the Jews held with all Israel that [h] were found dwelling at Ierusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yeer of the reign of Iosias was this Passeover kept.

23 And the works of Iosias were upright before his Lord, with an heart full of godlinesse.

24 As for the things that came to passe in his time, they were written in former times concerning those that sinned, and [i] did wickedly against the Lord above all people and kingdoms, and how they grieved him [k] exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord rose up against Israel.

25 [l] Now after all these acts of Iosias, it came to passe, that Pharaoh the King of Egypt came up to raise warre at Carchamis upon Euphrates: and Iosias went out against him.

26 But the King of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O King of Iudea?

27 I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee: for my warre is upon Euphrates: and now the Lord is with me, who is hasting me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

28 Howbeit Iosias did not turn back his chariot from from him, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the Prophet Jeremie, spoken by the mouth of the Lord:

29 But joyned battell with him in the plain of Megiddo, & the princes came against king Josias.

30 Then said the King unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battell, for I am very weak: and immediately his servants took him away out of the battell.

31 Then gat he up upon his second chariot, and being brought back to Jerusalem, died, and was buried in his fathers sepulchre.

32 And in all Jury they mourned for Josias, yea, Jeremy the Prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel.

33 These things are written in the book of the stories of the Kings of Judah, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the Law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the books of the Kings of Israel and Judea.

34 ¶ And the people took Joachas the sonne of Josias, and made him King in stead of Josias his father, when he was twenty and three yeers old.

35 And he reigned in Judea, and in Jerusalem three moneths: and then the King of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem.

36 And he set a tax upon the land of an hundred talents of silver, and one talent of gold.

37 Then the King of Egypt also made King Joacim his brother King of Judea and Jerusalem.

38 And he bound Joacim and the nobles: but Zarazes his brother he apprehended, and brought him out of Egypt.

39 Five and twenty yeers old was Joacim, when he was made King in the land of Judea and Jerusalem, and he did evill before the Lord.

40 Wherefore against him Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brasse, and carried him unto Babylon.

41 Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them in his own temple at Babylon.

42 But those things that are recorded of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the Chronicles of the Kings.

43 And Joasim his sonne reigned in his stead: he was made King being eighteen yeers old, 44 And reigned but three moneths and ten dayes in Jerusalem, and did evill before the Lord.

45 Wherefore a yeer Nabuchodonosor sent, and caused him to be brought into Babylon, with the holy vessels of the Lord,

46 And made Zedechias King of Judea and Jerusalem, when he was one and twenty yeers old, and he reigned eleven yeers:

47 And he did evill also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the words that were spoken unto him by the Prophet Jeremy from the mouth of the Lord.

48 And after that King Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forswore himself, and rebelled, and hardening his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the Laws of the Lord God of Israel.

49 The governours also of the people, and of the Priests, did many things against the Laws, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the Temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem.

50 Neverthelesse, the God of [illegible] by his messenger to call them [illegible] spared them, and his Tabernacle

51 But they had his messengers in [illegible] look when the Lord spake [illegible] a sport of his Prophets,

52 So farre forth, that he being [illegible] people for their great ungodliness, [illegible] the kings of the Caldees to come up, 53 Who slew their young men with [illegible] yea, even within the compasse of their [illegible] ple, and spared neither young man nor [illegible] man nor childe among them, for he delivered [illegible] into their hands.

54 And they took all the holy vessels of [illegible] Lord, both great and small, with the vessels [illegible] Ark of God, and the Kings treasures, and [illegible] them away into Babylon.

55 As for the house of the Lord, they burnt [illegible] brake down the walls of Jerusalem, set fire [illegible] her towers.

56 And as for her glorious things, [illegible] ceased, till they had consumed and [illegible] all to nought, and the people that [illegible] with the sword, he carried unto Babylon.

57 Who became servants to him and [illegible] dren, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil [illegible] of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of [illegible]

58 Untill the land had enjoyed her [illegible] the whole time of her desolation [illegible] untill the full term of seventy yeers.

CHAP. II.

1 Cyrus is moved by God to build the Temple. 5 Gruath leave to the Jews to return and to it. 11 His adversaries write the King 16 been taken thence. 25 Artaxerxes [illegible] Jews to build any more.

IN the first yeer of Cyrus King of the [illegible] that the word of the Lord might be [illegible] pilished, that he had promised by the [illegible] Jeremy:

2 The Lord raised up the spirit of [illegible] King of the Persians, and he made [illegible] throw all his kingdome, and did [illegible]

3 Saying, This saith Cyrus King [illegible] ans, The Lord of Israel, the most high [illegible] made me King of the whole world.

4 And commanded me to build him [illegible] at Jerusalem in Jury.

5 If therefore there be any of you that [illegible] his people, let the Lord, even his Lord [illegible] him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that [illegible] dea, and build the house of the Lord [illegible] for he is the Lord that dwelleth in Jerusalem.

6 Whosoever then dwelleth in the [illegible] let them help him, those I say, that are [illegible] bours, with gold and with silver,

7 With gifts, with horses, and with [illegible] other things which have been [illegible] for the Temple of the Lord at Jerusalem.

8 ¶ Then the chief of the families [illegible] of the tribes of Benjamin stood up, [illegible] also and the Levites, and all they whose [illegible] Lord had moved to go up, and to build [illegible] for the Lord at Jerusalem,

9 And they that dwelt round about [illegible] helped them in all things with [illegible] with 8 horses and camels, and with [illegible] gifts of a great number, whose minds [illegible] red up thereto.

10 King Cyrus also brought forth [illegible] sels which Nabuchodonosor had [illegible] Jerusalem, and had set up in his [illegible]

11 Now when Cyrus King of [illegible]

2 Kings 23.30. Zachron. 36.1.

2 Chro. 36.4. Eliakim.

...ought them forth, he delivered them to Mithredath his treasurer:

12 And by him they were delivered to [a] Sanabassarus governour of Judea.

13 And this was the number of them, a thousand golden cups, and a thousand of silver, [b] censers of silver twenty nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver [c] two thousand four hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of gold and of silver, which were carried away, were [d] five thousand four hundred threescore and nine.

15 These were brought back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 [e] But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and [f] Rathumus, & Beeltethmus, and [g] Semellius the Secretary, with others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Judea and Jerusalem, these letters following.

17 To his Lord Artaxerxes our lord, Thy servants Rathumus the story-writer, and Semellius the Scribe, and the rest of their councill, and the Judges that are in Cœlosyria and Phenice.

18 Be it now known to the lord the King, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come into Jerusalem, that rebellious and wicked city do build the market places, and repair the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of the Temple.

19 Now if this city, and the walls thereof be builded up again, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but also rebell against Kings.

20 And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the Temple, are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter,

21 But to speak unto our lord the King, to the end that if it be thy pleasure, it may be sought in the books of thy fathers:

22 And thou shalt finde in the Chronicles, what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling Kings and cities:

23 And that the Jews were rebellious, and raised wars therein, for the which cause even the city was made desolate.

24 Wherefore now we do declare unto thee (O lord the King) that if this city be built again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from hereforth have no passage into Cœlosyria and Phenice.

25 Then the King wrote back again to Rathumus the story-writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the Scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this manner:

26 I have read the Epistle which ye have sent unto me; therefore I commanded to make diligent search, and it hath been found that that city of old time from the beginning practising against kings, 27 And the men therein were given to rebellion and war, and that mighty Kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tributes in Cœlosyria and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be no more done in it, 29 And that those wicked works proceed no further to the annoyance of Kings.

30 Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Semellius the Scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste towards Jerusalem with a troop of horsemen and a great multitude of people in battell array, began to hinder the building: and the building of the Temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

CHAP. IV.

1 Three strive to count each other in wisedom. 9 They recount themselves to the forwardness of the King. 10 The first declareth the strength of wine.

NOw when Darius reigned, he made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all his household, and unto all the Princes of Media and Persia,

2 And to all his Captains and Colonels and Lieutenants that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, of an hundred twenty and seven provinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunken that being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the King went into his bed-chamber, and slept, and soon after awaked.

4 Then three young men that were of the guard, that kept the Kings body, spake one to another:

5 Let every one of us speak a sentence; he shall overcome, and whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall king Darius give great gifts, and great things in token of victory:

6 As to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and an head tire of fine linen, and a chain about his neck:

7 And he shall sit next to Darius because of his wisedome, and shall be called [illegible]

8 And then every one wrote his sentence, and sealed it, and laid it under king Darius pillow,

9 And said, that when the king is risen up, they will give him the writings, and whose sentence the King, and the three Princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is wisest, unto him shall the victory be given, as was appointed before.

10 The first wrote: Wine is strongest.

11 The second wrote: The King is strongest.

12 The third wrote: Women are strongest, but above all things truth beareth the victory.

13 [illegible] when the King arose, they took their writings, and gave them unto him, and so he read their sentences,

14 And sending forth, he called all the princes of Persia, and the [illegible] and the governours, and captains that were under him,

15 And [illegible] judgement seat, and the [illegible] them:

16 And [illegible] shall declare [illegible] called, and [illegible]

17 And he [illegible] minde concerning [illegible] sect, who had spoken

18 And he said thus, [illegible] strong is wine? he caused [illegible] drink it:

19 It maketh the minde of the King, and all the husbandmans childe to be all one: of the freeman, of the servant, and of the poor man: so it turneth also every thought into mirth, so that a man remembreth neither sorrow nor debt:

21 And it [illegible] every heart glad, so that [illegible] remember [illegible] nor [illegible] make [illegible]

22 And when they [illegible] their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw out swords?

23 But when they are from the wine, they remember not what they have done.

24 O ye men, is not wine the strongest, that enforceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The second declareth the power of a King. 14 The third the force of women, 33 and of truth. 41 The third is judged to be wisest. 47 and obtaineth letters of the King to build Jerusalem. 58 He praiseth God, and sheweth his brethren what he had done.

THen the second that had spoken of the strength of the King, began to say;

2 O ye men, do not men excell in strength, that a bear rule over sea and land, and all things in them?

a Or, have the command.

3 But yet the King is more mighty: for he is lord of all these things, and hath dominion over them, whatsoever he commandeth them, they do:

4 If he bid them make warre the one against the other, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they go and break down mountains, walls and towers:

5 They slay and are slain, and transgresse not the Kings commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the King, as well the spoil as all things else.

6 Likewise for those that are no souldiers, and have not to do with warres, but use husbandry: when they have reaped again that which they had sowne, they bring it to the King, and compell one another to pay tribute unto the King.

7 And yet he is but one man: if he command to kill, they kill: if he command to spare, they spare;

8 If he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate, if he command to build, they build.

9 If he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant.

10 So all his people and his armies obey him; furthermore, he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest.

11 And these keep (watch) round about him, neither b may any one depart, and do his own businesse, neither disobey they him in any thing.

b Or, can.

12 O ye men, how should not the King be mightiest, when in such sort he is obeyed? and he held his tongue.

13 ¶ Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of the Truth, (this was Zorobabel) began to speak.

14 O ye men, it is not the great King, nor the multitude of men, neither is it wine that c excelleth; who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them, are they not women?

c Heb. is of strength.

15 Women have borne the King, and all the people that beare rule by sea and land.

16 Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards from whence the wine cometh.

17 These also make garments for men: these bring glory unto men, and without women cannot men be.

18 Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver, or any other goodly thing, do they not love a woman which is comely in favour and beauty?

19 And letting all those things go, do they not gape and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast upon her; and have not all men more desire unto her, then unto silver or gold, or any goodly thing whatsoever?

20 A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife.

21 He sticks not to spend his life with his wife, and remembreth neither father nor mother, nor country.

22 By this also you must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to the woman?

23 Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to rob, and to steal, to sail upon the sea, and upon rivers;

24 And looketh upon a lion, and goeth in the darknesse, and when he hath stollen, spoiled and robbed, he bringeth it to his love.

25 Wherefore a man loveth his wife better then father and mother.

26 Yea many there be that have d run out of their wits for women, and become servants for their sakes:

d Or, gone mad.

27 Many also have perished, have erred, and sinned for women.

28 And now do ye not believe me? Is not the King great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him?

29 Yet did I see him, and Apame the King concubine, the daughter of the admirable Dracut, sitting at the right hand of the King, 30 And taking the crown from the King's head, and setting it upon her own head; she also smote the King with her left hand.

31 And yet e for all this, the King gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took displeasure at him, the King was fain to flatter, that she might f be reconciled to him again.

e Or, for.

f Or, be reconciled.

32 O ye men, how can it be but women must be strong, seeing they do thus?

33 Then the King and the Princes looked one upon another: So he began to speak of the Truth.

34 O ye men, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sunne in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one day.

35 Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is the Truth, and stronger than all things.

36 All the earth g calleth upon the Truth, and the heaven blesseth it, all works shake and tremble at it, and with it is no unrighteous thing.

g Or, is called upon.

37 Wine is wicked, the King is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, and such are all their wicked works, and there is no truth in them. In their unrighteousness also they shall perish.

38 As for the truth it endureth, and is always strong, it liveth and conquereth for evermore.

39 With her there is no accepting of persons or rewards, but she doth the things that are just, and refraineth from all unjust and wicked things, and all men do well like of her works.

40 Neither in her judgement is there any unrighteousnesse, and she is the strength, kingdom, power and majesty of all ages. Blessed be the God of Truth.

41 And with that he held his peace: and all the people then shouted, and said, Great is Truth, and mighty above all things.

42 Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt, more than is appointed in the writing, and we will give it thee, because thou art found wisest, and thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my cousin.

CHAP. V.

4 The names and number of the Jews that returned home. 50 That Aliar is set up in his place. 57 The foundations of the Temple is laid. 73 The work is hindred for a time.

AFter this were the principall men of the families chosen according to their tribes, to go up with their wives, and sons, and daughters, with their men-servants, and maid-servants, and their cattell.

2 And Darius sent with them a thousand horsemen, till they had brought them back to Jerusalem safely, and with musicall [instruments] cabrets and flutes:

3 And all their brethren played, and he made them go up together with them.

4 And these are the names of the men which went up according to their families, amongst their Tribes, after their severall heads.

5 The Priests the sons of Phinees, the sonne of Aaron: Jesus the sonne of Josedec, the sonne of Saraias, and [c] Joachim the son of Zorobabel, the son of Salathiel of the house of David, out of the kindred of Pharez of the tribe of Judah:

6 [d] Who spake wise sentences before Darius the king of Persia, in the second yeer of his reign, in the moneth Nisan, which is the first moneth.

7 And these are they of Jury that came up from the captivity where they dwelt as strangers, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had carried away unto Babylon:

8 And they returned unto Jerusalem, and to the other parts of Jury, every man to his own city, who came with Zorobabel, with Jesus, Nehemias, and [e] Zacharias, and Reesaias, Enenius, Mardochreus, Beelsarus, [f] Aspharasus, [g] Reelius, Roimus, and Baana their guides.

9 The number of them of the nation, and their governors: sonnes of [h] Phoros, two thousand, an hundred seventy and two: the sons of [i] Saphat, four hundred seventy and two:

10 The sons of Area, seven hundred [k] and six:

11 The sonnes of Phaath-Moab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve:

12 The sonnes of Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four: the sonnes of [l] Zathui, nine hundred fourty and five: the sonnes of [m] Caebus, seven hundred and five: the sonnes of Bani, six hundred fourty and eight:

13 The sons of Bebai, six hundred twenty and three: the sonnes of [n] Sadas, three thousand two hundred twenty and two:

14 The sons of Adonicam, six hundred sixty and seven: the sonnes of [o] Bagoi, two thousand fifty and six: the sons of Adin, four hundred fifty and four:

15 The sonnes of [p] Aterezias, ninety and two: the sonnes of Ceilan, and Azetas, threescore and seven: the sons of Azaran, four hundred thirty and two:

16 The sons of Annias, an hundred and one: the sonnes of Arom, thirty two, and the sonnes of [q] Bassa, three hundred twenty and three: the sons of Azephurith, an hundred and two:

17 The sonnes of Meterus, three thousand and five: the sons of [r] Bethlomon, an hundred twenty and three.

18 They of Netophah, fifty and five: they of Anathoth, an hundred fifty and eight: they of [s] Bethsimon, fourty and two:

19 They of [t] Kiriathiarim, seventy and five: they of Caphira, and Beroth, seven hundred fourty and three: they of Pyra, seven hundred:

13 Then said he unto the King, Remember thy vow which thou hast vowed, to build Jerusalem in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, 44 And to send away all the vessels that were taken away out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to send them again thither.

45 Thou also hast vowed to build up the Temple which the Edomites burnt when Judea was made desolate by the Caldees.

46 And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality proceeding from thy self: I desire therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof with thine own mouth thou hast vowed to the King of heaven.

47 Then Darius the King stood up, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers, and lieutenants, and captains, and governours, that they should safely convey on their way, both him, and all those that go up with him to build Jerusalem.

48 He wrote letters also unto the Lieutenants that were in Cœlosyria and Phenice, and unto them in Libanus, that they should bring Cedar wood from Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him.

49 Moreover, he wrote for all the Jews that went out of his realm up into Jury, concerning their freedome, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor [a] treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors,

50 And that all the country which they hold, should be free without tribute, and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews, which then they held,

51 Yea, that there should be yeerly given twenty talents to the building of the Temple, untill the time that it were built,

52 And other ten talents yeerly to maintain the burnt offerings upon the Altar every day (as they had a commandment to offer seventeen)

53 And that all they that went from Babylon to build the city, should have free liberty, as well they as their posterity, and all the Priests that went away.

54 He wrote also concerning the charges, and the Priests vestments wherein they minister:

55 And likewise for the charges of the Levites, that were given them, untill the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up.

56 And he commanded to give to all that kept city, [b] pensions and wages.

57 He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, that Cyrus had set apart, and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.

58 Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven toward Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven, 59 And said, From thee cometh victory, from thee cometh wisedome, and thine is the glory, and I am thy servant.

60 Blessed art thou who hast given me wisedome: for to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers.

61 And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren.

62 And they praised the God of their fathers: because he had given them freedome and liberty, 63 To go up and to build Jerusalem, and the temple which is called by his Name, and they played with instruments of musick and gladnesse seven dayes.

20 They of Chadias and Ammidioi, four hundred twenty and two: they of r Cyramis, and ſ Gabdes, ſix hundred twenty and one:

21 They of t Macalon, an hundred twenty and two: they of u Betolius, fiftie and two: the ſons of x Nephis, an hundred fiftie and ſix.

22 The ſons of y Calamolalus and Onus, ſeven hundred twenty and five: the ſons of Jerechus, two hundred fourty and five:

25 The ſonnes of c Phaſſaron, a thouſand fourty and ſeven: the ſons of d Carme, e a thouſand and ſeventeen.

26 The Levites: the ſons of f Jeſſue, and Cadmiel, and Banuas, and Sudias, ſeventy and four.

27 The holy ſingers: the ſonnes of Aſaph, an hundred twenty and eight.

28 The porters: the ſons of g Salum, the ſonnes of h Jatal, the ſonnes of Talmon, the ſons of i Dacobi, the ſonnes of k Teta, the ſonnes of l Sami, in all an hundred thirty and nine.

29 The ſervants of the Temple: the ſonnes of m Eſau, the ſonnes of n Aſipha, the ſonnes of Tabaoth, the ſonnes of o Ceras, the ſonnes of p Sud, the ſonnes of q Phaleas, the ſonnes of Labana, the ſonnes of r Graba;

33 The ſonnes of the ſervants of Solomon: the ſonnes of u Azaphion, the ſonnes of x Pharira, the ſonnes of y Joeli, the ſonnes of z Lozon, the ſons of a Iſdael, the ſonnes of b Saphetb:

34 The ſonnes of c Hagia, the ſonnes of d Phacareth, the ſonnes of Sabie, the ſonnes of Sarothie, the ſonnes of Maſias, the ſonnes of Gar, the ſonnes of Addus, the ſonnes of Suba, the ſonnes of Apherra, the ſonnes of Barodis, the ſonnes of Saban, the ſonnes of Allom.

35 All the miniſters of the Temple, and the ſons of the ſervants of Solomon, were three hundred ſeventy and two.

36 Theſe came up from Thermeleth, and Thelerſas, Charaathlar leading them, and Addan, 37 Neither could they ſhew their families, nor their ſtock, how they were of Iſrael: the ſonnes of Ladan, the ſonnes of Ban, the ſons of Nedodan, ſix hundred fifty and two.

39 And when the deſcription of the kindreds of theſe men was ſought in the regiſter, and not found, they were removed from executing the office of the Prieſthood.

40 For unto them ſaid Nehemias, and Athorias, that they ſhould not be partakers of the holy things, till there aroſe up an high Prieſt clothed with doctrine and truth.

41 So of Iſrael from them of twelve years old and upward, they were all in number fourty thouſand, beſides men ſervants and women-ſervants, two thouſand three hundred and ſixty.

42 Their men ſervants, and hand-maids were ſeven thouſand three hundred fourty and ſeven: the ſinging men, and ſinging women two hundred fourty and five.

43 Four hundred thirty and five camels, ſeven thouſand thirty and ſix horſes, two hundred forty and five mules, five thouſand ſix hundred twenty and five beaſts uſed to the yoke.

44 And certain of the chief of their kindreds when they came to the Temple of God that is in Jeruſalem, vowed to ſet up the houſe again in his own place accordling to their ability:

45 And to give into the holy treaſury of the works a thouſand pounds of gold, five thouſand of ſilver, and an hundred Prieſtly veſtments.

46 And ſo dwelt the prieſts and the Levites, and the people in Jeruſalem, and in the holy place, and the ſingers alſo, and the porters, and all Iſrael in their villages.

47 But when the ſeventh moneth was at hand, and when the children of Iſrael were every man in his own place, they came all together with one conſent into the open place of the firſt gate, which is towards the Eaſt.

48 Then ſtood up Jeſus, the ſonne of Joſedec, and his brethren the Prieſts, and Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel and his brethren, and made ready the Altar of the God of Iſrael, 49 To offer burnt ſacrifices upon it, according as it is expreſly commanded in the book of Moſes the man of God.

50 And there were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they ſet up the Altar upon his own place, becauſe all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppreſſed them, and they offered ſacrifices according to the time, and burnt offerings to the Lord both morning and evening.

51 Alſo they held the feaſt of Tabernacles, as it is commanded in the Law, and offered ſacrifices daily, as was meet:

52 And after that the continuall ſacrifice, and the ſacrifice of the Sabbaths, and of the new Moons, and of all holy feaſts.

53 And all they that had made vowes unto God, began to offer ſacrifices to God, from the firſt day of the ſeventh moneth, although the Temple of the Lord was not yet built.

54 And they gave unto the maſons, and carpenters, money, meat, and drink, and 55 Unto them of Sidon alſo, and Tyrus, that they ſhould bring Cedar trees from Libanus, which ſhould be brought in floats to the haven of Joppe, according as it was commanded them by Cyrus King of the Perſians.

56. And in the ſecond year and ſecond moneth after his coming to the Temple of God in Jeruſalem, began Zorobabel the ſon of Salathiel, and Jeſus the ſon of Joſedec, and their brethren priests, and the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity.

57 And they laid the foundation of the house of God, in the first day of the second moneth, in the second yeer after they were come to Jury and Jerusalem.

58 [a] And they appointed the Levites, from twenty yeers old, over the works of the Lord. Then stood up Jesus and his sonnes, and brethren, and Cadmiel his brother, and the sons of Madiabun, with the sonnes of Joda the son of Eliadun, with their sonnes and brethren, all Levites with one accord [b] setters forward of the businesse, laboring to advance the works in the house of God. So the workmen built the Temple of the Lord.

59 And the Priests stood arayed in their vestures with musicall instruments, and trumpets, and the Levites the sonnes of Asaph had cymbals, 60 Singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, [c] according as David the king of Israel had ordained.

61 And they sung with loud voices songs to the praise of the Lord: because his mercy and glory is for ever in all Israel.

62 And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voyce, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord, for the rearing up of the house of the Lord.

63 [d] Also of the Priests and Levites, and of the chief of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house, came to the building of this with weeping and great crying.

64 But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voyce.

65 Insomuch that the trumpets might not be heard for the weeping of the people: yet the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afarre off.

66 Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Juda and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean.

67 And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the Temple unto the Lord God of Israel.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Jesus, and to the chief of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you.

69 For we likewise, as you, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the daies of Asbazareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither.

70 Then Zorobabel and Jesus, and the chief of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not for us and you to build together an house unto the Lord our God.

71 We our selves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us.

72 But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judea, and holding them strait, hindred their building:

73 And by their secret plots, and popular perswasions, and commotions, they hindred the finishing of the building, all the time that king Cyrus lived, so they were hindred from building for the space of two yeers, untill the reign of Darius.

CHAP. VI.

The Prophets stir up the people to build the Temple. 8 Darius is sollicited to hinder it. 27 But he doth further it by all means, 32 and threatneth those that shall hinder it.

1 Now in the second yeer of the reign of Darius, Aggeus, and Zacharias the son of [h] Addo, the sons prophesied unto the Jews in Jury, and Jerusalem, in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, [i] which was upon them.

1 Or, which was called on them.

2 Then stood up Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedec, and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the Prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them.

3 [k] At the same time came unto them [l] Sisinnes the governor of Syria and Phenice, with [m] Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them, k Ez. 5. 3.

l Or, Tatnai.
m Or, Shetharboznai.

4 By whose appointment do you build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the workmen that perform these things?

5 Nevertheless the Elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord had visited the captivity.

6 And they were not hindred from building untill such time as signification was given unto Darius concerning them, and an answer received.

7 The copy of the letters which Sisinnes governour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes with their companions, rulers in Syria and Phenice, wrote and sent unto Darius; To king Darius, greeting.

8 Let all things be known unto our Lord the king, that being come into the countrey of Judea, and entred into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the ancients of the Jews that were of the captivity, 9 Building an house unto the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, and the timber already laid upon the walls.

10 And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence is it made.

11 Then asked we these Elders, saying, By whose commandment build you this house, and lay the foundations of these works?

12 Therefore to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing, we demanded of them who were the chief doers, and we required of them the names in writing of their principall men.

13 So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth.

14 And as for this house, it was builded many yeers ago, by a king of Israel, great and strong, and was finished:

15 But when our fathers provoked God unto wrath, and sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, he gave them over into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon of the Caldees:

16 Who pulled down the house and burnt it, and carryed away the people captives unto Babylon.

17 But in the first yeer that king Cyrus reigned over the countrey of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote to build up this house.

18 And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nabuchodonosor had carryed away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set them in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple at Babylon, and they were delivered to [n] Zorobabel, and to Sanabassarus the ruler, n Or, Zerubabel, which is also called Sheshbazzar the ruler.

19 With commandment that he should carry away those same vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in his place.

20 Then the same Sanabassarus being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, and from that time to this, being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therefore if it seem good unto the king, let search be made among the [o] records of king Cyrus, o Or, rowls.

22 And if it be found, that the building of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem hath bin done with the consent of king Cyrus, and if our lord the king be so minded, let him signifie unto us thereof.

23 Then commanded king Darius to seek among the records at Babylon: and so at Ecbatane the palace, which is in the country of Media, there was found a [a] roul wherin these things were recorded.

a Or, place.

24 In the first yeer of the reign of Cyrus, king Cyrus commanded that the house of the Lord at Jerusalem should be built again, where they do sacrifice with continuall fire.

25 Whose height shall be fixtie cubits, and the breadth fixtie cubits, with three rows of hewen stones, and one row of new wood of that country, and the expences thereof to be given out of the house of king Cyrus.

26 And that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of gold and silver, that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Jerusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, & be set in the place where they were before.

27 And also he commanded that Sisinnes the governour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phenice, should be carefull not to meddle with the place; but suffer Zorobabel the servant of the Lord, and governour of Judea, and the Elders of the Jews, to build the house of the Lord in that place.

28 I have commanded also to have it built up whole again, and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of the Jews, till the house of the Lord be finished.

29 And out of the tribute of Cœlosyria, and Phenice, a portion carefully to be given these men, for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governour, for bullocks, and rammes, and lambes;

30 And also corn, salt, wine, and oyl, and that continually every yeer without further question, according as the Priests that be in Jerusalem shall signifie to be daily spent:

b Drink offerings.

31 That [b] offerings may be made to the most high God, for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives.

32 And he commanded, that whosoever should transgresse, yea, or make light of any thing aforespoken, or written, out of his own house should a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king.

33 The Lord therefore whose Name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or endammage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem.

34 I Darius the king have ordained, that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

CHAP. VII.

1 Sisinnes and others help forward the building. 5 The Temple is finished, and dedicated. 10 The Passover is kept.

c Ezra 6. 13.

Then [c] Sisinnes the governour of Cœlosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius,

2 Did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the ancients of the Jews, and governours of the Temple.

3 And so the holy works prospered, when Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophets prophesied.

4 And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord God of Israel, and with [d] the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia.

d Or, the decree.

5 And thus was the holy house finished [e] three and twentieth day of the moneth Adar, the fifth yeer of Darius king of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, the Priests, and Levites, and other that were of the captivity, were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses.

7 And to the dedication of the Temple of the Lord, they offered an hundred bullocks, two hundred rammes, four hundred lambes;

8 And twelve goats for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of [f] the chief of the tribes of Israel.

f Or, princes.

9 The Priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their [g] kinreds, in the services of the Lord God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the porters at every gate.

g Or, families.

10 And the children of Israel [h] that were of the captivity, held the Passeover the fourteenth day of the first moneth, after that the Priests, and the Levites were sanctified.

h Or, that were come out of the captivity.

11 They that were of the captivity, were not all sanctified together: but the Levites were all sanctified together, 12 And so they offered the Passeover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

13 And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity, did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes, making merry before the Lord, 15 For that he had turned the [i] counsell of the king of Assyria towards them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord God of Israel.

And after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, came Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of [k] Ezerias, the sonne of Helchiah, the sonne of Salum, k Or, Azarias.

2 The sonne of Sadduc, the son of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of [l] Ozias, the sonne of [m] Memeroth, the sonne of Zarais, the sonne of [n] Savias, the sonne of Boccas, the sonne of Abisum, the son of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron, the [o] chief Priest.

m Or, Amarias.
n Or, Sadias.
o Or, high Priest.

3 This Esdras went up from Babylon, as a Scribe, being very ready in the Law of Moses, that was given by the God of Israel,

4 And the king did him honour: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests.

5 There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, of the Priests, of the Levites, the holy Singers, Porters, and [p] Ministers of the Temple unto Jerusalem, p Or, Nethinims.

6 In [q] the seventh yeer of the raign of Artaxerxes, in the fift moneth, (this was the seventh yeer) for they went from Babylon the first day of the first moneth, and came to Jerusalem, according to the [r] prosperous journey the Lord gave them.

q Or, the seventh yeer of Artaxerxes.
r Or, direction.

7 For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the Law and Commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the Ordinances and Judgements, 7 Now the copy of the [a] commission which was written from Artaxerxes the King, and came to Esdras the Priest, and reader of the Law of the Lord, is this that followeth.

8 King Artaxerxes unto Esdras the Priest, and reader of the Law of the Lord, sendeth greeting.

9 Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the Priests and Levites being within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto Jerusalem.

11 As many therefore as have a minde thereunto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me, and my seven friends the counsellers,

12 That they may look unto the affaires of Judea and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the Law of the Lord;

13 And carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed, and all the gold and silver that in the countrey of Babylon can be [b] found, to the Lord in Jerusalem,

14 With that also which is given of the people for the Temple of the Lord their God at Jerusalem: and that silver and gold may be collected for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining, 15 To the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord, upon the Altar of the Lord their God which is in Jerusalem.

16 And whatsoever thou and thy brethren will do [c] with the silver and gold, that do according to the will of thy God.

17 And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are given thee for the use of the Temple of thy God which is in Jerusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Jerusalem.

18 And whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the Temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the Kings treasury.

19 And I King Artaxerxes, have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoever Esdras the Priest, and the reader of the Law of the most high God shall send for, they should give it him with speed, 20 To the summe of an hundred talents of silver; likewise also of wheat, even to an hundred [d] cores, and an hundred pieces of wine, and other things in abundance.

21 Let all things be performed after the Law of God diligently unto the most high God, that wrath come not upon the kingdome of the King and his sonnes.

23 I command you also, that ye require no tax, nor any other imposition of any of the Priests or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or ministers of the Temple, or of any that have doings in this Temple, and that no man have authority to impose any thing upon them.

25 And thou Esdras, according to the wisdome of God, ordain Judges, and Justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phenice, [e] all such that know the Law of thy God, and those that know it not thou shalt teach.

26 And whosoever shall transgresse the Law of God, and of the King, shall be punished [f] diligently, whether it be by death or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by imprisonment.

27 Then said Esdras the Scribe, Blessed be the most Lord God of my fathers, who hath put such things into the heart of the King, to glorifie his house that is in Jerusalem;

28 And hath honoured me in the sight of the King and his counsellers, and all his friends and nobles.

29 Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together men of Israel to go up with me.

28 And these are the chief according to their families and severall dignities, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of King Artaxerxes.

29 Of the sonnes of Phinees, Gersom: of the sonnes of Ithamar, [g] Gamael: of the sons of David, [h] Lettus: of the sonne of Sechenias:

30 Of the sons of Phares, Zacharias, and with him were counted an hundred and fifty men:

31 Of the sonnes of Pahath, Moab, Eliaonias, the sonne of [k] Zaraias, and with him two hundred men:

32 Of the sons of [l] Zathoe, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him three hundred men; Of the sonnes of Adin, Obeth the sonne of Jonathan, and with him [m] two hundred and fifty men.

33 Of the sons of Elam, Josias sonne of [n] Gotholias, and with him seventy men:

34 Of the sonnes of Saphatias, [o] Zaraias sonne of Michael, and with him [p] threescore and ten men:

35 Of the sons of Joab, [q] Abadias son of [r] Jezelas, and with him two hundred and [s] twelve men:

36 Of the sonnes of Banid, [t] Assalimoth sonne of Josaphias, and with him an hundred and threescore men:

37 Of the sonnes of Babi, Zacharias sonne of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men;

38 Of the sons of [u] Astath, Johanaes, [v] [sonne of] Acatan, and with him an hundred and ten men:

39 Of the sons of Adonicam the last, and these are the names of them, Eliphalet, Jeuel, and [x] Samaias, and with them [y] seventy men:

40 Of the sonnes of [z] Bago, Uthi the sonne of Istalcurus, and with him seventy men:

41 And these I gathered together to the river called [a] Theras, where we pitched our tents three dayes, and then I surveied them.

42 But when [b] I had found there none of the Priests and Levites,

43 Then sent I unto Eleazar, and [c] Idoel, and [d] Masman, 44 And Alnathan, and Mamaias, and [e] [f] Joribus, and Nathan, Eunatan, Zacharias and Mosollamon, principall men, and learned.

45 And I bade them that they should go unto [g] Daddeus the captain, [h] who was in the place of [i] the treasury:

46 And commanded them that they should speak unto Daddeus, and to [k] his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the Priests office in the house of the Lord.

47 And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us skilfull men of the sons of [l] Moli, the son of Levi, the sonne of Israel, [m] Asebebia, called and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen.

48 [n] And Asebia, and Annus, and Osaias his brother, of the sons of Chananeus, and their sonnes were twenty men.

the Temple, two hundred and twenty, the catalogue of whose names were shewed.

30 And there I a vowed a fast unto the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a prosperous journey, both for us, and them that were with us: for our children, and for the b cattell:

31 For I was ashamed to aske the King footmen, and horsmen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries:

32 For we had said unto the King, that the power of the Lord our God should be with them that seek him, to support them in all wayes.

33 And again we besought our Lord, as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us.

34 Then I separated twelve of the chief of the Priests, c Esebrias, and Assanias, and ten men of their brethren with them.

35 And I weighed them the gold, and the silver, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counsell, and the Princes, and all Israel had given.

36 And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of an hundred talents, and an hundred talents of gold, 37 And twenty golden vessels, and d twelve vessels of brasse, even of fine brasse, glittering like gold.

38 And I said unto them, Both you are holy unto the LORD, and the vessels are holy, and the gold, and the silver is a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers.

39 Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chief of the priests and Levites, and to the principall men of the families of Israel in Jerusalem, into the chambers of the house of our God.

40 So the Priests, & the Levites who had received the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, brought them unto Jerusalem, into the Temple of § Lord.

41 And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first moneth, and came to Jerusalem by the mighty hand of our Lord which was with us: and from the beginning of our e journey, the Lord delivered us from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem.

42 And when we had been there three dayes, the gold and silver that was weighed, was delivered in the house of our Lord, on the fourth day f unto Marmoth the priest the son of Iri.

43 And with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinees, and with them were Josabad the sonne of Jesu, and § Moeth the sonne of Sabban, Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight.

44 And all the weight of them was written up the same hour.

45 Moreover, they that were come out of the captivity, offered sacrifice unto the Lord God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, fourscore and sixteen rams, 46 h Threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord.

47 And they delivered the Kings commandments unto the Kings stewards, and to the governours of Cœlosyria and Phenice, and they honoured the people, and the Temple of God.

48 Now when these things were done, the rulers came unto me, and said:

49 The nation of Israel, the Princes, the Priests, and Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land: not the pollutions of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Pherezites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites, 50 i For both they and their sons have with their daughters, and the holy seed is with the strange people of the land, and beginning of this matter the rulers and men have been partakers of this iniquity.

51 And assoon as I had heard these things I rent my cloths, and the holy garments, and pulled off the hair from off my head and beard, and sate me down sad, and very heavy.

52 So all they that were then moved at the Word of the Lord God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilest I mourned for the iniquity: but I sate still full of heavinesse, untill the evening sacrifice.

53 Then rising up from the fast with my cloths and the holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord;

54 I said, O Lord, I am confounded, and ashamed before thy face;

55 For our sinnes k are multiplied above our heads, and our ignorances have reached up unto heaven.

56 For ever since the time of our fathers, we have been and are in great sin, even unto this day.

57 And for our sinnes, and our fathers, we with our brethren and our Kings, and our Priests were given up unto the Kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame, unto this day.

58 And now in some measure hath mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord; that there should be left us a root, and a name in the place of thy Sanctuary:

59 And to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us food in the time of our servitude.

60 Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord: but he made us gracious before the Kings of Persia, so that they gave us food;

61 Yea, and honoured the Temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Sion, that they have given us a sure abiding in Jury and Jerusalem.

62 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy Commandments, which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the Prophets, saying, 63 That the land which ye enter into to possesse as an heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanesse.

64 Therefore now shall ye not give your daughters unto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sonnes.

65 Moreover, you shall never seek to have peace with them, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave the inheritance of the land unto your children for evermore.

66 And all that is befallen, is done unto us for our wicked works and great sinnes: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sinnes light:

67 And didst give unto us such a root: but we have turned back again to transgresse thy Law, and to mingle our selves with the uncleannesse of the nations of the land.

68 m Mightest not thou be angry with us to destroy us, till thou hadst left us neither seed, nor name?

69 O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left a root this day.

70 Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any more in this reason of these things before thee.

weeping, and lying flat upon the ground the Temple, there gathered unto him from rael a very great multitude of men, and wo-and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude.

50 Then Jechonias the sonne of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the nations of the land, and now is all Israel [a] aloft.

53 Let us make an oath to the Lord, that we will put away all our wives which we have taken of the heathen, with their children, 54 Like as thou hast decreed, and as many as do obey the Law of the Lord.

55 Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain, and we will be with thee: do valiantly.

56 So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the Priests, and Levites of all [b] Israel, to do after these things, and so they sware.

CHAP. IX.

1 Esdras assembleth all the people. 10 They promise to put away the strange wives. 20 The names and number of them that did so. 40 The Law of Moses is read and declared before all the people. 49 They weep, and are put in mind of the feast day.

Then Esdras rising from the court of the Temple, went to the chamber of Joanan the sonne of Eliasib,

2 And remained there, and did eat no meat, nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Jury and Jerusalem, to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem:

4 And that whosoever met not there within two or three dayes, according as the Elders that bare rule appointed, their cattell should be seised to the use of the Temple, and himself [c] cast out from them that were of the captivity.

5 And in three dayes were all they of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem, the twentieth day of the ninth moneth.

6 And all the multitude sate trembling in the broad court of the Temple, because of the present foul weather.

7 So Esdras arose up and said unto them, Ye have transgressed the Law in marrying strange wives, thereby to increase the sinnes of Israel.

8 And now by confessing give glory unto the Lord God of our fathers, 9 And do his will, and separate your selves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women.

10 Then cryed the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice: Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do.

11 But forasmuch as the people are many, and this foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of a day or two, seeing our sinne in these things is spread farre:

12 Therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives, come at the time appointed.

13 And with them the Rulers and Judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us, for this matter.

14 Then Jonathan the sonne of Azael, and Ezechias the sonne of Theocanus, accordingly took this matter upon them: and Mosollam, and Levis, and Sabbathens helped them.

15 And they that were of the captivity, did according to all these things.

16 And Esdras the Priest chose unto him the principall men of their families, all by name: and in the first day of the tenth moneth they sate together to examine the matter.

17 So their cause that held strange wives, was brought to an end in the first day of the first moneth.

18 And of the Priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found:

19 Of the sonnes of Jesus, the sonne of Josedec, and his brethren, [e] Matthelas, and Eleazar, and [f] Joribus, and [g] Joadanus.

20 And they gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer [h] rammes to make reconcilement for their [i] errours.

21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdeus, and [k] Banes, and [l] Sameius, and [m] Hierel, and [n] Azarias.

22 And of the sonnes of [o] Phalsur, Elionas, Massias, Ismael, and Nathanael, and [p] Ocidelus, and [q] Talsas.

23 And of the Levites: Josabad, and Semis, and [r] Colius who was called [s] Calitas, and [t] Patheus, and Judas, and Jonas.

24 Of the holy Singers: [u] Eleazurus, Bacchurus.

25 Of the Porters: Sallumus, and [x] Tolbanes.

26 Of them of Israel, of the sons of [y] Phoros, [z] Hiermas, and [a] Eddias, and Melchias, and [b] Maelus, and Eleazar, and [c] Asbias, and Banaias.

27 Of the sons of Ela, Matthanias, Zacharias, and [d] Hierielus, and Hieremoth, and [e] Aedias, 28 And of the sonnes of [f] Zumoth, [g] Eliadas, [h] Elisimus, [i] Othonias, Jarimoth, and [k] Sabatus, and [l] Sardeus.

29 Of the sonnes of Bebai, Johannes, and Ananias, and [m] Josabad, and [n] Amatheis.

30 Of the sons of [p] Mani, [p] Olamus, [q] Mammuchus, [r] Jedeus, Jasubus, [s] Jasael, and Hieremoth.

31 [t] And of the sonnes of Addi, Naathus, and Moosias, Lacunus, and Naidus, and Mathanias, and Sesthel, Balunus, and Manasseas.

32 And of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aseas, and Milchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon Chosameus.

33 And of the sonnes of Asom, [u] Altaneus, and [x] Matthias, and [y] Bannaia, Eliphalat, and Manasses, and Semei.

34 And of the sonnes of Maani, Jeremias, Momdis, Omareus, Juel, Mabdai, and Pelias, and Anoi, Charabasion, and Enasibus, and Mamnitanaimus, Eliasis, Banuus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanias: and of the sonnes of Ozora, Sesis, Esril, Azaelus, Samatus, Zambis, Josiphus.

35 And of the sonnes of Ethma, Mazitias, Zabadias, Edes, Juel, Banaias.

36 All these had taken strange wives, and they put them away with their children.

37 And the Priests and Levites, and they that were of Israel dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the country, in the first day of the seventh moneth: so the children of Israel were in their [z] habitations.

38 [a] And the whole multitude came together with one accord, into the broad place of the holy porch toward the East.

39 And they spake unto Esdras the Priest, and reader, that he would bring the Law of Moses, that was given of the Lord God of Israel.

40 So Esdras the chief Priest, brought the Law unto the whole multitude from man to woman, and to all the Priests, to hear the Law in the first day of the seventh moneth.

41 And he read in the broad court before the holy porch from morning unto mid-day, before both men and women, and all the multitude gave heed unto the Law.

42 And Esdras the Priest, and reader of the Law, stood up upon a pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose.

43 And there stood up by him Matathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, [a] Ezecias, [b] Balasamus, upon the right hand.

45 Then took Esdras the book of the Law before the multitude: for he sate [f] honourably in the first place in the sight of them all.

46 And when he opened the Law, they stood all straight up. So Esdras blessed the Lord God most High, the God of hosts Almighty.

47 And all the people answered, Amen, and lifting up their hands, they fell to the ground, and worshipped the Lord.

48 Also Jesus, Anus, Sarabias, Adinus, Jacubus, Sabateas, [g] Auteas, Maianeas, and Azarias, and Jozabdus, and Ananias, the Levites taught the Law of the Lord, with all to understand it.

49 [h] Then spake Attharates unto Esdras chief Priest and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, even to all, saying, 50 This day is holy unto the Lord: for all wept when they heard the Law.

51 Go then and eat the fat, and drink the sweet and send part to [i] them that have nothing.

52 For this day is holy unto the Lord, and be not sorrowful; for the Lord will bring you to honour.

53 So the Levites published all things unto the people, saying: This day is holy to the Lord, be not sorrowful.

54 Then went they their way every one to eat and drink, and make merry, and to give part to them that had nothing, and to make great cheer.

55 Because they understood the words wherewith they were instructed, and for the which they had been assembled.

II. ESDRAS.

CHAP. I.

1 Esdras is commanded to reprove the people. 24 God threateneth to cast them off. 35 and to give their houses to a people of more grace then they.

a Ezra. 7.1. b Or, Shallum.

THE second book of the Prophet [a] Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the son of Azarias, the son of Helchias, the sonne of [b] Sadamias, the sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob,

2 The sonne of Achias, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Heli, the sonne of Amarias, the son of Aziel, the son of Marimoth, the sonne of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abisei, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar,

3 The sonne of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi, which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes King of the Persians.

4 Isa. 58.1 [c] And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

5 Go thy way, and shew my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me, that they may tell their childrens children,

6 Because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have offered unto strange gods.

7 Am not I even he that brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage? but they have provoked me unto wrath, and despised my counsels.

8 Pull thou off then the hair of thy head, and cast all evill upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my Law, but it is a rebellious people.

9 How long shall I forbear them, unto whom I have done so much good?

d Exod. 24.28. 10 [d] Many Kings have I destroyed for their sakes, Pharaoh with his servants, and all his power have I smitten down.

e Numb. 21.24. Josh 3.12. 11 All the nations have I destroyed before them, [e] and in the East I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tyrus and Sidon, and have slain all their enemies.

12 Speak thou therefore unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord, f Exod. 14. 29. 13 [f] I led you through the sea, and in the beginning gave you a large & safe passage, I gave you Moses for a leader, and Aaron for a Priest.

14 I gave you light in a pillar of fire, great wonders have I done among you, yet have you forgotten me, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, The Quails were as a token for you, I gave you tents for your safeguard, nevertheles you murmured there.

16 And triumphed not in my Name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day ye yet murmure.

17 Where are the benefits that I have done for you? when you were hungry and thirsty in the wilderneſſe, I did you not cry unto me?

18 Saying, Why hast thou brought us into this wilderneſſe to kill us? It had been better for us to have served the Egyptians, then to die in this wilderneſſe.

19 Then had I pity upon your mourning, and gave you Manna to eat, [m] so ye did eat Angels bread.

20 [n] When ye were thirsty, did I not cleave the rock, and waters flowed out [o] to your satisfying? for the heat I covered you with the leaves of the trees.

21 I divided amongst you a fruitfull land; I cast out the Canaanites, the Pherezites, and the Philistines before you: [p] what shall I yet do more for you, saith the Lord?

22 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, When you were in the wilderneſſe [q] in the river of the Amorites, being athirst, and blaspheming my Name, 23 I gave you not fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree in the water, and made the water sweet.

24 What shall I do unto thee, O Jacob? [r] Judah wouldest not obey me: I will turn me to other nations, and unto those will I give my Name, that they may keep my Statutes.

25 Seeing ye have forsaken me, I will forsake you also: when ye desire me to be gracious unto you, I shall have no mercy upon you.

26 [s] Whatsoever you shall call upon me for, I will not hear you: for ye have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to shed man-slaughter, ye have not as it were forsaken me, but your own selves, saith the Lord.

37 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Have I not compared you as a father his sonnes, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her young babies, 38 That ye would be my people, a and I should be your God, that ye would be my children, and I should be your father?

39 b I gathered you together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings: but now what shall I do unto you? I will cast you out from my face.

40 c When ye offer unto me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn fraft dayes, your new Moons, and your Circumcisions have I forsaken.

41 I sent unto you my servants the Prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will require of your hands, saith the Lord.

42 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Your house is desolate, I will cast you out, as the winde doth stubble.

43 And your children shall not be fruitfull: for they have despised my Commandment, and done the thing that is evill before me.

44 Your houses will I give to a people that shall come, which not having heard of me, yet shall believe me, to whom I have shewed no signes, yet they shall do that I have commanded them.

45 They have seen no Prophets, yet they shall call their sinnes to remembrance, and acknowledge them.

46 I take to witnesse the grace of the people to come, whose little ones rejoyce in gladnesse, and though they have not seen me with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they believe the things that I say.

47 And now, brother, behold what glory: and behold the people that cometh from the East.

48 Unto whom I will give for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Oseas, Amos, and Micheas, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas, 49 Nahum, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharie, and Malachie, which is called also an Angel of the Lord.

CHAP. II.

1 God complaineth of his people: 10 Yet Esdras is willed to comfort them. 34 Because they refused, the Gentiles are called. 43 Esdras seeth the Sonne of God, and those that are crowned by him.

THus saith the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my Commandments by my servants the Prophets, whom they would not hear, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them, saith unto them, Go your way, ye children, for I am a widow and forsaken.

3 I brought you up with gladnesse, but with sorrow and heavinesse have I lost you: for ye have sinned before the Lord your God, and done that thing that is evill before him.

4 But what shall I now do unto you? I am a widow and forsaken: go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Lord.

5 As for me, O Father, I call upon thee for a witnesse over the mother of these children, which would not keep my Covenant,

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoil, that there may be no off-spring of them.

7 Let them be scattered abroad among the heathen, let their names be put out of the earth: for they have despised my Covenant.

8 Wo be unto thee, Assur, thou that hidest the unrighteous in thee, O thou wicked people, remember what I did unto Sodom and Gomorrhe:

f Gene. 19. 24.

9 Whose land lieth in clods of pitch, and heaps of ashes: even so also will I do unto them that hear me not, saith the Almighty Lord.

10 Thus saith the Lord unto Esdras, Tell my people, that I will give them the kingdome of Jerusalem, which I would have given unto Israel.

11 Their glory also will I take unto me, and give them the everlasting Tabernacles which I had prepared for them.

12 They shall have the tree of life for an ointment of sweet savour, they shall neither labour, nor be weary.

13 Go, and ye shall receive; pray for few dayes unto you, that they may be shortened: the kingdome is already prepared for you: watch.

14 Take heaven and earth to witnesse: for I have broken the evill in pieces, and created the good: for I live, saith the Lord.

15 Mother, embrace thy children, and g bring them up with gladnesse, make their feet as fast as a pillar: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

g Or, bring them up with gladnesse as a diver: make their feet fast. Vs. &c.

16 And those that be dead will I raise up again from their places, and bring them out of the graves: for I have known h my Name in Israel.

17 Fear not thou mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

18 For thy help I will send my servants Esay and Jeremy, after whose counsell [illegible] and prepared for thee twelve trees [illegible] with divers fruits;

h Or, thy name, O Israel.

19 And as many fountains flowing with milk and honey: and seven mighty mountains whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy.

20 Do right to the widow, judge for the fatherlesse, give to the poor, defend the orphan, clothe the naked, 21 Heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maimed, and let the blinde man come into the sight of my clearnesse.

22 Keep the old and young within thy walls.

23 i Wheresoever thou findest the dead, k take them and bury them, and I will give thee the first place in my resurrection.

i Tobit 1. 18. k Signifying bury them.

24 Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietnesse shall come.

25 Nourish thy children, O thou good nurse, stablish their feet.

26 As for the servants whom I have given thee, there shall not one of them perish: for I will require them from among thy number.

27 Be not weary, for when the day of trouble and heavinesse cometh, others shall weep and be sorrowfull, but thou shalt be merry, and have abundance.

28 The heathen shall envy thee, but they shall be able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lord.

29 My hands shall cover thee, so that thy children shall not see hell.

30 Be joyfull, O thou mother, with thy children: for I will deliver thee, saith the Lord.

31 Remember thy children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the sides of the earth, and shew mercy unto them: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord Almighty.

32 Embrace thy children untill I come, and l shew mercy unto them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.

l Or, preach

33 I Esdras received a charge of the Lord upon the mount Oreb, that I should go unto Israel; but when when I came unto them, they set me at nought, and despised the Commandement of the Lord.

34 And therefore I say unto you, O ye heathen that hear and understand, look for your shepherd, he shall give you everlasting rest, for he is nigh at hand that shall come in the end of the world.

35 Be ready to the reward of the kingdome, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore.

36 Flee the shadow of this world, receive the joyfulnesse of your glory: I testifie my Saviour openly.

37 O receive the gift that is given you, and be glad, giving thanks unto him that hath called you to the heavenly kingdome.

38 Arise up and stand, behold the number of those that be sealed [a] in the feast of the Lord:

a Or, for.

39 Which are departed from the shadow of the world, and have received glorious garments of the Lord.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and [b] shut up those of thine that are clothed in white, which have fulfilled the Law of the Lord.

b Le. enclose.

41 The number of thy children whom thou longedst for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.

c Reve. 7.9.

42 [c] I Esdras saw upon the mount Sion a great people whom I could not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs.

43 [d] And in the midst of them there was a young man of a high stature, taller then all the rest, and upon every one of their heads he set crowns, and was more exalted, which I marvelled at greatly.

d Or, Lord.

44 So I asked the Angel, and said, [d] Sir, what are these?

45 He answered, and said unto me, These be they that put off their mortall clothing, and put on the immortall, and have confessed the Name of God: now are they crowned, and receive palms.

46 Then said I unto the Angel, What young person is it that crowneth them, and giveth them palms in their hands?

47 So he answered, and said unto me, It is the Sonne of God, whom they have confessed in the world. Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so stiffely for the Name of the Lord.

48 Then the Angel said unto me, Go thy way, and tell my people what maner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord thy God thou hast seen.

CHAP. III.

1 Esdras is troubled, 13 and acknowledgeth the sinnes of the people: 28 yet complaineth that the heathen were lords over them, being more wicked then they.

IN the thirtieth year after the ruine of the city, I was in Babylon, and lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came up over my heart.

2 For I saw the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the most High, and said,

4 O Lord, who beareſt rule, thou spakeſt at the beginning, when thou didſt plant the earth (and that thy self alone) and commandedſt the people,

5 [e] And gaveſt a body unto Adam without soul, which was the workmanship of thine hands, and didſt breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made living before thee.

e Gene. 2.7.

6 And thou ledeſt him into Paradise, which thy right hand had planted, before ever the earth came forward.

7 And unto him thou gaveſt commandement, and he did love thy way, which he transgressed, and immediatly thou appointedſt death in him, and in his generations, of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kinreds out of number.

8 [f] And every people walked after their own wills, and did wonderfull things before thee, and despised thy Commandments.

9 [g] And again, in processe of time, thou broughteſt the flood upon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedſt them.

10 And it came to pass, that every of them, like as death was to Adam, so was the flood to them.

11 Nevertheleſſe, one of them thou leftſt, namely [h] Noah with his houshold, of whom came all the righteous men.

12 And it happened, that when they that came upon the earth began to multiply, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they began again to be more ungodly then the first.

13 Now when they lived so wickedly before thee, I thou didſt chuſe thee a man from among them, whose name was [k] Abraham.

14 Him thou lovedſt, and unto him only thou shewedſt thy will;

15 And madeſt an everlasting covenant with him, promising him that thou wouldeſt never forsake his seed.

16 [l] And unto him thou gaveſt Isaac, and unto Isaac also thou gaveſt Jacob and Esau. As for Jacob, thou [m] didſt chuſe him to thee, and Esau: and so Jacob became a great multitude.

17 And it came to passe, that when thou broughteſt his seed out of Egypt, [o] thou broughteſt them to the mount Sina.

18 And bowing the heavens, thou didſt shake the earth, movedſt the whole world, and madeſt the depth to tremble, and troubledſt the men of that age.

19 And thy glory went through four gates of fire, and of earthquake, and of winde, and of cold, that thou mightest give the Law unto the seed of Jacob, [p] and diligence unto the generation of Israel.

20 And yet tookeſt thou not away from them their wicked heart, that thy Law might bring forth fruit in them.

21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked heart, transgressed, and was overcome; and so be they all that are born of him.

22 Thus infirmity was made permanent; and so the Law (also) in the heart of the people with the malignity of the root, so that the good departed away, and the evill abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeares were brought to an end: [q] then didſt thou raise thee up a servant, called David, 24 [r] Whom thou commandedſt to build a city unto thy Name, and to offer incense and oblations unto thee therein.

25 When this was done many years, thinking that inhabited the city, forsook thee, 26 And in all things did even as Adam and all his generations had done, for they also had a wicked heart.

27 And so thou gaveſt the city over into the hands of thine enemies.

28 Are their deeds then any better that dwell in Babylon, that they should therefore have dominion over Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and saw many impieties without number, then my soul saw many evill deeds in this thirtieth yeare; for my heart failed me.

...e I have seen how thou sufferest them sin-
...and hast spared wicked doers, and hast de-
...thy people, and hast preserved thine ene-
...and hast not signified it.

...I do not remember how this way may be
...: are they then of Babylon better then they
...?

...Or is there any other people that knoweth
...besides Israel? or what generation hath so
...ered thy Covenants, as Jacob?

...And yet their reward appeareth not, and ...labour hath no fruit: for I have gone here
...there through the heathen, and I see that they
...flow in wealth, and think not upon thy Com-
...dments.

...Weigh thou therefore our wickednesse now
...the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the ...rld: and so shall thy Name no where be found,
...t in Israel.

...Or when was it that they which dwell upon ...earth have not sinned in thy sight? or what
...ople hath so kept thy Commandments?

...Thou shalt find that Israel by name hath
...e thy precepts: but not the heathen.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The Angel declareth the ignorance of Esdras in Gods judgements, 13 and adviseth him not to meddle with things above his reach. 23 Nevertheless, Esdras adds diverse questions, and receiveth answers to them.

...Nd the Angel that was sent unto me, whose ...name was Uriel, gave me an answer,

...And said, Thy heart hath gone too far in this
...orld, and thinkest thou to comprehend the way
...the most High?

...Then said I, Yea, my lord: and he answered
...e, and said, I am sent to shew thee three wayes,
...to set forth three similitudes before thee:

...Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will
...ew thee also the way that thou desirest to see,
...and shall shew thee from whence the wicked
...ur cometh.

...And I said, Tell on, my lord. Then said he
...e, go thy way, weigh me the weight of the ...re, or measure me the blast of the wind, or call
...gain the day that is past.

...Then answered I, and said, What man is able
...do that, that thou shouldest ask such things
...of me?

...And he said unto me, If I should ask thee
...how great dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or ...how many springs are in the beginning of the ...deep, or how many springs are above the firma-
...ment, or which are the out-goings of Paradise:

...Peradventure thou wouldest say unto me, I ne-
...er was down into the deep, nor as yet into hell,
...neither did I ever climbe up into heaven.

...Nevertheless, now I have asked thee but only
...of fire and wind, and of the day where-through
...thou hast passed, and of things from which thou
...canst not be separated, and yet canst thou give me
...no answer of them.

...He said moreover unto me, Thine own things,
...and such as are grown up with thee, canst thou
...not know?

...How should thy vessell then be able to com...prehend the way of the Highest, and the world be...come unwardly corrupted; to understand the ...thing that is evident in my sight?

...Then said I unto him, It were better that we ...were not at all, then that we should live still in wic...kedness, and to suffer, and not to know wherefore.

...Then answered he me, and said, I went into a ...certain plain, and the a grass took counsell,

...And said, Come, let us go, and make warre
...against the sea, that it may depart away before ...us, and that we may make us more woods.

...The floods of the sea also in like manner
...took counsell, and said, Come, let us go up, and ...subdue the woods of the plain, that there also we ...may make us another country.

...The thought of the wood was in vain, for the ...fire came and consumed it.

...The thought of the floods of the sea came ...likewise to nought, for the sand stood up and stop...ped them.

...If thou wert judge now betwixt these two,
...whom wouldest thou begin to justifie, or whom
...wouldest thou condemn?

...I answered and said, Verily it is a foolish ...thought that they both have devised: for the a ground is given unto the wood, and the sea also
...hath his place to bear his b floods.

...Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast
...given a right judgement, but why judgest thou not ...thy self also?

...For like as c the ground is given unto the ...wood, and the sea to his floods: even so d they that ...dwell upon the earth may understand nothing, but ...that which is upon the earth: and he that dwelleth
...above the heavens, may onely understand the ...things that are above the height of the heavens.

...Then answered I, and said, I beseech thee, O
...Lord, let me have understanding:

...For it was not my minde to be curious of ...the high things, but of such as passe by us daily,
...namely, wherefore Israel is given up as a reproach
...to the heathen, and for what cause the people ...whom thou hast loved, is given over unto ungodly
...nations, and why the law of our forefathers is ...brought to nought, and the written covenants
...came to e none effect.

...And we passe away out of the world as grass...hoppers, and our life is as a mist, and fear, and ...we are not worthy to obtain mercy.

...What will he then do unto his Name, where-
...by we are called? of these things have I asked.

...Then answered he me, and said, The more ...thou searchest, the more thou shalt marvell, for
...the world hasteth fast to passe away,

...And cannot comprehend the things that are ...promised to the righteous in time to come: for this ...world is full of unrighteousnesse and infirmities.

...But as concerning the things whereof thou
...askest me, I will tell thee: for the evill is sowen,
...but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

...If therefore that which is sowen, be not turned ...upside down, and if the place where the evill
...is sowen, passe not away, then cannot it come that ...is sowen with good.

...For the grain of evill seed hath been sowen
...in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and ...how much ungodlinesse hath it brought up unto
...this time? And how much shall it yet bring forth
...until the f time of threshing come?

...Ponder now by thy self, how great fruit of ...wickednesse the grain of evill seed hath brought ...forth.

...And when the ears shall be cut down, which ...are without number; how great a floor shall
...they fill?

...Then I answered, and said, How, and when ...shall these things come to passe? wherefore are
...our yeers few and evill?

...And he answered me, saying, Do not make ...haste above the most Highest: for thy haste is ...in vain to be above him, for thou hast much ex...ceeded

f Or, time.

35 Did not the ſoules alſo of the righteous aſk queſtion of theſe things in their chambers, ſaying, How long ſhall I hope on this faſhion? when cometh the fruit of the floor of our reward?

a Jer-miel. 36 And unto theſe things a Uriel the Archangel gave them anſwer, and ſaid, Even when the number of ſeeds is filled in you: for he hath weighed the world in a balance.

37 By meaſure hath he meaſured the times, and by number hath he numbred the times, and he doth not move nor ſtirre them, untill the ſaid meaſure be fulfilled.

38 Then anſwered I, and ſaid, O Lord that beareſt rule, even we all are full of impiety.

39 And for our ſakes peradventure it is that the floors of the righteous are not filled, becauſe of the ſinnes of them that dwell upon the earth.

40 So he anſwered me, and ſaid, Go thy way to a woman with childe, and aſk of her, when ſhe hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her wombe may keep the birth any longer within her?

41 Then ſaid I, No Lord, that can ſhe not. And he ſaid unto me, In the grave the chambers of ſouls are like the wombe of a woman.

42 For like as a woman that travelleth, maketh haſte to eſcape the neceſſity of the travell: even ſo do theſe places haſte to deliver thoſe things that are committed unto them.

43 From the beginning look what thou deſireſt to ſee, it ſhall be ſhewed thee.

44 Then anſwered I, and ſaid, If I have found favour in thy ſight, and if it be poſſible, and if I be meet therefore, 45 Shew me then whether there be more to come then is paſt, or more paſt then is to come.

46 What is paſt I know, but what is for to come I know not.

47 And he ſaid unto me, Stand up upon the right ſide, and I ſhall expound the ſimilitude unto you.

48 So I ſtood and ſaw, and behold an hot burning oven paſſed by before me: and it happened that when the flame was gone by, I looked, and behold, the ſmoke remained ſtill.

49 After this there paſſed by before me a watery cloud, and ſent down much rain with a ſtorm, and when the ſtormy rain was paſt, the drops remained ſtill.

50 Then ſaid he unto me, Conſider with thy ſelf: as the rain is more then the drops, and as the fire is greater then the ſmoak: but the drops and the ſmoak remain behinde: ſo the b quantity which is paſt, did more exceed.

b Or, meaſure.

51 Then I prayed, and ſaid, May I live, think'ſt thou, untill that time? c or what ſhall happen in thoſe dayes?

c Or, who ſhall be? Manuſcript.

52 He anſwered me, and ſaid, As for the tokens whereof thou aſkeſt me, I may tell thee of them in part; but as touching thy life, I am not ſent to ſhew thee, for I do not know it.

CHAP. X.

1 The ſtreets of the ſtony city come. 23 He ſaith why God chuſing but one people, did caſt them off. 30 He is taught that Gods judgements are unſearchable, 46 and that God doth not all at once.

NEvertheleſſe, as concerning the tokens, behold, the dayes ſhall come, that they which dwell upon earth d ſhall be taken in a great number, and the way of truth ſhall be hidden, and the land ſhall be barren of faith.

d ſhall be taken with great trouble. Matth. 24. 12.

2 But e iniquity ſhall be increaſed above that which now thou ſeeſt, or that thou haſt heard long ago.

e Or, unrighteouſneſſe.

3 And the land f that thou ſeeſt not, whoſe root, ſhalt thou ſee waſted ſuddenly.

f Or, where.

4 But if the moſt High grant thee to live, thou ſhalt ſee after the third trumpet, that the ſun ſhall ſuddenly ſhine again in the night, and the Moon thrice in the day.

5 And blood ſhall drop out of wood, and the ſtone ſhall give his voyce, and the people ſhall be troubled.

6 And even he ſhall rule, whom they look not for that dwell upon the earth, and the fowles ſhall take their flight away together.

7 And the Sodomitiſh ſea ſhall caſt out fiſh, and make a noiſe in the night, which many have not known: but they ſhall all hear the voyce thereof.

8 There ſhall be a confuſion alſo in many places, and the fire ſhall be oft g ſent out again, and the wilde beaſts ſhall change their places, and unfruitfull women ſhall bring forth monſters.

g Or, ſhall ſeem.

9 And ſalt waters ſhall be found in the ſweet, and all friends ſhall deſtroy one another: then ſhall wit hide it ſelf, and underſtanding withdraw it ſelf into his ſecret chamber,

10 And ſhall be ſought of many, and yet not be found: then ſhall unrighteouſneſſe, and intemperancie be multiplied upon earth.

11 One land alſo ſhall aſk another, and ſay, Is righteouſneſſe that maketh a man righteous, paſſed through thee? and it ſhall ſay, No.

12 At the ſame time ſhall men hope, but not any thing obtain: they ſhall labour, but their ways ſhall h not proſper.

h Or, not be proſperous.

13 To ſhew thee ſuch tokens I have been ſent: if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and faſt ſeven dayes, thou ſhalt hear yet greater things.

14 Then I awaked, and an extreme fear went thorow all my body, and my mind was troubled, ſo that it fainted.

15 So the Angel that was come to talk with me, held me, comforted me, and ſet me upon my feet.

16 And in the ſecond night it came to paſſe that Salathiel the captain of the people came unto me, ſaying, Where haſt thou been? and why is thy countenance ſo heavy?

17 Knoweſt thou not that Iſrael is committed unto thee in the land of their captivity?

18 Up then, and eat bread, and forſake not us, like the ſhepherd that leaveth his flock in the hand of cruell wolves.

19 Then ſaid I unto him, Go thy way from me, and come not nigh me; And he heard what I ſaid, and went from me.

20 And ſo I faſted ſeven daies, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the Angel commanded me.

21 And after ſeven dayes ſo it was that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous unto me again.

22 And my ſoul recovered the ſpirit of underſtanding, and I began to talk with the moſt High again.

23 And ſaid, O Lord that haveſt rule over every wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou haſt choſen thee one onely vine.

24 And of all lands of the whole world thou haſt choſen thee one pit: and of all fountains thereof, one lilie.

25 And of all the depths of the ſea, and of all that flowed thee one river; and of all builded cities thou haſt hallowed Sion unto thy ſelf.

26 And of all the ſouls that are created thou haſt named thee one dove: and of all the flocks that are made, thou haſt proviſion thee among all the multitudes of peoples gotten thee one people: and unto this whom thou lovedſt, thou gaveſt a Law approved of all.

And now, O Lord, why haſt thou given this people over unto many? and [a] upon the one hath thou prepared others, and why haſt thou ſcattered thy onely one people among many?

And they which did gainſay thy promiſes, believed not thy Covenants, have troden them down.

If thou didſt ſo much hate thy people, yet ſhouldeſt thou puniſh them with thine own hands.

Now when I had ſpoken theſe words, the Angel that came to me the night afore, was ſent unto me,

And ſaid unto me, Hear me, and I will inſtruct thee, hearken to the thing that I ſay, and I will tell thee more.

And I ſaid, Speak on my Lord: Then ſaid he unto me, Thou art ſore troubled in minde for thine life: loveſt thou that people better then he that made them?

And I ſaid, No, Lord, but of very griefe have I ſpoken; for my reines pain me every hour, while I labour to comprehend the way of the moſt High, and to ſeek out part of his judgement.

And he ſaid unto me, Thou canſt not: And I ſaid, Wherefore, Lord? whereunto was I born then? or why was not my mothers wombe then my grave, that I might not have ſeen the travell of ſorrow, and the wearifome toll of the ſtock of Adam?

And he ſaid unto me, Number me the things that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are ſcattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered.

Open me the places that are cloſed, and bring forth the winds that in them are ſhut up, or ſhew me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to thee the thing that thou laboureſt to know.

And I ſaid, O Lord that beareſt rule, who may know theſe things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?

As for me, I am unwiſe: how may I then ſpeak of theſe things whereof thou aſkeſt me?

Then ſaid he unto me, Like as thou canſt do none of theſe things that I have ſpoken of, even ſo canſt thou not finde out my judgement, or in the end love that I have promiſed unto my people.

And I ſaid, Behold, O Lord, yet art thou nigh unto them that be reſerved till the end, and what will they do that have been before me, or we (that be now) or they that ſhall come after us?

Then he ſaid unto me, I will liken my judgement unto a ring: like as there is no ſlackneſſe of them that are laſt, even ſo there is no ſwiftneſſe of the firſt.

Then I anſwered, and ſaid; Couldeſt thou not make them that have been made, and be now, and that are for to come, at once, that thou mighteſt ſhew thy judgement the ſooner?

Then anſwered he me, and ſaid, The creature muſt not ſtrive above the Maker, neither may the world hold them at once that ſhall be created therein.

And I ſaid, As thou haſt ſaid unto thy ſervant, that thou which giveſt life to all, haſt given life unto the creature that thou haſt created, that the creature might live: even ſo it might now receive them that now be perfect at once.

And he ſaid unto me, Ask the wombe of a woman, and ſay unto her, If thou bringeſt forth children, why doeſt thou it not together, but one after another? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

And I ſaid, She cannot: but muſt do it by diſtance of time.

Then ſaid he unto me, Even ſo have I given the wombe of the earth to thoſe that be ſown in it in their times.

For like as a young childe may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, even ſo have I diſpoſed the world which I created.

And I aſked, and ſaid, Seeing thou haſt now given me the way, I will proceed to ſpeak before thee; for our mother of whom thou haſt told me that ſhe is young, draweth now nigh unto age.

He anſwered me, and ſaid, Aſk a woman that beareth children, and ſhe ſhall tell thee.

Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou haſt now brought forth, like thoſe that were before, but leſſe of ſtature?

And ſhe ſhall anſwere thee, They that be born in the ſtrength of youth, are of one faſhion, and they that are born in the time of age (when the wombe faileth) are otherwiſe.

Conſider thou therefore alſo, how that ye are leſſe of ſtature then thoſe that were before you.

And ſo are they that come after you leſſe then ye, as the creatures which now begin to be old, and have paſſed over the ſtrength of youth.

Then ſaid I, Lord, I beſeech thee, if I have found favour in thy ſight, ſhew thy ſervant by whom thou viſiteſt thy creature.

CHAP. VI.

1 Gods purpoſe is eternall. 8 The next world ſhall follow the immediately. 13 What ſhall fall out at the laſt. 31 He is promiſed more knowledge, 38 and reckoneth up the works of the creation, 57 and complaineth that they have no part in the world for whom it was made.

AND he ſaid unto me, In the beginning when the [b] earth was made, before the borders of the world ſtood, or ever the windes blew,

Before it thundred and lightned, or ever the foundations of Paradiſe were laid,

Before the fair flowers were ſeen, or ever the moveable powers were eſtabliſhed, before the innumerable multitude of Angels were gathered together;

Or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the meaſures of the firmament were named, or ever the chimneys in Sion were hot,

And ere the preſent years were ſought out, and or ever the inventions of them that now ſin, were turned, before they were ſealed that have gathered faith for a treaſure:

Then did I conſider theſe things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me alſo they ſhall be ended, and by none other.

Then anſwered I, and ſaid, What ſhall be the parting aſunder of the times? or when ſhall be the end of the firſt, and the beginning of it that followeth?

And he ſaid unto me, From Abraham unto Iſaac, when Jacob and Eſau were born of him, [c] Jacobs hand held [d] firſt the heel of Eſau.

For Eſau is the end of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

The hand of man is betwixt the heel and the hand: other queſtion Eſdras aſk thou not.

¶ I anſwered then, and ſaid, O Lord that beareſt rule, if I have found favour in thy ſight,

I beſeech thee, ſhew thy ſervant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou ſhewedſt me part the laſt night.

13 So he answered and said unto me, Stand up upon thy feet, and hear a mighty sounding voice.

a Or, earthquake. 14 And it shall be as it were a great [a] motion; but the place where thou standest, shall not be moved.

15 And therefore when it speaketh, be not afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundation of the earth is understood.

16 And why? because the speech of these things trembleth, and is moved: for it knoweth that the end of these things must be changed.

17 And it happened that when I had heard it, I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and behold, there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters.

18 And it said, Behold, the dayes come, that I will begin to draw nigh, and to visit them that dwell upon the earth, 19 And will begin to make inquisition of them, what they be that have hurt unjustly with their unrighteousnesse, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled.

b Or, finished. 20 And when the world that shall begin to vanish away, shall be [b] finished: then will I shew these tokens, the books shall be opened before the firmament, and they shall see altogether.

21 And the children of a yeer old shall speak with their voices, the women with childe shall bring forth untimely children of three or four moneths old: and they shall live and be raised up.

22 And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full store-houses shall suddenly be found empty.

23 And the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid.

24 At that time shall friends fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein; the springs of the fountains shall stand still, and in three hours they shall not run.

25 Whosoever remaineth from all these that I have told thee, shall escape, and see my salvation, and the end of your world.

26 And the men that are received, shall see it, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning.

27 For evill shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched.

28 As for faith, it shall flourish, corruption shall be overcome, and the truest which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

29 And when he talked with me, behold, I looked by little and little upon him before whom I stood.

30 And these words said he unto me, I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come.

c See the 23. v. 32. 31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seven dayes again, I shall tell thee greater things [c] by day, then I have heard.

32 For thy voice is heard before the most High: for the mighty hath seen thy righteous dealing, he hath seen also thy chastity which thou hast had ever since thy youth.

33 And therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say unto thee; Be of good comfort, and fear not.

34 And hasten not with the times that are past, to think vain things, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter times.

35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept again, and fasted seven dayes in like manner, that I might fulfill the three weeks which he told me.

36 And in the eighth night was my [illegible] within me again, and I began to speak [illegible] most High.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on [illegible] my soul was in distresse.

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest [illegible] beginning of the creation, even the first [illegible] saidest thus, [d] Let heaven and earth be [illegible] thy word was a perfect work.

39 And then was the Spirit, and darkness [illegible] silence were on every side: the sound of [illegible] voyce was not yet formed.

40 Then commandedst thou a fair light [illegible] forth of thy treasures, that thy workmanship [illegible]

41 Upon the second day thou madest [illegible] of the firmament, and commandedst it [illegible] asunder, and to make a division between [illegible] ters, that the one part might go up, and [illegible] remain beneath.

42 Upon the third day thou didst command [illegible] the waters should be gathered in the seventh [illegible] of the earth; six parts hast thou dried [illegible] kept them, to the intent that of these [illegible] planted of God, and tilled, might serve [illegible]

43 For assoon as thy Word went forth [illegible] was made.

44 For immediately there was great [illegible] morable fruit, and many and divers pleasures [illegible] the taste, and flowers of unchangeable [illegible] odours of wonderfull smell: and this [illegible] the third day.

45 [e] Upon the fourth day thou commandedst [illegible] that the Sunne should shine, and the Moon [illegible] her light, and the Starres should be in [illegible]

46 And gavest them a charge to [illegible] unto man that was to be made.

47 Upon the fifth day thou saidst [illegible] venth part, [f] where the waters were [illegible] that it should bring forth living creatures [illegible] and fishes: and so it came to passe.

48 For the dumbe water, and [illegible] brought forth living things at the [illegible] of God, that all people might praise [illegible] works.

49 Then didst thou ordain two [illegible] fishes, the one thou calledst [h] Enoch, [illegible] Leviathan.

50 And didst separate the one from [illegible] for the seventh part (namely, where the [illegible] gathered together) might not hold them [illegible]

51 Unto Enoch thou gavest one part, [illegible] dried up the third day, that he should [illegible] same part, wherein are a thousand [illegible]

52 But unto Leviathan thou gavest [illegible] part, namely, the moist, and hast kept [illegible] devoured of whom thou wilt, and when [illegible]

53 Upon the sixth day thou gavest [illegible] ment unto the earth, that before [illegible] bring forth beasts, cattell, and creeping [illegible]

54 And after these, Adam also, [illegible] madest lord of all the creatures, [illegible] all, and the people also whom there [illegible]

55 All this have I spoken before [illegible] because thou madest the world for [illegible]

56 As for the other people [illegible] Adam, thou hast said that they are [illegible] like unto spittle, and hast likened [illegible] them unto a drop that falleth [illegible]

57 And now, O Lord, behold, [illegible] which have ever been, [illegible] begun to be lords over us, and [illegible]

58 But we thy people (whom [illegible] thy first-born, thy only begotten, [illegible] vent lover) are given into their [illegible]

CHAP. VII.

…We say it narrow? 12 When it was made narrow. …All shall die and rise again. 33 Christ shall sit …judgment. 45 God hath not made Paradise …on and it ensued.

…Nd when I had made an end of speaking these …words, there was sent unto me the Angel …which had been sent unto me the nights afore.

…And he said unto me, Up Esdras, and hear …words that I am come to tell thee.

…And I said, Speak on my God. Then said he …unto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it …might be deep and great.

…But put the case the entrance were narrow, …like a river,

…Who then could go into the sea to look upon …it, and to rule it? if he went not thorow the nar…row, how could he come into the broad?

…There is also another thing. A city is builded, …and set upon a broad field, and is full of all good …things.

…The entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in …dangerous place to fall, like as if there were …fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep …water.

…And one onely path between them both, even …between the fire and the water, so small that there …is but one man go there at once.

…If this city now were given unto a man for an …inheritance, if he never shall passe the danger set …in it, how shall he receive this inheritance?

…And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he unto …me, Even so also is Israels portion:

…Because for their sakes I made the world: …when Adam transgressed my Statutes, then …was decreed that now is done.

…Then were the entrances of this world made …strait, full of sorrow and travell: they are but …few, and evill, full of perils, and very painfull.

…For the entrances of the [b] elder world were …large and sure, and brought immortall fruit.

…If then they that live, labour not to enter …into the fruit and vain things they can never receive …those that are laid up for them.

…Now therefore why disquietest thou thy …self, being thou art but a corruptible man? and …why art thou moved, whereas thou art but mortal?

…Why hast thou not considered in thy minde …the thing that is to come, rather then that which …is present?

…Then answered I, and said, O Lord that …rulest me, thou hast ordained in thy [c] Law, that …the righteous should inherit these things, but that …the ungodly should perish:

…Nevertheless the righteous shall suffer strait …things and hope for wide: for they that have done …wickedly, have suffered the strait things, and yet …not see the wide.

…And he said unto me, There is no Judge …above God, and none that hath understanding …above the Highest.

…There be many that perish in this life, …because they despise the Law of God that is set …before them.

…For God hath given strait commandment to …those that came, what they should do to live, even …when they came, and what they should observe to …not be punished.

…Nevertheless, they were not obedient unto …him, but spake against him, and imagined …themselves a Rom. 3.18. though it was said that Israel, they are not fallen alone, but we all that have our being.

37 For what profit is it to know, if there be promised us an immortall time, whereas we have done the works that lead to death?

38 And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas our selves being most wicked, are made vain?

39 And that there are laid up for us dwellings of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly?

40 And that the glory of the most High is kept to defend them which have led b a wary life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked ways of all?

b Or, a chaste life.

41 And that there should be shewed a Paradise, whose fruit endureth for ever, wherein is c security and medicine, sith we shall not enter into it?

c Or, fulness.

42 For we have walked in unpleasant places.

43 And that the faces of them which have used abstinence, shall shine above the Starres, whereas our faces shall be blacker then darknesse?

44 For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not that we should begin to suffer for it after death.

45 Then answered he me, and said, This is the d condition of the battell, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight, d Or, intent.

46 That if he be overcome, he shall suffer, as thou hast said, but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing that I say.

47 For this is the life whereof Moses spake unto the people while he lived, saying, e Chuse thee life that thou mayest live.

e Deut. 30.19.

48 Nevertheless they believed not him, nor yet the Prophets after him, no nor me which have spoken unto them.

49 That there should not be such heavinesse in their destruction, as shall be joy over them that are perswaded to salvation.

50 I answered then and said, I know Lord, that the most High is called mercifull, in that he hath mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world,

51 And upon those also that turn to his law,

52 And that f he is patient, and long suffereth unto that have sinned, as his creatures.

f Rom. 2.4.

53 And that he is bountifull, for he is ready to give where it needeth.

54 And that he is of great mercy, for he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come.

55 For if he shall not multiply his mercies, the world would not continue with them that inherit therein.

56 And he pardoneth, for if he did not so of his goodnesse, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousand part of men should not remain living.

57 And being Judge, if he should not forgive them that are g called with his word, and put out the multitude of h corruptions, 9 But that which keepeth, and is kept, shall be preserved: and when the time [illegible] woombe preserved delivereth up the [illegible] grew in it.

10 For thou hast commanded out of the body, that is to say, out of the [illegible] be given, which is the fruit of the [illegible]

11 That the thing which is fashioned nourished for a time, till thou dispose mercy.

12 Thou broughtest it up with thy [illegible] nesse, and nurturedst it in thy Law, and it with thy Judgement.

13 And thou shalt mortifie it as thou and quicken it as thy work.

14 If therefore thou shalt destroy [illegible] with so great labour was fashioned thing to be ordained by thy commandment the thing which was made [illegible]

15 Now therefore, Lord, I will [illegible] man in generall, thou knowest best [illegible] thy people, for whose sake I am [illegible]

17 Therefore will I begin to pray [illegible] for my self, and for them: for I [illegible] that dwell in the land.

18 But I have heard the swiftnesse [illegible] which is to come.

19 Therefore hear my voice, and [illegible] words, and I shall speak before thee [illegible] beginning of the words of Esdras, [illegible] taken up: and I said,

20 O Lord, thou that dwellest [illegible] which beholdest from above, that [illegible] and in the air,

21 Whose throne is immeasurable [illegible] may not be comprehended, [illegible] of Angels stand with trembling, and upon those that have walked fair-thee: but remember them, which ac-as thy will have known thy fear.

not be thy will to destroy them which like beasts: but to look upon them to try them by thy Law.
not displeasure at them which are worse than beasts: but love them that al-their trust in thy righteousnes and glory.
we and our fathers [a] do languish of such because of us sinners thou shalt be cal-mercifull.
For if thou [b] hast a desire to have mercy up-thou shalt be called mercifull, to us namely, no works of righteousnesse.
For the rest which have many good works with thee, shall out of their own deeds re-reward.
For what is man that thou shouldest take dis-at him? or what is a corruptible genera-that thou shouldest be so bitter toward it?
For in truth there is no man among them born, but he hath dealt wickedly, and the faithfull there is none which hath not sinne.
For in this, O Lord, thy righteousnesse, and goodnesse shall be declared, if thou be mercifito them which have not the [d] confidence of works.
Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast spoken aright, and according unto thy it shall be.
For indeed I will not think on the disposition them which have sinned before death, before anger, before destruction.
But I will rejoyce over the disposition of righteous, and I will remember also their pilgrimage, and the salvation, and the reward that shall have.
Like as I have spoken now, so shall it come pass.
For as the husbandman soweth much seed the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet that is sown good in his season, cometh not: neither doth all that is planted take root:
also is it of them that are sown in the world,
shall not all be saved.
Answered then, and said, If I have found grace, let me speak.
Like as the husbandmans seed perisheth, if it not up, or receive not the rain in due season, not come too much rain, and corrupt it:
even so perisheth man also which is formed the hands, and is called thine own image, because unto him, for whose sake thou made all things, and likened him unto the creature fired.
Be not wroth with us, but spare thy people, have mercy upon thine own inheritance: for hast created and made unto thy greatness.
Then answered he me, and said, Things present for the present; and things as come, for to come.
For thou comest far short, that thou shouldest love my creation more than I; but I many times drawn nigh unto them, and unto not unto the unrighteous.
Therefore thou art marvellous before the

to be much glorified among the righteous: 31 For what great honour shall be done to them, that in the latter time shall live in the world, because they have walked in great pride?
32 But understand thou for thy self, and seek out the glory for such as be like thee.
33 For unto you is Paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is allowed, yea, perfect goodnesse and wisdome.
34 The root of evill is sealed up from you, weaknesse and the moth is hid from you, and corruption is fled into hell to be forgotten: f Or, the treasure of immortality.

36 And therefore ask thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.
37 For when they had taken liberty, they despised the most High, thought scorn of his Law, and forsook his wales.
38 Moreover, they have trodden down his righteous.

was not his will that men should come to nought.
41 But they which he created, have defiled the Name of him that made them, and were unthank-full unto him which prepared life for them.
42 And therefore is my judgement now at hand.
43 These things have I not shewed unto all men, but unto thee, and a few like thee. Then answered
I, and said,
44 Behold, O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders which thou wilt begin to do in the last times: but in what time, thou hast not shewed me.

CHAP. IX.

7 Who shall be saved, and who not. 19 All the world is now corrupted: 22 Yet God doth save a few. 33 He complaineth that these perish which obey God's Law: 38 and setteth a woman lamenting by a field.

AND he answered me then, and said, Measure thou the time diligently in it self: and when thou seest part of the signes past, which I have told thee before,
2 Then shalt thou understand that it is the very same time, wherein the Highest will begin to visit were before thee even from the beginning.

works, and endings in the times and figures.
7 And every one that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape my k enemies, and by faith, wherein ye have believed, k Or, foes.
8 Shall be preserved from the said perils, and shall see my salvation in my land, and within my borders: for I have sanctified them for me from the beginning.
9 Then shall they l be in perill, of which now I am, that l Or, they have suffered, and every evil shall be forgotten from shall suffer.
them every deceitfully, shall not be remembred.

P p 2 10 But

20 For such as in their life have received benefits, and have not known me:

21 And they that have loathed my Law, while they had yet liberty, and when as yet place of repentance was open unto them, understood not, but despised it:

22 The same must know it after death by pain.

23 And therefore be thou not curious how the ungodly shall be punished, and when: but enquire how the righteous shall be saved, whose the world is, and for whom the world is created.

24 Then answered I, and said,

25 I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter: that there be many more of them which perish, then of them which shall be saved;

26 Like as a wave is greater then a drop.

27 And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed: as the flowers be, such are the colours also: such as the workman is, such also is the work: and as the husbandman is himself, so is his husbandry also: for it was the time of the world.

28 [a] And now when I prepared the world, which was not yet made, even for them to dwell in that now live, no man spake against me.

29 For then every one obeyed; [b] but now the manners of them which are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seed, and by a law which is unsearchable, rid themselves.

30 So I considered the world, and behold, there was perill, because of the devices that were come into it.

31 And I saw and spared it greatly, and have kept me a [c] grape of the cluster, and a plant of a great people.

32 Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain, and let my [d] grape be kept, and my plant: for with great labour have I made it perfect.

33 Nevertheless, if thou wilt cease yet seven daies more, (but thou shalt not fast in them)

34 But go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eat only the flowers of the field, taste no flesh, drink no wine, but eat flowers only.

35 And pray unto the Highest continually, then will I come and talk with thee.

36 So I went my way into the field, which is called Ardath, like as he commanded me, and there I sate amongst the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me.

37 After seven daies I sate upon the grasse, and my heart was vexed within me, like as before.

38 And I opened my mouth, and began to talk before the most High, and said, 39 O Lord, thou that shewest thy self unto us, thou was [e] shewed unto our fathers in the wilderneſſe, in a place where no man [f] treadeth, in a barren place when they came out of Egypt.

40 And thou spakest saying, Hear me, O Israel, and mark my words, thou seed of Jacob.

41 For behold, I sow my Law in you, and it shall bring fruit in you, and ye shall be honoured in it for ever.

42 But our fathers which received the Law, kept it not, and observed not thy ordinances, and though the fruit of thy Law did not perish, neither could it, for it was thine:

43 Yet they that received it, perished, because they kept not the thing that was sowen in them.

44 And lo, it is a custome when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessell meat or drink, that, that being perished wherein it was sowen, or cast into,

45 That thing also which was therein, or received, doth perish, not with us: but with us it hath not

48 And when I spake these things in looked back with mine eies, and upon side I saw a woman, and behold, she wept with a loud voyce, and was much heart, and her clothes were rent, and upon her head.

49 Then let I my thoughts go that I turned me unto her,

50 And said unto her, Wherefore wee why art thou so grieved in thy mind?

51 And she said unto me, Sir, let me I may bewail my self, and adde unto for I am sore vexed in my minde, and very low.

52 And I said unto her, What ail Tell me.

53 She said unto me, I thy servant barren, and had no childe, though I had thirty yeers.

54 And those thirty yeers I did nothing day and night, and every hour, but prayer to the Highest.

32 And I ſaid, Becauſe thou haſt forſaken me, and yet I did according to thy ſaying unto thy ſervant: and I went into the field, and lo, I am forſaken, and yet I am not.
33 And he ſaid unto me, Stand up manfully, and I will adviſe thee.
34 Then ſaid I, Speak on, my Lord in me, only forſake me not, leſt I die unadviſed of my hope.
35 For I have ſeen that I knew not, and hear that I do not know.
36 Or is my ſenſe deceived, or my ſoul in a dream?
37 Now therefore, I beſeech thee, that thou wilt ſhew thy ſervant of this viſion.
38 He anſwered me then, and ſaid, Hear me, and I ſhall inform thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the Higheſt will reveal many ſecrets unto thee.
39 He hath ſeen that thy zeal is right: for that thou ſorrowſt continually for thy people, and makeſt great lamentation for them.
40 This therefore is the meaning of the viſion which thou lately ſaweſt:
41 Thou ſaweſt a woman mourning, and thou begannſt to comfort her.
42 But now ſeeſt thou the likeneſſe of the woman no more, but there appeared unto thee a city builded.
43 And whereas ſhe told thee of the death of her ſonne, this is the interpretation.
44 This woman whom thou ſaweſt, is Sion, and whereas ſhe ſaid unto thee of many ſorrowes, even ſo it is: for Sion ſeeſt thou now as a city builded, 45 Wherein, I ſay, ſhe had not yet built any building: and whereas I told thee that ſhe had been thirty years barren, there were three ſpaces of time in her.
46 For after thirty years he cauſed him to be built: and offered offerings: and then bare the barren a ſonne.
47 And whereas ſhe told thee, that ſhe nouriſhed him with labour: that was the dwelling in Jeruſalem.
48 But whereas ſhe ſaid unto thee, That my ſonne coming into his marriage-chamber, ſhould have a fall, and die: that was the deſolation that came to Jeruſalem.
49 And behold, thou ſaweſt her likeneſſe, and beheld the mourning for her ſorrowfulneſs began to comfort her, and of theſe things which have chanced, theſe are to be opened unto thee.
50 For now the moſt High ſeeth that thou art grieved unfeignedly, and ſuffereſt ſore for the whole heart for her, ſo hath he ſhewed thee the brightneſſe of her glory, and the comelineſs of her beauty.
51 And therefore I bade thee remain in the field, where no houſe was builded.
52 For I knew that the Higheſt would ſhew this unto thee.
53 Therefore I commanded thee to go into the field, where no foundation of any building was.
54 For in the place wherein the Higheſt beginneth to ſhew his city, there can no mans building be able to ſtand.
55 And therefore fear not, let not thy heart be affrighted, but go thy way in, and ſee the beauty and greatneſſe of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to ſee:
56 And then ſhalt thou hear as much as thine ears may comprehend.
57 For thou art bleſſed above many others, and art called with the Higheſt, and ſo are but few.
58 But to morrow at night thou ſhalt remain here.

39 And he shall shew the Highest shew the visions of the high things, which the most High will do unto them that dwell upon earth in the last dales. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

CHAP. XI.

1 He seeth in his dream an Eagle coming out of the sea, 37 and a Lion out of a wood talking to the Eagle.

THen saw I a dream, and behold, there came up from the sea an Eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three heads.

2 And I saw, and behold, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of the air blew on her, and were gathered together.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grew other contrary feathers, and they became little feathers and small.

4 But her head were at rest: the head in the midst was greater than the other, yet rested it with the residue.

5 Moreover, I beheld, and lo, the Eagle flew with her feathers, and reigned upon earth, and over them that dwelt therein.

6 And I saw that all things under heaven were subject unto her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature upon earth.

7 And I beheld, and lo, the Eagle rose upon her talons, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8 Watch not all at once, sleep every one in his own place, and wait by course.

9 But let the heads be preserved for the last.

10 And I beheld, and lo, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body.

11 And I numbered her contrary feathers; and behold, there were eight of them.

12 And I beheld, and behold, on the right side there arose one feather, and reigned over all the earth.

13 And so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next following stood up and reigned, and had a great time.

14 And it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, like as the first; so that it appeared no more.

15 Then called there a voice unto it, and said,

16 Hear, thou that hast born rule over the earth so long: this I say unto thee, before thou hast neither beginning nor end more.

17 Then said another arise thou also, and reign thou in thy time, that thou mayest be for torment unto thy fellows.

18 Then arose the third, and reigned as the other before: and appeared no more also.

19 So was it with all the residue one after another, as that every one reigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I beheld, and lo, in process of time the feathers that followed, stood up upon the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more:

21 For some of them were set up, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked, and behold, the twelve feathers appeared no more, nor the two little feathers:

23 And there was no more upon the eagles body, but three heads that rested, and six little wings.

24 Then saw I also that two little feathers divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side: for the four continued in their place.

25 And I beheld, and lo, the feathers that were under the wing, thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule.

26 And I beheld, and lo, there were [illegible] but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second was sooner away [illegible]

28 And I beheld, and lo, the two [illegible] thought also in themselves to reign.

29 And when they so thought, [illegible] awaked one of the heads that were at [illegible] ly, it that was in the midst, for that was [illegible] then the two other heads.

30 And then I saw that the two [illegible] were joyned with it.

31 And behold, the head was turned [illegible] that were with it, and did eat up the [illegible] under the wing that would have reigned.

32 But this head put the whole [illegible] and bare rule in it over all those that [illegible] the earth, with much oppression, and [illegible] governance of the world, more than all [illegible] that had been.

33 And after this I beheld, and lo, [illegible] that was in the midst, suddenly appeared [illegible] like as the wings.

34 But these remained the two heads [illegible] also in like sort ruled upon the earth, [illegible] those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and lo, the head [illegible] side, devoured it that was upon the left [illegible]

36 Then I heard a voyce, which said [illegible] Look before thee, and consider the [illegible] thou seest.

37 And I beheld, and lo, as it were a [illegible] Lion chased out of the wood: and [illegible] sent out a mans voyce unto the Eagle [illegible]

38 Hear thou, I will talk with [illegible] Highest shall say unto thee,

39 Art not thou it that remainest [illegible] beasts, whom I made to reign in [illegible] the end of their times might come [illegible]

40 Art thou the fourth name, [illegible] beasts that were past, and hast [illegible] world with great fear, and [illegible] whole compass of the earth with [illegible] oppression, and so long time dwelt [illegible] earth with deceit.

41 For the earth hast thou not [illegible]

42 For thou hast afflicted the [illegible] hurt the peaceable, thou hast [illegible] stroyed the dwellings of them that [illegible] fruit, and hast cast down the walls of [illegible] thou hast not harmed.

43 Therefore is thy presumption [illegible] unto the Highest, and thy pride [illegible]

44 The Highest also hath looked [illegible] times, and behold they are [illegible] mistions are fulfilled.

45 And therefore hopest thou to [illegible] not thy horrible wings, nor thy [illegible] nor thy malicious heads, nor [illegible] nor all thy vain boasts.

46 That all the earth may [illegible] may worship before [illegible] and that the [illegible] mercy of him that made [illegible]

CHAP. XII.

3 The Eagle which he saw, is [illegible] is interpreted. 37 He [illegible] and to fight, and [illegible] comfort the obedient.

AND it came to pass [illegible] these words, [illegible]

2 And behold, [illegible] seven wings [illegible] unto it, and set [illegible] kingdome was [illegible] and I saw, and beheld, they appeared not and the whole body of the earth was so that the earth was in great fear: then I took of the trouble, and trance of my from great fear, and said unto my spirit; lo, this hast thou done unto me, in that thou searchest out the ways of the Highest.

yet am I weary in my mind, and very in my spirit: and little strength is there me, for the great fear wherewith I was this night.
Therefore will I now beseech the Highest, will comfort me unto the end.
and I said, Lord that bearest rule, if I have grace before thy sight, and if I am justibefore many others, and if my pray-be come up before thy face.
Comfort me then, and shew me thy servant interpretation, and plain difference of this vision, that thou mayest perfectly commy soul.
For thou hast judged me worthy to shew me times.
And he said unto me, This is the interpre-of the vision.
The Eagle whom thou sawest come up from is the kingdome which was seen in the of thy brother Daniel.
But it was not expounded unto him, there-now I declare it unto thee.
Behold, the dayes will come, that there shall kingdome upon earth, and it shall be fear-all the kingdomes that were before it.
In the same shall twelve kings reign, one another.
Whereof the second shall begin to reign, shall have more time then any of the twelve.
And this do the twelve wings signifie which sawest.
As for the voyce which thou hearddest speak, that thou sawest not to go out from the heads, from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation:
That after the time of that kingdome, there great strivings, and it shall stand in of falling: nevertheless it shall not then but shall be restored again to his beginning.
And whereas thou sawest the eight small feathers sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation:
That in him there shall arise eight Kings, time shall be but small, and their years Andtwo of them shall perish: the middle approaching, four shall be kept until their kingdom approach: but two shall be kept un-
And whereas thou sawest three heads restin the last days shall she raise up three Kings, and renew many things therein, they shall have the dominion of the earth.
And of little ones, and unlearned, with subtilties, shall those that were before them, that were called the heads the Eagle.
And the fierce thing that thou sawest, shall accomplish his and stand up himself, and obtain the kingdome.
And whereas thou sawest, that the great appeared no more, it signifieth that one of shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain.
For the two that remain, shall be slain with sword.
But the serpent that thou sawest rise up other: but at the last shall be fall through the sword himself.
And whereas thou sawest two feathers under the wings passing over the head, that is on the right side:
He signifieth, that these are they which the Highest hath kept unto their end: this is the small kingdome and full of trouble, as there is wont.
And the lion whom thou sawest rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the Eagle, and reproving her for her unrighteousness, with all the words which thou hast heard,
This is the Anointed which the Highest hath kept for them, until the their wickedneſſe unto the end: he shall reprove them, and shall upbraid them with their cruelty.
For he shall set them before him alive in judgement, & shall rebuke them, and correct them.
For the rest of my people shall be deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved upon my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the day of judgement, whereof have spoken unto thee from the beginning.
This is the dream that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.
Thou only hast been meet to know this secret of the Highest.
Therefore write all these things that thou hast seen in a book, and hide them.
And teach them to the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend, and keep these secrets.
But wait thou here thy self yet seven dayes more, that it may be shewed thee whatsoever it pleaseth the Highest to declare unto thee: And with that he went his way.
And it came to passe when all the people saw that the seven dayes were past, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and said,
What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done against thee, that thou for-sakest us, and sittest here in this place?
For of all the b Prophets, thou onely art left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a candle in a dark place, and as a haven for ship preserved from the tempest.
Are not the evils which are come to us, sufficient?
If thou shalt forsake us, how much better had it been for us, if we also had been burnt in the midst of Sion.
For we are not better then they that died there. And they wept with a loud voyce: then answered I them, and said,
Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heavy, thou house of Jacob:
For the Highest hath you in remembrance, and the Almighty hath not forgotten you in displeasure.
As for me, I have not forsaken you; neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for the low estate of your sanctuary.
And now go your way home every man,
and after these dayes will I come unto you.
So the people went their way into the city,
like as I commanded them.
But I remained still in the field seven days, as the Angel commanded me, and did eat onely in those dayes of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He seeth in his dream a man coming out of the sea. 25 The declaration of his dream. 54 He is praised, and promised to see more.

AND it came passe after seven dayes, I dreamed a dream by night.

2 And [a] lo, there arose a wind from the sea, that it moved all the waves thereof.

3 And I beheld, and lo, that man waxed strong with the [b] thousands of heaven: and when he turned his countenance to look, all the things trembled that were seen under him.

4 And whensoever the voyce went out of his mouth, all they burnt that heard his voyce, like as the earth fainteth when it feeleth the fire.

5 And after this I beheld, and lo, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the four windes of the heaven, to subdue the man that came out of the sea.

6 But I beheld, and lo, he had graved him self a great mountain, and flew up upon it.

7 But I would have seen the region, or place, whereout the hill was graven, and I could not.

8 And after this I beheld, and lo, all they which were gathered together to subdue him, were sore afraid, and yet durst fight.

9 And lo, as he saw the violence of the multitude that came, he neither lift up his hand, nor held sword nor any instrument of warre.

10 But onely I saw that he sent out of his mouth as it had been a blast of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast out sparks and tempests.

11 And they were all mixt together, the blast of fire, the flaming breath, and the great tempest, and fell with violence upon the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burnt them up every one, so that upon a sudden, of an innumerable multitude, nothing was to be perceived, but onely dust, and smell of smoak: when I saw this I was afraid.

12 Afterward saw I the same man come down from the mountain, and call unto him another peaceable multitude.

13 And there came much people unto him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some brought [c] of them that were offered: then was I sick through great fear, and I awaked and said,

14 Thou hast shewed thy servant wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy that thou shouldest receive my prayer:

15 Shew me now yet the interpretation of this dream.

16 For as I conceive in mine understanding, wo unto them that shall be left in those dayes, and much more wo unto them that are not left behinde.

17 For they that were not left, were in heavinesse.

18 Now understand I the things that are laid up in the latter dayes, which shall happen unto them, and to those that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many necessities, like as these dreams declare.

20 Yet is it easier for him that is in danger, to come into [d] these things, then to passe away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that happen in the last dayes. And he answered unto me, and said, 21 The interpretation of the vision shall I shew thee, and I will open unto thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation:

23 He that shall endure the perils in those times, hath kept himself: they that fall into danger, are such as have works and faith toward the Almighty.

24 Know this therefore, that they which are left behind, are more blessed then they that be dead.

25 This is the meaning of the vision: Whereas thou sawest a man coming up from the midst of the sea:

26 The same is he whom God the Highest hath kept a great season, which by his own power shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behinde.

27 And whereas thou sawest that out of his mouth there came as it were a blast of winde, fire and storm:

28 And that he held neither sword, nor any instrument of warre, but that the nothing but him destroyed the whole multitude that came to subdue him, this is the interpretation.

29 Behold, the dayes come when the most High will begin to deliver them that are upon the earth.

30 And he shall come to the astonishment of them that dwell on the earth.

31 And one shall undertake to fight against another, one city against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realm against another.

32 And the time shall be, when these things shall come to passe, and the signes shall appear, which I shewed thee before, and then shall my Sonne be declared, whom thou sawest as a man ascending.

33 And when all the people hear his voyce, every man shall in their own land forsake their battell they have one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude I saw gathered together, as thou sawest them before, to come, and to overcome him by fighting.

35 But he shall stand upon the top of mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come and shall be prepared for all men, being prepared and builded, even as thou sawest the hill graven without hands.

37 And this my Sonne shall reprove the inventions of those nations, which for their wickednesse of life are fallen into their torments.

38 And shall lay before them their own vain thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall begin to be tormented, which are but a short time, and he shall destroy them in a little houre, by the Law which is like unto fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable multitude unto him:

40 Those are the ten tribes, which were caried away prisoners out of their own land in the time of Osea the King, whom Salmanasar the King of Assyria led away prisoners, and he carried them over the waters, and so came they into another land.

41 But they took this counsell among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt,

42 That they might there keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land.

43 And they entred into Euphrates by the narrow passages of the river.

44 For the most High then shewed signes for them, and held still the floods, till they were passed over.

45 For through that country [illegible]

...And I sent him, and led my people out of ...

...and the interpretations which thou hast heard, ...
...for thou shalt be taken up from all, ...
...and henceforth thou shalt remain with my Sonne, ...
...and with those like unto thee, until the times be ...

...For the world hath lost her youth, and the ...
...times begin to wax old.
...For the world is divided into twelve parts, ...
...and the ten parts of it are gone already, and ...
...half of a tenth part.
...And there remaineth that which is after the ...
...half of a tenth part.
...Now therefore set thine house in order, and ...

...For yet greater evils then those which thou Matth. ...
...hast seen happen, shall be done hereafter. 24. 7.
...For look how much the world shall be ...
...weaker through age: so much the more shall ...
...evils increase upon them that dwell therein.
...For the truth is fled farre away, and lesing is ...
...hard at hand: for now hasteth the vision to come ...
...which thou hast seen.
...Then answered I before thee, and said, ...
...Behold, Lord, I will go as thou hast commanded ...
...me, and reprove the people which are present, ...
...but they that shall be born afterward, who shall ...
...admonish them? thus the world is set in dark- ...
...nesse, & they that dwell therein are without light.
...For thy Law is burnt, therefore no man ...
...knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the ...
...works that shall begin.
...But if I have found grace before thee, send ...
...the holy Ghost into me, and I shall write all that ...
...hath been done in the world, since the beginning, ...
...which were written in thy law; that men may find ...
...thy pathes, and that they which will live in the lat- ...
...ter dayes may live.
...And he answered me, saying, Go thy way, ...
...gather the people together, and say unto them ...
...that they seek thee not for fourty dayes.
...But look thou prepare thee many box- ...
...trees, and take with thee, Sarea, Dabria, Sel- ...
...emiah, Asanus, and Ariel, these five which are ...
...ready to write swiftly.
...And come hither, and I shall light a candle ...
...of understanding in thine heart, which shall not ...
...be put out, till the things be performed which ...
...thou shalt begin to write.
...And when thou hast done, some things shalt ...
...thou publish, and some things shalt thou shew se- ...
...cretly to the wise: to morrow this hour shalt ...
...thou begin to write.
...Then went I forth as he commanded, and ...
...gathered all the people together, and said,
...Hear these words, O Israel.
...Our fathers at the beginning were strangers ...
...here in Egypt, from whence they were delivered,
...And received the Law of life, which they kept ...
...not, which ye also have transgressed after them.
...Then was the land of Jewry parted among you by lot, but your fathers and ...
...ye your selves have done unrighteously, and ...
...have not kept the wayes which the Highest com- ...
...manded you.
...And for as much as he is a righteous Judge, ...
...he took from you in time the thing that he had ...
...given you.
...And now are ye here, and your brethren ...
...amongst you.
...Therefore if so be that you will subdue your ...
...own understanding, and direct your hearts, ye ...
...shall be kept alive; and after death ye shall ob- ...
...tain mercy.
...For after death shall the Judgement come, ...
...when we shall live again: and then shall the ...
...names of the righteous be manifest, and the ...
...works of the ungodly shall be declared.

35 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek of me these fourty dayes.

37 So I took the five men as he commanded me, and we went into the field, and remained there.

38 And the next day, behold, a voyce called me, saying, Esdras, [a] open thy mouth, and drink that I give thee to drink.

a Ezek. 3.2.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire:

40 And I took it, and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdome grew in my breast, for my spirit strengthened my memory.

41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.

42 The Highest gave understanding unto the five men, and they wrote the wonderfull visions of the night that were told, which they knew not: And they sate fourty dayes, and they wrote in the day, and at night they ate bread.

43 As for me, I spoke in the day, and held not my tongue by night.

44 In fourty dayes they wrote [b] two hundred and four bookes.

b Or, nine hundred and four.

45 And it came to passe when the fourty dayes were fulfilled, that the Highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthy and unworthy may reade it.

46 But keep the seventy last, that thou mayest deliver them onely to such as be wise among thy people.

47 For in them is the spring of understanding, the fountains of wisdome, and [c] the stream of knowledge.

c Or, the fulness of knowledge.

48 And I did so.

CHAP. XV.

1 This prophecie is certain. 5 God will take vengeance upon the nations, 12 upon Egypt. 28 As for his owne people, 43 being his and Abrahams seed.

Behold, speak thou in the eares of my people the words of prophecie, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord.

2 And cause them to be written in paper: for they are faithfull and true.

3 Feare not the imaginations against thee, let not the incredulity of them trouble thee, that speak against thee.

4 For all the unfaithfull shall die in their unfaithfulnesse.

5 Behold, saith the Lord, I will bring plagues upon the world, the sword, famine, death, and destruction.

6 For wickednesse hath exceedingly polluted the whole earth, and their hurtfull works are fulfilled.

Therefore saith the Lord,

7 I will hold my tongue no more, as touching their wickednesse which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in those things in which they wickedly exercise themselves, behold, the [d] innocent and righteous blood crieth unto me, and the soules of the just complain continually.

d Revel. 6.10. and 19.2.

8 And therefore saith the Lord, I will surely avenge them, and receive unto me all the innocent blood from among them.

9 Behold, my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt.

10 But I will bring them with my glory, and [e] a stretched out arm, and smite Egypt with plagues as before, and will destroy all the land thereof.

shall smite one upon another, and they down a great multitude of starres earth, even their own starre; and blend from the sword unto the belly,
And dung of men unto the camels ᵃ bough.
And there shall be great fearfulness and upon earth, and they that see the wrath afraid, and trembling shall come upon
And then shall there come great storms, south, and from the north, and another the west.
And strong windes shall arise from the east, shall open it, and the cloud which he raised up and the starre stirred to cause fear to the east and west winds, shall be destroyed.
The great and mighty clouds shall be seized full of wrath, and the starre, that they may all the earth, afraid, and them that dwell with, and they shall powre out over every high eminent place, an horrible starre.
Fire and hail, and fleeing swords, and many that all fields may be full, and all rivers with the abundance of great waters.
And they shall break down the cities, and mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and of the meadows, and their corn.
And they shall go stedfastly unto Babylon, make her afraid.
They shall come to her, and besiege her, the flame, and all wrath shall they powre out upon that the dust and smoke go up unto the heaven: and all they that be about her, shall be sad unto her.
And they that remain under her, shall do unto them that have put her in fear.
And thou Asia, that art ᵇ partaker of the hope
Babylon, and art the glory of her person:
Woe be unto thee, thou wretch, because thou hast made thy self like unto her, and hast deckt thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in the lovers, which have always used to commit whoredome with thee.
Thou hast followed her that is hated in all wickedness and inventions: therefore think God,
I will send plagues upon thee: widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy house with destruction and dearth.
And the glory of thy power shall be dried up as flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over thee.
Thou shalt be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wrath, so that the mighty and lovers shall not be able to endure thee.
Would I with Jealousie have spoken unto you, think the hearer,
If thou light not strong this my calling, with the stroke of thine hands, and fighting over them a death, when thou shalt drink of,
Or, Amongst.
ᵇ marre the beauty of thy state.

CHAP. XVI.

Babylon and other places are threatned with plagues that cannot be avoided, 13 and with destruction. 15 The saintes of the Lord shall look for rebuke: 21. and not hide their faults, 24 but understand, and they shall be delivered.

WO be unto thee, Babylon and Asia, woe be unto thee, Egypt and Syria.
Gird up your loines with clothes of sack and hair, beat it your children, and be sorry, for your destruction is at hand.
A sword is sent upon you, and who will turn it back?
A fire is sent among you, and who may quench it?
Plagues are sent unto you, and what is he that may drive them away?
May any man drive away a hungry beast in the wood? or may any one quench the fire in stubble, when it hath begun to burn?
May one turn again the arrow that is shot of a strong archer?
The mighty Lord striketh the plagues; and who is he that can drive them away?
A fire shall go forth from his wrath and who is he that may quench it?
He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afraid?
The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly beaten to powder at his presence?
The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof, the sea ariseth up with its waves from the deep, and the waves of it are troubled, and the fishes thereof also before the Lord, and before the glory of his power.
For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not be willed, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.
Behold, the plagues are sent, and it shall not stand again, until they come upon the earth.
The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.
Like as the archer aimeth at a mark, so doth the archer, reacheth not back again, so the plagues that shall be sent upon earth, shall not return again.
Woe is me, woe is me, who will deliver me in those days?
The mourning of strong, and great sighings, the beginning of wrath, and the power that shall be in the [illegible] of wrath, and [illegible] the beginning of wonders, and the power that shall be in the [illegible] of wrath, and [illegible] the angels, are sent to destroy the world.
But for all these things they shall not turn from from their wickedneſs, & that he alone mindfull of the creature.

21 Behold, viſitacis ſhall be ſo good cheap upon earth, that they ſhall think themſelves to be in good caſe, and even then ſhall * evills grow upon earth, Sword, famine, and great confuſion.

22 For many of them that dwell upon earth, ſhall periſh of famine, and the other that eſcape the hunger, ſhall the ſword deſtroy.

23 And the dead ſhall be caſt out as dung, & there ſhall be no man to comfort them, for the earth ſhall be waſted, and the cities ſhall be caſt down.

24 There ſhall be no man left to till the earth, and to ſowe it.

25 The trees ſhall give fruit, and who ſhall gather them?

26 The grapes ſhall ripe, and who ſhall tread them? for all places ſhall be deſolate of men.

27 So that one man ſhall deſire to ſee another, and to hear his voice.

28 For of a city there ſhall be ten left, and two of the field, which ſhall hide themſelves in the thick groves, and in the clefts of rocks.

29 As in an orchard of Olives, upon every tree there are left three or four Olives;

30 Or, when as a vineyard is gathered, there are left ſome cluſters of them that diligently ſeek about the vineyard:

31 Even ſo in thoſe dayes there ſhall be three or four left by them that ſearch their houſes with the ſword.

32 And the earth ſhall be laid waſte, and the fields ſhall wax old, and her wayes ſhall all ſad paths ſhall grow full of thorns, becauſe no man ſhall travell there upon.

33 The virgins ſhall mourn having no bridegrooms, the women ſhall mourn having no husbands; their daughters ſhall mourn having no helpers.

34 So the wars ſhall theſe bid deſtroyers be deſtroyed, and their huſbands ſhall periſh of famine.

35 Now ſave theſe things, and underſtand them, as it ſeems of the Lord.

36 Behold the words of the Lord, receive it, behold of the gods of power, the Lord ſpake.

37 Behold, the plagues draw nigh, and are not

38 As when a woman with childe in the ninth moneth bringeth forth two ſonne, within two or three houres of her birth great pains compaſſe the which pains, through the childe cometh forth, ſhall tarry not a moment:

39 Even ſo ſhall not the plagues be ſlack to come upon the earth, and the world ſhall mourn, and ſorrowes ſhall come upon it on every ſide.

40 O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battell, and in thoſe evils be even as ſtrangers upon the earth.

41 He that ſelleth, let him be as he that flieth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will loſe:

42 He that occupieth merchandiſe, as he that ſhall never proſper: and he that buildeth, as he that ſhall never dwell therein:

43 He that ſoweth, as if he ſhould not reap: & ſo forth, likewiſe the vineyards, as he that ſhall not gather the grapes.

44 They that marry, as they that ſhall get no children: and they that marry not, as the widowers.

45 And thoſe have labors, they ſhall labour in vain:

46 For ſtrangers ſhall poſſeſſe their fruits: for they ſhall ſpoile their goods, and take away their houſes, and captivity and

47 And they that occupie ſhall be in greater poverty, the more they labour: for they ſhall not houſes, their poſſeſſions, nor 48 The more will I be angry with them for their ſinne, ſaith the Lord.

49 Like as an whore conceiveth a luſt to vertuous woman:

50 So ſhall righteouſneſſe have labouring, darkeneth her ſelf, and ſhall accuſe her when he cometh that ſhall deſtroy her: generally ſearcheth out every ſinne upon 51 And therefore be ye not like them to the works thereof.

52 For yet a little, and iniquity ſhall away out of the earth, and righteouſneſſe reign among you.

53 Let not the ſinner ſay that he hath ſinned: for God ſhall burn coals of fire upon his head, which ſaith before the Lord God of glory, I have not ſinned.

54 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, & their imaginations, their thoughts, their hearts:

55 Which ſpake but the word, Let the world be made, & it was made: Let the heaven be made, and it was created:

56 In his word were the ſtarres made, & knoweth the certain number of them.

57 He ſearcheth the deep, and the treaſures thereof: he hath meaſured the ſea, and conſidereth.

58 He hath ſhut the ſea in the middeſt of the waters: and with his word hath he hanged the world upon the waters.

59 He ſpreadeth out the heaven like a vault upon the waters, & hath founded it.

60 In the deſert hath he made ſtanding waters, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, that the floods might power down from the high places to water the earth.

61 He made man, and put his hand of the body, and gave him breath, life, and ſtanding.

62 Yea, and the Spirit of Almighty God made all things, and ſearcheth out all things in the ſecrets of the earth.

63 Surely he knoweth your inventions, and your think in your hearts, even them that would hide their ſinne.

64 Therefore hath the Lord ſtrictly ſearched out all your works, and he will put you to ſhame.

65 And when your ſinnes are brought forth ſhall be aſhamed before men, and your ſhall be your accuſation that day.

66 What will ye do? or how will ye hide your ſinnes from God and his Angels?

67 Behold, God kindleth in the [illegible] things burnt up from your ſinnes, and [illegible] iniquities, to meddle or make with [illegible] that God lead you forth and deliver [illegible] all trouble.

68 For behold, the burning [illegible] and [illegible] is kindled over you, [illegible] days shall yield: and they every their and cast them out of their houses.

shall they be forsaken who are my cho-they shall be trod upon the gold in the fire.
Come, O ye my beloved, saith the Lord; be-the days of trouble are at hand, but I will you from the same.
Be ye not afraid, neither doubt, for God is guide,
And the guide of them who keep my commandments and persevere, shall the Lord be.
Let not your former evil gift you down, and let not your iniquities lift up themselves.
Be ye not like unto them that are bound with their sinnes, and covered with their iniquities: like as a field is covered over with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thornes, that no man may travell thorow.
It is left undressed, and is cast into the fire, to be consumed therewith.

Or, from sin.

¶ TOBIT.

CHAP. I.

Tobit his stock, and devotion in his youth, 9 His marriage, 10 and captivity, 13 His perseverance above, and charitie in burying the dead, 19 for which he is accused, and flieth, 22 and after returneth to Nineve.

The book of the [a] words of Tobit, sonne of Tobiel, the sonne of Ananiel, the son of Aduel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Aseel, of the tribe of Nephthali,
Who in the time of Enemessar King of the Assyrians, was led captive out of [b] Thisbe, which is at the right hand of that city, which is called properly Nephthali in Galilee above Aser.
I Tobit have walked all the dayes of my in the way of truth, and justice, and I did many alms-deeds to my brethren, and my nation, who came with me to Nineve, into the land of the Assyrians.
And when I was in mine own countrey in the land of Israel, being but young, all the tribe of Nephthali my father, fell from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there where the Temple of the habitation of the most high was consecrated, and built for all ages.
Now all the tribes which together revolted, and the house of my father Nephthali sacrificed unto the [d] heifer Baal.
But I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it was ordained unto all the people of Israel by an everlasting decree, [e] having the first fruits, and tenths of increase, with that which was to be shorn, and them gave I at the Altar to the Priests, the children of Aaron.
The first tenth part of all increase I gave to the sons of [f] Aaron, who ministred at Jerusalem:
another tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it every yeer at Jerusalem:
And the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my fathers mother had commanded me; because I was left an orphan by my father.
Furthermore, when I was come to the age of man, I married Anna of mine [g] own kinred, and of her I begat Tobias.
And when we were carried away captives to Nineve, all my brethren, and those that were of my kinred, did eat of the [h] bread of the Gentiles.
But I kept [i] my self from eating;
Because I remembred God with all my soul.
And the most High gave me grace, and favour in Enemessar, so that I was his [k] purveyour.
And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabelus brother of Gabrias, [l] at Rages a city of Media, ten talents of silver.
Now when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his son reigned in his stead, [m] who the wayes was such that I could not go into Media.
And in the time of Enemessar, I gave many almes to my brethren, and gave my bread to the hungry,
And my clothes to the naked: and if I saw any of my nation dead, or cast [n] about the walls of Nineve, I buried him.
And if the King Sennacherib had slain any, when he was come, [o] and fled from Judea, I buried them privily, (for in his wrath he killed many) but the bodies were not found when they were sought for of the King.
And when one of the Ninevites went, and complained of me to the King, that I buried them, and hid my self: understanding that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew my self for fear.
Then all my goods were forcibly taken away, neither was there any thing left me, besides my wife Anna, and my sonne Tobias.
And there passed not five and fifty dayes before two of his sonnes [p] killed him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararath; and [q] Sarchedonus his sonne reigned in his stead, who appointed over his fathers accounts, and over all his affairs, Achiacharus my brother Anaels sonne.
And Achiacharus entreating for me, I returned to Nineve: Now Achiacharus was cupbearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and [r] Sarchedonus appointed him next unto him; and he was my brothers sonne.

CHAP. II.

Tobit leaveth his meat to bury the dead, 10 and becometh blinde. 11 His wife taketh in work to get her living. 14 His husband and she fall out about a kid.

NOw when I was come home again, and my wife Anna was restored unto me, with my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, in the which I sate down to eat.
And when I saw abundance of meat, I said to my sonne, Go, and bring what poor man soever thou shalt finde out of our brethren, who is mind-full of the Lord, and lo, I carry for thee.
But he came again, and said, Father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace.
Then before I had tasted any meat, I start up, and took him up into a room, until the going down of the Sunne.
Then I returned and washed my self, and ate my meat in heaviness, Remembring that prophesie [s] of Amos, as he said, Your feasts shall be turned into mourning, and all your mirth into lamentation.
Therefore I wept: and after the going down of the Sunne I went and made a grave, and buried him.
But my neighbours mocked me, and said, Yet

s Amos 8. 10.

man is not yet afraid to beg us or death for this thing: for he that did slay, and yet he, he buriesh the dead again.

9 The same night also I returned from the burial, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, being polluted, and my face was uncovered:

10 And I knew not that there were b Sparrows in the wall, and mine eies being open, the Sparrows muted warm dung into mine eies, and a c white-nesse came in mine eies, and I went to the Physicians, but they helped me not: moreover, Achiacharus did nourish me, until I went into Elymais.

11 And my wife Anna d did take womens works to do.

12 And when she had sent e them home to the owners, they paid her wages, and gave her also beſides a kid.

13 And when it was in mine house, and began to cry, I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it not stollen? render it to the owners; f for it is not lawfull to eat any thing that is stollen.

14 g But she replied upon me, It was given for a gift more then the wages: howbeit, I did not believe her, but bade her render it to the owners: and I was abashed at her. But she replied upon me, Where are thine almes, and thy righteous deeds? h behold, thou and all thy works are known.

CHAP. III.

1 Tobit grieved with his wives taunts, prayeth. 11 Sara reproached by her fathers maids, prayeth also. 17 An Angel is sent to help them both.

THen I being grieved, did weep, and in my sorrow prayed, saying,

2 O Lord, thou art just, and all thy works and all thy wales are mercy and truth, and thou judgest truely and justly for ever.

3 Remember me, and look on me, punish me not for my sinnes and ignorances, and the sinnes of my fathers, who have sinned before thee.

4 For they obeyed not thy commandments, wherefore thou hast delivered us i for a spoil, and unto captivity, and unto death, and for a proverb of reproach to, all the nations among whom we are dispersed.

5 And now thy judgements are many and true: Deal with me according to my sinnes, and my fathers: because we have not kept thy commandments, neither have walked in truth before thee.

6 Deal therefore with me, as seemeth best unto thee, and command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be k dissolved, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather then to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and have much sorrow: command therefore that I may now be delivered out of this distresse, and go into the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

7 It came to passe the same day, that in Ecbatana a city of Media, Sara the daughter of Raguel, was also reproached by her fathers maids,

8 Because that she had been married to seven husbands, whom Asmodeus the evill spirit had killed, before they had lien with her. Doest thou not know, said they, that thou hast strangled thine husbands? thou hast hadst already seven husbands, neither wast thou named after any of them.

9 Wherefore doest thou beat us, for them? If they be dead, go thy waies after them, let us never see of thee either sonne or daughter.

10 When she heard these things, she was very sorrowfull, so that she thought to have hanged her self, and she said, I am the onely daughter of my father, and if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and I shall bring his old age unto the grave.

11 Then she prayed toward the window, and said, Blessed art thou, O my Lord God, and thy glorious Name is blessed, and honourable for ever, let all thy works praise thee for ever.

12 And now, O Lord, I set mine eyes and my face toward thee, 13 And say, Take me out of the earth, that I hear no more the reproach.

14 Thou knowest Lord, that I am pure from sinne with man,

15 And that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father in the land of my captivity: I am the onely daughter of my father, neither have he any childe to be his heir, neither any near kinsman, nor any sonne of his alive, to whom I should keep my self for a wife: my seven husbands are already dead, and why should I live? but if it displease not thee that I should die, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken on me, that I hear no more reproach.

16 So the prayers of them both were heard before the majesty of the great God.

17 And Raphael was sent to heal them both, that is, to scale away the whitenesse of Tobit's eies, and to give Sara the daughter of Raguel for wife to Tobias the son of Tobit, and to bind Asmodeus the evill spirit, because she belonged to Tobias by right of inheritance. The same time came Tobit home, and entred into his house, and Sara the daughter of Raguel, came down from her upper chamber.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Tobit giveth instructions to his sonne Tobias. 3 He telleth him of money left with Gabael in Media.

IN that day Tobit remembred the money which he had committed to Gabael in Rages of Media,

2 And said with himself, I have wished for death, wherefore do I not call for my sonne Tobias, that I may signifie to him of the money before I die?

3 And when he had called him, he said, My sonne, when I am dead bury me, and despise not thy mother: but honour her all the dayes of her life, and do that which shall please her, and grieve her not.

4 Remember, my son, that she saw many dangers for thee, when thou wast in her wombe, and when she is dead, bury her by me in one grave.

5 My sonne be mindfull of the Lord our God all thy dayes, and let not thy will be set to sinne, and to transgresse his commandements: live uprightly all thy life long, and follow not the wayes of unrighteousnesse.

6 For if thou deal truly, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that live justly.

7 m Give almes of thy substance, and when thou givest almes, let not thine eyes be envious: neither turn thy face from any poore, and then the face of God shall not be turned away from thee.

8 If thou hast abundance, give almes accordingly: if thou have but a little, bestow even of that little according to that little.

9 For thou layest up a good reward for thy self against the day of necessity.

10 o Because that almes doth deliver from death, and suffereth not to come into darkenesse.

11 For almes is a good gift unto all that give it, in the sight of the most High.

12 Beware of all fornication, my sonne, and chiefly take a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange woman to wife, which is not of thy fathers tribe: for we are the children of the Prophets, Noe, Abraham,

10 The Angel said to the young man, Brother, to day we shall lodge with Raguel, who is thy cousin: he also hath one onely daughter, named Sara, I will speak for her, that she may be given thee to wife.

11 For to thee doth the [a] [b] right of her appertain, seeing thou onely art of her kinred.

a Or, inheritance. b Numb. 27.8. and 36.8.

12 And the maid is fair and wise, now therefore hear me, and I will speak to her father, and when we return from Rages, we will celebrate the marriage; for I know that Raguel cannot marry her to another according to the Law of Moses, but he shall be guilty of death, because the right of inheritance doth rather appertain to thee, then to any other.

13 Then the young man answered the Angel, I have heard, brother Azarias, that this maid hath been given to seven men, who all died in the marriage chamber:

14 And now I am the onely sonne of my father, and I am afraid, lest if I go in unto her, I die as the other before; for a wicked spirit loveth her, which hurteth no body but those which come unto her: wherefore I also fear, lest I die, and bring my fathers and my mothers life (because of me) to the grave with sorrow, for they have no other sonne to bury them.

15 Then the Angel said unto him, Doest thou not remember the precepts which thy father gave thee, that thou shouldest marry a wife of thine own kinred? Wherefore hear me, O my brother, for she shall be given thee to wife, and make thou no reckoning of the evill spirit, for this same night shall she be given thee in marriage.

16 And when thou shalt come into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take the [c] ashes of perfume, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shalt make a smoak with it.

c Or, incense.

17 And the devill shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise up both of you, and pray to God, which is merciful, who will have pity on you, and save you: fear not, for she is appointed unto thee from the beginning, and thou shalt preserve her, and she shall go with thee. Moreover, I suppose that she shall bear thee children. Now when Tobias had heard these things, he loved her, and his heart was [d] effectually joyned to her.

d Or, vehemently.

CHAP. VII.

Raguel telleth Tobias what had happened to his daughter: 12 and giveth her in marriage unto him. 17 She is conveyed to her chamber, and weepeth. 18 Her mother comforteth her.

AND when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel, and Sara met them: and after that they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.

2 Then said Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this young man to Tobit my cousin?

3 And Raguel asked them, From whence are you, brethren? To whom they said, We are of the sonnes of Nephthali, which are captives in Nineve.

4 Then he said to them, Do ye know Tobit our kinsman? And they said, We know him. Then said he, Is he in good health?

5 And they said, He is both alive and in good health: And Tobias said, He is my father.

6 Then Raguel leaped up, and kissed him, and wept, and said unto him, Thou art the sonne of a good and very good man: but when Tobit was blinde, he was 8 And Hismith Edna his wife and her daughter wept. Moreover they received them cheerfully, and after that they had killed of the flock, they set store of meat before them. Then said Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou spakest in the way, and let this businesse be dispatched.

9 So he communicated the matter to Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry:

10 For it is meet that thou should take unto thee my daughter: nevertheless, I will declare unto thee the truth.

11 I have given my daughter to seven men, who died that night they came in unto her: nevertheless for the present be merry. But Tobias said, I will eat nothing here, unless you agree and swear unto me.

12 Raguel said, Then take her from hence according to the [e] manner, for thou art her brother, and she is thine, and the mercifull God shall give you good successe in all things.

13 Then he called his daughter Sara, and she came to her father, and he took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, saying, Behold, take her after the law of Moses, lead her away to thy father: And he blessed them.

14 And called Edna his wife, and took paper, and did write an instrument of covenant, and sealed it.

15 Then they began to eat.

16 After Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.

17 Which when she had done as he had bidden her, she brought her thither, and she wept: and she [f] received the tears of her daughter, and said unto her,

18 Be of good comfort, my daughter, the Lord of heaven and earth give thee joy for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

CHAP. VIII.

Tobias driveth the wicked spirit away, as he was taught. 4 He and his wife rise up to pray. Raguel thought he was dead. 15 Edna rejoiceth that he is alive. 19 Raguel maketh a feast.

AND when they had ended their prayers, Tobias lay down there.

2 And as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the perfume, and did put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoak therewith,

3 The which smell when the evill spirit smelled, he fled into the outmost parts of Egypt, and the Angel bound him.

4 And after that they were both fast asleep together, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Arise, let us pray that God would have mercy upon us.

5 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious Name for ever, let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures.

6 Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for an helper and stay: of them mankinde: thou hast said, It is not good that man should be alone, let us make unto him an help like to himself.

7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but honestly: therefore ordain, that we may become

8 And they said, Amen, Amen.

9 So they slept [illegible] saying, I fear lest he be dead.

10 But when Raguel was come into his house,

11 He said unto his wife Edna, What one of the sons and let her see whether he be alive: if he be dead, that we may bury him, and no man know it.

13 So the maid opened the door, and went in,
and found them both asleep,

14 And came forth, and told them that he was alive.

15 Then Raguel praised God, and said, O God, thou art worthy to be praised with all pure and holy praise: therefore let thy Saints praise thee with all thy creatures, and let all thine Angels and thine Elect praise thee for ever.

16 Thou art to be praised, for thou hast made me joyfull, and that is not come to me which I suspected: but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy.

17 Thou art to be praised, because thou hast had mercy of two, that were the onely begotten children of their fathers, grant them mercy, O Lord, and fulfil their life in health, with joy and mercy.

18 Then Raguel bade his servants to fill the grave.

19 And he kept the wedding feast fourteen dayes.

20 For before the dayes of the marriage were fulfilled, Raguel had sworn unto him by an oath, that he should not depart, till the fourteen dayes of the marriage were expired,

21 And then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father, and should have the rest when I and my wife be dead.

CHAP. IX.

Tobias sendeth the Angel unto Gabael for the money. 4 The Angel bringeth it, and Gabael to the wedding.

Then Tobias called Raphael, and said unto
him,

2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to Rages of Media to Gabael, and bring me the money, and bring him to the wedding.

3 For Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart.

4 But my father counteth the dayes, and if I tarry long, he will be sorry.

5 So Raphael lodged with Gabael, and gave him the hand-writing, who brought forth bags which were sealed, and gave them to him.

6 And early in the morning they went forth both together, and came to the wedding, and Tobias blessed his wife.

CHAP. X.

Tobit and his wife long for their sonne. 7 She will be comforted by her husband. 10 Raguel sendeth Tobias and his wife away with half his goods. 12 and blesseth them.

Now Tobit his father counted every day, and when the dayes of the journey were expired, and they came not;

2 Then Tobit said, Are they detained? or is Gabael dead? and there is no man to give him the money?

3 Therefore he was very sorry.

4 Then his wife said to him, My sonne is dead, seeing he tarryeth long, and she began to bewail him, and said,

5 Now I care for nothing, my sonne, since I have lost the light of mine eyes.

6 To whom Tobit said, Hold thy peace, take no care for he is safe.

7 But she said, Hold thy peace, and deceive me not, my sonne is dead: and she went out every day into the way which they went, and did eat no meat on the day time, and ceased not night and day to bewail her sonne Tobias, until the fourteen dayes of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworn, that he should spend there. Then Tobias said to Raguel, Let me go, for my father and my mother look no more to see me.

8 But his father in law said unto him, Tarry with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee.

9 But Tobias said, No: but let me go to my father.

10 Then Raguel arose, and gave him Sara his wife, and half his goods, servants, and cattell, and money.

11 And he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven give you a prosperous journey, my children.

12 And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law, which are now thy parents, that I may hear good report of thee: and he kissed her. Edna also said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, my dear brother, and grant that I may see thy children of my daughter Sara before I die, that I may rejoyce before the Lord: b Or, I behold, I commit my daughter unto thee b of spe- do give ciall trust, wherefore do not entreat her evill. her.

CHAP. XI.

Tobias mother sitteth her sonne coming. 10 His father mocketh him at the door, and receiveth his sight. 14 He praiseth God, 17 and embraceth his daughter in law.

After these things Tobias went his way, praising God that he had given him a prosperous journey, and blessed Raguel and Edna his wife, and went on his way till they drew near

2 Then Raphael said to Tobias, Brother Tobias, brother, how then shalt leave thy father?

3 Let us haste before thy wife, and prepare the house.

4 And take in thine hand the gall of the fish, for so they went their way, and the dog went after them.

5 Now Anna sate looking about towards the way for her sonne.

6 And when she espied him coming, she said to his father, Behold, thy sonne cometh, and the man that went with him.

7 Then said Raphael, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes.

8 Therefore anoint thou his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith he shall rub, and the whiteness shall fall away, and he shall see thee.

9 Then Anna ran forth, and fell upon the neck of her sonne, and said unto him, Seeing I have seen thee my sonne, from henceforth I am content to die, and they wept both.

10 Tobit also went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his sonne ran unto him,

11 And took hold of his father, and strake of the gall on his fathers eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father.

12 And when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them.

13 And the whitenesse pilled away from the corners of his eyes, and when he saw his sonne, he fell upon his neck.

14 And he wept, and said, Blessed art thou, O
God, and blessed is thy Name for ever, and blessed are all thy holy Angels:

15 For thou hast scourged, and hast had mercy upon me: for behold, I see my sonne Tobias. And his sonne went in rejoycing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

C 4 16 Then

16 Then Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineve, rejoycing and praising God: and they which saw him go, marvelled, because he had received his sight.

17 But Tobit gave thanks before them: because God had mercy on him. And when he came neer to Sara his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome daughter: God be blessed which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed be thy father and thy mother; And there was joy amongst all his brethren which were at Nineve.

a Jonias, who is also called, Naabas.

18 And Achiacharus, and [a] Naabas his brothers sonne came.

19 And Tobias wedding was kept seven dayes with great joy.

CHAP. XII.

5 Tobit offereth half to the Angel for his paines; 6 But he calleth them both aside, and exhorteth them; 15 and telleth them that he was an Angel, 21 and was seen no more.

THen Tobit called his sonne Tobias, and said unto him, My sonne, see that the man have his wages, which went with thee, and thou must give him more.

2 And Tobias said unto him, O father, it is no harm to me to give him half of those things which I have brought:

3 For he hath brought me again to thee in safety, and made whole my wife, and brought me the money, and likewise healed thee.

4 Then the old man said, It is due unto him.

5 So he called the Angel, and he said unto him, Take half of all that ye have brought, and go away in safety.

6 Then he took them both apart, and said unto them, Bless God, praise him, and magnifie him, and praise him for the things which he hath done unto you in the sight of all that live. It is good to b Or, with honour.

praise God, and exalt his Name, and [b] honourably to shew forth the works of God, therefore be not slack to praise him.

7 It is good to keep close the secret of a King, but it is honourable to reveal the works of God: do that which is good, and no evill shall touch you.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and alms, and righteousnesse: a little with righteousnesse is better then much with unrighteousnesse: it is better to give alms, then to lay up gold.

9 For alms doth deliver from death, and shall purge away all sinne. Those that exercise alms and righteousnesse, shall be filled with life.

10 But they that sinne are enemies to their own life.

11 Surely I will keep close nothing from you. For I said, It was good to keep close the secret of a King, but that it was honourable to reveal the works of God.

12 Now therefore when thou didst pray, and Sara thy daughter in law, I did bring the remembrance of your prayers before the holy One, and when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise.

c Greek, to go and bury.

13 And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner [c] to go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee.

14 And now God hath sent me to heal thee, and Sara thy daughter in law.

15 I am Raphael one of the seven holy Angels, which present the prayers of the Saints, and which go in and out before the glory of the holy One.

16 Then they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces: for they feared.

17 But he said unto them, Fear not, for go well with you, praise God therefore.

18 For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of our God I came, wherefore praise him for ever.

19 [d] All these dayes I did appear unto you, but I did neither eat nor drink, but you did see a vision.

20 Now therefore give God thanks: for I go up to him that sent me, but write all things which are done, in a book.

21 And when they arose, they saw him no more.

22 Then they confessed the great and wonderfull works of God, and how the Angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

CHAP. XIII.

The thanksgiving unto God which Tobit wrote.

THen Tobit wrote a prayer of rejoycing, and said, Blessed be God that liveth for ever, and blessed be his Kingdome:

2 [e] For he doth scourge, and hath mercy: he leadeth down to hell, and bringeth up again: neither is there any that can avoid his hand.

3 Confesse him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel: for he hath scattered us among them.

4 There declare his greatnesse, and extoll him before all the living, for he is our Lord, and he is the God our father for ever.

5 And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will have mercy again, and will gather us out of all nations, among whom he hath scattered us.

6 If you turn to him with your whole heart, and with your whole minde, and deal uprightly before him, then will he turn unto you, and will not hide his face from you: Therefore see what he will do with you, and confesse him with your whole mouth, and praise the Lord of righteousnesse, and extoll the everlasting King: in the land of my captivity do I praise him, and declare his power and majesty to a sinfull nation: O ye sinners turn and do justice before him: who can tell if he will accept you, and have mercy on you?

7 I will extoll my God, and my soul shall praise the King of heaven, and shall rejoyce in his greatnesse.

8 Let all men speak, and let all praise him for his righteousnesse.

9 O Jerusalem the holy city, he will scourge thee for thy childrens works, and will have mercy again on the sonnes of the righteous.

10 Give praise to the Lord, for he is good: and praise the everlasting King, that his tabernacle may be builded in thee again with joy: and let him make joyfull there in thee, those that are captives, and love in thee for ever those that are miserable.

11 Many nations shall come from farre to the Name of the Lord God, with gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven: all generations shall praise thee with great joy.

12 Cursed are all they which hate thee, and blessed shall all be which love thee for ever.

13 Rejoyce and be glad for the children of the just: for they shall be gathered together, and shall blesse the Lord of the just.

14 O blessed are they which love thee, for they shall rejoyce in thy [f] peace: blessed are they which have been sorrowfull for all thy plagues, for they shall rejoyce for thee, when they have seen all thy glory, and shall be glad for ever.

15 Let my soul blesse God the great King.

16 For Jerusalem shalbe built up with sapphires and Emeraulds, and precious stone: thy walls, towers, and battlements with pure gold.

17 And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with Beryll and Carbuncle, and stones of Ophir.

18 And all her streets shall say, Hallelujah, and they shall praise him, saying, Blessed be God which hath extolled it for ever.

CHAP. XIIII.

Tobit giveth instructions to his sonne, 8 specially to leave Nineve. 11 He and his wife die, and are buried. 12 Tobias removeth to Ecbatane, 14 and there died, after he had heard of the destruction of Nineve.

THus Tobit made an end of praising God.

2 And he was eight and fifty yeers old when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight yeers, and he gave almes, and he [1] increased in the fear of the Lord God, and praised him.

3 And when he was very aged, he called his sonne, and the six sonnes of his son, and said to him, My sonne, take thy children; for behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life.

4 Go into Media, my sonne, for I surely beleeve those things which Jonas the Prophet spake of Nineve, that it shall be overthrown, and that for a time peace shall rather be in Media, and that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from that good land, and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time:

5 [k] And that again God will have mercy on them, and bring them again into the land where they shall build a Temple, but not like to the first, until the time of that age be fulfilled, and afterward they shall return from all places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem gloriously, and the house of God shall be built in it [l] for ever, with a glorious building, as the Prophets have spoken thereof.

6 And all nations shall turn, and fear the Lord God truely, and shall bury their idoles.

7 So shall all nations praise the Lord, and his people shall confesse God, and the Lord shall exalt his people, and all those which love the Lord God in truth and justice, shall rejoyce, shewing mercy to our brethren.

8 And now my sonne depart out of Nineve, because that those things which the Prophet Jonas spake, shall surely come to passe.

9 But keep thou the Law and the Commandments, and shew thy self mercifull and just, that it may go well with thee.

10 And bury me decently, and thy mother with me, but tarry no longer at Nineve. Remember, my sonne, how Aman handled Achiacharus that brought him up, how out of light he brought him into darknesse, and how he rewarded him again: yet Achiacharus was [n] saved, but the other had his reward, for he went down into darknes. [o] Manasses gave almes, and escaped the snares of death [p] which they had set for him: but Aman fell into the snare and perished.

11 Wherefore now, my son, consider what almes doth, and how righteousnesse doth deliver. When he had said these things, he gave up the Ghost in the bed, being an hundred and eight and fifty yeers old, and [q] he buried him honourably.

12 And when Anna his mother was dead, he buried her with his father: but Tobias departed with his wife and children to Ecbatane, to Raguel his father in law:

13 Where he became old with honour, and he buried his father and mother in law honourably, and he [r] inherited their substance, and his father Tobits.

14 And he died at Ecbatane in Media, being an hundred and seven and twenty yeers old.

15 But before he died, he heard of the destruction of Nineve, which was taken by Nabuchodonosor and Assuerus: and before his death he rejoyced over Nineve.

CHAP. I.

Arphaxad doth fortifie Ecbatane. 5 Nabuchodonosor maketh warre against him, 7 and craveth aid. 12 He threateneth those that would not aid him, 15 and slaieth Arphaxad, 16 and returneth to Nineve.

IN the twelfth yeer of the reign of Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineve the great city (in the daies of Arphaxad, which reigned over the Medes in Ecbatane,

2 And built in Ecbatane walls round about, of stones hewen, three cubits broad, and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits:

3 And set the towers thereof upon the gates of it an hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof at the foundation threescore cubits:

4 And he made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them was fourty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty armies, and for the setting in array of his footmen.)

5 Even in those daies, King Nabuchodonosor made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain, which is the plain in the borders of Ragau.

6 And there came unto him, all they that dwelt in the hill country, and all that dwelt by Euphrates and Tigris, and Hydaspes, and the plain of Arioch the King of the Elimeans, and very many nations of the sonnes of Chelod, assembled themselves to the battell.

7 Then Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, sent unto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt westward, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus, and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt upon the sea coast,

8 And to those amongst the nations that were of Carmel, and Galaad, and the higher Galilee, and the great plain of Esdrelon,

9 And to all that were in Samaria, and the cities thereof: and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betane, and Chelus, and Kades, and the river of Egypt, and Taphnes, and Rameses, and all the land of Gesem, 10 Untill you come beyond Tanis, and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, untill you come to the borders of Ethiopia.

11 But all the inhabitants of the land made light of the commandment of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians, neither went they with him to the battell: for they were not afraid of him; yea, he was before them as one man, and they sent away his Ambassadours from them without effect, and with disgrace.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this country, and sware by his throne and kingdome, that he would surely be avenged upon all those coasts of Cilicia and Damascus, and Syria, & that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judea, and all that were in Egypt, till you come to the borders of the two seas.

13 Then he marched in battell aray with his power against King Arphaxad in the seventeenth yeer, and he prevailed in his battell: for he overthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsmen, and all his chariots, 14 And became lord of his cities, and came unto Ecbatane, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame.

15 He took also Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him thorow with his darts, and destroyed him utterly that day.

16 So he returned afterward to Nineve, both he and all his company of sundry nations: being a very great multitude of men of warre, and there he took his ease, and banqueted, both he and his army an hundered and twenty dayes.

CHAP. II.

1 Olofernes is appointed generall, 11 and charged to spare none that will not yeeld. 15 His army and provision, 23 the places which he wonne and wasted as he went.

AND in the eighteenth yeer, the two and twentieth day of the first moneth, there was talk in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, that he should, as he said, avenge himself on all the earth.

2 So he called unto him all his Officers, and all his Nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsell, [a] and concluded the afflicting of the whole earth out of his own mouth.

a 1 Sam. 20.7. & 25.17.

3 Then they decreed to destroy all flesh that did not obey the commandment of his mouth.

4 And when he had ended his counsell, Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians called Olofernes the chief Captain of his army, which was [b] next unto him, and said unto him, b Greek, second man.

5 Thus saith the great King, the lord of the whole earth: Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their own strength, of footmen an hundred and twenty thousand, and the number of horses with their riders twelve thousand.

6 And thou shalt go against all the West countrey, because they disobeyed my commandment.

7 And thou shalt declare unto them, that they prepare for me [c] earth and water: for I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of mine army, and I will give them for a spoil unto them:

c Or, after the manner of the Kings of Persia, to whom earth and water was wont to be given, in acknowledge that they were lords of land and sea. Herodot.

8 So that their slain shall fill their valleyes, and brooks, and the river shalbe filled with their dead, till it overflow.

9 And I will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore shalt go forth, and take before hand for me all their coasts, and if they will yeeld themselves unto thee, thou shalt reserve them for me till the day of their punishment.

11 But concerning them that rebell, let not thine eye spare them: but put them to the slaughter, and spoil them wheresoever thou goest.

12 For as I live, and by the power of my kingdome, what soever I have spoken, that will I do by mine hand.

13 And take thou heed that thou transgresse none of the commandments of thy lord: but accomplish them fully, as I have commanded thee, and deferre not to do them.

14 Then Olofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governours and Captains, and the officers of the army of Assur.

15 And he mustered the chosen men for the battell, as his Lord had commanded him, unto an hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horsback.

16 And he ranged them as a great army is ordered for the warre.

17 And he took camels and asses for their carriages a very great number, and sheep, and oxen, and goats without number for their provision:

18 And plenty of victuall for every man of the army, and very much gold and silver out of the Kings house.

19 Then he went forth, and all his power to go before King Nabuchodonosor in the voyage, and to cover all the face of the earth Westward with their charets and horsmen, and their chosen foot men.

20 A great multitude also of sundry countries came with them like locusts, and like the dust of the earth: for the multitude was without number.

21 And they went forth of Nineve three dayes journey toward the plain of Bectileth, and pitched from Bectileth neer the mountain, which is on the left hand of the upper Cilicia.

22 Then he took all his army, his footmen, and horsmen, and chariots, and went from thence into the hill countrey, 23 And destroyed Phud, and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rassis, and the children of Ismael, which were toward the wildernesse, at the south of the land of the Chelleans.

24 Then he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, till you come to the Sea.

25 And he took the borders of Cilicia, and killed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, over against Arabia.

26 He compassed also all the children of Madian, and burnt up their Tabernacles, and spoiled their sheep-coats.

27 Then he went down into the plain of Damascus in the time of wheat harvest, and burnt up all their fields, and destroyed their flocks, and herds, also he spoiled their cities, and utterly wasted their countreys, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

28 Therefore the fear and dread of him fell upon all the inhabitants of the sea coasts which were in Sidon and Tyrus, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jemnaan, and they that dwelt in Azotus and Ascalon feared him greatly.

CHAP. III.

1 They of the sea-coasts submit for peace. 3 Judea is received there, & yet he destroyeth their gods, that they might worship only Nabuchodonosor. 9 He cometh neer to Judea.

SO they sent Ambassadours unto him to treat of peace, saying,

2 Behold, we the servants of Nabuchodonosor the great King, lie before thee, use us as shall be good in thy sight.

3 Behold, our houses, and all our places, and all our fields of wheat, and flocks, and herds, and all the lodges of our tents lie before thy face, use them as it pleaseth thee.

4 Behold, even our cities and the thereof are thy ſervants; come and deal with them as ſeemeth good unto thee.

5 So the men came to Olofernes, and declared unto him after this manner.

6 Then came he down toward the Sea coaſt, both he and his army, and ſet gariſons in the high cities, and took out of them choſen men for aid.

7 So they and all the countrey round about, received them with garlands, with dances, and with timbrels.

8 Yet he did caſt down their frontiers, and cut down their groves: for he had decreed to deſtroy all the gods of the land, that all nations ſhould worſhip Nabuchodonoſor onely, and that all tongues and tribes ſhould call upon him as God.

9 Alſo he came over againſt [a] Eſdraelon neer unto [b] Judea, over againſt the [c] great ſtrait of Judea.

10 And he pitched between Geba and Scythopolis, and there he taryed a whole moneth, that he might gather together all the carriages of his army.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The Jews are afraid of Olofernes, 5 and fortifie the hils. 6 They of Bethulia take charge of the paſſages. 9 All Iſrael fall to faſting and prayer.

NOw the children of Iſrael that dwelt in Judea, heard all that Olofernes the chief captain of Nabuchodonoſor king of the Aſſyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had ſpoyled all their Temples, and brought them to nought.

2 Therefore they were exceedingly afraid of him, and were troubled for Jeruſalem, and for the Temple of the Lord their God.

3 For they were newly returned from the captivity, and all the people [d] of Judea were lately gathered together: and the veſſels, and the Altar, and the houſe were ſanctified after the profanation.

4 Therefore they ſent into all the coaſts of Samaria, and the villages, and to Bethoron, and Belmen, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Eſora, and to the valley of Salem,

5 And poſſeſſed themſelves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountaines, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victuals for the proviſion of warre: for their fields were of late reaped.

6 Alſo Joacim the high Prieſt, which was in thoſe dayes in Jeruſalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Betomeſthaim, which is over againſt [e] Eſdraelon toward the [f] open countrey neer to Dothaim,

7 Charging them to keep the paſſages of the hill countrey: for by them there was an entrance into Judea, and it was eaſie to ſtop them that would come up, becauſe the paſſage was ſtrait for two men at the moſt.

8 And the children of Iſrael did as Joacim the high Prieſt had commanded them, with the [h] ancients of all the people of Iſrael, which dwelt at Jeruſalem.

9 Then every man of Iſrael cried to God with great fervency, and with great vehemency did they humble their ſouls:

10 Both they, and their wives, and their children, and their cattell, and every ſtranger and hireling, and their ſervants bought with money, put ſackcloth upon their loynes.

11 Thus every man and woman, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem fell before the Temple, and caſt aſhes upon their heads, and ſpread out their ſackcloth before the face of the Lord: alſo they put ſackcloth about the Altar, 12 And cried to the God of Iſrael all with one conſent earneſtly, that he would not give their children for a prey, and their wives for a ſpoil, and the cities of their inheritance to deſtruction, and the Sanctuary to profanation and reproach, and for the nations to rejoyce at.

13 So God heard their prayers, and looked upon their afflictions: for the people faſted many dayes in all Judea, and Jeruſalem, before the Sanctuary of the Lord Almighty.

14 And Joacim the high Prieſt, and all the Prieſts that ſtood before the Lord, and they which miniſtred unto the Lord, had their loines girt with ſackcloth, and offered the daily burnt offerings, with the vowes and free gifts of the people,

15 And had aſhes on their mitres, and cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the houſe of Iſrael graciouſly.

CHAP. V.

5 Achior tells Olofernes what the Jews are, 8 and what their God had done for them: 21 and adviſeth not to meddle with them. 22 All that heard him, were offended at him.

THen was it declared to Olofernes the chief captain of the army of Aſſur, that the children of Iſrael had prepared for war, and had ſhut up the paſſages of the hill countrey, and had fortified [i] all the tops of the high hils, and had laid impediments in the champion countreyes. [i] Gr. all the top.

2 Wherewith he was very angry, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governours of the ſea coaſt;

3 And he ſaid unto them, Tell me now, ye ſonnes of Chanaan, who this people is that dwelleth in the hill countrey? and what are the cities that they inhabit? and what is the multitude of their army? and wherein is their power and ſtrength, and what King is ſet over them, or captain of their army?

4 And why have they determined not to come and meet me, more then all the inhabitants of the Weſt?

5 [k] Then ſaid Achior the captain of all the ſonnes of Ammon, Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy ſervant, and I will declare unto thee the truth concerning this people which dwelleth neer thee, and inhabiteth the hill countries: and there ſhall no lie come out of the mouth of thy ſervant. [k] Chap. 11.7,9.

6 This people are deſcended of the Caldeans,

7 [l] And they ſojourned heretofore in Meſopotamia, becauſe they would not follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Caldea: [l] Gen. 11.31.

8 For they [m] left the way of their anceſtors, and worſhipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew; ſo they caſt them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Meſopotamia, and ſojourned there many dayes. [m] Or, went out of.

9 Then [n] their God commanded them to depart from the place where they ſojourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan, where they dwelt, and were increaſed with gold and ſilver, and with very much cattell. [n] Gen. 12.1.

10 But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they went down into Egypt, and ſojourned there, while they were nouriſhed, and became there a great multitude, ſo that one could not number their nation.

11 Therefore the king of Egypt roſe up againſt them, and dealt ſubtilly with them, and brought them low [o] with labouring in brick, and made them ſlaves. [o] Exod. 1.8.

12 Then they cried unto their God, and he ſmote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues, ſo the [p] Egyptians caſt them out of their ſight. [p] Exod. 12.31,33.

Exod. 13.21. 13 And [a] God dried the red Sea before them:
Exod. 19.1. 14 And [b] brought them to mount [c] Sina, and Cades Barne, and caſt forth all that dwelt in the wilderneſſe.
Gr. into the way of the wilderneſſe of Sina. 15 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they deſtroyed by their ſtrength all them of Eſebon, and paſſing over Jordan, they poſſeſſed all the hill countrey.
Joſh. 3.8. 16 [d] And they caſt forth before them, the Chanaanite, the Pherezite, the Jebuſite, and the Sichemite, and all the Gergeſites, and they dwelt in that countrey many dayes.
17 And whileſt they ſinned not before their God, they proſpered, becauſe the God that hateth iniquity, was with them.
[f] Judg. 2. 1. & 3. 8. 2. Kings 5. 1, 11. 18 But [e] when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were deſtroyed in many battels very ſore, [f] and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the Temple of their God was caſt to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.
[g] Ezr. 1. 28. 19 But [g] now are they returned to their God, and are come up from the places where they were ſcattered, and have poſſeſſed Jeruſalem, where their Sanctuary is, and [h] are ſeated in the hill countrey, for it was deſolate.
[h] Or, have the y dwellings.
20 Now therefore, my lord and governour, if there be any errour in this people, and they ſinne againſt their God, let us conſider that this ſhall be their ruine, and let us go up, and we ſhall overcome them.
21 But if there be no iniquity in their nation, let my lord now paſſe by, leſt their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we become a reproach before all the world.
22 And when Achior had finiſhed theſe ſayings, all the people ſtanding round about the tent, murmured, and the chief men of Olofernes, and all that dwelt by the Sea ſide, and in Moab, ſpake that he ſhould kill him.
[i] Greek, againſt a mighty army. 23 For, ſay they, we will not be afraid of the face of the children of Iſrael, for lo, it is a people that have no ſtrength, nor power [i] for a ſtrong battell.
24 Now therefore, lord Olofernes, we will go up, and they ſhall be a prey, to be devoured of all thine army.

CHAP. VI.

2 Olofernes deſpiſeth God. 7 He threatneth Achior, and ſendeth him away. 14 The Bethulians receive and bear him. 18 They fall to prayer, and comfort Achior.

AND when the tumult of men that were about the counſell, was ceaſed, Olofernes the chief captain of the army of Aſſur, ſaid unto Achior, and all the Moabites before all the company of other nations,
2 And who art thou, Achior, and the hirelings of Ephraim, that thou haſt prophetied amongſt us as to day, and haſt ſaid, that we ſhould not make warre with the people of Iſrael, becauſe their God will defend them? and who is God, but Nabuchodonoſor?
3 He will ſend his power, and will deſtroy them from the face of the earth, and their God ſhall not deliver them: but we his ſervants will deſtroy them as one man, for they are not able to ſuſtain the power of our horſes.
4 For with them we will tread them under foot, and their mountains ſhall be drunken with their blood, and their fields ſhall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footſteps ſhall not be able to ſtand before us, for they ſhall utterly periſh, ſaith King Nabuchodonoſor lord of all the earth; for he ſaid, None of my words ſhall be in vain.
5 And thou Achior, an hireling of Ammon, which haſt ſpoken theſe words in the day of thine iniquity, ſhalt ſee my face no more, from this day untill I take vengeance of this nation that came out of Egypt.
6 And then ſhall the ſword of mine army, and the multitude of them that ſerve me, paſſe through thy ſides, and thou ſhalt fall among their ſlain when I return.
7 Now therefore my ſervants ſhall bring thee back into the hill countrey, and ſhall ſet thee in one of the cities of the paſſages.
8 And thou ſhalt not periſh till thou be deſtroyed with them.
9 And if thou perſwade thy ſelf in thy mind, that they ſhall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall: I have ſpoken it, and none of my words ſhall be in vain.
10 Then Olofernes commanded his ſervants that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Iſrael.
11 So his ſervants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they went from the midſt of the plain into the hill countrey, and came unto the fountains that were under Bethulia.
12 And when the men of the city ſaw them, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city to the top of the hill, and every man that uſed a ſling, kept them from coming up by caſting of ſtones againſt them.
13 Nevertheleſſe having gotten privily under the hill, they bound Achior and caſt him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and returned to their lord.
14 But the Iſraelites deſcended from their city, and came unto him, and looſed him, and brought him into Bethulia, and preſented him to the governours of the city,
15 Which were in thoſe dayes, Ozias the ſon of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the ſon of Gothoniel, and Charmis the ſonne of Melchiel.
16 And they called together all the ancients of the city, and all their youth ranne together, and their women to the aſſembly, and they ſet Achior in the midſt of all their people. Then Ozias aſked him of that which was done.
17 And he anſwered and declared unto them the words of the counſell of Olofernes, and all the words that he had ſpoken in the midſt of the princes of Aſſur, and whatſoever Olofernes had ſpoken proudly againſt the houſe of Iſrael.
18 Then the people fell down, and worſhipped God, and cryed unto God, ſaying, 19 O Lord God of heaven, behold their pride and pity the low eſtate of our nation, and look upon the face of thoſe that are ſanctified unto thee this day.
20 Then they comforted Achior, and praiſed him greatly.
21 And Ozias took him out of the aſſembly unto his houſe, and made a feaſt to the Elders, and they called on the God of Iſrael all that night for help.

CHAP. VII.

1 Olofernes beſiegeth Bethulia, 17 and ſtoppeth the water from them. 22 They faint and murmur againſt the governours, 30 who promiſe to tarry within five dayes.

THE next day Olofernes commanded all his army, and all his people which were come to take his part, that they ſhould remove their camp againſt Bethulia, to take aforeſaid

...s of the hill countrey, and to make warre ...nst the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong men removed their camps ...n that day, and the army of the men of warre was ...n hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and ...welve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage and ...other men that were afoot amongst them, a very ...great multitude.

3 And they camped in the valley neer unto Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over [a] Dothaim, even to Belmain, and in length from Bethulia unto [b] Cyamon, which is over against Esdraelon.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour: Now will these men lick up the face of the earth; for neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hils are able to bear their weight.

5 Then every man took up his weapons of warre, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the second day Holofernes brought forth all his horsemen in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia,

7 And viewed the passages up to the citie, and came to the fountain of their waters, and took them, and set garisons of men of war over them, and he himself removed towards his people.

8 Then came unto him all the chief of the children of Esau, and all the governours of the people of Moab, and the captains of the Sea-coast, and said, 9 Let our Lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrowin thine army.

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, because it is not easie to come up to the tops of their mountains.

11 Now therefore my lord, fight not against them in battell aray, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish.

12 Remain in thy camp, and keep all the men of thine army, and let thy servants get into their hands the fountain of water which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain.

13 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence: so shall thirst kill them, and they shall give up their city, and we and our people shall go up to the tops of the mountains that are neer, and will camp upon them, to watch that none go out of the city.

14 So they and their wives, and their children shall be consumed with famine, and before the sword come against them they shall be overthrown in the streets where they dwell.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an evill reward: because they rebelled, and met not thy person peaceably.

16 And these words pleased Holofernes, and all his servants, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.

17 So the camp of the children of Ammon departed, and with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and took the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Esau went up with the children of Ammon, and camped in the hill countrey over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the South, and toward the East over against Ekrebel, which is neer unto Chus, that is upon the brook Mochmur, and the rest of the army of the Assyrians camped in the plain, and covered the face of the whole land, and their tents and carriages were pitched to a very great multitude.

19 Then the children of Israel cryed unto the Lord their God, because their heart failed, for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the company of Assur remained about them, both their footmen, charets and horsemen, four and thirty daies, so that all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the [c] cisternes were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill, for one day; for they gave them drink by measure. c Or, pits.

22 Therefore their young children were out of heart, and their women and young men fainted for thirst, and fell down in the streets of the city, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chief of the city, both young men, and women, and children, and cried with a loud voyce, and said before all the Elders, 24 God [d] be judge between us and you: for you have done us great injury, in that you have not required peace of the children of Assur. d Exod. 5. 21.

25 For now we have no helper: but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be thrown down before them with thirst, and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them unto you, and deliver the whole city for a spoil to the people of Holofernes, and to all his army.

27 For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them, then to die for thirst; for we will be his servants, that our souls may live, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wives, nor our children to die.

28 We take to witnesse against you the heaven and the earth, and our God, and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sinnes, and the sinnes of our fathers, [e] that he do not according as we have said this day. e Or, shall do so.

29 Then there was great weeping with one consent in the midst of the assembly, and they cryed unto the Lord God with a loud voice. Or, mourning of Holofernes.

30 Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five daies, in the which space the Lord our God may turn his mercy towards us, for he will not forsake us utterly.

31 And if these dayes passe, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your word.

32 And he dispersed the people every one to their own charge, and they went unto the walls, and towers of their citie, and sent the women and children into their houses, and they were very low brought in the city.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The state and behaviour of Judith a widow. 12 She bewaileth the governours for their promise to yeeld: 17 and advise th them to trust in God. 28 They excuse their promise. 32 She promiseth to do something for them.

NOw at that time Judeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari, the sonne of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elcia, the son of Ananias, the son of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, [f] son of Acitho, the sonne of Elii, the son of Eliab, the sonne of Nathanael, the son of [f] Salamael, the sonne of Salasadai, the sonne of Israel. f Or, Salamiel.

2 And Manasses was her husband, of her tribe and kinred, who died in the barely harvest:

3 For as he stood overseeing them that bound sheaves in the field, the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in the city of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the field between Dothaim and Balamo.

4 So Judeth was a widow in her house three years, and four moneths.

5 And she made her a tent upon the top of her house, and put on sackcloth on her loynes, and ware her widowes apparell.

6 And she fasted all the dayes of her widowhood, save the Eves of the Sabbaths, and the Sabbaths, and the Eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts, and soleman dayes of the house of Israel.

7 She was also of a goodly countenance, and very beautifull to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold and silver, and men servants and maid servants, and cattell, and lands; a and she remained upon them.

a Or, and she kept them.

8 And there was none that gave her an ill word, for she feared God greatly.

9 Now when she heard the evill words of the people against the governour, that they fainted for lack of water (for Judeth had heard all the words that Ozias had spoken unto them, and that he had b sworn to deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five dayes) b Chap. 7.26.

10 Then she sent her waiting woman, that had the government of all things that she had, to call Ozias, and Chabris, and Charmis, the ancients of the city.

11 And they came unto her, and she said unto them, Hear me now, O ye governours of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your words that you have spoken before the people this day are not right, touching this oath which ye made, and pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unlesse within these dayes the Lord turn to help you.

12 And now who are you that have tempted God this day, and stand in stead of God amongst the children of men?

13 And now try the Lord Almighty, but you shall never know any thing.

14 For you cannot finde the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceive the things that he thinketh: then how can you search out God, that hath made all these things, and know his mind, or comprehend his purpose? Nay my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if he will not help us within these five dayes, he hath power to defend us when he will, even every day, or to destroy us before our enemies.

c Or, judge. d Numb. 23.19.

16 Do not c binde the counsels of the Lord our God, for d God is not as man, that he may be threatned, neither is he as the sonne of man, that he should be wavering.

17 Therefore let us wait for salvation of him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voyce, if it please him.

e Or, knew.

18 For there arose none in our age, neither is there any now in these dayes, neither tribe, nor family, nor e people, nor city among us, which worship gods made with hands, as hath been aforetime.

f Judg. 2. 11. & 4. 1 & 6. 1.

19 For the which cause our fathers f were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we know none other God: therefore we trust that he will not despise us, nor any of our nation.

21 For if we be taken so, all Judea shall lie waste, and our Sanctuary shall be spoiled, and he will require the profanation thereof at our mouth.

22 And the g slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the country, and the desolation of our inheritance, will he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage, and we shalbe an offence and a reproach to all them that possesse us.

23 For our servitude shall not be directed to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend upon us, and the Sanctuary, and the house, and the altar rest upon us.

25 Moreover, let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth us, even as he did our fathers.

26 Remember what things he did to h Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and what happened to i Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mothers brother.

27 For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, for the examination of their hearts: neither hath he taken vengeance on us: but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

28 Then said Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that may gainsay thy words.

29 For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdome is manifested, but from the beginning of thy dayes all thy people have known thy understanding, because the disposition of thine heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirsty, and compelled us to do unto them as we have spoken, and to bring an oath upon our selves, which we will not break.

31 Therefore now pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord will send us rain to fill our cisternes, and we shall faint no more.

32 Then said Judeth unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go throughout all generations, to the children of our nation.

33 You shall stand this night in the gate, and I will go forth with my waiting woman: and within the dayes that you have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel by mine hand.

34 But enquire not you of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do.

35 Then said Ozias, and the Princes unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their wards.

CHAP. IX.

1 Judeth humbleth her self, 2 and prayeth God to prosper her purpose against the enemies of his Sanctuary.

THen Judeth fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed, and about the time that the incense of that evening was offered in Jerusalem, in the house of the Lord, Judeth cried with a loud voyce, and said;

2 O Lord God of my father h Simeon, to whom thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a virgin to defile her, and discovered the thigh to be ashamed, and polluted her virginitie to her reproach: for thou saidst it shall not be so, and yet they did it:

3 Wherefore thou gavest their Rulers that they died their bed in blood, being , and smotest the servants with their

and the lords upon their thrones:
And hast given their wives for a prey, and daughters to be captives, and all their spoils divided amongst thy dear children: which moved with thy zeal, and abhorred the defiling of their blood, and called upon thee for
: O God, O my God, hear me also a widow.
For thou hast wrought not onely those things, also the things which fell out before, and which ensued after; thou hast thought upon the things which are now, and which are to come:
Yea, what things thou didst determine, were ready at hand, and said, Lo we are here, for all thy waies are prepared, and thy judgements are in thy foreknowledge.
For behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power: they are exalted with horse and men: they glory in the strength of their footmen: they trust in shield and spear, and bow, and sling, and know not that thou art the Lord that breaketh the battels: the Lord is thy Name.
Throw down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath; for they have purposed to defile thy Sanctuary, and to pollute the Tabernacle, where thy glorious Name resteth, and to cast down with sword the horn of thy Altar.
Behold their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into mine hand which am a widow, the power that I have conceived.
[b] Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with the servant: break down their statelinesse by the hand of a woman.
[b] For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men, for thou art a God of the afflicted, an helper of the oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protectour of the forlorn, a saviour of them that are without hope.
I pray thee, I pray thee, O God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the waters and earth, Creator of the waters, King of every creature, hear thou my prayer:
And make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed cruell things against thy Covenant, and thy hallowed house, and against the top of Sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.
And make every nation and tribe to acknowledge that thou art the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the people of Israel, but thou.

CHAP. X.

Judith dith set forth her self. 10 She and her maid go forth into the camp. 17 The watch take and conduct her to Olofernes.

NOw after that she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words,
She rose where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, in the which she abode in the Sabbath dayes, and in her feast dayes,
And pulled off the sackcloth which she had on, and put off the garments of her widow-hood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed her self with precious ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put on a tire upon it, and put on her garments of glad-nesse, wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.
And she took sandals upon her feet, and put about her, her bracelets, and her chains, and her rings, and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and decked her self bravely to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.
Then she gave her maid a bottle of wine, and a cruse of oyl, and filled a bag with parched corn, and lumps of figs, and with fine bread, so she [d] folded all these things together, and laid them upon her. [d] Or wrapped, or packed.
Thus they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias, and the ancients of the city, Chabris and Charmis.
And when they saw her that her countenance was altered, and her apparrell was changed, they wondred at her beauty very greatly, and said unto her,
The God, the God of our fathers give thee favour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exal-tation of Jerusalem: then they worshipped God.
And she said unto them, Command the gates of the citie to be opened unto me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things, whereof you have spoken with me: so they commanded the young men to open unto her, as she had spoken.
And when they had done so, Judith went out, she and her maid with her, and the men of the city looked after her, untill she was gone down the mountain, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.
Thus they went straight forth in the valley: and the first watch of the Assyrians met her:
And took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whi-ther goest thou? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrewes, and am fled from them: for they shall be given you to be consumed:
And I am coming before Olofernes the chief captain of your army, to declare words of truth, and I will shew him a way, whereby he shall go and win all the hill country, without losing the body or life of any one of his men.
Now when the men heard her words, and beheld her countenance, they wondred greatly at her beauty, and said unto her,
Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hasted to come down to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, untill they have delivered thee to his hands.
And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart: but shew unto him accor-ding to thy word, and he will intreat thee well.
Then they chose out of them an hundred men [e] to accompany her and her maid, and they brought her to the tent of Olofernes. [e] Or, and they prevented her for her.
Then was there a concourse throughout all the camp: for her coming was noised among the tents, and they came about her, as she stood without the tent of Olofernes, till they told him of her.
And they wondered at her beauty, and ad-mired the children of Israel because of her, and every one said to his neighbour, Who would despise this people, that have among them such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left, who being let go, might deceive the whole earth.
And they that lay near Olofernes, went out, and all his servants, and they brought her into the tent.
Now Olofernes rested upon his bed under a canopie, which was woven with purple and gold, and emeraudy, and precious stones.

22 So they ſhewed him of her, and he came out before his tent, with ſilver lampes going before him.

23 And when Judeth was come before him and his ſervants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance, and ſhe fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him, and his ſervants took her up.

CHAP. XI.

3 Olofernes aſketh Judeth the cauſe of her coming. 6 She telleth him how, and when he may prevail. 20 He is much pleaſed with her wiſdome and beauty.

THen ſaid Olofernes unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thine heart: for I never hurt any that was willing to ſerve Nabuchodonoſor the King of all the earth.

2 Now therefore if thy people that dwelleth in the mountains, had not ſet light by me, I would not have lifted up my ſpear againſt them: but they have done theſe things to themſelves.

3 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come unto us: for thou art come for ſafegard, be of good comfort, thou ſhalt live this night and hereafter.

4 For none ſhall hurt thee, but intreat thee well, as they do the ſervants of King Nabuchodonoſor my lord.

5 Then Judeth ſaid unto him, Receive the words of thy ſervant, and ſuffer thine handmaid to ſpeak in thy preſence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt follow the words of thine handmaid, God will bring the thing perfectly to paſſe by thee, and my lord ſhall not fail of his purpoſes,

7 As Nabuchodonoſor King of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath ſent thee for the upholding of every living thing: for not only men ſhall ſerve him by thee, but alſo the beaſts of the field, and the cattell, and the fowls of the aire ſhall live by thy power, under Nabuchodonoſor and all his houſe.

8 For we have heard of thy wiſdome, and thy policies, and it is reported in all the earth, that thou onely art [a] excellent in all the kingdome, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderfull in feats of warre.

9 Now as concerning the matter which Achior did ſpeak in thy councell, we have heard his words, for the men of Bethulia [b] ſaved him, and he declared unto them all that he had ſpoken unto thee.

10 Therefore, O lord and governour, reject not his word, but lay it up in thine heart, for it is true: for our nation ſhall not be puniſhed, neither can the ſword prevail againſt them, except they ſinne againſt their God.

11 And now that my lord be not defeated, and fruſtrate of his purpoſe, even death is now fallen upon them, and their ſinne hath overtaken them, wherewith they will provoke their God to anger, whenſoever they ſhall do that which is not fit to be done.

12 For their victuals fail them, and all their water is ſcant, and they have determined to lay hands upon their cattell, and purpoſed to conſume all thoſe things that God hath forbidden them to eat by his Lawes,

13 And are reſolved to ſpend the firſt fruits of the corn, and the tenths of wine and oyl, which they had ſanctified, and reſerved for the Prieſts that ſerve in Jeruſalem, before the face of our God, the which things it is not lawfull for any of the people ſo much as to touch with [illegible]

14 For they have ſent ſome to Jeruſ[illegible] cauſe they alſo that dwell there have [illegible] like, to bring them a licence from the [illegible]

15 Now when they ſhall bring them word will forthwith do it, and they ſhall be given to be deſtroyed the ſame day.

16 Wherefore I thine handmaid knowing this, am fled from their preſence, and God ſent me to work things with thee, whereat the earth ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and whoſoever ſhall hear it.

17 For thy ſervant is religious, and ſerveth the God of heaven day and night: now therefore, my lord, I will remain with thee, and thy [illegible] will go out by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he will tell me when they have committed their ſinnes.

18 And I will come and ſhew it unto thee: then thou ſhalt go forth with all thine army, and there ſhall be none of them that ſhall reſiſt thee.

19 And I will lead thee through the midſt of Judea, untill thou come before Jeruſalem, and I will ſet thy throne in the midſt thereof, and thou ſhalt drive them as ſheep that have no ſhepherd, and a dog ſhall not ſo much as [c] open his mouth at thee: for [d] theſe things were told me, according to my foreknowledge, and they were declared unto me, and I am ſent to tell thee.

20 Then her words pleaſed Olofernes, and all his ſervants, and they marvelled at her wiſdome, and ſaid;

21 There is not ſuch a woman from one end of the earth to the other, both for beauty of face, and wiſdome of words.

22 Likewiſe Olofernes ſaid unto her, God hath done well to ſend thee before the people, that ſtrength might be in our hands, and deſtruction upon them that lightly regard my lord:

23 And now thou art both beautifull in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: ſurely if thou do as thou haſt ſpoken, thy God ſhall be my God, and thou ſhalt dwell in the houſe of King Nabuchodonoſor, and ſhalt be renowned through the whole earth.

CHAP. XII.

2 Judeth will not eat of Olofernes meat. 7 She arrived three dayes in the camp, and every night went forth to pray. 13 Bagoas doth invite her to be merry with Olofernes, 20 who for joy of her company drank much.

THen he commanded to bring her in, where his plate was ſet, and bade that they ſhould prepare for her of his own meats, and that he ſhould drink of his own wine.

2 And Judeth ſaid, [e] I will not eat thereof, leſt there be an offence: but proviſion ſhall be made for me of the things that I have brought.

3 Then Olofernes ſaid unto her, If thy proviſion ſhould fail, how ſhould we give thee the like? for there is none with us of thy nation.

4 Then ſaid Judeth unto him, As thy ſoul liveth, my lord, thine handmaid ſhall not ſpend thoſe things that I have, before the Lord work by mine hand the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the ſervants of Olofernes brought her into the tent, and ſhe ſlept till midnight, and aroſe when it was towards the morning watch,

6 And ſent to Olofernes, ſaying, Let my lord now command, that thine handmaid may go forth unto prayer.

7 Then Olofernes commanded his guard that they ſhould not ſtay her: thus ſhe abode in the camp three dayes, and went out in the night

y of Bethulia, and waſhed her ſelf in a of water by the camp.
2 And when ſhe came out, ſhe beſought the God of Iſrael to direct her way to the ra-of the children of her people.
3 So ſhe came in clean, and remained in the till ſhe did eat her meat at evening.
4 And in the fourth day Olofernes made a to his own ſervants onely, and called none officers to the banquet.
5 Then ſaid he to Bagoas the Eunuch, who had over all that he had: Go now and perſwade Hebrew woman which is with thee, that ſhe unto us, and eat and drink with us.
6 For lo, it will be a ſhame for our perſon, if ſhall let ſuch a woman go, not having had her company: for if we draw her not unto us, ſhe will us to ſcorn.
7 Then went Bagoas from the preſence of O-
, and came to her, and he ſaid, Let not this damſell fear to come to my lord, and to honored in his preſence, and drink wine, and merry with us, and be made this day as one of daughters of the Aſſyrians, which ſerve in the of Nabuchodonoſor.
8 Then ſaid Judeth unto him, Who am I now,
I ſhould gainſay my lord? ſurely whatſoever pleaſeth him, I will do ſpeedily, and it ſhall be joy unto the day of my death.
9 So ſhe aroſe, and decked her ſelf with her , and all her womans attire, and her maid and laid ſoft ſkinnes on the ground for her againſt Olofernes, which ſhe had received of for her daily uſe, that ſhe might ſit and eat
10 Now when Judeth came in, and ſat down, Olofernes his heart was raviſhed with her, and his was moved, and he deſired greatly her company, for he waited a time to deceive her,
the day that he had ſeen her.
11 Then ſaid Olofernes unto her, Drink now, be merry with us.
12 So Judeth ſaid, I will drink now, my lord, becauſe my life is magnified in me this day, more all the dayes ſince I was born.
13 Then ſhe took, and ate and drank before , what her maid had prepared.
14 And Olofernes took great delight in her, drank much more wine, then he had drunk any time in one day, ſince he was born.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Judeth is left alone with Olofernes in his tent. 4 She prayeth God to give her ſtrength. 8 She cut off his head while he ſleepeth: 10 And returned with it to Bethulia: 17 They ſaw it, and commend her.

NOw when the evening was come, his ſervants made haſte to depart, and Bagoas ſhut his tent without, and diſmiſſed the waiters from the preſence of his lord, and they went to their beds: for they were all weary, becauſe the feaſt had been long.

2 And Judeth was left alone in the tent, and Olofernes lying along upon his bed, for he was filled with wine.

3 Now Judeth had commanded her maid to ſtand without her bed-chamber, and to wait for her coming forth as ſhe did daily: for ſhe ſaid, ſhe would go forth to her prayers, and ſhe ſpake to Bagoas, according to the ſame purpoſe.

4 So all went forth, and none was left in the bed-chamber, neither little nor great. Then Judeth ſtanding by his bed, ſaid in her heart: O Lord God of all power, look at this preſent upon the works of mine hands for the exaltation of Jeruſalem.

5 For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterpriſes, to the deſtruction of the enemies, which are riſen againſt us.

6 Then ſhe came to the pillar of the bed, which was at Olofernes head, and took down his falchion from thence,

7 And approached to his bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and ſaid, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Iſrael, this day.

8 And ſhe ſmote twice upon his neck with all her might, and ſhe took away his head from him, 9 And tumbled his body down from the bed, and pulled down the canopy from the pillars, and anon after ſhe went forth, and gave Olofernes his head to her maid.

10 And ſhe put it in her bag of meat; ſo they twain went together according to their cuſtome unto prayer, and when they paſſed the camp, they compaſſed the valley, and went up the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 Then ſaid Judeth afarre off to the watchmen at the gate, Open, open now the gate: God, even our God is with us, to ſhew his power yet in Jeruſalem, and his forces againſt the enemy, as he hath even done this day.

12 Now when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haſte to go down to the gate of their city, and they called the Elders of the city.

13 And then they ranne all together both ſmall and great, for it was ſtrange unto them that ſhe was come: ſo they opened the gate, and received them, and made a fire for a light, and ſtood round about them.

14 Then ſhe ſaid to them with a loud voice, Praiſe, praiſe God, praiſe God (I ſay) for he hath not taken away his mercy from the houſe of Iſrael, but hath deſtroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

15 So ſhe took the head out of the bag, and ſhewed it, and ſaid unto them, Behold the head of Olofernes the chief captain of the army of Aſſur, and behold the canopy wherein he did lie in his drunkenneſſe, and the Lord hath ſmitten him by the hand of a woman.

16 As the Lord liveth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceived him to his deſtruction, and yet hath he not committed ſinne with me to defile and ſhame me.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully aſtoniſhed, and bowed themſelves, and worſhipped God, and ſaid with one accord, Bleſſed be thou, O our God, which haſt this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.

18 Then ſaid Ozias unto her, O daughter, bleſſed art thou of the moſt high God, above all the women upon the earth, and bleſſed be the Lord God, which hath created the heavens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chief of our enemies.

19 For this thy confidence ſhall not depart from the heart of men, which remember the power of God for ever.

20 And God turn theſe things to thee for a perpetuall praiſe, to viſit thee in good things, becauſe thou haſt not ſpared thy life for the affliction of our nation, but haſt revenged our ruine, walking a ſtraight way before our God: and all the people ſaid, So be it, ſo be it.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Achior heareth Judeth ſhew what ſhe had done, and is circumciſed. 11 The head of Olofernes is hanged up. 15 He is found dead, and much lamented.

THen ſaid Judeth unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this [b] head, and hang it upon the higheſt place of your wall.

[b] Mat. 15.35.

3 And

3 And so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sunne shall come forth upon the earth, take you every one his weapons, and go forth every valiant man out of the city, and set you a captain over them, as though you would go down into the field toward the watch of the Assyrians, but go not down.

3 Then they shall take their armour, and shall go into their camp, and raise up the captains of the army of Assur, and they shall run to the tent of Olofernes, but shall not finde him, then fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face.

4 So you, and all that inhabit the coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go.

5 But before ye do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to his death.

6 Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias, and when he was come, and saw the head of Olofernes in a mans hand, in the assembly of the people, he fell down on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had recovered him, he fell at Judeths feet, and reverenced her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Juda, and in all nations, which hearing thy name shall be astonished.

8 Now therefore tell me all the things that thou hast done in these dayes: then Judeth declared unto him in the midst of the people, all that she had done from the day that she went forth, untill that hour she spake unto them.

9 And when she had left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyfull noise in their city.

10 And when Achior had seen all that the God of Israel had done, he beleeved in God greatly, and circumcised the foreskin of his flesh, and was joyned unto the house of Israel unto this day.

11 And assoon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Olofernes upon the wall, and every man took his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the [a] straits of the mountain.

a Or, passages.

12 But when the Assyrians saw them, they sent to their leaders, which came to their captains, and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers.

13 So they came to Olofernes tent, and said to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battell, that they may be utterly destroyed.

14 Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the door of the tent, for he thought that he had slept with Judeth.

15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the bed-chamber, and found him cast upon the floor dead, and his head was taken from him.

16 [b] Therefore he cryed with a loud voice, with weeping and sighing, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments.

b Then.

17 After he went into the tent, where Judeth lodged, and when he found her not, he leaped out to the people, and cried;

18 These slaves have dealt treacherously, one woman of the Hebrewes hath brought shame upon the house of King Nabuchodonosor: for behold, Olofernes lieth upon the ground without a head.

19 When the captains of the Assyrians army heard these words, they rent their coats, and their minds were wonderfully troubled, and there was a cry, and a very great noise throwout the camp.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Assyrians are chased and slain. 8 The high Priest cometh to see Judeth. 11 The spoiles is given to Judeth. 13 She weareth her with a garland.

AND when they that were in the tents they were astonished at the thing done.

2 And fear and trembling fell upon them that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out altogether fled into every way of the plain, and of the countrey.

3 They also that had camped in the mountains, round about Bethulia, fled away. Then the children of Israel, every one that was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them.

4 Then sent Ozias to Bethomasthem, and to Bebai, and Chobai, and Cola, and to all the coasts of Israel, such as should tell the things that were done, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them.

5 Now when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell upon them with one consent, and slew them unto Choba: likewise also they that came from Jerusalem, & from all the hill countrey (for there told them what things were done in the tents, and their enemies, and they that were in Galaad and Galilee [c] chased them with a great slaughter, till they were past Damascus, and the borders thereof.

c Or, pursued.

6 And the residue that dwelt at Bethulia fell upon the camp of Assur, and spoiled them, and were greatly enriched.

7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had that which remained, and the villages, and the cities that were in the mountains, and in the plain, gate many spoils: for the multitude was very great.

8 Then Joacim the high Priest, and the ancients of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem came to behold the good things that God had shewed to Israel, and to see Judeth, and to salute her.

9 And when they came unto her, they blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great rejoycing of Israel, thou art the great rejoycing of our nation.

10 Thou hast done all these things by thine hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou of the Almighty Lord for evermore: and all the people said, So be it.

11 And the people spoiled the camp, the space of thirty dayes, and they gave unto Judeth Olofernes his tent, and all his plate, and beds, and vessels, and all his stuffe: and she took it, and laid it on her mule, and made ready her carts, and laid them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel ran together to see her, and blessed her, and made a dance among them for her: and she took branches in her hands, and gave also to the women that were with her.

13 And they put a garland of olive upon her, and her maid that was with her, and she went before the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouthes.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The song of Judeth. 19 She dedicateth the spoiles of Olofernes. 23 She died a widow of great honour. 24 All Israel did honour her death.

THen Judeth began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang after her this song of praise.

Judeth ſaid, Begin unto my God with ſing unto my Lord with cymbals: tune a [a] new Pſalme: exalt him, and call up-name.

For God breaketh the battels: for amongſt in the midſt of the people he hath de-me out of the hands of them that perſeme.

After came out of the mountains from the he came with ten thouſands of his army, the multitude whereof ſtopped the torrents, and horſemen have covered the hils.

He bragged that he would burn up my bor-and kill my young men with the ſword, and the ſucking children againſt the ground, and mine infants as a prey, and my virgins as a

But the Almighty Lord hath diſappointed by the hand of a woman.

For the mighty one did not fall by the young neither did the ſonnes of the Titans ſmite nor high giants ſet upon him: but Judeth the daughter of Merari weakned him with the beauty her countenance;

For ſhe put off the garment of her widow-for the exaltation of thoſe that were oppreſ-in Iſrael, and anointed her face with ointment, bound her hair in a [c] tyre, and took a linen to deceive him.

Her ſandals ravished his eies, her beauty took captive priſoner, and the ſawchin paſſed thorow neck.

The Perſians quaked at her boldneſſe, and the were [d] daunted at her hardineſſe.

Then my afflicted ſhouted for joy, and my ſmall ones cried aloud; but [e] they were aſtoniſhed: theſe lifted up their voices, but they were overthrown.

The ſons of the damoſels have pierced them through, and wounded them as fugitives children:
they periſhed by the battell of the Lord.

I will ſing unto the Lord [f] a new ſong, O Lord, thou art great and glorious, wonderfull in ſtrength, and invincible.

Let all creatures ſerve thee: for thou ſpakeſt, and they were made, thou diddeſt ſend forth thy ſpirit, and it created them, and there is none that can reſiſt thy voice.

For the mountains ſhall be moved from their foundations with the waters, the rocks ſhall melt as waxe at thy preſence: yet thou art mercifull to them that feare thee.

For all ſacrifice is too little for a ſweet ſavour unto thee, and all the fat is not ſufficient for thy burnt offering: but he that feareth the Lord is great at all times.

Wo to the nations that riſe up againſt my kinred: the Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgement, in putting fire and worms in their fleſh, and they ſhall feel them, and weep for ever.

Now aſſoon as they entred into Jeruſalem, they worſhipped the Lord, and aſſoon as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, and their free offerings, and their gifts.

Judeth alſo dedicated all the ſtuffe of Olo-fernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopie which ſhe had taken out of his bedchamber, for a gift unto the Lord.

So the people continued feaſting in Jeruſalem before the Sanctuary, for the ſpace of three mo-neths, and Judeth remained with them.

After this time, every one returned to his own inheritance, and Judeth went to Bethulia, and remained in her own poſſeſſion, and was in her time honourable in all the country.

And many deſired her, but none knew her, all the daies of her life, after that Manaſſes her huſband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

But ſhe increaſed more and more in honour, and waxed old in her huſbands houſe, being an hundred and five yeers old, and made her maid free, ſo ſhe died in Bethulia: and they buried her in the [g] cave of her huſband Manaſſes.

And the houſe of Iſrael lamented her [h] ſeven daies, and before ſhe died, ſhe did diſtribute her goods to all them that were neereſt of kinred to Manaſſes her huſband, and to them that were the neereſt of her kindred.

And there was none that made the children of Iſrael any more afraid in the daies of Judeth, nor a long time after her death.

[g] Or, ſepulchre.
[h] Genes. 50. 10.

¶ The reſt of the Chapters of the Book of ESTHER, which are found neither in the Hebrew, nor in the Caldee.

Part of the tenth Chapter after the Greek.

Mardochæus remembreth and expoundeth his dreame of the river, and the two dragons.

Then Mardochæus ſaid, God hath done theſe things.

For I remember a dream which I ſaw concerning theſe matters, and nothing thereof hath failed.

A little fountain became a river, and there was light, and the Sunne, and much water: this river is Eſther, whom the King married and made Queen.

And the two dragons are I, and Aman.

And the nations were thoſe that were aſſembled, to deſtroy the name of the Jews.

And my nation is this Iſrael, which cried to God, and were ſaved: for the Lord hath ſaved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all theſe evils, and God hath wrought ſignes, and great wonders, which have not been done among the nations.

Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the Gentiles.

And theſe two lots came at the houre, and time, and day of Judgement before God amongſt all nations.

So God remembred his people, and juſtified his inheritance.

Therefore theſe daies ſhall be unto them in the moneth Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the ſame moneth, with an aſſembly, and joy, and with gladneſſe before God, according to the generations for ever among his people.

CHAP. XI.

The ſtuff and quality of Mardochæus. 6 He dreameth of two dragons comming forth to fight. 10 and of a little fountain which became a great water.

IN the fourth yeer of the reign of Ptolemæus, and Cleopatra, Doſitheus, who ſaid he was a Prieſt and Levite, and Ptolemæus his ſon brought this Epistle of Phrim, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemeus, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

2 In the second yeer of the reign of Artaxerxes the great: in the first day of the moneth Nisan, Mardochaeus the sonne of Jairus, the son of Semei, the sonne of Cisai, of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream.

3 Who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, being a servitour in the Kings court.

4 He was also one of the captives, which Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon carried from Jerusalem, with Jechonias King of Judea, and this was his dream.

5 Behold, a noise of a tumult with thunder and earthquakes, and uproar in the land.

6 And behold, two great dragons came forth ready to fight, and their cry was great.

7 And at their cry all nations were prepared to battell, that they might fight against the righteous people.

8 And lo, a day of darkneſſe and obscurity: tribulation, and anguish, affliction, and great uproar upon the earth.

9 And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing their own evils, and were ready to perish.

10 Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, was made a great flood, even much water.

11 The light and the Sunne rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious.

12 Now when Mardochaeus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake: he bare this dream in minde, and untill night by all means was desirous to know it.

CHAP. XII.

2 The conspiracy of the two Eunuches is discovered by Mardochaeus: 5 for which he is entertained by the King and rewarded.

AND Mardochaeus took his rest in the court with Gabatha, and Tharra, the two Eunuches of the King, and keepers of the palace.

2 [a] And he heard their devices, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the King, and so he certified the King of them. [a] Esther 2.21. & 6.2.

3 Then the King examined the two Eunuches, and after that they had confessed it, they were strangled.

4 And the King made a record of these things, and Mardochaeus also wrote thereof.

5 So the King commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, and for this he rewarded him.

6 Howbeit Aman the sonne of Amadathus the Agagite, who was in great honour with the King, sought to molest Mardocheus and his people, because of the two Eunuches of the King.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The copy of the Kings letters to destroy the Jews. 8 The prayer of Mardocheus for them.

THE copy of the letters was this. The great King Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes and governours that are under him, from India unto Ethiopia, in an hundred and seven and twenty provinces. Jos. Ant. l. 11. c. 6.

2 After that I became lord over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying my self alway with equity and mildeness, I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdome [b] peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace which is desired of all men. [b] Or, mild.

3 Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to passe, Aman that excelleth in wisdome among us, and was approved for constant good will, and stedfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second place in the kingdome,

4 Declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world, there was scattered a certain malicious people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually despised the commandements of Kings, so as the uniting of our realms honourably intended by us, cannot [c] go forward.

5 Seeing then we understand that this people alone is continually in opposition unto all men, differing in the strange manner of their laws, and evill affected to our state, working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not be firm and stablished:

6 Therefore have we commanded that the men that are signified in writing unto you by Aman, (who is ordained over the affaires, and is next unto us) shall all with their wives and children be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies without all mercy and pity, the fourteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar of this present yeer:

7 That they, who of old, and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go into their grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affaires to be well setled, and without trouble.

8 Then Mardocheus thought upon all the works of the Lord, and made his prayer unto him,

9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, the King Almighty: for the whole world is in thy power; and if thou hast appointed to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee:

10 For thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things under the heaven.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, O Lord, that it was neither in contempt, nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to proud Aman.

13 For I could have been content with good will, for the salvation of Israel, to kisse the soles of his feet.

14 But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I worship any but thee, O God, neither will I do it in pride.

15 And now, O Lord God, and King, spare thy people: for their eies are upon us, to bring us to nought, yea they desire to destroy the inheritance that hath been thine from the beginning.

16 Despise not the portion which thou hast delivered out of Egypt for thine own self:

17 Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: turn our sorrow into joy, that we may live, O Lord, and praise thy Name: [c] destroy not the mouthes of them that praise thee, O Lord.

18 All Israel in like manner cried mightily unto the Lord, because their death was before their eies.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The prayer of Queen Esther, for her self and people.

QVeen Esther also being in fear of death, resorted unto the Lord,

2 And laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish, and mourning: and instead of precious ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she [illegible]

, and all the places of her joy ſhe filled torn hair.
And ſhe prayed unto the Lord God of Iſra-
, O my Lord, thou onely art our King:
deſolate woman, which have no helper
but thee:
For my danger is in mine hand.
From my youth up I have heard in the tribe my family, that thou, O Lord, tookeſt Iſrael among all people, and our fathers from all predeceſſours, for a perpetuall inheritance, haſt performed whatſoever thou didſt
them.
And now we have ſinned before thee: therefore given us into the hands of our enemies, Becauſe we worſhipped their gods: O Lord, art righteous.
Neverthleſſe, it ſatisfieth them not that we in bitter captivity, but they have ſtricken with their idols,
That they will abolliſh the thing, that thou thy mouth haſt ordained, and deſtroy thine
, and ſtop the mouth of them that praiſe
, and quench the glory of thy houſe and of Altar,
And open the mouthes of the heathen, to ſet the praiſes of the [b] idols, and to magnifie a King for ever.
O Lord, give not thy ſcepter unto them that nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall, turn their device upon themſelves, and make an example that hath begun this againſt us.
Remember, O Lord, make thy ſelf known time of our affliction, and give me boldneſſe, O of the [d] nations, and Lord of all power.
Give me eloquent ſpeech in my mouth before lion: turn his heart to hate him that fighteth us, that there may be an end of him, and that are like minded to him:
But deliver us with thine hand, and help me am deſolate, and which have no other helper thee.
Thou knoweſt all things, O Lord, thou know-that I hate the glory of the unrighteous, and abhorre the bed of the uncircumciſed, and of [e] all heathen.
Thou knoweſt my neceſſity: for I abhorre ſigne of my [f] high eſtate, which is upon mine , in the dayes wherein I ſhew my ſelf, and I abhorre it as a menſtruous rag, and that I bear it not when I am [g] private by my ſelf.
And that thine handmaid hath not eaten at 's table, and that I have not greatly eſteemed the Kings feaſt, nor drunk the wine of the drink
Neither had thine handmaid any joy, ſince day [h] that I was brought hither to this pre-
, but in thee, O Lord God of Abrahams.
O thou mighty God above all, hear the voice the forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of miſchievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

CHAP. XV.

Eſther cometh into the Kings preſence. 7 He looketh angerly, and ſhe fainteth. 8 The King doth take her up, and comfort her.

And upon the third day when ſhe had ended her prayer, ſhe laid away her mourning gar-
, and put on her glorious apparell.
And being gloriouſly adorned, after ſhe had upon God, who is the beholder and Saviour things, ſhe took two maids with her.
And upon the one ſhe leaned, as carrying her delily.
the other followed, bearing up her traia.
9 And ſhe was [k] ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerfull and very [l] amiable: but her heart was in anguiſh for fear.
6 Then having paſſed thorow all the doors, ſhe ſtood before the King, who ſate upon his royall throne, and was clothed with all his robes of Majeſty, all glittering with gold and precious ſtones, and he was very dreadfull.
7 Then lifting up his countenance that ſhone with majeſty, he looked very fiercely upon her; and the queen fell down, and was pale, and fainted, and bowed her ſelf upon the head of the maid that went [m] before her.
8 Then God changed the ſpirit of the King into mildneſſe, who in a [n] fear leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms till ſhe came to her ſelf again, and comforted her with loving words, and ſaid unto her:
9 Eſther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer.
10 Thou ſhalt not die, though our commandment be [o] generall: come neer.
11 And ſo he held up his golden ſcepter, and laid it upon her neck, 12 And embraced her, and ſaid, Speak unto me.
13 Then ſaid ſhe unto him, I ſaw thee, my lord, as an Angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy majeſty.
14 For wonderfull art thou, lord, and thy countenance is full of grace.
15 And as ſhe was ſpeaking, [p] ſhe fell down for faintneſſe.
16 Then the King was troubled, and all his ſervants comforted her.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The letter of Artaxerxes, 10 wherein he ſetteth Aman, 17 and revoketh the decree procured by Aman to deſtroy the Jews, 22 and commandeth the day of their deliverance to be kept holy.

THe great King Artaxerxes unto the Princes and governours of an hundred and ſeven and twenty provinces, from India unto Ethiopia, and unto all [q] our faithfull ſubjects, greeting.
2 Many, the more often they are honoured with the great bounty of [r] their gracious princes, the more proud they are waxen,
3 And indevour to hurt not our ſubjects onely, but not being able to bear abundance, do take in hand to practiſe alſo againſt thoſe that do them good:
4 And take not onely thankfulneſſe away from among men, but alſo lifted up with the glorious words of [s] lewd perſons [t] that were never good, they think to eſcape the juſtice of God, that ſeeth all things, and hateth evill.
5 Oftentimes alſo fair ſpeech [u] of thoſe that are put in truſt to manage their friends affaires, hath cauſed many that are in authority to be partakers of innocent blood, and hath enwrapped them in remedileſſe calamities;
6 Beguiling with the falſhood and deceit of their lewd diſpoſition, the innocency and goodneſſe of Princes.
7 Now ye may ſee this 23 we have declared, not ſo much by ancient hiſtories, as ye may, if ye ſearch what hath been wickedly done of late, through the peſtilent behaviour of them that are unworthily placed in authority.
8 And we muſt take care for the time to come, that our kingdome may be quiet and peaceable for all men,

10 For Aman a Macedonian, the sonne of Amadatha, being indeed a ſtranger from the Perſian blood, and farre diſtant from our goodneſſe, and as a ſtranger received of us:

11 Had ſo farre forth obtained the favour that we ſhew towards every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honoured of all men, as the next perſon unto the King.

12 But he not bearing his great dignity, went about to deprive us of our kingdome and life:

13 Having by manifold and cunning deceits ſought of us the deſtruction as well of Mardocheus, who ſaved our life, and continually procured our good, as alſo of blameleſſe Eſther partaker of our kingdome, with their whole nation.

14 For by theſe meanes he thought, finding us deſtitute of friends, to have tranſlated the kingdome of the Perſians to the Macedonians.

15 But we finde that the Jews, whom this wicked wretch hath delivered to utter deſtruction, are no evill doers, but live by moſt juſt laws:

16 And that they be children of the moſt High and moſt mighty living God, who hath [v] ordered the kingdome both unto us, and to our progenitours, in the moſt excellent manner.

¶ THE WISDOME OF SOLOMON

CHAP. I.

1 To whom God ſheweth himſelf, 4 and Wiſdome her ſelf. 6 An evill ſpeaker cannot be hid. 12 We procure our own deſtruction: 13 For God created not death.

[a] LOve righteouſneſſe, ye that be Judges of the earth: think of the Lord with a good (heart) and in ſimplicity of heart ſeek him.

2 For he will be found of them that tempt him not: and ſheweth himſelf unto ſuch as do not [b] diſtruſt him.

3 For froward thoughts ſeparate from God: and his power when it is tried, [c] reproveth the unwiſe.

4 For into a malicious ſoul wiſdome ſhall not enter: nor dwell in the body that is ſubject unto ſinne.

5 [d] For the holy ſpirit of diſcipline will flee deceit, and remove from thoughts that are without underſtanding: and will not [e] abide when unrighteouſneſſe cometh in.

6 For wiſdome is a [f] loving ſpirit: and will not acquit a blaſphemer of his [g] words: for God is witneſſe of his reins, and a true beholder of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue.

7 For the Spirit of the Lord filleth the world: and that which [h] containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice.

8 Therefore he that ſpeaketh unrighteous things, cannot be hid: neither ſhall vengeance, when it puniſheth, paſſe by him.

9 For inquiſition ſhall be made into the counſels of the ungodly: and the ſound of his words ſhall come unto the Lord, for the [i] manifeſtation of his wicked deeds.

10 For the ear of jealouſie heareth all things, and the noiſe of murmurings is not hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring which is unprofitable, and refrain your tongue from backbiting: for there is no word ſo ſecret that go for nought: and the mouth that [k] eth the ſoul.

12 Seek not death in the error of and pull not upon your ſelves [l] deſtruction the works of your hands.

13 For God made not death: neither pleaſure in the deſtruction of the living.

14 For he created all things, that have their being: and the generations world were healthfull: and there is no deſtruction in them: nor the kingdome upon the earth.

15 For righteouſneſſe is immortall.

16 But ungodly men with their words called it to them: for when they to have it their friend, they conſumed to and made a covenant with it, becauſe worthy to take part with it.

CHAP. II.

1 The wicked think this life ſhort, 5 and of after this. 6 Therefore they will take their in this, 10 and conſpire againſt the juſt, 12 that is which doth blame them.

ne out time is a very shadow that passeth d after our end there is no returning: for th sealed, so that no man cometh again.
Come on therefore, let us enjoy the good that are present: and let us [d] speedily use creatures like as in youth.
Let us fill our selves with costly wine and ments: and let no flower of the spring passe us.
Let us crown our selves with rose buds bethey be withered.
Let none of us go without his part of our luptuousnesse: let us leave tokens of our joyful-in every place: for this is our portion, and lot is this.
Let us oppresse the poore righteous man, let not spare the widow, nor reverence the ancient ourie of the aged.
Let our strength be the law of Justice: for which is feeble is found to be nothing worth.
Therfore let us lie in wait for the righteous:
he is not for our turn, and he is clean con-to our doings: he upbraideth us with our ing the Law, and objecteth to our infamy the ressings of our education.
He professeth to have the knowledge of God:
calleth himself the childe of the Lord.
He was made to [g] reprove our thoughts.
He is grievous unto us, even to behold: [h] for life is not like other mens, his wayes are of an-fashion.
We are esteemed of him as [i] counterfeits:
abstaineth from our wayes as from filthinesse:
pronounceth the end of the just to be blessed,
boasteth his boast that God is his father.
Let us see if his words be true: and let us what shall happen in the end of him.
For if the just man be the [k] Sonne of God, he help him, and deliver him from the hand of enemies.
Let us examine him with despitefulnesse and ture, that we may know his meeknesse, and his patience.
Let us condemn him with a shamefull death:
by his own saying, he shall be respected.
Such things they did imagine, and were de-ved: for their own wickednesse hath blinded m.
As for the mysteries of God, they knew them not, neither hoped they for the wages of righteousnesse: nor [m] discerned a reward for blamelesse soules.
For God created man to be immortall, and made him to be an [n] image of his own eternity.
Nevertheless, through envy of the devill death into the world: and they that do hold with him do finde it.

CHAP. III.

*The righteous are happy in their death, 5 and in their
... 10 The wicked are not, nor their children: 13
And they that are pure, are happy, though they ... children: 16 For the unlawfull and his seed
...*

But the soules of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them.
In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: and their departure is taken for misery, and their going from us to be utter destruction: but they are in peace.
For though they be punished in the sight of men: their hope is full of immortality.
And having been a little chastised, they shall be greatly rewarded: for God proved them, and found them [o] worthy for himself.
As the gold in the furnace hath he tried them, and received them as a burnt-offering.
And in the time of their [p] visitation, they shall shine and run to and fro, like sparks among the stubble.
They [q] shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people, and their Lord shall reign
for ever.
They that put their trust in him, shall understand the truth: [r] and such as be faithfull in love, shall abide with him: for grace and mercy is to his Saints, and he hath care for his elect.
But the [s] ungodly shall be punished according to their own imaginations, which have neglected the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.
For whoso despiseth wisdome and nurture,
he is miserable, and their hope is vain, their labours unfruitfull, and their works unprofitable.
Their wives are [b] foolish, and their children
wicked.
Their off-spring is cursed: wherefore blest-ed is the barren that is undefiled, which hath not known the sinfull bed: she [c] shall have fruit in the visitation of soules.
And blessed is the Eunuch, which with his hands hath wrought no iniquitie, nor imagined wicked things against God: for unto him shall be given the [d] especiall gift of faith, and an inheritance [f] in the Temple of the Lord more acceptable to his minde.
For glorious is the fruit of good labours:
and the root of wisdome shall never fall away.
As for the children of adulterers, they shall not [g] come to their perfection, and the seed of an unrighteous bed shall be rooted out.
For though they live long, yet shall they be nothing regarded: and their last age shall be without honour.
Or if they die quickly, they have no hope, neither comfort in the day of [h] triall.
For horrible is the end of the unrighteous generation.

CHAP. IIII.

The chaste man shall be crowned. 3 Bastard slips shall not thrive. 6 They shall witnesse against the wicked. 7 The just die young, and are happy. 19 The miserable end of the wicked.

Better it is to have no children, and to have vertue: for the memorial thereof is im-mortall: because it is known with God and with men.
When it is present, men take example of it, and when it is gone, they desire it, it weareth a crown, and triumpheth for ever, having gotten the victory, striving for undefiled rewards.
But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall not thrive, nor take deep rooting from bastard slips, nor lay any fast foundation.
For though they flourish in branches for a time, [k] yet standing not fast, they shall be shaken with the winde: and through the force of winds they shall be rooted out.
The unperfect branches shall be broken off, their fruit unprofitable, not ripe to eat, yea meet for nothing.
For children begotten of unlawfull beds are witnesse of wickednesse against their parents in their triall.
But though the righteous be prevented with death: yet shall he be in rest.

8 For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that is measured by number of years.

9 But wisdome is the gray hair unto men, and an unspotted life is old age.

10 [a] He pleased God, and was beloved of him; so that living amongst sinners, he was translated.

11 Yea, speedily was he taken away, lest that wickednesse should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul.

12 For the bewitching of naughtinesse doth obscure things that are honest: and the wandring of concupiscence doth [b] undermine the simple mind.

13 He being made [c] perfect in a short time, fulfilled a long time.

14 For his soul pleased the Lord: therefore hasted he to take him away from among the wicked.

15 This the people saw, and understood it not: neither laid they up this in their minds, That his grace and mercy is with his Saints, and that he hath respect unto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead shall condemn the ungodly which are living, and youth that is soon perfected the many yeers and old age of the unrighteous.

17 For they shall see the end of the wise, and shall not understand what God in his counsell hath decreed of him, and to what end the Lord hath set him in safety.

18 They shall see him, and despise him, but God shall laugh them to scorn, and they shall hereafter be a vile carkasse, and a reproach among the dead for evermore.

19 For he shall rend them, and cast them down headlong, that they shall be speechlesse: and he shall shake them from the foundation: and they shall be utterly laid waste, and be in sorrow: and their memorial shall perish.

20 And [d] when they cast up the accounts of their sinnes, they shall come with fear: and their own iniquities shall convince them to their face.

1 The wicked shall wonder at the godly, 4 and confesse their error, 5 and the vanity of their lives. 15 God will reward the just, 17 and warre against the wicked.

THen shall the righteous man stand in great boldnesse, before the face of such as have afflicted him, and made no account of his labours.

2 When they see it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear, and shall be amazed at the strangenesse of his salvation, so farre beyond all that they looked for.

3 And they, repenting, and groaning for anguish of spirit, shall say within themselves, This was he whom we had sometimes in derision, and a [e] proverb of reproach.

4 [f] We fools accounted his life madnesse, and his end to be without honour.

5 How is he numbred among the children of God, and his lot is among the Saints?

6 Therefore have we erred from the way of truth, and the light of righteousnesse hath not shined unto us, and the Sunne of righteousnesse rose not upon us.

7 We [g] wearied our selves in the way of wickednesse and destruction: yea, we have gone through deserts, where there lay no way: but as for the way of the Lord, we have not known it.

8 What hath pride profited us? or what good hath riches with our vaunting brought us?

8 For they that keep holinesse holily, shall be iudged holy: and they that have learned such things shall finde a what to answere.
9 Wherefore set your affection upon my words, desire them, and ye shall be instructed.
10 Wisdome is glorious, and never fadeth away; yea, she is easily seen of them that love her, and found of such as seek her.
11 She preventeth them that desire her, in making her self first known unto them.
12 Whoso seeketh her early, shall have no great travell: for he shall finde her sitting at his doors.
13 To think therefore upon her is perfection of wisdome: and whoso watcheth for her, shall quickly be without care.
14 For she goeth about seeking such as are worthy of her, sheweth her self favourably unto them in the wayes, and meeteth them in every thought.
15 For the very true beginning of her is the desire of b discipline, and the care of discipline is love;
16 And love is the keeping of her lawes, and the giving heed unto her lawes is the assurance of incorruption;
17 And incorruption maketh us neer unto God.
18 Therefore the desire of wisdome bringeth to kingdome.
19 If your delight be then in thrones and scepters, O ye kings of the people, honour wisdome, that ye may reign for evermore.
20 As for wisdom, what she is, and how she came up, I will tell you, and will not hide my secrets from you: but will seek her out from the beginning of her nativity, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not passe over the truth.
21 Neither will I go with consuming envy: for such a man shall have no fellowship with wisdome.
22 But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the world: and a wise king is the upholding of the people.
23 Receive therefore instruction through my words, and it shall do you good.

CHAP. VII.

1 All men have their beginning and end alike. 6 He preferred wisdome before all things else. 7 God gave him all the knowledge which he had. 22 The praise of wisdome.

I My self also am a mortall man, like to all, and the off-spring of him that was first made of the earth,
2 And in my mothers womb was fashioned to be flesh, in the time of ten moneths a being compacted in blood, of the seed of man, and the pleasure that came with sleep.
3 And when I was born, I drew in the common ayr, and fell upon the earth which is of like nature, and the first voyce which I uttered, was crying as all others do.
4 I was nursed in swadling clothes, and that with cares.
5 For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.
6 For all men have one entrance unto life, and the going out.
7 Wherefore I prayed, and understanding was given: I called upon God, and the spirit of wis-dome came to me.
8 I preferred her before scepters and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison of her.
9 Neither compared I unto her any b precious stone: because all gold in respect of her is as a little sand, and silver shall be counted as clay before her.
10 I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her in stead of light: for the light that cometh from her, never goeth out.
11 All c good things together came to me with her, and innumerable riches in her hands.
12 And I rejoyced in them all, because wisdome goeth before them: and I knew not that she was the mother of them.
13 I learned d diligently, and do communicate her e liberally: I do not hide her riches.
14 For she is a treasure unto men that never faileth: which they that use, f become the friends of God: being commended for the gifts that come from learning.
15 g God hath granted me to speak as I would,
and to conceive as is meet for the things h that are given me; because it is he that leadeth unto wisdome, and directeth the wise.
16 For in his hand are both we, and our words:
all wisdome also and knowledge of workmanship.
17 For he hath given me certain knowledge of the things that are, namely, to know how the world was made, and the operation of the elements:
18 The beginning, ending, and midst of the times; the alterations of the turning of the Sunne, and the change of seasons:
19 The circuits of yeers, and the positions of stars:
20 The natures of living creatures, and the furies of wild beasts: the violence of winds, and the reasonings of men: the diversities of plants, and the vertues of roots:
21 And all such things as are either secret or manifest: them I knew.
22 For wisdome which is i the worker of all things, taught me: for in her is an understanding spirit, holy, k one onely, manifold, subtill, lively, clear, undefiled, plain, not subject to hurt, loving the thing that is good, quick, which cannot be letted, ready to do good:
23 Kind to man, stedfast, sure, free from care, having all power, overseeing all things, and going through all understanding, pure, and most subtill spirits.
24 For wisdome is more moving then any motion: she passeth and goeth through all things by reason of her pureness.
25 For she is the l breath of the power of God, and a pure m influence flowing from the glory of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing fall into her.
26 For she is the n brightnesse of the everlasting light: the unspotted mirrour of the power of God, and the image of his goodnesse.
27 And being but one, she can do all things:
and remaining in her self, she o maketh all things new: and in all ages entring into holy soules, she maketh them friends of God, and Prophets.
28 For God loveth none but him, that dwelleth with wisdome.
29 For she is more beautifull then the Sunne, and above all the order of stars: being compared with the light, she is found before it.
30 For after this cometh night: but vice shall not prevail against wisdome.

CHAP. VIII.

1 He is in love with wisdome: 4 For he that hath it, hath every good thing: 21 Therefore he beggeth it of God.

I Set a

WIsdome reacheth from one end [a] to another mightily: and [a] sweetly doth she order all things.

2 I loved her and sought her out, from my youth I desired [b] to make her my spouse, and I was a lover of her beauty.

3 In that she is conversant with God, she magnifieth her nobility: yea, the Lord of all things himself loved her.

4 For she is [c] privie to the mysteries of the knowledge of God, and a [d] lover of his works.

5 If riches be a possession to be desired in this life, what is richer then wisdome that worketh all things?

6 And if [e] prudence work; who of all that are, is a more cunning workman then she?

7 And if a man love righteousnesse, her labours are vertues: for she teacheth temperance and prudence, justice and fortitude: which are such things, as men can have nothing more profitable in their life.

8 If a man desire much experience, she knoweth things of old, and conjecktureth aright what is to come: she knoweth the subtilties of speeches, and can expound dark sentences: she foreseeth signes and wonders, and the events of seasons and times.

9 Therefore I purposed to take her to me, to live with me, knowing that she [f] would be a counseller of good things, and a comfort in cares and grief.

10 For her sake I shall have estimation among the multitude, and honour with the Elders, though I be young.

11 I shall be found of a quick conceit in judgement, & shal be admired in the sight of great men.

12 ¶ When I hold my tongue, they shall bide my leisure, and when I speak, they shall give good ear unto me: if I talk much, they shall lay their hands upon their mouth.

13 Moreover, by the means of her I shall obtain immortalitie, and leave behinde me an everlasting memoriall to them that come after me.

14 I shall [h] set the people in order, and the nations shall be subject unto me.

15 Horrible tyrants shall be afraid when they do but hear of me, I shall be [i] found good among the multitude and valiant in warre.

16 [k] After I am come into mine house, I will repose my self with her: for her conversation hath no bitternesse, and to live with her, hath no sorrow, but mirth and joy.

17 Now when I considered these things in my self, and [l] pondered them in mine heart, how that to be allied unto wisdome is immortality,

18 And great pleasure it is to have her friendship, and in the works of her hands are infinite riches, and in the exercise of conference with her, prudence: & in talking with her a [m] good report: I went about seeking how to [n] take her to me.

19 For I was a witty childe, & had a good spirit.

20 Yea, rather being good, I came into a body undefiled.

21 Nevertheless, when I perceived that I could not otherwise obtain her, except God gave her me, (and that was a point of wisdome also to know whose gift she was) I [o] prayed unto the Lord, and besought him, and with my whole heart I said;

CHAP. IX.

1 A prayer unto God for his wisdome, 6 without which the best man is nothing worth, 13 neither can he tell how to please God.

O God of my fathers, and Lord of mercy, who hast made all things with thy word,

2 And ordained man through thy wisdome, that he should have [p] dominion over the [q] which thou hast made,

3 And order the world according to righteousnesse, and execute judgement with right heart:

4 Give [q] me wisdom that sitteth by thy and reject me not from among thy children

5 For I [r] thy servant, and sonne of thine maid, am a feeble person, and of a short too young for the understanding of judge laws.

6 For though a man be never so perfect the children of men, yet if thy wisdome with him, he shall be nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a [s] King people, and a judge of thy sonnes and da

8 Thou hast commanded me to build a upon thy holy mount, and an altar in wherein thou dwellest, a resemblance of Tabernacle, which thou hast prepared beginning:

9 And [t] wisdom was with thee: which thy works, and was present when thou world, and knew what was acceptable in and right in thy commandments.

10 O send her out of thy holy heavens, the throne of thy glory, that being present labour with me, that I may know what unto thee.

11 For she knoweth and understandeth and she shall leade me soberly in my preserve me [u] in her power.

12 So shall my works be acceptable, shall I judge thy people righteously, and to sit in my fathers seat.

13 [x] For what man is he that counsell of God? or who can think what of the Lord is?

14 For the thoughts of mortall men serable, and our devices are but uncer

15 For the corruptible body pres soul, and the earthy tabernacle weig minde that museth upon many things.

16 And hardly do we guesse aright at are upon earth, and with labour do we things that are [z] before us: but the are in heaven who hath searched out?

17 And thy counsell who hath known thou give wisdome, and send thy holy above?

18 For so the wayes of them which lived earth were reformed, and men were things that are pleasing unto thee, and were through wisdome.

CHAP. X.

1 What wisdome did for Adam, 4 Noah, 6 Lot, and against the Sodomites, 10 Jacob, 13 Joseph, 16 Moses, 17 & the Israelites.

SHe preserved the first formed father world that was created alone, and him out of his fall,

2 And [a] gave him power to rule all

3 [b] But when the unrighteous went her in his anger, he perished also in th with he murdered his brother.

4 For whose cause the [c] earth being with the flood, wisdome again preserved directed the course of the righteous in wood of small value.

5 Moreover, [d] the nations in the conspiracy being confounded, the righteous, and preserved him blameless kept him strong [e] against his tenderly his sonne.

When the ungodly perished, she delivered righteous man, who fled from the fire which down upon the [b] five cities.

Of whose wickednesse even to this day the e land that smoaketh, is a testimonie, and s bearing fruit that never come to ripenesse:
a standing pillar of salt is a monument of an disbelieving soul.

For regarding not wisdome, they gat not one-this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good: but also left behinde them to the world a memoriall of their foolishnesse: so that in the things wherein they offended, they could not so much as be hid.

But wisdome delivered from pain those that ministred upon her.

When the righteous fled from his brothers wrath, she guided him in right paths, shewed him the kingdome of God, and gave him knowledge of holy things, made him rich in his travels, and multiplied the fruit of his labours.

In the covetousnesse of such as oppressed him, she stood by him, and made him rich.

She defended him from his enemies, and kept him safe from those that lay in wait, and in a sore conflict she gave him the victory, that he might know that godlinesse is stronger then all.

[c] When the righteous was sold, she forsook him not, but delivered him from sinne: she went down with him into the pit,

And left him not in bonds, till she brought him the scepter of the kingdome, and [d] power against those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she shewed them to be liars, and gave him perpetuall glory.

[e] She delivered the [f] righteous people, and blameless seed from the nation that oppressed them.

She entred into the soul of the servant of the Lord, and [g] withstood dreadfull kings in wonders and signes,

Rendred to the righteous a reward of their labours, guided them in a marvellous way, and became to them for a cover by day, and a [h] light of stars in the night season:

[i] Brought them through the red sea, and led them through much water:

But she drowned their enemies, and cast them up out of the bottom of the deep.

Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly, and [k] praised thy holy Name, O Lord, and magnified with one accord thine hand that fought for them.

For wisdome opened the mouth of the dumbe, and made the tongues of them that cannot speak, eloquent.

CHAP. XI.

The Egyptians were punished, and the Israelites preserved in the same thing. 15 They were plagued by the same things, wherein they sinned. 20 God could have destroyed them otherwise, but he is mercifull to all.

She prospered their works in the hand of the holy Prophet.

They went thorow the wildernesse that was not inhabited, and pitched tents in places where they lay no way.

They stood against their enemies, and were avenged of their adversaries.

When they were thirsty, they called upon thee, and water was given them out of the flinty rock, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.

For by what things their enemies were punished, by the same they in their need were benefited:

For in stead of a fountain of a perpetuall running river, troubled with foul blood,

For a manifest reproof of that commandment whereby the infants were slain, thou gavest unto them abundance of water by a means which they hoped not for,

Declaring by that thirst then, [m] how thou hadst punished their adversaries. [m] Exod. 7.20.

For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastised, they knew how the ungodly were judged in wrath, and tormented, thirsting in another manner then the just.

For these thou didst admonish and try as a father: but the other as a severe king thou didst condemn and punish.

Whether they were absent, or present, they were vexed alike.

For a double grief came upon them, and a groaning for the remembrance of things past.

For when they heard by their own punishments the other to be benefited, they [n] had some feeling of the Lord. [n] Or, perceived.

For whom they rejected with scorn, when he was long before thrown out at the casting forth of the infants, him in the end, when they saw what came to passe, they admired:

But for the foolish devices of their wickednesse, wherewith being deceived, they worshipped serpents void of reason, and vile beasts; thou didst send a multitude of unreasonable beasts upon them for vengeance,

That they might know that wherewithall a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

For thy almighty hand that made the world of matter without form, wanted not means to send among them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions,

Or unknown wilde beasts, full of rage newly created, breathing out either a fiery vapour, or filthy scents of scattered smoak, or shooting horrible sparkles out of their eyes:

Whereof not only the harm might dispatch them at once: but also the terrible sight utterly destroy them.

Yea, and without these might they have fallen down with one blast, being persecuted of vengeance, and scattered abroad through the breath of thy power; but thou hast ordered all things in measure, and number, and weight.

For thou canst shew thy great strength at all times when thou wilt, and who may withstand the power of thine arm?

For the whole world before thee is as a little [o] grain of the balance, yea, as a drop of the morning dew that falleth down upon the earth. [o] Or, little weight.

But thou hast mercy upon all; for thou canst do all things, and winkest at the sinnes of men, because they should amend.

For thou lovest all the things that are, and abhorrest nothing which thou hast made: for never wouldest thou have made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.

And how could any thing have endured, if it had not been thy will? or been preserved, if not called by thee?

But thou sparest all: for they are thine, O
Lord, thou lover of souls.

CHAP. XII.

God did not destroy those of Canaan all at once. 12 If he had done so, who could controll him? 19 But by sparing them, he taught us, that they were punished with their gods.

FOr thine uncorruptible Spirit is in all things.
2 Therefore chastenest thou them by little and little that offend, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance, wherein they have offended, that leaving their wickednesse they may believe on thee, O Lord.
3 For it was thy will to destroy by the hands of our fathers, both those [a] old inhabitants of thy holy land,
4 Whom thou hatedst for doing most odious works of [b] witchcrafts, and wicked sacrifices;
5 And also those mercilesse murderers of children, and devourers of mans flesh, and the feasts of blood,
6 With their priests out of the midst of their idolatrous crew, and the parents that killed with their own hands, souls destitute of help:
7 That the land which thou esteemedst above all other, might receive a worthy [c] colonie of Gods children.
8 Nevertheless, even those thou sparedst as men, and didst [d] send wasps forerunners of thine host, to destroy them by little and little.
9 Not that thou wast unable to bring the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battell, or to destroy them at once with cruell beasts, or with one rough word:
10 But executing thy judgements upon them by little and little, thou gavest them place of repentance, not being ignorant, that they were a naughty generation, and that their malice was bred in them, and that their cogitation would never be changed.
11 For it was a [e] cursed seed from the beginning, neither didst thou for fear of any man give them pardon for those things wherein they sinned.
12 For who shall say, [f] What hast thou done? or who shall withstand thy judgment, or who shall accuse thee for the nations that perish, whom thou hast made? or who shall come to [g] stand against thee, to be [h] revenged for the unrighteous men?
13 For neither is there any God but thou, that [i] careth for all, to whom thou mightest shew that thy judgement is not unright.
14 Neither shall king or tyrant be able to set his face against thee, for any whom thou hast punished.
15 For so much then as thou art righteous thy self, thou orderest all things righteously, [k] thinking it not agreeable with thy power to condemn him that hath not deserved to be punished.
16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousnesse, and because thou art the Lord of all, it maketh thee to be gracious unto all.
17 For when men will not believe that thou art of a [l] full power, thou shewest thy strength, and among them that know it, thou makest their boldnesse manifest.
18 But thou mastering thy power, judgest with equity, and orderest us with great favour: for thou mayest use power when thou wilt.
19 But by such works hast thou taught thy people, that the just man should be merciful, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope, that thou givest repentance for sinnes.
20 For if thou didst punish the enemies of thy children, and the condemned to death with such deliberation, giving them time and place, whereby they might be delivered from their malice:
21 With how great circumspection didst thou judge thine own sonnes, unto whose fathers thou hast sworn, and made covenants of good promises?
22 Therefore whereas thou doest chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies a thousand times more, to the intent that when we [illegible] carefully think of thy goodnesse, and [illegible] our selves are judged, we should look for [illegible]
23 Wherefore, whereas men have lived lutely and unrighteously, thou hast [illegible] them with their own [m] abominations.
24 [n] For they went astray very far in the of errour, and held them for gods (which mongst the beasts of their enemies were [illegible] being deceived as children of no understanding.
25 Therefore unto them, as to children out the use of reason, thou didst send a judg to mock them.
26 But they that would not be reformed by correction wherein he dallied with them, shall a judgement worthy of God.
27 For look, for what things they grieved when they were punished (that is) for them they thought to be gods [now] being punished them; when they saw it, they acknowledged him to be the true God, whom before they denied know: and therefore came extreme damnation upon them.

CHAP. XIII.

1 They were not excused that worshipped any of Gods works: 10 but most wretched are they that worship the works of mens hands.

SUrely vain are all men by nature, who ignorant of God, and could not out of good things that are seen, know him that is neither by considering the works, did they knowledge the work-master;
2 [o] But deemed either fire, or wind, or swift air, or the circle of the stars, or the lent water, or the lights of heaven to be the which govern the world:
3 With whose beauty, if they being delighted took them to be gods: let them know how better the Lord of them is; for the first author of beauty hath created them.
4 But if they were astonished at their power and vertue, let them understand by them, how much mightier he is that made them.
5 For by the greatnesse and beauty of the tures, proportionably the maker of them is seen.
6 But yet for this they are the lesse to be med: for they peradventure erre seeking God, and desirous to finde him.
7 For being [p] conversant in his works, they [q] search him diligently, and believe their sight, because the things are beautifull that are seen.
8 Howbeit, neither are they to be pardoned.
9 For if they were able to know so much they could aime at the world: how did they not sooner finde out the Lord thereof?
10 But miserable are they, and in dead things their hope, who called them gods which are works of mens hands, gold and silver, to shew in, and resemblances of beasts, or a stone good nothing, the work of an ancient hand.
11 [r] Now a [s] carpenter that felleth timber he hath sawn down a tree meet for the and taken off all the bark skilfully round and hath wrought it handsomely, and made thereof fit for the service of mans life,
